With Boys in the Service A Letter to the Boys In the Service.

Dear Boys:

As we have tried for the past few weeks to get some one to write you about the old home town and area, and failed, we just decided to bear down on you ourselves, and see how you like it. The general excuse of those we approached is "too busy." This may be the pure Kelly too, as you boys who have left to join the armed service, or to work in war production plants, can easily realize that all of us left at home are working short handed, with inexperienced, but willing help, and that our hours are longer reaching out and taking in part of the night.

We don't think that those we have called on that did not respond are lazy or indifferent about the matter. Right here we wish to invite mothers of this area, who have sons in the service, to address a letter to all of you. Coming from such a mother, the letter would be from the heart.

Speaking of shorthandedness and inconveniences that we of Terry county never thought of a year or more ago, will state that we were out on one of our fine highways this week, and in one mile we found two cotton trailers, each with a busted hind wheel. One farmer had managed to get a plank skid fastened under the trailer and was moving on toward the gin. The other trailer of cotton was parked on the side of the highway. Boy, it is getting fierce here at home, and can get much worse. But we'll make it some way if we have to build slides to haul produce to market. You boys have the real job, and we hope that our county can get what you need to you in time from now on.

Well, there was a pretty nice parade today, Armistice. There were no floats and we felt that the merchants had rather put what money the decorating of a float would cost in war bonds and stamps. The parade was formed as usual near the school buildings and moved down Main, around the square and back on Broadway. It was headed by the fine school band, escorted by a highway patrolman and a bicycle brigade of small boys, some with highly decorated wheels. Then came a small bunch of men who made history 24 years ago, to be betrayed in the peace effort by isolationists in the US Senate. Then came the Texas Home guardsmen in their new winter uniforms, and last but not least, hundreds of school children. Of course the streets lined with Old Glory flying in the breeze, and carried by the paraders.

Here is an idea that came to our mind during the parade. "We hope and pray that by the time next November rolls around, we shall have another Armistice day and we hope for your sake and the sake of children now in childhood or to be born, there will be such a peace made that they will not be called upon to free the world 20 years hence. We believe further that if a bunch of isolationists try to betray you, the present American Legion will hang them as high as Haaman.

Here's a good tip, too, boys. So far as we can find out, the "Girl You Left Behind," and to you, the sweetest girl in all the world, is true and loyal to you, and you can rest assured on that fact. And of course the wives of the married are true blue, and many of them are taking the places of men called into the service, to keep the old town going.

If this letter suits you, drop us a letter or card, and if enough of you think it of any value whatever, we shall try and pinch hit for those who fall down on the job.

Sincerely,
A. J. (Andrew Jackson) Stricklin.

1st Lt. and Mrs. Kenneth Lance Turner of Hill Field, Odgen, Utah, are visiting the latter part of this week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Turner and sister, Wanda Ruth.

In Training At Baltimore, Md.

Under date of Nov. 5, Buddy Blackstock wrote his mother and dad from Baltimore, which he describes as some city. Remembered that it was one of their birthdays, and wished he was where he could eat a piece of the cake leisurely. He says it was very cold compared to Sheppard Field, where he got his initial training. Clothes out on the line froze overnight. They are about a 100 yards from the bay with a forest between. He says the camp is laid out in streets and thousands of trailers where people who work in the plant live.

Says so far they have been treated very nicely, but his outfit hit a 24 hour shift that day with drilling, etc. The school, he says, is much more elaborate than Sheppard, and the army was taking over. His pal from Pueblo, Col. had come down with pneumonia, and had to be carried to a hospital in Baltimore. Reported that the Republicans carried about everything in that section. He reads a Baltimore paper which he says just about covers everything. Hadn't inspected the inside of the plant where he will school, but said it was a huge thing on the outside. They will, among other things, work on and take down and reassemble B-26 bombers. Everything free but washing, and that's sky-high, he stated.

They are situated on a main line of railroad between Washington and the south to Philadelphia and New York, and says a train whizzes by about every 10 minutes, going 100 miles per hour, and with women drivers for the electric ones. Only inconvenience is bathing facilities, as one has to dress to go to them, and he guesses the trailer families think a nudist colony has opened next to them.

The planes they make at the factory carry four cannon, cost around 750 thousand. They have a full supply of machine guns and carry 5,800 pounds of bombs. The planes weigh 31,800 pounds, measure 71 feet from wing tip to wing tip, have tricycle landing gear and carry eight people; have 2800 HP radial Ford engines. Not high altitude planes, but have a cruising speed of 345 MPH, but can make 450. It was the ship used to bomb Tokyo, and he reports they are being carried to Europe and elsewhere. He states it is the best ship they have studied.

More Terryites Volunteer In Air Corps

The West Texas Recruiting and Induction district at Lubbock, reports the following men have enlisted in the Army, and have chosen the branch of service indicated:

All above are listed as Air Corps Specialists. In addition A. V. Clark enlisting for civilian pilot training.

