

Cubs Defeated In Levelland; Rest Tonight

The Brownfield Cubs along with hundreds of fans journeyed to Levelland last Friday in happy anticipation of at least a 14 point victory when the game ended.

Brownfield kicked off to Levelland and with the second play of the game a Lobo took a pass and ran over the pay stripe. The play was called back however, the receiver had stepped out of bounds about the 38 yard line. After this play the Cubs settled down and held them scoreless. The fans from Brownfield relaxed a little later, confident that the game belonged to the Cubs.

After a few minutes Brownfield had the ball and drove to the one yard line, and after trying every play they could think of the ball went to Levelland on downs. The fans began to wonder. The first quarter ended with Brownfield having made the best show and fans were saying we haven't started yet. The second quarter had a few more thrills with the Cubs furnishing them VIA fumbled balls. The first half ended with Brownfield again failing to push over from the one foot line. The fans saying it looked like a repeat performance of the Midland game.

Brownfield's high school band put on a very entertaining half time period. Levelland crowned their football queen before the game started.

The third quarter started with the hope that the Coaches had put a bug in the ear of the Cubs, and it appeared so after the Cubs scored the first touchdown. Fans were shaking hands with one another saying we finally have started. They reckoned without the boys from Levelland, because from that moment on the Lobos took over the show and pushed across two touchdowns to beat the Cubs 14-7.

Fans were consoling each other while marching out of the Bowl and exclaiming that the Lobos had thoroughly outplayed and outsmarted the Cubs.

Brownfield's Cubs rest tonight and journey to Big Spring next Friday night for a game with the Steers.

New Dairyman Is Easy to Meet

Have you personally met Mr. Warren Orr, new owner of the Forbis Dairy, now known as the Orr Dairy. If not, you will have no trouble doing so, as he is a very easy man to meet, and we'll bet he makes a good impression on you when you meet him.

About a month ago, Mr. Orr purchased the dairy and herd from Forbis, and he is spending some of his money to get that fact indelibly impressed on the minds of customers and prospective ones. We predict that Mr. Orr will go places, as he has had much experience in the dairy business.

We have not heard just what the former owners aim to do, but hope they decide to stay in Brownfield or vicinity, as they are fine folks.

Bayless Improves Jewelry Store

Bayless Jewelers did not do a great deal of work so far as the casual visitor can see, but they made a whale of a lot of difference in the looks of their place—all for the better.

The partition in the rear was removed and a large plate mirror placed in the back of the store, which we consider adds greatly to the appearance of the place.

We Have Our Annual Runin With "Bugologists"

Mr. C. C. Weigle, the man who took O. L. Walton's place here with the USDA Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, called one day last week. We have in the past several years had an almost annual runin with these men, but we always part friends. This is especially true of home men. Some that just drop in don't always take our jesting in the spirit it is offered.

Mr. Weigle set out that neither he or the USDA was trying to hurt this country, regarded as lightly infested with pink boll worms. He showed us some evidence from the heavily infested sections of the lower valley, and we'll have to admit that those little half grown bolls had been badly "chewed up." He also showed up two or three worms of a beautiful pinkish hue, some picked up in gin trash in Terry county, (all alive) this year, he said. So far, Bailey is the most north-westerly county in which they are found in Texas.

Of recent years Hockley and Cochran have also been added to the quarantined area, but the little boogers have never made it into Lamb, Lubbock and Lynn, all starting with the letter "T". Mr. Weigle admitted that there was little likelihood that this area would ever suffer serious ravages from the little pests, but went on to say that from here they could spread into the "main cotton section of Texas." We asked him where he thought the "main section" was, and he quickly said "this is it, but he meant the older and former main cotton growing section of Texas," and we might add Oklahoma.

Mr. Weigle stated that the very limited quarantine maintained in this section, worked no hardship on anyone, grower, processor or buyer. In fact, he stated that the gin men were 100 per cent behind any measure to combat or hold in check the spread of the pink boll worm. And as stated above the limited quarantine works no hardship on the farmer.

Then the conversation drifted to something that is really giving south Plains farmers a headache, the flea hopper. Mr. Weigle admitted that bug was something else again, and said the experts of the USDA were busy working out the best measures they can find to combat this insect.

Deputy Apprehends Shop Lifter Saturday

A 43 year old woman was apprehended last Saturday night shoplifting in a local grocery store. The grocer, being suspicious of the woman had tipped the Sheriff who posted a deputy not known about the store. He in turn had taken a grocery "buggy" and followed her rounds, himself shopping for various articles.

After seeing her deftly place several articles in a large purse and waiting until she had cleared through the checker, gave a signal to the Sheriff parked outside who stopped the woman and found a number of unpaid for articles in her purse.

A quick settlement was made by the chagrined woman. The grocerman had to replace the many articles from the Deputy's buggy.

Mmes. H. E. Farmer and H. J. Tankersley, of Union were Brownfield shoppers Monday.

