

ROGER W. BABSON DISCUSSES TRENDS TOWARD MECHANIZATION IN U. S.

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Wherever you look, you uncover a growing tendency to replace employees with machines. This widespread movement calls for the closest attention of wage workers and business men alike. In its practical reactions upon you and your family, the rising pace of mechanization should overshadow, by far, the gossip of Hollywood and the debates at Washington. This trend has been gathering momentum so long that we are likely to forget it. It will not forget us. Scan the industrial news in detail and you feel the vast sweep of today's tide. It bears news of the future for both job-holders and stockholders.

Both Inside and Outside Jobs
Few groups in the nation will be able to stand complacently at the curb and watch this forward march of the Iron Men. The robots are not confined within factory walls. Swift changes are appearing in the farm regions, where modern equipment is taking over an ever-growing share of all farm operations. In the trucking of heavy shipments, there will be less of human struggle and the old heave-ho. At the tail end of the truck, muscle power will be replaced by mechanical lift. In many of the service trades, the scene is changing through introduction of pre-packaging, self-serving, coin vending, and other modernism.

Mechanical devices are invading the last strong holds of personal labor. For instance, the job of inspection heretofore has seemed to require human senses for which no mechanism could be substituted. Yet electronic and other mechanical checks now perform with a speed and certainty which outclass humans. Heretofore, the assembling of parts into a complete article has been very difficult to mechanize; but I definitely forecast its accomplishment. The all-automatic production plant is more than a comic strip phantasy.

Will Reach Into Every Home
A white collar is no badge of immunity. Working in cooperation with the Armed Services, technical institutions have contrived brain work machines. These are now solving problems in mathematics entirely beyond the capacity of any accountant. No job or business can afford to ignore this universal drift. For better or for worse, most of us are bound to collide, sooner or later, with the floodtide of mechanism. It will influence all human activities.

History reveals, with appalling certainty, that the onrush of machinery cannot be opposed successfully. It will over-ride any opposition from labor groups, industrial competitors, legislators, or ideologists. From earliest days, mechanical revolutions have rolled ahead against the most savage opponents. This is because machinery increases production. Any agency which can do that is all-powerful. Mechanization can be put to the service of all groups.

Opportunities Outweigh the Perils
As an industry becomes mechanical, instead of manual, it tends to expand. In the end it will open more jobs than it closes. Furthermore, there is every reason why such new jobs should grade higher than the old. Analyze the task of inventing, making, maintaining and bettering the machinery of today and tomorrow. Surely such expert occupation is a step ahead of primitive toil. To capitalize the opportunity, however, will demand that all of us must modernize our attitudes. Labor and management alike must set their sights on goals that are creative, constructive and productive.

The potential trouble lurking in today's trend is that the facilities and equipment can become ultra-modern while our social thinking remains medieval. This we must avoid. If the current boom in education does its work aright, we must develop a public which will be schooled in sound economics and awake to spiritual values. Only as these factors are added to mechanization can we be assured of higher standards of living and working.

Browsing Around Among Businessmen

On account of a serious attack of spring fever, which went to 110 in the shade, and no shade to speak of, while we dreamed of eating fish—we don't particularly like to fish ourselves—just eat 'em, we neglected our calls on the merchants. Now if we have missed you so far, don't get discouraged, as we don't always carry our fast walking stick, and it takes us quite awhile to get around—but we'll get to you,— so keep your shirt on.

We dropped off at the Bargain Center before, and should begin at Piggly Wiggly, but a week or so ago when Pat had his 10th anniversary we gave them a fair notice.

So, on down to the Johnson Implement, where the John Deere is sold—when they can get 'em—or your old ones repaired. However, those repair boys of Mr. Johnson's are not averse to any make, and will take them on and give you the very best they have in the shop. And when they are not too busy, during off season, that is one of the best places in town to "rat." For instance, if Pat Patterson is not in, he is either off up the street after coffee, or chewing the fat in there at Johnson Implement.

Next at 209, the sign says Terry County Herald. No future to any business we might do with them, so on to the Neill Tower, where the law is pled, even to the law of the Medes and Persians, which permitted no amendments, we are told. And you can get your income figured here—for a fee. We also see Mr. Bowman in there at a desk occasionally, but what he's up to, we have never figured out.

At the next half stop is where you get that aching molar or incisor extracted, and a brand new set of store bought teeth, or even have them braided in a gold bridge, but some shorter than the San Francisco-Oakland span. And Doc has two fair damsels in the front office to make you forget your dread and relax. There are some magazines too, generally but not as old as some of the dentist joke books would have you believe. They are fairly current. Dr. Roberson runs this place.