John Elbert Brannon and Marvin Hugh Smith, both of Wellman, are also volunteer as Air Corps Specialists; Also Clem P. Longley and Woodrow Wilson Mitchell Alton and Elton Wilmeth, whom we believe are twins from Tokio, are air corps specialists. This makes 21 since our report last week.

TOKIO TWINS MAY BOMB TOKYO, JAPAN

LUBBOCK, Nov. 11 — Tokyo, here come the boys from Tokio! Alton and Elton Wilmeth, 21-year-old identical twins from Tokio, Tex., just arrived at the South Plains Army Flying School for training as air craft mechanics. Naturally, they have a special reason for wanting to go to Tokyo, Japan.

Couldn't Hold Job On Farm, Says Moorhead

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Moorhead have returned to the Plains section from Bay City, where he was a patrolman at a war works factory. In conversation with Rudolph, we learned much that is going on around war plants that is not generally known by the public back home. He illustrated how high pay men, some making as high as $800 per month, put in around two hours a day of actual work.

Most any common laborer gets around $60 per week, stated Rudolph, but they "rat" around three fourths of the time, and as long as they are not sitting down, you are forbidden to order them to work. They may take a knife and a match and whittle for hours, but their pay goes on. We imagine this is a pretty good picture of what is actually happening in hundreds of other plants over the nation.

On account of the fact that the fog and drizzly weather did not agree with Mrs. Moorhead's health, they returned to the plains, and he will either go to work at Lubbock or Amarillo, he thinks. With one son in the service, another to go soon, and their daughter in school, Rudolph says he feels it his duty to do what he can in getting stuff ready to fight.

His son Tom is now an aviation cadet at San Antonio, and he reports that he and his wife already have 10 in the service counting both families. Making magnesium from sea water is a real sight, says Rudolph, and they are really turning out this essential metal in the old and new plants combined.

CPL. COVINGTON GETS PROMOTION

BIG SPRING—According to a report from Col. Sam L. Ellis, commandant of the Army Air Forces Bombardier School here, Cpl. Leonard G. Covington of Brownfield, Texas, has been promoted to the grade of Sgt. He is one of the boys who keep 'em flying night and day out at Big Spring, one of the world's largest training schools for bombardiers.

Lt. and Mrs. Truett Flache of Ft. Sill Okla., visited their parents Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Sawyer and Mr. and Mrs. Ame Flache the past week-end.

Jim Cousineau, 1st Class E.M. I/C of Kodiak, Alaska writes home that he always looks forward to getting his home town paper.

Corp. Davie McNutt of Chanute Field, Ill., who is on a 12 day furlough, is visiting friends here this week.

Deadly U. S. Marines of 1776 and Today

Ardor of Westerners And Fans Dampened

There was no use trying to shield the fact that the Lubbock Westerners and fans that came down last Friday afternoon were greatly disappointed. The fact that they believed they had the game "in de bag" made it even more irritating. And remember that we told you last week that some times the old dope bucket can be scattered all over the field. Just because this team beat that one bad, and the other team beat the beaters, is no reason to guess always that the game was sewed up.

The Cubs made their tally and kick for 7 points late in the second. Lubbock then came back with much power and quick shifts to make a goal in the third quarter, but failed to make good the point, leaving the game 7 to 6 in the Cub's favor. As the game closed, the Cubs had Lubbock in deep water again, down near their goal line. The gun perhaps ruined another touchdown for the Cubs.

However, people who saw the game say it was one of the best ever played on the local field. Way back last year when at the close of the Cub's last games in A, we heard many fans say: "Well, next year we'll be in AA, and even if we lose all the other games, I hope the Cubs can beat the Westerners." This of course reached the players, and the Cubs went in that game with the determination to win or know the reason why.

On account of gas rationing, the game with Borger will be moved up for today instead of two weeks hence. As we understand it, both teams were to have been idle this week. The Cubs have two more games, with Borger and Amarillo, and according to schedule both can be finished before rationing. Next Friday, Nov. 20, the Cubs will finish the season with a tangle with the powerful Sandies on their field.

Brownfield should win the Borger game, but the Sandies have seldom been defeated on their own grounds. If we beat Borger, we can count three out of five games the first season in AA.

Pfc John M. Hare, who has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hare seven miles east of town for the past week, was a caller Monday to get the Herald started to his address at Fort Bliss. That boy was looking superb, and appears to be making a real US trooper.

Sgt. and Mrs. Dallas M. Urwin visited in the home of Mrs. Urwin's parents last week, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Leonard. Also Mr. and Mrs. Pachall from Artesia, N. M. Mrs. Pachall is a sister of Mrs. Leonard.

