

Greetings and Best Wishes for a Happy New Year

Business And Financial Outlook For 1948

1948 in a nutshell
BUSINESS: Watch out after November 2, 1948.
COMMODITIES: Wholesale price peak in sight.
TAXES: Personal income taxes will be somewhat lower.
LABOR: Wage workers to use Taft-Hartley Bill as check on labor leaders.
REAL ESTATE: Increased suburban building.
POLITICS: Election year propaganda.
STOCKS: A year for switching.
BONDS: Low-coupon rate, long-term bonds will be lower.

LOWER TAXES
 13. The Federal debt will be increased during 1948.
 14. No personal taxes will be increased during 1948 and there will be some reductions,—perhaps 5 to 10 per cent in the upper brackets and the entire elimination of those in the lowest bracket.
 15. We forecast that the new tax bill will enable a man to share his income tax equally with his wife without sharing his income or property.
 16. The 25 per cent tax limit on long-term gains will remain unchanged.

RETAIL SALES
 17. Goods on counters will be of better grade in 1948, even if retail prices hold up.
 18. There will be many "mark-down" sales, of goods of inferior quality and curbs on installment buying may return.
 19. The dollar value of all retail sales in 1948 should at least equal 1947.
 20. The unit value of retail sales will be less in 1948 than in 1947; there will be fewer customer purchases in most stores, although each customer may visit more stores to "shop around."

FOREIGN TRADE
 21. Our foreign trade will be less in 1948 than in 1947. We shall help Europe; but it will be on a more economical and efficient scale.
 22. More foreign loans will be made during 1948; but many of these will be direct to business concerns rather than to political governments.
 23. There will be considerable competition from other countries in legitimate foreign trade where the credit is good. Other countries will not compete with us in our "charities"; but they will certainly will compete for all profitable business.

WAR PREPARATIONS WILL ACCELERATE
 24. Throughout 1948 war talk and uprisings will continue; but no World War III will start in 1948.
 25. 1948 will see an average hourly wage rise of 5 to 7 per cent. Lower income taxes should increase buying power, but this will be about offset by further rises in the cost of living.
 26. There need be no more unemployment in 1948 than in 1947; but "Unemployment Insurance" will be taken advantage of by too many unprincipled people.
 27. Wage workers will gradually see that the Taft-Hartley Bill puts a checkrein only on their labor leaders, but not on Union membership. Hence, the bitter hatred against this Bill will gradually subside. The Bill is merely an "SEC" for labor leaders who need it today as much as investment bankers needed the SEC which was started ten years ago.
 28. Any labor legislation during 1948 will be to amend the Taft-Hartley Bill and to raise minimum wages.

LABOR OUTLOOK
 29. The Inflation Era which we have forecast for several years will remain at this stage until November 2, 1948. There will be no reckless printing of currency or government borrowing in 1948.
 30. 1948 will see a public reaction against "feather-bedding", "workless" jobs, and union rules which result in slow-ups. More labor-saving machinery will be installed. The public is gradually realizing that inflation can be beaten only by increased production.
 31. Sometime during 1948 production in many lines will have caught up with consumption which will prevent further price increases in such lines.
 32. There will be many inflation and price investigations during 1948. Both the Democrats and Republicans will try to lay the blame for high prices on the other party.
 33. We believe that 1948 will be a year of switching, for various reasons. One of these will be an attempt to get out of stocks of companies which have most of their assets in big "vulnerable-increase-of-war" cities into companies whose assets are well distributed and safe from attack.

Young Woman Killed In Accident

Mrs. Emma Jean Todd, 21, of Lubbock, was killed instantly about 11:30 Christmas night when the light coupe in which she and her husband were riding overturned after a collision with another car six miles north of Seagraves.  The Todds, who lived at Mrs. Vinson's apartments for awhile last summer had attended a show in Brownfield and were returning to Seagraves where they had left their 6 months old baby with his parents.

The other vehicle was a light passenger car owned by J. E. Skinner who live at the Weldon apartments. Mrs. Skinner was driving and coming north when the accident occurred. The Skinners were accompanied by their three year old daughter, Bobbie Rae and his brother, V. L. Skinner. All escaped with minor injuries and bruises.

City Warns About Running Over Fire Hose

During the effort of the Fire Department in quenching the fire at the Weir Gin last Monday, several persons drove their cars over fire hose laid down for use. A few have been charged and paid fines.

The mayor called attention to the fact that a break might cause a serious delay in fighting the fire, with a much greater loss; a large cost in replacing the hose and interference with the work of the fireman. The public is urged to clear the way for fire trucks and firemen on their way.

CANDIDATE ANNOUNCEMENT APPEAR ON PAGE 12

Departing from a long standing policy, the Herald will no longer carry formal announcements of candidates for political office on the front page. Two apparent exceptions to this rule appear on the front page of this issue, but the reader will note that these are actually stories of sufficient news value to warrant their appearance in the positions they occupy.

The formal announcements of these two candidates will appear in future issues of the Herald and will occupy positions other than the front page. Political announcements of candidates appearing this week will be found on page 12.

SHERIFF SEIZES TWO CARS WITH LIQUOR

The Sheriff's force have seized two automobiles with too much liquor and too late for Christmas. One was a Lubbock negro and wife with 14 cases of beer and three of liquor Tuesday night. Deputy George seized another at Meadow Wednesday morning containing 14 cases of beer. The driver of the latter had abandoned the vehicle and fled. Both cars and liquors are in custody.

