

Municipal Works To Start Soon

In conversation this week with E. D. Jones, utility superintendent, he stated that finally some headway was being made in getting ready to put in the new sewer lines and disposal plant. The new sewer line will go to the newer additions, where this utility is not now in operation. The State Health Department, he stated, has OK'd the plans and specifications of Joe Ward, Wichita Falls, the city's engineer. The plans are again in the hands of Mr. Ward, and Jones expected that bids for the construction would be announced in a few weeks.

Also, the paving of additional streets is just in the offing, according to Mr. Jones. This additional paving, will amount to some 60 new blocks in the newer sections of the city if present plans go according to the wishes of the city authorities, as well as residents of these new additions. Lights have been extended to these new areas, also water, and in some instances sewer connections. But street lighting will be extended just as fast as material can be had, Jones stated.

Steel Standards Hold Up White Way

As to the white way, which all had hoped to be installed by the holidays, the utility superintendent stated that the steel standards for the lights was what was holding the deal right now, but the city hoped to have all that ironed out in the near future, so that actual work can be gotten underway. At present the plans for the white way is as follows:

Main street, beginning one block west of the Santa Fe tracks and extending east to First street, or highways 51 and 137.

Broadway from, Eighth to Fourth street.

Highways 51 and 137, beginning at the juncture of Lubbock and Tahoka highways, and running south to intersection with Buckley street, a total of around 20 blocks.

The big engine for the power plant is expected some time this month, as delivery was promised within about nine months from the time of purchase, Mr. Jones stated. C. V. Paden has finished the concrete foundation, and it is now ready for the big kilowatt producer.

Terry County Fair To Be Big Event

Committees working on the several phases of the forthcoming Terry County Fair, first in seven years, to be held here Oct. 23 through 25th, report enthusiastic response from every part of the county.

Business men are liberally subscribing to the expense funds. Commercial and industrial advertisers are buying booths, to show their wares. Farmers and livestock men are arranging to furnish products that will make other counties take notice.

Terry, one of the best diversified farming counties in Texas, has always ranked among the ribbon group in many fairs at which it has exhibited. And with the present crop can do it again. Every one is urged to set aside a choice exhibit and contact the County Agent here, or the agricultural teachers at Brownfield, Wellman and Meadow.

In addition to the fair, one of the States leading carnival companies will show at the grounds during the week. The local Lions club has made full arrangements for many concessions and attractions of entertainment.

HARVEST QUEEN STANDINGS

Monday's tabulations revealed that all Harvest Queen contestants had qualified by receiving the necessary 10,000 votes.

Standings as of Monday are as follows:

Wanda Stafford	11,800
Glenn Winston	30,300
Norma Jo Boyd	12,900
Janelle Turner	14,300
Dixie Redford	13,200
Arnlita Lucas	12,100

It has been proven over and over again that the only way a nation can maintain its freedom is to have a free press. When a dictator wishes to get in power, the first thing he does is suppress the newspapers of his country, quickly followed by free speech.

The only way the people then can regain their freedom is to go underground, issue small papers and pamphlets which are smuggled out and distributed. In one nation, particularly in South America today, the dictator has a smart way of limiting or confiscating all paper of the press that does not support him. In Russia, they print exactly what the dictator government says print, or close, and the publishers and editors either eliminated or sent to the mines in Siberia.

In this day of dictators, the American people have a great heritage of liberty vouches to them by the fathers of this great country. But if we are careless and indifferent, we can lose that great heritage.

When we find that one of our public servants, or anyone seeking a high place in our nation is inclined to want to shut up the press, that is a pretty good sign that person is not a safe bet to place in power in our nation.

Western Stockyards Valuable To City

In our rounds last week, we visited the Western Stockyards, and luckily found Coy Maroney in, as he is a very busy man. He has a plant over near the compass that would do justice to a much larger town than Brownfield. His offices and warehouse are on the north side of his lots. And don't think his offices are second rate, with a pine table for a desk and benches for seats.

It is well arranged, with nice desks, well lighted, carpeted, and as neat as a pin. Everything has a place, and is kept there. We half suspect that the little woman has a hand in the series of office arrangements.

Leading off from the offices, is a large warehouse where mixed feeds are stored, and across the alleyway is another large warehouse and grain elevator. They have a truck scale floored with concrete, that drains well, and wet or dry vary little from balance. This scale will weigh any load that comes down the road.

Coy is just another country boy, from Tokio section, who come to town and is making good. We are glad and rejoice with him. Coy still believes in hard work, and depends little on luck. He usually is feeding from 2000 to 3500 head of steers in his pens.

By the way, Coy remarked that he recently killed a steer fed 130 days and wanted us to really eat some good beef. He gave us an order on the Campbell locker plant and they were liberal with Coy's meat, as we got a nice supply of round and sirloin. But Coy is as liberal hearted as any good old Irish boy that ever come down the road. Stinginess is just not part of his nature.

