

Annual Red Cross Drive Starts Mar. 1

A number of town leaders met this week to lay plans for the annual Red Cross drive, which starts March 1st. The total sum allotted to the county is $5,300 this year, which sounds like a huge amount, but if each and everyone will just do their duty the sum can be topped, then some.

Figuring the matter to population, and say 15,000 people reside in the county, that is only 30c per capita. Or if one figures each family on an average of 4, that is only $1.20, and most of us can shoulder $1.20 per family without a grunt. But ALL will have to help.

The following committees were selected to head the drive. In case where there is just a chairman mentioned, he or she is supposed to select their own committees:

DRIVE CHAIRMAN, Roger Lindsey.

PLANNING COMMITTEE, Leo Holmes, Lewis Simmons, Herbert Chishir, Virgil Crawford and Mrs. Eldora White.

COMMUNITY COMMITTEES, Meadow, Herman Housler, chairman, John Cadenhead and Tom Brown.

NEW VETERANS HOSPITAL— Here is an architect's sketch of the general medical hospital to be built at Big Spring by the Veterans Administration to serve West Texas. Ground-breaking ceremonies marking the start of construction were started January 30, and Big Spring invited all West Texans to attend. The main hospital building, of 250 bed capacity, will stretch 700 feet in length and will contain six floors and basement, plus service areas on the seventh and eighth floors, it will be of brick-faced construction. Construction time has been set at 18 months and total cost will approach five and three-quarter million dollars.

Santa Fe Official To Visit Seminole For Railroad Talk

Traffic Manager H. C. Vincent of the Santa Fe Railway Company is expected in Seminole in the near future to discuss the various things influencing a railroad to build into this territory.

In a letter to the Seminole Chamber of Commerce, received yesterday, Mr. Vincent said, "There are so many ramifications to the subject that I am planning on taking a trip to your community as soon as the snow gets off the ground."

In a previous communication, the Santa Fe Railroad stated that they would do everything in their power to cooperate in the project.

Repeating a prediction voiced before civic organizations in Seminole, Manager H. B. Lewis of the Seminole Chamber of Commerce stated today, "We are going to have a railroad if we have to build it with our own hands and funds. We have committed ourselves to the obtaining of rail facilities for our area, and we will consistently refuse to have our deserving growth hampered by the lack of any facilities we need. Seminole is going to have a railroad, of that you may be assured."—Seminole Sentinel.

Rev. and Mrs. Ed Tharp had as their houseguests this week, his nieces, Mrs. George Lane of Eastland and Mrs. Flix Harris and Mr. Harris of Dallas.

Stevenson Holds Good Lead Over O'Daniel

Former Governor Coke R. Stevenson, first to announce himself as a candidate, is today the leading choice of Texas voters for the post of Junior U. S. Senator. Senator W. Lee O'Daniel, the incumbent in second, and Congressman Lyndon B. Johnson of Austin is third, according to the latest statewide survey by the Texas Poll. George E. B. Peddy of Houston placed fourth.

At the time this survey was made, only Stevenson, Peddy, and F. B. Clark, former professor at A.&M. College, had publicly announced their candidacy.

To sound out public sentiment at this early stage of the race, interviewers for the Texas Poll asked a cross-section of eligible voters this question:

"If you had to decide today, who would be your choice for U. S. Senator from Texas in this year's election?"

Coke R. Stevenson ----- 40pct.
W. Lee O'Daniel ----- 14pct.
Lyndon B. Johnson ----- 10pct.
George E. B. Peddy ----- 1pct.
Mics. Others ----- 7pct.
No choice ----- 28pct.

White Way Bids To Be Opened Tuesday

The City Council will have a session next Tuesday the 23rd, at which time bids will be opened for putting up new light standards on the main streets of the city and the installation of the newest type white lights on the streets. We understand that lighting in all sections of the city will be improved.

The contract calls for 22,000 feet of Parkway cable for the light circuit underground, and where streets are crossed, the contractor must put the pavement back in as good condition as originally. There will be a total of 68 ornamental standards.

Most of the white way will be on Main and Broadway, we understand, with perhaps some on First street, known as Seagraves-Lubbock highway through the city which takes all other highways which branch off in the north or south part of the city.

If satisfactory bids are received, and the work started, it will not be too long until Brownfield will be one of the best if not the best lighted little cities in this area.

Sandy Land Experiment Farm Begins Operation

Very Small Per Cent Of Taxes Delinquent

In conversation this week with Herbert Chishir, state and county collector; E. D. Jones, city collector and Elmer Brownlee, school tax collector, we learned that one of the best percentages of taxes in all three departments have been collected, on record. We did not ask, nor did either of them state whether or not this was to the deadline Jan. 31, or up to present time in February.

This augurs well for the prosperity of the community. Although taxes are high, they are no higher than other commodities in proportion. In fact, we believe that taxes come nearer being on par with other commodities than most any other expense to be imagined. At the same time, we have had improvements in the shape of farm-market roads, higher pay for county appointive help, school teachers, and most of the appointive positions with the city.

County Assessor-Collector report: Fully 95 per cent-plus of 1947 taxes collected. Rolls showed total of $110,918.76; collected to date $105,605.82. Delinquent $5,312.94.

Brownlee's Report: We have had one of the best school tax collections on record. The rolls showed some $94,000 in taxes to be collected, and to date $89,000 has been collected. Mr. Brownlee explained that 34 per cent of this goes into the sinking fund to take care of bond issues; the rest for school's current expense. He reported that not a great amount of delinquent taxes of former years are outstanding.

At a late hour Thursday, no report had been received from E. D. Jones, city collector, but he assured us earlier in the week that a good percentage of the taxes had been collected.

Old State Bank Building Again Faces East

For the second time in a dozen years, the old State Bank building, better known now as the Commerce Hotel, has been moved to a site on south Seventh, near a Helpy Sely laundry. This will probably be about the last time the old building will be moved, as it is now on the slope of Lost Draw, and below it and the laundry is not too valuable just at present.

