

COTTON LOOKING FRESH IN AREA BUT FEED CROPS BURNING

Last Friday afternoon, the Old He and wife took off for the city of Lubbock, where we had a bit of business. It had been some ten months since we had been to the Hub, as they call it, and we found many signs of progress. Stopped briefly at the Avalanche-Journal office where we had some mats made for a local firm.

Thence to the Carpenter Paper Co., where we had a fat chewing fest with Manager Frank Phillips. We began buying paper from Frank when he traveled for the old Tayloe Paper Co., of Fort Worth, and later when the Carpenter folks bought out Tayloe. And finally when Carpenter put in a plant at Lubbock and made Frank the manager. So you see, we know each other quite well.

Found Frank making a hand in the warehouse. He came out pretty well heat up, and we think two ways; hot from the weather, and hot because it's hard to get help that wants to do anything other than draw their pay. He explained that he had let several go lately.

As to the crops, the cotton looks fair to indifferent all the way up there. Real old feed matured before the dry weather hit too hard. Some of the middle aged stuff seems to have just about decided to fold, with half mature grain. If the late crop gets rain soon, it will make. Fairly good rains have fallen recently from Meadow on—the lucky rascals. In the Wolf-farth area irrigation section, they have some fine cotton and feed.

We returned via Levelland, as we wanted to see the corps on that route. They are good, fair and indifferent, the driest, worst burned section was in the Smyer region. Looks like they have had no rain in many months, but they will make some cotton.

The best non-irrigated crops we saw was some ten miles north and south of the Terry-Hockley line on the Levelland Highway. There are plenty of cotton fields in that 20 mile section that will make a half bale per acre or better.

Levelland is doing a lot of paving, and not one minute before it was needed, as they sure get muddy up there when they have big rains.

Harley Sadler Tent Theatre En Route

Harley Sadler has shaken the moth balls out of his red wig and is back on his beloved West Texas entertainment circuit.

Harley, in his familiar entertainment roles, and his company, will be in Brownfield under auspices of the American Legion beginning Monday, September 8 and continuing through Wednesday night.

The show began the season at Sweetwater, Sadler's home town. A West Texas institution, founded by an actor who has special affection for West Texas, Harley Sadler's show is back on tour after three years absence. Harley was unable to assemble the fine brand of talent he thinks West Texas deserves, so he kept his show under wraps. The veteran showman this season has what he believes is the most outstanding array of talent ever to appear on a West Texas tour.

Harley has resumed his Tobey roles with vigor. His absence from the stage has not dulled his old acting form and he has the same sparkling off-stage personality.

Sadler's wife, Billie, is not acting this season. She is close to the show, however, keeping busy managing the financial side of the tour.

Sadler has been in show business since 1916 and for the past quarter of a century has had his own company. Sadler's show is unique in the entertainment world in that he brings clean, high class amusement to the doorsteps of a vast section of the country.

Sadler takes great pride in the fact that parents who came to see his shows now bring their children to see them. He hopes this summer to renew acquaintance with every one of the thousands of Sadler fans.

The huge tent will be located on the Lubbock highway.

Many Terminal Leave Bonds Are Cashed

Briefly told, 131 Ex-GIs cashed their terminal leave bonds the first day the law became effective, Sept. 2, at the Brownfield State Bank, for a total cash outlay of $28,157.56.

At the First National Bank, 97 Exes cashed their bonds for a total of $19,639.92. Total number of bonds 228, and the cash totaled $47,797.48.

Just how many of these bonds belonged to other than Terry county men, we wouldn't know.

Douglas, an oil field worker, is survived by his wife and a 14 year old child at Midland, and his body was carried there Tuesday.

Mrs. Russell is survived by her mother at St. Jo, where her body was carried Tuesday after other relatives arrived here. She also left a brother, an employee of the Airport at Hobbs.

The Lions Club will meet at luncheon with the Junior Chamber of Commerce, at the Legion hall, Monday noon, instead of the regular Wed. date.

The clubs are to be entertained by Harley Sadler and his troupe.

GIGANTIC HARVEST AND JUBILEE CELEBRATION IN NOVEMBER

Plans are developing rapidly one of the most ambitious programs in the history of Brownfield, for one day only, November 7th. While the may feasts will center around that red letter day, which falls on Friday, there will be something doing every day between this and that day to make it one of the most outstanding events ever undertaken by the business and professional men of our bustling little city.

