

How to preserve your Car

It's a good idea to "put up" fruits and vegetables for next winter... but if you put up your car instead of using it for essential transportation, you actually throw an additional burden on overloaded streets, buses, and trains.

In the national interest, as well as in your own, the way to preserve your car is to give it the care it needs and deserves in times like these.

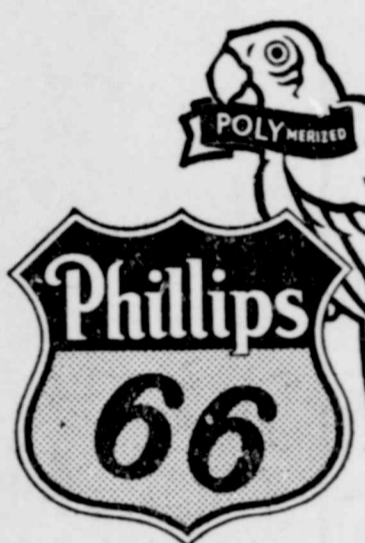

Save rubber, gasoline, and oil by cutting down driving speed. And get expert help to make your car and your tires go farther and last longer.

This expert help is waiting for you at every Phillips 66 Service Station. Go there at least once a week so that the Phillips 66 Service Man can check tire inflation. In hot weather, twice-a-week tire checks are even better. Remember, under-inflation not only increases tire wear but places an unnecessary drag on the engine and thus wastes gasoline.

The Phillips 66 Service Man will also inspect your tires for cuts and bruises, will recross them with the spare every 3,000 miles, will tell you when re-capping is advisable. He will check your radiator, battery, and air filter. Will change crankcase oil, and lubricate chassis parts at the nationally recommended 60-day intervals.

Remember, whether you buy one coupon's worth of famous Phillips 66 gasoline, or merely want water or air, Good Neighbor Service is always waiting for you at the Orange and Black 66 Shield.

Hospital Notes

Surgical patients this week are: Alvin Forbis, of Ropesville; Betty Romans, of Tokio; and Mrs. O. A. Lemley, of Brownfield. James D. Brandon, of O'Donnell and Bobby Neal Green of Brownfield, had tonsillectomies. Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Lewis, of Tokio, have a boy, born the 17th, weighing 10 lbs. Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Bandy, of Tokio, have a boy, born the 17th, weighing 9 lbs. and 1 oz. Mr. and Mrs. Odell Fulton, of Brownfield, have a boy, born the 17th, weighing 8 lbs. and 9 ozs. She also visited her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lee in St. Louis. Mrs. Lee accompanied her back to Lubbock. She reports a grand time.

Low Down From Hickory Grove

It is kinda refreshing to run across a person like this old South Carolinian Sand-hiller — Cotton Ed—his language has spice and flavor. It is a relief from the average palaver. When Cotton Ed says something it is not just well-balanced rhetoric meaning 2 or 3 things, or nothing, to intrigue us folks into thinking it is something good for us versus being good just for the ones concocting the rhetoric.

Senator Ed says we gotta have a sales tax—he don't mince words. He says we can choose between going broke or having a tax. We can choose our own poison, he says. Also, he says, for 8 or 10 years before the war we danced to odd and fantastic music—now we gotta pay for that fiddlin' around, along with the war debt to boot. They don't like Cotton Ed down there on the old Potomac, but the folks in So. Carolina and elsewhere, like him.

Yours with the low down.
JO SERRA.

Vegetable Cookery

"Vegetables may be called 'Nuggets of Gold,' these days." We can send twice as many vitamins and minerals to the table if we're clever about vegetable cookery—learn a few simple do's and don'ts and quit murdering our health-boosters behind kitchen doors and pouring them down our sinks.

General Rules for Cookery:
1. Do not prepare vegetables too early—if put in water to stand they will lose their vitamins.
2. Cook in peel or scrape so as to preserve vitamins.
3. Leave whole or in large pieces to save vitamins.
4. Use hot water. Boil in small amounts of water for as short a time as possible... a very few minutes.

5. Take off when done and serve immediately. Cook quickly if not ready to serve—then reheat. Vitamin C soaks out 30 to 50 per cent.
6. Save all excess liquids and use as soup, sauces, or cocktails.

