That old saw, "as Maine goes, so goes the nation," is being used as usual, and is pure bunk.

About once in so often, country newspapers especially, and dailies for all we know, are asked to advertise radio programs, among which we might mention the Farm hour program from the A. & M. College and the Texas School of the Air, by the University of Texas.

Does alibing for the home team help the players or fans? One of the papers from a neighboring city recently wrote up a three inch, one column story of the game between that city and the Cubs.

Along during the fall of 1940, Democrats and Republicans alike were put to shame as hoodlums smashed over-ripe tomatoes and stale eggs in the face and over the person of Wendell Willkie, Republican candidate for president.

During the last presidential campaign, a lot was heard about the forgotten man. Today that man is the great middle class of Americans, the white collar man, if you please.

People in the know saw a possible war and rubber shortage as far as two years ago, but those in charge had to stay by their bondholding and red tape to rigidly that there was nothing to be done about the matter.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS by BOYCE HOUSE

Abraham Lincoln grew up in an era of story-telling; it was an art, story-telling was, in an age when there was little of the theater and very few books, declared Carl Sandburg, America's greatest living writer, who wrote the monumental life of Lincoln.

The laughter of Lincoln, said Sandburg, ranged from the livery stable variety at one end to ironies at the other—a bitter, twisted laughter.

After the second Battle of Bull Run, Lincoln was telling one joke after another. When someone in the group remonstrated, the President exclaimed, "My God, man! Don't you see if I didn't laugh, I'd have to cry!"

Sandburg gave the impression of one who knew Lincoln personally, intimately, deeply—as indeed he does though, of course, the poet-biographer never saw his hero. Homey phrases and human incidents enlivened the discourse, as when the speaker told of the Lincoln-Douglas debates and of Douglas' efforts to confuse terms, which caused the gaunt rail-splitter to remark, "Judge Douglas would have you think that a horse chestnut is the same as a chestnut horse."

Then there was the time that a woman, weighing 118 pounds, visited the White House and Lincoln Greeted Harriet Beecher Stowe, (author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin") with: "So you're the little woman who started this great war!"

One of the best of Lincoln's Sandburg stories was the one about a citizen of Springfield who had known Abe there and who visited him in the White House. He asked his host, "How does it feel to be President?" Lincoln answered, "I'm like the man who was tarred and feathered, then ridden out on a rail, and he said, 'If it wasn't for the honor, I'd

PREDICTS A RECORD CITRUS CROP

W. H. Friend, superintendent of the Valley Experiment Station stated that the Valley faces an all-time high record in grapefruit production, more than 15 million boxes that will retail at well over 30 million dollars of which at least 15 million dollars will come back to the Valley to fatten the pockets of the grower, picker, packer and shipper.

This year he said the Valley would produce 48 per cent of the Nation's grapefruit, both fresh and canned, as Florida's loss has been estimated at 3,500,000 boxes.

The Valley's fall vegetables, however, face an almost opposite situation and the reduction of fall planting will be very sharp. Valley vegetable growers have been paying $1.25 a day for labor in previous years, while the scale now has gone to $2 and $2.50 a day. In addition, a ceiling price has been placed on vegetables, not on labor.

Sandburg compared the burdens and responsibilities of the Presidency for Lincoln and for Franklin D. Roosevelt, adding that he had told the above story to Roosevelt and then Roosevelt countered with the on about the colored preacher and the colored deacon:

The preacher said, "De wicked am going to burn."

"Amen, brudder, amen," said the deacon.

"De wicked am going to burn in hell-fire."

"Amen, you is right."

"Yes, de wicked am gwine to burn in everlastin' fire."

"Oh, no, brudder," exclaimed the deacon, "not everlastin' fire—de human constitution can't stand everlastin' fire!"

THE STATE OF TEXAS COUNTY OF TERRY

This 14 day of September, 1942, came on to be considered by the county judge of Terry County, Texas, the petition of 100 freeholders of the said Terry County for an order of election in said county for the purpose of enabling the freeholders thereof to determine whether horses, mules, jacks, jennets, and cattle shall be permitted to run at large therein, and also to determine whether hogs, sheep or goats shall be permitted to run at large therein, and it appearing to the undersigned judge of such court that such petition was filed with the commissioners' court of said county on September 12, 1942, and that such court thereafter at their next regular term, on the 14th day of September, 1942, heard and granted the same and ordered that such election be held on the 3rd day of November, 1942, and that the judge of said county issue an order therefor and cause public notice thereof to be given as required by law:

Now, therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in me under such order and of the laws of this state, I, C. L. Lincoln, County judge of Terry County, Texas, do hereby order that on the 3rd day of November, 1942, in the regular voting precincts of said Terry County, an election shall be held for the purpose of enabling the freeholders of such county to determine whether horses, mules, jacks, jennets and cattle shall be permitted to run at large in such county and also to determine whether hogs, sheep or goats shall be permitted to run at large in said Terry County.

