Brownfield Does Not Enter Ball League

At a meeting here last Sunday afternoon of the Oil Belt Baseball league, attended by members of several nearby towns and clubs, Brownfield was left out of the league. Reasons assigned, no team and no park.

Slaton was admitted. The season opens April 13th. It is thought by some that our ardor has been absorbed by the soft ball games which, by the way was no small entertainment last year and expected to become better this season.

South Plains Lawyers To Meet Here

Local bar associations of the five counties of this 106th Judicial district are to meet here this afternoon and have a banquet at 7 p. m.

High talent from Midland and Amarillo are expected to address the meeting; also some from Lubbock and many from outside the district are expected.

None are considered seriously ill.

Local Man Arrested For Tire Theft

On a tip from local officers, the Big Spring officers recovered the stolen trailer and tires, taken last week, from the Purcell farm, and arrested the man attempting to sell them.

Sheriffs force returned him here and charged him with felony theft. He was released on bond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Meili, of Miami, Fla., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Denton over the week end. Mr. and Mrs. Meili were enroute to San Francisco where they will make their home.

Another Land Mark Makes Way For Present Day Commerce In Brownfield

Sunday the apartment house on the corner of Broadway and First streets, was finally loaded on trucks, and early in the afternoon the old Rambo residence, built way back in the late teens or early twenties began its takeoff to a new location, within two blocks of where the new church of Christ building is under construction, known as Crescent heights.

This building was moved to make way for commerce. We understand that a business house will be erected on the site by the present owner, Claude Henderson, as soon as material can be assembled on the site. But at present Claude is not putting out anything about what it is to be or who will be the occupant.

In conversation with Leo Holmes, vice-president of the State bank this week, he stated that he and his wife had their first home in one of the apartments of that old residence after their marriage. Then, as now, dwellings were as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth, and they moved in there until they could get a residence.

We just had a bit of curiosity to drive over where the old residence which would be considered new in east Texas, was being set down. And while over there we noted two other large residences had been moved in and were being modernized and beautified, not to mention a raft of out-and-out new houses thereabouts.

One of the old residences, is the old two story built by the Old He's did-in-law, way back 40 years ago, when he settled on a section of land in north Terry. The Mrs. is just hoping to get to see inside that old home some of these days.

But the faster they build homes here the more the demand, it would seem. Gore & Tarpley were fixing papers early Monday morning for the first of their new 44 residence addition, being constructed by an El Paso contractor.

CITY ORDERS BOND ELECTION FOR HUGE IMPROVEMENTS

The City Council at the last meeting March 14 ordered an election to be held on April 8th, on issuing four hundred thousands in bonds for city improvements. In the one election the ballot will be in four separate propositions as follows:

1. $100,000 for paving 60 new blocks and repairing and resurfacing all old pavings that need be.
2. $50,000 for extending the water system.
3. $25,000 for extending street lighting in both downtown and new residential areas.
4. $225,000 for extending sewerage to every part of the city and to include a large addition to the disposal plant.

More detailed information will be given in next weeks issue.

The City Council will also receive bids on April 11 for resurfacing all old streets, contingent on the bonds being voted. Also for completing paving started, but stopped because of the war, on East Main, West Lake and North Second Streets.

Also to receive bids for building a 60 foot extension on east end of the present city hall, which is now only 40 feet long. This only takes a roof and floor, as they can use adjoining walls of other buildings.

Also bids for erection of a brick and tile warehouse on the property formerly occupied by Newman Bros. feed store. The old wooden structure was recently moved.

Masons, Shriners Staging Ceremonial At Caverns

Headed by Tom May, a high official in Masonic orders, some 15 other Brownfield men, with large numbers of candidates from all other South Plains towns, are at Carlsbad today, where they will be initiated into the Shriners degree of the Masonic order. The ceremonial work will be directed by the Albuquerque Lodge. The Lodges of Amarillo and El Paso will be highly represented. The huge affair is to take place in the famous caverns near by. This will be the second such event in the Caverns history. Mr. May expects some four thousand Masons from Texas and New Mexico to attend. They will stage a street parade through the city of Carlsbad, following a barbecue.

Mmes. Charlie and Roger Curry of Lamesa were in town Wednesday on business.

Winter Kicks Back Again Tuesday

While today, March 21, is listed on our alendar as the first day of Spring, old man Winter is not giving up easily. Late as is, he got in a dieing gasp Tuesday, and instead of spring rain, it was more than half snow.

Snowed like fury all morning with light sprinkles of rain in the afternoon. If the snow had stuck, some four inches would have been the result, as there was 4 inch of moisture. The snow melted as it fell. We had to thank Riley Carlton for the gauging, as either the wind or some busybody knocked over our gauge.

As a result of this additional moisture, which is now getting on toward an inch for March—about normal for this month—farmers of the area have a big broad smile and the business men "aint jest 'xactly frownin'."

Phillips Petroleum Issues Statement

The Phillips Petroleum recently issued a nicely printed brochure making a full statement of their business in 1946. Those who like statistics will find the little book very interesting, as figures are so used that even the lay oil man may readily understand them. Then, such superb printing is always interesting to a newspaper man.

Briefly, the Herald gives you a few of the total shots for you to think about. The total income for Phillips in 1946 was 221 million dollars, 8 million more than in 1945. After wages, new tools, tanks, towers and other equipment was paid for, including federal, state and county taxes, there was a net of 22 million left, which paid $4.60 per share to the thousands of Phillips stockholders, many of them just plain John Citizens, even as you and I.

FORMER RESIDENT BURIED HERE

Funeral services for J. M. Gibson, 80, a former resident, who died at Ft. Worth last Monday were conducted by Rev. A. J. Ausmus, at the First Baptist church, Tuesday afternoon, interment in the Terry County Memorial Cemetery under direction of the Brownfield Funeral home.