For green vegetables: snap beans, peas, etc. Cook uncovered to preserve color with just enough boiling water added to keep vegetables boiling and cook just until vegetables are tender. Don't drain. Season with salt, pepper, and butter. For strong-flavored vegetables: such as cabbage, onions, etc. Cook uncovered in just enough water to nearly cover vegetable; cook until just tender and drain immediately. Discard cooking liquid for sake of palatability.

For white vegetables: such as parsnips, potatoes, etc. Cook covered in just enough boiling water to cover, until they are tender, but still hold their shape; reduce liquid to minimum or drain immediately.

For red vegetables: such as red cabbage, beets, etc. Cook covered in a small amount of boiling water just until tender, then drain immediately. If vegetables fade, add 1 to 2 tablespoons of lemon juice or vinegar just before serving to restore red color.

Panned Vegetables—shred or cut vegetables in small pieces. In a sauce pan heat to boiling ¼ to ½ cups water and a tablespoon or two of oil, butter, or other fats. Add vegetables at once; season with salt and pepper; cover tightly and cook about 10 minutes; just until tender.

Spinach and other leafy vegetables—wash thoroughly in several waters. Then lift leaves into large saucpan containing a small amount of boiling water. Cook rapidly, uncovered, until barely tender, 8 to 10 minutes. Drain and discard cooking liquid.

The government's nutritional yardstick says one big helping of green and yellow vegetables every day, some raw, some cooked. That leaves it up to you to see that they get to the table with all values present and accounted for. There are many vegetables a housewife can use these days to make eating still an interesting adventure. Consider the range of color, texture, and flavor in vegetables.

Two Yoakumites, Roy Fitzgerald and Murphy Luna, lost some valuable saddles awhile back. Recently two men were arrested in San Antonio, and disclosed the fact that the saddles were on a ranch in New Mexico. Roy and Murphy now have their saddles, one said to be valued at $90. Now, don't jump at the conclusion that these prominent Yoakum county ranchmen used $90 saddles on $20 horses. They have good horses.

"MY INSPIRATION"

Written By
Sgt. Jesse J. Younblood
Located Somewhere In South Pacific

Was the sixth night in December,
When she first met my sight,
The night before Pearl Harbor,
Where the Japs started the fight.
Now wondering if I should ask,
For a date the following eve,
As all the passes were cancelled,
Impossible to get a leave.

Forty-eight more hours had passed,
With me still in a daze
'Cause I had found the girl
Which I'd dreamed since boyhood days.

On Tuesday night it was arranged,
By Fates hand I do suppose,
My first date with a Flower,
Now known as my Rio Rose.

In February on the seventh day,
My first stripe came to me.
As she was my inspiration,
To work for P. F. C.

Time passed very fast for awhile,
Tho' we were happy and gay,
Troop trains had all started moving,

For us we wondered what day.
Sixty days later in the year,
From romance to love it grew.
For her the second stripe was added,

And the tailor sewed on two.
Permanently—some thought we'd stay

Upon the Texas National Border.
But word came the first of May,
We would soon receive our order.

Now in the verse to follow,
The reason I bought the ring,
To see if she would wear it,
And let me be her King.

Was on the tenth of May,
I asked if she'd be mine.
And I slipped the ring on her finger,
A bond that would hold for time.

It made me so very happy,
There wasn't any time to lose.
So late was the hours of loving,
With nothing for sleep to use.

When in mornings I went to drill,
Thoughts of her love and beauty,
Were all that kept me awake,
To follow in the line of duty.

Soon after this all happened,
In June I could plainly see,
She wanted another stripe added,
So the Captain gave me three.

Then on the eighth of July,
When we were loaded in pack,
I left her standing at the station,
And saluted as we rounded the track.

The time has been long and weary,
Since I rolled out her sight,
Over a year she has waited,
Never has she failed to write.

Not once have I betrayed her,
Or trifled as some would say,
And as long as she's so faithful,
I will always remain this way.

Don't worry my darling
Sweetheart,
Of me not returning to you,
As these isn't a living Angel,
I could find to be so true.

For me there'll be no other,
With that precious and smiling face,
Because when God had made you,
The pattern was broken in place.

