

New Sand Area May Be Opened In Eunice Pool

Texas Well Flowing From Sand at 3755 Feet— Three More Locations Made in Eddy County— Driller Killed.

Opening of what appears to be a new sand pool in the east edge of the Eunice district headlines the Lea county oil news for the week. Developments also tend to indicate that Eddy county will get an increasing oil play during the coming months as three of the thirteen locations were made in the Eddy sector the past week.

The new Eunice well is the Texas Company, Alexander No. 1, SW sec. 5-21-37. According to reports the Alexander topped the pay at 3,705 feet and gas with oil blew tools forty feet up in the hole, sticking them. The well has shut down in the sand at 3755 feet for test and made thirty six barrels in three hours. Drillers were still testing production, but additional information is not available.

Worker Killed
Field reports say a worker was killed and another was seriously injured while the two were at work on a wildcat in Lea county in the Hershback et al., Alston No. 1, NE sec. 31-17-37. The accident occurred when a depth of 1675 feet had been reached and as drillers were pulling drill pipe the derrick collapsed with fatal results for one.

Another wildcat in the east edge of Lea county, the Brown and Reynolds, Parcel No. 1, sec. 8-21-38 has failed thus far to obtain commercial production from drilling deeper or from acidization. Drilled to a total depth of 4400 feet the Parcel was plugged back to 4390 after developing a show of sulphur water. The well will probably be reacidized.

The largest well of the week was completed in the Monument district in the Phillips Petroleum Corp., Mex 1, NE sec. 30-20-37, which came in for an initial production of 150 barrels an hour. Another well in the same area rating near the Phillips producer was the Laughlin 2 of the Ohio Oil Co., NW sec. 9-20-37, which flowed at the rate of 110 barrels an hour. Other producers finished at Monument were the Ohio, McGrail 2, SW sec. 26-19-36, which flowed forty barrels an hour when drilled to 4005 feet. Also the Continental Oil Co., Skargis 1, SE sec. 24-20-37, which flowed at the rate of twenty one barrels an hour when drilled to 3900 feet. Also the Amerasia Oil Co., Laughlin 1, NW sec. 9-20-37, which came in for a natural production of ninety barrels an hour flowing from 3860 feet. The Skelly Oil Co., brought in its Van Etten 3, SW sec. 9-20-37 for a flow of 400 barrels in hour in three hours from 3863 feet. In the Cooper field, Lea county the Continental, Danciger 1, NE sec. 8-23-36, flowed forty five barrels an hour through tubing from 3790 feet.

A telegram Friday from W. A. Wunsch, state secretary of the 1937 crop, program to Fred Barham, county agent at Carlsbad conveys the information that the start of the 1937 sign up program had been delayed. Mr. Wunsch stated it was impossible to have acreage and productivity of Eddy county approved in time to have started the sign up Monday as the state committee did not meet until March 30th.

County agent Barham had previously given out the information that his office expected to start signing up the 1937 work sheets on March 29th.

Baby Drowned In An Irrigation Ditch Yesterday

Josephine Garcia, fifteen months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Garcia, living on the Gates farm two miles east of Artesia was drowned in an irrigation ditch late yesterday afternoon. A passing motorist noticed the body floating on the water and driving into town notified J. C. Floore, city marshal. Mr. Floore went immediately and removed the body. He said the child had probably accidentally fallen into the ditch. The body had apparently floated down the ditch about a quarter of a mile. The body was recovered about 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed at an early hour this morning, so far as it could be learned.

Oil Property to Bring New Mexico $150,000 Revenue

SANTA FE.—The addition of approximately $6,000,000 to the tax rolls over the six-year period, 1931-1936 inclusive, followed March 24, the supreme court's June, 1936, order, making oil property and equipment subject to tax.

Chief State Tax Commissioner Ben D. Luchini, who said the amount represented "roughly" the valuation increases for Lea, Eddy and San Juan counties, estimated the total revenue to be derived at an approximate $150,000.

The revenue, representing taxes back as far as 1931, would be distributed among state, county, city and school district governments.

Luchini's statement followed a hearing attended by more than a score of oil company representatives and public officials, called for fixing assessment valuations on the omitted property.

The action conformed with the supreme court's order, which followed a long court history of the 1925 oil production tax. That tax contained the provision that it was to be "in lieu of all other taxes" on oil and gas wells or their production.