Shriners To Take Part In Brownfield's Festival Nov. 7

BROWNFIELD, Amarillo's Khiva Temple Drum Corps, one of the most colorful organizations of its kind in the whole country, will be on hand November 7 to help Brownfield put over its Harvest Festival and Merchant's Jamboree one of the biggest one-day affairs in the history of the entire area. The corps will take part in the huge parade in the morning and will present numerous other features throughout the day. Also featured in the parade will be a float sponsored by the Brownfield Shriners.

The South Plains Shrine Club also is having its annual party at the Veteran's Hall on the night of the 7th. At the conclusion of the affair, the Shriners and their ladies will join the expected crowd of twenty thousand merry-makers taking part in the Harvest Festival.

The entire day of the Festival will be taken up by parades, bands, speakers, contests, prizes and surprises.

Fair Boosters To Travel Next Week

A large caravan of local boosters, accompanied by a band are to leave early Wednesday morning on a visit to neighboring towns. They are advertising the Terry County Fair to be held here Oct. 23, 24 and 25.

First stop on their tour will be at Welch followed by Lamesa, O'Donnell, Tahoka, New Home, Meadow, Ropes, Clauene, Levelland and Sundown.

On Thursday they will stop at Tokio, Plains, Bronco, Tatum, McDonald, Lovington, Alford, Denver City, Seminole, Seagraves and Wellman. Music and square dancing will be featured entertainment enroute.

Committeemen are anxiously calling for volunteers with cars to make either or both trips. Jeff Farley and Hugh Holmes are managing the arrangements.

Local Masons Attend Lubbock Meeting

Some forty Brownfield Masons attended the annual meeting for South Plains Masons at Lubbock last Monday night. This affair is sponsored by Scottish Rite Masons of this section.

Al Muldrow acted as Master of Ceremonies for the event. Tom May and F. B. Lewis, both highly regarded in Masonic circles were in attendance with the Brownfield delegation. Clovis Kendrick is an official of the South Plains Scottish Rite Club.

A short memorial service for A. C. Foote, who died August 24, was held during the Eastern Star meeting last week. Mr. Foote was a teacher in the Brownfield schools and after consolidation of the system was principal of the Tokio school. At the time of his death he was supt. of the schools at Bomarton, Texas.

Business Men, Farmers Hold Labor Meeting

A large group of farmers met with business men and officials of the Chamber of Commerce at the Court House Monday afternoon to plan concerted action in procuring more much needed labor in cotton picking.

Several men in cars left Tuesday morning for South Texas to the source of such labor. It is understood two small cafes are being opened and a third is being provided by public spirited men, to accommodate the increased number of cotton pickers.

The barracks north of town was recently installed by the County-City and is being completed this week. There is room in them for many more people. It is claimed our harvest season opened several weeks earlier this year than normal. Chamber of Commerce officials estimate more than 30,000 bales of cotton now open, yet in the fields. Hence both prospective labor and employers were caught in a few weeks gap.

Health Officers Warn Against Flies

To mar our good record of having eliminated the fly situation in Brownfield it has come to our attention that flies in great numbers are reappearing because someone has neglected to spray and clean up sufficiently to continue good fly control.

Because of these observations, Dr. Frank P. Miller, Director of the South Plains Health Unit, requests that all residents of Brownfield spray liberally with DDT both inside and outside houses and where there are outbuilding, cow lots, horse lots, chicken pens. He suggests these areas be completely and thoroughly sprayed with DDT to control further fly breeding. Garbage areas and cess pools should also be given a liberal dosage of DDT.

Unless these precautions are taken at once by everybody concerned it is expected that the production of flies will become a plague in Brownfield before the freezing weather and our summer season of wonderful freedom from flies will be forgotten.

If everyone will fight the flies late fall outbreaks of disease typical to the harvest season can be prevented, otherwise the usual result of fly infestation is expected.

MAGNOLIA CONSTRUCTING NEW OFFICE

The Magnolia oil company is constructing another office building at their headquarters on the Lubbock road.

This new office building is to take care of increased business.

Farmer Lay Gets $26 Per Acre On Maize

Bernard Lay, who lives out five miles southwest of town was in one day recently and informed us that he had just combined one extra early field of maize. There was just 19 acres in this field, and after paying all expenses, including getting the maize to town, he cleared a bit over $500 on the 19 acres.

Of course this is not all the maize Bernard has, by several hundred acres, but this field got the benefit of all the early rains, and matured before the weather got so hot and dry. This figures out some more than $26 per acre.

Speaking of maize there is some mighty fine maize south of the Tahoka highway out toward the country club. Early in the spring this writer felt grave fears that a lot of that land was going to lay out and blow all year. Now they have good stands of cotton and maize on this land which will hold it next year.

And there is some of the best cotton out there we have seen this year. We believe one large field of several hundred acres will make a half bale per acre, perhaps more. It is near waist high and full of grown bolls from bottom to top. Oh! for about a couple of thousand pickers.

