mander-in-chief of Pacific Fleet Units; Lt. Gen. Delos C. Emmons, head of Hawaiian Army forces; Maj. Gen. Willis H. Hale, Air Force Commander in the mid-Pacific; and Brig. Gen. Robert L. Douglas and Brig. Gen. Howard K. Ramey of the Army Air Forces.

S/Sgt. Hardin was a member of a bomber crew that raided Japanese held Wake Island December 24, 1942. Because American planes crossed the International Date Line in attacking Wake, they got back from the raid a day before they made it. They were over Wake on Dec. 24th (Wake Time) but landed back at their home base, Dec. 23rd, (Hawaiian Time).

An undisclosed number of four-motored bombers made up the striking force, which dumped 76,000 pounds of high explosive and incendiary bombs on Wake. The raid was led by Col. Wm. A. Matheny.

Boys Leave For Induction Center

We All Make Mistakes Or Do We?

Received a letter this week from Fred Nicholson, Co. 43-50, U. S. N. T. S. San Diego, correcting a mistake in the society page, of a dinner given by Mrs. James Hankins honoring her son James who was leaving for army service. Other boys named were Alf Baumgardner, Sonny Walls.

Instead of the army, James Hankins and Alf Baumgardner went to Naval Flight Preparatory school at Austin, Texas, Fred Nicholson and Sonny Walls to U. S. Naval Training station at San Diego, Calif.

We are glad to make this correction, we got the item from one of the mothers and she didn't know at the time, just what branch of service they were enlisting in. On several occasions we have been misinformed, unintentionally, by friends of boys who were in service, that so and so, were home on furlough they were sure, as so and so heard some one say so—these leads some times were false and other times true, so if we err its not intentional, we only wish all our boys could be home.

We want to print news of all our boys from camps or overseas so help us keep the record straight, and we love to talk first hand with our service men, so if you are in town call around. Some of the boys write their parents they keep posted where their friends are through reading the columns of the Herald.

Both these boys want to hear from their friends, give them a shower of letters. Fred Nicholson, A/S Co., 43-50 and Richard (Sonny) Browning Walls A/S Co., 43-50, U.S.N.T.S. San Diego, Calif.

Mrs. Ralph Carter entertained the Fidelis Matrons class of the Baptist church Thursday of last week.

Wolf Control Association Formed

County Judges and Commissioners from Dawson, Gaines, Lynn, Terry and Yoakum Counties met here Monday for the purpose of organizing an association for the control of wolves. This organization was named the South Plains Wolf Bounty Association. Besides the above named counties, the association hopes to include eleven other counties in this area.

Judge C. L. Lincoln, County Judge of Terry County, was named President and Bill Settle, Commissioner of Precinct No. 1, was named Secretary. Both of the above men are serving in a temporary capacity. Permanent officers will be named at a later date. County Judges present were placed on the Board of Directors.

A marked increase in the numbers of wolves over the entire South Plains area has reported, and in order to get a rough estimate of the number of wolves in the county, Judge Lincoln asks that people in this county send him a card reporting the number of wolves seen in their neighbor. It's the aim of the association to establish a uniform bounty in all counties. At present, Terry County is paying a bounty of $1.00 each for pups or grown wolves.

While it is now impossible to secure ammunition for sporting purposes, Judge Lincoln said that ammunition was available to farmers, stockmen and others for the purpose of pest eradication and control.

Besides the commissioners and judges, others present were: Dick McDuffie, president of the Terry County Board of Development; Dennis Lilly, U.S.D.A.; A. L. Hartzog, County Agent, and Wood E. Johnson, former director of the Board of Development.

Jeep Convoy Stops In Brownfield

Some excitement was created in Brownfield Monday when 36 jeeps, 3 ambulances, and 3 army trucks stopped on the north side of the square long enough to allow the soldiers to eat lunch. The vehicles were being driven from the Army Depot in Arlington Texas to Alamogordo, New Mexico. Evidently it must be pretty cold riding in a jeep as the soldiers were dressed in fur lined jackets, pants and over shoes.

Lubbock Chamber Of Commerce Wants Your Scrap Metal

Lubbock, March, (Special)—Resident of the South Plains still may pitch in to help save someone's boy.

"Tons of scrap metal continues to rust away on farms of the surrounding area only because the owners have no way of getting the material to town," Lieut. Col. Fredrick W. Franke, quartermaster officer at South Plains Army Flying School said this week in renewing a plea that the vital metal be collected.

During the next three weeks, the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce will make a concerted drive in this county to gather the remnants still left on farms and other places.

At the same time the Army will pick up scrap metal in the nearby surrounding area provided a full load can be collected on one run to any certain community or farm. Any person or group of persons who have such metal are urged to write or call. Franke at SPAFS. The only stipulation is that the metal be donated to the Army so that it may be shipped as speedily as possible to a factory.

"This is your opportunity to do 'something extra' for those boys in Tunisia," Lieut. Col. Franke added.

Family Represent Independence Day Of Texas, U. S. A.

Last Tuesday March 2nd a little lady was born to Mr. and Mrs. Herman Heath, as reported in these columns last week. That happened to also be the 107th birthday of Texas.

Their little son, Robert too, was born on the first Tuesday of March, but that year it happened to be the 5th day.

To head it all Herman, local manager of the West Texas Gas Co., was born on July 4th, Uncle Sam's birthday. Of course, Mrs. Heath being a lady, we did not quiz about her birthday, or when it comes around.