As finally decided by the supreme court, the tax commission was directed to assess taxes against oil well property and equipment, back in 1931.

These were the valuations of wells decided upon by the commission after hearings on the 24th:

Wells up to depth of 2300 feet, $375; 2300 to 3000 feet $750; 3000 to 3500 feet, $1,125; 3500 to 4500 feet, $1,625; more than 4500 feet, $2,125.

Those valuations will be applicable for the years 1931 to 1936, inclusive. Nothing was said about 1937 valuations, Luchini said.

Easter Brings 6 Inch Snow to the Mountain District

Snow Falls East to Cle- ment Pasture — Low Temperature Here Kills Practically All Fruit In Area.

The Easter season ushered in cold weather here Sunday, drove worshippers from the City Park to the First Methodist church for the community Easter sunrise service and ended up by blanketing Sunday night to a depth of six inches or more. According to Pat Riley, mail carrier, the snow measured six inches at Sacramento and extended toward the valley as far as the Clements pasture. The fall was heavier toward the summit.

Sunday morning the temperature dropped to twenty three degrees here, but had moderated five degrees on the following morning. Scattering orchards of early fruit had been killed as well as apples, pears and other fruit. With the possible exception of the mountain district, little if any fruit will be grown in the middle valley this year. Col. A. T. Woods of the Woods farm east of Artesia reported all of his fruit had been killed.

While no comparative data is available, the past winter and early spring has brought more moisture to the mountain and range district to the west than in several years. Ranchers in the mountain district report numerous wet weather springs are flowing freely and in some districts the snow fall has been greater than in the past six or seven years. Snowfall at Weed and above for the season totals from forty to fifty inches with the total fall even greater in the vicinity of Cloudercroft.

The biggest snowfall of the district occurred in the Ruidoso section where a ten inch fall was reported. The snowfall extended to within seventeen miles of Roswell. Damage was reported to the early fruit in the Hondo valley. At the Ruidoso the mercury dropped to twelve degrees above zero.

Some losses occurred to sheepmen in the Cap Rock section it was said.

All WPA Forces Laid Off Here In Drastic Cut

All WPA forces have been laid off, effective March 30th, Roscoe Wilson, WPA foreman was notified here. The order was said to have been in compliance from headquarters in the WPA a further reduction to make a further reduction in the WPA numbers in New Mexico and the order affects 160 men in this district.

Officials yesterday were making a strenuous effort to retain a sufficient number of men to finish the curb and gutter and the blacktopping projects. The blacktopping construction will be seriously handicapped unless a skeleton force is retained, H. G. Watson, mayor said yesterday. The blacktopping work will be finished in another ten days if favorable weather prevails and enough help is kept to keep the work going. Only about four blocks of curb and gutter remains to be completed.

Mayor Watson also called attention to the necessity of property owners paying their prorata share of the blacktopping as soon as amounts for each piece of property have been figured. "The city has no money to pay for the blacktopping and it is absolutely necessary for the property owner to pay the blacktopping as soon as cost figures are available," he said.

Potash Worker Killed in Wreck

Driskill Irvin, 26 years old, employee at the Potash Company of America refinery, succumbed to internal injuries at a Carlsbad hospital Sunday night, the result of an automobile accident in which R. E. Walling, 30, fellow refinery worker, was seriously injured.

Irvin, who was a former Littlefield, Texas, high school football hero and son of Lynn Irvin, former Olton, Texas, sheriff, died at 9:30 p. m., three hours after his car overturned five times on the highway five miles east of Carlsbad.

High speed and a blowout were blamed for the accident, which was witnessed by Dr. L. H. Pate, who was driving about 100 yards behind Irvin at the time of the fatal crash.

Dr. Pate said Irvin's car passed him at a high rate of speed, then started weaving and hit loose gravel on the roadside and started rolling. They were traveling westward.

FISHING SEASON OPENS TODAY

The fishing season opens today in Chaves and Eddy counties lasting for fifteen days until April 15th and then will be reopened for forty five days, reopening again on June 1. With the weather getting warmer local fishermen are expected to flock to the streams and lakes in unusual numbers. A few local fishermen have found fishing good in the Pecos river, where deep holes occur. The favorite cat fishing spot is at the confluence of the Pecos and Pecos rivers. Here it is nothing unusual to catch a large cat fish. The Kaiser and Clark lakes are expected to be the favored lake fishing spots.

