Captain May Visits Here

Captain Murphy May returned to the state last week, bringing a war weary B-24 to San Antonio for repairs from the South Pacific Islands. Enroute back to San Francisco, Calif., he visited from Thursday until Monday in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom May.

Curly Edwards Now 2nd Lieutenant

CAMP BARKLEY, TEXAS—May 17th, 1944—Among those who today received their commissions as second lieutenants in the Medical Administrative Corps at the Camp Barkley Officers Candidate School Graduation, was Elwin Austine Edwards, 24, son of Major C. T. Edwards, of Box 2064 Capital Station, Austin, Texas. A graduate of Lubbock High School, he resided in Brownfield, Tex., before entering the service.

This ceremony marked the completion of four months of Class XXXI, the smallest class to be graduated here since the this month under command of Brig. Gen. Roy C. Heflebow, who is also Commanding General of the Army Service Forces Training Center here. This class returned to OCS from foreign service, earning this reward by the merit of their overseas service. One-fifth of the graduates had taken the Army Specialized Training Program. The ability and character they displayed there being considered of officer quality. Another tenth of the class were ROTC men, and the remainder had served in the continental United States.

As candidates they received training in medical administration, supply, sanitation, first aid, chemical warfare, tactics, training, and logistics.

Classroom strategy and theories receive minute attention in field exercises as candidates operate medical installations with the attendant problems of location, camouflage, supply, and sanitation. Although trained as administrative officers, they must nevertheless undergo strenuous physical requirements before graduation.

Maj. Gen. Carlos Brewer, commanding general of the 12th armored division, delivered the graduation address, and presented the new officers with their certificates of graduation and letters of commission. L. Col. August H. Groeschel, assistant commandant, presided at the ceremonies, while Capt. Willard E. Thompson, executive officer, delivered the oath of office to them.

Pfc. Huck Smith left Sunday after spending a 15 day furlough with his wife, Mrs. Peggy Smith. Pfc. Smith is stationed at Lubbock Army Air Field.

Second Lieutenant and Mrs. Curley Edwards and Jonelda of Abilene visited in the Tom May home over the week-end. They were on the way to vacation in Ruidosa, N. M.

Seaman Clyde Ray Williams, who has spent 13 months in the Navy in the South Pacific, was here last week on leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Williams.

Waste Paper Salvage Still Going

Chairman Hartzog of the county salvage work reports that waste paper is still needed, and urges all to continue to bring in newspapers, magazines, etc. to Judge Neils residence, on 4th street midway between Main and Broadway. 6000 pounds were shipped a few weeks ago and another 2000 pounds now on hand when that much more is obtained, an Army truck will come after it.

Marine Becomes Gifted Writer

EL PASO, TEXAS, May 20—The literary ability of Irby G. Cargill, 17-year-old Marine Corps Reserve, is going to get him what he wants—action with the Leathernecks in the Pacific.

Cargill enlisted in the Marine Corps in El Paso on April 22, and was placed on the inactive reserve to await his call to active duty.

The lack of action was not to Irby's liking. He wanted a Marine uniform, a rifle and a chance at the Japs. So, when he graduated from Brownfield High on May 12, Irby decided to do something about it.

He sat down and wrote a poem to Captain William B. Wisdom, officer in charge of Marine recruiting in West Texas, and said that he had for too long been an "inactive Marine."

The poem: "On April the twenty-second, Nineteen Hundred, Forty-Four, I became an inactive Marine in the fighting Leatherneck Corps.

"It's the fightnest branch of the service That anyone's ever seen, And I was mighty proud to be a United States Marine.

"For Marines made history at Wake, At the Battle of Midway, too; And they always will be fighting' For the grand Red, White and Blue.

"I'm proud of their reputation And their uniforms of blue, But, if possible, Captain, sir, I'd like some fighting, too.

"Now that my schooling's over, And I have had my fun; Please ship me out to Diego For there is work to be done.

"And as soon as you get this letter, Please send me a special wire; Say: 'Report at once, Private Cargill, And help us put out the fire!'"

Impressed by Cargill's eagerness for action, Captain Wisdom sent him the following wire: "If you can shoot a rifle As well as you smite your lyre, Prepare to report 'round the first of June And help us put out the fire."

Captain Wisdom said Cargill would be called to active duty next month and sent to San Diego, California for training.

Private Cargill lives with his mother, Mrs. Bertie L. Cargill, 503 N. 2nd St., Brownfield, Tex.

LOCAL BOY DEPUTY SHERIFF AT "TEXAS NITE"

LONDON — Every sun-burned son of Texas was sworn in as a Deputy Sheriff with a silver star as he entered the doors of American Red Cross Mostyn Club in London for the biggest "Texas Nite" on record. The occasion was Texas Independence Day, March 2nd, or, as guest speaker Professor J. Frank Dobie, of Texas University, said "This is a day of national celebration!"

Every section of the state was represented from the big cities to the loneliest ranch in the Panhandle. You might picture a long line of tired cow ponies hitched outside the club instead of bulky army trucks and sketchy Jeeps. The very tone of the dinner dwelt on the past glories of the state, the Alamo, The Rangers and fighting Texans — Travis, Crockett and Bowie.

One Texas daughter, Augusta Baker (Sergeant if you please) upheld the Lone Stars reputation for wit and beauty at the head-table. She sat with Major General J. K. Crain, of Cuero and Brig. General Pleas Rogers, of Austin (his Dad was the famed Captain Rogers of the Rangers). Lieut. Col. Lee, of San Antonio, Aid to General Eisenhower, acted as Master of Ceremonies. On his left sat Major W. E. Warren, of Wichita Falls. Two G. I. brothers, Micky and Sam Blanda, of Orange (Sam said he hoped they'd all be in the saddle again soon) sat opposite the gents with stars on their shoulders as well as their sheriff's badges. Houston Crump, of San Antonio, Director of Red Cross Club Operations in this theatre, held one end of the table with the guest of honor, Professor Dobie, in the center.