A number of the leading promoters, advertising men and other interested parties met at the Rialto Wednesday night of this week to make initial plans for publicizing the big celebration. These men came up with something that will astonish the whole countryside. The business men have volunteered heartiest cooperation in order to make the gala affair a tremendous success.

The Plainview-Cub football game here on the afternoon of November 7th will be one of the numerous highlights of the day.

The BIG event will be the crowning of the Harvest Queen, and she does not necessarily have to be from Brownfield—anywhere in the trade area—and even Plainview is expected to have an entrant.

The winner of the Harvest Queen contest will be fully wardrobe with the very finest apparel the clothing marts can provide. She will be given round trip air passage to Hollywood for five full days with residence in the Town House in Los Angeles. Her days will be a memorable round of visits to movie and radio studios, trips to the many famous entertainment spots of Filmland.

For amusement, there will be parades, band music, clowns, contests, prizes, etc. In fact, the day will be chock full of surprises—one following the other in quick succession. But read about it in

Layman's Revival Enters Second Week

Dr. P. C. McCord announced this week that the very interesting Layman's Revival, under direction of George J. Brown of Fort Worth, is going nicely into its second week. Mr. Brown is said to be outstanding in this class of work.

Beginning the coming Sunday and continuing throughout next week, a number of very interesting subjects have been announced by Dr. McCord, and the general public is invited to come out and hear him. The church is located at the corner of Hill and Ballard streets.

Song services will be under direction of Dr. W. A. Roberson.

Local Boy Hurt In Motorcycle Crash

Billie Auburg, 18, son of Mrs. W. B. Auburg, was critically injured Wed. afternoon, a few miles south of Levelland, when his motorcycle overturned.

He suffered a broken collarbone, several head lacerations, and was unconscious when found by passing motorists, who carried him to Levelland, and later moved to the local hospital.

The Committee For Election Of A Queen Who Will Reign Over THE BROWNFIELD HARVEST HOLIDAY AND JUBILEE ON FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 7

Announce that nominations will be accepted at the office of P. R. Cates, 111 N. Fifth Street, beginning Saturday, September 7 and ending on Saturday, September 20. Entry blanks for this purpose, with qualifying conditions will be provided anyone wishing to enter a candidate for Harvest Queen.

In addition to the gift of her royal wardrobe, properly lavish and complete with her needed luggage, our Harvest Queen will be given a five-day visit to Hollywood, going and returning over the airlines. She will reside at the Town House in Los Angeles. While there, she will be a guest of as many of the major broadcasting and motion picture studios as she cares to visit and honored with dinners in the glamor cafes of that neighborhood. Among other courtesies, she will be a contestant on The Mutual Network's "Queen For A Day" program, broadcast daily from Earl Carroll's Theatre Restaurant and heard here from KCBF in Lubbock. More honors to our Queen will develop as her selection progresses and announced in the order that they appear.

Soil Conservationist Joins Santa Fe System

Ronald I. Cross, soil conservationist with the United States Department of Agriculture at Clovis, New Mexico, has been appointed agricultural agent for the Santa Fe Railway with headquarters at Amarillo, according to announcement made today by H. M. Bainer, general agricultural agent of that line, at Amarillo. The appointment is effective September 1.

Cross will act as an assistant to Bainer and in that capacity will handle agricultural matters for the railroad's western lines in Western Kansas, Oklahoma, Colorado and New Mexico, and the Panhandle and Santa Fe lines in Texas. He brings to his new position a background of knowledge of various types of farm work, in irrigation and dry land farming, having had 12 years experience in irrigation and dry land farming. He is a graduate of New Mexico College of Agriculture.

Brownfield Gets First Bale Sept. 1

V. H. Wheatley of the Johnson community had the honor of producing the first bale of cotton ginned and marketed in Terry county in 1947. He gathered 1800 pounds of bolls to make the 470 pound bale.

The bale was ginned by the Newsom Gin at Gomez, who donated their service of ginning and free wrapping. We understand the bale will not be cut for grading until Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when it goes on sale at auction.

Mr. Wheatley has already been handed a check for $50, the regular premium always given by the local Chamber of Commerce, Virgil Burnett, Secretary, stated.

Following the sale of the bale, farmers will be called to order in the district courtroom to discuss and try to agree on some price for pulling bolls this season. All cotton farmers are urgently requested to attend this meeting.

Moorhead Overcome By Tear Gas

Bual Powell, deputy sheriff had his car serviced this week by J. D. Moorhead, and as Powell's tear gas gun was in the car and loaded, it was somehow accidentally discharged, while all the windows were up except one, and J. D. inside the car. Red Tudor came to his rescue, and opened the doors of the car.