Dexter Hatchery Production Mark at 2,000,000 Fish

Federal Fish Hatchery at Dexter Expected to Set New Record—Old State Hatchery May Produce 1,000,000.

Two million fish is the production mark for the 1937 season set by the federal fish hatchery at Dexter, J. Q. Corman, superintendent of the hatchery announced Tuesday.

"This figure may be too high—2,000,000 is a lot of fish—but unless something new unforeseen occurs, I believe we will reach the figure," Mr. Corman said while discussing the possibilities of the Dexter federal hatchery this year.

Various fish-eating birds, especially the loon and what are commonly known as the fish ducks, played havoc with much of the brood stock at the Dexter hatchery during the winter. However, brood fish are now being obtained from various sources and with ordinary "breaks", as it has been expressed, the production of the Dexter hatchery this year is expected to establish an all-time record.

Black bass, broom, catfish and crappie will be the species which will be produced at the Dexter hatchery this season. So far only partial success has been attained with crappie, the theory being that sunlight destroyed the eggs of these species because of the clearness and shallowness of the water.

However, arrangements have been made to partially shade the crappie eggs this season and the officials are hopeful that they will have better success.

The former state hatchery, north of Dexter, will be used this season for the production of broom, and 1,000,000 of these fish are expected to be produced in this hatchery alone.

Black bass have always done exceptionally well at the Dexter hatchery. The black bass brood stock is in excellent condition this year and all species of fish are expected to start spawning as soon as the warm days begin.

Lambing Season Started With Good Outlook for Crop

Sheepmen will soon be in the midst of the lambing season. In fact the lambing season has started on some ranches and will be general by April the 10th. Lambing so far has been confined to the yearling herds and due to the cold weather loss has been experienced where herds are not properly protected and where extreme care has not been used.

Prospects for a good season are unusually bright due to the condition of the range, which is probably the best in years. The crop on some ranges may average near 100 percent or better, where the number may be boosted by twins and triplets.

IF LIFE BEGINS AT 40—

History discloses many exceptions to the "new blood" theory that a man's usefulness ends when he becomes 65 or 70 years of age. Moses was 120 when he gave the world the Ten Commandments. Augustus Caesar ruled wisely and well 17 years after he was 70. Solon, one of the world's greatest law makers worked until he was 80. Michael Angelo gave the world some of its finest art between the age of 70 and 89.

Charlemagne didn't quit at 70. Gladstone was active until he was 87. Look at John Marshall at 80, Confucius at 73, John Quincy Adams at 81, Noah Webster a wonder in words at 85, and Henry Clay at his best at 75. What about Edison in the years he worked past 65, or the abundant life of Queen Victoria until she was 82? Observe Paderewski at 77, and Titian painting at 93. How about Benjamin Franklin at 84, William Cullen Bryant at 84, James Madison at 85, Susan B. Anthony at 80, Oliver Wendell Holmes at 86, Clara Barton working in Cuba at 78, Galileo still at work at 74, Luther Burbank with 3,000 experiments going at 77, Tennyson writing "Crossing the Bar" at 80, and many more of the truly great, who gave their finest works and greatest services to mankind after they had reached the age of 70.

On the other hand, Jefferson was only thirty-three when he drafted the Declaration of Independence, Martin Luther was twenty-nine when he wrote the manifesto that led to the Reformation. John Calvin was 26 when he wrote "The Institutes of Theology." Patrick Henry was 27 when he made his speech against the Stamp Act. Alexander Hamilton was aid-de-camp of Washington at 20, and at 32 secretary of the treasury. Danton, the greatest figure in the French Revolution was 30 when it began and 35 when he was beheaded. And Napoleon was 27 when he was appointed to the command of the Army of Italy, and 35 when he crowned himself Emperor of the French.—Swiped.

LIBERTY VERSUS SIT DOWN STRIKERS

The majority of the American people have failed to see the issue of liberty in the present sit down strike epidemic, which has swept the nation. By nature the people of the United States are generally sympathetic with any struggle for liberty, or if the matter involves better wages or better hours for the laborers, but aside from aiding the personal ambition of John Lewis, they have failed to see any good from the present tendency of workers to emulate Europe in turning against organized society.