And so across the drive way and you head into the Treadaway-Daniell Hospital. If well, you'll stay that way. If sick, they'll make you feel well, as their fees are never excessive. Frankly, we have known Dr. Lester (Buster, when a boy) and Dr. Alfred Daniell since both were short pants and barefoot boys, picking grass burrs from their heels. These boys have somewhat shaken our idea about that verse, even if it is in the Bible about the Prophet that was not without honor, save in his own country. But that verse was about a prophet, and not a physician. These boys have made good physicians, and they have made a go right here in the town where they were reared, believe it or not. They have a well staffed hospital that would be a credit to a much larger town. Only thing is, we long for the day when they can get material to greatly enlarge their hospital. They need room to expand.

Over across the street from them, is the Cicero Smith Lumber Co., which was one of the first to go in here after the advent of the railroad. At that time a long, tall, handsome young man and then single, appeared on the scene, quietly bought lots and started erecting the plant. He, too was named Smith, but not related to Cicero. Fred came from Old Kaintuck, where he taught the young ideas how to shoot in one-room schools. But he came west and became a part and parcel of a large and expanding company. Since then, he has not only retained the management in Brownfield, but is district manager as well. Fred has a fine hustling staff, who know the lumber business from A to Z. They are likeable folks to do business with, and they make you feel at home and welcome whether you are in to buy a box of brads or a house plan.

Spend Money To Educate Voters

When a man is willing to lay dollars down on the line to get qualified voters interested enough to go to the polls and cast a vote, that man is interested. Not that he wants any votes himself, but he wants people to remain free, and take an interest in their government from Brownfield on through to Washington.

Such a man is Jack Griggs of the Brownfield Ice Co. Jack knows ice making from the fluid on to the solids. He also knows that a mighty good way for us to lose our freedom is to remain away from the polls, and let the bosses do the voting. That is exactly what happened to Germany, Italy and Japan. They let George do it, and the first thing they knew the people were no better than slaves.

It is the hardest matter in the world to persuade Texans to vote at each and every election, but you let some man or set of men post some strong arm guys at the polling places and tell the voter: he has no business there, and see how quick an organization would get together and hang the dictators as high as Haman.

We talked for some time with Jack, and if he was for or against anyone running for office in either the city or school elections, he did not so much as hint it. But he does want to see the citizens turn out and really cast a representative vote.

Professional Men To Close Saturdays At Noon

At a meeting of most of professional men, in the city, at the courthouse Monday afternoon, after discussions it was voted almost unanimously to close their offices and places of business on Saturdays at noon, remaining closed until the following Monday morning.

This included abstracters, attorneys and insurance firms. Also county offices. It was understood that County officers, in cases of emergency would promptly respond.

This may inconvenience some patrons, but it was argued that the managers and help after a weeks work need this half day rest and recreation. The banks, postoffice and many other businesses are already doing so.

Culver Murder Case Set For April 21

Judge Louis B. Reed was here last Friday and ordered a special venire of 100 men, to appear as Jurors on April 21 when the case of Romero Dove, charged with the slaying of Wm. H. (Bill) Culver, in this county on Dec. 30th last year.

Dove was arrested in the latter part of January, and has been held in jail here since. It is thought a qualified jury will be readily procured from this venire.

Community Worship Service This Afternoon

This afternoon between two and three p. m., there is to be a community worship service centering around the crucifixion of Christ. The conformity of customs more generally established in the great centers of our nation's business and social life pauses for this service and this year in Brownfield the Lions and Rotarians have been officially joined by the Jay Cees and the Terry County Board of Development in asking all business houses to close for this community service which is to be held at the Methodist church.

The public is cordially invited to attend and participate in this most appropriate service during one of the hours of Christ's crucifixion.

District Governor Gives Band Writup

A nice and deserving writup of the Brownfield High school band appeared in the March issue of Rotary International, district division at Abilene. The writer was District Governor, Aubrey Stephenson, District No. 127. Stephenson is on the faculty of Hardin-Simmons U.

The burden of the article was the comeback of the band, dropped by its leader, Clifford Horn, when he entered the Air Force of the nation. After his discharge, and he and Mrs. Horn returned home, he found the organization not only disbanded, but a lot of the instruments gone, as many of the old members had moved.

Here is where the local Rotary went into action. Clifford being a Rotarian, that organization got behind him and the high school band and with encouragement from other sources, the band was soon on its feet and going places.

The Lions, City Dept., and Junior Chamber of Commerce joined the Rotarians, and the band was again a going organization. The school system has had its hands full taking care of many other headaches, occasioned by rapid growth here. But all hands and the cook put it over.

Clean Up Campaign Coming Soon

The several civic clubs of Brownfield are uniting in staging a clean up and paint up campaign for this city from the 14th to 19th, the third week in April. They also have the aid of the city officials who will furnish trucks to haul off rubbish and spray all alleys with DDT. The purpose is to get every one to clean up their premises, yards and back lots, urging that united effort will bring a united pride in a clean pretty little city.