The Professor, who has held a chair at Emanuel College, Cambridge, for the past year and is the greatest living authority on the history, folk lore, and flore and fauna of Texas, held these hardened G. I.'s silent or laughing at his

Local Food Store Modernizes Home

The Furr Food store, located at the corner of 5th and Broadway, has undergone a complete rejuvenation during the last two weeks, improving the appearance of the interior to any equal those in the "big town."

A new entrance gives an easy access to any part of the store; old counters and shelves have taken on a new and beautiful appearance; a new fresh fruit and vegetable unit, back by mirrors, adds much to the appearance, also, and will help much in preserving the freshness and crispness of its contents.

The market, also, has undergone some changes and rearranging, giving it a better display and a more convenient access to customers.

The color scheme of blue and white, worked out by the management, blends well with the counters, topped with blue linoleum.

TO THE VOTERS OF TERRY COUNTY

Owing to present conditions which exist it will be impossible for me to contact each of you personally.

It is my aim to see as many as possible, but those I do not see I hope you will accept this as near as possible as a personal call, and that you will remember me with your vote on the 22nd of July.

Thanking you for your support in this election, and for past favors shown me.

State Democratic Convention Split

The Democrats at their State Convention at Austin last Tuesday, held a typical, debating, fighting, fan flaring convention, as only Democrats can, (and usually) do. The test was over whether the convention instruct its delegates to National Convention, to vote for Roosevelt, or to send them uninstructed. The vote being over the chairman of the convention Dan Moody, for uninstructed delegation won, with 900 votes, to 900 votes, to Jimmie Allred's 700, for Roosevelt. The latter then went on strike, moved into a different room, and held a convention of their own. So now no one need vote the Republican ticket after all, we have choice of two democratic parties. The Republican party convention, same day, at Houston, was so smooth, and quiet it hardly ticked on the news ticker tape. Their delegates were no doubt instructed, but no one knows who for. Their slate, came down from above. And yet they claim to be opposed to directives. Its only who issues the directives.

R. M. Kendrick, of this city, a delegate to the State convention was named also a delegate to the National Convention. Leo Allen, W. B. Tudor, also delegates attended. O. L. Peterman was a visitor to the convention.

Sgt. Jack Browder Missing In Action

Reported to be missing in action over Germany since May 12, is Sgt. Jack Browder a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Jack Browder. The parents received the news from the war department by telegram Tuesday evening about 6 o'clock.

Sgt. Browder was a turret gunner and had been overseas since about Mar. of this year. He graduated from Brownfield high school in 1941, and then went into the service. He trained at LAAF, Dalhart army airfield and in Nebraska before going overseas.

He has one other brother, Sgt. Norwood Browder, who is somewhere in England and a little sister who lives here with her parents.

Mahon On War Appropriations Committee

According to Representative George Mahon in Washington, hearings will be completed this week on the annual War Department Appropriation Bill, a bill to supply the Army with funds for the fiscal year beginning July 1. The bill now in the subcommittee involves the largest appropriation to be considered by Congress this year, the Army requesting the total sum of forty-nine billion dollars, including reappropriations. Mahon is a member of a seven-man subcommittee of four Democrats and three Republicans, which conducts hearings and handles in the House of appropriations for the Army.

On the current bill General George Marshall, Chief of Staff, General Arnold, and many other officers of the Army have appeared before the Committee to discuss and explain the war situation and the need for the funds requested. However, because of the nature of much of the testimony, the hearings on the bill are not open to the public. The bill covers appropriations for all items of expense of every nature for the carrying on of the war by the War Department. Included are pay, food, clothing, guns, ammunition, airplanes, fuel, and innumerable other requirements for an army of 7,700,000 men. One of the unusual requests of the Medical Corps is for one hundred million dollars for the new wonder drug Penicillin designed to save the lives of thousands of our fighting men.

Mahon states that the belief is that no funds other than those now being requested will be required by the Army for the defeat of Germany—that while the fighting has not reached its peak, war spending has reached its peak and will taper off very sharply within a few months.

FOOTBALL AND BASKETBALL COACHES MAY BE PART-TIME EMPLOYEE

AUSTIN, TEXAS, MAY 26 — Football and basketball coaches for Class A and Class B schools in the University of Texas Interscholastic League may be part-time employees next year, but Class AA coaches must still be full-time staff members of their respective schools, League members have decided.

Last year, as a means of meeting the wartime manpower shortage, the smaller schools were permitted for the first time in many years to use part-time coaches. When he ballot was submitted on the question for 1944-45, the proposal passed among A and B schools, but Class AA schools vetoed the measure by a vote of 50 to 33.

Irrigation Being Developed In The County

With continued dry weather much interest is being taken in irrigation from wells in Terry County. C. P. O'Bar east of Meadow, has for several years successfully irrigated a large farm. V. G. Decker has recently acquired the Lessell Peugh irrigated farm, in that vicinity. Vernon Reynolds near there also has one installed. While James King, Tobe Howze and Roy Herrod, are installing plants on their farms near Brownfield. While it may be expensive account to depth to water here, yet with some rainfall along, it is expected to pay well.

To the Voters And Taxpayers

The tax payers and patrons of the Brownfield Consolidated Independent School District are, we believe, entitled to know something regarding the current situation in our school system.

The facts are that a few years ago we voted to consolidate the following school districts:

This consolidation involved and required the purchase of a considerable amount of transportation equipment. School busses are very expensive to buy and perhaps more expensive to keep in running condition. We are sure that you must realize that we had to borrow money with which to finance the purchase of the busses. We believe that the expense of maintaining this costly equipment will increase considerably this year, because, our busses are getting old and are therefore in poor condition.

