

Suggestions In Control Of Polio

AUSTIN, June 6 — Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has issued the following statements and suggestions concerning the control and prevention of poliomyelitis which is now occurring in certain sections of the State.

At one time it was generally believed that this infection was transmitted primarily by discharges from the respiratory tract. It is now believed that poliomyelitis may be another of the several gastrointestinal infections. Therefore, control measures must include clean-up campaigns and improvements in sanitation.

Stringent efforts should be made to eliminate house-flies, mosquitoes, and rodents to destroy their breeding places. Every effort should be made to institute approved garbage collection systems, and secure safe water supplies. Where adequate municipal sewage disposal systems are not in operation, it is necessary to install and maintain sanitary septic tanks and outdoor privies.

All swimming pools should maintain those standards approved by the Texas State Department of Health. This includes maintenance of proper chlorine level. Where such standards are not maintained, those pools should be closed to the public.

All raw food and vegetables should be washed thoroughly before use and protected from filth and insects. All food handling establishments should adhere strictly to the State law concerning the sterilization of dishes and utensils. Those restaurants with insufficient personnel to maintain approved sanitation, should close one or two hours a day so that employees can assist in maintaining cleanliness and high sanitation standards.

Approved milk supplies, rodent control measures, high sanitation standards, and strict personal hygiene are all important. Polio cases should be quarantined for 14 days and excreta from cases and contacts should be handled and disinfected with the same scrupulous care as in typhoid fever or bacillary dysentery.

Over-exertion in children should be avoided. Children should not visit homes where there is illness. It is advisable to reduce to a minimum all human contacts, especially in children during an outbreak of this disease. It is not advocated that schools, churches, and theatres be closed.

Early symptoms of infantile paralysis are headache, fever, vomiting, drowsiness, followed by stiffness in the neck and back. When suspicious symptoms appear, a physician should be called immediately.

The victim was rushed to the local hospital by Webb ambulance from Seagraves. He sustained several broken bones and bruises but is expected to recover.

Highway patrolmen investigated and called it unavoidable upon finding evidence of efforts to stop. The driver of the car and his wife rendered aid and followed in and reported to officials. They were from out of state.

Bangs Test Available For Terry Farmers

To prevent undulant fever the County Agricultural Agent, Lee H. McElroy, advises that all milk cows be tested each year for Bangs. The cost of testing is very small compared to the cost of treating this dreaded disease.

Two plans are available through your local County Agricultural Agent for the Bangs test. The local veterinarian has agreed to run these tests at a reduced price provided cattle to be tested will be grouped in 20 to 30 head in one neighborhood. To do this notify or come by the County Agents office and leave your name location and number of cattle.

The Bureau of Animal Industry have veterinarians working in the state and will also do Bangs testing free of charge provided the owner of Dairy Cattle will sign an agreement to cooperate with them in eradicating Bangs disease, and in keeping his herd free of Bangs. There are only a few of these veterinarians in the state and it will require usually three to six months to get them in the county for this testing work. For further information come by and see Lee H. McElroy, County Agricultural Agent.

DDT-Sulphur Good For Aphid Destruction

COLLEGE STATION— June 6 —DDT and sulphur mixture can mean dollars saved to West Texas alfalfa growers this year, judging from the experience of Hale county farmers.

Hale County Agricultural Agent M. W. Ayers reports that the DDT and sulphur mixture now has the nod of approval from several farmers who had a severe infestation of pea aphids on alfalfa recently. Before the aphid poisoning could get underway, however, the insects had slowed down alfalfa growth to the extent that some farmers lost their entire first planting.

A local insecticide dealer cooperated with the county agent and a few farmers in running some field trials in an effort to find the best poison to use against the aphids on alfalfa. Their best results were obtained with ten per cent DDT and sulphur, applied at the rate of 20 to 30 lbs., per acre. Most of the poison trials were done by airplane.

The farmers who have used the treatment are well satisfied that it will pay dividends, says County Agent Ayers.

Brownfield Will Have Ball Team Someday

Those who were disappointed over Brownfield not having a baseball team in the South Plains league have patience. The tentative year olds of the fifth-seventh grades in school have two promising teams in the making.

The Cubs and Rough Riders, played a double header at the ball diamond Wednesday evening, resulting in the Cubs winning the championship. Each winner was awarded a gold ball emblem. The Cubs had won the first game earlier in the week, the second game went to the Rough Riders 42 to 17, the Cubs rallied in the final, winning 28 to 15.

We did not learn how many went over the fence but the umpire received standard attention.

Mrs. Roy Blair visited Mrs. Burt Smith in San Angelo over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Shorty Forbus spent the week end in Ruidoso.

