NO RESPONSE TO SCHOOL PROBLEM

It was learned this week that up to date, no response has been had to the statement of the Brownfield School Board, published two weeks ago. The only thing left is for the Board to proceed, as they deem best, and it seems the public are well satisfied with their judgement. As the Board so frankly laid their dilemma in the public's lap, no one should complain at their future action.

Tuesday Was D-Day Monday to Be B-Day

The long looked for Invasion of Europe by the Allied liberating forces, came Tuesday morning, when 4,000 ships and 11,000 planes sailed across the English Channel and landed hundreds of thousands of American, English and Canadian soldiers, with armed equipment and tanks, trucks and big guns. Of course, these ships will make round trip and trip, taking re-enforcements and supplies. The largest army ever to make such a move. Its the stroke that kills the Fuehrer, perhaps beginning of the end of that part of the war. Our Armies have struck. We must keep them striking. The Axis is the anvil, the Allies have the hammer. It takes millions of tons of material, time and ships to equip and build up the mighty machine we have there. It will take millions of tons food, equipment, material and munitions to keep them going. We can all help, by buying war bonds and more bonds, and saving waste fats, scrap metal, waste paper and saving gasoline and oil.

Monday begins the Fifth War Bond Drive, for 16 billion, a mighty sum, but we have a mighty Army overseas, and a mighty nation to back them up. The success of their might, depends on the might the home folks put in it. Our local business men have been liberal in paying for the ads for the bond drive. Committees are devoting time to it. The following have been designated to receive funds on bond sales. All of the workers ask, that everyone aid them to raise the $475,000.00 quota for Terry County. If they don't see you next week, kindly call on some of them.

Brownfield, business district, H. M. Pycatt; Special Committee, O. L. Peterman; Residential District, Mrs. Walter Hord and Mrs. Jack Bailey; Oil field committee, T. M. Price; Rural, A. L. Hartzog; Meadow, Fred Hinson; Pool, Mrs. J. J. Gunter; Needmore, Mrs. H. A. Bates; Wellman, C. H. Heafner; Union, Ed Evans; Gomez, Mrs. Kellie Sears; Johnson, Mrs. R. D. Jones; Tokio, Mrs. F. M. Ellington; Pleasant Valley, Mrs. W. Gandy; Harmony, Mrs. C. G. Garrett; Challis, Mrs. Money Price; Drive Chairman, Leo Holmes.

Raymond Benson, S 2/c, of San Diego, California is visiting his parents, the J. P. Bensons and Miss Margaret Stephens. He was honored with a dinner Tuesday evening by Miss Stephens at the home of her aunt, Mrs. C. T. Tyler. Monroe Rowden and Joyce Cameron were guests.

CIVIL AERO BOARD

Hearing before the Civil Aeronautics Board on Southwest Airways' application to establish feeder airlines in Texas and Oklahoma, which would out Brownfield on the nation's airmap, will be held in approximately 90 days, the Terry County Herald was advised today by company officials.

The Board already has set June 7th as the date for a pre-hearing conference on its application, the company reported, and his is expected to be followed by formal hearing within three months.

Extension of air transportation to the Southwest's smaller cities and towns thus is moving with unexpected speed, and this becomes one of the very first areas in the entire nation to be considered for feeder routes.

Southwest officials were strongly opposed to view this as "a reorgnization that the Board attaches great need to expanding the Southwest's air transportation system at the earliest possible time."

Establishment of the routes is expected to be of considerable benefit to Brownfield, as they would provide fast, frequent air service to numerous other cities in this area, as well as to Brownfield. Passengers are to be carried on Southwest's planes in addition to air mail and air express, the latter two services to be rendered where landing facilities are not available.

THE THUNDER OF INVASION IS ROLLING WESTWARD

"INVASION IS ON!" Each minute as you read this, our American boys are hitting the beach-heads—giving their all that we may remain free men and women. Our prayers to a merciful God follow each and every one of them.

We here at home have more to do than beat our breasts and lament. We MUST help! We CAN! We WILL!

Let every American REDOUBLE his or her efforts on every War Program. Only Maximum tempo is sufficient to assure complete Victory at the earliest moment.

Buy EXTRA bonds. Save and prepare every bit of waste paper. Don't waste even a spoonful of used kitchen fats. Add to your Red Cross Donation. WORK HARDER! Sacrifice for God and Country!

There should be NO GRANSTANDS in the grim game of war, NO ONLOOKERS. Every man woman and child is needed in the LINE marching to Victory and Freedom.

Volunteers Needed On Price Panel Board

County-wide Price Panels of the War Price and Rationing Boards throughout the nation are stepping up their activities in an all-out effort to keep the cost of living at the level that has been maintained for the past year. Boards in the Lubbock District are cooperating in every way with this move, the Office of Price Administration has announced.