Government Warns Against Chislers

Warning that individuals who claim to have inside information or influence in the government program to return the remains of World War II dead are "chislers" trading upon the emotions of grieving families, Colonel E. V. Macatee, Commanding Officer, San Antonio General Depot, today outlined the plans as they now exist for the repatriation of our war dead.

Colonel Macatee pointed out that prior to each temporary cemetery overseas being evacuated the next of kin—wives, children, parents, brothers and sisters—will receive an official letter of inquiry and application for disposition of remains from Washington. As there are 209 temporary cemeteries, letters of inquiry may be received as late as the fall of 1948. Self-styled big shots who promise return of a serviceman's remains ahead of schedule are seeking money for services they can never perform.

Complaints have already been received of "chislers" operating in the Texas area. Colonel Macatee urged relatives of the deceased to refuse to have any dealings with these racketeers but rather to address all requests for information on the repatriation program to the American Graves Registration Service, San Antonio General Depot, San Antonio 8, Texas or the Fort Worth Quartermaster Depot Fort Worth, Texas. He further urges that report be made to the above when any individual approaches relatives with promises of "cutting red tape" or arranging for the early return of loved ones upon the payment of a fee for such service.

V. L. Patterson Completes Ten Years As Local Manager of Piggly Wiggly

This week, V. L. (Pat) Patterson is celebrating his 10th anniversary as manager of the Piggly Wiggly store. However the date will fall on Sunday the 23rd. Davis & Humphries had purchased a grocery store on the north side of the square in January 1937, and Pat was sent here as manager the 23 day of March the same year, the store being located on the north side of the square.

On the 4th day of December, that year, the fine plant they now occupy was finished at Broadway and Sixth, and they moved in. At that time, Pat was just a single guy, so he persuaded one of our teachers to become his partner for life, and since then two fine chaps have come to make their home with them, a boy and girl. Pat and family are therefore permanent fixtures in this city.

About two years ago, a modern mirror vegetable and fruit display and sprinkler system was installed, the first in this city, and about two months ago, a freezer compartment for frozen foods was installed. In fact, the local store has kept well abreast of all modern conveniences that have made the American grocery store the envy of foreign countries.

Helping Pat in carrying on for the convenience and pleasure of their customers, are Johnny Bost, in charge of the market, with Joe Hamilton as assistant; Mrs. Vada Cobe and Mrs. Juanita Moreman as cashiers; Ralph Butcher as stockman and Clyde Lewis manager of the produce department. Aside from these, after school and on Saturdays a number of school boys have jobs bringing eggs and other produce for farm ladies, and carrying groceries to cars and in many other ways assisting customers with their purchases.

Aside from being a well liked and essential cog in the D. & H. wheel, Pat has trained two or three young men to where they were able to take management of new stores in other towns that were opened.

SERVICES SUNDAY FOR THOMPSON INFANT

Shirley Kay, the 8 day old infant of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Thompson died at the local hospital early Saturday morning. Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the First Baptist church with Rev. Sam Brian officiating.

Survivors are the parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Thompson of the Harmony community and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Neal of the Wellman community.

Burial in the Memorial cemetery with Farley Funeral Home in charge of arrangements, followed.

Primm Team Loses In Finals

After winning 29 out of 30 games this season and winning the District meet recently at Lubbock, Primm's Drug Store Basketball team lost to San Angelo in the State Finals at Galveston last Friday.

They had on the same day won their first game over the East Texas Snuffdippers, at the State meet.

Stock Show Barns Under Construction

Actual building began last week on the barns and pens to be used by the 4-H and FFA boys club fat stock exhibits, an annual event sponsored by the Jay Cees.

The barns are located in the northeast corner of the County Park.

The next show is scheduled for April 19th.

Two Runaway Girls Picked Up Here

At the request of the Sheriff at Borger, local Sheriff's department detained two teen age girls, here Tuesday found working in a cafe for the past week.

Borger officials and parents of the girls, came Wednesday to return them home. Their only offense was running away from home.

GIRL SCOUTS HAVING FUNDS DRIVE

The Girl Scouts are having a drive for funds this week to make their budget for the year. It is only the past year that the organization has really been active, forming a local association and increasing the number of active troops, so this is the first attempt on the part of the organization to raise funds.

If you were not contacted and wish to contribute toward the fund, please mail or bring your contribution to Mr. E. W. Wilgus, treasurer.

Up And Down West Side of Square

It's great to the Old He to get out and meet the trade folks now and then, especially if they don't know what you're stalling around for. If they think you aim to pry a bit of news out of them, some will draw back in their shells like a terrapin. So better approach them on the blind side, if any. Of course they won't exactly toss you out on your neck, but they'll wonder if your business is any of your business.

You take the Brownfield State Bank for instance. This is a busy work shop, but they'll take time lifting their faces out of papers—some of our mortgages—perhaps, to say howdy. We get lull up there sometimes and a stranger might think we had just exited from a barroom. But they are used to our noise and don't consider we are disturbing public worship.

Anyway, the State Bank is one of the oldest in Texas and barely missed being No. 1, when the State Banking Law became effective soon after the new century came in his bank has a staff of swell people and while they appear conservative enough to suit a railroad president, they can let their hair down and be as liberal as the best of us. We like to kid them.

Next on the list is another old and well established firm, Collins Dry Goods, with stores here and at Lamesa. If we were to drop in some time and call Wade Collins, Mr. Collins, he'd think we were mad at him about something. Then there is the store manager, Ned Self, and friendly old Slick Collins and Mr. Youngblood who make you feel like you have the store by the tail with a downhill pull. And there is a full quota of nice, smiling ladies over on the ladies side of the big store, who are always glad to show you what you're looking for.

And there is the J. B. Knight Hardware, another old firm even under its present name. Way back soon after World War II, a couple of strangers, Mr. Ashworth and Bruce Knight opened a grocery in one of the buildings he now occupies, without the middle wall.