If God, our Master, is willing,
I'll return to you some day,
And a home we'll build together,
Will stand Life's trials I pray.

When the final taps are sounded,
And the time is very short,
I'll thank Our Heavenly Father,
For the honor of having your Heart.

Yours forever,
JIM.

March of Time Shows How Japs React to War

This month's March of Time is titled: "... AND THEN JAPAN!" Telling how the Japanese people react to war and what it will take to defeat them, it features a sobering talk by former U. S. Ambassador to Japan, Joseph C. Grew, which may shock Americans.

American soldiers have had experience with the Japanese as fighters. To them, the Japanese is still the fanatical soldier of the Emperor, indifferent to death. The March of Time, showing the Japanese people in their homes, at work, at play in night clubs along the famous Ginza, traces the blind obedience to authority which conditions this entire people's war effort.

Japan's gains in the Pacific—timber, rubber, oil, minerals—are being transformed into weapons by primitive but efficient industry. Peasants are seen preparing goods to be unloaded on Japan's new empire.

Whipped up by the Japanese press, the people of Japan deny themselves any advantages war has brought, turning everything back into war materials.

And finally, the young generation is being taught loyalty to the Emperor; for Japan is preparing to call upon the children for a war she believes may last a hundred years.

Exclusive scenes of Japanese life show how the people are meeting the challenge of war. These, and Ambassador Grew's grim warning, make this one of the most impressive issues of The March of Time in many months.

OAKS GROWING ON PLAINS

G. C. Aten, who lives on route 1 and has the distinction of having more trees on his farm than any man in this region, was here Saturday greeting friends. When Mr. Aten started improving his place he was plum lost without timber. He just had to have some brush—something to remind him of Blanco county. Down there they have all kinds of timber—live oak, shin oak, post oak, burr oak, Spanish oak, elm, hackberry, pecan, etc. G. C. didn't fancy having just mesquite and China berry, so he busted loose and planted oaks and other trees. Today he's got enough shade for a barbecue celebration.—O'Donnell Index-Press.

Texas sent about 10,000 soldiers to the front during the Spanish-American war.

SICKENING RECORD

Local newspapers in two important defense centers carried accounts a short time ago of two disastrous fires. They were nothing unusual. Similar occurrences are taking place all over the country. In one of these fires, flames swept through a planing mill and lumber yard doing an estimated $150,000 damage. In the other fire, an entire block in a congested district was wiped out, leaving 200 persons homeless. Damage was estimated at $100,000. At the end of this year, to total fire bill for the nation will amount to three or four hundred million dollars—a tremendous sum even in these days of billions.

Who is to blame for this tragic and disastrous fire loss? No probing in the ashes of ruined buildings is necessary to find the answer, because everyone is to blame. We are a careless nation. Any fire prevention authority is familiar with the sickening record, and can establish proof of our national carelessness with the recital of a needless destruction that makes a joke of our touted war conservation efforts. The truth is that there can be no real conservation until destruction of property by fire is effectively curbed. Also, as any fire prevention authority will testify, there can be no curbing of the fire loss in this country until individual citizens learn to take the simple precautions which are necessary to prevent it.

Many agencies are striving to make Americans fire conscious. Fire departments, city, state and Federal officials, together with private organizations are constantly pounding home the lessons of fire prevention. If these lessons were but received in spirit that they were given—a spirit of appreciation of the value of life and property—fire losses would curve downward in an amazingly short time.

Washington correspondents are watching with interest the merry little fight between Mrs. Roosevelt and Harry Hopkins. Mrs. Roosevelt sold the president of Hopkins while FDR was governor of New York. Hopkins proved such a valuable listening post for FDR that he was taken to Washington and lived in the White House until his recent marriage. According to reporters, Hopkins has undermined the influence of Mrs. Roosevelt on numerous occasions and finally had to move out of the White House with his new wife and her bunch of poodles. The President is not overlooking such bets when it comes to keeping such with the voters, and he feels that Harry Hopkins is the man who can help him most. Born and reared in politics, office holding the easiest thing in the world for FDR, and he will run for a fourth term unless the war is over. Peace is pretty well an established fact.—Canyon News.

The constitution in force in Texas was ratified in 1876 after Texas re-admission to the Union after the Civil War.

