

Henry To Hold Amarillo Meeting

Evangelist Warren A. Henry, local minister of the Church of Christ, is leaving this week for Amarillo, where he will hold a series of meetings for one of the Amarillo churches, and will not be here for the Sunday services. He is scheduled a bit later for a meeting in Cincinnati, Ohio, which so far as we can learn are his only scheduled meetings for the winter months.

Mrs. W. R. Latham of Bowie, Texas, is the guest of her son, Evert Latham. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Clark and son, Earl, of Wellington were also week end guests in the Latham home. Earl is a Tech student.

Another Unwanted Trash Mover A Visitor

Looked like the first of last week that we were done with rains for a spell. Two weeks before, we had some 3.75 inches, and the week before a half inch shower, but it had cleared up, and cotton was coming in nicely by Thursday of last week. But again, it was not to last. A black cloud came up from the north with a bang about noon Friday, and the precipitation continued until about 7:30 Friday night.

According to the gauge here, the rainfall amounted to 2.50 inches, with a small amount of hail when the storm first hit the city. A rather hard shower fell all the afternoon. We understand that a rather bad hail hit the Wolfarth section in Lubbock county, and some in the Levelland area. No great damage was done here other than delaying the gathering of the crop and sanding the lower bolls of cotton to some extent.

Gins were roaring ahead Monday, although the cotton, and especially the burs were rather damp, but the gins seemed to be giving an excellent simple despite this handicap. Tuesday was a beautiful day with the wind from the southwest, where we hope it will stay for awhile, as we have little rain from that direction.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cadenhead and children of Lubbock, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Lindley, Sunday.

Albert Thompson and wife, of Dallas, came in last Friday just ahead of the rain, and are visitors in the home of his brother, Ed and family of the Harmony community.

High Protein Ration Needs To Save Grain

Replacement Value of Cottonseed Meal To Help War Effort

(Editor's Note: This is the fourth article of a series, "Feed to Speed War Production" published as a service to stockmen.

"If we don't use our feed supplies carefully, we will be scraping the bottom of our corn bin", the Secretary of Agriculture has warned in a strong plea to farmers to save grain and feed more high-protein feeds. "Farmers in general can profitably increase the use of high protein feeds," he said, adding, "Efficient use of high-protein feeds will make grain supplies go farther."

Timeliness of this plea is evident not only from the need for more production, more efficient production and for saving grain; that is is very timely and important is indicated, also by Bureau of Agricultural Economics estimates that the protein content of rations in 1942 will average only about 81 per cent of the estimated amount required to give balanced rations for all classes of livestock.

"The protein content of United States rations is still too low to give the most efficient production of livestock products", the Bureau concluded, in spite of increased production of high-protein feeds; and the Department of Agriculture in other releases has said: "From the standpoint of price, efficient production and increasing demand for livestock products, farmers should use more high-protein feeds this year."

How such an efficient protein concentrate as cottonseed meal can save grain in rations (as well as make the grain more efficient) is evident from these facts, which have been established by experience and Experiment Station research:

In fattening rations for beef cattle, fed as a protein supplement to balance rations, one pound of cottonseed meal or cake will save two and one-half to three pounds of corn, grain sorghums or other similar grain. When fed in amounts that exceed the minimum protein requirement to balance the ration, one pound of cottonseed meal is fully equal to a pound of corn or other grain. For this reason, feeders often find it advantageous to feed cottonseed meal in the feedlot in excess of protein requirement to replace grain; and cattle may be fattened on grass with excellent result by using cottonseed cake, or meal, as the sole concentrate.

For dairy cattle, protein can take the place of feeds that produce energy and fat, but these feeds cannot replace protein. Without enough protein to maintain her milk yield, a cow can give only less milk. For every gallon of milk produced (4 per cent butterfat) a cow requires approximately one and one-half pound of cottonseed meal to supply protein; and large amounts may be fed when it is desired to save grain.

Pork production offers a very important opportunity to save grain this season, authorities point out. When the swine ration is balanced by a protein supplement, such as a mixture of 2 parts cottonseed meal, 1 part tankage or fish meal and 1 part alfalfa meal, or half-and-half cottonseed meal and tankage or fish meal, each 100 pounds of this protein supplement will save approximately 400 to 600 pounds of corn or other grain.

For horses and mules, one pound of cottonseed meal will save about two pounds of corn or oats in a balanced ration. Idle stock can be carried through the winter in good condition on cottonseed meal and hulls, alone; and small amounts of grain combined with meal and hulls make efficient rations for working horses and mules.

In these ways, the use of cottonseed meal in livestock rations will have an added importance to livestock producers this season, feeding authorities point out, when grain-saving is essential as well as more efficient production of a larger volume of "Food for Victory."

We noted in a recent issue of the Littlefield Leader that A. B. (Ah Boy) Sanders had been hunting up in Canada and got his buck. A. B. is now superintendent of the Donna, Texas, schools, but came here from Ralls about 1931, going from here to Littlefield. He was superintendent of schools at all three places.

Shoe Box Meant Size, Not The Strength

Postmasters should inform mailers that both the War Department and the Navy Department have stated that no food should be included in parcels mailed to members of the armed forces overseas, not only because crumbs or other matter escaping from the parcels attract vermin, but for the further reason that the armed forces are amply supplied with food. It is noted that publicity has been given to the use of shoe box containers for gifts sent overseas. While the notice in the Postal Bulletin of August 19, 1942, regarding Christmas mail for members of the armed force abroad mentioned a shoe box, it was done solely to indicate the maximum size desirable and not with the thought that an actual shoe box would be used for such parcels. Pasteboard shoe boxes are not strong enough for this purpose and the public should be cautioned against using anything so fragile for parcels sent overseas.

Miss Elva Gillham was a business visitor in Lubbock, Tuesday.

Uh Huh! Uh Huh! Went in home one night recently and found a nice supply of red, ripe tomatoes on the dining table. Didn't take us long to ferret out the intruder as Mrs. Bob Bowers. That fine lady had left them on the table for us in other years. Nothing better than a sun ripe tomato of such quality with a bit of salt thereon.

An article in the Lynn County News, Tahoka, noted the passing of another old timer of this section, in last week's issue. This was Hezekiah (Hezy) Smith, 75, of Tahoka. Mr. Smith and family spent a few years in Terry county when the county was very young, as a blacksmith and farmer, but moved to Tahoka when a railroad came there about 1912. He was a fine old pioneer gentleman.