Ropes Bank Sold to Levelland Institution

The little city of Ropesville, almost half way between this city and Lubbock, but in the extreme southeast corner of Hockley county, was rather nonplussed last week, when one morning they woke up and found they had no bank. Quietly the First State Bank of Ropesville had been sold to the First National of Levelland.

It is stated that the sale and absorption of the assets by the Levelland Bank, was not because the Ropesville bank was not in good condition, but the main reason given was that most of the largest stockholders lived elsewhere. Also, there is a possibility that obtaining efficient help entered somewhat into the sale. It is a well known fact that many former male employees in the local banks are being replaced by girls and married women.

And the ladies seem to be handling the job pretty well, as all seem to like their new jobs, and the bank officials have made no complaint. Most women are quick to pick up clerical work, and some have a good knowledge of bookkeeping.

The Ropes Plainsman of last week used considerable space in telling readers of their disappointment in losing the bank, and the fact that they were given no opportunity to organize a local board to purchase the bank. But, this paper announced, "within the next few weeks we hope to have news for you that will carry your spirits as near Heaven as this news has carried you near Hades."

That, perhaps means that the citizens of Ropes will try for a new bank, locally owned.

Places To Register For Gasoline

Registration for gas will be held in Brownfield High School, the Gomez and Tokio Schools Thursday, Friday and Saturday, November 19, 20 and 21.

School officials are asking that if possible to wait until Friday or Saturday to register in order not to interrupt regular school work. School will be dismissed all day Friday but not Thursday.

Automobile owners must obtain at filling stations and have properly filled out, cards bearing the serial number of tires and other necessary data before registration can be completed and Ration Books issued.

Former Terryite Passes in Amarillo

The Herald regrets to note the passing of G. B. Swan of Amarillo last week. Mr. Swan and family moved to Terry county about the time the railroad came, and made the town a fine citizen. He and Mrs. Swan reared a fine family of children.

Howard is the only one of the children that still resides in Brownfield. Howard has a family, and is engaged in the trucking business. We understand that the rest of the family reside in or near Amarillo.

Eighth Anniversary Sale at Lathams

In their page ad this week, you will note that the Latham Dry Goods is putting on their eighth annual sale. During the eight years that the Latham store has been in Brownfield, they have enjoyed a prosperous business.

Much of the goods mentioned in the ad this week are far below ceiling prices, and right at this time when most people have some money, is the time to buy.

Pvt. J. B. Huckabee, Jr., who left here for Fort Sill two weeks ago, has been transferred to Camp Beauregard, La., where he was made an MP.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hayhurst and Mr. and Mrs. Reader, all of Rush Springs, Okla., returned home last Monday. They had been visiting for the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Graves.

Pensions to Be Cut $1.00 in November

AUSTIN—The State Department of Public Welfare announced today that a flat cut of $1 will be made in each Old Age Assistance grant when checks are written in November. An estimated 182,000 aged persons will be affected. The notice to be mailed with each old age assistance check states:

"Effective November, 1942, and until further notice, your Old Age Assistance check will be for $1 less than your certified grant. The monthly cost of Old Age Assistance is now in excess of income. Under the law eligible applicants must continue to be added to the rolls, which will make less money per recipient.

"The Welfare Department has no control over its income. Old Age Assistance financing provisions are set by law. State law provides an appropriation of $1,750,000 monthly in the Old Age Assistance Fund. All money now being disbursed in excess of this amount comes from Federal grants to the State."

Since the state waived consideration of the ability of relatives to support aged applicants, the rolls have made a net gain from 122,059 in January, 1941, to be estimated 182,000 now eligible. A small percentage of these were not being supported by relatives when eligibility was established. This group has added approximately $1,200,000 per month to the cost of Old Age Assistance in Texas. The rolls and costs have mounted steadily each month since liberalization of the law by the 47th legislature and applicants continue to come in.

Another Good Man Passes

James Oliver Wheatley was born March 4, 1889, at Glenrose in Somervell County, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Wheatley of Haskell, Texas. He died at his home in the Johnson community at 2 p. m., Tuesday afternoon. He was married to Miss Anna Laura Fox, Sept 22, 1909, at Glenrose, Texas. Born to this union were six children, all living, three boys and three girls, five of which attended the funeral, as follows:

Herman, of Sudan, Texas; Mrs. Frank DuBose of Pittsburg, Calif.; Mrs. Kenneth Lewis, of El Paso; Joe of Brownfield; Mrs. Woodrow May of Pittsburg, Calif.; Aline of Richmond, Calif., who was unable to be here. Six grandchildren survive; also one brother and five sisters, J. D. Wheatley, Mrs. F. A. Force, Mrs. Lola Massie, and Mrs. T. C. Cobb, all of Haskell; Mrs. Mary Sullivan of Glenrose; Mrs. Ed King of Southland. Mrs. Sullivan could not attend the funeral.