All votes of such election shall be by ballot, and voters desiring to prevent the animals designated herein from running at large shall place upon their ballots the words, "For the Stock Law," and those in favor of allowing such animals to run at large, "Against the Stock Law."

On or before the tenth day after such election, the persons holding such election shall make due returns of all the votes cast at their respective voting places for and against said proposition to the county judge of said county.

Public notice of this order shall be given for at least thirty days before the date of such election by publication thereof in Terry County Herald, a news-paper published in said county.

Witness the hand of the county judge of Terry County, Texas, this the 14th day of September, 1942.

OBITUARY OF A. V. TAYLOR

Last week, we had very meagre information about the above old timer. Since then, we have been furnished more complete information, as follows:

Arthur V. Taylor was born in Comanche county, Texas, May 20, 1872. Came to Terry county in 1906, where he lived until death. Married Miss Jennie Jones, Dec. 22, 1895. Five children were born to this Union, Vernon passing in 1908. The living children are Mrs. Viola Carmichael, Fluvana; Roy, Tokio; Mrs. Weaver Lovelace, Morton; and Mrs. Loyd C. Purdy, Wichita, Kansas.

He is also survived by two sisters and two brothers, nine grandchildren and one great grandchild. He had been a member of the Methodist church since young manhood, as well as a member of the WOW lodge a number of years.

One sage advanced the theory that we could hardly hope to have good weather with the world in the state it's in.

Pity those who have no children. The only way to be sure of friend in your old age is to raise your own.

VETERANS - You men who fought the last War - make this your job. To see that no American boy shall fall because a lack of scrap deprived him of a fighting chance.

SCRAP SLACKERS CAN LOSE THIS WAR!

It's squarely up to you. The mills need scrap to make the steel to go across the sea as ships, and tanks, and guns. They need it now—and in the months to come. For all new steel must be 50% scrap—and the mills are running out. They haven't enough for even 30 days more production—then they'll be shutting down.

Unless you get to work. Unless you go into your basement and your attic and rout out the junk that's there. Talk about it to your friends and neighbors—you men who know what war is like. Tell them... "Don't be a scrap slacker. Get your scrap ready for the drive that starts next Monday!" Then get to work and help them do it. We're out to fill the junk yards—to make every salvage depot a towering tribute to our fighting men. And don't think the job is done when the scrap starts piling up. Because the war must end before the need for scrap is over. Do this to help make sure it ends our way!

PUBLIC MILEAGE SNATCHER NO. 1 is not the thief who puts one car out of commission by stealing a tire. Speed! That's the name of the Nation's tire thief. Speed robs the heavy-footed driver of one-third to one-half of the essential mileage remaining in his irreplaceable tires. Speed hastens the day when cars must be laid up because rubber is lacking... bringing almost fantastic dislocations in our economic life and in our ability to hold war production at maximum. Remember that tires last only half as long at 55 miles an hour as at 35! So today... right now, as you read this message... make a solemn promise to yourself: "Until we win the war, I will never drive over 35." Say it again, and let the words sink in: "Until we win the war, I will never drive over 35." To help keep your car from becoming a "tire orphan", stop at the Orange and Black 66 Shield. That is where you get Phillips 66 Poly Gas, famous for pep and mileage, and Phillips 66 Motor Oil, 100% paraffin base. And that is where the Phillips 66 Service Man is ready with a variety of services which make tires last longer and go farther. He checks inflation; inspects and corrects cuts and bruises. Rotates tires from wheel to wheel. He helps you: CARE FOR YOUR TIRES... FOR YOUR COUNTRY

Quest for a New World...

The spirit of discovery is infused in every American; perhaps a heritage from those early discoverers of our land. Today almost every portion of the world has been discovered and mapped out, so our quest for a new world becomes not a quest for new land—but a quest for a new way of life... a free, beautiful, liberated life for all who people this globe. For this we fight today. And when Victory is won the immortal soul of Columbus, America's discoverer will find new satisfaction in knowing that he gave the world a land which in turn fought to give the world its Freedom.

Killing People Still Our Bad Habit

AUSTIN—Habit is killing a lot of Texas people.

A survey by State Police Statisticians showed today that accidents involving trains and motor vehicles increased from 2.63 percent of the total in the first eight months of 1941 to 4.89 percent of the total in the same period this year. This was an increase of 86 per cent.

And why were 58 persons thus killed in the last eight months?

It's because the victims—mostly farmers, truck drivers and tradesmen—have failed to realize that train schedules aren't what they used to be. They're people who used to know when the trains ran, and they never bothered to look out for a train unless one was due. But now troop and supply trains come whizzing by at all hours, and these people are being hit and killed by trains that weren't supposed to be there—according to their subconscious reckonings.