The Kansas City Star asks the question where is the issue of liberty in a struggle of this kind and discussing the Detroit strike situation continues:

American workers have an unquestioned right to strike. The law protects them in that right. But the protection can be offered only when the right is exercised in a legal manner. Liberty accords the rights and it sets the limit upon it in order that the rights of others may be protected. When the law is held at naught in the name of liberty, there can be neither law nor liberty for anybody.

In this instance, the workers themselves are endangering liberty. There is the opportunity to seek adjustment of their grievances by peaceable means. But the strike leaders reject it. They refuse to meet with a governor's committee to help work out a solution of the problem of strife. Thereby they are putting themselves in the position of preferring strife to peace. At the same time they are encouraging the workers in a defiance of the law.

The fruits of that can be neither liberty nor a final if even an immediate betterment of the workers' position. It is not the procedure that promotes good will or produces lasting benefits. From the long run view labor cannot afford to use it nor can authorities afford to tolerate defiance of the law.

BOOSTING CLOUDCROFT FOR PLACE FOR WINTER SPORTS

Cloudcroft, famous New Mexico summer resort, is being advanced by the sport editor of the El Paso Times as a winter resort. The snowfall has been heavy there this winter, providing good sledding and skiing. Says Paxton H. Dent:

It seems to us that winter sports really would have more possibilities at Cloudcroft than summer sports. Competition in the summer resort field is plenty keen. There is no winter resort in the entire southwest. It wouldn't take a lot of money to clear a ski course on the side of one of those big hills, pack it down, and keep it in condition most of the winter. It wouldn't take a lot of money to pack a bobsled course and keep it in condition. Most of the participants would rent equipment. Maybe we are wrong, but it seems a small lake for skating might be provided in one of the small valleys. These things, it seems to us, would prove mighty popular for southwestern sports followers, especially on the week-ends.—Albuquerque Journal.

THE HATCH PROPOSAL

Of all the compromises suggested in the present supreme court controversy, that of U. S. Senator Hatch sound the most logical. Hatch advocates changing the court gradually and by piecemeal rather than the swift alteration provided in the Roosevelt court bill. The proposal is designed to at least get away from the charge that Roosevelt is trying to pack the court, which many people fear. Hatch, regarded as a key man in the present struggle, has proposed to limit the appointment of new supreme court justices to one a year, whereas under the Roosevelt plan, six new justices should be appointed immediately if the six justices over seventy years of age did not retire immediately. The proposal would preclude the possibility of any administration gaining control over the supreme court.

The Carlsbad Argus does not approve of the cut in the relief forces made by the state administration and calls Eddy county the step child of the democratic party. "Pears" like we have heard that charge made before.

JOB PRINTING AT THE ADVOCATE

Chislings

Its an ill wind that blows nobody good. Mighty near every time C. J. Dexter goes to California he brings back valuable information. On his recent trip he went horse-back riding several times and when he arrived here he got so mad over his business affairs he decided to stage a sit down strike, but a few minutes trial convinced him of the folly of his efforts. He later is alleged to have sent Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan a telegram urging him to put the sit down strikers on horses and telling them to ride like hell.

Maybe you have heard about the PWA worker who asked for compensation because of an injured shoulder. The termites are alleged to have eaten the handle on the shovel in two and the worker fell, injuring his shoulder.

In a little Kansas town the editor and merchant were discussing the respective virtues of billboard and newspaper advertising. The merchant maintained that more people read the billboards than newspapers. A week later the merchant tearing into the newspaper office to learn why his wife's mother's obituary had not appeared in the paper, especially after he'd wrote it and brought it in himself.

"I knew you'd want it read by the people," said the editor, "So I took it out and mailed it to one of your billboards."—Sedan Journal.

Now that we have pretty well zoned the Artesia professional men including doctors, dentists etc., in the block behind the bank, we wondered for a long time why Doc. Doss did not put some livery stables south of the Clarke building, but Doc. answered our question satisfactorily. He said there were enough donkeys in the block already.

The two grandchildren of Ma. Folkner took her to the circus Monday. And by the way, Ma is sorter getting high toned since she moved to the old bank corner. According to the sign over the door, she spells the name Folkner with a instead of an o.

Take it from Ed Gray night mares are dangerous and should never be indulged in. Ed staged a coming out party Sunday with his face all skinned up and said the skinned face was the result of a night mare, when he dreamed he was falling off a high building and in his sleep made a flying tackle from the bed to the floor. Evidently his landing wasn't very graceful. Anyway that is his and our story and we are going to stick with it.