Hed started to the hospital with J. D., but there was enough gas in his clothing to blind Tudor. Powell and Constable Luther Jones were called in, and without thinking stuck their heads in the car and came out crying.

Both Moorhead and Tudor were unable to see when they arrived at the hospital.

FAIR COMMITTEES STILL AT WORK

The various committees arranging for the Terry County Fair, to be held here October 23, 24, and 25th, are not slacking in their efforts to make it a huge success.

FOURTH GRADE — A to F, Room 7; G to L, Room 9, M to R, Room 10; S to Z, Room 17.

In order to relieve the crowded condition in the first grade, it will be necessary for one first grade section to attend school from 8:00 A. M. to 12:30 P. M. and another section to attend from 12:30 P. M. to 5:00 P. M. These sections will be chosen from pupils who do not ride the buses. However all pupils should meet the above schedule for registration purposes. All beginners must bring birth certificates, and small-pox vaccination will be required.

Pupils attending the Gomez School will receive instructions from their principal, Mr. William Conlee, concerning their registration.

Local Boy Badly Bitten By Rattlesnake

While hunting rabbits in one of the old dry lakes near the chemical plant last Thursday afternoon, Alfred Lester Bond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bond, received a bad bite on the leg from a huge rattler. A. L. stated that he saw a rabbit and was slowly walking and watching the rabbit at the same time, when he approached too close to the unseen reptile. In kicking loose, the fangs tore the flesh, making the wound bleed profusely, which probably saved AL.

He promptly shot the rattler, bound his leg above the bite and yelled for his brother, Clyde, Jr., and Roland Treadaway to help him to their car. The vehicle seemed to be a rather ancient model the boys get about in, and in hastening to the hospital, the engine got hot and went dead. Passing motorists seemed hard to stop as they thought the boys were kidding them.

Both Alfred Lester and Sonny Treadaway are second year students in the medical department of the University of Texas, at Galveston this year, but A. L. perhaps will not be able to make it on opening date.

However, after about three days of intensive suffering, the youth is now resting well, and appears to be over the hump.

ANOTHER LARGE SERVICE STATION BEING ERRECTED ON LUBBOCK ROAD

J. F. Blankenship is having erected a large tile and concrete oil and gas service station, on Lubbock road, just south of the Rainbow Inn. It is understood the Phillips 66 Company has a long lease on same.

Local Jewelry Store Burglarized

Just as we go to press we learn that the Auburg Jewelry, on the east side of the square, was burglarized Wed. night, and some watches and perhaps other jewelry taken.

Buck's Barber Shop and Cinderella Beauty Shop, both in the same building, did not miss anything. Officers are working on the case.

ROTARY DISTRICT GOVERNOR VISITING CITY TODAY

J. F. (Jim) McCullough, Governor of the 127th District of Rotary International, will visit the local Rotary Club today. Mr. McCullough, a farmer, is a member of the Stamford Rotary Club.

The 127th District is composed of 64 Rotary Clubs situated in northwest Texas.

Wellman School Opened Tuesday

Following a meeting Monday of Superintendent J. T. Jones and his faculty of 17 teachers, the Wellman Schools opened Tuesday with an assembly of a large number of patrons and a full house of students. Most of the day was taken up by registration and assignments of work.

The faculty of the elementary school consists of the following: J. O. Phillips, Principal; first grade, Mrs. Thelma Taylor; second grade, Mrs. Grace Phillips; third grade, Mrs. Mary McBeth; fourth grade, Mrs. Ilma Jones; fifth grade, Mrs. Juanita Lyon; sixth grade, Mrs. Velma O'Neal; seventh grade, Mrs. Juanita Newby; eighth grade, Mrs. McClellan.

High school faculty: Principal, N. G. Phillips; English, Miss Johnnie Newby; Social Science, Mrs. Allen; Business Administration, Mrs. McClellan; Homemaking, Library, etc., Miss Willie Mae Hines; Math and Coaching, Mr. Robert Castle or Mr. Sherman; Vocational Agriculture, Mr. Turner.

The last four named are only pinch hitting until regular teachers can be obtained and for which applicants are being sought.

Mrs. Ruth Parker will supervise the cafeteria. Wellman patrons are very proud of their cafeteria. However, in view of rising food costs and the reduction of subsidy, an increase in price of meals from 15c to 20c is required.

Five reconconditioned or new buses will serve the district.

The campus has several large piles of building material recently purchased as war surplus, to be used in immediate construction of other buildings.