Mr. Wheatley and family moved to Terry County in January, 1921, and has made his home in the Johnson community since, being highly regarded by all who knew him.

Funeral services were conducted at the church of Christ in Brownfield at 2 P. M., Wednesday, by Elder Liff Sanders of Lubbock. Burial followed in the Terry County Memorial Cemetery.

First Victory Concert November 19th

Mr. Williams, director of the high school band, announced this week that the first of a series of Victory Concerts will be held at the school auditorium, Thursday evening, November 19th. There will be no admission charge, but war bonds and stamps will be sold by the Brownfield State Bank.

The second Victory Concert will be held near the Christmas holidays, Thursday evening, December 17th, at same place, sale of stamps and bonds in charge of First National Bank. The hour at both performances is 8 P. M.

Both concerts include the primary choral groups in charge of Mrs. Kittle; Junior high choral groups in charge of Miss Huff, and high school band in charge of Mr. Williams.

New Farm Machinery To Be Limited

County Agent A. L. Hartzog stated recently that USDA War Board in Terry county was advised by the state office that farmers should not count too much on new machinery in 1943. That is the word that the war boards all over the state are getting to farmers this week.

Basic of the announcement is incorporated with WPB's concentration program and limitation order which transfers manufacture of farm machinery from larger companies to small and intermediate companies, and cuts production by approximately 50 per cent over the previous limitation order.

In explaining the new program, Hartzog said that quotas for new machinery would be held to 20 percent of 1940 production while repair parts would be allowed at 130 per cent of that year's production. Although total manufacture of new machinery during 1943 will reflect 20 percent of the 1940 production, only 75 percent of the material has been allocated at the present time. The balance of 25 percent will be distributed in later dates on the basis of efficient use of the existing inventories, available labor, and to correct inequalities between producers of approximately the same size and type which might otherwise develop.

This is a good time to check all farm machinery and also to repair machinery. This old machinery must last as long as possible, and it is up to every one to cooperate in this program by taking the best care possible of all machinery and seeing that it is repaired at once for the coming year.

Rotary Has Annual Armistice Lunch

In order not to interfere with any set program for the 11th, the Brownfield Rotarians held their annual Armistice luncheon on Tuesday, the tenth, at which time Rotarians had as guests men who saw service in the 1917-18 conflict. These veterans were introduced, and the organization in which they served noted.

Dr. John R. Turner served as master of ceremonies, and introduced Capt. Foster of the South Plains Army Flying School at Lubbock who delivered a very fine address. Also present was Dave McNutt, former member of the local Legion Post and now with the Army Air Force at Chanute Field, Ill.

Children Gather At Parental Home

Mr. and Mrs. John Jenkins were pleased to have the following children and grand-children at home with them over the weekend:

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jenkins and daughter Vergie Lena, all of Anson; Pvt. Virgil C. Jenkins of Lubbock Flying School; Mrs. Bill Tubbs, of Anson; Mrs. and Mrs. Geo. Jenkins and daughters, Dona Nell and Dixie Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Clark and daughter and son, Kathy Lynn and Kenneth Wayne, of Brownfield.

Pvt. "Blackie" Bownds, with the Lubbock Army Flying School, was a visitor with friends around Brownfield Sunday. For almost a year, Blackie was employed by the Herald. Says his job is to learn cadets how to navigate the ground scooters, or whatever they are called. Anyway, they have no wings, but a full instrument panel.

Among the men of the South Plains who took the Navy oath in Lubbock Monday was Otis Earl Branch of Brownfield.

Mrs. Evrin Rambo tell us that Buddy had been transferred the first of this week from Enid, Okla. to Victoria, Texas, where he is entering Pursuit Flight Training.

We understand that some of the Mexican and negro cotton pickers from south and east Texas, are a bit fidgety about being caught so far away from home when gasoline rationing takes effect. We have it on good authority that the OPA has made full provisions for laborers that are away from home trying to help save and harvest the crops of the country. No matter when you are ready to return home, provision will be made to supply you with plenty of gasoline to get back to your home without delay. We wish we could say the same about the rubber on your wheels, but of course the cotton picker knew the condition of them and the hopelessness of replacing them when he left home. However, in view of the fact that gasoline rationing has been put off until December 1, many of you may be ready to start home before that time.

At a meeting of the Executive Board of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at Abilene recently, following a test vote by mail, Marvin C. Ulmer, prominent Midland banker and the mayor of that city was elevated to the presidency of the WTCC. At the meeting held in Midland last fall, the last big regional meeting perhaps for the duration, Mr. Ulmer was named first vice-president. We believe the board has chosen well.

What has become of that old partisan who about a year ago was yelling his old head off and asserting that there never would be another popular election in the United States? He has simply joined the other liars. Of course those who wanted to see through this veiled assertion, knew that it was made solely to scare people to vote some other way, and that our country was drifting to dictatorship. We started out to win this war as a democracy, along with other United Nations, and it will be finished the same way. It is democracies vs. dictatorships. And we'll have elections as usual when the war is over.