Hospital Supplies Needed For Soldiers Sailors And Marines

A few months ago we had a call for material to be donated for our fast growing hospitals to take care of our armed forces—the response was good, but we don't have near enough material to fill our quota of these things that are asked to be donated other than that bought through regular channels of the Red Cross.

We need yards and yards of unbleached domestic, solid color prints, whit or pastel shades of outing flannel, bright colored satteen and white twill. Mrs.

WHY NOT VICTORY GARDENS INSTEAD OF WEEDS ON VACANT LOTS?

There are literally hundreds of vacant lots in Brownfield that for years have produced nothing better than a rank growth of weeds. These weeds have proven to be of no better benefit to the town than something unsightly, a fire hazard after frost, and a source of hay fever to those subject to this disease.

For years these vacant lots, sometimes quarter, half and whole blocks have benefited in the way of fertility from the nitrogen, etc., from these rotting weeds. These vacant spaces are as fertile as the Nile valley. They can and should be used to produce food instead of weeds.

Cooperative Victory Garden
So, why not put these lots to a useful purpose? Why not food instead of weeds? Say for instance there is a block with some four or five residences, will say covering some 8 of the 12 lots. That leaves four vacant lots to grow weeds.

We can see nothing whatever to hinder the five residents to co-operatively farm that vacant lot or lots, or if one or more with extra time on their hands, from all of them. There are men with teams and plows in town to hire to break the land.

Will the Owners Object? As far as we know, there are darn few vacant lot owners that would not a great deal rather see some "Food For Freedom" growing in a Victory Garden on his lots than weeds. If he prefers weeds at this stage of the game, you can safely class him as a friend of Hitler, Hirohito or Mussolino. He is no friend of America.

What will such lots produce?
Most anything in the way of foods generally grow here. This includes tomatoes, turnips, squash, radishes, pumpkins and etc., some of these may have to include a bit of irrigation if it can be arranged, otherwise, blackeyed peas, red or speckled beans may be grown without irrigation most any year.

The neighbors can arrange to plantplot the lots off individually

Motor Carriers May Be Forced To Rent Vehicles

Common or contract motor carries may be required to lease or rent their vehicles to private carries if the office of Defense Transportation should deem it advisable or necessary to the prosecution of the war or to the maintenance of essential civilian economy or in the public interest. An amendment to General Order No. 21 today increased ODT's power to order control over commercial motor vehicles transferred from one carrier to another.

The amendment was issued to enable ODT to arrange for fuller utilization of existing trucks and other commercial motor vehicles, Richard E. Wood, District Manager, ODT division of Motor Transport, explained. The order as originally written specifically exempted for-hire carriers from being required by ODT to lease or rent their vehicles to persons not engaged in transporting property for compensation.

As in the original order, the amendment provides that unless the interested carriers agree upon the amount of compensation to be paid for the use of any vehicle leased or rented to another carrier at ODT's direction, the amount will be fixed by the ODT.

Gore's home economics class are making these articles for the Red Cross and we must have our quota in by July, 1st.

Buy your material and leave it at the Herald office, or with Mrs. Eldora A. White at the court house or take it to the Red Cross sewing room in east end of old Legion building. Donations of money for this project will be accepted.

Mrs. Eldora A. White, Chairman of War Production, Terry-Yoakum American Red Cross.

Nation Must Produce Food
Never before in the history of our nation has production of food meant what it does today, and our Uncle Sam is urging all to produce to capacity. The motto is, "Produce enough food for your family and at least two soldiers." It should be almost a disgrace to let weeds grow where food should grow this year.

Application For Priority Assistance May Be Filed March 15

Another long step in the decentralization of War Production Board activities has been effected with an order that after March 1 applications for priority assistance may be filed with the nearest WPB district office. In addition, beginning March 15, the regional WPB office is authorized to assign preference ratings on approved applications for materials valued at $100 or less.

R. Eugene Risser, regional WPB director, in making the announcement, said today that the preliminary value limitation of $100 would be progressively stepped up as the field offices assume greater responsibilities. He added that within six weeks more than 80 per cent of all PD-1A applications probably will be handled entirely within the region.

In the meantime, applications of more than $100 will be referred to Washington. Under another order, effective March 8, the regional WPB office may authorize construction under conservation order L-41, and assign preference ratings to approved building operations costing less than $10,000. Applications for authority to begin construction under this procedure are to be filed with the nearest WPB office.

District WPB offices are located in Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, El Paso, Tulsa, Oklahoma City, Shreveport and New Orleans.

Have Your Ration Books Handy

If you want quicker service at your grocer—help the checker, by having your ration books on the groceries, or in your hand, when you are ready to check. A good checker can have your groceries checked and ready to go, before you can find your books among the many other things a woman carries in her purse.

One leading merchant stated that the four or five minutes you are looking for ration book multiplied by their many, many customers, takes up a lot of time in a days run of business, thereby holding up efficiency—that you should, if possible, if you live in town, do your shopping early in the week, by so doing, customers who live in the rural districts and can't get to town as often as you many don't come in only on Saturday, let Saturday be their day as far as possible. By doing this, you not only help yourself by having more room and time to select your groceries, but help the farmer to get home earlier to do his many chores before dark. Please co-operate with your grocer and help the war effort.

Non-Highway Gasoline

By Looie Miller

Under the new order which became effective March 1, all applications whether on a new or renewal basis, will be referred to the county farm transportation committee for analysis and recommendation.

Later, applications for tractor fuel oils in those cases where the ration board feels adjustment is required also will be referred to the farm transportation committee for recommendation. The Terry County transportation committee is composed of: Pearce Warren, Meadow, chairman; K. W. Howell, Brownfield; J. R. Garrison, Route 1, Seagraves; Howard Swan, Brownfield, and John Chisholm, Brownfield.