Banks To Cash Terminal Leave Bonds

The First National Bank advertised last week that it would cash terminal leave bonds for GIs, and we are presuming without asking that the Brownfield State Bank will do the same. So there's no use leaving Brownfield to cash your bond.

However, they are urging the GI, not to be in any hurry to cash these bonds unless they are to be used on a home or business. If the cash is being used just for a round of pleasure, their advice and the advice of their friends is that these bonds be saved for a rainy day.

And that rainy day will come and could come sooner than most of us hope and expect. Let us add right here that good, substantial banking institutions are not going to advise you wrong under any circumstances, and they are hardly ever wrong in their conclusions.

Mrs. Elmer Lay, of Coahoma, was a guest this week of the Bernard Lays.

At first thought, one might conclude that local golfers are spending a huge amount of time and energy battling the little pellets over the cow pasture, and wonder if they devote the same amount of energy to their business. At least most of them hold down good jobs around town, and they will aver that the action on the golf course relaxes them, and that it fits them for more and better work indoors. Could be.

At least two of our exchanges that supported the so-called college building amendment, infer in editorials that Lubbock folks poured out a pot of money to defeat the amendment, and all working for Tech College. Just what took place in Lubbock among Lubbock folks, we are not prepared to say, but the ad the Herald ran here was paid for by local people, not Lubbock people. Just to keep the record straight.

Yep, we admit there could be some improvement in our government. Some of the officials and their acts may not exactly suit us. Some of the laws that are passed may be a bit repugnant. We may not like the politics or the religion of some officials. In fact our criticism might be long and heated. But, after all is said and done, where on earth will you find such a country, or such a liberal government, or as much freedom of action as we have right here in America? With that idea in view, we have taken out a squatter's claim for the rest of our life, right here in the good old USA.

The city of Denison is celebrating the 75th anniversary of the M. K. & T. Katy railroad's entrance into that city from across the river in Oklahoma, which was then the Indian Territory. But the day that this railroad came in, just before Christmas 1872, this railroad with its shops, round-houses and divisional headquarters, and the advent of other rail lines since, have made Denison one of the greatest north Texas rail centers. So, the men are growing beards and the women are wearing bustles to give the town a real 1872 look and background.

Well, it sure looks like shipping coal to Newcastle (England) but the old "mother" country is being run on a socialistic basis and of course the other fellow is supposed to do the work, while we play around and divide the spoils. And they are calling on us for coal. In former years, they were exporting coal, and have plenty coal under the ground yet, but the diggers, all socialist labor party members, have laid down on the job. Over here we have mine owners and coal diggers who are each Democrats, GOPers, some scattering socialists and a few commies. Some of us cuss the miners; others cuss operators, and most of us cuss both, but we are not importing any coal in the good old USA. To bring out a good motto we heard when a boy, what England needs is, "more work and less pretention."

Down at Houston, they are asking the school children of Texas to dig up a huge sum of money in nickels, dimes and quarters to pay for a berth of the old battleship Texas in the Houston ship channel. Since Houston will get the benefits, if any, and also since that city has a bunch of retired capitalists who do not know how much money they are really worth, it appears to the Herald that they ought to put up the $275,000; they wouldn't miss it. Not a tenth of the school kids of the huge State of Texas would ever get to see the battleship and then not without shelline out a fee. Men who have been in the naval service think a more appropriate way to dispose of this proud old battleship would be to tow it out in the gulf, and send it to the bottom with all flags flying, giving it a real naval burial.

General Jonothan M. Wainwright retired from a 45 year service with the regular army. Sunday night, with ceremonies broadcast over WOAI, San Antonio. The broadcast came from old Fort Sam Houston, where General Wainwright has been located as commanding general of the 4th Army since his release from Jap prisons and recovery of his health. Principal speakers were Governor Jester, who welcomed him as a citizen of Texas, and by Mayor Callahan of San Antonio, as a citizen of that city, and by Representative Kilday of that congressional district. Messages of appreciation and congratulations came from President Truman, Gen. Eisenhower and others. Finally, the General himself responded in a touching farewell to the US army from general to private. So, the Hero of Bataan and Corregidor will make his home at "Fiddler's Green" in San Antonio, where he will be interested in a ranch in that area.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Quante, of Silver City, N. M., were in town Tuesday.

farm real estate values for the country as a whole increased two percent during the four months ending July 1, 1947.

Buyers of farms have paid cash in more than half the farm purchases made in each of the last three years.