The old building holds many memories for those of us who have been here 35 or 40 years. It was in this old building that a lot of us faced our banker for the first time to negotiate a loan, or get a note extended. Well, no, it was not too hard in those days, as every one was called by his first name by the other. He might say "No" all right, and the fellow trying to make the loan might just say, "Well, you go to h—l, Will Ah!" then grin and walk out. Few real settlers were refused help, however, if really needed in those days.

And then upstairs, we, the young bloods of that time had some mighty fine times in the old Odd Fellow and Woodman Hall. There was little other amusement at the time, and the farmers and ranchmen for miles would drift in to the hitch racks on the west side of the square, have supper at the Hill Hotel and watch the degrees put on in the old hall. The Woodmen brethren had some rather funny side degrees that brought loud laughs from the many seated around the walls.

Then, too, sometimes the ladies would be invited (so we might have something to eat) and all would have a merry time and lots of good eats. One night, however, a howling sandstorm blew in that rocked and swayed the old building like a small boat in a ground swell. That building was vacated in seconds, and some didn't trouble to hunt the stairway.

CHICKENAPPING NEW STUNT IN ALAMO CITY

From Santone, ye learn that a new "napping" has broke out, this time it is chicken-napping. One lady rooster-napped a neighbors property for eating her garden.

The neighbor lady hen-napped from the rooster-napper, and the police had to be called in to get matters settled.

Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Copeland who live in Lubbock County were business visitors in Brownfield Monday.

Capt. Vogler, Gas Victim Recovering

Captain Donald C. Vogler, who narrowly escaped death by gas poisoning in a local hotel room early Thursday morning of last week is recovering in the Treadaway-Daniell hospital, where he has been since the occurrence.

His mother, Mrs. E. W. Vogler, was overcome by the fumes from an overheated gas stove in their room and was dead when discovered about 9 a. m. that morning. The young captain was rushed to the hospital, remaining unconscious for several days.

Their home was in Carbondale, Ill., and were on their way to his field in Arizona, the mother going along to visit other relatives there.

Officers promptly notified relatives and the father and young brother arrived here late Friday. The body of Mrs. Vogler was immediately returned to Illinois for burial.

The Captain's wife and small child arrived here Monday and are at his bedside.

Barber Shop Changes Hands

The Hotel Barber Shop, owned and operated for many years by Jack Holt, was sold last week to Virgil Bynum another pioneer barber of this city. Holt is retiring for awhile to rest up.

John Proctor of O'Donnell will operate the shop at the same stand. His son, J. L. has been with Bynum for some time.

Jay Barrett, pioneer farmer and former county judge, now a leading member of the Tri-County State soil conservation committee said early this week that the Sandyland Experiment farm located about 10 miles west of town was beginning operations.

An army barracks house and other improvements have been added. Hugh Porterfield, an experienced man in such work, has moved in. Considerable equipment is on hand.

The main purpose is to experiment with crops and grasses and how to handle sandy land, common to this area. Some deep and medium plowing is to be done.

Mr. Barrett related an interesting history of the efforts made to procure this farm. Realizing the need of a better understanding of the sandy soils of this section, he and other committeemen of the three county section, busied themselves to the task. After much cold shouldering by State officials, they went to the division headquarters of the U. S. Agricultural department at Amarillo, whose chief became interested and secured an appropriation of several thousand dollars from the National department for its operation. Then our Commissioner's Court came across by buying the A. C. Harvey 160 acres west of Gomez, as well as new buildings and some equipment.

The unit is officially named the Sandyland Experiment farm. Its purpose is limited to utilizing soils of that nature. Considerable experiments are to be made with various grasses. In fact, Mr. Carlton of the local Conservation work has prevailed on a number of farmers to plant a few acres each of various kind of grasses. The farm is being watched with much interest.

We understand Mr. Porterfield will likely hold a field day soon inviting the public to witness their progress.

A New Oil Test Near Carbon Black Plant

Those dogged oil people are liable to slip most anything in on you when your back is turned. We did not know until Monday that a pit had been dug and a rig almost ready to hit in the air, in southwest Terry, about one mile this side of the Carbon Black plant on the Seagraves-Brownfield highway.

Well, at least you can't say the oil folks are not looking for more and better oil, and we hope they get a gusher. Speaking of looking for oil, we note the "doodlebugs" have just about been all over the whole south plains country, and probably by now have some idea what underlays most of the area.

We have also noted that most of the oil fields in this area are on high ridges. There are a few exceptions. For that reason, we have always wanted some one to start drilling on the high ridge about four or five miles north of town on the Levelland highway.

District Water Meet Held In City

The monthly meeting of the Permian Water Association, was held in the court house here last Tuesday night. About 40 delegates from surrounding towns, as far south as Big Spring, Midland and Odessa, attended.

These meetings are developing into a school, studying all phases of water uses, as well as supply, and fire protection. The subject discussed at this meeting was water bearing diseases, health and sanitation.

The next meeting is to be held at Big Spring.

Stanolind Supt. Death Victim In Lubbock

Mr. Perry L. Chapman, 59, Area Superintendent of Stanolind Pipe Line Company, passed away in his sleep early last Saturday morning at the Lubbock Memorial Hospital in Lubbock. Mr. Chapman had been in ill health for over a year, and death was caused by a heart attack.