Stressing the need for more price panel assistants, Howard R. Gholson, District Director of the OPA, has announced that any man or woman who can volunteer a few hours each week to this community program should contact the Price Panel of his Local Board. "Whenever it is at all possible, we must keep the price control program on a neighbor-to-neighbor basis. The Local Boards need many more volunteers if the program is to be carried out as it should be," Gholson stated.

TEXAS STATE GUARD TO GO ON MANUEVERS

Dealers May Secure Tires Without Ration Certificate

During the six-week period from June 1 to July 1 dealers may receive new passenger tires and tubes from manufacturers without giving tire rationing certificates, the District Office of Price Administration announced today.

Officials pointed out that this move in no way changes the present method through which a motorist obtains a tire or tube certificate from his Local Board. The action was designed to facilitate the shipment of new passenger tires and tubes from manufacturers to dealers and will bring about better distribution.

Announcement was also made that any person desiring to enter tire business and intending to acquire allotment from a manufacturer under this ruling must apply to the District OPA for recognition as a dealer. This will make it possible for tire dealers who closed their establishments several years ago because of the limited tire distribution to re-enter business and obtain new passenger tires and tubes on a basis similar to the allotment provided for existing dealers.

All tire certificate replenishment portions, Parts B, dated before April 1, 1944, are to be invalid after July 15, 1944, unless they have been received by the manufacturer on or before July 15, officials stated.

Here's Portion of Drive Not Shown On Maps or Charts

By KENNETH L. DIXON

Associated Press Staff Writer ON THE ITALIAN FRONT, May 20 (Delayed) — You read about the big push in the papers. Maybe you understand what it means to the soldier, maybe you don't, being as far from Italy as you are.

Anyhow, here are a few notes which have to do with maps and pins or world strategy, but which are a part of the big push just the same.

"It means starting forward in the night through barbed wire, minefields and booby traps, which have been months in preparation . . . Seeing out of the corner of your eye but refusing to look when bursts of exploding flame mark the spot to right or left where someone took his last step . . . Gritting your teeth, sweating, praying, swearing, shaking, swallowing—but still going forward.

(In some cases our engineers have stealthily cleared out minefields ahead of the troops in the night, and when the men charged across them they found the Germans had resown the mines just as stealthily.)

It means when the enemy alerts to the advance the barrage belts in the night . . . They close in on you shaking and wrecking the whole world . . . And then you disperse and take cover. There is no cover so you scratch frantically at the dirt to get just a little protection. (You used to read about such things in the middle of them, but you always thought about the shells bursting around you . . . Now you know that often they don't just fall around you—and you know the next ones probably will burst right on you.)

It means listening to the screams of the wounded and not being able to turn back to help them . . . And you're not sure that maybe it isn't easier to keep going ahead than to face the horror of what happened to those who now remain behind.

No Screams In Training (They don't have screams back at the training camp.)

It means hearing the German machine guns and machine pistols firing from well-protected nests somewhere ahead . . . And knowing that someone will have to go in and try to get them . . . That it may be you and if it is the odds are that you'll never go home again . . .

It means stepping on bodies at night and over or around them in daylight . . . Some are newly slain bodies but not all; some are bloated remains of men who died fighting over these sectors months ago . . . And you notice that in death there isn't a great deal of difference in friendly and enemy bodies.—Lubbock Avalanche.

MORE WOMEN THAN MEN VOTERS

Geo. W. Neill

The U. S. Census Bureau has just revealed there is over half a million more women than men voters this year. But with millions of men in armed service, overseas, and in war plants out of voting bounds, gives us a feminine majority. We now see the hidden wisdom of recruiting so many WACCS, WAVES, SPARS, and SPATS and send them overseas too. Men are demanding equal suffrage. The women figure if they can man the war plants, they can man the polls, or out poll the men. It's just dawned on us why women were so reluctant to join military service. And the need of sending ballots to men overseas. And what was meant by losing our civil liberties and all this stuff about the domestic front. We have been warned about changing the "forms" in our government. They're just putting one by us, we were just too little and too late again.

Oh well, some are demanding to clean house, and who is more adept than women. Some complaining about paternal government, we'll just try a material one. If it don't suit, they can change their minds quicker than the draft board can theirs. We used to sing "let the women do the work," now they'll sing, "let the women do the government." And too, those who are doing KP duty while away, may be in demand, on return. Times do change!

Deputies Internal Revenue Collectors, Hale and Barclay, of the Lubbock office, were here Tuesday and Wednesday, assisting a large number of people in correcting their various revenue reports, with that department.

Mrs. Frank Ballard left Tuesday to visit her sister in Plainview.

BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS

The Church School attendance last Sunday was 357 present in time to be counted, and we hope to exceed 400 present next Sunday.

There will be a school on Training Union methods of work conducted in this church next week supervised by Miss Clara May with competent helpers. Miss May is an approved State worker and should have a large attendance and cooperation from the entire church. Mr. Grant, the general director of the Training Union work, urges that we take this opportunity to use the help being sent to us by giving the classes large attendance for this study course.