We will not undertake to say that we should or should not have effected the consolidation of the school districts now composing the Brownfield Independent School District, but we feel that we should inform he tax payers and patrons that we have undertaken to support an educational program which is apparently beyond our means. We believe that the educational system of the State of Texas should continue in this district. It seems that the continuation of the program will prove to be a financial burden to all of us. The following figures will indicate to you just what kind of a financial dilemma we are now in. We may expect and receive this year from local taxes about $59,000.00. We expect to receive from the State of Texas for scholastics approximately $49,000.00, making a total of $108,000.00. Our expenditures last year were $137,000.00 and our projected expenditures for next year are $138,000.00. It would seem that our budget is balanced but we have to take into consideration the fact that all of our teachers are grossly underpaid. Our turnover in teachers for last year was enormous. Most of our teachers left us because we could not afford to pay them a reasonable salary for their work. For the school year just finished this district received something like $13,000.00 from the State of Texas for the purpose of paying teachers salaries and also for transportation aid. We believe that we shall be unable to retain the services of very many of our teachers and bus drivers unless we are to increase their salaries. If we do increase these salaries, under the present law, we will forfeit our State Aid money in the sum of $13,000.00 as above mentioned. It appears that, in order to retain the services of competent teachers, we shall need

Area 4-H Boys To Be Guest Of SPAAF

SOUTH PLAINS ARMY AIR FIELD, TEX., May 25—More than 300 4-H Cub boys who have made outstanding records in 20 counties of the area will be the guests of South Plains Army Air Field Thursday and Friday, June 8 and 9, it has been announced by officials at the field.

SPAAF is paying tribute to the young men of the area for their outstanding performances in producing enough food to feed at least one soldier each throughout the entire year. For this achievement, the young men will be given a day's visit at the nation's largest advanced glider pilot training center and will have an opportunity to see how the food they produce is helping the war effort by keeping the men in shape to keep 'em flying.

In 1943, SPAAF played host to approximately 80 of the 4-H Club boys. The Extensioner, agriculture magazine published at College Station, praised the visit at the field as one of the most impressive of any made by 4-H Club boys in the entire state.

This year, the boys again will be shown the men in field work, the routine training tasks and the flight line where the Winged Commandos are training in the big cargo and troop carrying gliders.

The counties from which the boys have been chosen include Bailey, Borden, Briscoe, Castro, Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Hale, Hockley, Lubbock, Lynn, Lamb, Palmer, Scurry, Swisher, Terry and Yoakum.

One-half the group will visit the field on Thursday, June 8, and the other half Friday, June 9.

LACK OF LABOR DURING WARTIME RAISES THE DEUCE BACK SHOP

Many, perhaps, will wonder at the difference in the dress of the Herald in this issue, but do to the extreme shortage of experienced linotype operators and other personnel, caused one of our magazines, used the most, to become unusable. This, of course happened, as is usually the case, on press day—so we just switched to a larger face until mechanics can rehabilitate the other.

Urged to Save More Waste Fat

AUSTIN, TEXAS, May 17—Texas has failed by 34 per cent of attaining its quota of salvaging household fats, Governor Coke Stevenson was advised today by the War Production Board. "A greater effort in this direction must be made," the communication stated.

"A large source of our supply of fats was cut off with the Japanese occupation of the Philippines and Dutch East Indies which stopped imports from the Far East. This has presented a crucial problem in the manufacturing of explosives for the Allied Nations, and the public will have to salvage two billion pounds of grease annually to make up for the deficit in that amount caused by the Japanese conquests," the WPB statement continued.

"In behalf of this vital problem I urge every Texas housewife to save at least one teaspoon of fat daily. I urge every butcher to accept the fats and to see that they reach the nearest renderer," Governor Stevenson said. "In every community there should be a local salvage chairman to answer any questions regarding this collection. In the event there is none, your county judge or mayor can give you the necessary information," he continued.

Jobs and Taxes

America is going to need many, good, steady jobs soon after the war. Plenty will be available, too, if business holds up. With this hope in mind, the U. S. Department of Commerce issued a book last year called "Markets After the War," to help the Committee on Economic Development measure the public's post-war needs. Some of the statements in the book took on new color recently from recommendations in the now-famous Baruch Report.

One of the things proposed by Bernard M. Baruch and John M. Hancock is that Congress get busy right away and make a tax law to take effect on "X-Day," the day Hitlerism folds up. This law is to guarantee lower taxes on business to relieve its uncertainty. These are well-chosen words admitting a harsh fact: If jobs are going to be abundant, tax laws must be changed.

Taxes Kill Jobs

More than two-thirds of this country's factory output today consists of war goods. Many manufacturers are making absolutely nothing else. To meet war's demands, factories have expanded rapidly since Pearl Harbor. What they did in pre-war years is less than half of what they are doing now. Under the law, most of their volume classifies as "increase" and most of their profits as "excess," taxed at 85 cents on the dollar.

After the war, if the government's levy is still 85 per cent of all profits above pre-war profits, manufacturers will have every reason to quit pushing for increased production. Here is the main reason: 85 per cent from 100 per cent leaves 15 per cent, and who will work twice as hard and take twice as much risk if the law lets him keep only $1.50 of every $10 honestly earned by the extra work?

No Small Thing

A few cases of discouragement wouldn't matter but all of industry is involved. Of course business can slide down to its pre-war volume, approximately where the tax on "excess profits" begins, but don't forget that America had eight million people unemployed in the pre-war years. If employment is to remain high, annual volume of business after the war must exceed 1940's volume and this calls for a new tax law.