All 44 of the drivers were men; 40 of them lived in rural areas; and 38 lived near the scene of their particular accident. And 26 of the collisions occurred on county roads or in towns of less than 2,500 population.

Mrs. Edwin Howell and two children left Sunday for Lipan, Texas, to make their new home. She will work in the postoffice at that place.

Pfc L. O. Greenfield, Jr., was here on a short furlough from Ft. Sam Houston, visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Greenfield. He left for his base Monday. Also in the Greenfield home Sunday was their son Kellar from Midland, where he is employed with Magnolia Pet. Co.

Miss Alameda Griggs, teacher in the Wellman School, left Monday for Long Beach, Calif. School at Wellman has turned out for one month so that pupils may help with the Harvest.

Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Cheek of Odessa, were here Sunday visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Ballard. Also in the Ballard home Sunday was their son Frank, of Amarillo.

Mrs. Bill Schofield and little daughter of the Tokio section, were in shopping Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Graves and daughter, Mrs. Slim Schilling, left Sunday for Stephenville to visit his parents. They returned home Wednesday.

Was He Really An Atheist?

By W. J. Hooten
John Lee Smith, of Throckmorton, who was in El Paso Friday in the interest of his candidacy for lieutenant governor, told me a story which impressed me a great deal.
He said that several years ago he had a Texas lawyer friend who was a professed atheist.
"I kept telling him that he was talking just to hear himself talk, that he did not believe what he said," Mr. Smith said.
"One day I received a message from him asking me to go to his office and get a cigar box out of his desk. He said he was leaving town and that he wanted me to follow instructions in the box concerning a business transaction."
"I went to his town, which was nearby. I arrived Saturday afternoon. The office was locked and his brother had gone fishing. I found him in his fishing lodge and asked him for the key so I could get into the office. Instead of going back to town at once, I spent the night with him.

"The next morning as I was entering the building where my friend's office was located, an acquaintance stopped me and asked me if I had heard what had happened. My friend had killed himself the night before.
"I got the cigar box out of his desk and opened it. It contained a letter asking me to talk at his funeral. Also in the box was a small copy of the New Testament. The letter asked me to read certain passages of Scripture at his funeral. Included was Paul's letter to the Corinthians."
Mr. Smith added that he complied with his friend's request.
Incidentally, Mr. Smith was in El Paso that night in 1911 when Madero's forces captured Juarez. He had been working for the Anaconda Copper Company in Torreón and left Mexico when the revolution broke out.—El Paso Times.
Mrs. R. B. Parish was in Lubbock Wednesday.

Most Important Thing Lest We Forget Today is "Scrap"

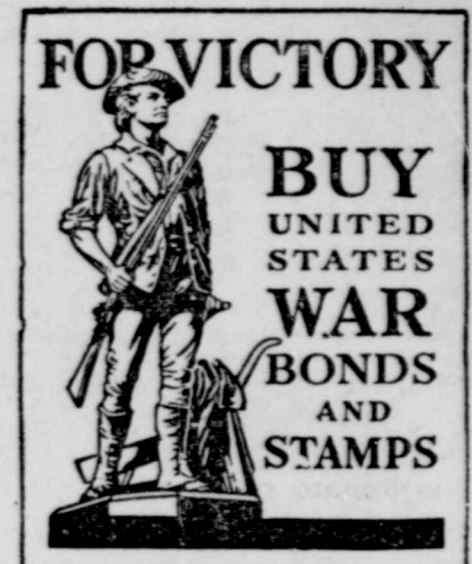

Get this straight, Texas! The urgent appeal for scrap iron, steel, rubber, brass copper, aluminum, zinc and lead is the most important thing in your civilian war lives today.
No one is kidding about this scrap drive. It's the real thing; could mean the difference.
Our steel mills, the supporting beam of democracy's arsenal, are almost entirely dependent upon you and your efforts to forge the instruments of war.
Latest survey of the nations steel mills reveals an average 18-day supply of scrap. In one big Texas mill, the average supply is only two days. If the scrap doesn't keep flowing to that mill, it could run through that two-day supply in forty-eight hours and be forced to shut down.
Or, to put it more simply, that old flatiron you have discarded and just haven't tossed into a scrap heap could make thirty hand grenades.
Shocks you, doesn't it? Every day you leave a piece of scrap iron or steel in your basement, attic or garage is just another day of hoarding for Hitler.
Forget the scrap we sent Japan. That's water over the dam. We've got a little avenging to do now.
Lewis C. Huff, Assistant Executive Secretary of the Texas Salvage committee, reminds: "People of America talked in horror about the scrap sent to Japan in 1939—scrap that came back in the form of shells. But just remember this—at the pace we are turning out steel for our war effort, the entire amount sent Japan in that year would last only two weeks in American mills."
This week we launched a scrap campaign conducted by 30,000,000 American school children that really will be the backbone of the national drive.
On October 5, the kids started rooting through every home in the nation. It must be done quickly in the East and Middle West before snow covers precious junk.
School kids will write letters—enough to reach every city and country home in the nation. The radio will convert its late afternoon juvenile thrillers into scrap collection information bureaus for the two-week period.