Dick Cooke is the new editor and Clyde I. Price is the new business manager of the Clarendon News. Supposedly, Sam Braswell, the owner, has leased the paper to these gentlemen. Evidently Sam is tired of work, and proposes to join the town's whittling club for a spell. Anyway, he gave out nothing except what is stated above.

It is said that the middle west's swing to the Republican party was a protest of farmers in that section against the administration for the stand it took recently on parity. We are set to wonder what the GOP has ever done for agriculture? Before the New Deal there was no parity; there was nothing paid them for retired acreages, not to mention many other innovations that has put the American farmer much nearer an equality in incomes to other trades and professions than they have ever been. Of course there are many who believe that the farmer should have been turned wild hog loose to produce just as much of any one thing as possible, without regard to whether he would ever be able to sell it or not. These same people would be the last to demand that the manufacturer fill all his warehouses with goods when the market was already supplied, or that the merchant stock his shelves with non-salable merchandise. In fact, a lot of demagogues don't give a hang for the farmer or whether he gets anything for his products or not. They do want his vote, however. Thank goodness Southern farmers have not so soon forgotten, and are not so easily fooled.

Censorship is under fire throughout the length and breadth of the nation. The loss of a plane or of several planes in the Doolittle raid on Tokyo; the sinking of our ships which is not revealed for weeks or months; the movement of troops and munitions; the nation-wide swing of our President to visit war plants; all of these have been criticized throughout the nation. It is reasoned by a lot of folks that the people should be let in on every military loss as well as our victories. The fact that we have had so few victories, and have sustained many bad military losses, is not considered by those who want to know the news as fast as it happens. May be there has been too strict a censorship on the nation, but the fact remains that to give out all of the news as fast as it happens would be too valuable to our enemies. It is said that a lot of Americans are tuning in on Berlin to "get the war news." That is what Hitler wants. He wants to create suspicion among our people, and right now is doing a good job. Too many Americans are so gullible that they are actually believing a lot of bunk which is coming out of Berlin. So far as censorship is concerned, what does the matter of a few days' matter in getting war news out to the people? The people want accuracy, and certainly accurate reports cannot be flung at the public as battles are being fought. It is better that we wait a few days in order to get the accurate reports than it is to be upset by inaccurate reports or matters of guesses on part of news commentators. But the greatest service of censorship is in the need for keeping our enemies in the dark as to our military accomplishments.—Canyon News.

Many farmers, who from past experience know it was unsafe to plant peanuts, but who through patriotic motive; did plant around 2,000 acres in this county are going to be heavy losers. Though we have not had much high wind as yet, serious erosion is already apparent in most peanut fields. Some twenty-odd years ago our farmers got peanut minded and planted extensively. More than 100 carloads of peanuts were marketed; but for years thereafter farmers had the difficult task of rebuilding ruined fields. It just won't do to plant peanuts on land that is inclined to blow. — Big Spring News.

"The home paper should be supported by all the people whether you agree with what the editor says or not," remarks the Glenrose Reporter. "Suppose you should die to day and the editor told the truth about you and the kind of citizen you have made—?"

Here's a little sketch that your columnist wrote years ago while editor of a small West Texas daily:

Dashing over the Broadway of America from Eastland to Ranger the other morning, I glimpsed that fascinating, unending "big parade" of huge buses; lumbering trucks; glistening, aristocratic cars and wheezing antiques of the automotive world.

There came in sight a queer group laboriously approaching the top of a hill.

An old creaking cart. A woman walking alongside her face wrinkled and so smitten by sun and wind that it was the color of leather. A burro tugging along. And beside him a man with a rope around his waist, helping pull the vehicle.

The man's face was burned to a brown that was almost Asiatic. A coarse stubble covered his chin.

Poverty and suffering were written in every feature of that picture—the ancient car covered by flapping canvas; the weary burro; the worn travelers.

Here was an anachronism. Over the million-dollar brick highway where gayly go thousands of cars daily, and above which the motors of airplanes hum, was toiling this pair in a manner befitting the days when Daniel Boone was fighting the Indians.

This plodding pair—where were they going? Were there relatives in the West where a welcome awaited? Were they bound for the Plains of Texas or for California, which they may have heard of as lands of opportunity and wealth for all? Or were they following a wander urge that carried them unresting across deserts, valleys and mountain ranges? What were they getting out of life? Did they smile and laugh as do other people who have homes and definite niches in this world?

Through what experiences did they pass in all those years from prattling childhood to the moment that they came toiling up that hill, and through what experiences will they pass as they travel the broad highways and narrow byways that stretch out to the end of their days?