Mills for grinding white corn were established by white settlers of Texas. The manufacture of lumber also an early date.

NOW IS THE TIME TO WINTERIZE YOUR HOME

LET the sun shine—on your home, while you get it ready for winter: and when cold weather comes, your heat-tight home will be as comfortable as on sunny days in July! Every home must be conditioned so as not to waste fuel: heating equipment must be put in good repair; to help Uncle Sam help our boys to Victory!

Your Government wants you to save fuel for victory. It's not only a good idea for the duration, but it's good business for your own pocketbook. Proper insulation of your home will give you substantial savings year after year.

If you have a well insulated home your fuel bills through the coldest winter will be much less than they ever were. You'll marvel, then, at the economy of clean, automatic gas central heating.

Catholics Win Gambling Rights

According to the Scottish Rite News Bulletin of July 5 the Ohio legislature has passed a bill exempting bingo and other games of chance conducted for church or charitable purposes from the penalties of the anti-gambling laws. Now the Bishop of Cincinnati and his hosts can rejoice because they have an unfettered hand in filching from their victims millions of cash with which to carry on their propaganda and conduct their world-wide program of restoring the Roman hierarchy to absolute control over the people of the world. And, knowing its persistent efforts to overthrow the Ohio anti-gambling laws so as to leave it free to debauch the people through church-run gambling we may easily foresee what will happen to the world if Rome ever again has the mastery of world politics.

Mrs. Margaret E. Keller, of Cincinnati, plans to contest the constitutionality of this exemption. All power and support to her. Surely, if our national supreme court has any sense of legal justice, they will declare such an act purely "class legislation" and throw it out as unconstitutional. —Western Recorder.

If Ohio Catholics are so keen to raise money by bingo and other "innocent" games of chance, they should come to Texas where such are carried on in open defiance of the law. They should attend a "school carnival", at Anton or any other South Plains school, and they would learn how bingo is played. Why, in some instances, protestant churches have promoted bingo and other "innocent" chance schemes to raise money for the church. Anton News.

TO STANDARDIZE TEXAS TRAFFIC SIGNS

AUSTIN—Do unfamiliar traffic signs and signals confuse you when driving in strange cities?

In the future they will all be alike, if Texas organizations interested in traffic safety have their way.

C. J. Rutland, chairman of the traffic safety division of the Texas Safety Association, reveals that the mayors of every Texas city has been urged to standardize their traffic signs and markings as a safety measure.

The standard suggested is found in the war edition of the Manual on Uniform Traffic Control Devices, agreed upon by the American Association of Highway Officials, the Institute of Traffic Engineers, and the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety.

In a letter to the Texas Mayors, Rutland, together with E. E. McAdams, director of the League of Texas Municipalities, and J. M. Welch, president of the Texas Police Association, urged that the Manual be adopted by ordinance. The letter explained that the Manual had been approved by the Texas Highway Department and the State Department of Public Safety.

"Various transportation facilities have brought all of our cities close to each other, and certainly all of them should adopt a standard set of regulations on traffic control devices so that police or engineering departments of each community, as the rehabilitate old equipment and install new, may follow national standards..." Rutland stated.

The safety director pointed out that the constant movement of men in the armed services, resulting in "accidents, confusion, and congestion in many instances," has focused national attention on the inconsistencies of traffic signs, signals and markings."

The first native Texan elected Governor of Texas was James Stephen Hogg, (1891-1895).

Sayings of the wise:
Youth is the time to study wisdom; old age, to practice it.

The world oftener rewards the appearance of merit than merit itself.

A king's mistake costs dear.

Nomination for the old joke contest: "That fellow saved my life once; he shot at me and missed."

Nearly as old is the ranch country joke: "He saved a lot of lives one time; he killed the camp cook."

Under a new law, the state auditor is no longer appointed by the governor but is chosen by a committee of the legislature. The committee recently met and decided to retain the present state auditor, about the only change being to raise his salary from $4,600 to $7,500 a year—an increase of 62 per cent.

This should be interesting news to farmers, stock raisers and dairymen of Texas, who report they find it difficult to make any profit on their products in the face of rising costs and increased taxes.