Even an unpainted house with a clean yard may look as well as some painted house with a cluttered yard. It need not cost any one much. It is hoped all will respond. Every little bit helps to achieve this city's opportunity and ambition to become a bigger and better town.

Avalanche-Journal Compliments Mayor And City

One of the nicest bouquets handed this little city in quite some time was on page 9 of the first section of the Sunday Avalanche-Journal. The article was by-lined by a staff writer, Tom Miller. If Mr. Miller was complimentary to our mayor, Frank Jordan and staff, as well as other city employees, it was no less so to our much alive and hustling little city.

That is usually a very busy bunch over at the city hall, as pointed out by Mr. Miller, but like he says, they are never too busy to be courteous. As between the job of being mayor of a town with growing pains that keeps the city dads hopping, skipping and jumping to keep ahead of growth with utilities, he is also the Lions District Governor, that requires a lot of his time.

Mr. Miller not only paid a glowing tribute to Mayor Jordan and our city, but also to the schools of the Brownfield district, in their effort to keep abreast of the times.

Writer Miller hopes to visit us sometime when everyone does not appear so busy, for a chat. Why not set a date, and the folks will see that Frank is kept in his office that day if we have to lock the city hall doors and hide the key. And we won't even let Richard in on how to open the door.

Seniors Take Trip To Carlsbad Caverns

The Seniors from Brownfield took their annual trip last Friday. Thirty-six seniors, Mr. Jack McBrayer, Mrs. Winona Moorhead, Mrs. Finney and Mr. Sam Privitt left at four o'clock in the morning for Carlsbad, N. M. We arrived in Carlsbad and registered in the Crawford Hotel before going to the Caverns. Everyone went through the Caverns but no one walked out. The seniors were invited to the Teen Age Conteen Dance at the Crawford Hotel. Bill Walton's orchestra played for the dance. Jane Weir sang a solo with the orchestra.

Saturday the seniors bowled, went through the museum, took pictures, went to a movie and to a carnival.

At twelve o'clock we left Carlsbad and were kept awake all the way to Brownfield by several who still had enough energy to sing.

At a special meeting of the Board of Directors of the Terry County Board of Development and of the union Chamber of Commerce it was unanimously voted to endorse and work for the passage of all items in the forthcoming bond issue.

The Directors of both the Terry County Board of Development and Chamber of Commerce believe that the future progress of Brownfield is dependent upon the voting of bonds in order that much needed improvement can be made. They were unanimous in expressing their belief that Brownfield must have these improvements in order to properly take care of the fast growth which Brownfield is experiencing at this time. The bond issue will provide for needed sewer improvements which will include installation of needed sewerage in the West part of the city as well as in the East part. In other words, every section of the city will be considered and their needs provided for as far as possible.

It was brought out at the Board of Directors meeting of the Terry County Board of Development that many new projects are being considered for Brownfield and that possibly two hundred or three hundred houses will be built in the next two years which will mean that we must have additional facilities to care for the increase in population. The new directory now being prepared indicates that we now have population of approximately 8,000 people and our sewerage and other utilities are set up for a town of approximately 2,000 people.

The officers and directors of both the Terry County Board of Development and the Junior Chamber of Commerce are unanimous in recommending to the citizenry of Brownfield that they support wholeheartedly the bond issue which will be voted on next Tuesday.

Lions Lectured On Atomic Energy

"Only God Can Control Atomic Energy," the Lions Club were told at their Wednesday luncheon by Dr. Paul Elliott, professor of Physics and Science of the Tech college. He pointed out the extreme harm it could do, but its good uses may finally be developed. This all depends on the good will and the brotherhood of man the world over and should begin here with us, he said.

Dr. Elliott, a fluent speaker held his audience spellbound for an hour.

Mrs. Phil Gaasch left Wednesday by plane to visit for several weeks with her parents in Okla. City.

All people with a semblance of the instinct of humanity greatly sympathize with the miner's families, whose husbands and fathers were recently lost in the great mine disaster in Illinois. But calling a "grief strike" because someone failed in their duty to provide a safer working condition for the men who risk their lives underground is silly. John L. Lewis says he can't make his miners work, but he can order them to strike any old time. Anyway, the strike will result in the loss of wages for a week, if the strike is not then extended, not to mention thousands of tons of coal that the world is waiting for. There are two occupations we do not crave, mining underground, or flying overhead. And we don't blame either parties for wanting good wages. Mr. Morganbilt does not possess enough money to get this old country editor interested in either occupation.