Negro Woman Forger Caught, Confesses

After learning the names of several colored women who had worked for Mrs. J. L. Randal, whose name was found forged to six checks given to various merchants the last two weeks, Sheriff Ocie Murry confronted Jean McDaniel, a 17 year old girl working at a residence near Mrs. Randal with such proof. She readily confessed forging the checks and was taken into custody.

Upon payment of all the checks aggregating $178.00 by her mother, Juvenile Court paroled her for the time being to her mother living in the north part of town.

She has resided here several years and is the mother of a five months old child. One of the articles purchased was a baby push cart.

Final Figures Given On Scholastics

Final tabulation of this year's scholastic census was announced this week by County Superintendent Lee Fulton. They show an increase in the county of 86, or a gain of three per cent over last year. A puzzling situation in that the gain isn't in keeping with the gain in population.

Brownfield has 2124, Meadow and Wellman tie with 483 each and Union 256.

New Cotton Gin For Terry County

It has been reported from reliable sources that another large cotton gin will be erected this summer on the site of the Old Needmore school house at the intersection of the east and west road, Meadow to Sundown, now being paved and the Brownfield-Lvelland highway.

This is one of Terry's best cotton producing areas, and has been without a gin since the Tudor gin burned down two years ago.

WAR NURSE

She was born in War's grim garden,
A rose of the battlefield,
Baptized under hell and fire
While the world around her reeled.

She stayed at the front against orders
And when CI gripes began
One Joe cried "If she can take it,
I am sure we soldiers can!"

Mercy's angel in a helmet,
She knew many a prison hell;
She lived and died like a soldier,
To the wounded she was "Swell!"

With the war she's been forgotten
Like the strains of "Over There,"
But each soldier boy remembers
Some brave War Nurse in his prayer.

Well, we got some help from the Lubbock Avalanche-Arent on front page editorial about Ft. Worth and Dallas being in a rut, all which is appreciated, although they thought our comment a bit "salty." We have long since learned that some folks and institutions have to be approached with salt or vinegar, while some have to be sugared. We'll use the sugar spoon when and if we ever get the boys from Ft. Worth-Dallas out here. But the Lord knows we don't want both at once. There are not enough people in Brownfield to keep those birds apart.

So we have the lowdown on plane wrecks versus car wrecks via two very fine news commentators, Walter Kiernan ABC and Ken McClure of WOAI. Both gentlemen were heard to make their comments Monday, and both in order to keep the morale up for air travel, let it be known that some three times as many were killed over the week end holiday in car traffic as airplane wrecks. We wonder if it ever occurred to these fine and sometimes funny gentlemen that there were perhaps several million traveling in cars to a few thousand in planes? Walter and Ken should remodel their average.

Half our oldsters are taking the brunt of the expense of the moderns this week, and those who are making the education of the youth of our land their life work, and especially those in the big consolidated schools, are wondering just what happened, anyway. It remained for little Mattie Lou Pollard from a little one room school in Georgia to become the champion of six million grade school spellers of the nation, and she won fair and square. In the days of the spelling bees of some localities and battle spelling in others, there were some real spellers in those old one and two room schools, and some were excellent readers, too. Now days, we find that very common words are likely to be misspelled by a high school or even college graduates. Especially are they nonplussed on words that sound alike, but with an altogether different meaning, for example "sail" and "sale." But we are not for going back to the teacher schools—not on your life. But it seems the art of good spelling is falling by the wayside, and this also includes writing.

It seems to us that the Japs are carrying their idea of the new democracy a bit too far. Recently their Emperor Hirohito made a public appearance, who shorn of his other title of deity, was not shown the usual courtesy of his people by bowing and scraping. On the other hand, most of them just stared, and the Jap press described his seedy appearance and the lack of creases in his well worn clothing, as well as some rather sarcastic utterances. This is a big come down from the ruler of the time of the Pearl Harbor attack, yet we western people cannot help being a bit sorry for the little runt. After all, the war lord of Japan told him what to do or not to do, and he did their bidding.