Look back at the Commerce Department's book for a moment. It forecasts a post-war demand for automobiles 100 per cent bigger than the 1940 demand. Such a market, if supplied, will make jobs all right and help prosperity, but will it be supplied? The automobile output in 1940 was about four million. Can the automobile industry double it? The answer is "Yes" under fair conditions, but if the present tax law remains unchanged for half a year, it won't be done.

A Ceiling on Work

The lowest tax a car manufacturer has to pay is 40 per cent. That's on 1940's volume or less, so every $10 of profit on that much business leaves him $6. This works okay on the first four million cars but the tax rate will be 85 per cent on the second four million, i.e., on profits above pre-war profits. On that part of the job every $10 earned is worth $1.50. Even that niggardly gain is subject to income tax later.

With such a prospect of ruin in sight, any business man would know enough to buy tax-free government bonds instead, that pay 2 per cent. The bad feature is that buying government bonds does not create any jobs or build any cars. If the excess profits tax does not end with the war as Baruch suggests, depression is right around the corner. We will be fortunate if it is not a revolution.

I Give You Texas

By Boyce House
Whatever has become of the "human fly?" You know—a man who made his living by climbing up the side of the town's tallest building with his bare hands while the crowd gaped got stiffness in the neck and had a near heart attack when he purposely "almost" lost his hold on the ledge near the top?

I never missed free attraction that came to town during my boyhood—the expert marksman who put on an exhibition to advertise Peter's cartridges; the cyclist who rode a single wheel standing up by way of directing public attention to the superior qualities of one particular brand of bicycle; and the medicine show, with the gasoline torches luridly lighting up the platform, the "professor" with his long hair, high top hat, long-tailed coat and marvelous flow of language; and Sambo, who entertained with numbers on the banjo.

And did Buster Brown ever visit your town? He was a midget who looked like the once-popular comic supplement boy with the odd suit and the bobbed-hair. (He was publicizing a product.)

Sometimes, the merchants would bring in a special event for trades' day—a slack-wire walker or a daredevil, who leaped from the top of a high ladder into little more than a tub of water.

Whenever a minstrel show came to town, there was always a free concert in front of the tent or the opera house.

But of course the biggest event of all was the circus parade. Folks lined the streets for an hour ahead of time—why, I never knew, because no parade ever started on time. But it was a real thrill from the beginning—the proprietor in a rubber-tired buggy who (the proprietor, not the buggy) bowed smilingly to right and left; then the many wagons, a few of which were open to show the lions and monkeys; the bespangled ladies on the elephants; the clowns,—on to the very end, the calliope (we boys called it "caly-ope") tooting out noises and amid which could occasionally be detected a couple of notes that suggested "In the Good Old Summer Time."

That was the days!

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NEWS

An unusual service will be held Sunday morning at eleven when we re-dedicate our service flag. A number of young men and one young woman have gone into the armed forces of our country since the flag was dedicated a year ago. There will be a star added for each of these. As a part of the service a candle lighting ceremony will be conducted with a relative or friend of the person in service lighting a candle. This will represent the light which we believe the allies are fighting to preserve—the right to freedom of worship. The public is invited to worship with us.

The session of our Church selected a pulpit committee last Sunday and efforts are being made to secure a new minister for our Church. Our present Pastor will preach his last sermon on June 4th and every effort is being made to raise $300 to pay off all indebtedness.

This will enable us to call another pastor at once and begin our new program free of debt.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Did you hear that Tom is going to be inducted into the Army next week, Judge?"
 "Yes, Frank told me this morning down at the barber shop. Our town's got a lot of men in the service now, Jim. In fact, all towns have. I was just reading in the paper where there are more than 10,000,000 men away from their homes in the armed forces. And, from all reports, they're doing a grand job bringing victory closer every day."
 "We folks at home have a mighty big obligation to those 10,000,000 fighting men. We've got to produce the food to keep them well fed. We've got to keep them supplied with the ammunition and equipment they need to finish their job. We've got to help the Government pay for all these supplies our men need by buying more and more War Bonds. We'll have another big chance to do that by helping to put the 5th War Loan drive over the top, Jim."

 "And, in addition, we must be sure that, while they're away and can't express their opinions, we don't go voting on and deciding any things that will displease them when they come back."

I GIVE YOU TEXAS by BOYCE HOUSE

The passing of Irvin S. Cobb recalls to mind an interview your columnist had with Cobb's close friend, Bob Burns, several years ago. Burns related an occurrence in connection with the filming of his newest picture.

"Cobb was visiting on the set and he told a story and then I told one. While I was telling mine, he thought of another and tapped his fingers on his knee, impatient for me to finish. And I did the same while he was telling one. Everybody else crowded around and we weren't getting any work done on the picture until at last the director good-naturedly shooed Cobb away.

Later, Cobb wrote Burns that he had been using some of the bazooka player's jokes in speeches: "I always mention your name as the originator of the stories, but I do it with such a reverent tone that they may not hear it, "And they laugh at the jokes, too--it may be the way I tell 'em"

Cobb phoned Burns one day and invited him out to the house for supper, explaining: "Mrs. Cobb has never met you and she has expressed a morbid curiosity to see you."

Looks as though the Lieutenant Governor has reached the end of the political trail.

He has an intense ambition to be Governor, and the Attorney General's office is the traditional stepping-stone. Though carrying on a feud with Attorney General Sellers through long and fiery statements to the press. The Lieutenant Governor seems fearful of entering the race for Attorney General and thereby carrying his controversy to the voters.

If the Lieutenant Governor doesn't dare run for Attorney General this year, how General this year, how 1946 in a far more difficult race for the higher office of Governor? A formidable array of candidates is likely then, including Beauford Jester (candidate this year for a 6-year term on the Commission) and whoever is Attorney General then.