The County transportation committees are being asked to examine the 1943 farm plan sheet of the producer, and recommend the probable amount of gasoline required to meet the needs of the farm operator for the six months' period of the ration, and make recommendations to the county transportation board as to the amount needed.

Excessive as well as inadequate rations are equally undesirable and county transportation committees will not hesitate to ask the community transportation leader or the county to check for them the equipment and the needs of the applicant so says the chairman of the transportation committee.

So far the community committees have only been able to get about seventy-five percent of the farm plan sheets in the county signed up by the farm operators. If you are one of those who have not signed your farm plan sheet, your farm transportation committee as well as the USDA War Board will not be in a position to intelligently determine the needs on your farm therefore you will have no one except yourself to blame if you have not given them the proper information they want for carrying on under wartime conditions.

Remember this is your war as well as those who are fighting at the front and those who are assisting in the home front. Therefore it is your duty to assist in every way possible to make the burden of those who are responsible for administering the different Ration program, by helping all you can.

Mr. Pearce Warren, chairman of the USDA War Board made the statement this week that apparently more responsibility is being placed upon the farmers and the citizens of the county in rationing of all commodities. It will therefore be the responsibility of each citizen of Terry county to assist those who are handling these program in every way possible, because most of those who are working on the rationing boards are doing it without any compensation whatever and they are sacrificing their own business to assist you as citizens and neighbors. Therefore, before criticizing, put yourself in the place of the man who is trying to help. If you think you can do a better job let it be known and we are sure you can get a job.

Log Of The U. S. Marines

Private Harold Mullane, 17-year-old Leatherneck of Camp Lejeune, New River, N. C., today is richer by considerably more than $3,000 because his mother was unable to state how many King Henrys England has had.

Private Mullane's mother, Mrs. Dennis Mullane of Staten Island, appeared as a contestant on a nation-wide quiz program in New York City and was unable to answer the question correctly.

Ralph Edwards, the quizmaster, asked that each person listening to the program send a penny to buy war bonds for her son. The idea was to aid the government's copper drive and at the same time help one of Uncle Sam's fighting men.

Postoffice Is Jammed
The first day brought 20,000 letters, each with one or more pennies. By the third day the Staten Island postoffice couldn't handle the mail and the Mullane home was jammed with letters from every part of the nation. At the end of the week no fewer than 204,000 letters brought more than 300,000 pennies.

While the program was being broadcast, Pvt. Mullane was shining his shoes in the barracks. A buddy came in and shouted, "Hey, Mullane, your mother's on the air!"

Private Mullane reports he went over and listened to the program. "I couldn't quite figure out what it was all about," he said, "but I figured maybe I'd get $10 out of the deal."

VISIT NEW YORK
Two days later his mother called by long distance and explained what was happening. Within a few hours he was notified by his commanding officer that he had been granted a three-day furlough to go to New York to accept the money.

In New York, Private Mullane looked at his copper wealth and announced that every fifth penny would be used to purchase sports equipment at his camp. The rest went into war bonds.

Private Mullane enlisted in the Marine Corps last August.

Encouraging The Planting Of Victory Gardens

LUBBOCK, March—Encouraging the planting of victory gardens and farms, the Office of Price Administration has made provisions for purchase of rationed beans and peas for planting through use of a certificate from the County War Price and Rationing Board, district OPA officials said.

Certificates for quantities needed for planting are to be presented to grocers and seed merchants. They will be good for the specified number of points at the rationed rate of eight points per pound, thus saving points coupons in ration book two for food purchases.

The provision for use of certificates was made in a new regulation replacing temporary arrangement under which purchases could obtain beans or peas for planting by stating to the grocer or seed merchant they were being purchased for that purpose. The merchant will use the seed certificate to replenish his stocks, just as he uses points coupons from ration book two.

Point values of beans and peas are: up to 2 ounces, 1 point; over 2 and up to 4 ounces, 2 points; over 4 and up to 6 ounces, 3 points; over 6 and up to 8 ounces, 4 points; over 8 and up to 10 ounces, 5 points; over 10 and up to 14 ounces, 7 points, and over 14 and up to 16 ounces, 8 points.

District OPA officials have encouraged West Texans to plant victory gardens and farms in order to increase the food supply.

Arthur Green was a caller at the Herald office Saturday and had us add the name of Elder W. S. Boyett of Twin Falls, Idaho, to our list. Elder Boyett is a former minister of the Church of Christ at this place.

Food Allotments For Hotels and Cafe's

LUBBOCK, March. — Restaurants, hotels and other eating establishments which are registering with war price and rationing boards throughout West Texas this week are rationed on a basis designed to restrict consumption by their patrons on approximately the same basis that the individual is restricted in his meals at home, Lubbock district OPA officials reminded today.

Allotments of processed foods to the eating establishments will be based on a maximum allowance of six-tenths of a ration point for each person served during December of 1942. The first ration period for the institutional users will cover March and April rather than the single month of March, as in the case of home consumers.

Old He Hears And See's Much While Recovering

It is darn strange that a mere breaking of the skin on the bottom of your hoof can put you in a hospital with "infection." But this all seems to happen after one gets old. Of course as a boy back in old Tennessee, we had our stone-bruises that were really painful, but a good sharp razor in the hand of a relative, used as a lance, could work wonders on said bruises, when it became "ripe," with poultices of fat bacon. Yep, we actually wasted bacon on sore feet. Then there were briar scratches, yellow-jacket, hornet and other pains to be endured while growing up, but by the time mid-summer arrived, our old feet were generally so tough that we could stomp a chestnut bur, and unless you've had some experience in preparing such burs for the extraction of the nuts therein, will just explain that such a barefoot procedure was the next thing to stomping a porcupine. Of course in barefoot boys never pretended to be so tough that we struck matches on our cheeks, as per western movies, but we were pretty tough.