Therefore we are now prepared to say that Coy knows his feeding operations, as that steak was strictly A-1 in any language, and the editorial family sure did enjoy the treat. By the way, Mr. Campbell of the locker plant, stated that the yearling dressed over 600 pounds.

CORRECTION

Last week we stated that Farmers Implement Co., was to get only one cotton harvester. The number should have been ten. So, better hurry up there and get your name in the pot. Remember only ten this year.

Citizens Urged To Cooperate During Fire Prevention Week

Before us we have a proclamation by Gov. Beauford Jester of Texas in which he calls our attention to the appalling loss of life and property in the United States, and in Texas. He cites for instance, that 10,000 lives are lost by fire annually in the United States, 465 of which are Texans. Many times this loss of life is caused directly by our own carelessness in not seeing that all fire hazards are removed, and all fire traps eliminated. Remember 5th to 11th is Fire Prevention Week.

If this were not enough, the tremendous destruction of property, of scarce building material the temporary displacement of families left without home, should be brought to all of us. Every time we have to stop work to rebuild, or take time out from food and clothing production, just that much are we taking from the world of starving and hungry people.

Fire prevention is not only an individual matter, it should be a community, a nationwide matter, and a matter of education. Some one has recently said that we are now teaching young folks in school how to better care for their health, and we are making a race of healthy folks out of them. Then he added, a fire prevention course should be added to the course of study of every public or private school, along with fire drills which they get now.

Fire prevention is largely a matter of education and education should start with the young folks. Many of us oldsters are either too cranky or indifferent to learn. Fire Chief E. D. Jones of this city said Monday, "I wish you would stress in your article that the Brownfield Fire Department is trying to make every week in the year a Fire Prevention Week, and we call on all citizens to cooperate."

He asked that we publish the following two paragraphs relating to fires, that are now state laws and carry some pretty heavy penalties for disobeying. They are as follows:

"Following Fire Apparatus Prohibited. The driver of any vehicle other than one on official business shall not follow any fire apparatus traveling in response to a fire alarm closer than five hundred (500) feet or drive into or park such vehicle within the block where the fire apparatus has stopped to answer a fire alarm."—and section 101 reads as follows:

"Crossing Fire Hose. No driver of a street car or vehicle shall drive over an unprotected hose of a fire department when laid down on any street, private driveway or street car track, to be used at any fire or alarm of fire, without the consent of the fire department official in command."

Under article 16, Section 143, the penalties for violation of the code are set forth as follows:

"Penalties for Misdemeanors. (a) It is a misdemeanor for any person to violate any of the provisions of this Act unless such violation is by this Act or other law of this State declared to be a felony.

(b) Every person convicted of a misdemeanor for a violation of any of the provisions of this Act for which another penalty is not provided shall be punished by a fine of not less than One Dollar ($1) nor more than Two Hundred Dollars ($200).

COURT CONVENES MONDAY

The regular monthly session of the District is set for next Monday. The docket will be called and non-jury cases heard.

Mexican Killed; One Wounded In Shooting

Jose Garcia, 25, died enroute to the hospital here and Francisca Basque, 45, was released from the hospital Monday after treatment for a bullet wound in the shoulder, in a shooting scrape Friday night. The fracas took place on a farm six miles east of Ropes, but just over in Lubbock county. Mexican cotton pickers in the vicinity rushed the wounded to the local hospital and Garcia died on entering the city from a wound in the chest. He was single but Basque has a small family.

Sheriff Murry was notified from the hospital and after learning the shooting had taken place in Lubbock county phoned the Lubbock county sheriff, who met Murry at Ropes. Together they apprehended one Morino, at the farm and lodged him in the Lubbock jail on suspicion of murder.

Conflicting stories were told of the cause of the affray, one being that the victim was trying to court the daughter of the accused. Another, that a bunch was trying to make him drink some beer. Basque told in an interview that he didn't know what caused it. He, the victim, and others were sitting in a car talking when some one came up and started shooting.

The body of the victim was taken to the Brownfield Funeral home from where it was taken the next day by friends and relatives.

While the fatal shooting occurred in Lubbock county, the victim died in Terry. Inquest was held by Justice W. H. Dallas and charges were filed in Lubbock.

Irate Mexican Breaks Cafe Window

An unknown Mexican man became incensed when refused service in the Grill Cafe shortly after noon Saturday. A waitress stated he had come in and asked for service, when she told him she could not serve him, he went out and returned shortly with some others and when again refused, he turned to go out the front door and kicked the plate glass window out.

Before the waitress or the owner, D. A. Brown, could phone for officers the man had disappeared in the Saturday evening crowd and no trace of him has been found. Other customers in the cafe didn't realize what had happened for several minutes.