Yes, the Lieutenant Governor—like so many of his predecessors—will likely find that office to be a "dead-end" street

Mrs. K. C. Henkle of Kenton, Ohio, does more than her share of war work. She and her husband run two farms at maximum production and with almost no outside help. In addition, Mrs. Henkle is chairman in her township for War Bond sales, for the Red Cross and for the combined scrap paper and grease salvage campaign. She is also a writer and has composed poems for War Bond and Red Cross programs over Stations WMRN, Marion, and WLW, Cincinnati.

The Grandmothers League was founded by General Marshall's wife and has been widely accepted as a worthy and unselfish Bond-buying drive.

THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

I am kind of an under-dog fancier. Lots of folks are the same, but just don't pop off and say anything about it—everybody is not so windy. But anyway, I am going to write a little essay on bankers.

You will look far and wide to find somebody more jumped on than bankers. There must have been some duck here and there, in the banking business sometime or other, that folks didn't think was shooty square, or something. I don't know about that. It is possible. However, you could run across a barber, or a plumber, or a cook, or most any trade, who is not a person you would want to loan ten bucks, or whom you would care to have in for dinner. But all in all, and if I was to pick out somebody to hold my gold watch and chain, when my back was turned, I would pick a banker every time—and so would the most people.

It has been kinda open season on bankers, for politicians. Bankers don't talk back much. If I was to give some of the old boys some advice, I'd say, "next time some jaybird starts heckling you, haul off with a haymaker." Folks like people who show spunk—and fight back.

Yours with the low down,

No patriotic American needs to be reminded that, in the Nation's interest and in his own, he must save his car.

He knows that no new cars have been made for more than two years... that the average car is now seven years old... that one out of every four cars now in use is ten years old or older!

Plainly, every single car must be kept rolling, because in a total war, every car and truck is a weapon of war.

To coax every last bit of usefulness from the aging engine, chassis, and tires of your car, you must have efficient maintenance service... the kind of distinguished service available at your Phillips 66 Service Station.

6 Stew-pendous Ways to Stretch Meat Rations

There's not a more versatile dish in the archives of American culinary art than the famous meat stew. Found on the tables of rich and poor alike, it is a standard item on the national bill of fare.

Even with American meat production at an all-time high, the multiple requirements of the armed forces, lend-lease, and civilians necessitate that meat be conserved and extended. The nation's cooks and homemakers, searching for ways to extend meat dishes and conserve precious ration points, have discovered that merely by adding one or two ingredients to the basic American stew they can achieve almost an endless variety of meat dishes with an international flavor.

Following are recipes for six stews which speak various languages:

Hungarian Goulash

- 1 pound beef (for stew)
- 2 medium onions, chopped
- Lard or drippings for browning
- 1 tablespoon paprika
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 2 cups water
- 4-6 potatoes, diced
- 1 teaspoon salt