We get so konfounded warded at some of the war mongers, both domestic and foreign, that we want to tie their tails together and throw the over a pole and let 'em fight it out. That was the way we used to get a quarrel between a tom cat and a possum settled—and quick. The only difficulty is that the fellows we hear bellowing over the radio that Russia or some other country is able to drop a bomb on us in the next 15 minutes, do not want to fight, themselves. They want the young guys who would not know an atomic bomb from a basket ball, to do the fighting, while they sit on the sidelines and watch

LIFE ON THE RANGE

The old boy had heard enough about his short comings so he took frind wife out with him one night. They went to the theatre, a cafe and finally landed at a honky-tonk, his old meeting place. Both kept taking on a bit more as they sat at a table and finally he was drunk and she was down and out. The old boy wobbled over to the phone and called his wife at home. Getting no response, he wobbled back over to where she was lying in 1947 style, and said, "See here old girl, you ain't at home and I'm going to stay out with you tonight!" Clarendon Leader.

the gore fly. The old boobs should be shut off from both radio and newspapers. But it does look like the leaders of all nations should have learned by this time that no one wins a war. That what is left of such countries as Germany, Poland and the west part of Russia that is as large of the United States east of the Mississippi river, on which just ordinary bombs were used, will not be able to pay damage to other nations for a generation, maybe. They have to start again at the ground and build up. And all the former axis countries, the territories they overran, are having to be fed and will have to be fed for several years more. Why can't civilized folks see that, and call their dogs of war off?

The long drawn out strike of 328 days has finally been called off at the Allis-Chalmers plant in Milwaukee, and the strikers have agreed to and are back at work at wages offered them almost a year ago. In the meantime, the workers have lost an estimated 20 million dollars, and they and the company have nothing to show for some 65 million dollars worth of machinery sorely needed on the farms of America. Strikes like war, are something that nobody wins. All lose, including the public.

To be perfectly plain, the Herald is not taking to the invention of an Oklahoman, who is reported to have brought out an ink that will leave the scent of bacon, ham, vegetables and fruits in the grocery ads. What if the local druggist was to decide to run in his ad the smell of assafoetida? Or perhaps the hide man would want to reproduce the odor of his "curing" hides? Or the barber wanted to give you an idea of his singes? No, the Herald will continue to buy and use the old time printer's ink. We kinder like its smell anyway, and never saw a confirmed printer that didn't.

Texas opens its heart to Herman Talmadge on April 21 when he speaks at Ft. Worth under auspices of the Christian Nationalists. He will arrive, flanked by storm troopers who got chased out of Georgia with him. He will be escorted to the speaker's platform by man-of-God Frank Norris and scion-of-the-Devil Gerald L. K. Smith. The audience will be composed of more riff-raff than parimutuel betting will ever draw to Texas. From the platform, Irreverent Norris, who characterized Smith as one of the greatest living Americans, will introduce Hoiman. He will talk on his persecution in Georgia and tell how nigger-lovers robbed him of the the governorship. He will deliver a thoroughly American speech on negro hating, rabble rousing, Catholic baiting, anti-labor, Jew-communist venom that will delight the hearts of every true Texan. Tobacco-chewing Herman may throw his hat in the ring for governor of Texas, and 5,000 of Texas' intelligentsia will toss toboggans in the air, strike up Uber Allies and all join in a chorus of "We're Marching on England," lead by Fritz Kuhn and purified by Father Coughlin. Following the Americanization gathering, Jew store windows will be smashed, and a good old fashioned Georgia lynching will take place in Forest Park with a specially selected colored gentleman as the piece de resistance. After being presented with Stetson hats, Talmadge, Smith and satellites will attend a barbecue of two well-fattened Communists, garnished with Catholic gizzards. Have fun, kids, and don't forget to heil. — Ralls Banner.

DOGGONE IT!

The young bride-to-be called up her boy friend one night and asked him what he was doing. Just checking up a bit, you know. And he said "oh, I am being a good boy tonight and staying home and washing my pajamas." This pleased the "checker-upper" who said "well, good for you. Is anyone helping you?" Just then the operator cut in and in a very sweet voice said, "I'm ringing them." Clarendon Leader.

Revenue Freight Loaded In Southwest

Revenue freight loaded in the Southwestern District fell 6 per cent in February from the January level, according to loading figures of the Association of American Railroads released by The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Loading of merchandise continued to lead all other classifications in marking up a February total of 28,220 carloads.

Two products showed higher loading figures for February than for the preceding month: forest products saw 13 per cent gain, and ore loaded rose 15 per cent. Decreases ranged from the 4 per cent slump in miscellaneous loadings to the 23 per cent tumble in livestock shipments.

The mess in Georgia seems to have been settled by the Supreme court. M. E. Thompson is governor and young Eugene Talmadge is out. We hear so much about the reforms of the Arnall administration. Wonder who the legislature was thinking about in writing the silly provision which made possible the attempt of Talmadge to seize the government after the death of the senior Talmadge. Maybe old Gene anticipated this situation and prepared for it.— Canyon News.