The proposed addition to consist of five rooms upstairs to house our Young Peoples Department, has been given the approval of the government agency and the next thing in order will be raising the cash to pay for it and the opening of bids for its construction.

When complete this will give this Department a modern home for their meetings and it is desired to furnish it with the equipment necessary for their work, and with this improvement the actual attendance can be accommodated comfortably to 500 and when we grow more it will be necessary to build again.

The pastor greatly appreciates the cooperation that he is receiving from the people here and greatly desires that all Missionary Baptist moving to the community shall make this their church home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Cook of Snyder are visiting in the home of their son Hugh Cook and family.

To the People of this Community

The next time you write to your fighting man or fighting woman tell him or her what you have done about the Fifth War Loan. You can take the word of General Eisenhower that your man or woman in uniform will be deeply interested. Your War Bond buying is a good tip-off to them about the state of affairs in your home. The headlines in this newspaper on the progress of the drive, the items about participating individuals, the character of the Fifth War Loan special events—all these things reflect the morale back home. Do you like to read a sorry headline about the invasion fronts. Our fighting forces, made up of individuals with the same reactions to good and bad as you, will not be heartened to read: "Fifth War Loan Lags." Your silence in your letter about your part in the Fifth War Loan will mean non-interest, perhaps non-participation to the recipients. It's up to you to make your letters cheerful. Write today. Write often. Write about your war work, your war support. Double your best previous War Bond buying record and then shout it to the house-top—just to that special service man. THE EDITOR.

There he goes again—out to pour more destruction on the Axis—once more to face the death of enemy fighters and flak!

He won't hesitate to go out on his fifty-sixth or his hundred and fifty-sixth mission. He knows he might not come back, but he keeps on going—giving more and more until the Hitler and Tojo crews are ready to "call it quits."

This is only your fifth mission—and a mission which is mighty easy in comparison with the ones he makes every week! Stay in the fight by welcoming the Victory Volunteers—at least double your Bond purchases and then keep on. Your buying means "bombs away" for the Axis!

Yours is written on every Bond you buy in the 5TH WAR LOAN!

THE stepping stones to victory are red with blood of American heroes. Tarawa... Salerno... Cassino. Their patriotism is written in blood.

Your patriotism is written on every Bond you buy in this vital 5th War Loan. Your name on a War Bond means you're behind our invasion troops.

Help hasten the day of Victory by investing in extra War Bonds now. Invest in more than you've ever purchased before. Invest $100, $200, $300, $400. Those who can, must invest thousands of dollars.

For this is the biggest job we've ever had to do. We can't fail our fighting men as they plunge into the biggest and bloodiest struggle of all.

WELCOME THE VICTORY VOLUNTEERS when they call to tell you about War Bonds

BATTLE CRY!

CHINESE SOLDIERS have a battle cry: "Gung-Ho!" Literally translated, means "Working together!"

In Americanese, it means Teamwork.

And Teamwork is a word every American understands—in peacetime as in war. In this war, it means perfect understanding among our Government, our service men, our home front.

It means our confidence in our fighters' ability. It means their faith in us to provide the material to do the job.

It means buying War Bonds. And a very good buy they are, too.

For every three dollars we invest in War Bonds, Uncle Sam promises four back in ten years. There's no more honorable promise in the world!

Buy War Bonds. They're a wonderful investment—for you as well as America!

LOOKING AHEAD

BY GEORGE S. BENSON
President, Harding College

Peace Without Panic

Business depression is not the price of peace. If peace could be bought with agreements to undergo severe financial reverses and give up many things we have now, the American people would accept the terms bravely, almost unanimously. Peace would be worth it many times over but peace can not be bought that way.

If war should end tomorrow, practically everybody in the United States would meet a sudden setback in money matters. However, the best economic minds in this country believe such a calamity can be avoided, that hard times after this war are not necessary. Among them are Bernard M. Baruch, John M. Hancock and others whose profound knowledge of economics and understanding of business are nowhere disputed.

Demonstrated Wisdom

The recently published Baruch report, of which Mr. Hancock is co-author and in which many distinguished students of business had a hand, is too big and important to cover in a one-column discussion. It sets up provisions absolutely necessary to post-war prosperity, essential to the life of Democracy and Private Enterprise. It proposes things this column has upheld as sound principles for two years.

At present America has prosperity. Factories of this country have never been busier than now; jobs were never easier to get; workers were never better paid. Many people are living well, dressing well, setting good tables. Workers always manage to live somehow but now, when they live well, rural people prosper. Farmers get good prices for as much as they can grow because factories are busy.