We read an article in a current issue of Saturday Evening Post written by a Mexican lady, the title of which was something like "Why Mexicans Do Not Like Gringos" (Americans). The writ-

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 4

Proposing an amendment to Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas by the addition of two new sections to be known as Sections 17 and 18 providing a special fund for the payment of Confederate pensions and providing a method of payment for the construction and equipment of buildings and other permanent improvements at state institutions of higher learning; providing for a five-cent reduction in the maximum allowable state tax on property; providing for an election and the issuance of a proclamation therefor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE

Senate, along with her husband were highly educated Mexicans, who had spent many years of their lives in the United States. They were dressed like U S citizens and were driving an American car. To start the story, they became stuck in one of the bad roads of Mexico, and a bunch of peons looked on, but offered no help. A few words of Spanish, and an explanation they were also Mexicans, and they got all the help they needed. The burden of the article pointed out that too many people from this nation visit Mexico with a patronizing air, are boorish, loud mouthed and commanding, which is all too true in a lot of cases. The Latin people generally speaking are very courteous, but are too apt to judge all people by a few nuts from north of the border they have met. Such people can do more in a few hours to undo all the good neighbor work that President Truman and his cabinet and representatives can do in years. One of the reasons the writer gave against our people down in Latin America was that they might stay for a generation and never learn to speak Spanish. On the other hand the same can be said of Mexicans on this side of the border. We know some that have been in America, particularly Texas, all their lives, are American citizens, and when they are spoken to in English, they only grunt and give the old "no savvy."

If President Truman vetoes either the tax reduction bill or the labor union control bill, or both, to our notion he is setting the stage for a hopeless defeat in 1948 for himself and other Democrats. And there might be a 1928 repeater, when Texas, Tennessee and some other southern states joined the GOP in the electoral college. There is not much to be said about labor union control, which simply means the union leaders, and not the rank and file of union workers. And as to tax reductions, any business man who has had to withhold from three to five hundred a year tax on men, some with families, some who have in the past five years seen service in the army or navy, maybe in fox holes, only to return and have to pay for a war they fought. It don't look good, and senators and congressmen who vote against the cut may have a lot of tall explaining to do next year. The elections last fall should not be forgotten. The people spoke loudly for tax relief and a big cut in a lot of useless bureaus in Washington, as well as economy throughout the nation.

Giving Jeanie a ride on a new hobby horse is Dr. Marshall T. The Woman Listener

By Sally Welles

THE BLUES IN HER LIFE crop up fairly often for actress Mary Patton of the popular daytime radio serial, "Road Of Life". It also follows that blue is her favorite color. The origin of this fondness may be obscure, but the effects are always in evidence. Mary's oldest dress is what she calls her blue "addition" dress. It brought her good luck right from the start. She collects antique glass and chinaware. Her favorite midnight supper is crackers, blue cheese and milk. And, despite her naturally cheerful nature, the majority of her acting roles are of the sad and blue variety.

On a Recent Plane Trip from Martha's Vineyard to New York, Andy Love, commercial singer on CBS's "Young Dr. Malone", almost caused the collapse of the small, private plane, because of his luggage stored in the rear. In New York, the pilot confessed, "I never thought we'd make it, the tail dragged so much." Then Andy assured him that the return trip would be better. "My hobby," said Andy, "is collecting tools. Those bags are full of iron."

Ann Shepherd, star of CBS's "Big Sister", is a young lady who knows why she does things. It was no fluke that transplanted Ann from Hollywood and movies to New York and radio. After weighing one career against the other, she selected radio for several reasons. . . it involves no greasepaint, harsh lights, repeated performances, road travel or long hours, and is more lucrative.

Emcee of ABC's "Breakfast In Hollywood", Tom Breneman, did a triple take at a recent program when he asked for the oldest woman present, someone yelled: "84". As he turned, a second lady called out: "84". Tom was about to comment, when he heard: "84, 84". Speechless, Tom waited while the four ladies trooped up. As it turned out, two of the voices belonged to twins—but they won't be 84 until

Servicemen Warned On Farm Purchases

Many war veterans, young and full of ambition, have bought, or plan to buy, farms of their own. In many instances, farming will prove a good life's work. In others grief may come through causes that might now be avoided. The first consideration that a prospective buyer of farm land should keep in mind is that the sound value of farm land depends on its capacity to produce a profitable income over a long period of years, agricultural leaders advise. This income must pay operating expenses, be sufficient to provide a living for the farm family and leave enough margin to pay interest and principal on any debt that has been contracted. Prices of many farms are high. In buying a farm now one should find out whether it will be substantially reduced. A buyer of a high-priced farm may have to pay for it out of a low income in the future.

In general, thus far, the pattern in prices during and since the end of World War II has closely paralleled that of World War I.

Previous experience, following World War I, indicates that when prices in general start to recede from wartime high levels, the prices of products which farmers sell drop fastest and farthest than the prices of things which farmers buy. Then reduced net income may not support the debt on farm land previously purchased at high prices.

Veterans should not purchase excessively high-priced land at present, unless value can be proven.