In fiction the writer tells us what has gone before and then carries the creatures of his imagination to the climax and leaves them with assumed places in the world. But, in life, we view a scene for an instant, as though revealed by lightning at night. Darkness precedes. Darkness follows.

One Just Can't Eat A Blow Torch

Unless the authorities wake up soon, a wholly unnecessary food shortage is imminent. Thousands upon thousands of farmers are going out of business totally or substantially curtailing production. Lack of labor and a feeling that those in high places don't understand their problems, are the main reasons given for such action.

Over 1,400 dairy farmers have quit business this year in the New York milk shed area alone according to figures compiled by the Dairyman's League Cooperative Association. The League's figures for the same are showed, further, that nearly 20,000 head of dairy cattle have been sold so far this year with the prospect that over 15,000 more will be sold during the balance of the year. The plight of New York dairy farmers is typical of farmers in every state.

There have been plenty of reported studies made in regard to manpower needs of the armed services and war industries, which are commonly designated as armament, airplane and shipbuilding. We have been told that all able-bodied men and women will ultimately be forced into industries "essential" to our war program. Thus, millions of men have been faced with the choice of a gun or a welder's torch, apparently in the belief that we could live, eat and fight with these instruments alone.

The time has long passed when attention should have been given to the manpower needs of the industries that keep the "essential" industries going.—Industrial News Review.

THE STATE OF TEXAS
COUNTY OF TERRY

EVERYBODY'S WAR

"This is your war too," an eloquent Negro tells a doubtful audience of his own race. "Don't make any mistake about it. I know you are resentful of the treatment sometimes accorded our race. But resentment alone blinds people so that they become lost in it and forget living issues."

"There is something going on in the world that is bigger than resentment. We may have been given a second-class citizenship and may feel we are not worthy, but I thank God for an opportunity to prove that we really are worthy."

And his audience agrees.—Amarillo Times.

Since they are eating less sugar, maybe the women won't need the rubber girdles they may not be able to get.

The world gets along lots better when people are asking hands instead of heads.

Writes New Book

As funny as Irvin Cobb's "Speaking of Operations" or Ellis Parker Butler's "Pigs Is Pigs"—that's what reviewers are saying about Boyce House's new book, "How I Took Hollywood by Storm," a Southwestern best seller which is based on his observations while helping make the big moving picture, "Boom Town."

House, of Fort Worth, is known to hundreds of thousands through his Sunday radio programs and his column "I Give You Texas." "How I Took Hollywood by Storm" is pocket size, sturdily bound, sells for half a dollar, illustrated, and is just the thing for a Christmas gift for young or old and it would give a lot of chuckles to a Texas soldier off in camp somewhere, too.

Nazi Brutalities In Poland Continue To Shock World

There have been so many heart-rending stories of Nazi brutalities in Poland that one hardly knows where to begin in telling about them. Indeed, some are so shocking that one quivers at the thought of recording them.

People have been carried long distances in locked trucks to concentration camps, when temperatures have been many degrees below zero. When the trucks have reached their destination and were opened, many children were found dead from cold and hunger.

Hundreds of thousands of persons have been taken for forced labor in Germany. Agricultural workers alone numbered more than 700,000. Polish children between the ages of seven and fourteen were brutally seized from their parents and taken away to be Germanized.

The Nazis work on the theory that if persons are depressed

A DEPENDABLE GOD SUBJECT AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Next Sunday morning at the First Christian Church the minister's sermon subject will be, "A Dependable God". In this hour of tumbling faiths and mistrust of men, what can we believe, whom can we trust?

God's word is still to be trusted. He still tells the truth. He is still dependable. Is He the foundation of your faith, your life? You are welcome at the Christian Church.

from cold and hunger, their spirits can be the more easily broken, and the harvest of deaths will be larger. Hitler's plan is obviously intended to reduce if not completely annihilate, the Polish population. The Polish lands that were made part of the Reich had a population of 10,740,000 and 9,500,000 of these were Poles. It is estimated that the Nazis plan to get rid of at least 5,000,000 of these. Sometimes the parents are taken away and the children left. Then at other times it is the children who are taken away and the parents have been mistreated by German soldiers and left pregnant and abandoned.

The fate of the Catholic church is a dark one, the aim of the Nazis being to exterminate that church and force the priests into common labor.—Scottish Rite News Bulletin.

The average person forms an opinion by adding to a small measure of information a dash of imagination and a large quantity of prejudice, shaking well with emotion.

Local Boy Wins Place In Distinguished List

It is gratifying to the Herald to tell its readers that Earl Burnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Burnett of this city, was one of the 15 students in John Tarleton college at Stephenville, to be placed in the distinguished student list for the announcement was made by T. V. Crouse, registrar.

Earl also made the honor roll for the past term, based on 30 grade points and no failures. Of course there were a larger number making this grade.

The Santa Fe system moved 36,821 cars loadings last week, compared to 31,938 for the same week of 1941.