Then it became Hudgens & Knight, with hardware and furniture added. But now it is a hardware department store, with stocks running into the thousands of dollars, and with the furniture department over on west Main, and the implement section on west Broadway. No matter which of the stores you deal with, you still get that efficient, courteous J. B. Knight service. It's great to have such men in our town.

Still going south, next is the Kyle (Graves) Grocery. Kyle, Slim, Sam and all the others know their eats from pig knuckles to sauer kraut and they put the stuff out with a smile that starts you smiling despite high prices of all kinds of human fodder. The Kyle Grocery is an offshoot of the Hudgens & Knight grocery, and of course has been a longtime fixture in this fine little burg.

Still south with the fall flying ducks is the Primm Drug, for years known as Nelson-Primm. Here is where you go to get your Annie Oakley to ride Mr. Bowen's buses, as well as your cold drinks, medicine for the pains, and in case you catch Homer Nelson in, a fine new yarn, very likely. And if one of their customers just must have some scarce article, they'll dig around back there somewhere and drag out what you want.

Next down the line is the new Fair Store, with a full array of nice wearing apparel of all kinds and some smiling persons to wait on you. While these people are new in Brownfield, they have already caught on, and are a part and fixture of our growing city.

Next is Virgil (Shag) Bynum's razor and scissor emporium, and if you think they do not know their implements and how to use them, you are a newcomer or just don't ever need barber work. Virgil has a new man in the front chair.

And one of the best and most popular "Arbuckling" places in the old burg is the popular Grill CafeMand what eats. And what smiles from their waitresses, the cook and bosses. What more could we say?

And so in to McGowan & McGowan's abstract and law office. A lot of us oldtimers usually cut it short with Jogowan, but if we try to be brief, just so can Old Joe and son, Billy Joe fix you up with a "brief" that will stand up in any man's court, or an abstract that the gates of hell cannot prevail against. They are really good.

Finishing up the block we run into another comparatively old firm, the Bargain Center, which was established several years ago by Sam and Mrs. Kirschner. Since the war, they have been joined by Jerry, who was in service during the war, and came here from Kansas City. He and wife are very popular among the younger couples here. The Bargain Center has assembled a staff of clerks that would be hard to match in ability to please their customers. They have a world of goods rammed in that old Mercantile building.

Be seeing you next week in some other part of town.

The Herald received an unsigned post card from some local person recently, who greatly commended an article in the Avalanche-Journal of Sunday, March 9. This was the first prize letter in a weekly contest offered by the A-J publications. We dug up our issue of that date, and found that it was written by a Lamesa lady, and that the burden of her article was showing the stranger or newcomer in your city a little more courtesy not to mention co-operation when they ask directions or any other question about things a stranger would not know in your city. While the article was directed at Lubbock particularly, it could be just as aptly applied to any other city or town hereabouts or any old place. Lots of times it takes but a minute to go out to the sidewalk and point out or explain just how to reach such and such a place. It makes the stranger feel 100 per cent more of your city, and it makes the director feel that he has done a good turn.

We had our son-in-law, Herman Trigg, read an article to his dog Buddie, which was clipped from the Rails Banner. The editorial was partially lifted from a religious weekly, in which a minister was taking folks apart for spending so much more money on dog food, veterinary bills, etc., than they were spending on the minister's salary. Well, after the reading, it was stated that Master Buddie put on a frownish look, walked off into another room, as if he was quite insulted on being put in the same class with preachers. Our advice to Buddie is, that next time he makes a trip to Brownfield, he keep discretely under the bed and out of sight of the ministers, or he might come up missing.

Speaking of animals, we had a conversation recently with a prominent business man here that has himself raised and dealt in cattle, and perhaps has some yet. He said: "Just between us, I think a lot of this foot and mouth disease discussion is pure hooey to keep up the price of cattle in the United States." Sorter like we have been threatened with the extermination of our cotton raising by pink boll worms. So far as we know or anyone else would make oath to the pink boll worms have never destroyed two dozen bolls of cotton in Terry county. But the last two years of drought has clipped some 80,000 bales from production. No attention, except to scratch around cotton burrs at gins has ever been done to catch the worms, and they were all dead as heck when caught. But, the Weatherman, he rode high, wide and handsome for two long years—and where was your cotton, sir?

That Christmas candy strike down at Odessa was just about one of the most foolish things pulled recently, and if union folks were not satisfied that they had gone to extremes in disrupting the business interest of some six million Texans already, they certainly fixed the matter up down there, with the additional "sympathy" strikes in other exchanges all over the state. Little would have been thought of the matter if confined to Odessa. But the unions are just inviting labor legislation that there is no use of, if they play

PRIMITIVE BAPTIST TO MEET NEXT WEEK

Members of the local Primitive Baptist church announce they will hold their traditional "Fifth Sunday" meeting at the church on East Hill street, Sunday March 30th. Also services will be held on Saturday preceding at 11 a. m. Visitors from all over the South Plains are expected. Special preaching has been arranged.

Believe it or not for the past two Sundays the Old He and wife have crawled out of our beds in time to get to the first service at the church we attend, which is 9 a. m. That is mighty soon, if you take a peep at the sun along about 8:30, and a time we have in the not too distant past found ideal for an extra Sunday morning snooze. But we had rather get up and get to the first service where no more than 100 or 150 at the outside attend, than wait for the 11 a. m. service and risk finding a convenient seat.

We are still staying with our prediction that this will be a fair crop year in old Terry, and that after two long years of drouth we will hear the gins all hum and whistle again this fall. And as stated before, so state we again, of the 38 years we have been here, we have only had two crop failures two years in a row, 1917-18, and 1945-46. We have had dry years, notably some in the twenties and 1934 and 1936, with the years on each side and in between fair to good. In fact we made our bumper cotton crop in 1937, over 57,000 bales. Last year and the year before came nearer to being complete failures than any since 1917-18.