By fall our feet were so tough, rusty and dirty that it was hard to distinguish the difference in white and colored children feet, but a few weeks or a month when cold weather came on, and after you put on your brogans or brass-toed boots, your feet began to bleach and assume a natural color.

But enough of this space filling stuff. You see the old He, who usually shoots most of the bull for this sheet, is still expected to help out all he can from the sidelines. But all we know is what we see and hear in the "hospital" corridors. Being as such, we are predicting another war some 29 years hence, There was twin boys born Sunday night, and we have it that another son was born Monday night, with another arrival expected some time during the day. It may however be a lady that just failed to have her make-up ready when Dr. Stork took off on his first trip. It was a girl, but had a different mother and dad from the boy.

Mexicans and other Spanish speaking people seem to grunt, cry and laugh in the universal language, but we have an idea that they are way behind the English speaking people in the profus and technical use of cuss words. Just why they are no more highly developed in profanity remains a mystery. They must be at least a century behind English speaking people in that line, much perhaps to their credit. But as to grunting our Mexican extract citizen can hold their own with the best of us.

Many times we had heard Mexican babies cry; we had heard all from childhood to old age laugh, and sounded just like other language laughs. Even their dogs bark in English, but we imagine "here pup" on a Mexican raised dog would get little attention from the brute. As to grunting, we had a fine case of it Monday night.

A Mexican of Meador vicinity had been caught in a threshing or crusher belt. His arm had been broken in two places, an ear had been almost jerked off. Before carrying him to the operating room, he was carried to the X-ray room to be photographed. That was near our room, and we heard the grunts of the badly hurt victim—not like we grunt—sometimes when not hurting; just a kind of hog grunt of satisfaction, we have heard people grunt while eating a satisfactory meal.

There is a vast difference in an old fashion hog grunt and a grunt caused by intense pain. A lot of friends have called to cheer us up, among them being Homer Winston, who is still mad at his service station and grocery. He almost threatened to close them out and devote all his time and talent to farming, the only thing that really made him money last year.

There were many other callers to see us and others, Brownfield people in general believe visiting the sick and afflicted. This makes a guy that is a bit negligent in visiting sick folks feel a bit small, when put on the reverse end of the deal.

Boy didn't we kill a lot of good space that might have been something helpful to the community. But it is not too late to make your contribution to Red Cross.

Suggestion For "A" "B" And "C" Card Holders Service

Which service items should be given special attention by the holder of an "A" gasoline ration card to assure enduring economical operation of his car in wartime?

Which items are of uppermost importance to the "B" and "C" card holders? Prompted by a noticeable tendency among car owners, particularly "A" card holders, to neglect proper servicing of their vehicles because of reduced use under gas rationing conditions, Ed Hedner, national director of service for Chevrolet, offers timely advice to all three classes of drivers.

"A" card holders, he points out, are most likely to feel that their cars need little or no service attention because they are used so little. This, he says, is a serious mistake because infrequent operation, at low speeds, in many instances, can be more harmful to vital units than regular operation at normal speeds. Cited as an example is the fact that when a car is driven at restricted speed, the engine does not generate sufficient heat to evaporate water in gases produced by burning of the fuel, nor is it removed by crankcase ventilation, and, therefore, the crankcase may have to be drained more often than normally.

"A" card holders are advised to follow faithfully service procedures outlined in their instruction books on spark plugs, distributor, timing, fuel filter, crankcase lubrication, battery, hose connections, thermostats, anti-freeze, steering, and windshield wipers. Batteries should be watched closely, it is explained, because limited driving may prevent charging the battery sufficiently to replace the "juice" used by the starter, lights, heater or radio.

Items to be given special attention by "B" and "C" card holders are listed as follows: spark plugs, carburetor, air filter, fuel pump, oil pump, crankcase lubrication, generator, battery, ignition and battery cables, fan belt, hose connections, steering, wheel alignment, camber and wheel bearings, brakes, clutch, chassis lubrication, body, finders and tires.

All owners are reminded that tire conservation is the primary purpose of gas rationing and they are advised to make sure that their tires are kept properly inflated, and that all cars, not permanently stored and raised up on jacks, should be operated regularly to prevent excessive tire deterioration. Rotation of tires every 4,000 to 5,000 miles, according to a standardized, approved plan, is also recommended.

Regular "Monthly Motor Car Maintenance" check-ups on all important mechanical units on a calendar rather than a mileage basis is suggested as the surest way of keeping motor vehicles in essential operation for the duration of the war.

Santa Fe Employees To Use Railroad Right-Of-Way For Gardens

Use of Santa Fe Railways lands along the company right-of-way for employee Victory gardens was offered today by E. J. Engel, president, as an aid to the nationwide gardening plan to aid in food production.

Use of such lands was restricted to employees through necessity of protecting property in accordance with war-time regulations.

"We are happy to cooperate with the Victory garden program which is encouraged by the government," Engel said. Some employees may not have suitable space for home gardens. Use of property along the right-of-way, wherever practical, will solve this problem, for many.

With military and other war conditions cutting deep into the available supply of fresh and canned fruits and vegetables for civilian consumption, the Victory Garden seems to be the only answer. We hope employees take advantage of this offer as part of this patriotic program.