They should not borrow to speculate in farm land; they should retain their U. S. savings bonds and other liquid assets. This will provide cash that will enable farmers to buy needed materials and equipment when available, and also will afford a cushion against a drop in farm income that may come in the future.

Farmers Need Aid in Soil Erosion Control

Conditions which make it impossible for farmers to practice the best type of land use, says National Wildlife Federation, in relation to soil erosion, are heavy taxes, unfair mortgages and heavy debts. The federation points out that such conditions will have to be remedied by increased financial returns to farmers, group action and possibly by government action before the problem will be solved.

Dead Wrong

"UNLESS WE WORK"

Bernard M. Baruch, one of the great Elder Statesmen of America, recently gave his countrymen some wise advice.

The world, he said, "can get going only if men work," and "if we accept the challenge to preserve civilization, it means greater effort than that exerted during the war." He pointed to the pressing need for maximum production, with no strikes and no layoffs in the future. And then he said: "Unless we work, we shall see a vast inflation. Unless we work, we shall not be able to maintain our claim to power. That would be the greatest blow we could receive, for it would strip us of our strength to preserve our way of life."

We have sought for an easy way to do things—and we have found that no such way exists. We have wanted every luxury, but we have not wanted to labor to earn it. Our whole philosophy of late has been the suicidal one of asking more and giving less.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Graves of Seminole visited in Mrs. G. W. Graves home Sunday.

Helen Duncan spent last week end visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Duncan, jr., and J. D. Keehn all of Miami, Texas.

Capital, labor, agriculture, the consumer—this indictment fits large segments of them all.

No country has ever undergone a great inflation and kept its institutions free. No country has ever turned to government to solve every real or imagined domestic difficulty and escaped from degrading itself into some kind of a totalitarian state. Freedom is not imperishable. It must be earned, and it must be constantly defended.

Mr. Baruch pointed to a choice that cannot long be postponed. We will work and we will assume the clear duties of a free people or we will lose our freedoms in a terrible economic and political upheaval.

Girl Scout Report On Buffalo Gap Camp

Dear Mother and Dad,
When you brought me down to the West Ward School building Monday, May 26 to see me off for Buffalo Gap and saw all those bed rolls you thought we would never make it. Wasn't it wonderful of the Lions, Rotarians and Jaycees to charter that big bus so that all 54 Girl Scouts could travel so comfortably. Our bus driver, Mr. Farr, was one of the nicest drivers I have met. He counted noses until he probably did it in his sleep. Mr. Jack Griggs helped him pack our baggage and at nine o'clock we were off.

All of us knew we would have a wonderful five days because Mrs. Gene Gunn, our Girl Scout Association camping chairman, had worked so hard on making all the arrangements for our camp.

We had to have health certificates so she arranged for Dr. Frank Miller, county health doctor and Mrs. Irene Griffith, county health nurse, to examine us the 22nd and 23rd of May and to give us certificates that we were OK. The leaders even made arrangements at the Hendricks Memorial hospital in Abilene to take care of emergency cases should there be any, but Mrs. Griffith, who went with us as our camp nurse took such good care of us we didn't need the doctor.

After we arrived in camp we had lunch and were assigned to our cabins and then, oh-boy, we got to go in swimming. Miss Janice Robertson, director of physical education at Hardin Simmons was our water front director and taught us a lot about swimming. She didn't charge anything for her services so we presented her with a beach coat on Thursday afternoon, our last day of swimming. Was that last day a treat—at 2 p. m. Mr. Farr counted noses again as we climbed on the bus to go to the Boy Scout Camp where we had a swim in their new $25,000 pool. After swimming we took our nose bag suppers and went on a hike around the camp.

Wednesday night was a lot of fun too. We had stunt night and it was surprising how the girls made up costumes and arranged their stunts out of nothing but imagination.

There was work to do so we were divided into five kaper, groups, cooks, hostesses, housekeepers, clean ups and woodsmen. Monday night I was a cook and had to scrape carrots and potatoes for the stew. Tuesday I was a hostess and served the food English style at the table. We had hoppers and the girls ate so much they were kept pretty busy. When I was housekeeper my duty was to keep the cabins and dining hall clean. Thursday morning I was a woodsman and helped build a big fire in the dining hall fireplace. Being a clean up was the worst because—well you know how I hate to wash dishes.

Each morning after breakfast we presented colors and after kapers we had activity periods. We made belts, plaster leaf plaques and several other things.

One evening we had a cook out supper and had pioneer drumsticks and doughboys with butter and jelly. When we had our out breakfast we used tin can stoves and made one eyed Egyptians. I will fix them all for you when I get home.