Mrs. Shirley Parker from the Pyote Air Base, and Earl Burnett from John Tarleton College Stephenville, visited their parents Mr. and Mrs. John Burnett over the week-end.

A Few ?? to Ask the Printing Peddler

When the Peddler selling stationery and printing supplies solicits your business, there are a few questions which he should be willing to answer to your satisfaction.

Among them being:

Does he pay taxes in this community?

Does he donate space in his newspaper to the local community enterprises?

Does he pay wages to a force of employees located in this City or County?

Does his paper devote its entire space toward the betterment and upbuilding of this community?

Does he grant you every favor that you would ordinarily ask of a local newspaper?

Does the quality of his merchandise stand inspection—is it on quality paper stock and the printed matter attractively arranged?

Will he submit proof of your work before finishing and mailing it to you C. O. D.?

Does his price include postage and insurance charges?

Can he supply your order on short notice?

If he can answer all the questions in the affirmative, he is entitled to your business.

RED CROSS HELP BRINGS THANKS FROM RUSSIA

MOSCOW—Appreciation for the medical aid sent to Russia by the American Red Cross has been expressed here by Dr. Serge Alexeiev Kolesnikov, chairman of the executive committee of the Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies of the Soviet Union.

All deliveries of surgical instruments and other medical supplies from the United States are of first-rate quality, Dr. Kolesnikov said, and are arriving according to schedule. Mr. Robert J. Scovell, American Red Cross representative in Moscow, said that the approximately $8,000,000 worth of medical equipment had either arrived in Russia or was in the process of delivery.

"Our scientists ask for more information about the organization of medical services abroad," Dr. Kolesnikov said. "I would be grateful if literature or any other form of information could be sent to the Red Cross or Academy of Science. The extension of connections with medical organizations would be useful for exchanging experience."

"Don't forget to tell everybody we are really grateful for what has come, but the more the better."

We have no idea whether or not this war will be followed by another depression, but we think it's a good idea to plan your affairs that way.

Record War Bond Sales Is Goal Of Women At War Week Nov. 22

WASHINGTON, D. C.—America's women in the cities and on the farms—in war factories and in their homes—are determined to make Women At War Week the greatest War Bond selling effort since Pearl Harbor.

During Women At War Week volunteer War Bond saleswomen will wear an armband similar to the one being attached to the sleeve of Mrs. Henry Morgenthau, Jr., by Miss Harriet Elliott.

"We women want to work hard, we want to be a part of this strenuous period because unless we are, we will not be able to face the men when they return and claim our share of the future responsibility for building a peaceful world," the First Lady declared.

The overall direction of Women At War Week rests with the Women's Section of the War Savings Staff under the leadership of Miss Harriet Elliott, Associate Field Director, and Mrs. Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Chief of the Special Activities Unit.

From coast to coast women in every community have made plans for torchlight parades, fashion shows, teas, rallies, store window displays, stamp and bond booths, pageants, civic sings, balls and mardi gras. In each locality administration of the one week drive rests with the local War Savings Committee which has worked out activities adapted to their areas.

Mrs. Morgenthau, in a special message for Women At War Week, declared that the spirit of America's pioneer women lives today more strongly than ever.

"The average American woman began to rise to new heights on Sunday, Dec. 7, 1941," Mrs. Morgenthau said. "This winter the average American woman will be spending less in order to save more to invest in War Bonds and Stamps. She will not, please God, ever have to fire a gun or fly a bomber. But she will, please God, always do everything she can to help buy anything—and the best of everything—that fires or flies or floats in this terrible war."

WOMEN AT WAR—Overalls, wrenches and drills replace fineries as these war workers in an Army Arsenal march to tank repair shops. Note the determination on their faces. These women are typical of hundreds of thousands who are working in war factories and investing part of their earnings in War Bonds.

Mrs. Roosevelt (left) says women help men at front by buying War Bonds. At right is the lapel tag which volunteers will wear during Women At War Week, Nov. 22 to 28.

State Farm Meet To Be Held In Waco Nov 17-18

WACO—Farmers and stockmen from 200 Texas counties will meet in Waco November 17-18 for the annual state convention of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, J. Walter Hammond, president, announced today.

Problems of all-out production for victory will be discussed and a Farm Bureau program for the coming year adopted, Hammond said. Directors from Districts 2, 4, 6, 8, 10 and 12 are to be elected for two-year terms.

The Farm Bureau is the largest organization of farmers in the state with more than 16,000 members in 200 Texas counties.

Hammond is urging all Farm Bureaus to send their full quota of delegates to the meeting. "This will be one of the most important state conventions in the history of our organization," he stated. "The fate of the civilized world depends upon the ability of Americans to produce the food and fiber needed by our armed forces and our allies to crush the axis gangsters. Organized effort on the home front is just as essential as organized action on the fighting front. We must work together and plan a 1943 program that will get the job done."