Most of us get a bit ringy when we realize how high labor is here in America, and on first thought it really does appear to be unreasonably high, but when we make a comparison of what American free labor does against what we term slave labor in some of the old countries, we have to check and double check, as Andrew H. Brown would say. For one comparison, let's take the British and American coal miners, for instance. During the year 1946 the average weekly wage paid American miners was $52.05, compared to $23.57 for the British miner. But here is where the comparison ends. The American miner produces a ton of coal at $1.76, while his Socialist cousin in England has to expend $4.57 per ton to get the coal to surface and in cars.

Some of our columnists tell us that hot lunches for American school children has to end March 31 for lack of federal funds to help keep it going, as no state or local school government is able to provide it themselves at a reasonable cost to students. Brownfield does not have it, as they have no place to serve the lunches, but many school do, Wellman in this county included for one. But here is the catch, according to same writers. The US government is advancing the king of Greece $25,000,000 so he can live in the style he is used to and to prepare for his wedding with a British princess. Oh, well, American kids don't amount to much anyway, except when we have a war and need them to do some shooting and get shot at.

We note in a trade journal of recent date that the 30 top national advertising agencies in the United States handled more than 870 million dollars in advertising last year. This does not include a lot of smaller national firms or a large bunch in the cities outside of Detroit, New York, Philadelphia and Chicago, who handle strictly state schedules. Nor does it include the strictly local stuff handled by the advertising departments of dailies and weeklies all over America. All told, the sum spent for advertising runs considerably over a billion dollars annually.

ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS HAS 33,000 MEMBERS

There are now 33,000 members of Alcoholics Anonymous in the United States and half of them had not had a "slip", according to Mr. Bob Pritchard, vice-president of the District of Columbia Chapter. Dr. Daniel L. Seckinger, deputy health officer for the District of Columbia, says that from 60 to 70 per cent of those who came to the Washington Alcoholic clinic during the first year of its operation have been rehabilitated. "The cure for alcoholism consists in the removal of condition which cause drinking," he says.

LEGION FOUNDER DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Colonel Thomas J. Hamilton, 76 who was a member of the historic caucus of AEF delegates in Paris, France, March 15 to 17, 1919, at which The American Legion was organized, is dead after a three-month illness.

A native of Belfast, Ireland, Hamilton was president and general manager of the Gary Railways Company at the time of his death.

CONTRACT SUBMITTED

LAMESA, March 15—The War Assets administration submitted a contract to the city council last week making a permanent disposition of Lamesa field and several of the building there, to the city to be operated as a municipal airport. The contract also provided for the deeding of 60 acres of land, which the government purchased outright, to the city.

Marie Peterman and John Moore, of San Angelo, were week end visitors in the home of Miss Peterman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Peterman.

The Country Press Is Vital

Some of the most important things in life are taken for granted and accorded scant consideration until they cease to function. For instance, the occupants of a luxurious Pullman sleeper think little about the wheels on which it rolls. The most vital things are generally the least obvious. The country press goes in this category. But there would be no United States without the country press, any more than there would be a Pullman car without a wheel.

No nation in the world is so universally served with newspapers as is the United States. But the average citizen doesn't know this—he takes the newspaper for granted even in the smallest town. And yet without the newspaper, community affairs could not be conducted as they are. Try to think of any town without a newspaper. Where would you get the local news and the intimate information on births, marriage, deaths and the affairs of the community that at some time or other are so important to every family?

Where would you read the proceedings of various organizations, the legal notices, the personal columns, the news about local churches. And the advertising of the local merchants? The big city dailies carry the world news, but they cannot carry the day-to-day happenings of the smaller towns and cities.

How many people appreciate these facts that underlie the ownership and publication of the 12,000 country newspapers in the United States? Such papers are the greatest safeguard of our nation's independence. The country press reaches a majority of readers in the United States. It deserves more recognition than it

HAVE WE COME TO THIS?

There was grim irony in the nervous eagerness with which the nation awaited each Monday session of the United States Supreme Court—that being the day on which it hands down decisions—in the hope that it would say the final word in the case of the government versus John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers. This nervousness was occasioned by the fact that Mr. Lewis had instructed his miners—who, apparently, obey him as slavishly as Nazi party members once obeyed Hitler—to work only until March 31, and had thus left the way open for calling another disastrous strike then.

Entirely aside from the legal receives. And in that respect it is like the wheel under a Pullman car, but with this difference: It is human and it can appreciate a word or act of encouragement while upholding the rights of others.—Miami Chief.

phases of the matter, the feeling that the Supreme Court is under pressure to announce its decisions as quickly as possible should make the American people ask themselves this potent, far-reaching question. "Have we reached a point where one man can set up a deadline as the day when the Supreme Court must act?" If the answer to this is yes, we might as well stop talking about freedom in America.

The Supreme Court is the highest judicial agency of a great movement. It is one of the principal custodians of the people's rights, and the final defender of their liberties. When one man can become so powerful that the nation feels that the Court should hurry its processes in the interest of a quick decision in a case at law, that man, and the organization from which he gets his power, rivals government itself. The Low Down From Hickory Grove

I just been reading some news about Shasta dam. It is not so skookum. It is one of Uncle Samuel's ventures there in California. The boys there, doing the job for the Govt., they say that only a half of the planned kilowatts can be furnished until they get more rain. They forgot a figure a drought could happen.

And while there is a shortage at Shasta, the folks running the private outfit nearby, they say for their customers to be calm—there is no shortage on their side of the street.

In time the truth comes out. Some of the wind is being removed from the sails of the boys who argue that the Govt. should get into the electric and dam business, bigger and bigger.

This Shasta business is accentuating that we just voted okay last November—when we got skeptical about the Govt. getting too big. Now it is up to us voters to keep our new Congressman there in Potomac-land, on the beam—and on his own platform, the one he got in on.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA.