Mr. Chapman was well known throughout the oil pipe line country, especially in the Mid-Continent Area. He was born in Harrison, Arkansas, June 1, 1888, and after various jobs in the oil field, was with the Milliken Pipe Line Co. in 1916, as Station Engineer in the Nowata District, when that Company was bought by Sinclair-Cudahy Pipe Line Company. In the Sinclair organization Mr. Chapman progressed from Station Engineer to Chief Engineer, El Dorado District in 1918; to Field Gauger, Hominy District in 1920; to Chief Gauger and Tank Strapper, Tulsa office in 1926; to District Foreman, Ada District in 1930. Stanolind Pipe Line Company took over the Sinclair-Cudahy Pipe Line Company in 1931, and Mr. Chapman continued with the new organization as District Foreman until January 1943 when he was promoted to Assistant Division Superintendent with headquarters at Brownfield. In January, 1947, he was promoted to Area Superintendent of the West Texas and New Mexico Area of the Stanolind Pipe Line Company, in which position he served until his death.

Mr. Chapman is survived by his widow, Mrs. Edna Chapman of Lubbock, Texas, three daughters, Mrs. Eula Weishaupt of Tulsa, Oklahoma, Mrs. Thelma Price of San Francisco and Miss Shirley Lee Chapman of Lubbock; two stepsons, Mr. Kenneth Bryant of Ada, Oklahoma and Mr. Ivan Bryant of Lubbock and three grandsons, Dale Weishaupt, Dean Weishaupt and Donald Price.

Funeral services were held at 3 p. m. Monday afternoon at the Crisswell Funeral Home, Ada, Oklahoma, and interment was made there.

E. D. Jones Appointed City Secretary

The City Council, at its regular meeting last Friday night appointed E. D. Jones, present superintendent of the City's Utilities, as City Secretary, to fill the unexpired term of Tommy Zorns, whose previous resignation became effective Saturday.

It was understood late this week that no changes in office assistants, or other city employees would be made soon.

The city clerk, who is also tax-assessor-collector, is an elective office. The next regular election is in early April. The way is wide open, so far, for the place.

Zorns has not announced his future work.

Wellman 4-H Club Girls Win Achievement Awards

This week Myrethia Edwards, Marjorie Scales and Patsy Anne Moore; all talent club winners in the Wellman 4-H clubs, were each awarded $25.00 checks by the Brownfield Junior Chamber of Commerce. All three were the outstanding 4-H girls of the county in their particular age groups. Some of their achievements are as follows:

Myrethia Edwards, representing the 14 to 20 age group, makes much of her own clothing, besides earning all her own clothing and spending money. During her four years of club work, she has made 16 new garments and renovated three. Some of the ways she has earned money for her wardrobe has been through helping her mother do housework and house cleaning; hoeing in the field; picking cotton; working in the store on Saturdays. During the time she has been a club member, Myrethia has earned $299.15 by her work.

Since she expects to enter college next fall, Myrethia has set $64.00 aside for her college fund from these earnings.

Marjorie Scales, representing the 12 to 13 age group, has been a help to her mother in the poultry, gardening and house work.

Together with her older sister and mother, they conserved 425 quarts of foods from the garden and orchard during 1947. In addition, she made 13 garments for herself and prepared 300 different dishes for the table.

Last August, Marjorie entered the district talent club contest and won a $25.00 prize. With this money and some of her bond money, she has bought a registered jersey calf as an investment.

Patsy Anne Moore, of the 10 to 11 years group, has woven 2 rugs from knit rayon and cotton loops. She showed 36 4-H girls and five adults how to make these rugs.

Besides, she showed her small sister how to weave pot holders by this method.

Patsy Anne has learned to clothe herself from her earnings in 1947, by caring for two small children in the summer; and by picking cotton. She earned a total of $107.02 in this way. In addition, she canned a total of 150 1/2 quarts of foods.

All three girls will invest their $25.00 in livestock to help it increase in value. Through these investments the hope to build up a college fund to help with their education.

We sometimes get a gem of wisdom from under that outrageous picture of what is supposed to be a cowboy (we never saw one like him) on the editorial page of the Lubbock Evening Journal. You know, the one with a lit cig sticking precariously on the end of his lolled out tongue, and designated as "The Plainsman." Here's a good example: "A capitalistic country is one which has to maintain strict immigration laws with closely limited quotas to avoid being overrun by immigrants from social and communistic countries." There now, wasn't that a fine one, almost as good as if we had said it, and we are hereby passing it along in the Herald so many more people may read as they run. However, we fear that too many people who might be benefitted read either the Journal or Herald. They read "In Fact" or the Daily Worker! That is the reason they are what they are.

President Truman seems set on making it a law that if one wants to employ a white man, he must take a negro, Mexican or Chinaman. But HST doesn't seem to care if a man advertises for a negro and a white man applies for the job. All of which goes to show that with Mr. Truman it is not a matter of principle, but to get the balance of power vote in close states. The same thing might be said of his poll tax idea, Jim Crow and other strictly state laws, which until the past 16 years have bghtered no one north or south. That it is one of the fundamental state rights law no one denies, who is not seeking votes. When the measure (FEPC) was voted out of committee last week, Senator Taft of Ohio voted against the measure, stating he thought it was a matter for the states to settle, and he believed it would cause more trouble than good. He further stated that he believed the south would work out their own matters eventually without outside aid or force, including employment, poll taxes, the race question and lynchings. Mr. Taft is right. Lynchings are being reduced to a minimum, and even in Federal court, there would be no difference than in state courts, as the same kind of people in both instances would form the jury, may be including some from the very area where the lynching happened. Would that the country had more statesmen like outspoken Taft. He is also a candidate for President, but he don't speak out of one corner of his mouth in one section, and out of the other in some other area. He even told the mid-west farmers to their faces that grain, hogs and cattle were too high. HST would have soft pedaled that one too. But such a man as Taft would be a safe man for president of all the people in all sections of the country. Now you New Dealers make the most of the above. We will just add that to our notion, Senator Taft is more of a Democrat than High Tax Harry.

Bro. J. W. Hale, the old cat that supplies the "claw" for the "cat claw" column in the Yoakum County Review, laments the fact that Eleanor came out for Truman. He hints that he wanted her to back Wallace. He says the Democrats will not be fooled. Good! Then they will vote for Truman.—Anton News.