It's the problem of Americans, regardless of age.
Texas has to get tough about this scrap drive.
Not everybody with a dollar to spare can shoot a gun straight—but everybody can shoot straight to the bank and buy War Bonds. Buy your 10% every pay day.
Mr. and Mrs. Dick McDuffie, city, and Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Repp of Lubbock, were guests Sunday of Mrs. Cooksey in Seagraves.

Time Coming For Winter Colds

AUSTIN—With the advent of fall, and colds becoming prevalent, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, makes the following suggestions as to ways by which these seasonal illnesses may be warded off, or at least may be gotten under control before they do any serious damage.
Keep as fit as possible. Dress according to the weather, indoors and out-of-doors. Put on a heavier suit when a cold snap comes. Use a raincoat, overshoes and umbrella on rainy days. Change as quickly as possible, into dry clothes if you are caught in a drenching downpour.
With a shortage of fuel facing all of us, our houses are likely to be chillier than usual during the early fall months. Look up your supply of sweaters and have them ready for use on those first chilly fall days. Get out some other heavy clothing and warm bed coverings at the same time.
Eat plenty of simple nourishing food. Have your meals at regular hours. Drink plenty of water. Take some exercise out of doors, every day. Get the necessary amount of rest.
If you are caught in the clutches of a cold, unawares, don't treat it lightly. It may turn into something very serious, if neglected. The quickest way to get over a cold, or to bring it under control, is to go to bed, keep warm, eat lightly, drink plenty of water and fruit juices, and at the slightest sign of fever, send for your doctor and stay in bed until he feels that it is safe for you to get up and get out again.
And remember, colds are very contagious. Cold-producing germs are scattered far and wide whenever the victim of a cold coughs or sneezes. They are likely to be found on anything the victim touches. If you are the victim, keep your germs to yourself. Have your own towels and wash cloths, your own drinking glasses and dishes—and be sure that they are adequately sterilized with hot—very hot—water and soap after you have used them. Keep well supplied with paper handkerchiefs; dispose of them promptly after they have been used.

PRESCRIPTIONS

When illness strikes, call your doctor first! Then send his prescriptions to us for rapid accurate filling. Only freshest drugs used. Health is sacred in times like these; guard yours. We have all drugs and medicinal preparations. Stock your medicine cabinet now. Prepare for winter colds and sore throats. Our drug counter can serve you.

Liberty . . . in the Star Spangled Manner!

There she stands . . . the hostess of freedom welcoming the multitudes that have flocked to America's shores. Her flaming torch has been blacked out but it burns more brightly in the hearts of all Americans from coast to coast—from one world's end to another, wherever the fight for liberty—equality—fraternity flares up. She marches in every battalion—sails on every ship that flies the United Nations flag. She rides in every jeep and tank and flies in every fighting plane. It is her voice that sells War Bonds and her children who buy them! Given by a liberty loving people—cheerished by a liberty loving nation, she has stood for 56 years this month—and will stand forever as a symbol to our way of life worth living for, or dying for.

October 28th, 1866, the Statute of Liberty, gift from France, was unveiled where it now stands in New York harbor. Now, America is in the fight to restore liberty to France and to all the people of the conquered nations of Europe.

FAKE CHRISTMAS CARDS

One of the helpful, cheering interchanges of our years, are the beautiful, colorful Christmas Greeting cards, which bear with them the warm messages of our friends.

Any greeting cards mailed out at the Yuletide, which has some other theme, besides the greetings of esteem, love and Peace, based on the Birth at Bethlehem of the Prince of Peace, is a "fake," a "cheat."

Rumor has it that the market is to be flooded this coming Christmas with pagan sentiments hid behind patriotic illustrations in Red, White and Blue, and various implements and engines of war. This is unworthy of American ideals and Christianity.

Let us see to it that such "fake" Christmas Cards are left on the shelves of the dealer. Let us not dishonor Christmas and Christianity by mailing out any such trashy on the Holy Anniversary.—Clarendon News.

Yes, The Press Can Keep Secrets

We have often heard the expression, "if you want to expose a secret, tell a newspaper reporter." In normal times, that statement would be well nigh accurate, but these are not normal times.

The Herald, along with thousands of papers throughout the United States, had a letter from J. M. North, jr., of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, who seems to be in charge of newspaper censoring in Texas, asking us to keep silence on President Roosevelt's trip of inspection in the Middle West, the Pacific Coast, and the Southwestern armory plants and training centers.

Not a word about the trip was printed until his return to Washington, and many people were surprised to see their president visit their plants, as they had no forewarning of it. FDR was mightily well pleased with what he found.