Also this news should interest thousands of workers in Texas whose salaries and wages have not increased at all or very little.

The 189,000 elderly citizens whose pensions have been cut below the grant will find no consolation in the fact that a state official's salary has been hiked by $2,900 year.

Business men, struggling with coupons, report forms, shortage of sales force and with ceiling prices, may not be so enthusiastic about this news from Austin, either.

Oil men who have been trying in vain for a year to get a small increase in the price of oil ought to write to the legislative committee and get their recipe!

What will the school teachers, many of whom receive less than $900 a year, think about?

And, finally, what kind of news is this to the many thousands of fighting Texans who are plodding through the slime of jungles and are storming machine gun nests at $50 a month?

A hike of 62 per cent in the salary of an already well-paid state official. Apparently, the legislative committee has never heard of price ceilings and salary freezing! Apparently, the committee has never heard of economy! Should someone break the news to them that there is a war on!

The discovery of oil in Texas has largely relieved the state of its dependence on outside capital for new industrial development.

Like most everybody else, I was buying War Bonds through the Payroll Plan—and I figured on cashing some of them in. But sick as she was, it was Ellen who talked me out of it.

"Don't do it, John!" she said. "Please don't! For the first time in our lives, we're really saving money. It's wonderful to know that every single payday we have more money put aside! John, if we can only keep up this saving, think what it can mean! Maybe someday you won't have to work. Maybe we can own a home. And oh, how good it would feel to know that we need never worry about money when we're old!"

"Well, even after she got better, I stayed away from the weekly poker game—quit dropping a little cash at the hot spots now and then—gave up some of the things a man feels he has a right to. We made clothes do—cut out fancy foods. We didn't have as much fun for awhile but we paid our taxes and the doctor and—we didn't touch the War Bonds.

"We didn't touch the War Bonds then, or any other time. And I know this: The world wouldn't be such a swell place today if we had!"

CALIFORNIA RELATIVES VISIT THE CHISHOLMS

Jack Latham, wife and daughter, from Oroville, Calif., are here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Chisholm and other relatives. They will also visit his folks at Paducah, while in Texas. He stated that it took him two weeks to get their pass, although he is a railroad man.

His run is on a passenger train from Oroville, east to the next division on the Western Pacific. He stated that the east end of his run was on the desert, and got plenty hot recently.

Lamesa got her first bale of 19-43 cotton, Monday.

Leslie Green had his tonsils removed, yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Greene and children, David and Herbert, spent Monday visiting in Lubbock.

Betty Joe Phillips returned to her home in Ft. Worth, Tuesday. She has been visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Carter, and Patsy Ruth Carter.

State Health Officer Offers Suggestions

AUSTIN—Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has issued the following statements and suggestions concerning the control and prevention of poliomyelitis which is assuming epidemic proportions in certain sections of the State.

Until recently it was generally believed that this infection is transmitted by means of discharges from the respiratory tract. It is now believed that poliomyelitis is primarily another of the several gastrointestinal infections. Therefore, control measure must emphasize clean-up campaigns and improvements in sanitation.

Stringent efforts should be made to eliminate the house-fly and to destroy its breeding places. All mosquitoes and mosquito breeding places must be eliminated at once. Every effort should be made to institute approved garbage collection systems immediately. Safe water supplies must be assured. Where adequate municipal sewage disposal systems are not in operation, it is vitally important to promote and maintain sanitary septic tanks and outdoor privies.

All swimming pools should, under rigid supervision, maintain those standards approved by the Texas State Department of Health. This necessarily includes maintenance of proper chlorine level. Where such standards are not maintained, those pools should be closed immediately.

All raw foods and vegetables should be washed thoroughly before use and protected from flies, filth and insects. All eating and food handling establishments should adhere strictly to the State Law concerning the sterilization of dishes and utensils. In the present emergency, those restaurants with insufficient personnel to maintain approved sanitation should close one or two hours a day so that employees can assist in maintaining cleanliness and high sanitary standards.

Every effort should be made to secure approved milk. Rats and mice should be eliminated. Maintain in the home the same sanitary standards that are necessary in community life. Particular attention should be paid to personal hygiene. Excreta from cases and contacts should be handled and disinfected with the same scrupulous care as in typhoid fever or bacillary dysentery.