In 1946, the commercial production of mushrooms in the country reach 63 million pounds, over twice as much as in 1938.

HOLLYWOOD FAVORITE

Two-piece cottons are favorites for many of Hollywood's younger set, and Tennessee Brown of 20th Century-Fox demonstrates the fetching reason why in a brown-and-white corded cotton suit. The brief jacket is fastened down the front with metallic buttons, and the neat look is emphasized further by a white pique turn-over collar. Push-up sleeves and circular skirt add piquant charm.

Last Polio Health Hint: Avoid Sudden Chilling!

Sudden chilling such as plunging into cold water on a very hot day should be avoided as the sixth and final health precaution that should be observed in the polio season—June through September—the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis cautions through its local chapter. Scientific research financed by March of Dimes funds has shown that when laboratory animals exposed to the polio virus were suddenly chilled, twice as many developed acute and paralyzing attacks of the disease as did a control group which had been protected from sudden temperature changes. Therefore, take no chances. To be on the safe side avoid sudden chilling, the National Foundation advises.

Tommy Bartlett asks them questions. Almost every section of the nation was represented by the 25 travelers interviewed during the first week of the program. Their reasons for passing through Chicago ranged from a convention trip, to a return home for a soldier stationed in Japan.

Actress Polly Rowles, who plays Constance Wakefield on NBC's "Right to Happiness" show, can rise to an occasion! Once in a legit production of Julius Caesar, Polly played Caesar's wife. Just as she begged him not to go to the Senate, the sprinkler system went haywire and the stage was deluged. Soaking wet, Caesar's wife exclaimed: "A storm is brewing, Caesar. You see, you can't go to the Senate today."

Radio Broadcasts of Lowell Thomas, CBS newscaster, are currently being recorded for use by college and high-school classes in public speaking. Newscaster, author and world traveler, Thomas first developed his clear speaking voice and marvelous diction at the behest of his father, who held that the ability to speak well could affect the course of a young man's future.

Although Louise Fitch of "Big Sister", heard on CBS, had always wanted to be an actress, her entrance into radio was surprising. Louise stopped one day at the CBS studios to see a friend, and was ushered into a large and crowded waiting room. Suddenly a door opened, a man came out, looked around, pointed to her and said: "You, read!" Which she did, and got the job.

STATE AND CITY OFFICIALS and representatives of radio and show business were present to extend their greetings when "Welcome Travelers" had its premiere June 30th at the College Inn of Chicago's Hotel Sherman. "Welcome Travelers", heard over ABC, is a new kind of audience participation show whose guests are travelers in a k i n g stopovers in Chicago. The guests are transported by special bus to the Inn, where emcee Tommy Bartlett asks them questions. Donna Keath, who plays Mrs. Roger Dineen in the CBS serial, "Young Dr. Malone", knows all about wolves, having had a very rude awakening. One of Donna's earliest memories is of a camping trip with her father in Temagami, Canada. The first night Donna was awakened by a number of unduly admiring wolves prowling around the hut—the four-legged variety, of course!

Most Difficult Broadcast for Tom Breneman, emcee of ABC's "Breakfast in Hollywood", was in 1938, when, as announcer for a San Francisco radio station, he covered a review of the U. S. fleet by the late President Roosevelt. He found himself interviewing two "profane" old Navy salts, and literally lost weight as the men described the event in their own words, while he did his best to interrupt whenever one of them began to use non-airwave language.

A "Break" is sometimes only the lull before a storm, according to Willard Waterman, who plays Ray Brandon on "The Guiding Light", heard over CBS. One day while speeding to a broadcast for which he was already late, Bill was stopped by "the law". After some fast talking, he persuaded the officer to give him a police escort to the studio . . . before he was given the ticket.

Clayton Collyer, announcer and narrator on "Road of Life", is a hard man to catch! Five days a week he appears on four shows daily, and does at least two shows each weekend. His schedule is especially accelerated after the "Road of Life" broadcast, when he does a daily 100-foot sprint in 27 seconds flat. He has a 30-second lapse between his last words as announcer on "Road of Life" and his opening lines in another studio.

County and community exhibits retain the gains they made last year in the premium list and will receive nearly $750. Premiums in the women's department are the same as last year also. Nearly $500 will be awarded in the junior agriculture and livestock division. Catalogs have been received in Brownfield.

H. D. Theme
"Let There Be Light"

College Station—The theme of the annual meeting of the Texas Home Demonstration Association will be "Let There Be Light" according to the state president, Mrs. Gus Rogas. The meeting will be held in Galveston, September 24, 25 and 26th.