Don't let Editor H. G. Richards get off with that one Bro. Hale. You know and so does Richards, if he would admit it that this creation of the Pendergast machine is no more of a true blue Democrat, as we know them in the south, than is Henry Wallace, who has never been a Democrat nor never will be. Henry came into the new deal organization as mugwump Republicans, and is now the pet of Daily Worker and close ally of Uncle Joe's crowd at Moscow. Also, like Truman, he fervently hates the South and all it stands for.

The Herald as well as other disinterested citizens not in the know of either side, are wondering why the city government cannot get together and work in the same harness as of yore. They deplore the fact that apparently the city is split into factions. We know that all concerned are adults and not children. That most of those concerned are staid business or professional men. But sometimes actions of the city government belie such conclusions. The Herald has never taken sides, owing to the fact that we honestly do not know what it is all about. But we do hope that a semblance of cooperation will soon be achieved. We, nor they, wish to see the town have a setback on account of factional strife. When the election of men or measure are approved by the sovereign voters at the polls past or future, let's forget the matter, and offer our help in making Brownfield a bigger and better city in which to live.

Editor E. I. Hill of the Lynn County News, Tahoka, last week used a column and a half explaining and commending the Gossett plan to split the electoral vote into percentage of the popular vote. And the Wichita Falls congressman may have something. But why not do away with the old headachy electoral college altogether, and elect our Presidents on a strictly popular vote just like we elect all other officers from Constable up. That proposition might stimulate a real go to the polls in the south instead of concluding it is all over except the shouting after the July-August primaries. And too, we believe this method would head off minor pressure groups in most places.

We wonder how many cohorts of the new deal will now contend Senator W. Lee (Pappy) O'Daniel for his latest tirade against the government spending millions of the taxpayers money to build the so-called St. Lawrence Waterway. We pause to see. Some of our people have watched the prodigal spending of our Santa Claus like government until it seems they are almost immune to it. In the first place, most of this undertaking is in a foreign country, Canada. In the second place, the river is frozen over six months of the year, and thirdly if built would have to be protected by thousands of men under arms. And in the fourth place, there are many rivers on the east and west coasts that might be helped by deepening and dredging, as well as many in the interior that empty into the Gulf of Mexico. Come to think of it, Dallas and Fort Worth have tried to get the Trinity navigable (?) for 10! these many years. While there are many things about the Senator we do not admire, we believe he is right when he reminds us that Uncle Samuel has a 250 billion dollar debt that will have to come out of the pockets of all of us. If we just must help someone, let's help the railroads to get better rolling stock so our produce will move better, and quit trying to pull chestnuts out of the fire for every foreign country we hear of.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

You know, just because this USA has never bogged down and mired—and needed somebody to bail us out—is no sign we can't get mired. No more so than we can't break a leg some day, by being careless, just because up to now we have not done so.

And to make a long story short, a squint at our USA debt and the budgets being heaped on the taxpayer's bent backs, is enough to make shivers run up and down the spine. And with the big budgets, and big promises, 4 freedoms and everyting, nobody, anywhere, is pleased or happy about anything in particular. Big spending has been a quick prescription. We even have pains and aches now, we never had before. And to add to our dilemma, take one dollar and a quarter haircuts. The barbers say it is taxes coming home to roost.

So folks, maybe haircuts being hiked here and there to one buck and 2 bits each—man or boy—is a good turn in disguise for the taxpayers. That is, if Congress hears about it—and you can believe your barber.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA.

Possible To Grow Old Gracefully

Some folks are old at sixty; others are mentally and physically alert at eighty. The number of years one has lived may not be a true index to one's physical condition. Actually, the length of a person's life span is influenced by the condition of his arteries. Premature hardening of the arteries, often due to avoidable infections, improper diet, and possible worry and strain is to a certain extent, preventable, said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Many of the problems connected with the hygiene of old age are due to lowered mental power. Therefore, a cheerful and optimistic attitude toward the aged, especially during sickness, is essential to their well-being. Old people regard their condition as far less serious when they can be fully dressed and out of bed. When they can be up, the excretory organs function more satisfactorily, too. However, when an elderly person complains of being overtired, or otherwise not physically fit, a day of rest in bed is advisable. By providing

There is a lot of commotion in the air about the president's Civil Rights message, and how Southern Democrats are going to give their Party 40 days to get off that stuff. Of course the Governor's Conference has no authority to speak for Southern Democracy. And, equally, of course, Southern Democrats have better sense than to tear out and form a third party just because the usual election year stuff emanates from party headquarters to try to get the negro vote. That is routine. We believe the South is doing as well by the negroes as New York City is. Nowhere else in the United States is there such a concentration of slums, ignorance, poverty and crime as there is in Harlem, the negro segregation of NYC. We could enter some other details about the question, but—some other time.—Jimmie Rankin, in Ralls Banner.

The Penalty Of Population

There is more time in some places than others. Around Batesville, up on the White River in Arkansas, you can sit a while after breakfast, read the Gazette, take the clothes, drive over the bridge, get some stamps, go for groceries, get a coke, take Jim to town, drive by the marble works and have the car washed—all before 10 o'clock in the morning. In Dallas, it would take that much time to go by the laundry and the post office—if you rushed.

As near as we can figure it out, there are only three reasons why this can be done. One is shorter distances, the other is a lack of traffic lights and the third is not having to stand in line.

It takes a visit to a small town for people to realize how much time they spend in a city just going and waiting.—Caps and Lower Case.