There will be the regular services beginning at 10 A. M., with bible school, followed by a sermon. Lunch served on the grounds at noon. At 2 P. M. there will be many talks by visiting ministers, several of which are expected.

Cubs Take Tornadoes In First Home Game

Getting off to a rather slow start in their first home game Friday night, the Brownfield Cubs gathered momentum as the game progressed, and when the dust had finally settled, they had succeeded in taming the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes down to gentle zephyrs; sending them home with the bitter end of a 33-7 score. The locals were still a bit ragged in spots, but the fans had nothing but praise for the way the Cubs made the leather pop.

Scoring three times in the second quarter, the first came after a drive commencing on the Cub 29 yard line had advanced the ball to the Lamesa 21. From this point, Jerry Worsham carried the ball across. Martin converted. Second core came when Martin plunged over from the three, following up with another plunge for extra point. Third score was marked up when Lamesa decided to take to the air and had their first attempt intercepted by Jerry Worsham. Jackie Worsham converted.

In the third quarter, Hamilton relieved a Tornado back of the ball and scampered almost sixty yards to score. Try for extra point failed. Last Cub score came as Dalton carried the ball over from the Lamesa 13.

An intercepted pass in the final quarter set up the lone Lamesa score. Barron scored for the visitors a few plays after the interception had been returned to the Cub eleven.

The Cubs journey over to Levelland tonight, where they hope to avenge their last year's defeat at the hands of the Lobos. The Levelland club boasts of a back who did about everything except take up tickets last Friday night against Sundown. Several local fans have expressed themselves as being more than a little worried over the abilities of said back.

Soil Conservation District Election October 7

Terry Redford To Build Business Home

Forced into the street you might almost say, there was nothing else much that Terry Redford could do but put up his own building. Terry operating Terry County Motor Co., is agent of Kaiser Frazer cars, is located in the rear of a building on west Broadway owned by his brother, Logan and his partner, Sammy Teague, who handle Dodge and Plymouth cars. These boys, operating the Brownfield Motor Co., needed the space occupied by Terry for repairs and storage of parts, etc. It just so happened that Terry owned the site of the old Goode home on west Broadway near the tracks six 50x600 feet lots as there is no alley there. Temporarily, Terry is storing his parts and tools etc., wherever he can find a bit of space and to use his language, the hands and myself will help the construction force by "helping dig the foundation, carrying tie or hods."

Right now while this is being written, Terry is in the Mineral Wells section looking after building material, such as brick and tile, so we do not know exactly the size of the building he will erect, but presume it will be at least a fifty, maybe 100 foot front.

In fact the Herald will be glad to tell you more about this building when Terry gets home, selects his contractor and gets set for work. And that boy can work: His dad, the late E. L. Redford brought all his boys up that way.

Fair Boosters Plan Trip Over Area

Caravans of Boosters for the Terry County Fair, have been planned to visit nearby towns, advertising the Fair to be held here Oct. 23, 24 and 25. The first trip is scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 15, to go by Welch, Lamesa, O'Donnell, Tahoka, New Home, Meadow, Ropes, Clauene, Levelland and Sundown. Thursday, they go by Tokio, Plains, Bronco, Tatum, McDonald, Lovington, Alred, Denver City, Seminole, Seagraves and Wellman.

The first trip will have a large string orchestra, the latter one will have ten pieces of the Brownfield high school band. Both trips will feature square dancing by local talent and advertising matter will be distributed.

The management is seeking volunteers with cars to make either of both of the trips. Those who can, are requested to notify Jeff Farley or Hugh Holmes, before the trip dates. Every effort is being made to make this the biggest and best Fair Terry has put on to date.

South Terry Oil Field Still Spreading

Mr. C. W. Collins who lives down in the new Adair oil fields in south Terry and north Gaines, was in Monday and gave out some information about the field we seem unable to get through daily paper sources. On Mr. Collins' holdings, the Amerada company have finished one well, and the Tidewater company one, and the latter company is now drilling two other wells on his land.

Mr. Collins stated that the field was seemingly drifting south and southwest, some of the strongest wells being in that direction. But, he remarked, the expert oil men say it is a freak in many ways, and may in the next few months turn in some other direction. There may be a strong well east and another west, with a pretty weak sister between. But no dry hole has been drilled to date.

And Mr. Collins remarked that the experienced oil men down there say the field is already larger than they thought it would be when the first well was brought in about April this year, and even they will not hazard a guess how large the field will finally be. At Forrester gin one will find pavement to the field.

The pay is found around 4900 feet, and runs from 52 to 125 feet in pay lime, and that fact establishes their productivity; that is, the thickness of the pay lime. Oil men down there are advising owners to hold onto their royalties. Twenty-odd wells have been completed, and seven drilling.

COME! ONE AND ALL

There will be a forty-two party at the Gomez school Friday night, October 3rd at 7:30. The proceeds will go for lunch room equipment. Everyone is invited. Coffee and pie, 5c and 10c. Forty-two tickets, 25c.