On our last night in camp we gathered around a big campfire and sang songs until the fire burned low. Our camping badges were then presented and as each girl came forward to receive her badge she was given a piece of wood that she threw on the fire as she made a pledge to Scouting.

The leaders worked hard taking care of us but they had fun too. Some of them put post toasies in the nurse's bed and for punishment she made them all take big doses of milk of magnesia before breakfast the next morning. The leaders were Mrs. Gene Gunn, Mrs. Graham Smith, Mrs. Shorty Forbus, Mrs. Jack Griggs, Mrs. E. T. Garnett, Mrs. Euel Stockton, Mrs. Ralph Ferguson and Mrs. Griffith.

This is a long letter but we did so much in five days it took a long time to tell about all of it. Several of the girls and leaders took kodak pictures for our scrap books.

Must say goodbye as we are leaving at 1:30 Friday and I have to get my bed roll ready.

Love,
Mary

SIDELIGHTS From Washington

By George Mahon

Previously I reported that the Republican majority in the House of Representatives would seek to reduce sharply the requests of the President for agriculture. Last week the Agricultural Appropriation Bill passed the House in a form that was very unsatisfactory to many members from farm areas. I voted against reporting the bill out of the Appropriations Committee and spoke and voted for many amendments offered to the bill.

Briefly, here is what the bill does.

1. Cuts AAA soil conservation payments from $300,000,000 to $164,000,000. Farmers will have every reason to feel that this is a breach of faith by the Government as Congress and the President had in effect months ago promised to provide the full amount of $300,000,000 for the 1947 crop year.

2. The bill provides that the Farmers Home Administration, successor to the FSA, must discontinue the farm ownership program known as the Farm Tenant Purchase Program. FHA loan funds for crop production are cut by one-third.

3. REA funds for administration of the program were cut by $1,600,000 and loan authorizations for REA coops were reduced by $25,000,000.

4. Funds for the Soil Conservation Service to be used in connection with the conservation districts, and otherwise, were cut by 10 per cent.

5. Funds for the school lunch program were reduced from $75,000,000 to $45,000,000.

6. In previous years 30 per cent of the tariff receipts have been available for supporting farm prices and disposing of agricultural surpluses. The bill reduces this program by two-thirds.

The votes in the House of Representatives on most of the above

Almost 230,000 disabled veterans of World War II now are in training under the provisions of the Vocational Rehabilitation Act (Public Law 16), the Veterans Administration has announced.

As of May 1, approximately 56 per cent of those in training — or 128,877—were enrolled in recognized colleges, universities, and other educational institutions.

The remaining 44 per cent— or 100,769—were taking on the job training in business and industrial establishments. To date, approximately 169,000 such establishments have been approved for this type of training.

Since the inception of the vocational rehabilitation program in March, 1943, upwards of 8,500 disabled veterans have been declared rehabilitated, VA said.

Disabled veterans in training by states included: Texas, 14,306; Louisiana, 3,248; and Mississippi, 3,987.

The Veterans Administration estimates that the number of living veterans and members of their families will reach a peak of 43 per cent of the nation's population with in the next five years and decline in percentage thereafter.

Issues were very close. On a motion by the Democrats to restore the full $300,000,000 for soil conservation payments and some of the other items, we lost by a count of 174 to 170.

What did the Senate now do with the bill remains to be seen. Undoubtedly some charges will be made by the Senate and House before the measure goes to the President for final approval late in June. The outcome of the controversy over this legislation is of vital importance to all farm areas.

Sugar Stamp No. 12 Now Good

The Agriculture Department announced today that a third 1947 sugar rationing stamp good for 10 pounds will be validated "not later" than August 1st.

It announced also that spare stamp no. 12 in consumer ration books may be used immediately. This stamp, good for 10 pounds was originally intended to become valid July 1st.

The department said today's action assures household consumers of the full 35 pounds of sugar promised under the Sugar Control Extension Act of 1947.

It said in a statement that if improvement in sugar supplies continues, additional sugar above the 35 pounds will be made available to consumers.

Spare stamp no. 53, good for 5 pounds, was made valid in Jan. 1, and expired March 31. On April 1, spare stamp no. 11 was validated for 10 pounds. It will expire on October 31 as will stamp No. 12.

Midget Auto Races On At Lubbock

LUBBOCK, June 6 —Lubbock's 1947 Midget auto racing season got underway, May 29, with a nine-race program at the Panhandle South Plains Fair grounds.

Lloyd Ruby of Wichita Falls took top money in the opening session. He had the evening's fastest time of 17.5 seconds. Other drivers here for the first races of the season included Don Brown, Wichita Falls and Red Dowdy, Dallas.