While the nicely dressed woman appears to be Negro, observers stated the husband looked mighty like a white man. Charges for transportation, and seizure of the cars were filed.

In honor of the work done in Brownfield to bring tuberculosis under control, Mayor Frank Jordan today designated Saturday, January 3, 1948 as Double-Barred Cross Day.

Small replicas of the red Double-Barred Cross, international emblem of the campaign against tuberculosis, will be sold on the streets Saturday by the Sub-Deb Club volunteers.

Proceeds from the sale of Double-Barred Crosses will be added to funds from the Christmas Seal Sale. The Funds finance the tuberculosis control activities of the Terry County Tuberculosis Association.

"Without the control of the association and the cooperation of the community, tuberculosis would be an even greater public health problem," Mayor Jordan said. "Tuberculosis is a communicable disease, spread from the sick to the well, and causing great suffering and economic waste. Yet, if control measures were universally applied tuberculosis, which kills 53,000 Americans a year, could be eradicated."

"This excellent program must be continued and broadened if we are to wipe out tuberculosis," the Mayor continued. "The Tuberculosis association gives trained leadership we need to carry on the campaign, but for strength and support the association must depend on the people of the community it is working to protect."

Destructive Gin Fire Here Monday

Quick response to the fire siren by local firemen, probably averted a very disastrous fire here Monday morning at the Frank Weir Gin, in the northwest section of the city. As it was, the loss of the cotton warehouse and cotton will, it is believed, run near $20,000. Heroic work of the fireman saved the gin house and seed storage house.

Due to the fact that burning cotton is hard to control at best the area had to be watched for hours. Some 40 bales of cotton were burned.

Neesmith Relief Agent For Santa Fe

Mr. Neesmith was down the first of the week from the Santa Fe station, and stated that for the time being he was pinch hitting here for Bob Harris, who was taking off a week or so during the holidays.

By the way, it cannot be too long until Bob takes off for good under the retirement plan, as he has been on the job here many years, and had some time with railroads before coming to Brownfield.

But we hope and expect Bob, wife and daughter to still call this their home, as they really have their own nice residence established here.

Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Carter had as their guests for the holidays their son and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. Otis Carter, of Glendale, Calif. and Mr. Carter's sister and her family, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Henslee and Zoann, of Anson. Dr. and Mrs. Carter left Monday to return home.

Coke Stevenson Sails Hat Into Senatorial Ring

AUSTIN, Jan. 1—Ex-Governor Coke Stevenson of Junction observed New Year's Day by announcing to the people of Texas that he expects to be a candidate for United States Senator in next summer's Democratic primaries.

Stevenson followed his usual campaign custom of not presenting a specific platform.
 "I do not believe the average political platform is worth much of anything," he explained in his Thursday address, delivered in Austin. "My candidacy is based on certain fundamental principles of sound government. It is based on my record as your public servant in the past."

The former Governor declared that if he is sent to Washington he will continue to follow the pattern set by him in his service as Governor, Lieutenant Governor and Speaker of the Texas House. "As your United States Senator I shall hope not only to be for the right things," he said, "but to be able to do something constructive about getting the right things done."

He hit hard at Federal extravagance and pointed to the record of Texas during his administration as Governor when a General Fund deficit of more than 30 million dollars was transformed into a cash balance of more than 35 million dollars. "I say that if the State government of Texas can do that, the Federal Government can do the same," he commented.

Government bureaucracy and Federal infringement upon the rights of the States came in for strong criticism by Stevenson. He recalled that 10 years ago, when he was a member of the Texas Legislature, he went to Washington to testify against a proposal that the Federal Government take over title to tidal lands owned by the States. He added, "That proposal was defeated."

The Junction man put himself on record as a vigorous and unrelenting foe of Communism. On European aid, he labeled himself no isolationist, but urged that Americans not be shortsighted in extending aid to Europe.

"The greatest service the United States can render the world today is to survive and prosper as a nation governed by the democratic ideal," he said. "Let's not give the fruits of our labor to the underserving. Let's not give them our crops. Let us give them instead a hoe and a plow so they can produce their own crops."

Stevenson ended his talk with a solemnly uttered New Year's resolution: "If you the men and women of the sovereign State of Texas choose to send me to the United States Senate, I resolve here and now to serve your interests and the interests of constitutional government to the very best of my ability and in accordance with the principles of American democracy, so help me God."

Family Reunion At Lence Price Farm

Instead of the usual Christmas dinner out at the Lence Price farm, it was decided to wait the gathering of two absent children, and have the affair Sunday, the 28th. The two daughters, Mrs. Otis McCrutchin, of Redondo Beach, Calif., and Mrs. Ted Cole of Beaumont, Texas had arrived by that time, and the feast of good things were ready.

All the Price family was invited, and all were able to attend except Mrs. Lillie May Whitley, nurse at the local hospital, who could not get off. Fifty people were present for the noon meal and 25 at supper. They still call it dinner and supper instead of lunch and dinner out at the Price farm.

What did they have to eat? You asked for it. Turkey, chickens, ham and all the trimmings. They always have the eats out at the old Howard-Price farm; we've tried it a lot of times.