Survey of Santa Fe personnel indicates that thousands have started home gardens. As a cooperative measure, also in line with the proposed offer of land for garden use, the current issue of the Santa Fe magazine contains a detailed section devoted to home gardening.

Baptist Church News

The series of services conducted in this church by Rev. A. B. Maehlen came to a close Sunday evening. He represents a Board of Missions to Jewish people and a good many people here who believe in mission to all people everywhere, subscribed to assist his mission work. The Jews as a people rejected Christ and also the New Testament which is a record of the fulfillment of Old Testament prophecies but this Jewish preacher became convinced that the Jews had rejected the Son of God because of phophesies that his life and death fulfilled and the fulfillment of prophesy made hundreds of years before, and is to day enough to convince honest seekers after the truth.

If the Jews reject and refuse the light they now have after hearing the Gospel preached they will be lost exactly as any other people and the coming of Christ again will not be for the purpose of convincing them that they have been in error for twenty centuries.

We should now place greater emphasis upon our attendance in Bible study period as we have not reached 300 in actual attendance during the present year and Spring months are better months for many who walk to church to attend as people with cars and gasoline can always come and are without excuse. Our goal in attendance should not be under 500 as we have the people and should teach them the Word of God.

When our men return from the war we want them to find the church making progress and offer them places of service in every department of our work.

We especially invite parents to bring their children to the teaching service Sunday morning at ten o'clock sharp as we have classes and teachers for all ages, and the service closes at 12 o'clock.

New Cars To Be Released

LUBBOCK, March — Hundreds of West Texas automobile dealers who have held new cars in storage pending their release for rationing will be eligible to sell the cars under an order becoming effective March 6.

Lubbock district OPA officials said the entire stock of unsold new cars will be available for rationing, including those in the "government pool" which, at the time rationing began, were set aside for release after the first year.

One of the provisions of the rewritten and simplified automobile ration order broadens the list of persons eligible for any new car to include anyone whose present car is no longer serviceable and who comes under the preferred mileage group in mileage rationing regulations—such as essential war workers and physicians—regardless of the number of miles each needs to drive.

Even an eligible person is required to show need to buy a 1942 car, OPA officials said. "In deciding whether an applicant needs an automobile, the local war price and rationing board will consider first whether or not he has a car that is adequate for his purpose. Unless the facts show otherwise, the board may decide that a 1939 or older car is not serviceable. It also may decide that any car driven over 40,000 miles, regardless of its age, is inadequate. If the applicant is found not to have a serviceable car, the board then will judge his need on the basis of distance he must travel in his eligible activity, the adequacy of public transportation, the amount of time he could save by using a car, and other relevant factors."

The new order also will liberalize rules governing granting of convertibles, 1941 models driven less than 1,000 miles and cars in the high price brackets.

The changes, OPA officials said, "are consistent with automobile conservation aims, since the mileage rationing program has recently introduced strict controls over the use of cars after they go into consumers' hands."

Volunteer For WAVES SPARS And Marine Corps Wanted

Never in history have American women been offered such a chance to serve their country as they may now do as a member of the WAVES, SPARS or Marine Corps Women's Reserve. Frank Knox, secretary of the Navy has pointed out. This is total war—a war in which every woman, as well as every man must play a part, Knox added.

The men in the Navy, Coast Guard and Marines are in for one reason alone—to fight! They're in to man the ships, fly the planes, smash the Nazis and the Japs.

But to keep them fighting, there are important service jobs that must be carried on at home, man-size, full-time jobs which the woman of America can fill—jobs which if filled by women will release the men to fight.

These three women's reserve groups are organizations whose jobs it is to replace sailors, coast guardsmen and Marines in office jobs. As members of each of these groups, these women will wear the same uniforms and win the same ratings, as well as earn the

A Canning Demonstration At Sears Farm Today

According to Cam Sears, who lives on his farm 2 miles northwest of the city, a canning demonstration is to be held at his farm, Friday, one of Mr. Sears' shorthorn yearling steers, weighing about 400 pounds dressed, will be processed under the direction of Miss Dorothy Faye Blanton, home demonstrator.

Mr. Sears stated that this steer yearling was in prime condition, and that many H. D. Ladies from various sections of Terry county would be on hand with their pressure cookers. The steer will be killed and chilled at the locker plant, Thursday.

If interested you are cordially invited to attend the demonstration, all day or any part of the day. With scarcity of meat growing, many farmers will no doubt process much meat on their farms, in the future.

Methodist Church

Because several of our members could not be present last Sunday, we are continuing our week of dedication. If you did not make your offering last Sunday, please do so next Sunday. If you cannot be present, please send your offering. Friends, let each of us pray that God may lead us in this critical hour. It is true that prayer alone will not win this war. It will take shot and shell and blood. It is also true that unless we pray, the shot and shell and blood will be spent in vain. It seems to me, that if we who are at home fail to pray and try desperately, by the help of God, to live a true Christian life, we are untrue to our boys in service, untrue to the generations to come. This is no time to fuss. It is time to work with one another and with God to help to make this a better world. So again let me urge that each of us make a desperate effort to live better than we ever have.

H. W. Hanks, Pastor.

Those children who paid for an individual tree took part, under the direction of Mrs. Lee Fulton. The trees were planted around the back of the school and the playground equipment. Each child put the dirt in the hole around his own tree.

Assisting in the ceremony were Mr. John King and Mrs. Leo Holmes. Mr. Holmes took pictures of the children as they planted their tree. The Fourth Grade gave the planting around the tree that the P.T.A. gave in the center front bed.