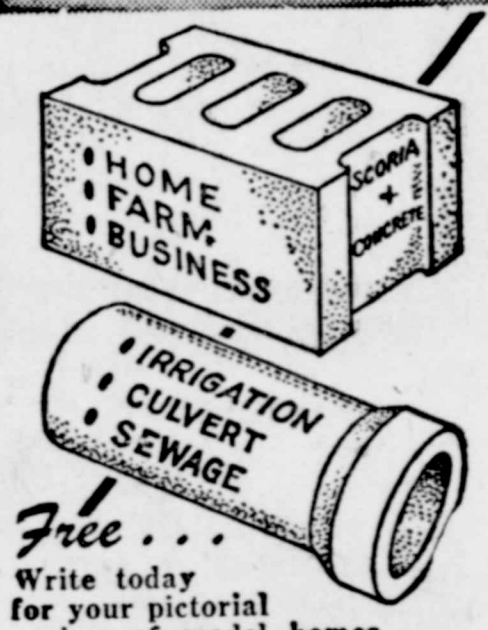

Mrs. Lee O. Allen visited with the Troy Noels in Plainview last week while Mr. Allen attended the hardware convention in Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Auvenshine and Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Adams and son, Bill were in Fort Worth Monday for the finals of the Golden Gloves tournament.

light and easily digested food and applying warmth to the body of an aged patient, he is often tired, over a mild or threatened illness.

Special attention should be paid also to proper clothing, diet, and exercise of the elderly. With reasonable attention to certain well-defined and easily followed principles of personal hygiene, it is possible to grow old gracefully. Furthermore it is also possible, in many instances, to retain one's faculties to such an extent as to make old age a pleasure rather than a burden.

Lincoln Words Then And Now

Words, with many, are but words that pass into thin air, are heeded but a moment, die and are forever buried. Words from Abraham Lincoln have made a living tribute, a monument, to a great man. His words need be changed little to apply to present conditions. We find very fitting for today the second paragraph of Lincoln's second inaugural address:

"With malice toward none; with charity for all; with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in; to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow, and his orphan to do all which may achieve and cherish a lasting peace among ourselves, and with all nations."

Huffaker Decides Against Race

We have it on pretty good authority that Calloway Huffaker, of Tahoka will not be in the race for State Senate, 30th district, of which Terry county is a portion. Mr. Huffaker is our present District Attorney, and he decided early this year not to make a race for that office.

Mr. Huffaker is an outstanding young man, and would make a very fine Senator, but he underwent a spinal operation at Temple last year. He went back down there recently for a check by his surgeon, and was advised to try no campaign for any office this year.

This leaves Judge Corbin of Lamesa and Ralph Brock of Lubbock, in the race so far for certain, although the present incumbent Sen. Parrish of Lubbock has announced in the Crosbyton Review. His announcements at the time was said to have been made by his friends in that city.

Gandhi's Treasure

Mohandas K. Gandhi, whose law practice in South Africa once yielded $20,000 a year, "possessed no property and left no will" when he died from an assassin's bullets.

In making this announcement the old mahatma's son, Devadas Gandhi, said in New Delhi that his father had desired that any property that might nominally be considered his should go to his charity and uplift projects. This wish will be carried out, Devadas added.

Thus one of the most influential and powerful men of the Twentieth Century expressed his contempt for "wealth, as such; for through his feeble hands passed many large gifts which he promptly passed on to others. Among his followers were many wealthy patrons who would gladly have set him up in rich surroundings, with many servants at his beck and call, and a bank account to arouse the envy of the avaricious. As a matter of fact he had been living for several weeks in the home of one of the wealthiest men in India when the summons came; but the choice viands of the rich man's table, the downy beds, were not for him. He lived on a handful of solid foods and goat's milk, and slept on a pallet.

What need had Gandhi for servants? Thousands were willing to wait on him hand and foot, with no other recompense than his company. A plain white sheet was his full dress, a pair of dime-store glasses his only concession to physical infirmity.

Gandhi was no Christian, but his favorite reading was the Sermon on the Mount, and he learned its lessons to better purpose than

Q. I lost my original discharge papers. Is it possible to secure a copy of this certificate?

A. Yes. A certificate in Lieu of Lost Discharge will be issued upon written application. The proper form on which to make such application may be secured through your local Veterans Administration office.

Q. How can I get a job in a Veterans Administration hospital?

A. You should make application by letter to the Personnel Officer at the hospital you have selected. If a position is available, he will notify you.

Q. After I was discharge in 1945, I dropped my $10,000 National Service Life Insurance policy.

many Christians. He practiced the advice given by another poverty-stricken leader of multitudes: "Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal; but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal: for where your treasure is, there will your heart be also."

Gandhi's treasure was his people, and his heart was with them. For himself he demanded nothing, but he received much: the complete faith and confidence of his followers, and the respect of men of good heart throughout the world, without regard to religious differences.

Money can buy almost anything but honor and love. These are the treasures of Heaven.—Abilene Reporter-News.

Later I reinstated $2,000 of this and now I would like to know if I can reinstate the other $8,000?

A. Yes. You have until July 31, 1948 to reinstate, usually without a physical examination, provided you are in as good health as you were at the time of the lapse. Reinstatement is made by filling out an application form and by payment of two monthly premiums.

Q. I feel that my husband, a veteran of World War II, is in need of hospitalization, but he refuses to make application for medical treatment. What can Veterans Administration do in this situation?

A. Veterans Administration cannot force your husband or any veteran to accept hospitalization or medical treatment.

SHORT STORY

Birthday Gift

By MAUDE NORMAN

THE sound of a ragman's horn came in the open window of the room, where, with housewifely zeal, Nancy Winters was busy with spring house-cleaning.

A gleam came into her eyes. She thought, "I'll give him that pile of magazines Ted has in the garage and all those pop bottles he is always promising to take away, but never does. I'm tired of having them around."

The ragman looked around hopefully as he loaded the bottles and magazines on his rickety old truck. "Any olda clothes, Ma'am?" he asked. "Any olda rubber or iron?"

"No, that's all . . . wait a minute." She darted into the garage, returning with a pair of old grey trousers. "Here, you may as well take these, too."