Wellman Whisperings

Wellman schools will be out until Dec. 29, which gives the teachers and pupils opportunity to visit old homes and friends. Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Welcher have returned from California to make their home at Wellman. Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Little, Billy Jack and Gene visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Garrison in Carrizozo, N. M. during the Christmas holidays. Mrs. Ruth Pace was a guest of the Dewey Paces and Bob Burdette over the week end. The N. G. Phillips had visitors during the holidays which they

High Evaporation From Sprinklers

Tests show that when irrigation water is thrown into the air by means of a sprinkler system, evaporation will cause a loss of water varying from almost none to as high as 40 per cent, according to Dr. W. A. Young, head of the plant industry department at Texas Technological College. Water loss is dependent on temperature, humidity, wind velocity and size of drops sprayed. Greatest loss will occur on a hot afternoon when the humidity is low and when the wind velocity is often higher. Additional loss may be experienced when watering crops with leaves of a texture to hold appreciable amounts of water. Tests in other sections of the country have proved sprinkler irrigation systems profitable where soils are too sandy or too rolling for surface irrigation, he stated. Wherever surface irrigation is possible, however, it has been found more practical from the standpoint of preventing evaporation losses than any other method. Whatever irrigation method is used, Dr. Young urged farmers to conserve moisture by soaking the soil thoroughly at one time rather than to give more frequent shallow irrigation. One acre-inch of moisture normally does not penetrate deeper than a foot, while three acre-inches will soak to a depth of two to three feet. Water evaporates from saturated top soil at about the same rate a sit does from a free water surface, such as a lake. On the other hand, water six inches below the surface is lost only one-third as fast as on top, and water two feet below the surface is lost only one-tenth as rapidly, he stated.

Seminole-Seagraves To Have Club

The formal opening of the Brownfield Country Club here Sunday, reminded us that Seminole and Seagraves, leading Gaines county towns, have consolidated their efforts toward just such a club and which was announced positively assured last week. All the stock of 150 shares have either been taken or pledged, and the club will be located near the half way mark between Seagraves and Seminole. Neither city felt that it alone could successfully underwrite a country club, but jointly, they easily handled the matter. We feel they will get a great pleasure out of the recreation center such as Brownfield golfers, skeet shooters and bathing parties are already enjoying.

Plumbers Must Secure State License

Texas plumbers who do not secure state license before January 5, 1948, will be violating the new Texas License Law. The will not only be subject to the penalties of the Act, but will also be required to take an examination, C. E. Belk, Administrator of the Texas Plumbing Board warned here today. The law, as passed by the last legislature, provides for no extension beyond this date nor does it provide for any exceptions. He said applications postmarked on or before January 5, will make it unnecessary for qualified plumbers to take an examination, but after that date all new license would require an examination. State License now being issued are valid until February 1, 1949, and may be renewed without examination Belk said. A majority of Texas cities have already amended their plumbing ordinances to conform to the State Law, he continued, and it is expected that all corporate cities affected will complete conformance procedure by not later than January 5. Had a letter this week from Pat Brothers, erstwhile prominent groceryman of this city, but now of Glendale, Calif. Says he and lady are doing nicely, and wishes the Herald a Merry Christmas. He emphasized this with three bucks for another year of the Herald. Wheat is a good export food because it is easily shipped and stored and has a high calorie value in relation to its cost.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

Day by day it is a new "program"—a Govt. program to fix everything up sweet and hunky-dory. Take as a sample, "subsidies"—subsidies are cash and shiny dinero taken from you and me via the income tax deduction gent. It is then dished out to encourage less raising of corn or more raising of corn, as the spirit moves the youngsters over in the agriculture dept. on the winding Potomac. And if by chance the "program" works, your corn-cakes, or corn-bread, or corn-pone costs you the boosted price plus your income tax ante. Comin' or goin' you are it. And subsidies are just one of 1000 such grand dishes cooked up by the one million surplus brainy Boys and Girls still clinging to Sambo's pay-roll. Our vitals are being gnawed at—it is no ho-hum matter. But, in his time, Gulliver was a big guy, like Uncle Samuel is now, and Mr. Gulliver was put in his place by the little people. So folks, for a new and novel New Year's resolution, what do you say—shall we? Yours with the low down, JO SERRA.

INSPECTORS CAPTURE FOUR ILLICIT STILLS

Texas Liquor Control Board Inspectors in November reported the seizure of four illicit stills. Destruction of the stills, which had a cubic capacity of 220 gallons, prevented the potential evasion of $4,692.48 in State taxes. With the stills, inspectors captured 390 gallons of mash and made four arrests. Eighty-one gallons of moonshine liquor were destroyed. Two stills were taken in Titus county and two were taken in Bowie county. Mrs. Jesse G. Randal is spending the holidays with her daughter and children, Mrs. Percy Spencer at Lubbock. Romie C. Stewart, vice-president of a large Fire and Casualty Insurance company and wife of Fort Worth, spent last week end here with his mother, Mrs. Tennie Stewart.

A. No.

Q. Is the stepchild of a veteran entitled to the same benefits as a natural child?

A. Yes, if the stepchild is or was a member of the veteran's household.

Q. If I have entitlement time left after I finish my job-training course, may I enroll in another job-training course or go to school for the remainder of my entitlement?

J. W. Parrish, president of the FFA, was master of ceremonies. To start the program with four first year boys gave "The Night Before Christmas." These boys were Walter Nelson, Alan Orr, Mike McCord and Jerry King. A Christmas story was given by Allie Belle Alexander. This story was enjoyed by all. Next came a gift wrapping contest, with three couples entered. They were Mrs. Moorhead and Alton Martain, Nelson Briganee and Barbara Miller, Wanda Stafford and Bill Bond. The couple held one hand behind their back and had only one hand each to wrap and tie the package. This was very difficult to do, but after so long a time they all finished. The packages were judged on how fast they were wrapped and how neat. The judges finally decided that Mrs. Moorhead and Alton Martain had the best package, therefore they won the contest. Christmas carols, "Silent Night," "Joy to the World" and "Jingle Bells" were sung by the entire group.