Recent Scare Copy

This scares many people: Two-thirds of what American factories are making these days, 66% measured by dollar volume (call it 50 billion dollars a year) consists of war goods—stuff nobody needs in time of peace. It is a staggering figure. But why be guessing how many jobs peace will destroy if, as the report implies, peace can be made to create an equal number of new jobs or more?

It is no secret that work means wealth; that busy people fare better than idle ones. To save our way of life, we Americans must be kept busy, but how? The report says by making it possible for factory owners to keep their plants going. The program has two main features: (1) to get government out of business and (2) to facilitate the reconversion of war plants to peacetime production.

Hope and Assurance

All manufacturers of war goods will be anxious to switch quickly into peacetime pursuits if possible. Government can help (a) by terminating war contracts promptly and paying plant owners for most of their war work before finishing all the tedious details of final settlement, (b) by moving government-owned machinery from privately-owned plants, clearing decks for peacetime production, and (c) by cash loans.

Moral support can come from Washington also. (a) By getting entirely out of business, government can encourage private competition most effectively. (b) By systematic disposal of excess war materials, government can save many markets from ruin. (c) By fixing a ceiling on taxes, government can keep many businesses going that otherwise would die. Sound economy, hard work and good sense will save Democracy and guarantee prosperity. Coming chapters of Looking Ahead will discuss some of these provisions, one at a time.

Fred Erisman Announces for Attorney General

LONGVIEW, May 30 — Fred Erisman of Longview, now serving his 3rd consecutive unopposed term as criminal district attorney, 124th Judicial District, has announced his candidacy for attorney general of Texas. Erisman is a former city attorney of Longview, has had 13 years general legal experience, and is licensed to practice law before the Supreme Court of the United States, the Supreme Court of the State of Texas, and all federal and state courts. He is now president of the district and county attorneys' association of Texas.

Erisman's record as prosecuting attorney of the 124th district is outstanding. Although oil producing Gregg county is the third smallest county in Texas, under his vigorous prosecution it ranks among the top 10 counties in the state for number of persons committed to the penitentiary and leads the entire state for prosecutions under the habitual criminal act.

Thirty-five years of age, Erisman has made five unsuccessful attempts to enter military service. He is married and has two children. The family lives on a farm seven miles from Longview. Born in Fort Worth, Texas, he attended public schools in Greenville, and was graduated from Central high school in Fort Worth. He was graduated from Texas Christian University in 1929, having worked his way through school, and then attended Brown University at Providence, Rhode Island. He has been a member of the official board of the First Christian Church in Longview for 12 years, and is the teacher of one of the largest men's Sunday School classes in East Texas.

As president of the district and county attorneys' association, Erisman has conducted a widespread campaign on juvenile delinquency, advocating a constructive plan of "Crime Prevention Through Education" as a means of decreasing the number of juveniles convicted annually in Texas.

Deeply concerned with post-war crime conditions, Fred Erisman has advocated improved working conditions for peace officers in Texas, and modernizing the code of criminal procedure and criminal statutes now controlling apprehension and trial of persons charged with crime.

Erisman's strong advocacy of local self government, and return to fundamental principles of government has occasioned East Texans to be reminded of another Gregg county attorney — James Stephen Hogg—who, also was a great champion of the rights of citizens and state rights.

GOMEZ HOME DESTROYED BY FIRE

The farm home owned by J. T. Whitley and one of the oldest houses, in the old town of Gomez, was totally destroyed by fire about midnight, Thursday.

The house was occupied by B. H. Bartley, and the family of his sister. The latter, the blind, awakened by the heat, aroused the rest of the family barely in time to escape, with only night clothing. All their personal effects were destroyed. Fortunately none were hurt.

It was thought cause of fire was defective electric wiring, only recently installed by the REA.

NOW FOR THE BIG PUSH!

IT'S "ZERO HOUR"

ON THE HOME FRONT, TOO!

THIS IS IT! This is the big push you have been waiting for! This is the "zero hour"! Our fighting men are ready—ready to strike anywhere... anytime... anyhow... BAR NOTHING!

What about you? Are you ready to match this spirit with your War Bond purchases? Every bond you buy is so much more power behind the big push... the push that will send Hitler and Tojo into oblivion.

Get behind the invasion drive! Invest MORE than ever before! Double... triple... what you've done in any previous drive. The job is big—you've got to dig!

Dishpan Hints

Right way to use soap in the dishpan is the way a chef adds seasoning—just enough for perfect results. Not a speck more or less. Remember, soap is made of precious war materials.

To keep from wasting soap, use it in proportion to the amount of water and the greasiness of the dishes. If suds die down, add a little more soap, swish it around with a mop or shaker to get foamy bubbles.

UNKNOWN SOLDIER HAS A BUDDY NOW—

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—The Washington Evening Star noted Memorial Day with this original poem superimposed upon a picture of the Arlington monument:

OTHER UNKNOWN SOLDIER
By Stanley Kimmel

Move over, Buddy—
Yeah, it's me, the other Unknown Soldier.