Some Less Peas And we found one large pea field of 100 or more acres. We have a sneaking suspicion that it belongs to one, Jess McWhirter. It had been combined, but at the end of the rows, where the road grader threw up a bank, there was lots of peas the combine missed and the women folks got out and helped themselves to the green ones.

So, the first Meatless Tuesday the editorial family had a big mess of blackeye peas. Thanks a lot, Jess.

Mayor Frank Jordan Slowly Recovering

The many friends of Mayor Frank Jordan will be pleased to know that he is now turning for the better, following a serious operation some three weeks ago.

For ten days or two weeks following the operation, Mr. Jordan did fine considering the seriousness of the operation. But to add insult to injury pneumonia set up in one lung Sept. 24, but his physicians kept it from spreading.

In a few weeks we hope to have Mayor Jordan back on the streets and in his office greeting the people.

Steam Laundry Now In New Home

For something like 15 years in the history of Brownfield Steam Laundry, that institution has been in a rented home on South Seventh street. Two weeks ago, the owner, Wade Pierce, proudly moved into the future home of the concern, which it owns, corner north Seventh and Hill streets, next to the Brownfield Ice Co.

The building is of tile construction, with plenty natural lighting with many windows, plastered and painted white on the interior, giving the employees almost ideal working conditions. In the process of moving, much new machinery, especially the latest type ironers, were installed, and old machinery that needed it, was repaired and put in first class condition. So, they not only have a better lighted and ventilated building, but much more room to turn out better work.

Some 20 people have regular employment at the Brownfield Steam Laundry, most of which are women, but some men are employed to handle the heavier work with the wringers, washers, etc. Ladies do all the finishing work. All seem happy in their new permanent home.

Mr. Pierce asks that his customers call and see how their work is handled, and no matter how busy, he or some of the personnel will take pleasure in showing you through the laundry.

Mrs. Arzie Martin and daughter and Mrs. C. E. Mackey, of Ropes were in town shopping Monday.

Brother of Mrs. Bost Killed In Accident

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Bost attended the funeral for her brother, Robert Jones Bost, Dallas and Amarillo insurance man, Wednesday. Mr. Bost maintained his home in Dallas, but commuted between there and Amarillo. Near Memphis on Sept. 28, he was hit by a truck, the driver of which went on and was later picked up by officers.

Mr. Bost died in a Memphis hospital Monday 29th. He was 32 degree Mason, and funeral was held at St. Matthews Cathedral with Dean Gerald G. Moore, officiating. Burial in Restland Memorial Park, Dallas.

He is survived by his wife and his father, four brothers and one sister, Mrs. Bost.

Dr. W. A. Roberson will attend a dental clinic in Lubbock today and Saturday.

Rehabilitation Of Germany Poses Big Question -- Mahon

In a previous report I made reference to England where food is scarce and where life is hard for the British. From London our Congressional committee on Foreign Aid proceeded to Germany for three days. This was not time enough to see much but one of our sub-Committees will spend three weeks in Germany.

Generally speaking, Germany after the lapse of two years since V-J Day is still a nation of rubble and ruin. It hardly seems possible that places like Berlin, Essen and Frankfurt could be rebuilt within a decade. Some progress is being made in clearing the rubble and reestablishing business and industry but Americans who have not seen the war damage in Germany cannot possibly visualize what German cities look like. At long last the German people know with complete certainty what war is like.

Here is one of our difficult problems in Germany; Russia and Poland have control of the pre-war breadbasket of Germany. The United States and Britain have joint control of the industrial heart of Germany but our area is far from being self-sufficient in food. Under agreement with Russian, the Potsdam Agreement, Germany was to be operated as an economic unit but Russian has refused to live up to the agreement. Under the law of nations an occupying power must prevent starvation in the area occupied. We can escape this responsibility by pulling our troops out of Germany, but if we stay we must maintain order and prevent starvation. If we pull out of Germany, few doubt but that the vacuum would be filled by the Communists, which would mean that the full industrial capacity of the Ruhr would be at the disposal of the Russians.

I saw hundreds of German farms. I went inmoostf oe-oTm farms. I went into some of the farm homes and walked over some of the fields. The farms are extremely well cared for and, generally speaking, they have not suffered war damage. Fertilizer and equipment are needed but otherwise I doubt that there is much room for the improvement of European agriculture. The farmers apparently use every foot of the ground to the best advantage. This year the crops are short because of the severe drought. Some of the Irish potatoes which were being harvested in Germany were little bigger than marbles.

German coal production is the key to economic recovery and coal miners are being given extra food rations to encourage output of coal. I visited a mine, talked with the miners and tasted some of the rations.

If the coal and industrial production in the British-American Zone can be sufficiently increased, this will enable the Germans to export enough to get the money to make up the deficit in food. That is the objective now being sought to help the people help themselves.