The highlight of the party came when Bill Bond, FFA treasurer, presented Wanda Stafford, the FFA Sweetheart, with an engraved compact. This was a Christmas gift from the entire FFA Chapter. After this everyone drew names

DID YOU GET LOUD SOX AND TIES?

Following every Christmas, either in a joke book or via the radio comedians, we hear a lot of nasty cracks about ties, scarfs or sox that are very, very loud. And some of the victims even try to slip the same article back on the donor the following Christmas.

Even in real life this trouble often pops up in less degrees than that overstressed by comedians. We know of some that refuse to wear gifts in strange company. Take our own case. Two of our darling little friends down at

SENDS IN HER TWENTY-ELEVENTH RENEWAL

We'd hate to guess just how many times Mrs. Lee Roy McCravery and her late husband have renewed for the Herald to go to their ranch near Plains. It might embarrass the lady, but wouldn't it?

Anyway, along with the remittance, recently, Mrs. McCravery was kind enough to state that she still enjoyed every issue. Happy New Year, old friend.

and received a gift from the person whose name they drew. Everyone opened their presents, varying from a box of candy to a bottle and nipple. After the gifts were opened, a sack of nuts, candy, and an apple were given to everyone.

The party ended with everyone full of Christmas cheer.

Herald To Alaska VIA Air Mail Weekly

Postmaster Jeems Hurley Dallas and the Old He got the two enlarged places on our shoulders, sometimes referred to as the head, together after Miss Hazel Goldston wrote in all the way up to Alaska, and came up with the idea that it would cost in the neighborhood of $7.00 to send the Herald to her at Gulkana, Alaska, six months.

A letter from her upon our return had the agreed spontulix and she stated that it was rather high, but she wanted to get the old home town paper, and quick. Aside from that, she stated that she could send it on over to her married sister at Anchorage after she had finished reading, thus killing a couple of Alaskan snowbirds with the 7 bucks.

He hope Hazel, Violet and Jeff get a kick out of each issue.

Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Snedeker and family spent the holidays in Oklahoma City with her parents Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Elder.

Kermit sent us the prettiest tie you ever laid eyes on. Here at home, we aim to wear it, but feared dire consequences to wear it recently on our trip.

Fact is folks, on the tie was the head of a blooded horse with distended nostrils. Now in central Texas, they are strictly "agin' 'hoss racin'" and we left the tie at home.

Down there they might think the Old He was a bettin' man, and the law might be right on our heels. But the Ma and Pa of these little girls are hereby forbidden to tell our little friends about the tie incident.

Well, before you laugh, how did you come out?

Mr. and Mrs. Everett LaGham and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Smith were among those attending the Sun Bowl game in El Paso New Years Day.

You wouldn't be thinking of painting the town red, now, would you? Anyway, there's reason aplenty for feeling happy and carefree and confident as the New Year of 1948 approaches. May this New Year bring happiness to you and yours.

First Christmas Away From Home In Years

We believe it was around 1924 or 1925 that the Herald family spent the Christmas holidays down in Johnson county and Fort Worth with the Old He's brothers. Since that time we have spent them at home, and our daughter and son-in-law have always tried to be on hand, no matter where they lived. And of course the rest of the family lives here.

But as time rolls around, we found that the junior member of the firm has accumulated quite a little family of his own, and Master Robert A. was a bit too young to make a long trip. So they had their little affair at home. We had always deprived Herman Trigg of a Christmas with his mother. Besides, he had several orchestra engagements during the holidays. And it had been a long, long time since we attended a Christmas tree out in the country. This one happened Christmas Eve night at the home of one of Herman's aunts. This was strictly a family affair among the Brown family, early settlers in the May community of Brown county.

Even at that the Old He was not neglected, or the wife. We even got sox and hanky out there, and had a great time. One of Herman's mother's sister married a fisherman, the other a hunter, and while neither is given to boasting, they had quite some nice stories to tell us. By the way, deer is getting pretty plentiful in their section of Brown county, and they had trouble keeping the boogers out of their peanuts this fall. The Stricklins and Triggs had another tree at the apartment Christmas morning with more presents. And there was roast turkey, boiled ham and all the trimmings to eat. Who wouldn't have had a nice time?

Friday morning the Old He and wife rolled out for Fort Worth, where we had two or three hours with our brother, Tom and family there in Polytechnic. They were all in fine fettle, and had enjoyed a fine Christmas, but were rather scattered by Friday, hunting, etc. As we had pledged ourselves not to drive after dark, we had to leave fairly early for the 40 mile drive down in the Antioch community in old Johnson county, which for some six years was our home. All had a fine Christmas down there too, with a bit of the leavings on the turkey, as well as other good things to eat including some real old fashioned east Texas ribbon cane syrup with hot biscuits.

Their crop was rather light, which now consists principally of pecans. They are now spraying and hope to be back in production in a few years. They have the trees for at least 20,000 pounds, if they can get rid of the insects that work on the blooms and young pecans.

The eldest son lives in Paris, and did not get to see he and wife. The youngest son, Alton and wife and two children came down from Cleburne, and was with us most of the time. Alton is doing quite well, as he has an orchestra and also a hillbilly fiddling band. The later is making records. So, you can see he is not just exactly doing nothing for nothing.

Just Meeks and daughter, Violet at the old home. Both greeted us warmly. Back to Brownwood Saturday via Cleburne, Glenrose, Stephenville and Comanche. And home Sunday, stopping at Abilene to have noontime dinner, and a good one with the Dittos family.