WHOLE PRESS ASSOCIATION

What with his other duties, the Old He has been run ragged getting ads out of our business men the past few weeks, and his editorial efforts will be light this week, as it is also around the first of the month, when we are supposed to be hid out. Some of these days we hope to locate an advertising man, and we'll take it easier, we hope, or do you read our editorials?

So, another of our faithful old props has been knocked from under us, and an old saying that perhaps runs back to Dan'l Boone goes glimmering. Along comes a Tech professor who lous as how you can't depend on the rings in the logs to determine the age of the tree. He says that maybe that a bad year might not show any, but a real favorable and long growing season might show up with as many as three rings in one year. With that in mind, how old are California's largest red woods?

Watch our prediction, the old town will be full of enterprising grafters this fall with all kinds of schemes to extract the surplus dough now coming from a bountiful feed and cotton crop. These gents are always on hand when the pickings are easy. They will try, and in a lot of cases will sell absolutely worthless advertising and if possible they will work local pastors or leading church ladies into their schemes to make the going easier, and for the schemer to keep himself in the background while the "skinning" is in process. For instance, just this week a guy called and insisted we needed a new sign painted. We sure do, but when we get ready and local sign painters are ready, they'll get our job—not some stranger, who is here today and gone tomorrow. Our work is for men who trade in Brownfield and pay taxes in the same place. Well, the guy liked to have slammed our screen door off the hinges as he left the office. If the local Chamber of Commerce will appoint a committee to examine the credentials as well as the worthwhileness of every scheme that comes to town this fall and winter, the Herald will agree to print signs free of charge to put on each front door, asking solicitors and peddlers to get an OK from the committee. Will we do this, or will we just stand the gaff in silence?

Did you ever stop to think that the only folks that give a continental whoop about your community, whether it be Brownfield, Meadow, Wellman, Union, Plains, Denver City or Seagraves are the ones that make their living there, and call the above places home. All the other guy wants out of your community is just as much money, with just as little returned for it as he can get by with. Let's try to keep this in mind when we want an accommodation from our neighbors.

A lot of us old timers that carried our lunch to school in a tin pail can hardly understand why there is so much ado about hot lunches at the school buildings or in the cafeteria nearby. But we have to remember that health of the community has come a long way since we attended school with the cold lunch and drank from a common bucket with a common dipper. The expectant span of life has lengthened by some 20

Lot Bought For Girl Scout Hut

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Brownfield Girl Scout Association, Sept. 22, a discussion ensued as to the purchase of a lot 50x200 feet situated on south First Street, on the east side of the street, at the entrance to Coleman Park.

Motion was made by Dr. T. H. McIlroy and seconded by Jack Griggs that the property be purchased at $450. This property will be used on which to erect the hut as soon as funds can be raised for that purpose. Cash was paid for the lot.

We understand that a campaign will be inaugurated in the near future to secure funds for the building.

La Mecca New Name For Thompson Cafe

The Thompson Cafe has been run by several owners since it was named when under the management of Bob Thompson some years ago. years in that time, and that health officials and dieticians claim that the hot lunch served on the school grounds are much more nourishing and digestible, permitting the student to be more able to master his studies in the afternoon. It is alright for us to remember the good old days, but let's not try to bring them back. The modern kids might not like it.

Tell It To The Children!

Any long-range fire prevention program that is to produce maximum results must include fire instruction in the schools of America—both urban and rural.

Traffic safety has long been taught in thousands of schools. Fire safety deserves equal attention. As one authority said, "It is apparent that if safety education in the field of fire prevention had been adequately presented in the elementary schools during the past fifteen or twenty years, the loss of children's lives from this cause would be greatly reduced today."

The methods used to teach fire prevention may be of various kind. Periods of time may be allotted to it, or it can, in many cases, be combined with subjects which are an established part of the curriculum. Regardless of method, the main thing is that the instruction be vivid and forceful—and really drive home the fundamentals of fire prevention in young minds.

Fire prevention study should

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Purcell and sons visited her mother, Mrs. Madge Young in Abilene, several days last week and this.

begin in elementary schools, and consist of lessons which are easily understood by very young children. In higher grades, more advanced material may be used, including instruction in fire laws and ordinances. Finally, in university instruction, mature students may be given technical information dealing with the more complex aspects of the fire problem.

The responsibility for putting such a program into effect belongs to school authorities everywhere. It should be started now, on a national scale, as a positive and continuous effort to meet an emergency condition.

Socialism Is Inefficient

One characteristic of socialism is its inefficiency.

The best current example of that at present is England, where the Labor government has been attempting to make the enormous transition from a free enterprise system to a socialistic system with unusual speed. The result has been a severe decline in production. The British mines are producing less and less coal—and for the first time in her history, England is having to import coal from us. The British mills are producing less steel. The threat of immediate socialization is a damper on the British electric industry. And the output of export commodities, which was depended upon to revitalize England as a financial power, has been far below the forecasts.