We usually heartily agree with your editorials, Bro. Warwick, but in this instance we beg to take issue. Fact is, we don't think that old Gene had any idea other than that he would live out his elected term in office. On the contrary, it is our understanding that one of old Gene's strongarmers under his former tenure of office, anticipated just what did happen, and quietly circulated among the stalwarts and had enough of them to write in young Talmadge to make him the second high man on the list. But we could be wrong.

Seguin Man Lives "Life of Riley"

Twenty six years ago Dr. S. S. Severn, a veterinarian of Seguin began planning for his old age. He secured a 100 acre tract in the Guadalupe valley, set out 300 pecan trees, budded them, and watched and waited for his little "Shangri-la" to mature. Now he is enjoying the "life of Riley" looking after his trees, which produced a $2,400 crop last year. In addition he has a fine poultry flock and raises livestock, besides growing corn, grain and alfalfa.

PUT SPARKS IN A DRY CELL

Not long ago a local lad was arraigned before Judge Dallas. "What is your name, occupation and what are you charged with?" asked the Judge. To which the prisoner replied "My name is Sparks, I am an electrician, and I'm charged with battery." "Mr. Murry, take this guy and put him in a dry cell" said the judge.

SANTA FE CARLOADINGS

Santa Fe System carloadings for week ending March 22, 1947, were 26,853 compared with 22,512 for same week in 1946. Cars received from connections totaled 10,480 compared with 9,795 for same week in 1946. Total cars moved ere 37,333 compared with 32,307 for same week in 1946. Santa Fe handled a total of 36,797 cars in preceding week of this year.

We failed to state last week on account of the fact we lost the notes, that Mrs. G. G. Gore had lost her sister-in-law, who lived at Tenna, Texas. Mrs. Gore and sons, Crede and Alfred and wives attended the funeral. Mr. Gore was unable to attend.

In most forests of Texas, pines are growing too thickly to develop strong stems and good crowns, which are necessary for healthy timber growth. Timberland owners who thin the saplings by groups and small patches are promoting better farm forests.

Ex-Mayor of Gomez, J. J. Whitley and wife of this city, have returned from California, and now he claims to be right up with the Old He as he also talked with the guy in jail at the Berry Farm, as well as the decrepit individual out in the little ramshackle house in the back yard. (One of his daughters returned home with them for a visit.

Last Word On Searing Meat!, Don't Do It

The old theory that searing meat "holds in the juices" has definitely been disproved by scientific experiments. When meat is seared, a high temperature is used, and it has been learned that very high temperatures actually increase the loss of juices from the meat.

This discovery has brought about a change in the cooking of meat by various methods, says Reba Staggs, home economist. Nowadays, the accepted method of cooking a roast is to use a constant low temperature. The oven may be preheated or not, as desired; but the temperature should be regulated to remain the same throughout the entire cooking period. An oven temperature of 300 degrees F. is recommended for beef, veal, lamb, and smoked pork. Fresh pork roasts are best cooked at a temperature of 350 degrees F.

Searing has also been abandoned in the case of broiled and panbroiled meats, including tender beefsteaks.

HOME COOKING

An old friend went to Amarillo and in due course hunted up a cafe. He was tired of batching at home while his wife was down east. After some persuading, the waiter got this order from him: One egg fried, one egg boiled, smeared with vinegar. Pie with mustard atop of it, and coffee with salt in it. The waiter was somewhat put out with a sober man acting worse than a drunk but she took him his mixtures. When she had placed them on the table, the old boy said "now sit down and nag h--l out of me, I'm homesick and I want to feel at home!"—Clarendon Leader.

Wellman 4-H Club Activities

BY HELEN DUNLAP

"Never an idle moment," is one of the mottoes of the three 4-H Clubs of Wellman. Recently these clubs have adopted Janice, a six years old girl in Mrs. W. T. Milam's Orphan Home at Lubbock to clothe for the remainder of the year. The Wellman girls are now making Janice's Easter wardrobe and completed it Tuesday.

On 4-H club Sunday, May 4, they have invited all the boys and girls from the home to attend 4-H Club Sunday which will be observed at Wellman. The 4-H girls hope by that time that transportation can be provided for these thirty-one boys and girls. The club members are also inviting all families in the community to come, bringing lunch which, following the program, will be served to everyone in attendance.

The Wellman 4-H girls are selling subscriptions to the Farmer-Stockman to help them finance the clothing of their adopted Janice.

Recently the Wellman Community entered the Rural Neighborhood Progress Contest of the Farmer-Stockman in cooperation with the Extension Service. Mona Faye McBeth, member of the older 4-H group was appointed a member of the community planning committee, to help work out the program of community improvement

Another activity of these three clubs, is providing for a talent club among members. With the talent club, the people hope to encourage the very best quality of work among the 4-H membership. In order that the girls will work harder, the business firms at Wellman, next fall, will give money prizes to the highest ranking girls. The girls are to invest this money in some home work to make it increase in value. A year from the time the money is received, each winner will report her progress, and the one who has increased the amount most, will receive an additional money prize. In this way, the contestants may start a college or some other type of needful fund from a small beginning.