A Tablespoon Will Help

COLLEGE STATION, March — If every American rural family saved one tablespoon of fat a day, more than half a million pounds would be available for the making of glycerin, a badly needed war material, Mildred Horton of the A. and M. College Extension Service said in a recent radio talk addressed to farm homemakers of the state. Miss Horton is a member of the Texas Salvage Committee.

Miss Horton calls attention to a Washington report that unless homemakers can swell current fat collections, a further cut will be necessary in civilian uses of glycerin. At present glycerin is being used in the manufacture of cellophane, leather and textiles, paste, drugs and pharmaceuticals, and other articles for civilian use. Approximately 85 per cent of the current glycerin output is going into war production and the remaining 15 per cent of the current glycerin output is going into essential civilian uses.

Kitchen fats have their place in the war program, first as food and second as a source of glycerin, Miss Horton says. It is common sense for homemakers to use drippings or other fat for seasoning as long as it is edible, and those who have more than they need can share it with their neighbors. That is economical as well as neighborly, she explains. Then when fat ceases to be good food, it should be strained into a clean, wide-mouthed, one-pound can, and kept in a cool place. It can be sold to most butchers at four cents per pound.

Only five pounds of salvaged fat are required in the manufacture of one pound of nitroglycerin, Miss Horton says.

JUNIOR MAIDS AND MATRONS

The Junior Maids and Matrons met in the home of Mrs. Mike Barrett, Tuesday afternoon. The program topic was "The American Front". Mrs. Jack Hamilton was program director.

We met him the other day going home wagging a box of baby chicks and remarked, we had always noticed when a man got to a certain age, he wanted to raise chickens. He said now, with these essential chickens and essential garden, he was fixing to get Jim out of the army, but we bet his real reason for the chickens, is his neighbors are planting gardens, and he'll save feed.

Labor In Texas

Representatives or organized labor staged an impressive demonstration in the Governor's office Thursday, when they signed an agreement outlawing strikes, slowdowns, lockouts or other work stoppage for the duration of the war. The Governor added his signature as a representative of government, and industry will accept him as its "proxy."

The pledge affirms the stand already taken by Texas' labor, which Governor Stevenson attested. The working man in this State has nothing to be ashamed of in his war record since Pearl Harbor, for Texas has been marked by freedom of strikes and other work interruptions. Nor has management resorted to lockouts in the same period.

Dorothy Thompson, in her column, reported recently that at least 1,800,000 men in the armed forces are from the ranks of organized labor. In these circumstances, obstruction of the war program is logically not to be expected from labor, certainly not in Texas, which is that portion of the country most familiar to all of us.

Labor unions in Texas are always among the first to support worthy causes on the home front, such as the Red Cross, War Chest and War Bond campaigns. Labor's war record is the surety for the pledge signed in Austin—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Babson Discusses Synthetic Foods

Better living will come through Chemistry En Route on train: — March 5. I have been in Florida for a few weeks. I saw men busy cutting down and uprooting 100-year-old pine trees to plow the land to set out orange trees. These twigs they must cultivate, spray, prune and fertilize for seven years before getting a crop. New groves are being set out without any thought of what will become of them when no more fertilizers can be purchased.

Those who now have old trees are patiently picking the fruit and using good gasoline to haul it to new Concentrate Plants which the Government has just built. Here the juice — amounting to a half glass per orange — is squeezed out and then boiled down to about 1/7th its former bulk. This is shipped to our soldiers in Africa at great risk. We Can Learn From Germans

In the meantime the Germans may be using the same sunshine, water, air and minerals to make, synthetically, a similar concentrate which tastes just as good and more vitamins without bothering with planting trees! Consider also that Henry Wallace talks about giving a quart of cow's milk to every Hotteritot; while Henry Ford says "that synthetic milk is healthier than cow's milk! So it goes.

Yet, look through the graduate list of any Agricultural College and you find that not more than 20% are "honest dirt farmers; while look through the graduates list of any Engineering College and you'll find that 80% are now following their professions. Something is wrong! When I was a boy working on a farm in Massachusetts, I had never heard of fertilizers that came in bags. The only kind that I knew came from horses, mules and cows. Yet the land adjoining that farmhouse has been planted continually for over 100 years and today is raising big crops.

Old-Fashioned Farming Commended

My grandfather, who owned the farm, never saw the inside of an agricultural college. The farm consisted of only a few acres, plus wild pasture and woodlots. On it he raised seven able children and died at 76 without owing a penny but leaving a good estate in Government and other bonds. Moreover, he never received any Government aid nor advice from agents. I believe we must either go back to nature's method of farming or else use more synthetic foods.

Today, too many of our fruit growers and farmers have switched from live stock to tractors and trucks. Instead of raising their "power" in the form of hay and oats, they buy it as gasoline. They buy nitrates, potash and phosphorous instead of getting these in natural manure the same as God intended them to do. I am not appealing either for synthetic food or for self-perpetuating and self-contained farms; but I ask if we should not aim for one or the other.

National Ruin Possible

God intended that most of us should live on the land, and all should spend some time working the land. The cycle was to raise the food for both man and beast from sunshine, water, air and the minerals of the ground. Then these minerals would return back to the land in a natural way; while all of us would do some work with our hands. (Read I. Thessalonians 4: 11.)

Today we are not buying the minerals in bags, but are shipping our foods which contain these minerals to cities. Then when the food is eaten, the refuse containing these precious minerals goes down the sewers for the fish to use in making vitamins! This destruction is addition to the corrosion of the soil due to mechanical farming and destroying forests. This policy continued will ultimately ruin our nation.