Fires, Monuments To Stupidity

The appalling fire loss record in the United States in continuing its upward climb, according to a late release by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

In January the loss was $57,180,000—an increase of 14.8 per cent over the same month last year. And January destruction was only 1.6 per cent lower than the all-time monthly high reached in December, when more than $58,094,000 worth of property went up in smoke.

What this means is there is no end to human carelessness, human ignorance, human failure to take the simplest, most vital precautions. There is no mystery to fire prevention. There is nothing difficult about it. It is, so far as the homeowner is concerned, a matter of replacing a frayed lampcord in time—of having heating equipment periodically inspected—of treating gasoline, cleaning solvents and other inflammables with the respect they deserve—or carting junk out of attics and basements and closets.

The fact that some 90 per cent of all fires are unnecessary and could easily have been prevented, amplifies the tragedy. Almost all of the 10,000 people who will die by fire this year, unless the trend changes, will die in vain. They will be charred, horrible monuments to our stupidity.

The problem faces us all. We have it in our power to control fire. And we have it in our power to let fire ravage unchecked.

Chinese Girl Prepares For Home Work

When Wu Yi, student from Canton, China attending the University of Texas, eats her egg at breakfast each morning she calls to mind the news from her home that eggs cost $1,000 each now in Canton—or about $4 in American money.

Wu Yi is a pretty, thoughtful young woman whose aim in life now is to return to her home country to be a teacher in an orphanage. She got her first experience in working with homeless children during the war, and after seeing their great need, decided to further her studies in sociology and child welfare, then return to take up her work.

So last fall she enrolled in the University of Texas for graduate work in English and sociology. She is doing research on the teaching of English to Chinese students. She taught English in Lingnan University in Canton after her graduation in 1944, and became superintendent of the Refugee Children's Center.

Wu Yi is a Christian, and a member of the Austin Baptist church.

Have You Noticed J. L. Newsom, Lately?

One of the saddest specimens of humanity in our city is none other than J. L. Newsom, erstwhile filling station operator. He looks and acts the part of an orphan calf, "dogie" to us westerners.

The reason is that he has operated a filling station so long that he is like a fish out of water. Hence the downcast appearance. Why don't some of you filling station guys go fishing and get J. L. to run it while you are gone, thus killing two birds with one stone.

If he could just rush out front and hear some one say, "fill 'er up" it would help his morale greatly.

Tech Gives Moisture Test Information

A simple method by which farmers may determine sub soil moisture has been described by Dr. A. W. Young, head of the department of plant industry at Texas Technological College.

An iron rod, some four or five feet long and about one-half inch in diameter, may easily be pushed into the earth as far as the moisture reaches, but will not penetrate dry sub soil, he said. This is the best test for average soil, although it obviously would not work in gravel or stony soil.

Irrigation now for row crops will prove profitable in cases where sub soil moisture does not reach down 36 inches, Dr. Young said, but it is generally not profitable to apply additional water after that depth is reached. On sandy soils farmers should usually not run water down rows longer than 800 to 1000 feet, although it will go farther down rows through tighter soils.

The agriculture experiment station at Lubbock reports that one three acre-inch irrigation before planting grain sorghums and a similar application before the flowering stage gives the most efficient results, while for cotton, a three acre-inch irrigation in late March or early April and another two weeks before planting proves most efficient.

Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Pickett were in Lubbock Friday on business.

GI Question And Answer Department

Q. I served four months in the Army during World War II, was honorably discharged last September and have been unable to find a job. Am I eligible for readjustment allowances and how do I go about getting it?

A. Yes, you are eligible because you served over 90 days. Application for readjustment allowance may be filed at a local office of the U. S. Employment Service or of the state employment agency. You must register as able to work and available for suitable work.

Q. Since leaving the service, I have negotiated a G. I. loan which matures in 25 years. Will I be permitted to pay it off before date of maturity?

A. You have the right to accelerate your payments or repay your loan in full at any time without premium or fee. Additional payments must be made in one installment or multiples of $100 each, whichever is most desirable.

Q. I am operating by own business but losing money at present. As an honorably discharged veteran of World War II, can I claim readjustment allowance?

A. If you served over 90 days, part of which was World War II service, you are eligible for self-employment allowance and may file application at a local office of the U. S. Employment Service or your state unemployment agency.

Q. Will the Veterans Administration guarantee a loan made to me by an uncle, who is a non-supervised lender?

A. Yes, but loans made by non supervised lenders require prior approval of the Veterans Administration. Your uncle should submit the proposal to the local VA regional office for approval.

Soil Conservation District News

BY RILEY W. CARLTON

"We share our Toil to hold our Soil" is the slogan in a community from a nearby Texas county. Apparently this same slogan could be used in most any community in Terry County today. It seems if a complete county-wide spread of one or a combination of several desirable conservation practices are to be used the desire must originate in a community. Community action is taking shape in a few communities in Terry County this year. One outstanding example is the Johnson School community. Starting after the late rains last fall a large number of farmers realized contours were not too effective in holding rain fall, so by mutual consent these farmers requested the planning technicians of the C. Y. T. District to design complete terrace systems, and as a result, many of these farmers have terrace systems with which they are using the necessary supporting practices, such as crop residue, crop rotation, cover crops, and deep flat breaking and listing. Other communities have used deep flat breaking as a wind erosion preventative. More community action on conserving soil and water resources naturally will follow. To do community action, someone must accept the challenge of leadership and make plans ahead of time.

Another example of community action has been observed near Rich Lake. There several farmers met one day by appointment with the District conservationist and planned the correction of water waste or the running off of needed water. A terrace system was needed to hold the water on their respective farms. This has been done on a water shed basis.

In another section of Terry county several farmers realized that more grass is needed, so they are banding together to reseed desirable grasses this spring. They will use the grass drill that is to come in about April 1st. Others are planning this for late fall.