The National Retail Lumber Dealers Association and its affiliates are sponsoring 30-day courses in 14 colleges and universities to train veterans under the GI Bill for positions in the retail lumber and building material fields.

Purpose of the training program is to gain critically needed replacements for thousands of employees who left lumber and building material yards during the war for the armed forces and war industries.

The 30-day course covers four main topics: building products, general business procedures, construction and estimating, and miscellaneous subjects. New sessions will begin April 7 at Southern Methodist University, Dallas, and Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, La. Other schools beginning courses at that time are Massachusetts State College, Michigan State College, Ohio State University, Georgia Tech and College of Pacific.

Other schools already holding classes and planning to repeat them later in the spring are University of Illinois, New York State College of Forestry, Purdue University, University of Washing-

CITY BOND ELECTION EXPLAINED

Interviewing some city officials anent the coming bond issue election, they said "in the first place it's just up to the people. If they vote the bonds, we will try to carry out these improvements. If they don't want to pay for them and vote it down, there is nothing we can do about it. We merely submit it to the voters."

We all know because of the war and high and scarce materials, public utilities has not kept up with the city's growth. They explained they have had engineers at work on the problem for some time. It will require a new main sewage line from the disposal plant, up the draw to accommodate the south, and extreme west parts of town. Another main line to take the part east of Lubbock road, and east part of town. This also necessitates a large addition to the disposal plant, hence the $225,000.00 issue.

The $100,000 for street improvements, is estimated to repair all present paving, resurface some, and put in about 60 blocks of new paving where it is to be, is largely up to adjacent property owners and the city pay 1-3 cost, the remainder to be borne by owners. It is expected to cost $9.00 per lineal foot. Also to complete about two blocks on north 2nd, east Main and west Lake, where curb and caliche base is already set, but stopped by the war, before completion.

The $50,000 water bonds is to extend water mains and laterals to every part of town not now reached, this may require two extra wells and perhaps another reservoir.

The $25,000 lighting system is to revamp the present street lighting and make extensions in the business section, up Broadway and Main and along the Lubbock road, or first street. Also to make extensions of street lighting to the many residential additions. Revenues from the municipal light and water systems are keeping up fairly well with increases, in reach of their mains.

The addition to the City Hall and warehouse can be paid for out of current revenues.

Officials stated that cost and preliminary surveys and plans, are already made, and they are only waiting the green light of the voters.

Tech Engineering Dept. To Reactivate Show This Month

After a lapse of five years of war, and postwar rehabilitation, the Engineering Department of Tech college is to stage their first post war show, in Friday and Saturday, April 18-19. Senior students are sponsoring the show.

The writer has attended this show on two or more occasions, and we see and hear something entirely new on each occasion. It seems to us that one would have to have no aptitude for the mechanics and chemistry as well as the electrical, if he did not get a kick out of this show.

Of course the primary reason for the show is to give the people who may have children to send to Tech, or just naturally inclined to like technology, what the taxpayer is getting for his dollar spent in state supported schools.

County 4-H Club News

BY HELEN DUNLAP

In an effort to have early spring vegetables, which would be impossible in an open garden in West Texas, Betty June Howard, member of the Meadow 4-H club has made a frame garden, says Miss Helen Dunlap, county home demonstration agent. This frame garden is 5 feet by 16, and around it is a box frame 12 inches high on the back side and 6 inches in front. The sides slope from 12 inches down to six inches. The taller side is built for protection and the lower side allows the entrance of more sunshine. The frame sets on top of the ground, being held in place with stakes driven at regular intervals on either side.

Since irrigation from under the ground is more effective in this section than surface irrigation, Betty June provided for it by burying, in a straight row down the center of the garden, a rusted 2 1-2 inch pipe and some used number 2 tin cans. The rusted holes in the pipe allows water to flow from it into the surrounding soil. The tin cans, with the ends out, were laid end to end and waste paper was laid at each joining, to prevent the cans from getting clogged with soil. Water is allowed to run down through the pipe and the tin cans from an overhead tank at times when the vegetables need moisture.

The rows of vegetables were planted across the width of the frame garden, in order to make cultivation and harvesting easier. The rows are 8 inches apart, which will make it possible for this small plot of ground to produce many pounds of vegetables.

McCollum Accepts Position With McAllen Schools

T. E. McCollum, Superintendent of Brownfield schools announced Monday that he had accepted a similar position with the McAllen schools. His year here ends June 31. McCollum has served three years here and four years at Levelland two as principal and two as superintendent prior to coming to Brownfield.

Supt. McCollum had been re-elected as superintendent of the Brownfield schools.

Mr. McCollum stated that he wished to express his thanks to the patrons of the Brownfield school system for their cooperation and support.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Hamilton and son, Tommy were in Winters Sunday to attend the funeral of Mr. A. L. Smith.