Probably he will tell some of those Washingtonites that there is less complacency in the hinterland than at the capitol.

MAIL SOLDIERS' XMAS GIFTS BEFORE NOVEMBER 1.

READ THE RULES—The following rules, issued by the Postoffice Department in cooperation with the Army Postal Service of the War Department, apply to the mailing of Christmas parcels for members of our Armed Forces serving outside the continental limits of the United States.

TIME OF MAILING—Christmas parcels and greeting cards should be mailed during the period beginning October 1 and ending November 1, 1942, the earlier the better. Each package should be endorsed "Christmas Parcel." Special effort will be made for delivery in time for Christmas.

SIZE AND WEIGHT—Christmas parcels shall not exceed 11 pounds in weight, or 18 inches in length or 42 inches in length and girth combined. However, the public has been urged to cooperate by voluntarily restricting parcels to the size of an ordinary shoe box and the weight to six pounds.

USE CARE IN PREPARATION—Remembering the great distance this mail will be transported and the necessary storage and frequent handling, it is absolutely necessary that articles be packed in substantial boxes or containers and be covered with wrappings of sufficient strength to resist pressure of other mail. Each parcel is subject to censorship and delay may be minimized by securing covering to permit ready inspection of contents.

PROHIBITED MATTER—Intoxicants, inflammable materials, poisons or compositions likely to damage mails are unmailable. No perishable matter should be included in parcels.

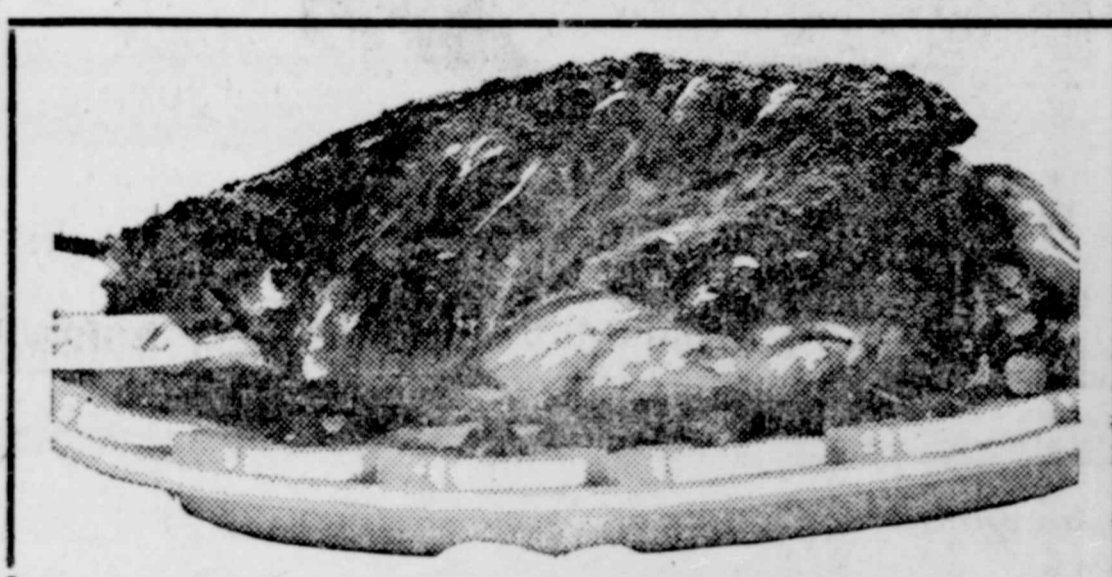

HOW TO ADDRESS PARCELS—Addresses must be legible. Parcels addressed to overseas Army personnel should show in addition to the full name and address of the sender, the name rank, Army serial number, branch of service, organization, A.P.O. number of the addressee and the postoffice through which parcels are to be routed. Units located within the continental United States may be addressed direct, using name, rank, organization and location.

POSTAGE MUST BE FULLY PREPAID—The rate on parcels of fourth-class matter (exceeding eight ounces) being the zone rate applicable from the postoffice where mailed to the postoffice in the care of which parcels are addressed.

GREETING MESSAGES PERMISSIBLE—Inscriptions such as "Merry Christmas", "Don't open until Christmas" and the like may be placed on the covering of the parcel if it does not interfere with the address. Cards may be enclosed and books may bear a simple dedicatory inscription.

INSURANCE AND REGISTRY—Gifts of value should be insured. Articles of small size and considerable value should be sealed and sent as first-class registered mail.

MONEY ORDERS—The Army Postal Service recommends use of postal money orders to transmit gifts of money to members of Armed Forces outside the United States. These are cashed at A.P.O. in local foreign currency at rate of exchange on date of presentation.

Unused Power in Line Wasted

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. — On some long power lines that are given little work to do, as much as one-third of the electricity fed in at the power house is wasted in just keeping the lines alive, George W. Kable, editor of "Electricity on the Farm" magazine, New York City, and retiring president of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers, declared in a General Electric Farm Forum address here.