There is no evidence of happiness in Germany. Indeed, there is little for these defeated people to be happy about. Yet they have no one to blame for their misery but themselves and their leaders. The people are not inclined to be friendly or to smile at passerby. Perhaps I mistook a state of hopelessness and bewilderment for unfriendliness.

Rarely do you see a man or woman on the streets of a German city who does not carry a satchel or small handbag of some kind. They are black-marketing, trading, and trying to devise some means for getting food and other necessities. We went into some of their homes in the basements and bomb shelters of their devastated cities where conditions are the worst. Their cupboards were almost bare. Of course, there are variations of misery among the people. Some of them live better than others. The people who live on the farms are in far better position than the rest of the population.

Prior to the war many of the nations of western Europe relied on Germany for coal and steel and heavy machinery. Germany's neighbors are now in difficulty because those products are no longer available to them. How to permit the revival of Germany without encouraging the future rebirth of German militarism is the big question. The French are very vocal in opposing the revival of German production. America and Britain are trying to work out a level of industry for Germany which will enable Germany to become self-supporting without becoming a menace to the peace of the world. Of course, the Big Three have not yet made substantial progress on the Peace Treaty with Germany and until the treaty is made, makeshift policies will have to be relied upon.

Well, if it is not one thing it is another. As if we have not heard enough about wars and prospective ones, Admiral Wm. (Bull) Halsey and the Methodist Temperance Clisheet, are now in the midst of a big row about serving of intoxicants in the navy, and whether or not a navy man is a better fighter with or without his grog. But it seems Admiral Halsey first had his say, then the Clisheet answered, and now Halsey has no more to say. Did the days silence his battery?

Quite a lot of counties in this area without hospital facilities, voted bonds and built some rather expensive ones. It appears that the county commissioners of some of these counties have felt the weight of responsibility on their necks pretty heavy, and like most run-of-the-mine folks, they know just about as much about running a hospital as we would an atomic bomb factory. Naturally, they want to get out from under. But now comes the Attorney General who says the commissioner's court has no authority under Texas laws to sell them to private individuals. The next step of course, will be to see what kind of interpretation the State Supreme Court will put on the law. County governments, as stated above, are not qualified to run such a technical thing as a hospital, but competent management hospital and nursing staffs are hard to get. That fact makes the matter a headache all around.

Many of those whose duty it is to call on local business and professional men, have found it difficult to do this satisfactorily of late. To quote the late Wil. Rogers, the world "serious" was going on. The callers usually found the business men with their ears glued to the radio, providing they were baseball fans, and the Yankees won. We have never understood why all the radio, daily newspaper and magazine sport casters and writers have always wished "dem bums" to win the pennant or series, and Notre Dame to win in football. The latter is referred to as an Irish school, but the names on football rosters seem to us to come much nearer being dipped out of the waters of southern Europe than where the River Shannon flows. Maybe all their ma's married Eytalian pa's.

Our Congressman, George Mahon, says that Trieste is an international powder keg, and in the same talk he accuses the Greek officials of using our gratis money to feather their own nests, and little to the purpose intended. George might have added that Trieste has been an international powder keg for centuries, and that it is nothing new for European governments to use the free gifts of the United States to fill their own tills and promote their own political interests. Hail the day when we can move out of the hell on earth, which includes most all of Europe and Asia. But George was a bit too diplomatic to put it in as strong words as the writer.

While on the subject of Carity for Europe, we had a talk with a prominent merchant this week, who, when asked how much longer we will be feeding Europe, his answer was just as if he was reading our own mind.. "Ten years perhaps, or just as long as we'll feed them while they talk and fight and forget to produce anything themselves." There are able bodied men all over America who have never done an honest day's work in their lives. They have always stood around with alms up for a handout from people many times less able physically to work than the bum. That fact truly illustrates Europe as a continent with a few exceptions. The exceptions are all in northern Europe, and include Finland, for one.

As stated elsewhere in this paper, the Veterans Administration is trying to place as many physically handicapped veterans on jobs as possible. These men, who are trained by VA for jobs they can do, have proven beyond question that they can do that particular job equally as well as the non-handicapped, and on an average, there is much less absenteeism and accidents. Some large firms in Dallas have as high as 5 per cent or more of these men on the job, and they declare that they are more than pleased with them. These men certainly deserve a job. They don't want charity or even sympathy. They want jobs they can do, and they'll earn their own way.

If blister beetles are beginning to attack your fall tomatoes, dust the insects with 25 per cent DDT and keep them dusted until they die out or make a retreat.

Soil Conservation District News

Paul Cobb who farms northwest of Tokio on section 381, Yoakum county is having 160 acres of land plowed deep with a large disc plow to an average depth of 21 inches. He is putting a light layer of clay subsoil on top and his idea is to prevent wind erosion through the fall and winter, also to allow rain fall to penetrate down to the subsoil in order to form moisture storage. A Lubbock deep plowing contractor is doing the work on this farm. A trip to this farm amazes anyone who observes the amount of moisture below the surface of our sandy soils here on the South Plains. One former observing the deep plowed land yesterday, remarked that he believed our main trouble here with average farm land is that it is "water logged." The writer has been informed that there are three deep plowing contractors ready to start in Terry and Yoakum counties within the next few days.