Beware of Politicians

We shall win War II; but shall we win the peace afterwards? This winning of the peace will require something more than disarming Germany and Japan or policing the world. It may require a complete revamping of our own form of Government and the elimination of farm blocs, labor blocs, employer blocs and other selfish groups. Engineers should take the Government positions now held by lawyers.

UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS MEDICAL SCHOOL AND JOHN SEALY HOSPITAL OPEN TO INDIGENT AND PART-PAY PATIENTS

Austin, Texas, March — A new step in expanding the program of the University of Texas Medical Branch to meet the needs of all the people of the state has been taken with approval by the University Regents to admit indigent and part-pay patients to the clinic of the Medical School and the John Sealy Hospital in Galveston.

"This plan will not only aid in care of the indigent sick," Dr. Dr. Chauncey D. Leake, vice president and dean of the Medical Branch, explained, "but will also afford diagnostic service to the physicians of the state, especially in difficult cases, and will provide additional clinical material for the faculty and students of the school."

The Regents approved a letter to be sent to physicians of the joy to most people. Hence, no over-all radical or sudden change is to take place. We can, however, expect four development of our food program.

Four Coming Changes

(1) We will be more careful about our diet in order to increase our efficiency and decrease our doctors bills. For most of us this will mean eating less, — and reducing our consumption of sweets, starches and proteins. (2) Farmers will enrich their soil and seeds by needed minerals as well as by fertilizers. (3) Housewives will use more concentrates and vitalize their foods with the electric waves and chemicals, such as those of the amino group. (4) The Secretary of Agriculture will be a chemist instead of a farmer.

People in cities will continue to be fed from great private and co-operative farms will become larger, operating both in the North and the South moving their help and machinery back and forth as the birds fly. I now see little hope for the small farmer whose farm is his only source of income. He needs a trade or

State, officers of county medical societies, county judges and relief agencies, outlining the new service. Patients, who must be residents of Texas, must be referred to the clinic by a licensed physician of Texas. They will be admitted on the basis of need of hospitalization, suitability for teaching, and availability of beds.

Chemistry Is Our Home

When, however, chemists operate the Department of Agriculture, I see a bright future for the families who are combining a small subsistence farm with some trade or profession. Each year it will be easier and cheaper for them to raise what they need to feed their families. Only as large cities in number will America be better, safer and happier.

Our standard of living will be raised by the scientists in laboratories rather than by the politicians in Congress. What has been accomplished in connection with hybrid corn, can be repeated and extended with sugar beets, soybeans, potatoes and tomatoes. The combining of careful breeding and scientific soil mineralization has boundless possibilities. Added to the above are the rearrangement of the atoms. The field of fermentation also offers huge opportunities. It is very possible that — within a few years — a family may, with little effort, raise its own food and eat better food than can now be bought.

AAA's Crop Claim Doubted

LUBBOCK, March 8. — A. B. Conner, director of the A. & M. College experiment station at College Station, took issue Monday with George Slaughter, AAA state committee chairman, about reports that Texas farmers can produce more protein feeds and oil an acre with peanuts and soybeans than they can with cotton.

"If we can put any reliance in 30 years of tests of soybeans on the different experiment stations in the State, supported by the experience of farmers," Conner wrote, "the soybean has a very limited adaptation in Texas."

Conner said, "The peanut is decidedly more limited in its adaptation to soil for the production of protein meal and oil than is cotton. It is adapted to sandier soils and not to the heavy clay soils, of which latter there are many millions of acres in Texas."

Conner said Slaughter's statements relating to comparisons of soybeans and peanuts with cotton "are misleading," and added that if farmers of Texas follow Slaughter's recommendations, they will be headed for "individual losses and losses to the whole war effort."

The AAA reports which Conner referred to in his letter to Slaughter said soybeans will produce 457 pounds of meal an acre in Texas, and peanuts 203 pounds of meal an acre, while cotton will produce only 153 pounds of meal an acre. Conner said this erroneously infers that "these three crops are equally well adapted to the several different regions of Texas, which is not the case."

"Your estimate of 457 pounds of soybean meal per acre must have been based on the yields from a few of these best fields and not of the behavior of the crop over the State as a whole," Conner said.

Conner said the farmers are being misled by the reports, which also included reference to oats, corn and milo as protein feeds, "when as a matter of fact, these grains are notably carbohydrate feeds and it is generally recognized that they have to be supplemented by additional protein to make them a balanced ration. In other words, no matter how much corn or milo a farmer may have, he must supplement it with protein to feed it economically. Therefore, the implications in this reference can serve no purpose as

Fort Worth Leaders Urge More Food Crops This Year

Tarrant County and Fort Worth Civic Leaders thoroughly alarmed at prospects of a food and feed shortage in the Fort Worth trade territory for the ensuing year will back a program to encourage the full planting of idle farm lands which may run into thousands of acres as farmers go into the planting season, handicapped by scarcity of farm labor for planting, cultivating and harvesting the year's crop.

Farmers will be urged to plant feed stuffs in the usual amount at the usual time regardless of possible difficulties in harvesting, as the program calls for the organization of business men and school child labor to assist in both harvesting and cultivating. Promoters of the plan agree that such labor may fall short in quality or regular farm labor, but believe that the average farmer with sons and others in the Army will realize the gravity of the situation and supervise such labor to the best advantage. Additional garden acreage will be stressed with the motto "Raise enough food stuffs for your family and a couple of soldiers too." The fact that farmers already prepared and familiar with gardening can raise additional acres of food stuff for the city dwellers, who, by limitations of space and time cannot garden for themselves, will release additional amounts of can goods for military use, will be stressed.