Yuh didn't think I'd get here, did yuh?
But made it.
Yeah, it took a long time—
But I made it.

Say, Buddy, how is it out here,
Out here in Arlington,
Yeah, I been here before,
But not like this.
I was a kid,
My folks brought me to see yuh.

It was summer,
June I think.
There was trees and flowers,
And a clear sky—
Just like today, Buddy.

We'd come to Washington
From a small town out West
To see the sights;
My folks never travel'd much,
Too poor.
Guess it was the only trip
They ever took.

But me! I'm like yuh, Buddy,
I've been places. Seen things!
Oran! Casablanca! Tunisia!
Salerno! Anzio! Cassino!

Sure—I'll skip it—
Didn't mean to distrub yuh,
Talkin like this.

Listen Them's footsteps, ain't they?
Some other folks bringin' their kid
To see us.
Hope we never have to make room for him.

Sure—I'll skip it—
Didn't mean to distrub yuh—
Ain't crowdin' you, am I, Buddy?

Why Farmers Should Buy War Bonds

by Richard L. Adams
Professor of Farm Management
University of California

WITH net farm income now about three times that of 1938-1940, farmers and ranchers are in an outstandingly fine financial position to buy War Bonds to an extent far beyond the total—good as it is—already reached.

In the first place, it's the patriotic thing to do. There's no real sacrifice in using money to "back the attack." What is a loan of one's cash compared to the sacrifices of the boys who are taking on more than a man-sized job?

Secondly, it's the wise thing to do. If history repeats itself—and I for one firmly believe it will—these present-day high net incomes can, after the war is over, go into a "tail-spin" to levels far below what is deemed normal. Over the past one hundred years agricultural earnings have been at so-called normal levels for three to four years for each year of high returns. And note that these returns are net—that sum remaining after farming expenses have been paid. This allowance is made for higher costs—of labor, of supplies, of equipment, of taxes.

Without doubt present earnings of most farmers are the highest in the history of United States agriculture. Today's high returns to agriculture make good reading. But with the increased earnings there is bound to be a marked rise in prices for farm properties, in speculative buying of farms, and (again if history repeats itself) in a marked increase in the real estate mortgage debt, followed by mounting foreclosures if and when payments of interest and installments on principal cannot be met.

Contrary to the views held by some farmers, it is extremely doubtful that we are on a new and permanently higher economic level. World War I was proof of this. So the wise farmer, looking ahead and planning for his future, will reduce his debts to manageable proportions if and when lessened incomes must again be faced; resist the temptation to speculate in farm lands; and create reserves.

The reference to "resist speculating" doesn't mean no buying. There may be need to enlarge a farm, or to acquire additional lands for business reasons. But caution suggests that one not be caught in the excitement of a rising tide of buying merely for speculation's sake.

That reserve fund can be created by purchase of Bonds. Money thus "salted away" can create a cash reserve for use when times may not be so good. It will serve as "an anchor to windward" for times when cash is an asset. And when isn't it? Bonds can eventually be used for needed repairs or improvements. Bonds can supply the "stake" to set sons up in business once they are mustered out of service.

Agriculture is for the time being in a strong financial position. Farmers, these days, are in a position to accumulate substantial "stockpiles" of crops, livestock, and livestock commodities, but, as well, of good United States Bonds. Think it over. Then invest to your limit in order to insure a real future for your country, yourself, and your children.

THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

My essay today is Antiques. Antiques means ancient, antiquated, old-fashioned, so you see there is leeway. You take it like when you used to clink a couple of 20-dollar gold pieces in your ears pocket—that is a sample of something "ancient." But partner, clinking 2 pieces of gold coin gave you a nice and safe feeling, but now they may slap you in jail for doing so.

But to get ahead with my antiques, there is the word "antiquated," it means something sorta out of vogue like maybe a hoop-skirt, while "old-fashioned" is used for something that is old but most likely nice, like where in a family style dinner the soup tureen was on the table and not hid in the kitchen.

I started my research to find out why your sweet charming better-half will dig up any amount for a 100-year bedstead, while she won't pay 2 bits for a 10-year old hat. All you can get for the latter is a snicker, but for the bedstead with real worm holes made by a bona fide worm, you get 200 bucks. But for my sign-off—it will be a great day when antique gold returns—and it is not illegal to clink and jingle same.

Yours with the low down,

It Happened To Cotton

Here in Dallas, the one-time cotton capital of the nation, in a state producing annually 350,000,000 of cotton wealth, a third within 200 miles of Dallas, in a city priding itself recent fame as a leading style and sportswear center, an entire evening was devoted to extolling the merits of rayon and other competitive fibers without according cotton a place on the program. That this could happen in a city largely built by cotton dollars, a city which annually sponsors the three-day Cotton Research Congress, set up to keep the cotton industry from possible collapse, is a virtually fighting for existence.