She gave her husband a particularly warm kiss when he came home that evening. "I'm almost dead," she sighed as they were eating dinner. "At first I thought I would open a can of soup or something easy to prepare, but then I remembered how nice you were, so I made you this meat pie and upside-down cake." Thus she tried to pave the way to tell him what she had done.

"It beats me why you have to kill yourself, trying to do everything in one day," Ted answered. "The house always looks all right to me without you having to tear it apart every so often. Thanks for the swell dinner, Honey. Guess I'll work on the car for awhile."

"That reminds me," she interrupted hastily. "A ragman came by today and I let him take those pop bottles and magazines out in the garage."

"You what!"

"And I let him take those dirty old pants out there, too," she rushed on.

"You mean you gave those pants away?" Ted shouted. "Those pants had fifty dollars in the pocket."

"Ted! They didn't."

"Of course not. It never occurred to me. . . Oh, Ted! What have I done?"

"Gave away your birthday gift, that's all. I've been saving all year to buy that wrist watch you wanted. I thought I had found a safe hiding place in those pants. Perhaps we can get it back. Did you notice a name on the truck?"

NANCY shook her head despairingly. "There wasn't any name, but there was a phone number. I noticed that because it was the same number as our house. Main 1152."

"That's a lot of help. We can't look through the whole book."

"We could look under 'Junk Dealers,'" she cried.

"Here it is," she exclaimed, after a few minutes' search. "Tony Rozalle, 1346 Clark street."

tion. An ancient, bent old lady answered their knock. She shook her head in response to their request to speak to Mr. Rozalle.

"The old lady doesn't speak or understand English." A dark-eyed boy came from the back of the house. "You wanta buy something, Mister, or have you got something you wanta sell?"

"Are you Mr. Rozalle's son?" Ted asked.

"Now, I live next door, but I told Tony I'd take care of things till he came back.

"When will he be back?"

"Not for a couple of days, mister. His boy, who's in the air corps, was all busted up in an airplane crash. Tony and his wife wanted to go see him, but they didn't have the money. Then today a rich lady gave Tony fifty bucks and they lit out as soon as he came home. That's what I call luck."

"Yes, it was fortunate," Ted avoided Nancy's eyes as he spoke. "I'm glad Mr. Rozalle and his wife were able to visit their son."

"Sure I can't do anything for you, mister."

"Nothing, thank you. What we wanted to see about wasn't very important."

Citizen's Committee Organized To Back European Recovery Plan

Over 350 leaders in business, labor, farm, education, religion and women's organizations have joined the National Council of the Committee for the Marshall Plan to Aid European Recovery, of which Henry L. Stimson is National Chairman with Robert P. Patterson, former Secretary of War, serving as head of the Executive Committee. The purpose of this Committee, in the great debate on the Marshall Plan, is to work for immediate and effective American aid to war-devastated Europe.

It is the belief of this Committee that the recovery of Europe is necessary for our own security and prosperity, and the Committee has evolved a four-point program which it feels is essential to a successful European Recovery Program. The four points of the program read as follows: "One—effective aid is prompt aid. The European Recovery Program must go into effect on April 1, 1948. Two—effective aid is aid which will do the whole job. We must provide the $6.8 billion requested for the first 15 months, for if we do less we will merely be keeping Europe on a 'dole.' Three—effective aid is based on mutual respect and honor. We must not impose conditions which will involve our interference in the domestic affairs of these European countries. Four—effective aid is aid that will bring recovery and self-support and not a hopeless load of debt. We should not expect payment for most of what we furnish, but should understand that our return will be increasing prosperity and security for us."

To the many Americans concerned and confused about the issues involved in the Marshall Plan, the formation of this Committee was a direct answer to their deep desire for action. In his article, "The Challenge to Americans," in Foreign Affairs of October, 1947, Mr. Stimson stated, "The reconstruction of Western Europe is a task from which Americans can decide to stand apart only if they wish to desert every principle by which they claim to live. We must take part in this work; we must take our full part; we must be sure that we do enough."

The Committee is engaged in presenting the facts about the European Recovery Program to the American people so that they may understand the questions and provide their answer to the challenge. It is distributing material, arranging for speakers, and working with other existing organizations for an increasing attention to the Marshall Plan. Headquarters are at 537 Fifth Avenue, New York.

Henry L. Stimson, former Secretary of War and State, and National Chairman of the Committee for the Marshall Plan to Aid European Recovery.

A petition to the 80th Congress is being circulated calling for legislation to provide a sound and adequate program, in the light of Secretary Marshall's proposal, to aid European Recovery. A goal of 1,000,000 signatures has been fixed.

Getting Better Acquainted

The businessmen of the country—the farmers and ranchmen of America—and the businessmen of the cities and towns are getting better acquainted, and as a result, each group is obtaining a clearer understanding and a better appreciation of the others' business behavior, problems and potentialities.

That's the way Tyrus R. Timm, extension economist for Texas A and M College summed up the current picture upon his return from Washington where he attended a meeting of the national agricultural committee of the United States Chamber of Commerce. Timm is one of two land-grant college representatives serving as members of and consultants to the committee.

Timm's belief that closer town and country cooperation is underway is based on the work done by the national committee as well as his observations of farmer-businessmen matters in local chambers of commerce, service clubs, county units of farm organizations and other groups. The time has passed, he says, when a speaker needs to explain why he is talking about agriculture to a business group or any group of non-farmers. It is an accepted fact that their interests are, in the end, closely related.

Behind the Scenes in American Business

That long awaited break in the price level has finally arrived. Old Man High Cost of Living, usually pictured in the cartoons as a tall, unfriendly creature, will never look the same again.