Came near seeing one wreck. At crossing of the Baird-Coleman and Abilene-Cross Plains roads, way out on top a high ridge with good vision for a mile or more either direction. Evidently a car on each had raced for the crossing. One had a blowout, as the inner tube was scattered hither and yon. Changing tires, the other car was being looked over. We did not tarry to inquire, as it was none of our business, and no one seemed to be hurt.

Then on our return from John-

Better Tomatoes Coming Up

Tomatoes are the state's leading vegetable crop—Texas has a larger acreage and a greater production of the vegetable than any other state.

Plant pathologists and horticulturists of Texas A and M College, recognizing the importance of the crop, recently outlined a tomato improvement program. The group of 19 plant scientists, called together by Director R. D. Lewis of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, will coordinate their work to develop varieties with greater disease resistance and to improve market quality.

Specific future objectives of the committee are the development of better spring and fall tomatoes, the development of tomato varieties that will set and bear fruit during the summer, and the development of better canning tomatoes.

The conference also authorized further work on a new summer tomato variety, to be known as "Summer Prolific," which shows a great deal of promise. The variety was developed at the Stephenville station.

Additional meetings of the committee will be held in two of the state's leading tomato growing centers just before the crop starts moving—in the Lower Rio Grande Valley in March and at Jacksonville in May.

Visitor Injured In Traffic Mishap

Mrs. D. D. Charistner of Fort Worth was knocked unconscious and received head injuries when the automobile in which she was riding was in collision with another car at the intersection of Tate and the highway. She was rushed to the hospital by a Brownfield funeral home ambulance, and released the next day.

Her husband was driving their car and P. Harris was the driver of the other vehicle. They were visiting their son at 620 East Broadway through the holidays.

The oldest agricultural unit in the U. S.—the American Pomological Society, organized for the study and practice of fruit growing—will observe its 100th birthday in February. It was organized in 1848 by Marshall P. Wilder.

son county, between Dublin and Comanche, two old guys driving an ancient vehicle, were stewed. Evidently their liquor had a few love drops in it, as they had to embrace frequently. They were zig-zagging from one side of the road to the other. We caught them on the zag and went by.

Happy New Year to all.

Two Newspaper Men Visit Us Christmas

While we were out of pocket off down in central Texas, two former newspaper men, and both of whom have helped us in tight spots in the past, called to see us. We would have been tickled pink to see each of them.

There was Dr. Otis Carter, former newspaper man, now optometrist of Glendale, Calif. He was here visiting his father, D. P. Carter and other relatives. He has newspapered at Lubbock, Seagraves and Littlefield. In fact we believe he started the County-Wide News at Littlefield.

Willard Bright was owner of the Gaines County News, Seagraves, until just before the war started, and did war work in California until peace was declared. He is now publishing a paper at Valley Mills, Texas.

Sorry we failed to see these old timers among the fraternity.

Miss Mary Jean Fox is at home for the holidays. She is a student at Texas Tech, Lubbock.

Tickled To Get Herald As Christmas Gift

Among the many Christmas cards we received from our old and new friends from Tennessee to California, came one from our good friend, Mrs. Lela Toone, of Dallas, who lived in Terry many years. Her late husband was once the superintendent of our schools.

Mrs. Toone thought that Mrs. W. A. Bell's idea of giving her a year's subscription was a grand one, and will be just like getting 52 long letters from her "home folks."

Mrs. Toone is a fine lady, that anyone could be proud to claim as their friend.

FORMER RESIDENTS VISITING HERE

Chevrolet Produced Over Million Units

With the production today of its 1,000,000th vehicle in 1947, Chevrolet became the first single company in the automobile industry to manufacture a million cars and trucks a year since before the war. Announcement of the production milestone was made by Nicholas Dreystadt, general manager of the Chevrolet Motor Division, who said all of the vehicles were made in the plants of Chevrolet in the United States, and that the total does not include Canadian output.

The 1,000,000 total, Dreystadt said, includes passenger cars, trucks and commercial vehicles. The last time Chevrolet manufactured 1,000,000 vehicles a year before 1947 was in 1941, when domestic production reached 1,173,799 units.

Mrs. O. L. Jones had as her guests Saturday, her sisters, Mrs. J. O. Green and John Dumas; her mother, Mrs. S. E. Aytes and Mrs. Henry Delevan, all of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Roundtree and children and Tom Craffin of Pampa.

Find Southerners Easy Going Folks

Recently, we heard two Ex-GI's talking about their experience while in the service. While they were in different branches of the service, each had almost duplicate experience with northern boys. Many of them, they stated, were fine kids, and warm friendships developed.

But here is what they disclosed: One and all of the northern boys they came in contact with training here in the south or southwest, stated that they found the people down here easy going, friendly, and with the least provocation would invite them into their homes.

And these northerners would add: "Get what easy picking they would be for confidence men." And a few of the moronic types would add: "I think I'll return after the war and work some kind of racket." Which leads one to remark that all of us be more and more careful with whom we deal, and how.

Many northern people are coming into the country just at present to work in oil fields in one capacity or another. Many of them have been highly trained at some phase of this work, and are making good hands, good neighbors and fine citizens. But we find there is a sprinkling of get-rich-quickers.

As we understand it, in the north, one has a very poor chance of getting to any one. All business is transacted in routine business style, whether you buy something in a store on deferred payments, or just renting a farm. You sign up in black and white on the dotted line.