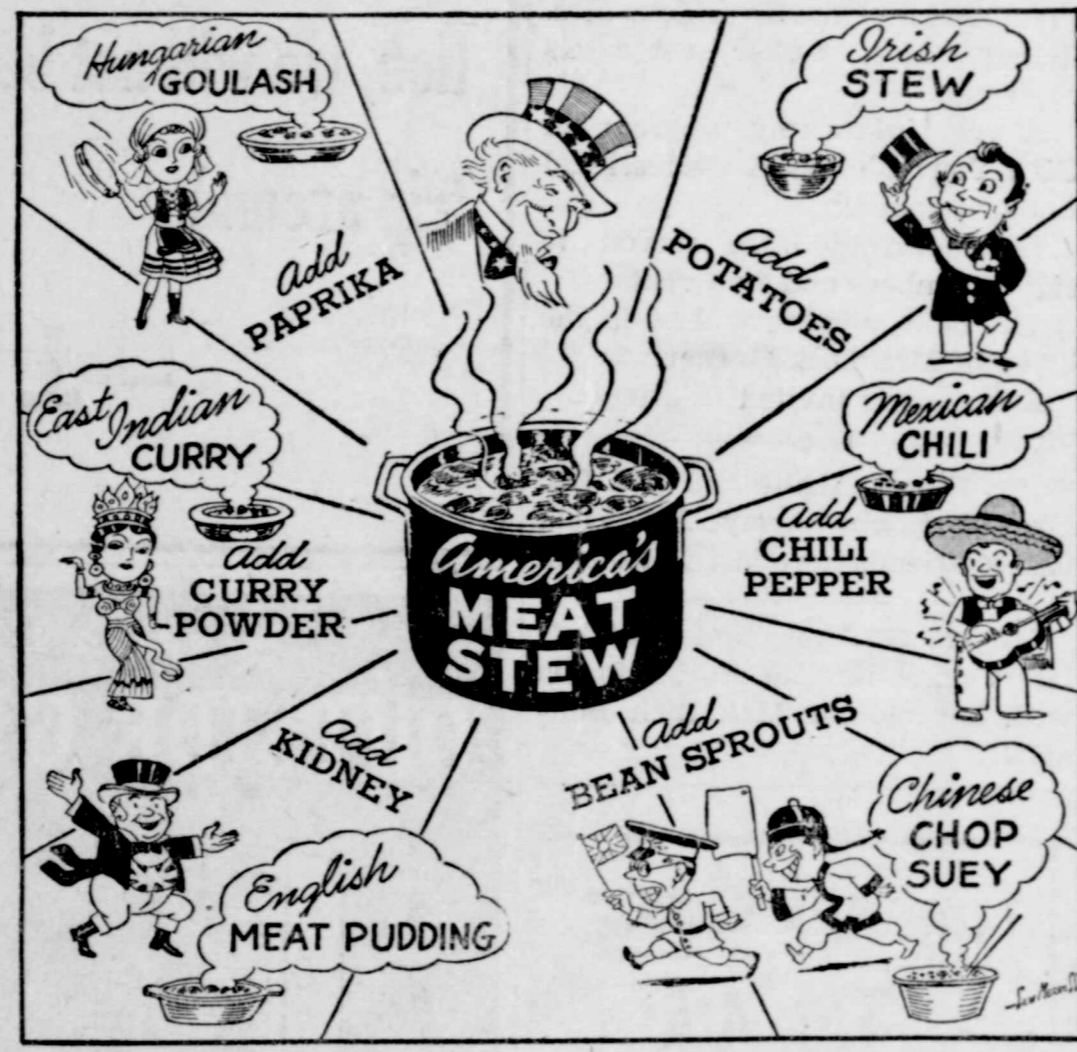

Cook onions in drippings about 5 minutes. Add the meat and seasonings and water. Simmer one hour. Add diced potatoes. Simmer until tender, about 30 minutes. Add bread dumplings if desired.

East Indian Curry

- 1 1/2 cups cubed lamb
- Lard or drippings for browning
- 3/4 cup chopped onion
- 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
- 1/2 cup chopped celery
- 1 clove garlic, finely chopped
- 1 tablespoon curry powder
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 2 cups lamb broth (stock made from bones removed from lamb roast)
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce

Cover meat with water and simmer until tender. Brown vegetables in drippings, then combine them with seasonings, broth, and meat. Simmer for 30 minutes. Thicken with flour. Serve the curry with rice.

STEW TALKS MANY LANGUAGES

English Meat Pudding

- 1 beef kidney
- 1 1/2 cups water or soup stock
- 1/2 pound chuck steak
- Lard or drippings for browning
- Salt and pepper

Wash kidney, cut into pieces. Cover with water and simmer about 30 minutes. Cut steak into strips and brown. Add one-half cup water and simmer until tender. Combine steak and kidney. Season. Thicken gravy. Serve with or without a top of pastry or biscuits.

Mexican Chili

- 1 pound coarsely ground or chopped beef
- Lard or drippings for browning
- 1/2 cup onion, chopped
- 1 tablespoon garlic, minced
- 2 tablespoons chili pepper
- 1 tablespoon paprika
- 1 cup tomatoes
- 3 cups cooked red beans

Chinese Chop Suey

- 1 1/2 pounds pork shoulder, cubed
- Lard or drippings for browning
- 1 cup celery, cut in 1-inch pieces
- 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
- 1 No. 2 1/2 can tomatoes
- 1 can bean sprouts
- 6 tablespoons cornstarch
- 2 tablespoons brown sauce
- 2 tablespoons soy sauce
- Salt and pepper

Brown pork. Add celery, green pepper, and tomatoes, and simmer about 30 minutes. Add drained bean sprouts. Thicken with cornstarch blended with brown sauce, soy sauce, and water. Season to taste. Serve with boiled rice.

Irish Stew

- 2 pounds lamb (for stew)
- Water to cover lamb
- 1/2 cup carrots, diced
- 1/2 cup turnips, diced
- 1 onion, sliced
- 4 cups potatoes, sliced or diced
- 1/2 cup flour
- Salt and pepper

Simmer lamb for 1 hour. Add vegetables and simmer for 30 minutes. Add potatoes and cook 30 minutes longer. Thicken gravy. Serve.

LOOKING AHEAD

BY GEORGE S. BENSON
President Harding College

America Leads

George Washington never rode a wheel. If he had lived until the bicycle was invented, he would have been 110 years old. In Washington's day the United States with its Constitution, its popular vote and its representative law-making bodies was laughed at by people who discussed it in far-away lands. They called it a queer government experiment in a frontier country. Now look at us.

Last week this column said that anybody who wanted to change the American system much was an enemy of humanity, and we promised to say why. The reason is that America leads the world in benefiting all mankind. Since George Washington's day, America has used freedom that he and his contemporaries protected with the Constitution, to show the world how to live and make progress.

High Achievement

Mortal man never created anything of more value to the race than America's system of open competition—Private Enterprise. Out of every 400 people on earth, 25 live in the United States, only 6.25 percent, but we send more young people to high school and college than all other countries combined. Our farmers are richer than Solomon. They never saw a golden scepter nor a jeweled crown perhaps, but their homes and barns hold many useful things that Solomon would have enjoyed but could not buy.

Things not available to Solomon which any American can get now through Private Enterprise are countless. Imagine: Solomon's personal car was horse-drawn; he had to guess what time it was on cloudy days; he never saw a movie and all the news he ever got was hearsay. The royal palace was not wired for electricity, had no telephone and no radio. The king ate what grew in Palestine and liked it because transportation and refrigeration were in the early stages of makeshift.

Nothing Is Perfect

Between Solomon's reign in Canaan and Washington's administration in U. S. A. (call it 2,500 years) there was surprisingly little gain in human well-being. But progress was made in America, where rewards of Free Enterprise inspired vast numbers of people to set their minds and hands to work doing worthwhile things. Out of it came the culture, convenience and wholesome enjoyments of the age in which we live.

America has passed through some periods that everybody in the country thought were bad. Our political leaders and industrial barons have made mistakes which anybody can see by looking backward. No longer ago than 1936 when employment was low, our jobless "unfortunates" drove to their relief work in private motor cars. When the American people's spirit was at its lowest, our national income was larger than that of six foreign countries—any six.

A Better System

For purposes of comparison with America's living standards, almost any citizen of the United States would select Europe, and rightly so. Europeans are most like Americans and best understood by most of us. I have often contrasted life here with existence in the Orient where I spent eleven years, but the differences are too marked for comparison. Asia is still in Solomon's time. Europe has advanced beyond Washington's day, but wages are three times as high in America, twice as high even in England, which is a highly industrialized country with an old culture. Working people in America have twice as much and live twice as well. Has America had access to more natural resources than Britain? No. Britain long dominated the world's resources. Nobody boasts that Americans are smarter than the British. America has only one advantage, namely, freedom which includes Free Enterprise. The system can be and is being improved, but nothing better has ever been tried.