Over-exertion in children should be avoided. Children should not visit home where there is a sick child. Cases should be quarantined for 14 days and adults who work in food establishments should be particularly instructed in personal hygiene. It is advisable to reduce to a minimum all human contacts especially in children during an outbreak of this disease. It was not advocated that schools, churches and theatres be closed. Early symptoms of infantile paralysis are headache, fever, vomiting, drowsiness, followed by stiffness in the neck and back. When suspicious symptoms appear, a physician should be called immediately.

AGED UNION MAN PASSES

James F. Townsend, 83, of the Union community, died the 16th, following a short illness. He had been married 60 years, having married Miss Sarah Vinyard in 1883.

Services were held at Union, with Mrs. Hamm of the Brownfield Nazarene church officiating. Burial in the Union cemetery with Brownfield Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Merner Rhodes spent last week visiting her daughter, Jean, who lives in Overton, Texas.

ACCORDING TO ORDERS

Out for a drive in her pony cart, an elderly lady managed to get involved in some army maneuvers. As she approached a bridge a sentry stopped her.

"Sorry, madam," he said, "you can't cross this bridge. It's just been destroyed."

The old lady peered at it through her spectacles.

"It looks all right to me," she murmured. Then, as another soldier came along, she asked:

"Excuse me, but can you tell me what's wrong with this bridge?"

The soldier shook his head.

"Don't ask me, lady," he replied; "I've been dead two days."

During the administration of Texas Governor L. S. Ross, (1887-1891) Texas received $1,000,000 from the federal government to reimburse the state for its expenditures for border protection.

churches and theatres be closed. Early symptoms of infantile paralysis are headache, fever, vomiting, drowsiness, followed by stiffness in the neck and back. When suspicious symptoms appear, a physician should be called immediately.

"Where the Home Begins"

Home Owned and Operated by Home People

ARE YOU ONE OF THOSE ARM CHAIR STRATEGISTS?

You know the man who has plans to save the world, while his own clothes need mending. The one who bellows about bureaucratic waste, while his tires are running on threads. The one who can tell General Eisenhower or General McArthur how to wage the war without loss, while beetles eat up his garden. The one who screams about scarcity of foods, while he wastes gasoline on needless driving. He's worried about a new front opening up before he's solved the last one. There are a lot of fronts to think about.

HOW ABOUT THE "TIRE FRONT"

That's a pretty important front. It calls for co-operation from everyone. It means that you should have your tires inspected regularly. It means proper tire inflation. It means driving sensibly and carefully. It means conserving every ounce of gasoline and every ounce of rubber on your tires. It isn't a job that you can do by yourself.

We have a responsibility, too. We know tire repair and recapping. It is up to us to tell you when a crack or cut should be fixed—and do it right. It is up to us to tell you when tires should be recapped and give new tire mileage to old tires. It is up to us to act as your Tire Advisor and be at your service whenever the occasion demands.

Repair and Recapping Time is "NOW"

We are heading right into the most critical tire period in the nation's tire history. Tire service is more important now than ever before. Don't be too optimistic about getting new tires very soon. It takes time to produce the synthetic rubber and convert it into tires. And don't forget that the needs of our armed forces come first. Let's take care of your own tire problems before we settle all other world problems. After all, they do go hand in hand. We must be able to settle all kinds of issues, and the tire issue is one we can help you on.

We'll Give You Expert Inspection, Sound Advice and Honest Workmanship

A sugar-planter in Hawaii took a friend from the United States to the edge of a volcano. "That crater is 70,004 years old," he explained. "How do you know the exact age?" asked the newcomer. "I can understand the 70,000, but how do you calculate the four?" "Well, I've been here in the islands for four years, and that crater was 70,000 years old when I arrived."

The Rough Riders of the Spanish-American war, commanded by Col Leonard Wood and Lieut. Col. Theodore Roosevelt, was organized at San Antonio.

The year 1901 marked the beginnings of large-scale industries of meat packing and cotton manufacturing in Texas.

Texas' most important products are oil, gas, sulphur, cotton, wool, mohair, wheat, corn, grain sorghums, citrus fruits, truck crops, poultry, livestock, lumber, milk, dairy products and iron ore.