As many as three elected delegates from each county in the state can attend this annual convention, with other home demonstration club women as guests. Special sessions will include work shops for county chairmen for the Texas Home Demonstration Association, with Mrs. O. R. Copeland of Lubbock, serving as leader.

Aid will be given other committee chairmen present in the form of workshops led by Mrs. C. W. Shafer, Education Committee; Mrs. Leon Sullivan, Market; Mrs. James Sparks, 4-H; Mrs. A. C. Gilliam, Recreation, and Mrs. C. E. Terry, Recreation.

About 56 percent of accidents to farm people last year resulted from farm work. Only 8 percent in connection with house work; recreation and other activities accounted for the rest.

HANDKERCHIEF SHOWER GIVEN MISS NEWMAN

Miss Ganelle Newman has been helping in the intermediate training union of the southside Baptist Mission for the past month and as an expression of appreciation the children gave her a handkerchief shower Friday evening.

The shower came as a surprise to Miss Newman after the intermediate department met at the County Park for a weiner and marshmallow roast.

SIX BIBLE SUBJECTS OFFERED AT TECH

LUBBOCK — Through cooperation of Methodist, Baptist, Church of Christ and Christian churches six courses in Bible and religious education will be offered at Texas Technological College this fall.

Handled off the campus by instructors selected by the churches and approved by the College, classes will provide credit toward graduation, with 12 semester hours allowed. Courses will be: Survey of the New Testament, Survey of the Old Testament, Studies in the New Testament, History of Christian Thought, The Life of Christ, and The Prophets. Cooperating churches defray all costs.

WESLEYAN GUILD RESUMES MEETINGS

The Wesleyan Guild of the Methodist Church resumed their meetings for the fall and winter with a business meeting in Fellowship Hall Thursday of last week. Miss Reva Newson, president, presided at the meeting at which time plans were made for a picnic to be held September 10th in Coleman Park. The members voted to meet at the Church Wednesday of this week and assist the secretary in her work.

Mrs. Jeff Farley and Mrs. H. L. Thurston were in charge of the devotional.

Mrs. Tom Harris and Mrs. Lee McIlroy were hostesses and served punch and Danish butterballs to Mmes. Clarence Simes, Farley, Joe Hardin, Lewis Simmonds, Harvey Gage, Thurston, Jimmy Sadler, H. E. Schwartz and Jeanne Criswell.

Nearly 60 percent of the farms in the United States now have electricity.

Pessimism Prevails

THE month of August marked the 10th anniversary of the soil conservation program. During this decade more than 1,900 conservation districts have been organized by farmers throughout the 48 states for the purpose of conservation practices on more than 190 million acres of farm land.

Despite these practices, the drain on soil fertility as a result of overproduction of crops during the war years and of natural causes finds American farms in worse shape generally than before the war.

Soil conservation experts in the department of agriculture and in the local district committees throughout the country are pessimistic over the reduction of approximately 86 million dollars in payments to farmers from the soil conservation service for 1948 as compared to 1947. The reduced appropriations made by congress not only will cut payments to farmers but also will cause the lay-off of some 1,100 employees in the soil conservation service.

So at a time when the farmer and the soil conservationist should be thinking and practicing more soil conservation the agriculture department must necessarily retrench because of the sapping of the program by congress.

As an expression of gratitude for aid received from the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, a commercial college in Brno, Czechoslovakia, has formally adopted the name "UNRRA Commercial college." Czechoslovakia received a total of $264,075,000 in aid under the UNRRA relief program.

High and Dry

President Truman's appointees to the national labor relations board were left high and dry by the senate, which declined to confirm their nominations. They are Robert N. Denham, named general counsel; former Sen. Abe Murdock of Utah, and J. Copeland Gray of Buffalo, N. Y.

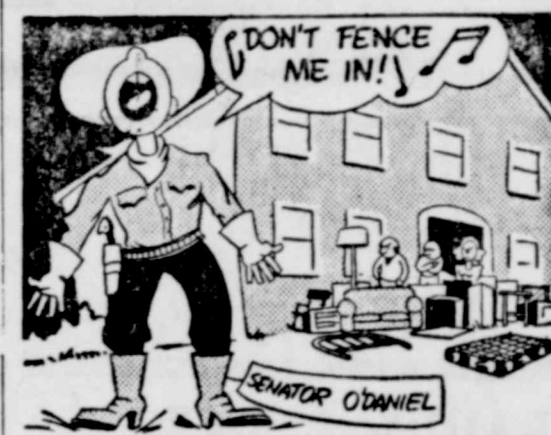

So although they must administer the difficult Taft-Hartley labor bill along with the three other hold-over members of the board, they don't know whether they will have a job or not come next January. It may be that action of the senate was deliberate to see how these men would work before confirming their appointments.