The Boy Scout Troop at the Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children in Dallas, maintained by voluntary financial aid, gets a lesson in knot tying from Ned Fritz, chairman of the Youth Welfare Committee of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the scout troop composed entirely of hospital patients. The boys take their scouting seriously despite their illness.

Girl Scout Troop II Activities

At a recent meeting of Girl Scout troop II the following officers were elected, Freda Anthony, president; Joan Zant, vice-president; Parilee Nelson, secretary; Leah Dale Portwood, treasurer and Shirley Holder, reporter. A committee was appointed to meet with their leader Mrs. Shorty Forbus to make program and activity plans for the troop up until January 1st.

At the meeting last week the girls made plans to start a scrap book that will be of interest to all Scouts as it will contain pictures made at camp last summer.

is not needed at seeding time to assure a crop next spring, but enough moisture (if we knew what would be enough) is needed to assure a crop next year. So often, wheat seeded in dust will not pay off; however there is so much barren cultivated land now without cover crop that next winter and spring, many farms will blow very easily without some kind of protective cover. Our average farmer realizes now that his topsoil is valuable and it must be held where nature first laid it down. Crop yields cannot be had from dunes and fence row drifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Billie Mahler of Wichita Falls were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jot Akers last week.

Mrs. A. J. Akers, who has been here the past several months visiting her sons, left last week to spend the winter in Memphis, Texas with her daughter.

Herschel H. Scott, district representative of the Fort Worth Star Telegram whose headquarters are in Lubbock, was a business visitor in Brownfield Thursday.

They are to start work on a small scale model of the Little Home and will have it on display in the Scout booth at the fair.

The girls are working on their hiking and kodaking badges and were on a hike last Thursday with their leader when they received a most pleasant surprise. They had been hiking for some time and were stopped by Mr. H. A. Parrish, who recognized them as Scouts by their uniforms. He invited them to his watermelon patch to help themselves. After eating their nosebag lunches the girls filled up on watermelon for dessert. They express their thanks to Mr. Parrish for his generosity; it added a great deal of pleasure to their trip.

DANIEL TOBIN, president of the Teamsters union (AFL), gave voice the other day to an idea which labor leaders supposedly have been coveting for some time. What Tobin said was this:

Third Party
The American labor movement conceivably may become the basis for a third political party in the United States. Then he qualified himself by adding that labor factions must first undergo unification. On the surface, a unified labor party, 37 million strong, would be a great political force. Actually, of course, labor is just such a power now, operating as a pressure group just as do real estate interests, retail interests, industries, manufacturers. But is it ever more? Would it be possible for labor to enter the political lists, heated and spurred and outspkenly bannered as the Labor party? It is extremely doubtful. Theorists in political science would say virtually impossible. They would say that the strongest part of America's democratic backbone is its two-party system, based on two sets of general principles. There simply aren't enough principles to go around for three parties. It would be a logical to ask whether the National Association of Manufacturers will ever become a third party. No single vested interest could ever appeal to enough voters at one time to set up shop as a political rival—at least today.

Reds After American Railroads, - Johnston

C. E. Johnston, of Chicago, chairman of the Western Association of Railway Executives, charged today that certain Left Wingers high in government service are "conspiring to seize the railroads and through dictatorial control of railroad service and rates, dominate the economy of the whole country."

Speaking before the Railway Association convention in Hot Springs Ark., Mr. Johnston asserted that while the plot had the earmarks of having been hatched in Moscow "I think it was concocted in the brains of a relatively small group of professional schemers who aspire to plan and regulate your way of life and mine."

Mr. Johnston said that "the attitude of these schemers towards the railroad industry make it very clear that they are resolved to destroy it by fair means or foul."

"The railroads have been the target of an unprecedented avalanche of vicious, lying propaganda, much of which is emanating from government sources or from sources which are obviously inspired by the government or beholden to it."

Physical Handicap Week Stressed

Reports from the State Employment Commission claim much activity in the campaign to procure jobs for physically handicapped persons for which the week beginning Oct. 5th has been proclaimed.

There are now near 8,000 handicapped persons without jobs in the State and it is estimated 90 become handicapped every month through various injuries, by industrial and domestic accidents. The Commission is placing some 500 per month.

The purpose of this drive is to reduce this backlog so the Commission can then place them as fast as they occur. The plan is to place them in jobs where they can serve efficiently.

Grain Crop Depend On Weather

Grady Goodpasture, grain and elevator man stated last week that while the grain crop was coming in at a slow rate, the crop will be two or three times what it was expected to be a few weeks ago.

He also stated that if frost would stay off until the 20th, we will make much more grain than last year, although a smaller acreage.

And the thing that interests all of us is that the price is just about double a year ago, he added.