"The more work a power line does, the less the percentage of waste," he said.

Mr. Kable urged farmers who have high line service to "use it to replace labor, and to increase production," pointing out that milk and meat and eggs are the "crying need in this war" at home and abroad.

"Use it (high line service) intelligently so as to keep it functioning for you during this critical time when it may be impossible to replace or add new wiring and equipment," he advised the farm audience.

"There are many ways to put electricity to work on the farm. If you cannot buy new motors, perhaps you can get a used one, or, better still, equip the small motor you have with a broomstick base and stop pulley and use it for any turning job to replace manpower. Large motors can be mounted in skids or wheel trucks for moving them about to the heavier jobs.

"There are also a lot of pieces of labor-saving and stock-saving equipment like pig brooders, which can be improvised at home. Their use will put dollars in your pocket and help keep the line from 'dying' on the pole."

Great is the Panhandle of Texas! You never know what to expect next in this great country. A new industry is being established in Plainview, and of all things! It is a sawmill! What are they going to use for wood? Mesquite or Russian thistles? Hardly. That sawmill is going to have the choice of the timber lands; those big sturdy redwood trees from California. It happened this way: a company has the contract to furnish the government a lot of redwood lumber scattered throughout the southwest. Requests were sent out giving specifications of buildings and lots necessary. It so happened that Plainview had exactly what the layout demanded. Within a period of a week from the time the request was received, a lease had been made and ere long the sawmill will be in operation. The layman wonders why a sawmill here on the Plains until he discovers that much freight is saved when the logs are shipped from California, processed in transit and delivered to the war plant. A large amount of redwood is being used in all of the government plants in this section. — Canyon News.

RELIEF ROLLS MAY BE CUT

AUSTIN, Sept. 28—The State Department of Public Welfare announced today that all employable persons now receiving federal surplus commodities or food stamps will be taken off the rolls if the request is made by the War Manpower Board and the County Commissioners' Courts. The department had previously announced that all idle employable persons would be removed from the rolls if so requested and this has now been broadened to include the employed persons who have been receiving supplementary aid from the surplus food programs.

Commissioners' Courts in a number of counties have reported labor shortages developing and have felt that the availability of surplus commodities discourages acceptance of farm employment. Mr. J. S. Murchison, Executive Director, said: "We are thoroughly familiar with the situation. Many of the families now receiving surplus commodities have no members physically able to work. They are composed of widows with small children, aged persons with unemployable dependents, physically or mentally incapacitated parents with children.

"There is a widespread demand in all counties to continue the Free School Lunch Program. The hungry school child is more noticeable to the public. In these families there is little or no property income to be expanded by inflation. The only way the war has affected such families is to expand their living costs and to push them back into the category of the forgotten man. The department feels that since the government has bought this surplus food, in order to relieve market conditions for the farmers at peak production and benefit the farmers, it is much better for it to be distributed to the needy than to be permitted to waste."

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gore spent the week-end here with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bailey and Mrs. R. N. McClain had as their guests over the weekend, Miss Rita Jo Bardwell, Sgt. Pat Patterson and Sgt. A. E. Smith of Lubbock.

Troy Noel, of the Lubbock flying school, spent a few days here this week.

Extends Services to World War Vets Of Number II.

George C. Betts, Director, Veterans State Service Office, Austin, Texas, announces that his department is daily extending services to include veterans of World War No. 2 and their dependents.

Mr. Betts states that dependents are entitled to death benefits on a war rate base. Widows and minor children are eligible for pension, with six month's death gratuity pay, and pensions are also payable to the veterans mother and father, in the event they are classed as being dependent within the meaning of the law. If the veteran was not survived by a widow or minor child, in some cases, the parents are entitled to six months death gratuity pay.

War Risk Insurance, National Service Life Insurance or Automatic Insurance, whichever is applicable, is payable to the beneficiary, and/or dependents, of the insured.

Mr. Betts stated that upon being notified he will have a representative to personally contact those desiring to file claim for death benefits.

Director Betts has six trained service officers under his supervision in the field in connection with his staff in the Veterans' Administration Office, and his Austin office.

Always That Fly in The Ointment

The following editorial is from the pen or typewriter of Col. E. I. Hill, editor of the Lynn County News, Tahoka. Talking about the many pretty yards, grass and trees in his little city, he then lets out a yelp.

Brownfield had the same opportunity to sell its utilities to the "great corporation," but failed and refused. Power lines are in the alleys where they should be, and the peoples' trees are never molested. Too, we have the best lighted town of its size in west Texas, if not the entire state.

We have two great reservoirs overhead for water, as well as two large surface reservoirs, and no dearth of water, the cheapest rate in west Texas, and an A-1 sewer system. We have more police force than any town twice our size, three night men and a prowler car, and our utilities made this possible. Many other local men are employed by various departments of the city at fair wages.