THE SIGNS ARE CLEAR

During the decade of peace preceding the war, the Federal government was going deeper and deeper into debt. The public was beleaguered by bitter arguments from two schools of thought concerning government borrowing and government spending.

The "we-owe-it-to-ourselves" school claimed that it made no difference how high the debt goes because with proper "planned economy," debt is an asset rather than a liability.

A second school of thought argued that inordinate government borrowing leads to bankruptcy and loss of individual freedom.

A generation of voters has now reached maturity never knowing any other than a "borrowing" government. The country to all outward appearances is prosperous and the citizen is still free. However, in spite of appearances, the philosophy of wasteful spending has been proven wrong.

No one will longer claim that our public debt is a burden whose weight is barely felt. And government officials themselves cry that "easy money" government borrowing has made necessary a mountain of regulations to save the nation from "inflation."

The extent to which these regulations threaten individual liberty is not yet generally realized. Recently a Massachusetts meat wholesaler was accused of selling cuts of beef above OPA ceiling prices. He was convicted of criminal violation of the Emergency Price Control Act. The case was carried through to the United States Supreme Court, which held that a person so convicted could not challenge the constitutionality of the Act except within a limited period of time, and then only before an emergency court.

Thus does the grim result of the "owing it to ourselves" theory make itself felt in inflation and in arbitrary, freedom-destroying regulations. As the Portland Oregonian observes: "For the first time in the history of America, a citizen can be haled into court on a criminal charge and told that his denial of the constitutionality of the law is no defense."

"Surely it will be patent upon reflection that if the citizen can be refused the protection of the Constitution in this instance, he can be refused it in any and all cases. Nor does it matter how worthy the OPA aim may be, inflation would be preferable to a return to that slavery from which the blood of our forefathers rescued us."

This is a portent of national bankruptcy. It is still not too late to turn back if the fallacy of believing that unlimited debt does no harm, is abandoned, and government borrowing brought under control at the war's end.

LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

You know, this old Sooner, Mr. Ed Moore, is no ordinary hombre. You don't too often find outspoken fellows like him, bustin' in to the U. S. A. Senate. He is down there representing Oklahoma. He don't give a hoot about getting appointed to a Postmaster job or something, in case his people don't send him back to the Senate. He votes as he sees fit—nobody prompts him.

This Mr. Moore is an independent producer and farmer—he knows the oil business backward and forwards. He rose up there in the Senate the other day and told them an ear full. He told 'em that this "oil shortage" which is now being forced upon us is artificial and an out-an-out plan concocted to put the Govt. right smack and up to the hilt, in the oil business, all the way from production to marketing. And no foolin', he says, it is the planned plan.

Once the Govt. takes over our service stations and starts running them like the SEC and the OPA and the other outfits that boss us around, it is going to be too late to do anygood by getting mad. Now is the time to get hot under the collar and talk turkey to congress. Tell'em, and make it robust.

Yours with the low down,
Jo Serra

Save KITCHEN FATS

Give ammunition to a soldier!

To save kitchen fat seems a trivial thing, a small job compared to the tasks the soldier performs in battle. Yet if the housewife does not help by saving waste fats, the soldier can do nothing, for without ammunition he is helpless.

Report Excessive Auto Parts Charges To OPA

Under the new plan, truck operators should immediately report to the nearest ODT district office any alleged violation of the OPA price ceiling on truck parts. In reporting such cases, the following information should be given: Name of the truck operator; name and location of the parts dealer; date and time of sale; type of part or parts; the OPA ceiling price; the price asked by the dealer; and the price paid.

This information will be promptly transmitted to OPA enforcement agents for immediate investigation and appropriate action, the ODT official said. Illegal prices for parts contribute materially to the increased cost of operation of motor carriers, he said, adding that many complaints have been received of exorbitant charges for necessary parts.

The success of the new drive against price violations, it was emphasized, will depend on the fullest co-operation of the motor carriers.

In support of the Office of Price Administration's efforts to curb violations of price ceilings on automotive parts, Richard R. Wood, of Lubbock, Texas, district manager of the Division of Motor Transport of the Office of Defense Transportation, today asked truck operators to report all instances of excessive charges for new parts.

FORMER BROWNFIELD BOY MAKING GOOD AS MARKSMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Taylor, former residents of Tokio (but now residing on Rt. 1 Muleshoe, received a letter recently from their son, Pvt. Harold V. Taylor of Camp Roberts, Calif., dated May 9th, saying he had 9 more weeks of basic training. He had been firing the machine gun that week, making the highest score in his platoon, Model 117 on the course of firing the 30 calibre rifle.

Harold finished Brownfield High School with the Class of 1942, also one year at Texas Tech. He entered training at 18 years of age.

Save More Waste Fats

Governor Coke Stevenson last week issued an appeal to Texas housewives to save more Used Household fats. Texas, he said, was lagging by about 34% in producing its quota of this vital salvage.

Almost all of our import sources of fats and oils were cut off when Japanese occupied the Philippines and the Dutch East Indies. This stoppage presented the nation with a crucial problem in the manufacture of explosives, synthetic rubber, military medicines and countless other war-time necessities.

And the problem did not end there. Our allies also needed huge quantities of these fats and millions of pounds have been shipped to them under lend-lease. The United States not only had to become self-sustaining in a commodity which she normally imported but had to become an exporting nation. The conversion was a great one and made possible almost wholly through the efforts of the American housewife.