Races ranged in distance from eight to 20 laps around the one-fifth mile caliche track. Although hampered by a muddy track the first night, officials expect drivers to set new speed marks at future races.

The races will continue each Thursday night throughout the summer. Time trials begin at 7:30 p. m. Races start at 8:00 p. m.

Chickens and turkeys selected for processing must be high quality birds if a good carcass is to be turned out.

Texas Farm Cash Income High

Farm cash income in Texas almost reached the $300,000,000 mark in the first four months of 1947 in spite of the fact that April income was 6 per cent below the 1946 April total. The seasonally-adjusted index computed by The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research dipped to 295, since the March-to-April gain failed to come up to expectations. (Base: 1935-39 equals 100).

April's income reached $81,469,000 bringing the total for the year to date up to $277,277,000, or 11 per cent above the figure for the same months last year.

The 5 per cent March-to-April hike in farm cash income was a result of increases throughout the state, with the exception of declines in the Northern High Plains and in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. The monthly reduction in the Northern High Plains was due to the sharp upswing in farm cash income in March, naturally followed by a decline.

WE HAVE SAME TROUBLE DOWN IN TEXAS

Milwaukee Journal: "There's no emergency; 1951 will be soon enough to reapportion."

So spoke Senator Heden of Ogema before the joint committee on reapportionment, according to report.

No emergency—even though reapportionment has been flouted by Legislature after Legislature—even though inequalities have developed until true democratic representation is no longer possible in Wisconsin.

Has this state's consciousness become so deadened that it can't build a fire under such fellows?

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

A pet subject with me and one I choose to scribble on, and often, is private enterprise. And before going further, my definition of "private and free enterprise," if I was to put it down like in a dictionary, it would be, "the right to prosper in proportion to how much you choose to perspire."

Some folks being allergic to sweat is why, I reckon, it is easy to pick up followers here and there—and in goodly numbers—who will lend an ear and vote to the will-o-wispy arguments for turning business and all our problems over to Uncle Samuel—and let him do our perspiring.

And also when we listen to the glib talkers proposing the Govt. should take over—and the people have the profit—we half-way agree if the gent is talking about some other business, and not ours. But if the gent was to edge over toward our business—if we are a barber, or a plumber, or are in the suit and dress business, we would say, hold your horses brother—none of that—not on your tintype—none of that socialism for us.

Today I am on "Free Enterprise." But anybody is all wet if he jumps at any conclusion that "free" means you are to get something for nothing, like maybe where the Govt. ladles out so much per acre for not raising potatoes. And before expounding further, you know, sometimes when I ponder the "free" subject, she seems it would pay us citizens to hire ourselves a good phrenologist and have him run his fingers over Uncle Sambo's dome. The Old Boy has kinda gone single-track. His urge to give stuff away, it is getting world wide—and not just local.

But back to free enterprise, some folks have gassed about it as if it was some kind of poison for the little fellow. But from my research, I deduct that when everybody—black, bronze and white—gets a square look at it our gripes will vanish, like when the fresh air blows in and clears up the fog there in Puget Sound, where, for a while, I hung out.

You pick out an item like, say, gasoline—everybody uses gasoline. Where would we be if each person had to make his own—if

GOVERNMENT COMPULSION ISN'T INSURANCE

Those who advocate a system of compulsory, government-administered, prepaid medical care, to be paid for by another payroll tax on workers and employers, frequently argue that this is just a form of insurance similar to life or fire insurance. That claim was well answered sometime ago by Senator Taft, when he said: "The fact is that this is not insurance. It is a plan for government administration of all medical care, supported by a tax on payrolls. There is no difference between payroll tax and any other tax. This can't be insurance if a man has no option except to pay for it."

The very essence of insurance is that it is voluntary. No one makes you buy it. The choice of policy, company, and type of coverage is purely up to you. Government domination of medicine would obviously destroy all freedom of choice. You'd pay, as you now pay for social security, whether you want it or not. You'd take, in return, whatever the government wanted to give you.

Worst of all would be the effect on the medical profession. The doctor's livelihood and future would depend upon his pleasing the political administrators of the program. They would make all the important decisions. The cost of administration would be ever-increasing. The ultimate result would be poorer and more costly medical care.

Voluntary prepaid medicine is solving the problem for employed people. Federal aid, to be administered through the states, can solve the problem for the indigent. We need less, not more, government domination of our lives.—Industrial News Review.

folks were not allowed to get together, pool their money, hire anybody they want for manager, drill an oil well, build a refinery, employ people. The right to do all these things—to work your ownself or let your spare change work for you—that is "free enterprise." Yours with the low down,

TEXANS RECEIVE TEN MILLION IN BENEFITS

Texas families received $10,122,000 in life insurance death benefit payments under 7,533 policies during the first three months of this year, compared with $10,634,000 under 8,070 policies in the corresponding period of last year, the Institute of Life Insurance reports.