Mr. L. A. Jett of Port Arthur, spent the week end in Brownfield visiting friends.

Betty June planted early vegetables, such as lettuce, radishes and greens.

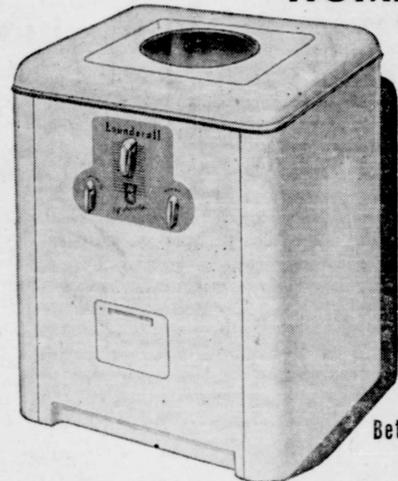

The cost of the frame garden was practically nothing, as her father did the work, and the materials used were picked up on the farm. Scrap lumber for the frame was spliced to get the desired size and the pipe was of no use since it was rusted through in many places. Well decayed straw from an old stack was mixed with the soil to get a richer soil that will produce vegetables quickly. The cover for the frame used for protection from wind, sand and cold was made from some old canvas her mother had.

COPELAND HARDWARE

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER says:

"Any price is too high if it can be reduced."

We second the motion
We'll do our part!

International Harvester has reduced prices to save users of its products $20,000,000 a year. The reductions apply to a selected list of various products made by the Company.

In making its announcement to the general public last week, International Harvester said:

"We believe there is nothing more important to this country than to lower the prices of goods people buy."

"The American people have insisted that the government withdraw from its attempts to control prices in peacetime. That places the responsibility where it belongs—in the hands of business and industry."

"Because we believe price reduction is vital, we are willing to assume the risks involved."

As International Dealers we will do our part. We will pass International Harvester's price reductions to our customers.

And now a word of gratitude to our friends who have patiently waited for the new machines they need. As most of our customers are aware, International Harvester has done everything possible—and some things that seemed impossible—to maintain and increase production.

The outlook is somewhat better. Soon we hope to supply equipment to all of those who have cooperated so faithfully with us.

Meanwhile, the same top-quality International Service and Parts that have kept equipment operating for our customers during the difficult years are available from us. We urge our friends to continue to use these facilities to obtain maximum operating economy.

International Harvester is doing its part with quality, increased production and reduced prices.

We will do our part in this territory

An interesting display of antiques was shown the guests by Mrs. Wright. Among those on display were a pair of trousers, vest and shirt worn by Mr. Redford Smith's great grandfather when he was a page in the House of Congress during the George Washington administration, also a dress belonging to Mrs. Lillie McPherson that was her father's mother, and was made before the civil war. The dress is brown calico and the lining was carded and woven by hand. It was dyed with dogwood bark. Other interesting articles included snuff boxes, quilt patterns, spreads, old books and Bibles and china and glass.

Guests were entertained with music from an old music box belonging to Mrs. Richard Kendrick. It was made in Europe and has been in her family for several generations. The music is recorded on a cylinder and plays 10 pieces without changing. The tea table was laid with a handmade lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of yellow jonquils on a mirror reflector. Mrs. E. C. Davis and Mrs. Wingerd presided at the silver tea services.

Approximately sixty guests called during the afternoon. Mrs. Fred Ferral, of Kermit is a guest in the home of Mrs. W. B. Brown this week. She and Mrs. Brown were business visitors in Lubbock Monday.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

I just been readin' something about socialized medicine. It is not so skookum. Uncle Samuel better leave it alone. Planned medicine is like the planned life of the turkey farm. The turkey has no choice of hatchmen, neither has the patient any choice of doctor under the panel system. I have known Charlie, our family, and has always shown up with his black bag at every beck and call to remedy our ills.

The boys back on the Potomac are talking about putting Charlie on a panel system. Reason, something about gettin' more work out of him. I tell Charlie if this happened, if I was him I'd take in boarders and forget medicine.

In Britain Charlie would probably be one of the more efficient doctors. Well, under the panel

Mrs. Eula L. Day and her son Mr. Wesley Day of Tokio returned last week from a two weeks visit with Mrs. Day's daughter, Mrs. E. C. Brock and family in Ft. Worth, her sister, Mrs. A. E. Herron and family in Mangum, Okla. and her brother, Mr. H. E. Reems and family in Altus.

system, lots of other people would like "free" service as his patients. The British have found, under these circumstances, that they have to limit the number of "free" panel patients a doctor can accept. Thus, many people are driven into the panels of doctors they don't want.

Under such a system, Charlie would be placed along with the more efficient doctors and I would probably have to take the doctor left for me on the panel system which probably would not be my choice. The boys on the Potomac better leave Charlie in private medicine where the little fellow can have him and his familiar black bag—that's the way Charlie wants it.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA.