What is the ultimate meaning of this resounding crack in our primary markets? It immediately conjures memories of 1929. But few of the steady, farsighted observers expect this break to develop into a rout of our economy. This break, in the opinion of the few people worth listening to, is a correction of a maladjustment and not the beginning of the end. The correction was overdue. And some good things will come out of it. Your customer the American housewife has had her purchasing power increased. She can now buy more food and still have something left over for other needed items. There will be less pressure for higher wages. Some kind of tax cut will go through Congress. And the farmer's purchasing power will still be high. True, crops are better throughout the world, but there is still a vast hunger in many lands. And the government, which talks anti-inflation, will spend $40 billion, which hardly can be considered deflationary.

HOME OWNERS DELIGHT—Virtually 100 per cent acceptance in American homes of products packed in tin cans was revealed in a nation-wide survey of can opener ownership reported by a can company. In 39 states covered by 444 investigators, it was found that 99.6 per cent of all housewives possess one or more openers. On a sectional basis, can openers are most prevalent in the east, with only one housewife per thousand not considering them standard kitchen equipment. In the midwest, two housewives per thousand lack an opener; in the far west, five; in the south, 14. About 60 per cent of the housewives own modern types of openers—either the kind that is pressed into the can and operated by a handle on top or the kind that operates on the same principle but has the further convenience of being fastened to the wall.

BITS O' BUSINESS—The program sponsored jointly by industry and government to find new sources of fuel, such as oil from shale rock, is due for another boost—Government economists say that small inventories will be a stabilizing influence in the market break. They do not believe the inventory losses industry will have to absorb as the result of a lower price level will be too severe—Shoe manufacturers are beginning to worry as reports come in from retail stores that sales are down. Curiously, the heavy snows throughout the country put a bad crimp in shoe sales. It seems that people just put galoshes and overshoes over their old worn pairs and went merrily on their way.—In England, a public opinion poll reveals that most people would rather work for a private employer than the government, while here, most people want a government job.

1948 Trucks Add Comfort

Two of the comfort and convenience features of the 1948 Chevrolet truck and commercial car series are illustrated by the above view of one of the new light-delivery truck cabs. Gears are now shifted by a lever on the steering column; parking brakes are foot-operated and have been moved to the far left. The improvements clear the floor of obstructions and permit full enjoyment of the larger, roomier cabs.

One Out Of Three Improve Quality

One out of every three farm families in Texas improved the quality of their 1947 cash products, reports Myrtle Murray, extension specialist in home marketing for Texas A and M College. She says 6,623 families show an improvement in their marketing of the home grown products during the year as a result of the educational program in home marketing.

The marketing program conducted by the county home demonstration agents and the specialist, stressed three phases during 1947—improving the quality of home grown products, studying labels to learn better buying, and the buying through pooled orders. The specialist gave 94 demonstrations and the agents gave 1,739 in 128 counties.

Special meetings to train leaders from each club were planned for home demonstration club women and council marketing committees. The specialist conducted 22 of these training meetings. The agents held 35 county group training schools with an attendance of 2,196 leaders from 192 counties.

The specialist reports the farm families showed an increased interest in planning for better quality and better marketing methods. She says the farm women are going farther than just raising foods for sale, and are using their skills to make hobbies pay. Some sell directly to the customers at their front door, and others to merchants in their home towns.

Some counties have organized markets which offer an outlet for their sales. These are homemakers markets, farmers markets, co-operatives, and roadside markets.

Coke Stevenson Hits Communism In Church Talk

Ex-Gov. Coke Stevenson, speaking before a Dublin church meeting which he pointed out could not be held in any country dominated by Communists, Sunday night declared that the basic purpose of Communism is to destroy freedom.

Stevenson appeared before a union meeting of Dublin church congregation at the invitation of Rev. Mr. Oby Nelson, pastor of the Erath County town's First Baptist church. The former governor, an announced candidate for the United States Senate, did not touch on politics in his address.

"The Communists realize they cannot survive if the people are taught the principles that Jesus brought to man on earth nearly two thousand years ago," Stevenson said. "They know that in any competition with God they are certain to lose. So they are against God. They are against religion."

"The Communists stand for the use, by any means of power over people. That is why they destroyed the churches in Russia, why they eliminated the lodges and fraternal organizations, suppressed newspapers and turned youth organizations into military groups. They allow no human consideration to stand in the way of their unbridled lust for power."

"That is why you and I, and every God-fearing, freedom loving man and woman, have no choice but to oppose vigorously and unrelentingly the efforts of Communists to gain a foothold in our country."

State High In Refining And Production

The extreme importance of Texas in the petroleum refining activities of the nation is dramatically illustrated in an exhaustive study of the petroleum refining capacity of the United States, just released in El Paso by Thomas U. Purcell, District Manager of the El Paso office of the U. S. Department of Commerce. The study is entitled "United States Petroleum Refining—War and Post-war."

The report estimates that: The 103 refineries operating in Texas in October 1946 (23 per cent of the U. S. total) account for 28 per cent of the nation's crude distillation capacity. The crude capacity of these plants is half again as large as their cracking capacity, and twice as great as that of California, the second ranking state. Twelve of the 18 principal companies carry on refining operations in Texas, their plants making up three-fourths of the State total.

"United States Petroleum Refining—War and Postwar" provides a detailed analysis of significant developments in the petroleum industry during the years 1940-46, Mr. Purcell said.

While we have no sympathy with the officiousness of Northern politicians who seem to have assumed the responsibility of regulating the social, educational, and domestic affairs of Southern whites, we hope that the recent agitation does result in the Whites voluntarily doing more for the education and uplift of the colored population than they have been doing heretofore. We want to see the Negroes given the best possible educational advantages and absolutely fair treatment in every respect.—Tahoka News.

Sealing and airing at night is the way to prevent that "stale" odor in the lunch pail which may give an unpleasant taste to food carried in it.

COTTON TALKS

It's a far cry from holding the seeds that burst forth into fluffy white fibers to increasing the parts of a radio that bursts into song or speech at the flip of a wrist, but that's just what cottonseed hulls are doing now. University of Tennessee freshman Shirley Schroll shows one of cotton's new products, a tubecray-colored radio cabinet made of cottonseed hull plastic.