Where were cotton's spokesmen on that memorable occasion featuring the dedication of the new School of Design at Southern Methodist University? The new school and the Institute of Technology and Plant Industry, cooperating with the National Cotton Council's research program, should be able to do much to restore cotton's lost prestige in the field of fashion.

Cotton's friends are well aware that this is an age of technological progress. They do not ask special favors for cotton. They believe, however, that the South's great staple should be given an equal chance to hold its rightful place in the national economy solely upon its merits.

Noted editors and publishers of the nation's leading fashion magazines—Vogue, Glamour, Charm, Harper's Bazaar and others—many of them style-wise women, had come to Dallas, metropolis of the Southwest's cotton empire. For several it was their first visit to Dallas. With National Cotton Week scheduled for May 22-27, and a three-day Cotton Congress to open in this city during July, they wondered why cotton was not strongly represented on the program. So did the few friends of cotton who were present, but who were not accorded opportunity to extol the great staple's utilities. These friends, however, hope that it was all an oversight and that cotton will be given its proper place on future style and fashion programs. —Dallas News

NEW BAKING PROCEDURE

COLLEGE STATION.—Recent mixing and baking tests have shown that most homemakers need to change their order of procedure in making cakes and cookies. Vanilla and other extracts will give a more even and lasting favor if they are added to the fat when it is being creamed. Ordinary recipes direct that the vanilla be added last to a batter.

Hazel Phipps, specialist in food preparation for the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, says these recent studies show that fats combine with and retain better than other ingredients the essential oils known as "flavoring" or "extract."

I Give You Texas

By Boyce House

Yes, there were lots of free attractions in our town when a boy was growing up 40 years ago.

There was the man gifted with "second sight," who permitted himself to be blindfolded and then drove a buggy, drawn by a spirited pair of horses, (the best in the local livery stable), through the town.

And the hypnotist who put a man to sleep on a Monday in a show-window and placed a placard therein, "Will awake at 10 am Wednesday." He did, too.

Once, when the cornerstone was going to be laid for the new high school, the Government came to our town. He was met at the depot by a band and was conveyed in an open carriage to the scene of the ceremony. The mayor presided and introduced the superintendent of the schools and he introduced our leading lawyer and he introduced the Governor.

The greatest man spoke for an hour, in a loud voice and with much arm-waving, eulogizing the heroes of the Confederacy and the noble women of our beloved Southland.

Then there was the "human dummy" in the front window of the leading store, who lifted his arms with a jerking, mechanical motion and who would pay $5 to anyone who could make him smile.

Occasionally, a tribe of Gypsies would come to our town. Women in their red-and-green- silk costumes, with jewels dangling from their ears, would tell fortunes. They would also "bless" money—and, somehow, or other, if the citizen didn't keep alert, the money had a way of disappearing.

It was commonly believed that they kidnapped children. So after the gypsies had left, the mothers counted their boys and girls, and the men took a census of the town's horses.

Once, an Indian baseball team came aong. They were amazingly fast on the bases and soundly trounced the home team.

Another time, the "original Boston Bloomer Girls" visited us, too. (There were six such teams touring the land at the time, each of which was the "original"). A baseball team consisting of girls was something to marvel at, this being long before the days of lady truck-drivers and lady-workers. We were somewhat disillusioned to find that the pitcher and the catcher, however, were mere men. Of course, the Bloomer Girls beat our team. Very few ladies went to the game as they disapproved of members of their sex wearing bloomers—the one-piece bathing suit being yet many years away.

Life was eventful, all right, in those days.

Mr. and Mrs. Lem Yates and children have moved to Roy, N. M. Mr. Yates will be engaged in farming and ranching there.

Bettie Louise Yeatts of Meadow is spending the week end with her cousin, Joan Watts.

Mrs. Jessie McLaurin of Odonnell visited with Mrs. E. D. Yeatts Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Adams of Bartlesville, Okla., is visiting Mrs. Adam's sister, Mrs. Vada Jennings, and mother, Mrs. W. L. Pace.

It Looks Fishy

A great many people were astonished by the proposal of the Secretary of Interior to give the government's $20,000,000,000 worth of war industries to the returning soldiers. Of course, this would involve a gigantic government-controlled holding company.

Giving away industries "would be a revised edition of the Homestead Act and the land provisions of the reclamation Law," said the Secretary, although he admitted that perhaps the first directors of the experiment would have to be appointed by the government.

It is hard to see any similarity between such a proposal and the homestead law under which a man got a piece of land of which he was absolute owner, free from government interference or directors. The homesteader became an independent citizen owning a piece of property in fee simple, which he could dispose of as he wished, and for any price he wished.

pany would be made up of war industries, most of which could not be applied to peacetime pursuits without heavy reconversion investments. It is probable the serviceman would even be prohibited from selling his stock, in order to assure continued government monopoly and operation of the properties.

It looks like this proposal to "give" the serviceman something, is a blind to keep the government in business, using the serviceman as a tool to accomplish that end.

Joe T. Whitley and wife returned Sunday from visit to relatives at Gorman.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Tankersly and family are in Roswell, N. M., this week.

Poison for Garden Insects

COLLEGE STATION.—A good yield from a Victory garden depends largely upon the gardener's success in controlling the insects which prey upon young, tender plants. A full growth of foliage, especially with potatoes, is necessary because the leaves are the means of conveying food and energy to the roots. Insects damage leaves by chewing or sucking the juices and control should be applied as soon as they appear.

Lead arsenate, used either as a dust or spray, is the most effective poison for potato insects. According to Paul Gregg, assistant entomologist for the A. and M. College Extension Service, it gives a good kill, sticks to the leaves well, and gives protection for two or three weeks unless washed off by rain. Three tablespoonfuls of poison to one gallon of water makes a satisfactory spray and requires less of the poison than dusting. But Gregg suggests that if the latter method is used the plants should be dusted liberally. Cryolite may be used with worms until heads begin to form. The poison then should be changed to rotenone, which is harmless to humans. Cryolite may be dusted on the plants or used as a spray by mixing three tablespoonfuls with one gallon of water. Applications should be repeated at weekly intervals.

The first generation of the squash bug is appearing on cucumber and squash vines. As a simple means of control, Gregg suggests picking the adult bugs off the plants before they can hatch another brood. There won't be many and they are easy to catch in the early morning or late afternoon. Then supply Black Leaf 40 according to directions on the bottle to dispose of the young. This should be done without delay the bugs multiply as the plants grow. County Extension agents who are familiar with methods of control are prepared to assist gardeners with their insect problems.

YOU ARE LUCKY

Schemes for the socialization of medicine permit gambling with a large number of votes from people who are of necessity uninformed on the scientific issues involved. Medicine and health should never be a political issue. Medical science and progress know no political limitations.

The American Medical Association will hold its 94th Annual Session in Chicago in June. The progress that has been made in unregimented American medicine has been phenomenal. Reading over the titles of papers to be presented, one is astounded at the number of life-saving names and medical practices that are now familiar to all citizens, which were never dreamed of a short generation ago.

Yes, indeed, American medicine is not only keeping abreast of the times, but ahead of the times in its discoveries and techniques, and in its plans to cooperate in making them available to all the people.

If you still live in the United States, or are in its armed services, you are lucky, for you have access to the world's best medical resources.

Why a Farmer Should Buy and Keep War Bonds

by Gabriel Lundy
Head, Dept. of Agricultural Economics
South Dakota State College

PATRIOTISM, willingness to combat harmful inflation, and a desire to build up a reserve of post-war buying power will impel the farmer to buy and keep War Bonds.

Farmer loyalty will express itself not only in maximum production of necessary food and fiber for the winning of the war. Farmer loyalty will also express itself in the equally necessary and patriotic duty to invest cash with which the government can purchase both food and war equipment. Fortunately farmers are receiving higher prices and larger incomes. This has enabled many of them to reduce old debts to manageable amounts or to acquire surplus cash for Bond purchases.

A sense of responsibility toward the need of the nation for funds will urge farmers to purchase War Bonds to the limit of their resources.

Both direct self-interest and patriotism dictate the purchase of Bonds as a means to prevent inflation. During all our large wars we have had high war prices followed by very low prices and depression some years later. During World War I many farmers and others unwisely used the enlarged income to bid up the prices of farm land. As a result the farm mortgage debt was more than doubled. Then when post-war prices dropped very low many farmers became unable to pay, and lost their farms through foreclosure.

A repetition of this calamity can be avoided by investing in War Bonds instead of buying land at inflated prices and on credit.

The danger of inflation, however, is not limited to land. It is also important not to bid up the prices of other things. Price inflation and price collapse in every line are harmful. Such harm can be avoided by diverting surplus funds away from the markets for scarce commodities and into War Bonds.

Financing the war by means of heavier taxes would be more anti-inflationary, but since Congress has decided in favor of Bonds it is our duty and privilege to invest in War Bonds.

Good farm management and self-interest as well as patriotism will urge the farmer to buy and keep War Bonds. If prices fall after this war as they did after our other large wars, the farmer with a reserve in Bonds will be in a ideal economic position. Farm buildings and machinery are wearing out faster during the present war period than during normal times due to difficulties in obtaining needed material and labor for repairs and replacements. Farmers should now be putting money in Bonds to cover these costs. About 10 percent of the total machinery investment and about 4 percent of the total farm building investment should be saved each year to cover wear and depreciation. With lower prices, farm equipment, new buildings and new furniture and household equipment will be at the farmer's disposal for less money after the War than now.

Furthermore, if he holds his Bonds until maturity, his money will be increased by one-fourth. With more cash for lower prices, the Bond-investing farmer will then have cash to make his farm work easier and more productive. His money will also yield him more in home comforts, education for the children, or in the purchase of a farm for the son.

The danger of war-induced inflation does not end with the actual fighting. Post-war inflation is fully as threatening. Large-scale conversion of production from the purchase of articles, commodities, etc., before industry has had time to convert fully to peace-time production, will be undesirable. By holding his Bonds longer, the farmer or other Bond-holder will contribute to the elimination of both a wild "boom" and a subsequent depression.

Agriculture and industry are intimately interrelated and interdependent. The government is now industry's big customer. After the war, farmers will be big buyers of industrial products. If the accumulated purchasing power is released gradually, and if income is widely distributed, industry can furnish full and continuous employment. In turn this will give farmers a profitable market for their products. Thus, both patriotism and far-sighted self-interest will induce farmers and others to buy and keep their War Bonds until after peace is achieved.

Suppose there were no tomorrow—

Suppose there were no tomorrow? ... Think about it for just a minute ... No tomorrow for you, or your kid sister at home—or the brother who left for the Army yesterday. Did you ever think that we, who have had so few yesterdays, may have no tomorrows?

It has happened, you know. To Jack Feldman, and Bob Ernest—and fifteen others who sat in our classes just last term ...

They will have no tomorrow. They died before they ever had a try at living ... so that we might have our chance.

There are millions who were asked to give up more than a double feature at the Earle ... or a spiffy, new pair of pumps for next week's formal. A soda is a pretty insignificant sacrifice, when you think of—

The kids in Russia, who live on a few ounces of cereal a day. They've never seen an ice cream soda.

The Polish boys and girls, who would be in school right now, just as we are ... if there were any schools left.

The French youths who've never had a hamburger on a date—or any other time, for that matter. They are old, very old ... older than you and I will ever be ...

There are millions of them ... in Norway ... Holland ... Denmark ... Belgium ... They would stare in amazement if they could be here to see—

A jalopy painted bright yellow. "The Tin You Love to Touch" printed in big, green letters on the back.

A high school senior, uncomfortable in his first tuxedo ... calling for his date, looking nervous.

Millions of things that we take for granted ... "Hey, Maestro! Play 'Stardust'!"

... There is such a feeling of permanency in our tight little world. We'll go to school with the gang, today ... and tomorrow ...

But, WHAT IF THERE WERE NO TOMORROW? There's only one way to be sure, you know—

Buy War Bonds ... That's a simple little phrase. It's the American way of saying what we mean in a few direct words. Buy War Bonds.

Yes—you and everybody must buy War Bonds. We've got to buy more and more, and more of 'em. Just get the idea into your head that your $18.75 might—just might end the war one-fifth of one second sooner. That maybe, in that one-fifth of a second, the boy next door could be on the receiving end of a bullet ... Then you'll know it's worth it!

We've got to keep on plugging, saving, convincing. Giving our pin money ...

Tell everybody—sell everybody! We can't take no for an answer ... tomorrow—and tomorrow—and tomorrow.

Let's All KEEP BACKING THE ATTACK!

Method of Storing Vegetables at Home

COLLEGE STATION, May — Early vegetables are coming of age and it soon will be time to dig and store the potatoes, says J. F. Rosborough, horticulturist for the A. and M. College Extension Service. Storage of food articles is going to be an important factor in the home economy this year. Railroad transportation and packaging materials, two vital links in marketing food, are congested and short. On that account he believes that people who produce and conserve their own stocks will be best served.

So to the potato patch with Rosborough who says that they can be dug before the tops die but that they should be mature if they are to keep properly. To determine this, press the thumbs against the skin of a few and if it does not break easily the crop may be harvested. In case of excessive rain shortly before digging, small elevated white spot or water blisters, may form on the skin. Delay harvesting until the spots have dried; otherwise excessive rotting may occur.

Handle the potatoes as tenderly as an egg and place them in the shade as soon as dug. A turning, pow or middle buster run eight to ten inches deep may be used for digging. Separate all skinned or bruised potatoes from the others and use them first.

A cool, well ventilated cellar is satisfactory for storage provided it has an overhead vent to allow escape for warm air and moisture. The door and vent should be opened at night and closed during the day. If out buildings or the area under the farm house are used for storage cross ventilation is essential. Avoid spreading potatoes directly on the ground or floor. Provide a slatted false floor with at least four inches of air space. Even spreading them on willow poles or hay will allow air to completely circulate each potato. Air keeps them dry and tends to reduce rot.

Exposed to direct sunlight potatoes turn green and become undesirable for eating.

Don't fly into a rage and look daggers at your meat dealer when he reminds you to turn in your used kitchen fat regularly for extra ration points and cash. He is obeying OPA's orders when he does this because the products and by-products of used fat are so urgently needed today.