Help save productive soil—Terry county's basic asset. Do this through community action. Just analyze your community problems, select a leader, and start to work on one definite problem.

Wind and water erosion losses affect every farmer in Terry county, so take a progressive step through community action and solve the problem.

To achieve community action, every farmer in Terry county has ready access through their Soil Conservation District program in securing needed assistance for developing a Community Action Program. The District was organized in 1941 by landowners themselves by a majority vote for just such a purpose. All that is needed now is to make requests ahead of time.

New Phone System For Rural Areas

SCHENECTADY, March 20—A combination radio and telephone hookup, developed for rural areas which cannot support regular telephone service, is the newest telephone system for farms and ranches.

One such system, installed on an experimental basis in Cheyenne Wells, Colorado, serves a small group of ranches about 20 miles from the town, Paul W. Blye of New York City, transmission engineer of the Bell Telephone Laboratories, declared in a General Electric Science Forum address here over WGY and WGF. Mr. Blye's talk was one which marked the centennial of the birth of Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone.

"Four of these Colorado ranches have their own radio terminals, and from one of them a wire-line goes to four more ranches," Mr. Blye continued. "As far as any of these patrons is concerned, his telephone might be right in town. He simply picks up his handset, the operator answers, and he gives the number he wants."

About 1,000 calls a month are handled over the system, and some of them have been real emergencies," Mr. Blye pointed out.

Mr. and Mrs. George Warren, well known in business circles here for several years, have moved to Levelland, where he will aid his daughter, Mrs. Lillie Mae McDonald, with her properties. Her husband, Bob McDonald, also well known here, died last year.

The acreage of rice harvested in Texas during 1946, which was 412,000 acres, was the largest in the state's history.

The 5,992,000 acres of wheat harvested in Texas last year set a new record for the state.

School was dismissed Friday to allow the teachers to go to the Teacher's Meeting at Lubbock. The following teachers of the local school reported an interesting meeting: Miss Mae Gene Bevers, Miss Glona Purselley, Miss Avis McBroom, Miss Geneva Stewart, Mrs. Cornita Mills, Mrs. Victor Herring and Supt. and Mrs. Dee

Hancock. One teacher, Mrs. Juanita Lanious was unable to attend because of a severely sprained ankle, sustained earlier in the week. Because of the falling snow and so many people ill the buses did not run Tuesday. A large per cent of the pupils were absent from school Monday because of illness. A study course is now in progress at the local church. Rev. C. T. Jordan, an ex-chaplain, but now of Earth, Texas, is teaching the course. Forty seven were present for Sunday school Sunday. The people of this community celebrated the new electric lights Sunday night. Several guests from adjoining communities and Brownfield attended the singing Sunday night. The District Missionary Rev. Shepherd, preached to the audience before time for the singing. An enjoyable time was in evidence.

Several people from this community attended the singing at Wellman Sunday. The next meeting of the Terry County Singing Convention will be the second Sunday in April. At this time the convention will meet in this community. So everyone remember the date, April 13.

Everyone in this community is given a special invitation by our Sunday School Supt. to be present for Sunday School and church Sunday. It is hoped that a training union will be organized in the near future. Plans are under way to utilize the new lights and have a Training Union beginning the next quarter, starting April, 6, Easter.

The Production and Marketing Administration is urging farmers to include more forage crops in their plans for 1947 planting.

Mesdames M. G. Tarpley and Sam Teague attended the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs 7th district convention in Childress Wednesday.

SIDELIGHTS From Washington

BY GEORGE MAHON

When the Secretary of Agriculture announced last week that the cotton crop insurance program was out of money, I got in touch with the director of the Crop Insurance Corporation and other officials with the hope of being helpful to West Texas cotton growers who had participated in the program. Mr. Gus Geissler, Manager of the Corporation, explained that on account of heavy losses, funds to redeem the certificates of those who participated in last year's program had been exhausted. Of those entitled to collect on their 1946 cotton insurance, 45 per cent remain unpaid. To make these additional payments, it is estimated that a total of 18 million dollars will be required. Mr. Geissler says that a Congressional appropriation of this amount will be necessary before outstanding certificates can be honored. The Corporation will continue to accept certificates, but checks will not be issued until further funds are available.

Growers have entered into contracts with the Government and they have a right to expect payment. The future of the program is uncertain, but it is unthinkable to me that Congress would refuse to appropriate the money to liquidate this outstanding indebtedness, and that is the position I am taking in my efforts here.

The Republican Party is not greatly concerned about the southern cotton producer, and in view of the Republican leadership in the House and Senate, there will be difficulty in getting prompt action. However, most people with whom I have conferred agree that the necessary money will eventually be forthcoming. Action should be taken and the uncertainty removed as soon as possible.

The theory of crop insurance is good, but I have never felt that a workable program has been devised. I think nearly all cotton growers share that feeling. Indeed, not more than 11 per cent of the nation's cotton farmers have thought well enough of the cotton insurance program offered them on any given year to participate in it.

