South Plains Press Association—Maybe

Last week the Pannandle South Plains Fair Association invited the publishers of the area to a banquet at the Hilton, at noon Friday. In fact there was at least three other organizations that invited the editors to the formal opening of the new Veterans Administration building, and while we were not looking that bunch of editors went into temporary organiza-

Anyway, we had to reply in the negative about attending either function.

We can't, however, figure how those editors got off to such a good start without our presence. Why three of them even got their pictures snatched, being Eee Eye Hill of the Lynn County News, Tahoka, president; H. G. Richards, Anton News, vice-president; and

Wayland Organizes First Senior Class

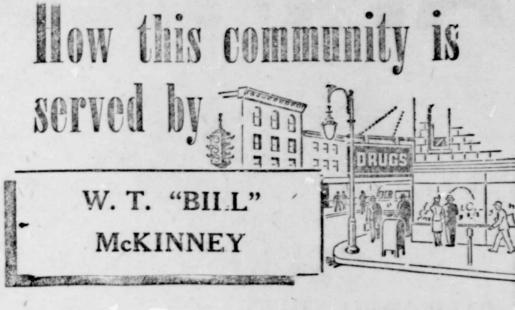

With the organization of the first senior class at Wayland College, since its elevation to senior college status, the Baptist school at Plainview passes another milestone in its history.

Fourteen students eligible for senior standing met recently to organize a class and discuss plans for possible graduation in June or August. Officers elected were Harvey Wolf, president; Avery Sullivan, vice-president; Mrs. T. L. Meeks, secretary. Mrs. S. E. Cranfill, head of the sociology department, was chosen class sponsor.

In the meantime, Hockley counearry only one million dollars in county's warrants. Hockley, like bonds. That much was sold and several of the south plains counreached 43,000,000, and the rest of money to build nearly anything they may want.

Through the insurance coverage we provide, this agency protects business concerns and individuals throughout the community. STEEL MILLS NEED SCRAP METAL FROM YOUR FARM

Supplies of scrap for the steel furnaces are critically low. The furnaces thrive on a diet of about equal portions of pig iron and scrap. More scrap is urgently needed, if there is to be enough steel for making farm implements and countless other products. More than three million tons of steel scrap lie idle on America's farms, according to the latest estimates - scrap that only litters up the place, scrap that is wasted where it is. How much is there on your farm? How about the old car body, that rusted cultivator, those old plow bottoms, discarded tools? Every bit helps - and it is needed now.