"These payments reflect the excellent health record established in the first quarter of this year," the Institute said in announcing the figures. "Although a much greater amount of life insurance was at risk, the policy death benefit payments were less in this state."

AUSTIN, June 6 — The fourth and final volume of "Pichardo: Limits of Louisiana and Texas," has been edited and published by Dr. Charles W. Hackett, professor of Latin-American history at the University of Texas.

Dr. Hackett translated the four volumes from a 3,000 folio page treatise written by Father Jose Antonio Pichardo, a great Mexican cleric.

Pichardo's treatise on the boundaries of Mexico in regard to the Louisiana Purchase of 1803 settled Spain's claim to Texas, which the United States sought to include in the Purchase.

The four volumes of Pichardo were published by the University of Texas Press.

Babson Discusses Shipping Stocks; Tax Incentive

NEW YORK CITY—Aid and loans abroad are bound to expand U. S. trade with most of the nations of the world. Therefore our farmers and manufacturers will benefit! What about our merchant fleet? Are we to let other nations take away our war-built lead in maritime commerce as after World War I? Wall Street is trying to get small investors "to hold the bag."

What Happened After War II?

Let us look upon our maritime fleet before and after World War II. In 1939 we had about 14 per cent of world shipping, today we have about 40 per cent. Great Britain has about 22 per cent, nearly the same as in 1939, and is building more. Other nations are rapidly replacing their war-depleted fleets with the intention of bettering their pre-war status.

Although U. S. ships were carrying about half of the world trade after World War I, they lost 30 per cent of that trade up to World War II. By 1939 our merchant fleet had been reduced to only about 14 per cent of the world's shipping. It looks very much as if this peacetime reduction in our merchant fleet were to be repeated.

Ships Available

From the end of World War II to the present day the U. S. Merchant fleet has been reduced in tonnage close to 55 per cent. When this program has been completed it is doubtful if we have more than 1500 ships in use. Today we have three main classes of dry cargo vessels. The first class includes long-range freight vessels with medium speeds, combined cargo-passenger ships with comparable speeds and other faster cargo-passenger ships. These three types are the most useful for post-war shipping.

Liberty Ships Unsatisfactory

Victorys, the second class, have fair speed; their detriment is stowage factor. Thirdly are older vessels and Libertys forming the bulk of our dry cargo fleet. Most of these are not satisfactory for present needs. The stowage factor of the Liberty ships is fair. But their expensive power plants, their slow speed combined with the high cost of American labor, make Libertys impractical for American operators.

Now we come to ships building throughout the world. The U. S. has practically ceased construction. We are in need of fast medium sized passenger ships as well as some refrigerator ships. We will need new dry cargo ships designed to meet the faster more economical foreign competition. In number of ships building today the U. S. falls into the same category as France, Norway and Sweden. Italy and Holland are quite a few ships ahead of us. Great Britain intends to outbuild all comers with more than seven times the present U. S. program.

We do not know what Russia is building but my guess is that Russia's program will fall between Britain and the others. With one exception only, under the present set up, are we likely to hold our own in post-war shipping. We have more than enough modern tankers of large capacity and competitive speed. The opening of new oil fields throughout the world, with the demand for petroleum and by-products, should enable our tanker fleets to lead in this field if we can protect our Arabian Oil Fields. This is one reason for our present interest in Greece and Turkey.

Subsidies Necessary

Loading constitutes one of the largest shipping costs. At present high priced labor makes loading and unloading expensive heavy. A new device, being tested on the Maritime Commission's S. S. Sea-Hawk, cuts loading time by an estimated 15 per cent. Until such modern devices can be incorporated into new ships we shall need considerable subsidy to support shipping. For today loading and other labor costs make American shipping far from profitable. The present plan is to spend about $50,000,000 each year in subsidies for the support of our active merchant fleet. This amount will only maintain a skeleton fleet allowing for no new developments and the needed types of ships to maintain a progressive fleet.

In view of the above I cannot now recommend readers to buy shipping securities as an investment, but I do believe the Federal Government is justified in increasing subsidies to U. S. shipping. This would provide a proving ground where we could design and test, new, faster and more economical ships. Though we might not hold the lead in actual goods carried, we would remain fully abreast of the times. Furthermore, we would be able to jump into any future emergency and at least be on an equal basis with any other power.