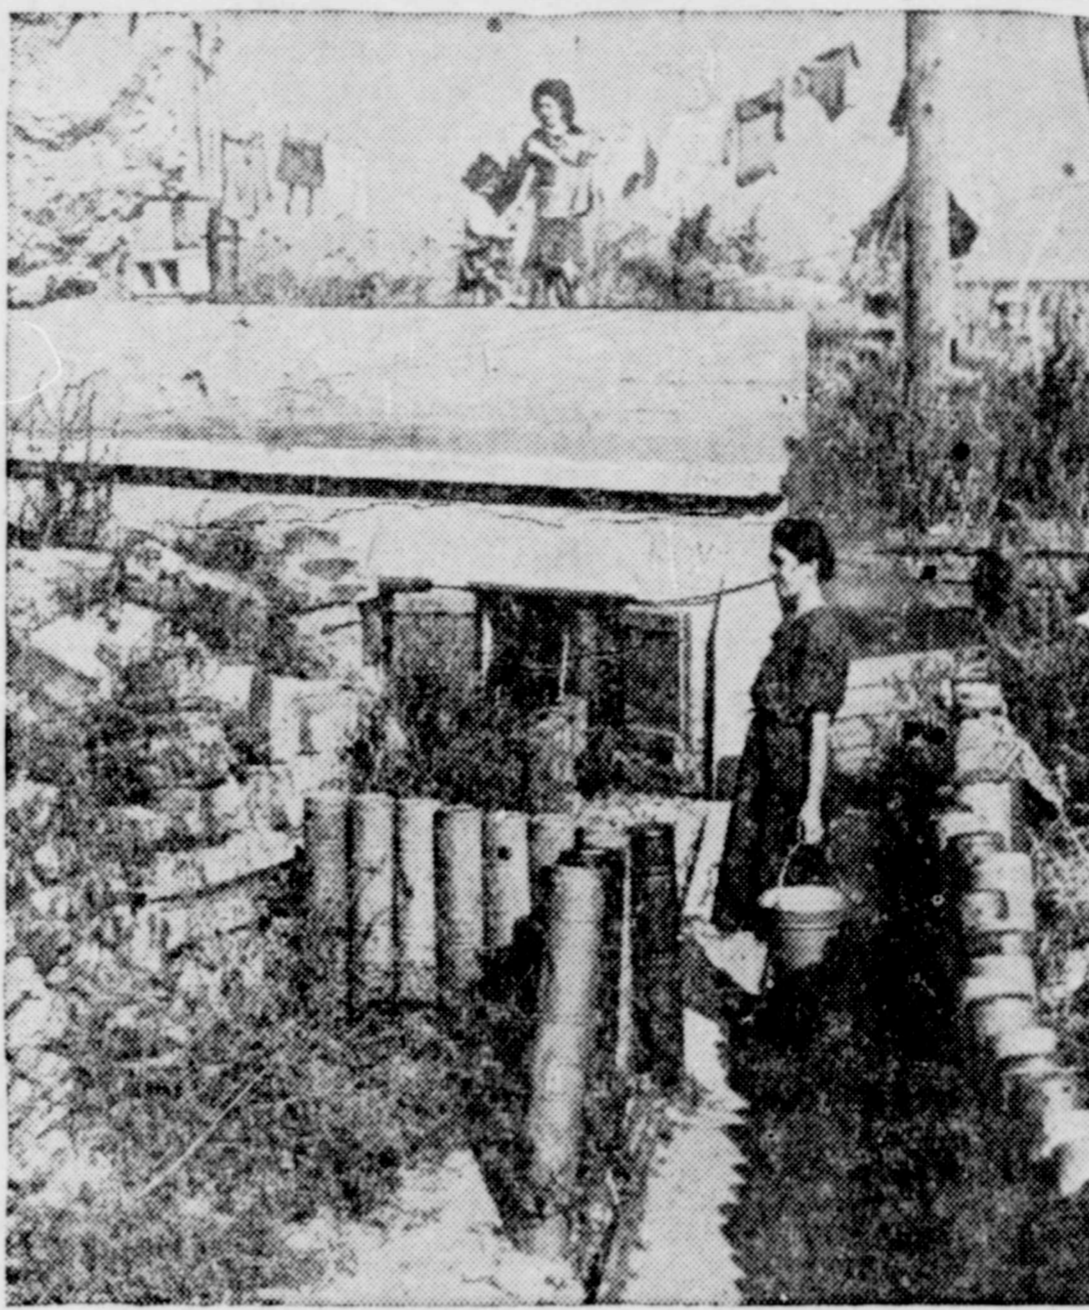

The hope has been that with experience, a workable formula would eventually be hit upon. But in view of recent developments, the whole future of cotton crop insurance is more uncertain than ever.

Here is a brief history of the program. By act of Congress, the cotton insurance program was placed in operation in 1942 and 1943. It was then eliminated, but new legislation started the program in operation again in 1945, and that legislation is still in force.

It was difficult to get sufficient support in Congress to pass a cotton crop insurance law after the program went out of operation in 1944. The complaint was made that the venture was a losing proposition for the Government and that cotton producers were not interested in it, figures being cited to show the small percentage of farmers who had participated. Nevertheless, both political parties at their National Conventions had endorsed crop insurance and, after several attempts, a new crop insurance law enacted.

Financially the cotton crop insurance program has always been a losing proposition for the government, ranging from a net loss of over 4 million dollars in 1942 to an estimated loss of 38 million dollars for the crop year of 1946.

As stated, not more than an average of 11 per cent of the nation's cotton farms have ever been insured for any one crop year.

DUTCH COURAGE . . . This is a street in "Bunker Valley," near Breckenridge, where the Germans once boasted an "impregnable" line of fortifications. Dutch families now occupy the bunkers. One woman has her weekly wash hanging out to dry on the remains of a pillbox. The lady in foreground is standing near the doorway of her pillbox home. Shell cases are used to make a fence. Walcheren was the key to the great port of Antwerp, and the Germans held it.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Barr, of Seminole were week end guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Proctor.

Mr. E. E. Hodges of Nugent spent the first of the week here visiting his daughters, Mmes C. A. Howard and A. E. Proctor.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Maness, of Andrews visited with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Harris over the week end.

Mrs. L. O. Turner attended the funeral of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ola Pierce in Wichita Falls, Friday.

However, the Texas coverage in 1946 was 28 per cent and the West Texas coverage was much heavier.

West Texas cotton producers will collect proportionately far more money out of the cotton crop insurance program than any other section of the cotton belt, and therefore, have a big stake in the outcome of the difficulty over the 1946 insurance payments. The 9th Congressional District has collected, or will collect a net of several million dollars. The coverage ranges from 95 per cent of the cotton farms in several of the counties to no insurance at all in two counties. The coverage in every county was reported to be 1 per cent; Gaines and Yoakum 5 per cent each.