This inefficiency is implicit in the socialist system. First of all socialism destroys initiative—what rewards there are go to the state, and the best the individual can hope for is a political job. Second, socialism depends upon the use of force of one kind or another to achieve its ends. Labor is compelled to accept a certain kind of employment whether it wants it or not—and the man who works under compulsion never does his best. Third, socialism ties up all the energies of the country in an impenetrable jungle of rules, regulations, red tape, priorities, ration schemes, and so on. Again, initiative is smothered.

We hear much of Russian production. But here, again, it is the result of mass effort—of an unlimited supply of slave labor with an incredibly low standard of living. Judged by any American standard, Russia is abysmally in-

Behind the Scenes in American Business

By Reynolds Knight

The feeling is growing that America cannot continue to feed the world practically single-handed without forcing food prices so high that the American consumer can not afford to buy anything but food. What then will happen to the mountains of higher-cost nearly double prewar prices afford to buy manufactured goods at current prices?

These questions are worrying manufacturers, retailers and labor alike. Manufactured goods are being turned out at a rate between 80 and 90 per cent greater than prewar levels. But the recent drop in our exports has already slowed down production in manufactured goods now being turned out in record volume? Can a public that is forced to allocate most of its earnings for food at many lines. A drop in domestic consumption through sheer inability to buy would deal an even more severe blow.

SCHOOL BUILDING—The nation is beginning to get some of its much needed schools. School construction for this August was estimated at $23,000,000, more than double the figure for August a year ago. And, because of record enrollments, construction volume is bound to increase. Even high costs can not hold it back—but they have caused architects to plan more carefully and to use more often such materials as ceramic tile, to cut maintenance costs.

Only under free enterprise do we attain maximum efficiency, the maximum standard of living for all—and, most important, maximum freedom for all. That is one fact Americans must never forget when schemes for further government ownership of industry are presented here.

A Report From Europe

By GEORGE MAHON

As reported from Washington several weeks ago, an Act of the House of Representatives required the Speaker to appoint a Committee of 19 members to make a study and recommendation in regard to our program of feeding and financing Europe—our foreign aid program. I was appointed as a member of the Committee. There are 8 Democrats and 11 Republicans on the Committee. It is headed by Christian Herter, a Republican from Boston. The Committee is working under a mandate from Congress and is under great pressure to do a good job. The report of the Committee may have a far-reaching influence on our future foreign policy at a very critical time in world history. The interests of the United States must come first and no aid to Europe should be recommended which will not also serve the best interests of America.

The war has now been over for more than two years. What does Europe look like to a West Texan?

First about England. In going by train the 70 miles from the port of Southampton to London, I was struck with the intensity with which the land is cultivated. The grain was off the wheat fields but many other crops were growing. However, they were not growing very well because England is in the midst of a terrific drought. I have since learned that most of Europe has been in a severe drought for about three months. This is making a marked reduction in the food supply. The clamor throughout Europe is food, food, food! At home we complain at the prices of food but here the emphasis is on food at any price.

I noticed in England that the Victory gardens were still very much in evidence. In suitable areas the British are using such places as the right of way on the railroad for countless little gardens, and they are well cared for. I went out in the country and met with what we would call the AAA committee for one of the farms. We looked at some of the farms. The farmers are doing a good job.

Ginger Jones

PIXIE-LIKE Ginger Jones met her husband a second time when she returned to radio two years ago. She had been active in Chicago radio until 1944, when she gave it up to work for the Stage Door Canteen, and to supervise and emcee variety shows for the American Theatre Wing. Later she moved to New York. After awhile Ginger decided to try radio again and was cast in the role of Jane Brown, a crack newspaper reporter, on NBC's "Right To Happiness". Her husband, Les Damon, plays the part of Dr. Dick Campbell in the same daytime drama. Les did not know that Ginger had auditioned and secured a part in the serial. He discovered it when he found himself face to face with his wife at the mike.

The Record for the Oldest Woman ever to appear on the radio, probably was broken recently on Tom Breneman's "Breakfast in Hollywood" program, heard weekdays over ABC. The guest of honor was 106 years old! She, of course, received the day's orchid.

Treasure Hunters Al and Betty Anderson are richer today by six valuable prizes. For their "Truth or Consequences" penalty on the July 5th program, Ralph Edwards presented them with a list of ten unusual articles which they were to look for during the Summer. Sept. 6th, when the NBC stunt show returned to the air, they produced six of the items, and won a prize for each.

Two Cast Replacements have been made recently on the CBS "Young Doctor Malone" show. The neighborly Mrs. Morrison in this popular daytime serial, is now played by Doris Rich. Jay Meredith plays Clara Grimes, the waitress who loves and is jilted by Walter Sloan.