And we might state right here

Scientific Cattle Feeding Important

The American Meat Institute has launched a program designed to provide American consumers with a maximum quantity of meat—and at the same time help conserve grain for shipment abroad under whatever European aid program the government finally adopts.

The plan is based on making the best possible use in 1948 of the available supply of corn—the crop which was hit unusually hard in 1947 by drought and hot weather. In carrying out the work, the packing industry will work closely with the agricultural colleges, the Department of Agriculture, and other interested agencies. One very important phase of the plan is to bring to the attention of farmers and livestock producers the results of scientific studies which point to the most efficient utilization of feeds of all kinds.

As the Elizabeth, New Jersey, Journal put it, "The Meat Institute, in placing scientific methods at the disposal of farmers and furthering conservation programs, is demonstrating once again it is not a packers' lobby, but a practical conscientious trade organization." It is not generally known how excellent a job the packers have done in meeting an abnormal demand for meat—and at a profit to themselves of less than a cent per pound. They are vitally interested in the grain problem, as are farmers and the public at large. The best efforts of that local people had just as well begin doing business in a business like way, or they'll have it took off them.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Whitley and son spent the holidays in Electra and Crowell visiting Mr. Whitley's sisters and their families.

Four Rules For Kin Of War Dead

Next of kin can materially simplify and speed up the war dead repatriation program if they will follow four rules, Lt. Col. S. H.

Partridge, Chief of the American Graves Registration Division in San Antonio said today.

1. Fill out navy and army questionnaires accurately.
2. Return these forms to Washington promptly.
3. If mailing address has changed since the deceased entered the service, send the present address to the Memorial Division Office of the Quartermaster General, Washington 25, D. C.
4. If there has been a change in the next of kin, either by death or by the remarriage of the widow of the deceased soldier, sailor or marine, that information, too, should be sent to the same authority.

"Unless the next of kin is certain that he can correctly fill out the questionnaire he should ask the assistance of his state or county veterans service officer," Partridge said. Many forms are being returned to Washington that have to be sent back for correction. This means more correspondence and, of course, delay. "It is often assumed that because the veterans administration or some other governmental bureau has a change of address, or a change of next of kin, that all interested bureaus have the same information. This is seldom true. If there is any doubt as to the information the Quartermaster General has, it is well to supply that office with new data."

During 1946-47, 574,000,000 bushels of U. S. grain, principally wheat and wheat in the form of flour, have been exported.

CAMPBELLS ENTERTAIN WITH DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Campbell were hosts Thursday, Dec. 18th with a turkey dinner at the Esquire for the employees of Cobb's Department store, of which Mr. Campbell is manager.

The hosts were presented with a down comfort as a gift from the employees.

Places were laid for twenty-six. Miss Terry Lou Moorhead, a teacher at Perryton for the past three years is spending the holidays with her parents, the R. M. Moorheads on East Tate Street.

Footwear Fashions and Foot Health

By Phyllis McLarney

The quest for comfort and smartness is as old as time. The shoes illustrated are one modern answer—a midheel sling-back with walled last and monk strap, the squared extension leather sole providing a firm step plus a stimulating effect. Incidentally, this is a good time to examine your shoes with an eye to cold weather foot comfort. Podiatrists recommend plenty of toe room in both hosiery and shoes, to aid circulation; and advise sticking to leather soles to prevent warm air and perspiration from accumulating if you want to suffer no chilblains or frostbite.

Footwear worn by America's best-dressed women at the Metropolitan Opera opening showed to what an extent platforms have won permanent places in smart shoe wardrobes. Most women want extra height if they can get it together with extra comfort and good taste; the leather-soled platform gives it to them, and that's important in these days of longer skirts. Younger women, especially if they are tall, favor the shallow platform with a low heel. In Diamond Horseshoe boxes at the opera these were prominent in gold kid on natural leather soles.

How many parents realize that growing feet deserve just as much attention in winter as at any other time of the year if little bodies are to grow straight and tall, with sturdy, handsome limbs to carry them through life? Pediatricians stress the extreme importance of correct footwear in early years to insure sound health and freedom from discomfort in later years.

While their elders are huddled around a roaring radiator, kids give their feet an extensive workout. Walking, running, skipping, most boys, according to pedometer tests, cover about 15 miles a day, girls a little less. See that their shoes are roomy, with leather soles and uppers giving maximum support combined with the greatest degree of flexibility.

Most children grow out of their shoes before they can begin to wear them out. Mothers mustn't assume that a tight fit will make for warmth. Just the reverse is true: Impeded circulation contributes to cold, while cramped bones can lead to serious effect on feet and general health. With heavy hose in order, for example, it's most important to remember that stockings should be anywhere from a half-inch to an inch longer than the end of the big toes, since almost as much harm can be done by short socks as by badly fitting shoes.

After all the closed-vs.-open hubbub, the choice turns out to be a seasonal matter. At the recent Shoe Fair in Chicago, devotees of both closed and open looks were pleased by the bewildering variety of colors, patterns and leathers designed to grace the feet of well-dressed women in the Spring of '48. Foreign Farm Aid

CONGRESS seems inclined to go along with one presidential proposal—the baby of Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson—to encourage farmers in other countries to plant larger crops by promising them aid.

Aid may be in the form of guaranteed prices, promises to buy, or in the form of machinery, fertilizer, seed or the swapping of consumer goods for food. If the proposal does go through, Secretary Anderson would become world secretary of agriculture.