The Governor urged every Texas housewife to save at least one tablespoon of fat a day and help bring Texas to the top of her production quota.

The Herald joins the Governor in urging each and every housewife in Brownfield to back this Fat Salvage drive to the limit. Don't just save one tablespoon a day but every drop that is not necessary for your own cooking needs. Keep a tin can in your kitchen at all times. Pour your grease in it and when full bring it to your butcher.

MARY MAGEE AND S/SGT. JOE COBB WED IN LUBBOCK

Miss Mary Magee of Lubbock, daughter of Mrs. H. L. Megee of Pecos, and Staff Sergeant Joe Cobb of Lubbock army air field, and son of Mrs. Ann Cobb of Lubbock, were united in marriage in a ceremony at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the First Christian church in Lubbock with Rev. C. A. Johnson of Odessa officiating.

Pink gladioli decked the altar where the vows were exchanged and white candles furnished the light.

The bride wore an ashes of roses dress and an orchid. Mrs. Cobb is an English teacher at Lubbock high school. Sgt. Cobb is well-known here. He came here in 1929, and was a partner with his brother, Tom Cobb, in a department store.

Those attending the wedding from here were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cobb, Aurlia Ann, Don Thomas and Joe Paul and Mr. and Mrs. Sam White.

Jay Cees To Broaden Activities

At a meeting of the local Jaycees here Tuesday morning it was decided to add to and broaden the annual calf show, for next year, which they so successfully did this year, because of which they won the Trophy of the State convention held in Odessa, last April 21st. Details of which have not been worked out yet, but later announcements will be made. The Jaycees are putting on a membership drive, and it is suggested to the many that have expressed a desire to help in the calf show, to join the Jaycees, and thus aid in the civic affairs it sponsors and works at.

to increase their salaries by at least 15 per cent. This increase would cost the district something like 10,000.00. The net result would be that the addition cost to the tax payers of this school district would amount to something like $23,000.00. The result would be an increase in taxes for school purposes of around 40 per cent over the amount which you paid last year.

It is interesting to note that the present administration of Federal Government appears to be willing and even anxious to finance our local schools. A great many of school superintendents and a majority of our school teachers favor federal aid.

This is not hard to understand when you will consider that almost all our teachers are unpaid and are willing to accept almost any sort of system that would increase their pay to a proper level. We do not believe that there is any question but what we could obtain sufficient aid from the Federal Government to maintain our school system as it should be maintained. We do entertain some serious doubt as to the final benefits, if any, from financial aid so extended to us.

The Board of Trustees of the Brownfield Independent School District having presented all of the information at their disposal to the patrons and tax payers of the district, would like to hear from all persons interested in education. We very frankly admit that we do not know just what should be done under these circumstances but we do believe very strongly that the educational system should not fall into the hands of a few persons, who may be at the time in control of the finances of the Government, because we think that after federal money will come text books, Washington ruled school superintendents and principals and almost everything else that we do not want in connection with education. We think that the people of this community are better qualified and more entitled to say how their children should be educated and what books they should study than anyone else regardless of where they live and to what political party they may be affiliated.

All those who would like to express their opinion regarding this matter are invited to write to Mr. C. D. Ray, President of Brownfield Consolidated Independent School District.

leasure as he related stories of the old days and brought to life again glorious deeds done in the great southwest. His story of "Big Foot" Wallace and the Indians will be retold in many an army camp hereafter.

All the speakers of the evening, including (General Rogers and General Crain, Houston Crump and Col. Lee) were heard over American Forces Network through the courtesy of N. B. C.

Pleas Rogers drew a slightly nostalgic laugh when he told of the Negro soldier marching through Texas who said "I never saw a country with more clouds and less rain, more rivers and less water and more cows and less milk!"

Governor Coke Stevenson, back home in Texas, had not overlooked this occasion. He cabled: "Fighting Texans the word over and Texans at home join March 2 in respectful devotion to memory of our gallant forefathers who met hundred eight years ago. In name of all Texans I send greetings."

Houston Crump brought his listeners back from prairies to warring Britain when he told of the assistance given by British people to the American Red Cross. This dinner itself, this club and its operation owed much to the gallant British volunteers.

The party broke up at last, the men going on to a club dance, to the singing of "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You." Song leader was a "stray" who had wandered as usual on "State Nites" far from his home ranch—popular Bill Cruise, of Passaic, N. J., Mostyn Club Director.

The bluebonnets are blooming now in Texas. Professor had said in his address. Well, there wasn't a man present whose thoughts were no away over there in the great Lone Star State.

Brownfield was represented at the "Texas Nite" by Sgt. Carl R. Lewis.

Sgt. Carl R. Lewis is the son of Mrs. Ruth McCain and the grandson of Mrs. Jim Lewis. A daughter was born to him and Mrs. Lewis, the former Vernelle Patterson, on May 13th, in Shawnee, Okla., where she is making her home while Carl is away.

THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

I have been reading where somebody here and there is losing 100 dollars or 300 dollars every day or so—leaving it in an unlocked car or misplacing it somehow or other. As she looks to me, this is just another argument for a sales tax. If money is so plentiful that people can kick it around, then Uncle Sam just as well be getting his cut of it. That Old Boy certainly could use it.

Any time anybody is carrying 200 or 300 dollars around in his jeans, he is carrying too much. The safe place for that much money is either in a bank or in a war bond, and if it is in a war bond, the bond should be in the bank, too. And while we are on banks, you will go a long ways before you will find any place where they have more alert employees, and where you get nicer treatment.

If you have a hundred dollar bond or a few 20 dollar bills under the mattress or in a fruit jar, you better take heed and go down to the bank with them. No banker is paying me a nickel for writing this, but I think it is time somebody gave these boys a kind word, and a boost, so I do so.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA
