C. C. Primm Makes Short Visit Home

Customers at the Nelson-Primm drug store, Saturday, were surprised to hear a familiar voice saying: "What'll you have SIR?" What size SIR? Here's your change SIR: Between dashes around the store, they recognized C. C. If that boy can handle bullets like he does cokes and pills, the war ought to end, according to plan.

What We Do In The Infantry

With The Americal (Correct) Division Somewhere in The Southwest Pacific.—According to Pvt. Coral Forbes, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Forbes, of Brownfield, Texas, a mortar man might not see as much action in combat as members of the rifle platoons, "there are lots of times when aguy has good cause to get sort of jittery." Pvt. Forbes is a mortar man in an infantry rifle platoon, and is now a veteran of several front line actions in the jungles of the Southwest Pacific.

In reply to a combat reporters query as to some of his experiences in combat, Forbes told of the following incident:

"It happened when we were occupying a newly won hill way out in the jungles. It was night and I was taking my turn standing guard. The night was darker than dark and my eyes began to bother me after awhile making it difficult to see. I had been on guard nearly an hour when I thought I heard voices. I wasn't sure so I listened for more sounds, or anything that might be the enemy. Suddenly I heard them again so I tossed a grenade—the noise woke my buddies and I explained what had happened, so we all stayed on guard the remainder of the night. When morning came we investigated the spot where the noise came from, and I was pretty gratified to discover traces and evidence that someone had been there and been hit."

Pvt. Forbes is a graduate of Brownfield High School where he was prominent in athletics, especially football. Since coming overseas, he has seen duty in New Caledonia, Fiji, and Bougainville Islands.

Mrs. Clovis Kendrick and Mrs. Jack Stricklin Jr., were Lubbock visitors, Tuesday evening.

CLAY WALKER NOW IN SEATTLE, WASHINGTON

Mrs. Lee Walker was in Monday and stated that her son, Pfc. Elmer Clayton Walker, who the war department reported as being wounded in the Southwest Pacific operations, was now in a naval hospital at Seattle, Washington. Up to that time, she had believed he was in a hospital in Hawaii.

Mrs. Walker stated that Clayton was wounded just above the ankle by a Jap sniper at night. He was in the battle of Tinian. Mrs. Walker hopes that Clayton will get to come home before re-entering service.

KENNETH H. JOHNSON FINISHES BASIS TRAINING

Mon Telford Jr. Joins the Navy

Reports of how tough the boot camp is, out at San Diego, don't seem to faze in the least any Terry county lad's "ambish" to take a crack at the Japrats with one of Uncle Sam's 16 inch guns

J. M. Telford, Jr.

—more or less. They just keep on keeping on joining.

The last one to go is Jordan Monroe Telford Jr., son of Sheriff and Mrs. J. M. Telford, who is home for a short period after attending Texas A. and M. one term, returning home last week, before leaving for boot camp at San Diego. Mon Jr. is a graduate of Brownfield High, class of 1943. Like begets like, and so, like father and mother, Mon Jr. has a host of friends here.

We are betting that J. M. Jr. makes just as good sailor as he was a good sport with school and playmates. His picture shows him dressed as an Ag. Cadet.

Lt. Jane Shirley Flies Gunnery Targets

This week we had quite an interesting article from the Public Relations Office, Foster Field, Texas, about Lt. J. E. (Jane Brownfield) Shirley, who flies and tows targets for the boys in training to get practice shooting on a moving plane at a moving object. She is the wife of Lt. J. E. Shirley, at the AAF Midland.

As all old timers know, Jane is the daughter of a pioneer, A. M. Brownfield, of this city, and this is her way of helping to win the war. After finishing high school, she was a student at Texas Tech college, before taking training at Avenger Field, at Sweetwater.

Well, Jane can have the job of towing a target to be shot at with live ammunition; we are not envious of her job.

Overseas Christmas Mail On Inrease

The postoffice department has set Oct. 15th, as the last day to receive Christmas packages for boys overseas. This is necessary because of the distance, and of the enormous tonnage, a million small packages total, at the sea ports, and also for same reasons the packages are limited in size.

The postal department urges all to comply with the time limit, and sizes. Packages must not weigh more than five (5) pounds and the combined circumference and diameter not more than thirty-six (36) inches. Wrap and tie your packages securely, with full correct address.

Joe Shelton of the local postal force informs us that the Christmas package mailing to servicemen overseas is getting off to a good start.

Largest number of packages in one day was 65, but Joe stated that about 35 was the daily average. Remember there is just 8 more days to mail your Christmas packages and have the assurance that it will reach your boy or girl overseas in time for Christmas.

1st Sgt. Harry Cornelius is now stationed at Fort McDowell, Calif., but is helping with the overseas Christmas mail at Fort J. B. Knight, Mrs. Cornelius will remain here until after the holiday. J. T. Bowman, in the Gor're Fashion Shop.

The Texans Share In the War

"Sure, I'll Give a Texan's Share!"

What that slogan, more than 5,000 "war fund commandos" will launch Texas' biggest war-related campaign next Tuesday, when volunteer leaders in every county will open the public drive on behalf of the National War Fund.

Throughout the state, these leaders will spearhead the attack in the world's greatest offensive against suffering arii want. Their success will depend upon the response of Texans everywhere to the call for home front support of our fighting men and their heroic allies.

More than half of the funds raised by the National War Fund are expended for services to our own fighting men. Other amounts support our fighting allies and help reduce suffering among war-stricken people throughout the world. Every dollar of the fund helps bring earlier more lasting peace.

Most Texans will sacrifice in order to make generous contributions, but, after all, the sacrifices of those at home are small when compared with those of the men at the front. The pity is not that we must give so much, but that we are able to give so little!

While we are considering our war fund gifts, other Texans are dying. While we on the home-front are working to support them, our sons, our husbands and friends are fighting fiercely and bravely against a brutal enemy—to protect us and the things we hold dear!

The least we can do is guarantee them every support that it is in our power to give!

The National War Fund campaign in Texas will be officially launched at 9:30 p. m., Monday night with a 30 minute radio program to be carried by all Texas networks and independent stations. Gov. Stevenson and navy officers, Judge Ben H. Powell, UWCT president, and other leaders will take part in the broadcast.

Their leadership will be backed up by county and community leaders in every portion of the state—the "war fund commandos" who will put the campaign over the top.

There is little doubt about the result. Texans must—and will—answer the call in the words of the campaign slogan:

"Sure, I'll Give a Texan's Share!"

Kernith Jones came in this week for a short leave after finishing boot camp, at San Diego. He is the son of Mrs. O. L. Jones.

MARINE PATTERSON CALLS IN FOR CHAT

About the most thing the boys in the service like to talk about is getting the job done, and returning to Terry to live a normal life again. And that was just what Pfc. Calvin B. Patterson, son of H. E. Patterson, of this city, likes to talk about, and not his exploits over in the Southwest Pacific, where he helped other Marines kick the Japrats off two Islands.

He has been in the Marines 34 months, and has a thirty day furlough to visit home folks. He wears a service bar of the Southwest Pacific area, and a whole row of sharpshoot medals, representing rifle, pistol, automatic rifle and bayonet. Calvin has a brother, in the army.

Just like other lads we have talked with, he is reluctant to talk about what he did, and in the first place just called to have us hold up his Herald till he gets a new address. And while we are at it don't think that we have had to depend on the boys or their folks to get a lot of stuff we run in these columns. The Public Relations Office of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, etc., is very wide awake. You can count the boys on the fingers of your third hand that are really seeking publicity.

You have to almost out-talk them to get them to talk. Anyway, Calvin says the Nips never "toch" him, hide nor hair."

Terry County to Get Two Oil Well Tests

Despite a dozen dry holes in Terry county, the oil fraternity has not given up hopes yet, as two locations were announced early this week. One is by the DeKalb Agricultural Association of Lubbock, for a 5500 foot test on NE corner of Section 29, Blk DD, about six miles West of Wellman, on land owned by A. B. Jenkins.

GRAIN MOVES DURING UNSEASONABLE WEATHER

Additional trackage recently put in at the C. D. Gore Grain Co., elevator, now enables them to load two or more cars at once, making it much more convenient for all.

Dealers report recent movement of cars, and they now have room for new grain, and ample cars for shipment, although when weather clears up they expect a rush, but hope to be able to handle the crop without much delay.

Restrictions Lifted On Sale of Grain Sorghums

Waco, Texas, Sept., 25.—J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation returned to the state today after spending last week in Washington where he and Farm Bureau presidents from three other Southern states worked with government agencies to put in motion machinery which will bring parity to producers of cotton and wheat in accordance with the recent act of congress directing the government to take all lawful action to insure producers parity prices for their products.

"It has been agreed by all," Hammond said, "that farm prices should be at parity level, and at such level are not inflationary." "As a result of the conference with agency officials," Hammond continued, "has come the announcement from War Food Administrator Marvin Jones that WFA will purchase the 1944 cotton and wheat crops at parity prices." Commenting further, he declared that farmers had viewed with increasing alarm the rapid decline in the price of grain sorghums. Reports from some sections of the state indicate that the market price has dropped as low as $1.10 per hundred. The loan rate on grain sorghums is $1.69 per hundred stored on the farm and $1.62 when stored in warehouses. Hammond urged farmers to cooperate by holding their grain on the farm, or on the stalk if necessary, until storage can be provided that will insure at least $1.62 per hundred.

For detailed information contact county AAA offices. In the face of a large grain crop this year, Farm Bureau has for several months urged that restrictions be lifted prohibiting the sale of grain sorghums to certain processors. Upon further insistence from the Farm Bureau group, notices were mailed out last week by War Food Administration lifting all restrictions on the sale of grain sorghums.

District Court Tries Two Cases Here

Acting Judge J. E. Garland of Lamesa, held a busy session of District Court here early this week. Trying first the case of Roy Baker charged with murder without malice, of Mrs. C. L. Covey, and driving car while intoxicated, which grew out of the three car wreck, on Lubbock highway, four miles north of here, the latter part of August, in which H. F. Lowe of Lovington, and Mrs. C. L. Covey and daughter Ruth, age 20, were instantly killed, and several other occupants injured, including the defendant.

The motion of defendants attorney, Judge R. L. Graves, to quash the indictment, alleging offense to be a misdemeanor instead of felony, was overruled by the Court. Jury selected and testimony of a number of witnesses was finished Monday evening. Photographs of the wrecked cars were shown the jury. First parties to the scene, immediately after the collision, C. L. Covey, husband of the victim and driver of one of the cars, and highway patrolmen, testified on the trial. The case was submitted to the jury about noon Tuesday, after deliberating 24 hours, returned a verdict of guilty and a sentence of 2 years was given.

District Attorney Rollin McCord and County Attorney C. L. Heath, represented the State.

The case of Rene Headsream vs J. R. Gaily, et al, involving a land boundary between several sections east of Ropes, on county line, went to jury Wednesday, after taking considerable documentary evidence and testimony of a number of witnesses as to old surveys and land marks.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jeffries of San Jose, Calif., are here visiting relatives.

The people of the South Plains are so used to an abundance of good water that they almost forget that just under the caprock is a whole section of country, with lots of people, who actually get up against a real water famine proposition when it stays dry too long. Reminds us of an article we saw in an exchange from that section we read just this week. It seems their city dads are frantically seeking a new supply of water to keep the city sewerage going. The editor sayeth not, but a return to PWA's was indicated for the citizenry, dark cold nights, or what have you.

So far as we know Brownfield and Terry county have not made up their minds just how they will celebrate V-Day. In fact, most people we have talked with are willing to wait until the fighting is over, then think about celebrating. We remember late afternoon of 1918 V-Day, nothing was said about celebrating, but slightly after dark, a great crowd (for that day) were in town, and they rode a high horse far into the night. No drunks, as whiskey was hard to get. So, we imagine the descendants of the 1918ers, together with people who have come here since that time, will do plenty when Germany wits.

We men folks like to kid the ladies about primping themselves with paint and powder even in public places. The good sisters take the raw jokes in good stride without a wince. But, we have often wondered if they, any more than most men, like to see a young fellow barge into a cafe, waltz among the tables, at the same time combing his hair? Now, they may not have dandruff; their hair may not be coming out, but the looks of the operation is galling to us.

Farmer Jim Ferguson is no more, but he will be remembered as the man who could really "pour it on" in a political campaign, for generations to come. And the more his forks of the creek constituency could yell, the more Jim would sock his opponent. Ex-Governor James E. Ferguson had many good traits, perhaps some not so good, but we believe his good deeds will far outlast those considered not so good. We can all let the mantle of charity fall about his tomb, whether for or against him.

Finland has finally made peace with Russia—for the second time since the war began. They fought a bloody war, signed an armistice, and all, but when Germany attacked Russia they made the Finns believe they were sure to win so the Finns threw in with them and started fighting Russia again, but the super race bogged down and again poor little Finland was defeated. They now should be a much wiser and a much sadder nation. —Anton News.

Readers of newspapers should understand that neither parents nor sons nor relatives often release information to newspapers for publication. Ninety per cent of our information regarding boys in service comes direct from their own public relations office. Most of the times when the news appears it is even news to parents. Don't think when you see a news item of a local boy that either the boy or his parents brought it to us. Something they do but most of the time the news comes direct from their own officers. Some public relations officers and some boys are mentioned in print more often than others. But this is due to no fond parents or publicity-seeking youngster. The chances are that most of the time the boy would not prefer the publicity. —Dalhart Texan.

Unified Soil Building Program

The Texas A and M college, bankers, business executives, railroads and state and federal agencies working with agriculture have closed ranks in a unified effort to rebuild and maintain the fertility of depleted Texas soils.

The decision for joint action was reached at a meeting of heads of departments of the college, representatives of the soil conservation service and other agencies, and business concerns held on the campus of A and M college on September 12. The meeting was called by Acting Director James D. Prewitt of the Texas extension service to analyze problems affecting productivity and to lay the foundation for united action by interested agencies, organizations and individuals in rebuilding and conserving the soil.

Dean E. J. Kyle of the A and M school of agriculture, who presided, appointed a nine-man committee selected from groups attending to plan cooperative action in getting the job done. President Gibb Gilchrist pledged the full cooperation of A and M college in soil building and soil and water conservation.

Director Prewitt said that soil building in Texas had increased about 505 percent in the past two years. The practice of terracing was well established, but planting of legumes for winter cover crops, which are basic to soil-building, was not so far along.

T. J. Harrell of Fort Worth, representing the cottonseed industry, said the agricultural committee of his organization would cooperate by distributing educational information on soil building through cotton gins, cottonmill mills and other media.

Paul Walsler of the state soil conservation service outlined a seven-point program which he characterized as a "new conception" of conservation. The items in the program were:
(1) Proper land use; (2) Soil improvement by vegetation and fertilizing; (3) Erosion control by vegetation and mechanization; (4) Public information—informing every citizen that he is affected by soil erosion and that each has a part in controlling it; (5) Research to obtain more information about grasses and legumes; (6) Technical assistance and (7) Farmer leadership. Walsler disclosed that 11,000,000

Where Thanks And Courtesy Are Due

A country grocer recently said to a somewhat irate customer: "If you had to keep track of all the rules and regulations I get from those pencil pushers up at Washington, you would be more lenient in your attitude toward the merchant. Men who apparently know nothing about meat cutting tell us how to cut meat, what cuts we can keep in our show case, and how we can prepare it. We are all glad to help ration supplies and control prices but the rationers and price fixers ought to be required to have some practical experience before they are allowed to make their fancy rules and regulations."

We can all allow for many mistakes under the price control act, but we never want to accept the idea that after the war it will be necessary to continue indefinitely the restrictions which the buying public and the producers and merchants have had to endure.

Rationing and price control have been a success of an efficient retail merchandising system which was able to carry out a rationing and price control program which, without the cooperation of the merchants, would have been impossible of accomplishment. The nation has its unprecedented distribution of necessities and luxuries which it has enjoyed during the war emergency. —Hockley County Herald.

I Give You Texas

Ran into my old friend, Tom Bryant of Cross Plains recently, and the sight of the veteran oil operator brought to mind the story of the biggest high gravity well in the history of the oil industry near Pioneer, in southwestern Eastland county.

Bryant had drilled in a well on the Bryson in May, 1922, (one of six wells he was putting down for Tom Slick, "king of the wild-catters") for 7,200 barrels of 47 gravity oil a day and all the tanks that Bryant could find he bought and had them rushed to the new gusher. Then a week later just across the road, the Eakin No. 4, (another of the Slick wells that Bryant was drilling) came roaring in for 20,000 barrels a day.

This monster hurled a six-inch stream to the side through the control head and still had enough oil that another stream went through the top of the derrick. He dared not pinch it in as he had used second hand pipe in order to stretch the limited money available as much as possible.

The road between the two big wells was closed to traffic at once as the weather was damp and the gas clung close to the earth, creating a great hazard.

If you were in the other fellow's shoes you'd probably shine them.

The backfire of a car could of produced a great catastrophe.

Though the railroad was half a mile from the well, the passenger train halted at Pioneer and remained there for several hours, then with considerable trepidation it went past the area on its run.

An army of 200 men swung into action—teamsters, rough-necks, tankbuilders and pipeliners. Holes were gouged in the ground and dams were thrown up to create earthen storage. Steel tanks were put up and "lead" lines installed to them. Crews of sweating, cursing men rushed the construction of a large pipeline. Workers wore slickers to protect themselves from the rain of crude oil; and the pipeliners, in hip boots, waded in petroleum that was sometimes knee-deep. Twelve, fourteen, even eighteen hours a day, the workers toiled at top speed, pausing only long enough to gulp down a little food and coffee, brought from nearby Pioneer, the coffee in huge pots and the sandwiches in wash-tubs.

When the pipeline and adequate steel tankage had been completed and the fight had been won, 15 acres of the 50-acre lease had been converted into a temporary lake of crude oil.

Such is the story of the record-breaking well that Tom Bryant drilled at Pioneer.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

I just been reading about a couple of guys out west—they run railroads. These 2 gents didn't scam for cover when a U. S. A. attorney general hopped 'em and threatened 'em. They unlimbered their own shootin' irons. And you know, so long as the country has fellows like these 2, we are not gonna crack up. One of the 2 was Mr. Omaha Jeffers of the Union Pacific, and the other was Mr. San Francisco Mercier of the Southern Pacific. They were talking about this lawsuit the Gov't is cookin' up against the roads. It is a lame excuse, dressed up in legal vernac, to talk about during this election year.

If more people in business—head men—would wade in and swing haymakers and catch a few more Bureau boys on the chin—in the first round—we would not see so much meddling with everybody's business, small or big—ocean to ocean.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"The war sure has made a lot of changes in this old world of ours, hasn't it, Judge?"

"Plenty of them, John. One that few people realize is that the rubber producing center of the world is now right here in the United States."

"When the Japs conquered the big natural rubber producing centers of the world they thought they had us licked. But in two short years, thanks to American industry, we are now producing synthetic rubber enough to supply all our military and essential civilian needs."

"Our rubber experts knew how to make it but the problem was to get the huge amounts of industrial alcohol needed. Almost overnight the country's beverage distillers stopped making whiskey and converted 100% to the production of this vital ingredient. A high government official said recently this was "...an almost unparalleled example of the overnight conversion of an entire industry from peace to war."

"Come to think of it, Judge, it was a mighty fortunate thing the beverage distilling industry was in existence, wasn't it?"

FREEDOM HAS MANY BLESSINGS

The United Nations are fighting for freedom for many different reasons. One of the most unique reasons was brought out by one of our smaller allies, the Nagas of Assam and North Burma. Known as headhunters, it took something concrete to sway them to our side.

With these people hostile to us, our efforts in Burma would have been less effective. The American medical profession played a great part in helping win the confidence of the Nagas by just doing its job of caring for the sick and wounded.

The Nagas were afflicted with sores that ate to the bone of these tough little people. The American doctors went about treating this common sore with sulphur drugs and in a short time the sores disappeared miraculously. Their King Peter was cured of blindness through the removal of cataracts in both eyes.

It didn't take any more to convince this ally that our cause was for their good. The Nagas played an important part in helping push the Ledo Road through to completion.

This is another victory for the American doctor who works and achieves under a free enterprise system, which is the backbone of a free nation.

If the Nagas people knew about the plans in this country to socialize medicine and destroy our free American doctor, they would think we were very stupid indeed.

ED AND MRS. THARP MOVING TO BROWNFIELD

Saw Rev. Ed Tharp, of Seminole on the streets this week, and asked when he aimed to move back to Brownfield. He said about Nov. 1. He has purchased a home on E. Hill street. He will finish his pastorate of the Seminole Methodist church this month and is then superannuated.

Rev. Tharp (just Ed to us) is a gentleman that tends to his own business, and he has a charming wife, and we are tickled to know that he is to be has two farm in Terry county. He reports that workmen have started on the second oil refinery at Seminole.

WHAT DOES J. W. DO REST OF TIME

J. W. Moore was in this week from his fine stock farm just west of Tokio, and over in Yoakum county. Quizzed a bit, J. W. 'lowed as how he had some 64 acres of cotton, and around 200 in feed, and the best crop he had ever made.

Yes, I am pretty busy, he stated. I drive the school bus and am painting some houses for A. C. Copeland at Plains, besides looking after the farm stock.

Now if you are needing a hand, if you can just find a few hours night or day that J. W. is not busy—well, he might work for you.

TO MAKE SAUERKRAUT

Use sound, clean late cabbage chopped or sliced uniformly. Mix one pound of salt to 40 pounds of cabbage, pack into a clean sterile crock or jar. Cover with a cloth, a plate and a weight, and the result is sauerkraut.

Well, this early week wet spell wound up with a fraction over an inch of moisture. Clear Wednesday morning. Hope to hear gins humming again by late afternoon.

PIONEER WOMAN PASSES ON

Miss Beulah Page received a letter early this week from Mrs. Lottie Head, of San Diego, a former resident here, announcing the death of her mother, "Aunt" Louie Jones, last Friday at her home near Hot Springs, N. M. Her husband, B. Jones died about two years ago. The Jones were among the earliest settlers in Gomez, and owned a ranch in northwest Terry for several years. They were well known to many old timers here.

Miss Alice Claire Teague of Roswell, N. M., spent the weekend in the J. M. Teague home here.

Mrs. Tress Key and two daughters of Amarillo, are visiting in the Ross Black home, this week.

This Is National Newspaper Week

From Oct. 1st to 8th, each year is designated as National Newspaper Week. President Roosevelt says that America still has a free press and must always have one if we are to remain a free nation. This despite the fact that some say the fourth term will end in dictatorship. Anyway, we note that writers say just about what they please about FDR, and he, being a free American, sometimes refer to them as just plain liars.

Yet, in some of the newspapermen's newspapers, such as the Publishers Auxiliary, there is now in progress a great argument that all country weeklies, such as the Terry County Herald, cannot print what they wish. If they do, they lose advertising and subscribers. Others say they print all they wish to print; that they have no wish to print local scandals and gossip, and that just about goes for the Herald.

This paper has never wished to engage in yellow journalism. We leave that for the metropolitan press. They don't know or care to know their next door neighbor. We do.