Many ask how present high prices can be reduced. My answer is that the best way to reduce high prices is by producing more goods at lower cost. But how can costs be lowered in the face of current high wage rates? To this I reply that production costs can be reduced by increasing the investment in labor-saving machinery. This will raise the real wages for all the people—not for just the strongly organized union groups.

Lower Taxation The Key

America has heretofore outproduced the world with steadily falling prices by continually raising the amount of money per worker invested in labor-saving machinery. To keep up this progress we must have incentive: (1) To save and (2) To invest savings profitably. Unfortunately, our present system of taxation is not only destroying capital that has already been accumulated, but it is also preventing the gathering of new capital. This can only end in declining standard of living for all.

As an example of the destruction of accumulated capital by taxation, I like to cite the story of the House of Morgan. When the elder J. P. Morgan died in 1913 he left more than $70 millions to his son. Thirty years later this son died and, after his death taxes were settled, he was able to pass on only $5 millions to his heirs. Such a destruction of capital may be good for the morals of the heirs, but it bodes ill for you and me. There is little incentive to invest more money and hire more workers, under such conditions.

Common-Sense Taxation

Wiping out of capital by death taxes would not be so bad if our income taxes were not also damping up the flow of new capital into industry. The bulk of savings must come from those of sufficiently large incomes to create a reservoir of capital. Yet, today an executive with a fair salary has no urge to invest in a sound stock paying 5 per cent because his net income from that stock is reduced by two-thirds through income taxes. All incentive has been destroyed.

The President has recently asked businessmen to lower prices so as to increase the volume of production. I believe the President should direct that same advice to Congress. Just as a business can sell a greater volume of products at a lower price, so can the government expect a higher tax-rate if it can increase the national income. I believe the best way to increase the national income is by lowering taxes now. The stimulus to incentive will be so great that national income will rise. Then a smaller percentage tax rate would produce a greater total federal revenue. Let the government take its own advice and lower the unit cost (i. e. taxes) of its selling price for its service. The resulting jump in total tax collections from a stimulated national income should soon balance the budget and leave enough to start a real job of debt retirement.

Rome, A Warning

If Senators and Congressmen would only study history in greater detail, they would see at once how many nations have been brought to their knees by burdensome taxation. More empires have been destroyed by oppressive taxes than by enemy armies. Today's heavy burden on enterprise if continued will surely lead us along the road followed by Egypt, Rome, Spain, France and now England—all sunk by taxes.

When writing the above, I am not interested in saving money for taxpayers. That is purely secondary. The less money my heirs inherit, the better off they may be. I am interested solely in the future of U. S. voters, who sincerely hope that every Senator and Congressman feels the same way.

Put yourself on EASY Street

SKIP styling for a moment—it's pretty well admitted by now that Buick has called the turn on the shape of cars to come.

And for the present, slide over performance—with that big bonnetful of Fireball power, nobody's going to challenge you much on the open road.

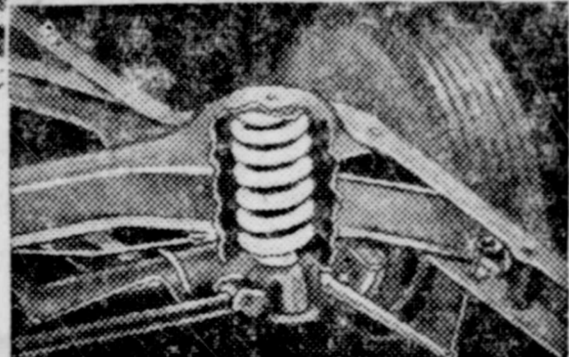

What else has the trim Buick got that others can't quite come up to?

You find one big answer where the cobbles are plentiful, the car tracks tangled, the bumps big.

This brawny traveler has a ride—a smooth, level, easy stride that makes you think of a canoe drifting in quiet waters.

One reason: It was Buick that first introduced the American public to soft, gentle coil springing on all four wheels.

It was Buick that first made it

THESE DO IT
—four big-but-gentle coil springs permit each wheel to "step over" bumps as it reaches them. It is this independent action of each wheel that gives Buick its matchless buoyancy on any and all roads.

possible for each wheel to step over bumps as they came along, leaving the frame and body to pursue their level way undisturbed.

Buick's coil springs keep their gentle softness always. They need no greasing or attention. They are unaffected by dirt, wear or the weather, and breakage is practically unheard of.

The net of it all is that you put yourself on Easy Street when you seat yourself in a Buick. You make every road a better road—every ride an adventure in smooth and buoyant comfort.

Why not drop in and learn more? Whether you have a car to trade or want to talk on a "clean deal" basis, you'll always find a warm welcome here.