The 79th congress provided 75 million dollars for the school lunch program throughout the country. It also provided 6 million dollars more as a deficiency appropriation, making a total of 81 million dollars available for school lunch programs in 1947. The 80th congress slashed this to 65 million dollars, so if the states wish to provide school lunches on the same basis as in 1947 they will have to make up that deficiency of 16 million dollars from local funds and local taxes.

'Don't Fence Me In'

SEN. W. Lee (Pappy) O'Daniel of Texas is one of the most unpopular men in the senate. He is unpopular with his Democratic colleagues because most of the time he votes with the Republicans.

Senator O'Daniel bought an apartment house near the capitol and went into court to evict the tenants. To toss out these long-time tenants, the senator told the court and the rent control board that he needed all 40 rooms, 14 kitchens and 14 baths for the personal use of his own family.

He said he paid $52,500 for the apartment house. Now he is selling the apartments on a cooperative plan for from 10 to 13 thousand dollars an apartment—which figures out some $150,000 profit.

Of course, the senator never occupied all 40 rooms but, being from Texas, he probably didn't want to be fenced in.

Slash in Workers

The slash in the department of agriculture's budget will mean a lay-off of approximately 13,700 employees in the department. Although at the beginning of this year Secretary Anderson had reduced personnel of the department 10,000 below the prewar figure and his budget as originally sent to congress provided for a further reduction of 9,100, the slashes made by congress will add approximately 4,600 more lay-offs.

The Lowdown From Hickory Grove

Folks who read these literary gems from Hickory, they sometimes will maybe say, what kind of a character is this Josephus anyway? And today especially, I will most likely be put down for sure as a character of some kind on account I am going to say a good word for a couple of bills that just showed up. Something good about bills—my word, you will say.

Anyway, Fergy — he is our R.F.D. old reliable—brought the gas bill—it is $2.01, and the electric bill—it is $2.62. Both of 'em together are 15 cents a day. And the house is full of equipment—hot water heater, cook stove, radio, lights, washing machine, irons, etc.—and anybody saying 15 cents is not fair and reasonable, he is some kind of character his ownself.

You know, if the gas and electric cents could devise some way so people could plunk down 10 cents or two bits for service like you do for a cigar or a nip of fire-water, and think nothing of it, they would get folks with complaints, off their back. But people are funny about money. Five bucks on a two minute horse race is nothing—but four bucks for gas and kilowatts for a month, is robbery.

I think I will amble down to the light and gas office and see if they might want me to write 'em some ads. They are kinda modest down there. I talk out. I reckon I might, after all, be some kind or other of a character.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA.

South Plains
Ginners Meet

A number of local ginners attended the annual meeting of the South Plains Ginners Association in Lubbock last Saturday, during which Lee O. Allen, of this city, was chosen a vice president.

O. L. Peterman responded to the welcome address in which he pointed out that there were 302 gins, 15 compresses and 7 oil mills in this area. K. N. Klapp of the Anderson-Clayton Co., leading cotton exporters, spoke encouragingly of the prices, stating this year's annual carry-over is the lowest since 1928.