The Draft Law Is No More

The teenagers, joined by the Nation, welcomed the news that the Selective Service Act, known as the "Draft" expired by law March 31 thus ending a six year long dread. R. A. Simms executive Secretary for Terry county announced he had no specific instructions as to closing his office, but likely would be this month and expected to recompile indexes and service records, to send to the State department at Austin, where, as in each state, they are to be kept permanently.

The original draft board was Tom May, J. B. Knight and John W. Cadenhead. May served 2 1-2 years, resigning; Ned Self took his place by appointment. The board screened near 3300 registrants. Inducted about 1200, of these about 33 failed to return, paying the supreme price. This does not include near a 1000 oldsters, who were never called up at all.

Simms was on the job continuously for six and a half years. He will indulge in farming the rest of this year.

Soil Conservation District News

BY RILEY W. CARLTON

C. E. Hicks, Route 1, Meadow, has completed 5.60 miles of broad base terraces this past week and has built them himself with his own equipment. Mr. Hicks planned this week to prepare a way to seed about 35 acres of his farm to grass. He will plant mixtures and separate species of grass and he will be assisted on his grass planning by Hugh G. Porterfield, Supervisor for the Sub-Experiment Station.

J. C. Ebersole, Associate Agronomist with the Soil Conservation Service of Abilene, Texas, arranged to be in the CYT District April 8-11 with a grass seed drill to assist several cooperators in planting different grasses. Several farmers have made arrangements, through the District program, to start native grass mixtures for pastures and others have already secured seed for planting of some imported grasses, principally Agrican Weeping Lovegrass.

Mrs. Will Belcher of Stafford, Okla., visited her cousins, Mrs. A. R. Brownfield, Mrs. Bit Cope-land and H. M. Pyeatt, last Sunday. This was the first time they had seen each other in 32 years.

Lowell Stephens, who operates Lucile Morley's farm west of Gomez, completed a nice terrace system this past week. Terraces were planned through the District program to help in using surplus water on the west side of the farm.

Riley D. Jones, of the Johnson School Community, finished a terrace system on his farm this past week. Terraces were planned to save run off water from the north side of his farm.

Robert West and William D. Dugger, employees of SCS at Brownfield, and Herman R. Britton went to Lubbock Saturday, March 29 to take a Civil Service examination for Soil Conservation ratings.

Joe F. Krizek, Agricultural Engineer for the CYT District, went to Morton, Texas Thursday, March 27 to assist in some irrigation planning.

Our Old Bachelor Robin Back Again

For the past two weeks, or since the atmosphere had begun to warm up, we have had our eye cast out for our old semi-annual visitor, the old bachelor robin. Or is he a bachelor or old maid? Well brother, you have us there, but we have become so used to referring to the old fellow as a bachelor, it would be hard to convince us that "him is a she."

Anyway, along in October he makes his appearance from nowhere in particular, takes up his abode in our back yard, and remains for a few weeks, and we guess takes off for a still warmer climate.

Then along toward April, he shows up again, remains for a few weeks and disappears again till fall. The old rascal, while not particularly afraid of near approach of a human, is very secretive about his comings and goings. In other words where he went and where he's going is all his own business.

Mrs. P. N. Figley and children and Mrs. Roy Figley and daughter, of Denver City are spending the Easter holidays visiting in Okla. City.

"The farm of the future is in the making today," so says the farmer Secretary of Agriculture. How true this is of Terry County. You have only to drive around over the county to notice the rapid progress, to notice REA lines going in every direction to farm homes, to notice lots of new terrace systems, more contoured farms, better cover crops, thousands and thousands of acres of good deep flat breaking, promising wheat fields with many fine cattle grazing, and to notice more farm flocks and more hogs. From any angle you look, farms of the future are fast in the making today in Terry County.

Cubs Den Comes Out With April Fool Issue

If the present generation of young folks can't think it up, well it is done dead and dried up on the stalk. When us adults and oldsters find something they are saying or doing, we think funny, it is done old stuff to them, and they are pulling something else to laugh over.

But, what we started out to say, The Cubs Den, official high school paper was on the streets bright and early Tuesday morning, and if you failed to get a copy, you didn't get the kick out of All Fool's Day you should have had. While the paper is mimeographed some of it was up-side-down, and part of it was even printed as Such stuff looks like it is upside down to a lay reader, but not much trouble for an old hand to read.

Martin Kirschner was up this past week from Stamford and stated his wife had left him. He later qualified it by saying she went to Tulsa to witness her sister's marriage. His brother, Jerry, is off to markets for the Bargain Center.

Misses Nelda Norton, of Midland, was a visitor in the Money Price home last Sunday. Miss Norton is Bill Byron's girl friend, we learn.