In connection with aid to European farmers, the world farm plan is being revised. This plan was sponsored by Sir John Orr of England before the FAO of the United Nations last year, but was side-tracked. But finances, industry and politics are involved. Great needs in Europe are fertilizer, seed and farm machinery. There is not enough fertilizer or farm machinery to go around here, so if it is shipped to Europe now some farmer in Indiana will have to do without. But talk is going on.

Parity Formulas Vary

What's your parity formula? You might as well get it into the pot, for everybody has one. Department of agriculture would use prices received and paid in the period 1909 to 1914 related to industrial prices adjusted for the last 10 years. National Grange has a sliding average covering the last 10 years and including cost of hired labor; the Pace formula would include not only hired labor, but also cost of labor of farmer and his family; National Milk cooperative provides a parity of income instead of prices to give farmers income equal to the average of industrial workers.

Taft Control Totters

The role of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, never too secure as GOP party leader in the senate, will prove infinitely more untenable during the regular session of congress convening in January, if his status in the special session is any criterion.

The same union is finding there is a vast difference in just being the senator from Ohio and chairman of the GOP steering committee, and in also being an announced candidate for the GOP presidential nomination.

Already the lines of division between GOP candidates for the presidential nomination are being drawn in the senate and house. There are Dewey adherents; champions of ex-Governor Stassen; Governor Warren admirers; a Vandenberg bloc. Over on the house side the same thing is true, with a segment of the congressmen beating the bushes for Joe Martin, their speaker.

Already Senator Taft has been severely censured for attempting to speak for the party without having consulted with other members of the policy committee. This was the case when he spoke out so sharply against the President's program for stopping inflation. Some Republican senators adhere to President Truman's program.

Particularly outspoken against Senator Taft's assuming the party voice have been Senators Flanders of Vermont, Tobey of New Hampshire, Baldwin of Connecticut, Watkins of Utah, Ives of New York, Cooper of Kentucky and others. From now on Senator Taft must speak for himself only, they contend.

The inside story is that while President Truman has been regarded as a "middle-of-the-roader," his message to congress on the state of the union in January will make a play for the tremendous independent and liberal vote. The hope is that his message may include recommendations for a big public health program, TVA programs in the Missouri valley and elsewhere, federal aid for education, a new FEPC, public housing, tax reductions for low income brackets only, tightening of anti-trust laws and other liberal legislation in the flavor of the Rooseveltian era.

Further Action Unlikely

Insofar as your Home Town Reporter can judge, about as near this special session of congress, or even the regular session, will go in giving President Truman stand-by authority to reimpose rationing and price ceilings on basic commodities to halt inflation, is the appointment of a committee to look into the matter. That's what congress did in the closing days of the last regular session. These committees held hearings throughout the country.

The L. J. Hollers family have notified us that after 18 years here on the Plains, they are moving to Calera, Okla., to make their home. The Old He and madam have a special invitation to visit them within five miles of the big Texhoma Lake, and go fishing. Might as well do just that some time when we are in that vicinity. In the meantime they want their Herald at their new address.

Maybe the great Dallas Morning News is so used to using diplomatic language that they do not stoop to the Western dance hall-saloon type of description for moron characters, such as we country editors sometimes employ. Occasionally we think we may get a bit too hard on certain low cusses with not a shred of human appeal. But when the News refers to Admiral Tojo, who instigated the Pearl Harbor massacre and the butcher of Dolittle's flyers, as "the balding gentleman," we believe that is carrying the "good neighbor policy" too far. In our catalog old Tojo is listed under every title except a "gentleman."

We are glad that the vast majority of people have some good trait to commend them to the public. Some seem bent of doing unto others. No two will seem to go after making those about them happy in the same way. Each seems to choose his own way of making the paths of those about them less thorny. In all cases such people always have a happy, hearty greeting for you and a real mean it hand shake. They welcome you into their community and even within their homes with such manifest interest that you know it is genuine. On the other hand there is the few that we wonder why they were ever born, such for instance, as the man who murdered his own son and left his wife for dead down near Marshall. Or the man at Cleburne who murdered a lonely old man in his home for a few paltry dollars? Why did such people have to be left to bring misery to others? Perhaps we shall know in the final reckoning. The Lord's ways are above our ways—He knows best.

the act shall have to have many amendments to make it equally applicable to both labor and management. The fact remains that for some reason or other there has been a great letup in strikes, especially the prolonged variety, and more man hours have been put into production in 1947 than since before the war. All of which leads one to wonder if both capital and labor have suddenly reasoned that the best way to fight high prices and rising costs is to get to work and produce some scarce goods to put on the market. Shutdowns and loss of time benefit neither labor or management, and certainly not the consumer.

With the announcement of Ex-Gov. Coke R. Stevenson, Texans have a chance to elect a man who thinks like the average Texan, and knows what they want. In him they will also have a man in the upper house of the nation's capitol that will bear the respect of the White House and the members of Congress at the other end of Pennsylvania Avenue. Coke Stevenson is not always talking about the other fellow being a "professional politician" but is busy "calculating" what is best for Texas and the nation as a whole. It will be some relief to have a Junior Senator from Texas that people know where he stands, and can work with Senator Connally and members of the lower house from Texas.

Most of us like pageantry and parades. That is part of our make-up. Still, most of us get a chuckle out of a picture in the dailies showing three or four big shots removing the first shovel full of earth from some public undertaking on which the federal or state governments propose to spend millions of dollars. From the appearance of the mugs of these big wigs, usually some millionaires, it seems they are breathing as if they had run a mile footrace. Such is life here in Texas.