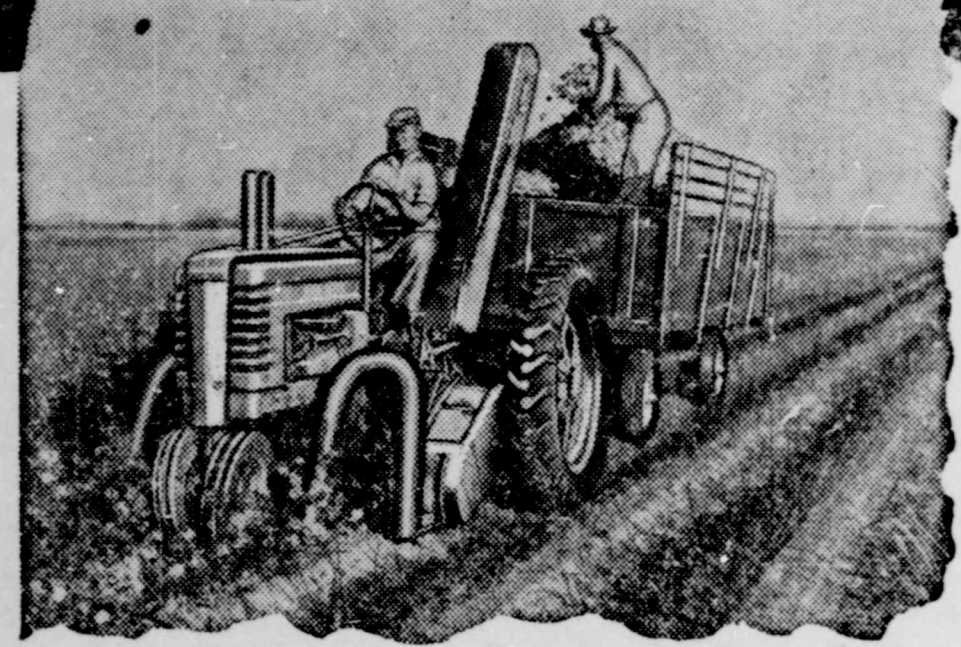

While no price for ginning was set, most ginners indicated about 55c per 100 pounds of seed cotton, plus $3.00 for bagging and ties.

Occasionally we make a note of visitors, lay it aside and find it a week or two later. One of such was the recent visit of Miss Ida Doss, of Mineral Wells, with her sister, Mrs. J. R. Garrison, of this city, and her brother, Tom Doss and family of Gomez.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gore returned this week from Iron, Ohio, where they were guests of Alfred's war buddy of three and a half years. They report a wonderful time. His friend was a sergeant in the engineer corps with which Alfred was attached. They also visited in Mississippi with her relatives and in other southern states.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Broun and children, Walter and Vida, of Cano City, Colorado, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. French over the weekend. They returned home Monday by way of Pampa to visit a daughter, Mrs. Louie Bynum. The Brouns moved to Colorado from Seagraves last fall.

Harvesting cotton in a once-over operation is the short cut to bigger profits. Get this advantage by stripping and delivering cotton, two rows at a time, with a labor-saving John Deere No. 15 Cotton Harvester.

Designed to work with the John Deere "A" and "B" Tractors, the No. 15 is a simple, sturdy, long-lived machine that does a fast, efficient job of saving bolls after the cotton plants have been killed by frost. Many gin operators state that cotton stripped by the John Deere is cleaner than that pulled by the average hand puller.

This year, to make short work of your cotton harvest—use a John Deere Cotton Harvester. See us for complete information the next time you're in town.

Temporary Silos Save Heat Damaged Crops

Corn and sorghum crops beginning to suffer from hot, dry weather may be put up in temporary silos to insure adequate dairy herd roughage this fall and winter. Shown here is a demonstration silo filled on the farm of Oscar Adams, near Commerce, Texas.

Farmers facing the prospects of scarce, high-priced corn and other feeds next winter because of this summer's prolonged heat wave and late planting dates in the Corn Belt this spring, are saving row crops by building and filling temporary silos.

In many areas in Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Arkansas and Kansas, crops that are fired by heat and drought are going into the low-cost, easy-to-build temporary silos. Principal materials used are slat fencing or welded wire fencing and special reinforced lining paper, Sisalkraft.

Typical of the work being done is on the farm of Oscar Adams, a Grade A milk producer of near Commerce, Texas. This demonstration of temporary silos was arranged by T. R. Holder, fieldman for the Kraft Foods Company's Sulphur Springs, Texas, plant.

In other demonstrations in the Southwest, such crops as corn that is beginning to fire, sorghums including Sudan grass, and Johnson grass are going into the temporary silos. One farmer even used surplus potatoes obtained through the Commodity Credit Corporation to make silage for his dairy herd.

County agricultural extension agents can advise on correct methods of making temporary silos and filling them. Dairy specialists are urging that quick action on storing forage be taken to help relieve probable feed shortages this winter.

A BOILERMAKER'S DAUGHTER became royalty when Miss Pat Reasor, 17, of Denison, Tex., was chosen queen of Denison's Diamond Jubilee Celebration Sept. 1-6. Her father is a Katy Railroad boilermaker and the railroad sponsored her in the contest to select a queen. She will reign over the six-day birthday celebration for which Denison has converted its business section into a pioneer settlement, vintage of 1872.

Marjean Carouth has accepted the position as checker at Piggly-Wiggly.

Boll weevils pass the winter as adults in weeds, grass, woods trash or other protected places in cotton fields.

Mr. and Mrs. Uilee McPherson spent the weekend in Ruidoso.