Irrigation And Oil Wells Visited

The Old He, wife and her sister, Mrs. Sallie Limer of Long Beach, Calif., who is here visiting, drove out down in south Terry Sunday afternoon, just to see how the folks were coming along and what's going on—other than the rent. Headed down the Seagraves highway to Lahey, thence due south to the Mack Chambers farm. Saw some good, fair and indifferent crops. Always the clean ones were the good and fair. That old time saying that one can work an entire county out here has petered out. It just can't be done anymore.

And unless the land owner wants his land poisoned up with all kinds of weeds, Johnson grass and what have you, they had better quit requiring the renter to work all outdoors and the surrounding patches, and limit them to an acreage they can work and keep clean. So, you want to know what we know about farming? Well, we farmed a goodly portion of our boyhood and young manhood and we farmed like people thought was the correct style in those days—keep the land clean of grass and weeds.

But if we had never gone down a row behind old Beck, or welded a gooseneck hoe among crabgrass, cockleburrs and hurrah grass, we might be blind in one eye and half-sighted in the other, then be able to tell a good crop—a clean one, from a poor stand with weeds twice as high as the crops, and a long sight better stand. And that always will stand out like a sore thumb in driving around the country. Here is a good clean crop on this side of the lane, and a very poor one with tall weeds on the other side. The land is identical.

Finally arrived at the Edwards-Scales irrigation center, and this being their first year's experience with irrigation, they learned some things the hard way. One of them is that sandy soil takes up too much water in getting it to the crops. So, they are preparing to install the sprinkler system next year. Right now they are doing considerable work in getting some of the harder lands seeded to alfalfa, and some of the popular pasture grasses. They surely have this land in fine condition and have some of the land seeded and irrigated. Despite their poor luck with irrigation, they have some fine crops on the place.

Took one of the new farm to market roads near the Edwards-Scales place, and struck out for the oil fields, known as the Adair pool, and we found it busy even though Sunday. And it was like the description in these columns last week, following an interview with C. W. Collins. They were busy down there, pumps going in every direction, as well as new rigs up and drilling in every direction. It even has the odor of an oil field, even though the baby pool of this area, having been discovered in April this year.

And speaking of odors, maybe our olfactory nerves are not as sensitive as some, but it has never been hard for us to sniff the odor of crude oil. We know there are dollars in every whiff. The Caliche county part of the field has caliche laid most of the way to Ashmore, where the road intersects the Seagraves-Welch highway. As soon as the base is finished, we understand it will be hot topped. Local contractors are building caliche roads to all the wells, as the oil must be trucked out until they are connected to some pipelines. It is rather sandy in that section, making solid roads imperative.

Drove from Ashmore to Welch, where we took the Lamesa-Brownfield highway in home.

Mrs. Estelle Brown, who has been in the Scott-White clinic in Temple the past two weeks undergoing minor surgery, plans to return home this week. Her daughter, Juanita, who went with her returned home last week.

Price Control Not The Answer

A return to nation-wide government price control is not the solution to the nation's current economic pains, in the opinion of Tyrus R. Timm, economist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. There is no quick solution, says Timm, that may be counted on in terms of days, weeks or maybe even months. It may be a matter of years.

The economist believes that the country, as an alternative, can go through the current transitional period and secure a more sound economic footing only by shrewd and frugal family use of household and business resources, and the close cooperation of the public with the government on programs which present laws permit.

Timm, during a part of the war period, was on leave from the college to serve as agricultural relations advisor to Chester Bowles, then national administrator of the Office of Price Administration.

"You can't close down price control regulation as you would a theater and then re-open with the same show," says Timm, explaining that price-cost relationships change swiftly and that the widely-talked price control return would call for long months of writing thousands of new regulations and making numerous new cost studies. That phase of a new price control bill would, alone, be a time-consuming and costly headache, says Timm, that looms as a big point against price control revival.

Another Country Boy
Makes Good

One could not very well be surprised if the son of a moderately wealthy parents, who had every chance to succeed, happened to make good. But too often the youth born with the famed silver spoon in his mouth, takes the way of least resistance, figuring that pa and ma will look after his well being anyway. It is the ones that battle for a place in the sun we admire.

The subject of this sketch, Herman Chesshir, was born of average farm people, neither rich nor poor. What we generally term good livers. While Herman was born and partly grew up at Nashville, Ark., where the parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Chesshir were friends of the N. W. and S. W. Jones families, the parents moved to Idabel, Okla., when that was a new and rather rough country, perhaps just as it turned to statehood from the Indian territory. But they heard of the coming possibilities of the great South Plains and moved to Meadow in 1920.

As soon as he was thought old enough to work at a gin, Herman was given a job by the late Mr. Hanley, pioneer gin man of Meadow, later sold to West Texas. Although barely grown at the time, the West Texas company needed a manager at Lamesa and sent Herman a bit over his own protests. They later sent him to Childress. Herman came here in 1935 to take the place of the late Oscar Jones.