Leaders point out that the areas of increased population, due to the influx of defense workers and military camps, will afford ample market for all products that can be raised during the current year. The plan will doubtless meet with instant approval, as each section of the Nation is fast coming to a realization of the fact that the war could easily be lost on the Home Food Front, if superhuman effort is not forthcoming to feed both our civilian and military population.

I see it other than to mislead the farmer."

Some Diseases On Increase

Austin, Texas. — Reporting on health conditions over the State of Texas, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer said today that epidemic dysentery, meningitis and typhus fever have shown a sharp increase for the first two months of 1943. Reported cases of epidemic dysentery and diarrhea total eleven times the number shown for the corresponding period in a seven-year average. Outbreaks of dysentery in several communities scattered over the State point to local failure to solve certain sanitation problems which could endanger the downward trend of typhoid fever. Typhus fever has been reported as being three times the seven-year median and the State Health Officer emphasized the fact that rigid rodent control measures will require the whole-hearted cooperation of every individual in the State, since this control is absolutely necessary to bring the trend of typhus down to a satisfactory level.

Considerable increase has been reported in the incidence in pneumonia, whooping cough, and malaria, while poliomyelitis has been slightly more prevalent since last fall, but has shown a very satisfactory decrease in recent weeks. Diphtheria has failed to show any significant decrease for the state as a whole although it has been controlled satisfactorily in certain communities.

Dr. Cox asked the cooperation of all parents in immunizing children against diphtheria, whooping cough, typhoid fever, and smallpox. These diseases are preventable by the use of safe and effective immunization methods. While the first two diseases mentioned are more especially recognized as childhood diseases, typhoid fever and smallpox can take a heavy toll among adults as well and every individual should be made immune to their debilitating effects.

Some Advice On Feed Shortages

A. L. Hartzog, County Agent

Due to the fact that there is such a large demand for protein feeds at the present time many people have been asking if there are any substitutes for protein concentrates in this area. It is thought that while feed high in protein are very scarce the amount of peanut hay which is found in some of our fields could be used to a good advantage by farmers having access to it even though the quality isn't uniform and in many cases is severely damaged by the weather.

The analysis of bundle feeds show approximately four percent protein, while the analysis of peanut hay may show two and one half times as much protein as our bundle roughages depending on the quality. Since we have the peanut hay we may be able to partially relieve the protein feed shortage by using it.

Mrs. Clarence Taylor left Friday for Rice, Texas, to visit with her brother while he is home on a furlough.

NEED OIL PROTECTION

Repairs are costly; parts are hard to obtain. When your motor requires parts, metal that could be used on the firing line must be used to make those parts. Furthermore, if you are operating a truck or tractor, any time it must be taken off the road or out of the field for repairs, the war effort is being impaired just that much, therefore, it is your duty to see that the necessity for repairs and parts for your vehicle is held to a minimum.

Engine trouble, in practically every case, can be attributed to faulty lubrication. If your motor is at all times receiving an ample supply of good, clean oil, the chances of its failing while in use is greatly reduced. LUBER-FINER is the best answer to this problem. LUBER-FINER is not just another oil filter; it REFINES every mile you drive. With a LUBER-FINER, you CONSERVE oil; you use less oil and frequent oil changes are eliminated.

We have a LUBER-FINER for motors of all sizes and for any type of fuel. Let us install one for you today.

HERE'S HOW LUBER-FINER USERS CONSERVE OIL

"At the end of 41,000 miles we noticed a slight discoloration in the oil and installed a new cartridge. The entire oil consumption for the 41,000 miles was 11 quarts.

"We formerly changed oil at 1,000 to 1,200 miles and now change with the Luber-finer equipment at 18,000 to 20,000 miles."

A Message To Women And Girls

It happens that, as Commanding General of the Eighth Service Command, I am charged with one of the largest jobs of housekeeping in the world. Spread out over the five states of Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arkansas and Louisiana, our organization has the mission of fulfilling the thousands of the daily needs of hundreds of thousands of soldiers, and I am concerned with getting the task done with the least possible diversion of manpower from our fighting forces on the one hand and from our production forces on the other.

On this account, I want to make this personal appeal to women of this great area on behalf of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps. We have not yet exhausted by any means the manpower possibilities of these five states, but it must be conserved. If we are to increase both the Army and the productive machine of factory and farm, it must be obvious to every sensible person that economy and judiciousness must be exercised.

We have found in the Army that there are innumerable services now being performed by soldiers which can be performed equally well by women. Some of these services can actually be better done by women than by men. It is my belief that when the women of this part of the country understand fully what an important opportunity is now theirs for patriotic service, they will respond to the call of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps just as their brothers have responded to the call of the armed forces.

Let us look at some of these duties which members of the WAAC can assume to release able-bodied men for fighting duty. There is not space for a complete list, but I shall name a few, to show how wide is the range of skills and how consequential is the nature of the pending organization is planning to perform. Here are a few of the positions involved:

Accountants, Aircraft Warning Service, Bakers, Bookkeepers, Bookkeeping Machine Operators, Cadre Clerks, Camera Technicians, Cashiers, Chauffeurs, Classification Specialists, Cooks, Draftsmen, Librarians, Machine Records Operators, Messengers, Message Center Clerks, Mimeograph Operators, Motor Vehicle Dispatchers, Musicians.

These and many other jobs are a part of the great housekeeping job of services and supply which must back up our fighting men if we are to win. I call upon the young women of Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Texas to enlist in this, the most challenging type of service ever opened directly to the womanhood of America for the defense of the things that we Americans hold to be more precious than life itself.

Richard Donovan, Major General, U. S. Army, Commanding.