Berry Kroeger, Reed Bannister on the CBS "Big Sister" serial, has learned that fate and the course of a human life go hand in glove. For

A farmer in England has to cooperate with the government program. If he fails to do so the government can take over his farm; but the farm committee explained that they had encountered no serious trouble in securing cooperation.

England is far from being self-sufficient in food and the people are up against it. They are not producing enough manufactured products to sell abroad to acquire enough dollars to pay for the food from abroad which they need. They call this the dollar crisis. The monetary complications are hard to understand but the results are quite easy to see. The people are reducing their import of food and struggling to increase their exports,—doing this to get dollars and prevent the collapse of the government.

In spite of the fact that more than two years have elapsed since V-J Day, the British still have a severe rationing system which apparently works much better than our OPA ever did. The severity of the program is indicated by the fact that each person is allowed only one egg per week and only twenty cents worth of meat per week. Gasoline is strictly rationed. Clothing and textiles are strictly rationed also, and while the British produce large stocks of clothing they are not released in quantity for local sale but are exported, the idea being to acquire more dollars to be used for the purchase abroad of raw materials and food.

The British are a sturdy lot. They are unwilling to admit defeat; they are determined to prevent the collapse of their country. This was the impression which I got in conferences which we held with officials of the British government.

Our officials feel that the collapse of England and Western Europe would mean Communism and the domination of all Europe by Russia. In that event the security of America would be seriously threatened.

The most dynamic British officials with whom we conferred in London were the Foreign Minister, Ernest Bevin and the Minister of the Board of Trade, Sir Stafford Cripps.

Lowell Thomas, veteran newscaster, author and world traveler, goes on a coast-to-coast network of the Columbia Broadcasting System beginning September 29th. He will broadcast a fifteen-minute summary of world news each Monday through Friday. The new program replaces both of his present broadcasts, now divided between CBS for the West and NBC for the Eastern parts of the nation.

The imperturbable Tommy Bartlett, emcee of ABC's "Welcome Travelers", did a double-take recently when a 48-year-old stepmother, a contestant on the program, told him that her stepson was 50, and her stepdaughter-in-law 47!

An interviewer recently asked Marian Shockey, Carol Brent on NBC's "Road of Life", what she planned to do when she retired. "I haven't the foggiest notion," replied Marian. "Most people are still asking me what I plan to do when I grow up!"

Then even if she doesn't win one of the many valuable prizes, she will have a feeling of having helped keep a poverty-stricken child warm and alive. Contest developments will be reported on "The Guiding Light", heard over CBS. Contest rules can be found in the current issue of "Smart Knitting Magazine".

Most Old Age Grants Will Reach $30 Mark

Average old age grants for October in Texas will reach the long heralded political objective of $30 a month, a statement of authorization by the state board of public welfare revealed today.

The October payment to old persons also will set a new record in total amount—$5,945,952. The higher payments are to be made in the face of increased number of recipients.

The old age rolls show a net gain of 795 for the month to total Roberson.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Skeen of Monterey, Calif., were here this week visiting his sister, Mrs. M. B. Sawyer and Mrs. Skeen's niece and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Blair.

197,924. Average checks will be $30.04, compared with $29.98 for September.

Distribution to needy blind persons will average $33.58 for October, which is 10 per cent increase over September grants. Blind rolls also increased for the month, going from 5,428 to 5,461 persons. Total distribution will be $182,830 for the blind.

GRASSES LEGUMES

The secret of fall harvesting is to adjust the cylinder speed instantly for varying moisture conditions that change from hour to hour. The All-Crop Harvester's Quick Speed-Changer makes it as easy as tuning your radio.

Tough conditions require higher speeds to thresh the grain or seeds from heads or pods. Dry, brittle conditions require slower speeds to avoid damage to kernels.

The All-Crop Harvester's famous full-width, rubber-faced, spiral-bar cylinder processes the crop gently and thoroughly in a wide, thin stream... at the proper speed to save it all.

Veterans' News

Approximately 30,000 veterans of World War II who suffered hearing impairments in service are eligible for a special program of medical rehabilitation that the Veterans Administration has established to help them overcome their handicap.

Eligible veterans may take advantage of this program whether they require medical attention to improve their hearing or whether they need rehabilitation to overcome the handicap of a permanent hearing impairment.

The complete rehabilitation course includes a series of hearing and speech tests, the selection and fitting of a hearing aid if indicated, auditory training, lip reading instruction and speech correction if necessary.

Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge is one of 26 institutions through the nation with which the Veterans Administration has contracts to provide this service for veterans.

Opportunities for careers in forestry are described in a "Handbook of Information on Entering Positions in Forestry" which has been distributed to all Veterans Administration vocational advisors.