Herman very successfully managed this gin for 10 years, purchasing the plant in 1945. The year before, he purchased the Forrester Gin.

Part of Herman's success can be laid to hard work. None to just luck. Herman has a way of pleasing his customers and make them feel they are being treated just like he would if circumstances were reversed. In other words he has always followed the old precept: "do unto others as you would have them do unto you." He is quick to learn names and faces, a talent that is just as good in business as in politics.

Tax Assessor-Collector Herbert Chesshir stated this week, that since the first they have had a real rush of people paying their state and county taxes, as they get 3 per cent off this month. Herbert is ably assisted by Mrs. Daniel Davis and Miss Ruth Hogue.

While we were chewing the fat with Herbert, a lady came in to pay some taxes on property, and found that she got no exemption on her homestead, as she was unmarried. Now this is a state law and Herbert has to comply with it, but like many others, he feels that it is a bit of discrimination against unmarried folks.

By the way Miss Ruth Hogue will not be "Miss" very much longer as that girl is flashing a diamond engagement ring. But more about that later.

Pneumonia, Still A Big Killer

According to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, pneumonia caused approximately 2,460 deaths during the past year in Texas, a total which is entirely too high. This disease is most prevalent during the winter and spring seasons.

Pneumonia is caused by a germ called the pneumococcus, which many of us have lurking in our throats ready to start trouble, when our resistance to it is lowered. We can keep up our resistance by avoiding undue fatigue and unnecessary exposure to extreme weather conditions. When we go outside in cold weather sufficient wraps should be worn to protect us. Keeping the temperature of our homes as low as is consistent with comforts will greatly lessen the difficulties encountered in adjusting ourselves to the cold when we leave the house.

Another method of prevention in pneumonia is not to neglect a cold, for the common cold often results in pneumonia when neglected. A person with a severe cold should stay at home, and call his physician for advice if temperature persists or the cold lingers on. He should follow his physician's advice until the cold has disappeared. A patient may really have beginning pneumonia when he thinks it is only a cold. If the physician's advice is sought, he will have an opportunity to start treatment early if pneumonia is present, or develops in such cases.

Coaches Harold Crites and Tobey Greer addressed the meeting.

Mrs. Luther Thornton was in one day this week and made herself known to the Herald folks. She is a daughter of the late Rev. Bachman originator of the Seagraves News, started soon after the railroad reached that town in 1918.

Mrs. S. E. Anderson of Union is a patient in the local hospital. Blood poisoning set in her leg and it had to be amputated Monday.

Explaining that Federal statutes prohibit payment of Government funds to persons indebted to the United States, VA said instructions will be issued to state unemployment agencies for the recovery of such payments from readjustment allowance claimants.

These agencies administer the program in their respective states and make the actual payments to unemployed and self-employed veterans, although VA foots the

Softer Miles and Safer Miles

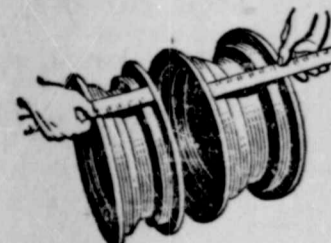

..Thanks to Buick's Safety-Ride rims

YOU sense it right from the first in the way your Buick handles.

You feel it not only in the cloud-soft ride of this big beauty, but in the way it seems to lean into the curves, the way it holds its "track," answers unfailingly to your touch on the wheel.

The reason? Simply that even before the war, Buick found a way to get greater softness and greater safety from standard-size tires that are available anywhere.

Put a Buick wheel beside a wheel from other cars, and you see at once that Buick rims are wider.

In fact, they are an inch to an inch and a half wider - from 20% to 33%.

By this simple step, standard-size tires of any make are given greater air capacity. This permits lower air pressure and the softer ride that naturally comes from traveling on 25 pounds instead of 30.

In addition, widening the base of the tires gives bracing against side-thrust, as your legs brace you when you stand with feet apart. This checks sideway and the tendency of a tire to "roll under" on sharp or fast turns.

Furthermore, the tread is flattened. More rubber is put on the road. More rubber means more traction - more braking power - more resistance to skidding - far, far better car control.

And you have only to compare the handling of a Buick with any other car to see the result. . . .

You travel with a soft, level buoyancy that is Buick's own.

You seem to feel your car leaning into the curves, like a race horse coming into the stretch, instead of swaying outward.

You come out of fast emergency swerves straight and true, with no wheel fight to keep your car on course.

You start, stop, accelerate and turn with a sure-footedness that keeps driving tension away, lets you enjoy Buick's soft comfort to the full.

And all this has been true of every Buick built since before the war, with no change in factory-installed tires.

Check up and see. For a softer ride that is also a safer and surer one - get your order in now for a Buick. We'll take it whether or not you have a car to trade.