The writer generally gets a big kick out of Billy Rose's column, "Pitching Horseshoes," in one of our favorite dailies. And while Billy usually plays up the importance of Gotham, once in a while he takes a crack at the big city that is a stinger. In one of his recent columns, he had been in conversation with a lad who stated that he bet New York City had a population of 4 million people. Billy began to investigate the geography and history the youth in question used. He found that time was suddenly chopped off around about the time Teddy Roosevelt and Admiral George Dewey were in the limelight, about the turn of the century. The lad did not realize that New York City had a population of nearer 8 than 4 million people. This started the showman on a real investigation. He found that many of the public schools still had outdoor toilets, and those with them were not furnishing tissue, and there was no paper towels around the wash basins. Some had very ancient heating arrangements, and heat was not turned on until about the time the children arrived, and then sometimes the temperature was down around 40. Furthermore, he found one building that had been a jail, but abandoned as the city authorities decided it unsafe. The bars of the cells were still up, and the children ate their lunches inside the cells. So, maybe the "benighted South" is not so far behind after all. Certainly such conditions do not exist here in Terry County.

EVERETT ZANT

Once Again we greet the New Year in the traditional manner—with pealing bells, with fun and gaiety, laughter and music.

Despite his ingenuity, man still persists in "watching the old year out and greeting the new year" in almost the identical manner of his forefathers.

In that same identical manner, we extend our traditional New Year's greeting to you:

Outlook —

to keep the Dow-Jones Industrial Averages between an upper ceiling of around 185 and a floor of around 165. Commodity speculators will be curbed.

25. The wisest will not try to pick any special "winners" in 1948; but will diversify broadly and those who have too many stocks will gradually build up good reserves, in cash or Government bonds, for the big break which will come someday.

26. Careful buyers of stocks will insist on making full payment and avoid borrowing during 1948.

BONDS

27. We are definitely bearish on low-coupon rate, long-term bonds. Many of these will sell at even lower prices in 1948 than in 1947. Money rates will gradually increase.

28. If Congress gives a good reduction in Federal taxes to investors in high brackets, 1948 will see a further falling off in the prices of most municipals and other tax-exempt bonds. As indicated above, however, we do not expect such a desired tax reduction.

29. In view of the large decline in many preferred stocks during 1947, this rate of decline should begin to level off during 1948.

30. Investors will give much more attention to diversification in 1948 and not become too heavily interested in railroad securities, telephone issues and other public utilities, many of which are now selling too high.

REAL ESTATE

31. City real estate will continue to hold firm through 1948, due to less available space caused by pulling down structures to save taxes, to provide parking spaces, etc. There also is a disinclination to build city property in view of the present high inflationary building costs.

32. Suburban real estate will continue in greater demand with still higher prices during 1948.

33. Big commercial farm acreage may sell for less during 1948; but subsistence farms located close to established communities will hold up in price.

34. General building should increase during 1948. Young people are gradually getting accustomed to high building costs and tired of living with their mothers-in-law.

35. Both office and residential rents will be higher in 1948. Property owners are entitled to receive higher rentals. Only as such are granted there will be as much building as there should be.

36. Mortgage rates during 1948 will continue about the same as in 1947. These rates are very favorable for those who have the courage to build. However, in 1948, it will be harder to obtain mortgage loans.

POLITICS

37. Both President Truman and Republican leaders will be playing politics up to November 2, 1948. It is now too early to forecast the outcome of the Presidential election. The Republicans, however, have so bungled the prize controversy that Mr. Truman has a fair chance of re-election.

38. Congressmen returning from Europe will determine our foreign policy and take it out of the hands of the State Department, the Evans Ebits, and even the President himself.

39. Unless illness or accident intervenes, Mr. Truman will be the Democratic candidate, with the possibility of Mr. Marshall being on the ticket with him.

40. We forecast a greater interest in sane religion, temperance, and civic righteousness during 1948, with continued reaction against denominationalism, intolerance and dogma.

41. Cattle that are free of parasites have better appearance, are healthier and are more productive than parasitic cattle.

"To the Citizenship of Terry: After serving you people of Terry County for the past year, as your Sheriff, I now come to you through the columns of our local papers, asking for a second term.

I have done my very best to make you people, the kind of Sheriff you have a right to expect and deserve.

I may have made some mistakes, but have tried to correct them as quickly as possible, and profit by such in better service in this capacity. It has been a pleasure to work with you, and for you. I want to thank each and every one of you, for the cooperation you have given me. I appreciate it. Without your cooperation it would be difficult to fill this office efficiently. I will greatly appreciate your continued cooperation.

I will appreciate your vote and influence in the coming primary election. I will do my best to make you a better Sheriff in the future than I have in the past year.

I shall try to see each and everyone of you in person before election. I wish each of you a very prosperous New Year.

W. H. Dallas Asks For Re-election

To the voters of Terry County, Texas:

I hereby present my name as a candidate for office of Justice of the Peace, Precinct One, Terry County, Texas, for the coming Democratic Primary in July of 1948. I have considered this very carefully and think with the experience I have had I can give the voters what they will expect of any officer whom they elect.

I want to see the voters from time to time and discuss any questions they may ask. This is one man office and I am sure no one will want me to take much time from my office to campaign for another term. I sincerely ask you for your votes and promise the best service it is possible for me to give. I want to thank the good people of this county for many acts of kindness. Recently I have passed through a very severe sick spell and I want to thank everyone who has been helpful in my time of need. I hope for your continued confidence and promise you will not regret any thing you do for me.

Yours very truly,
W. H. Dallas.