Published by the Society of American Foresters in Washington, D. C., the booklet contains descriptions of positions in forestry duties, working conditions, salaries, requirements for entry and methods of applying for jobs.

The handbook also lists agencies, both private and Government which employ foresters and persons in related occupations. Veterans desiring to train for forestry positions under the G. I. Bill were cautioned that the field is limited and possibly might become overcrowded.

Rheumatic Heart Kills Many Children

Rheumatic heart disease is now the first cause of death among children aged 10 to 14, and is second only to tuberculosis at ages 15 to 25. Despite the importance of this disease its epidemiology is not completely established. No vaccine such as those that prevent typhoid, diphtheria, smallpox and whooping cough has yet been developed for its prevention or control. We do know, however, some of the danger signals and with the physician's accurate diagnosis some of the damaging results of the disease may be prevented.

Exposure to frequent chilling, damp or overcrowded living quarters, a poor diet, an attack of scarlet fever, a bad cold or other infection caused by certain streptococcus germs are likely to be predisposing factors in the appearance of rheumatic fever.

Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, points out that in general the danger signals of rheumatic fever are pain and swelling in the joints of the knees, ankles, elbows, or wrists. The pain is usually felt in one of these centers and spreads to the others. Oftentimes a child will get irritable and cross without any visible signs of a good reason for this attitude; he may cry easily or develop habits of nervousness. A physician should be consulted at once in such a situation, for these symptoms may be the beginning of rheumatic fever.

According to Dr. Cox the best safeguards against this disease are to have each child examined at least once a year by a physician, to have the right kind of food and plenty of rest. When the disease is suspected of being present, a doctor should be consulted at once, and if he prescribes complete bed rest, his advice should be implicitly followed.

We Do The National Races Up In Cellophane

(Delayed)

The three Jacks of the Terry county Herald, with deuces wild, left the hereabouts about two p.m. last Friday, headed for the country of mixed mesquite and post oak timber. A slight stop was made at Coahoma to see the kin and Roscoe for gas, but most of the time the Mercury was perking along at a good rate of speed. Hove into Brownwood about eight and that sign over the door of that alignment shop as you enter the city, with two wobbly wheels that run day and night—we guess—were still wobbling.

Found Sallie and Herman at the apartment, but we and they and the two ever present pups, Buddy and Rover and the III Jacks hit the ball out to the lake to the residence of his mother where we spent the time while there. Mrs. Graves was already out there, and the two women soon had a nourishing meal, and at that late hour it sure was nacking. So to bed and sleep, to be awakened early Saturday morning by the continuous whine out the outboards, for the National Outboard races were to start that day.

If you have never attended any races of this kind, we bet you'd get a kick out of them to be long remembered. A gun is fired and for five minutes there is the warm up period. Then another is fired, and in just one minute they are off, and this one lone minute is used by the racing boats in maneuvering for position, and a good maneuverer has several points in his favor to win the race, all other things being equal. When they decide the minute is about up, all approach the starting point cautiously, not to overrun the starting point before the gun is fired and the flag dipped to indicate the races are on.

Not having a keen sense of hearing, and such a din that is set up when some 15 boats or less are off, we wondered how it sounded to the keen of hearing, or if we had had our hearing aid. But one soon gets used to the hum and whine of the giant sized bumble-bees and gets stirred up to whether old red, old green or old white will cross the line first on the fifth and last round. They have numbers on them, and the name of the race driver is announced, but it was a lot more fun for us to go by the color of the boat. The biggest thrills and spills are of course at the turns, a half mile apart. Saturday's races had a national hook up with Mutual, 400 stations in the USA participating.

And speaking of spills, there was one to five in every race, always at the turns. Luckily no one was hurt in any of them. There were entrants from many states, both north and south of the Mason and Dixon line, particularly from the midwest, although there were some from as far as California and Florida. After the races were over Sunday afternoon, all four champions in the four classes went to Texans, as we remember, San Antonio, Dallas, Waco and some other place. But two out-of-state boats were very fast, one from Arizona and the other from Tulsa. One from Indiana also made very fast time, and had a good driver. In fact he was high point man.

Monday was to be devoted exclusively to speed records by individual boats, Brownwood did itself proud by providing much long green for the winners, as well as much entertainment at night for the visiting racers and managers, such as dances, Friday night at the dam park pavilion and one Saturday night at Hotel Brownwood. There might have been others we did not read about in the Brownwood Bulletin. Anyway, every native as well as the thousands of people who sat or stood along the high ledge of rocks overlooking the race course, all seemed to get a great thrill out of the races. It was not too hot, both mornings being cloudy and a gentle wind blew from the north, northeast, making the lake pretty choppy at times.

We had a lot to talk about, a lot to eat, and a swell place to nap both day and night, any time we wished. Got on our way between 4 and 5 p. m., sundown between Tye and Merkel; ate at Sweetwater and a short stop at Coahoma about nine. The brother-in-law, Joe Roberts sr., had another transfusion, but he is a very weak, sick man. Hit Brownfield between 11 and 12.