ONLY BUICK HAS SAFETY-RIDE RIMS

Avoid this: On fast turns, tires on ordinary rims "roll under" like this, sometimes almost riding the sidewalls. Buick's wider Safety-Ride rims check this.

GET THIS: There's more rubber on the road with Safety-Ride rims. Result: More traction, better braking, better car control, more skid prevention.

indebtedness are considered in good standing and are in no way affected by the new system, since it will be used only in cases where "there is no apparent means of recovery from sources other than readjustment allowances," VA said.

G. I. Question And Answer Department

Q. Do I have to repay subsistence allowance overpayments before I can go back to school under the G I Bill?

A. No. You merely have to make satisfactory arrangements to repay all overpayments before you will be permitted to reenter school under Public Law 346 (G I Bill). It is VA's policy not to force any undue hardship on a veteran in the collection of these funds.

Q. Is VA going to help veterans like myself whose hearing was impaired while in service.

A. Yes, by a special program of medical rehabilitation to help you overcome hearing handicaps. The program includes a series of hearing and speech tests, the selection and fitting of a hearing aid if indicated, auditory training, lip reading instruction and speech correction if necessary.

Q. My son has renounced disability payments and I would like to know if he or his wife will lose their rights to other benefits provided by law?

A. No. Neither your son nor his dependents will lose any of their rights to other benefits provided for them by law.

Q. My grades at school have been low and I would like to State Aid has already been paid on 469 scholastics for last year to the amount of $6.00 per capita.

The schools will get $55.00 per capita on 481 scholastics for this year in addition to the $6.00 per capita on 469 scholastics for last year. This amount to be paid in this year.

Has Right To Air Grievances

Had a letter recently from one of our good subscribers, Edwin E. Hamm out at San Diego, Calif., and he made complaint that he did not like for his Herald to chase all round over the city before he got a whack at it. Reason: Edwin recently renewed, and some one did a poor job of writing his name. Wasn't us as the Old He does a tall job on penmanship.

Anyway they got it Edwin E. Mann instead of Edwin E. Hamm. They got the street address and city OK, or perhaps Edwin's paper would still be strolling around the southern port city of California, looking for a reader. We'll try and get it correct this week Edwin.

We don't blame Edwin a bit for registering a protest, for a Mann can be a ham actor, but a good ham is never a man. They grow on the porcine family. But we may have drifted off the subject, thinking about those old country hams back in Tennessee.

SNAP!

SOYBEANS SORGHUM GRASSES LEGUMES

The secret of fall harvesting is to adjust the cylinder speed instantly for varying moisture conditions that change from hour to hour. The All-Crop Harvester's Quick Speed-Changer makes it as easy as tuning your radio.

Tough conditions require higher speeds to thresh the grain or seeds from heads or pods. Dry, brittle conditions require slower speeds to avoid damage to kernels.

The All-Crop Harvester's famous full-width, rubber-faced, spiral-bar cylinder processes the crop gently and thoroughly in a wide, thin stream . . . at the proper speed to save it all.

U of T Reaches Peak Enrollment

Enrollment in the University of Texas this fall totals 17,343, - the highest figure in its 65 year old history. For the same period in 1946 the enrollment was 17, 108.

Veterans number 10,577 as compared with 10,839 last fall. There are 400 less freshmen than were enrolled last year.

More stringent entrance requirements for out-of-state students, the growth of the junior college movement, and housing shortage were listed as contributing factors to decrease in freshman enrollment by Byron Shipp, registration statistician. Shipp believes post-war registration of veterans may have reached its peak.

Rev. and Mrs. J. Preston Murphy and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ferguson and children attended a dinner and installation service at the Lamesa Presbyterian church Sunday evening.

Many Entrants Filed For County Fair

Wellman has filed entrance for a community exhibit at the coming County Fair, several other communities are expected to do so before Saturday, October 11th dead line.

The vocational agricultural of Meadow and Brownfield will exhibit an educational booth. The 4-H boys club will exhibit hogs. The G I vocational schools headed by Supervisor Lindsey, will also have a booth that promises much interest. The Girl Scouts are also planning for a booth.

A large number of individuals are entering various exhibits, mostly among livestock. These should be registered by October 18.

All of the various efforts required to make this fair a success are moving along nicely.

Already Have Anti Soliciting Committee

J. V. Burnett, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, corrects us on our editorial last week about solicitors of funds among the people. He states the chamber has a committee already who investigates such solicitors, when known and it is finds the cause is worthy or the solicitor is genuine, they issue him a permit. When they do it means only that the party is authorized to solicit and does not mean a moral endorsement of the purpose, nor a request that one donate.

All donors should request the solicitor to show his credentials and all solicitors should first procure this permit.

A telephone company's "voice" changes in somewhat the same way as that of a teen-age boy. But unlike the teenager, our voice is constantly changing. With the installation of new telephones, our voice becomes richer, fuller, and covers a wider range. Through our expansion program, we hope that before long our voice will make its greatest change—the satisfying sound of telephone service for everyone who wants it.