Veteran's News

Veterans are not required to pay attorneys or agents for representing them in monetary claims against the Veterans Administration, VA said in answer to numerous recent inquiries.

Fees for such services, VA said, are payable only by the agency itself and are deducted from the monetary benefit due the veteran at the time the claim is allowed.

Fees are fixed by statute at $10 for an original claim and $2 for a claim to obtain increased benefits.

Any agent or attorney who charges or attempts to charge any veteran for such services is subject to penal provisions of the law in addition to loss of his accreditation, VA said.

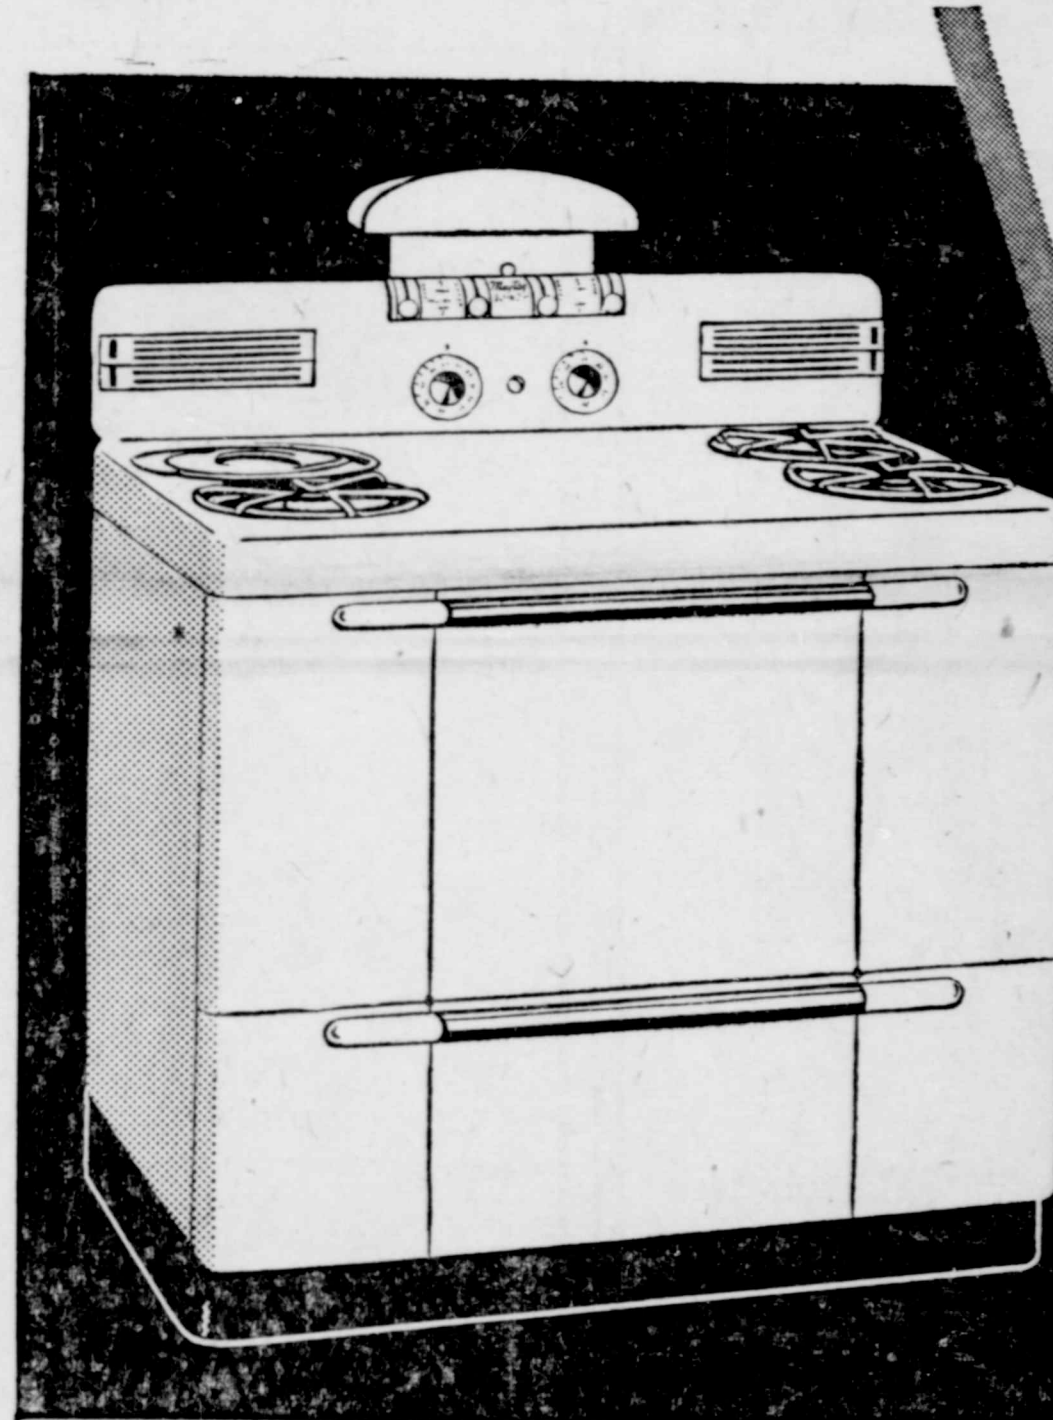

Veterans going to school under the provisions of the G-I Bill cannot transfer to another institution without prior approval from Veterans Administration and still expect VA to pay tuition and subsistence, VA said.

Veterans who plan transfers and still wish to receive educational benefits of the G-I Bill must contact their appropriate VA Regional Office or VA training officer to obtain approval for the change and to insure their continuance on the subsistence rolls.