True the municipally owned utilities pays no tax, but we have the cheapest tax rate, 50c on the $100 valuation and with the lowest valuation that we know of. We also have more miles of paved streets than many towns with 10,000 population, some 20 miles, we believe. Yes, we are glad we still have our own utilities. The article follows:

"But there is a fly in our ointment. Before we had the trees and the abundant water supply, we needed electric lights. The City installed a small electric lightplant, which was doing very well.

"Then a great corporation came along and knocked for admittance to our little city. It proposed to purchase and improve and extend the plant as the demand might justify. The City perhaps did well to sell the plant to the corporation. It has improved and extended the plant and has been serving the people well.

"But it is impossible for mere men to foresee every contingency that may arise. The City council gave the corporation practically perpetual franchise over our streets and granted it the right to build its lines thereon and to remove obstacles on the streets that might at any time interfere with the distribution of the electric current along its lines.

Well, in the course of time trees were planted along our sidewalks and have grown up like magic, and in some places it was found that at times they do interfere with the operation of the electric light lines. To protect its lines and its service therefore the Company has sent out its employees to cut out the offending branches of the trees, and in some instances they have mutilated, and haggled, and marred these fine trees shamefully, destroying their symmetry and their beauty to the great disappointment and chagrin of those who have gone to the expense and the trouble to raise them.

"We are just wondering why the Company could not have been required to build its lines in the alleys instead of the streets in the franchise that was granted it. How much better that would have been!

"And we are just wondering why a great and wealthy corporation that thrives through the patronage of the people of our cities and towns and not see the injustice that it is doing and the needless havoc it is wreaking and the ill will it is engendering when it continues to occupy the streets of our towns and continues to mar the property of the people and the beauty of the town upon occasion, when all this vandalism could be avoided by moving its lines voluntarily back into the alleys where they really belong."

KNOW YOUR WORKING HENS

College Station — There's no place for loafers in the poultry flock in these days, say George P. McCarthy, poultry husbandman of the A. and M. College Extension Service. The loafer can't conceal himself from an owner who knows the signs. Before finishing the laying year, she looks slick, with glossy, oily feathers. On the other hand the dry and frayed laying clothes of the hard-working, well-fed hen are easily identified. The oil and fats from her feed went into egg yolks. The loafer stopped laying and made feathers. Her place is in the stew pot.

Another way to test is to examine the beak and shanks. If the hen belongs to one of the common yellow skin varieties and is a layer, the color will be faded and bleached out, and the comb will be full of blood, red and waxy. If she's a loafer it will be pale and shriveled. The skin of a layer is soft textured like a kid glove. A nonlayer has a hard, dry skin which is relatively tight.

Cull the loafers and save the best layers for breeding stock, McCarthy says. Next year their daughters will help you produce more Food-For Victory.

It seems to us that the average person of today isn't quite so average as he used to be. That's progress.

Texas' first cattle and sheep were the flocks introduced by the Spanish founders of early missions.

In 1940, Texas had 85 per cent of the Angora goats in the United States and produced 86 per cent of the nation's mohair.

Baptist Church News

Churches composing the Texas Baptist State Convention, by almost unanimous consent, have decided they should pay their debt of $400,000, long standing, which before the depression in 1930, was considerably more than a million dollars. Much of this debt was acquired by assuming obligations of colleges which could not pay when the depression came.

Wayland College being one example, which was released of more than a hundred thousand dollars in order to clear that institution and others that could be mentioned. It is enough to say that Baptist borrowed the money and spent it in their work and have now paid interest on it for a good many years because of the depression which made it impossible to pay it in full and at the same time continue all their mission work throughout this State and they have now decided to pay it.

The deacons of this church are making recommendation that we pay not less than $500 of it during this month of October and Mrs. Price, who is president of the W. M. U., is challenging the women to pay at least one dollar and certainly the better able will do much more. The date set for completion of this collection is Oct. 25th, and the matter is now mentioned that all may have notice and arrange to have a part in it, as Baptist honor is involved and certainly no Baptist worthy to wear the name can ignore it.

The war may be over in 1943 and our convention wishes to be ready for a great missionary program and with our debts paid, we will be ready.

The new teachers and officers began the new year's work last Sunday with 322 in the Bible school and the attendance should be better.

We wish we could impress the parents of children who are not in Bible study anywhere that the morals of children are of vastly more importance than literary training, and they will find teachers her for every age group, in comfortable rooms throughout the winter.

A welcome is extended to all.

Guayule Plants Made Good Growth

LUBBOCK—Guayule plants set out of the Texas Technological College farm March 23, 1942, to test their rubber producing qualities on the high plains of Texas now appear vigorous and healthy. Average height of the plant is 16 inches and the breadth is about the same.