Some of the outstanding agricultural leaders of the state and nation have accepted invitations to appear on the program, Hammond said. Among these are I. W. Duggan, director of the Southern region, Agricultural Adjustment Administration; H. H. Williamson, director of the Extension Service, Texas A and M college; Dr. V. P. Lee, president of the Production Credit Corporation, Houston; Verne Marshall of Temple, state administrator, Soil Conservation Service; R. A. Manire of Dallas, state director of vocational agriculture; and Mrs. W. G. Kennedy of Muleshoe, president of the Texas Home Demonstration Association.

On the Seven Seas

For 45 years General Electric has developed and built electric equipment for warships. Here are a few of the ways in which electricity serves the Navy.

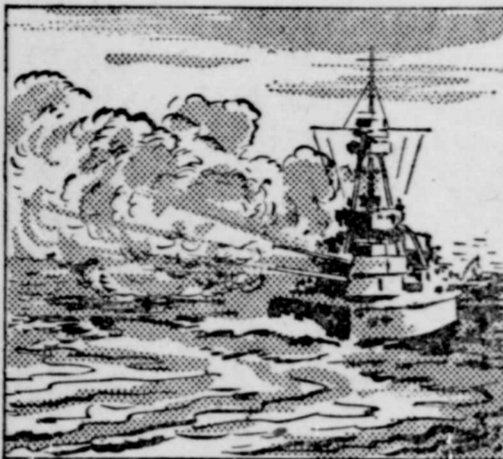

1. Just one battleship may have electric generators to produce as much as 180,000 kilowatts. This power would supply the needs of a city of 375,000.

2. Searchlights produce millions of candlepower of light to aid in detecting enemy ships and planes, and to guide Navy gunners to their targets.

3. More than 20 different operations are performed in bringing a naval gun to bear on its target. Electricity helps to co-ordinate these operations.

4. When a battleship goes into action, electricity helps direct the ship, operate the guns, and give the orders. G.E. is building equipment to do these jobs.

General Electric believes that its first duty as a good citizen is to be a good soldier. General Electric Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Small Grain Pastures For Dairy Cows

COLLEGE STATION — Small grain pasture produces more milk than silage and hay do, according to E. R. Eudaly, dairyman for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

Given good weather and good soil one acre should furnish one cow with ample grazing, but with less favorable weather or land not very good as much as two acres might be needed.

At current prices for milk for manufacturing, one cow producing two gallons or more daily will pay the dairyman at least $5 a month on the basis of one cow to an acre, Eudaly says. With the grazing period varying from two to four months according to locality, he believes this return justifies dairymen in providing small grain pastures, regardless of the hazard of killing frost in December or January.

In addition to the pasture, an average Jersey needs about 20 pounds of dry matter in roughage daily. She obtains about 15 pounds from pasture and the remainder must be supplied by hay or other dry roughage. Along with pasture and hay, cows will need some concentrates of grain mixture. A mixture of 450 pounds of ground ear corn or grain sorghum heads and 100 pounds of 43 per cent protein cottonseed, or peanut, meal would analyze 14 per cent protein content, which is sufficient. One half of the ground ear corn or grain sorghum heads could be replaced with ground barley if the latter is available and cheaper than the corn or sorghum heads.

Cows should be given three pounds of the mixture daily for each gallon of milk produced. Eudaly cautions that dairy cows not on pasture will need four pounds of the mixture daily for each gallon of milk. The mixture would have to be higher in protein, meaning that more cottonseed, or peanut, meal, would have to be used.

Conserve the Hard Fiber Products

Shortage of hard fibers, the raw material of cordage and twine, is the source of another wartime problem for American consumers.

Farmers are among the major users of this product, especially during the harvesting seasons when large quantities are absorbed in the form of binder twine. Although twine is a preferred product it must share the supply of raw material, which has been reduced substantially from normal because imports from the Far East have been cut off, with the increased demand for rope and cordage by the navy and armed forces. Filling this demand also is in the "must" classification.

In order to meet the needs of as many consumers of hard fiber products as possible, M. R. Bentley, agricultural engineer of the A. and M. College Extension Service, suggests that farmers should endeavor to economize their use of twine. Where feasible, saving could be made by increasing the size of bundles. To do this successfully the binder should be adjusted to prevent breakage of the twine and loose bundles.

For example, Bentley points out, if an average of two inches of twine could be saved on each bundle of grain cut in this country, it would result in the saving of an estimated ten million pounds of fiber yearly, and release quantities to other necessary purposes. It would also represent a money saving to users of twine.

Word was received this week by Kyle Graves that his sister, Mrs. R. L. McCain has a new daughter, Ann, born Nov. 3. Mr. and Mrs. McCain, who have visited here several times, are now living in Ingleside, Texas.