Babson Discusses Luxury Taxes; Foreign Loans

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Much as we may dislike sticking our noses into other people's affairs, it becomes a necessity, under present conditions. We are sending relief in one form or another all over the world. We supplied 72 per cent of the UNRRA funds and goods. In many instances we found administrative personnel of other nations using these relief supplies to their political advantage.

With the end of UNRRA this month a new plan is proposed whereby the U. S. supplies only 57 per cent (still well over half) of the funds. For this purpose, President Truman has asked for an additional $350,000,000 with which to stave off the specter of starvation in Austria, Greece, Hungary, Poland, Italy and China. However, our State Department says that in this undertaking we, ourselves, will administer our own funds.

Can We Afford It?

The world calls upon our resources, to the estimated sum of about $4,000,000,000 at a time when we need to put our own financial affairs in order. We have loaned to France, Poland, England and others. England once sent money and goods all over an Empire, and it has nearly busted her. England now owes many billions of dollars to Canada, the U. S. and other nations besides the billions which she owes her own people. Now, near economic collapse, she still has interests all over the world. Who will do the policing and protecting of her loans and investments? Will the United States step in everywhere Britain feels she must step out? Italy and Greece might have turned to England for assistance. But, under the circumstances, they are asking of the U. S. Italy's government warns us of the communistic danger in the offing if the U. S. does not provide the Italians with more aid in food and money. Certainly, we are between two fires: If we don't loan, Europe will go communistic; while if we loan too much, unemployment will develop in the U. S. and strengthen communism here at home.

Self Reliance—An Ideal

It would be unhealthy for any nation to acquire the feeling that it can always turn to us for material aid. A nation strengthens itself as it works out its own difficulties. The ravages of war have made it necessary for the United States to send food to many nations. Germany, Austria, India and China are among the most hungry today, having more than a 20 per cent cut in their normal diet. They are worse off than France, Italy or even Greece.

Among the defeated nations it is important to create domestic self-sufficiency lest they become a permanent drain on the resources of others. MacArthur is wisely asking Washington to allow the Japanese funds for enough shipbuilding to permit a revival of their fishing industry. He also believes that limitations on Japanese industry should be lifted, to help Japan work toward domestic self-sufficiency at least.

How To Raise Needed Funds

The real question is not whether we send these hundreds of millions abroad as Ex-president Hoover recommends. We simply must do so or someday the entire world will gang up against us. We, in the U. S., cannot long continue living the "life of Riley" while the rest of the world is on the verge of starvation. The only question facing us today is how this money should be raised.

The answer to me is very simple—Increase the luxury taxes on liquor, tobacco, night clubs, expensive clothing, jewelry, etc. This will give both the necessary funds and put some sense into our people. Some will say such increased taxes would throw a few of our people temporarily out of work. Perhaps so; but I doubt it. Besides we are short of labor to make for us today the essentials which we are lacking,—in need of food, clothing and shelter.

5 Year Old Jersey Butter Fat Champ

Texas has a new butterfat champion—Welcome Volunteer Sable, five-year old Jersey cow owned by J. Chester Elliff of Tullia.

J. W. Davis, Extension dairyman of Texas A. and M. College, has been informed by the American Jersey Cattle club that the Jersey set a new state record in butterfat production when she produced 18,998 pounds of milk and 1,144 pounds of butter fat in 365 days, on a three-time-per-day milking basis.

Welcome Volunteer Sable's performance topped the 1,077 pound butterfat topped the 1,077 pound her half sister, Welcome Volunteer Tiff, also owned by Elliff, a former FFA boy. Both Sable and Tiff were sired by the champion bull Welcome Volunteer, then owned by Elliff, who sold the sire last year to a Massachusetts dairy farm.

Sable is now third all time highest butterfat producer of the Jersey breed, according to Dairyman Davis.

Veterans News

More than 22,000 veterans in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi have reinstated National Service Life Insurance to the value of $133,315,000 since February 1, the Veterans Administration reports.

VA began a nation-wide information program on that date to acquaint veterans with their rights to reinstate GI insurance carried by most service men and women during World War II.

Veterans who have let their GI policies lapse have until August 1, 1947, to reinstate without physical examination if they certify that they are in as good health as they were at the time of lapse.

Tommy Tanimoto, a native Hawaiian and veteran of World War II, has traveled more than 4,000 miles to Lubbock, Texas, to study photography under the Veterans Administration training program.

Tanimoto was working at Hickam Field on December 7, 1941, when the Japanese attacked and came near losing his life on the first day of the war. Shortly afterward, he enlisted in the U. S. Army.

The 26-year-old veteran has enrolled in a Lubbock school under the GI Bill and plans to open a studio in Honolulu when he completes his studies.

He is a native of Hilo, Hawaii, T. H., where his father owns and operates a department store.

The Veterans Administration has established seven paraplegic centers in hospitals strategically located from coast to coast, Dr. Lee D. Cady, VA's Dallas Branch Medical Director, reports.

VA personnel skilled in the treatment of paraplegics (veterans who are paralyzed from the waist down because of spinal in(juries) have been assembled in the centers, Dr. Cady said.

This will permit veterans to receive the proper treatment needed for their rehabilitation and at the same time be as close to their home as possible.

MRS. MANGUM NAMED HONOREE AT LUNCHEON

Mrs. A. S. Mangum was named honoree at a luncheon Monday in the home of Mrs. Lorn Walters in Lubbock as a farewell gesture by her friends. Each guest brought a covered dish for lunch and games of bridge were enjoyed afterward. Mrs. Walters presented the honoree with a lovely gift.

Those enjoying the affair were Mes. Jack Benton, Mike Blair, L. H. Dean, Wayne Brown, Will C. Brown, Martin Line, Hub Moore of Lubbock and the honoree.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Blevins, of Hobbs were in town Monday shopping.