"From all indications the plants have made a very satisfactory growth," says A. W. Young, head of the plant industry department. Seed production has been very abundant. Already the seeds have been harvested twice and taken to government nurseries in San Antonio for the propagation of additional plants.

Guayule plants may be expected to produce 300 pounds of rubber per acre the first year, with a gain of 300 pounds per year for the next three years, but after that the increase is not so rapid.

Do You Have a Gas Mask in Your Cellar?

Do you, Mr. and Mrs. Terry county citizen, have several gas masks in your cellar or garage—or two or three steel helmets in your kitchen closet or attic—or three or four bayonets stuck away in the seldom used hall closet?

Absurd—no, the question isn't absurd and the War production Board's Conservation Division suspects that you do have these implements of war that our soldiers so vitally need hidden away in your home.

Stop and think—then act.

An old automobile tire too worn for use can provide enough reclaimed rubber for several gas masks. An old flatiron long outdated by the new electric one could easily be turned into two brand new steel helmets, and a discarded wash pail, full of holes and battered almost beyond recognition represents three bayonets.

Actually the average citizen owns a veritable arsenal.

Read the list cited here and then then go call the Salvage Committee. Time is a-wasting while your brother or husband or next door neighbor is being crowded into tight places because he doesn't have the weapons to fight properly.

A copper kettle will make 84 pounds of ammunition for some soldiers rifle.

That Flying Fortress you saw overhead yesterday might have had electrical connections soldered with the lead reclaimed from 60 old tooth paste tubes.

And don't throw away those burned out light bulbs. They are used in the making of compasses.

Why don't you and your family go over your house and grounds with a fine toothed comb, the boys in our armed forces will appreciate it and will use every piece of scrap you have to slap a Jap.

We mentioned last week that Burton G. Hackney and Troy Noel joined up as air specialists. This week, we add Clee Burnett, who joined as air corps specialist, and Jimmy German in Civilian Pilot training.

The change and move to New Mexico was made last month, but was overlooked by this paper.

Sam came to Texas from Kansas, where he edited several newspapers.

Can Use Men With Slight Physical Defects

The Army Air Forces can use men who cannot pass the physical examinations for general military service, according to report Saturday from Lt. Col. Marvin B. Durette, District Recruiting and Induction Officer at Lubbock.

Age limits are 18 to 50 and the applicants should have some mechanical or radio experience. Those who have been placed in the I-B classification by their Local Boards are eligible for enlistment now.

Anyone mechanically inclined who has been making a livelihood through some mechanical trade, even though he has some physical defects, is thus eligible for enlistment into the Air Forces where he is needed to help "Keep 'Em Flying."

Partial blindness in one eye, partial deafness, insufficient teeth, loss of a thumb, loss of as many as three fingers on one hand, defects of the feet and other physical disabilities are thus waived.

Now is the time to enlist. Recruiting sergeants at the following Army Recruiting Stations will be glad to discuss the many advantages of the service in the Air Forces with those interested. There are now family allowances for men with families and promotions for mechanics and technicians are usually rapid.

Army Recruiting Stations are located at the following cities: Odessa, Big Spring, Sweetwater, Pampa, Amarillo, Plainview, El Paso, Fort Bliss, and Lubbock.

Some one dropped us a card this week saying we left off our list Cecil J. Rose among the number of men who left here Sept. 28th. We are very sorry of this error.

We checked our list but very likely it was accidentally left out by the linotyper, and the proof reader didn't catch it.

Pantry Saboteurs Ruin Much Food

College Station — Texas homemakers likely won't be able to capture spies in their own kitchens like Mrs. Miniver of the movies, but they can be on the alert to outwit saboteurs in the pantry.

These saboteurs include insects, mice, mold and dampness, according to Winifred Jones, specialist in food preservation for the A. and M. College Extension Service. Here are ways she suggests for storing staple foods.

Sugar and spice should be kept in clean, tight containers. "When you open your door and get a spicy whiff of cinnamon or cloves, you've been caught off guard," the specialist says. "You're losing fine flavor along with that fragrance on the kitchen air."

The best place to store flour is in a tight can, jar, or bin which will keep out light as well as moisture, mice, bugs, and dust. In humid climates, bread will stay fresh longer and keep from moulding if it is kept in moisture proof paper and put in the refrigerator. In drier climates it can be put in a ventilated box. The specialist advises scalding, airing, and sunning cake and bread boxes often. Crackers and crisp cookies should be stored by themselves in clean, air-tight, tins or boxes. They get soft if they are kept with bread or cake.

Food canned in glass needs to be protected from heat and light for heat destroys food value, and light destroys food value and vitamin C. Tinned foods should be kept dry to prevent rusting. "Put dried fruits and vegetables in tight, moisture - proof containers and store them in a cool dark place," Miss Jones suggests.

(Where would we be today if we had followed Senator Nye's advice on "Conscription.")