Has Copy Of Ulster County Gazette

Carl Willis, who lives out on route 2, has a pretty well preserved copy of the Ulster County Gazette, the original of which was issued Jan. 4, 1800, right at the beginning of the 19th century, A. D. The old paper was published at Kingston, N. Y., by Samuel Greer & Son.

The old copy which gives a good account of the death of Ex-president George Washington, is preserved between glass. The old style of spelling is used, the "r" takes the place of the "s" which was later added to the English language. The ads also have a queer sound to us 20th century folks. One ad gave description of a negro "wench" offered for sale.

These old copies of this ancient paper will become more valuable as time rolls around, for the children of unborn generations to see how their forefathers lived 150 years ago.

New GMC Has Lots Of Good Features

A representative of this paper called at the Ross Motor Co., on west Broadway last week to see the new GMC truck, or shall we say pickup, as advertised in the Herald last week. Mr. Ross personally explained the many good features of the truck. He stated quite a few had called to see it.

But what Mr. Ross and prospective customers had rather see than hear—plenty trucks coming in to meet the demand of most of the buyers. However, Mr. Ross stated that the plant had a large contract with Greyhound Bus Co., to make new buses at the Detroit plant.

Therefore, Mr. Ross hopes to have plenty of new trucks for a number of his prospective customers soon.

But they will soon have their contract with Greyhound complete and in addition a new plant has just been completed in St. Louis. In fact the truck on display came from the St. Louis plant.

Therefore, Mr. Ross hopes to have plenty of new trucks for a number of his prospective customers soon.

"Your Newspaper
Serves Freedom
To You"

President Truman Greets Newspapers:

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

July 23, 1947

We have the best and freest press in the world, but, as in all other fields of human endeavor, there is always room for improvement. Consequently, it is fitting that there should be a National Newspaper Week when the newspapers of the United States may take stock of their services to their readers.

I like the slogan you have chosen this year -- "Your Newspaper Serves Freedom by Serving You." There can be no greater contribution to the welfare of our nation and the world than service in the cause of freedom. We are too much inclined to take our own freedom as a matter of course. We need to defend it always, and we need now to do all that we can to extend the blessings of freedom throughout the world.

The newspapers have played a splendid part in this great cause and I know that they can be counted upon in the future.

Harry Truman

As long as your newspaper is free, your speech and actions are free. When dictators close a Free Press, your freedom is at stake!

Harvesting cotton in a once-over operation is the short cut to bigger profits. Get this advantage by stripping and delivering cotton, two rows at a time, with a labor-saving John Deere No. 15 Cotton Harvester.

Designed to work with the John Deere "A" and "B" Tractors, the No. 15 is a simple, sturdy, long-lived machine that does a fast, efficient job of saving bolls after the cotton plants have been killed by frost. Many gin operators state that cotton stripped by the John Deere is cleaner than that pulled by the average hand puller.

This year, to make short work of your cotton harvest—use a John Deere Cotton Harvester. See us for complete information the next time you're in town.

Oil's Record

If anyone still doubts that the oil industry is an extremely competitive enterprise, he should, as Al Smith used to say, look at the record.

Today more than 34,000 companies are engaged in the oil business throughout the country. Nearly 13,500 are in the production end, 400 are refiners, 650 are engaged in transporting oil and oil products and 20,000 are concerned with wholesale marketing and distribution. In addition, there are nearly 250,000 service stations, all of which are competing for patronage.

The results of so competitive a situation have been far-reaching indeed. The various companies have tried to outdo each other in producing desirable oil products—and some 5,400 have been developed. Producers have been aggressive in seeking new sources of oil—and today the country's proved reserves of crude oil and natural gas liquids are the highest in history. Finally, competition, combined with enormously improved producing and refining methods, has held down oil prices. As an example, the retail price of gasoline, exclusive of taxes, is now about half what it was 25 years ago, and the quality of a great deal higher.

The oil industry works on the typically American principle that progress never stops—that a better product is always possible. To this end, it employs every resource of science, finance and inventiveness. The beneficiary is the entire country.

Mrs. Ruth Lowe has accepted a position with Collins Dry Goods.

Capt. Norris D. Norman, of Ft. Worth visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Norman, of Meadow over the week end.

PREVENT FIRES

We earnestly solicit every citizen to practice fire prevention daily. Have you figured how much you stand to lose if your home or business property, car or valuables are destroyed by fire.

LOOK SCHOOL KIDS — You can be a big help preventing fires if you are careful with matches, bonfires and chemistry experiments. Be Careful!

Toss, turn, then decide to smoke? Too often beds catch fire when people doze off. Better smoke when wide awake — deaths caused by bed smokers in the United States is appalling. Don't be a victim of your own carelessness.