Answering several inquiries as to why the story of C. R. Blocker being locked in the bath room of a Carlsbad hotel was never mentioned, let us hasten to assure our readers that it was a fact, but the reason it was never mentioned was because it happened at a Jackson day dinner and was regarded as a dirty democratic trick. Some of Blocker's pals are believed to have wanted to go into a confidential huddle and took this means of getting shed of him, when he had his safety belt on ready to step out in society.

This sit down strike movement is spreading and has already invaded the Artesia farming area. E. C. Higgins has an old hen staging a sit down strike on his farm and according to Hig the old hen is as hard to get along with as some of the workers in the industrial sections and there is about as much sense to the hen's sit down strike as some others we have heard about.

The old hen absolutely refuses to sit on eggs and quarrels with Hig every time he goes near her.

BOARDS HAVE NO POWER OVER LIQUOR LAWS

Assistant Attorney General Fred J. Frederici held Thursday that city councils and boards of county commissioners have no power to shorten the opening and closing hours governing dispensers, retailers and clubs under the 1937 liquor act.

Such establishments, he told William G. Johnson, of the bureau of revenue's division of liquor control, have the "absolute right" to sell between 7:00 a.m. Saturday until 2:00 a. m. Sunday, and between 8:00 p. m. and midnight on general election days.

SHORT CALF CROP

Ranchers report the prospects for a short calf crop, following an unusually large crop last spring. The calving season is underway in many sections and will probably be finished in April. Cattle and livestock are in good flesh considering the season and the condition of the range above normal so far as the moisture is concerned. Spring grass and weeds are coming nicely and should make a rapid growth as soon as cold weather is out of the way.

The thirteenth legislature which recently adjourned authorized an issue of ten million dollars in debentures or bonds for the construction of roads in New Mexico, says the Taxpayers association. For the payment of interest and principal of these bonds, gasoline taxes, motor vehicle licenses and other revenues of the state road fund are pledged. It is the largest amount of indebtedness ever authorized for the state of New Mexico. The next highest was by the legislature of 1929 when an issue of $5,600,000 was authorized. It should be noted that of the $10,000,000 authorized by the thirteenth legislature only $1,140,000 have been sold.

The statement shows a total of $25,100,000 of highway debentures, authorized over a period of ten years by six legislatures of which $5,750,000 have been paid, leaving $19,350,000 outstanding or authorized.

Wreck Sends 7 to Eunice Hospital

A mother of eight children was reported to be dying Sunday night while her husband, four of their children and another man were receiving treatment for serious injuries they received Saturday night in an automobile accident on the Jal highway, the Hobbs News Monday reported.

Attendees at the Eunice hospital reported that little hope is being held for the recovery of Mrs. Nicl Short, 41, from injuries she received when the Model T Ford in which she, her husband and six of the children were occupying when it was struck by an automobile driven by Eldon Armstrong of Eunice at 7:00 o'clock Saturday night, eight miles north of Jal.

Mrs. Short, an expectant mother of a ninth child, was rushed to the Eunice hospital immediately following the accident. Her husband Wiley Short, 42, and their children Dorothy 11, Murray 10, Ralph 7, and David 5 were taken to the hospital and later removed to the Eunice City Hall, where they are receiving treatment, State Policeman Jackson reported.

Armstrong was brought to the Hobbs General hospital where attendants reported he is suffering from chest injuries and lacerations of the face and chin.

Two other children of the Shorts, Mirian, 14, and Sally Ann 4, who were in the automobile escaped injury. The Shorts also have two sons who were not accompanying them.

Director to Meet State Graziers

WASHINGTON.—Farrington R. Carpenter, grazing director, will conduct a personal investigation into complaints from New Mexico against administration of the Taylor Grazing act.

Carpenter wrote Senator Hatch last week who had transmitted complaints to the bureau, that he expected to meet disgruntled stockmen at Deming, New Mexico, within a week.

"More dissatisfaction has come to the surface in New Mexico than any other state," Carpenter wrote, "And nearly 90 per cent of that has come from one particular spot around Roswell, so there is every reason to believe something is wrong, at least in that locality."

Carpenter told Hatch that he is trying to rectify delays in appeals from rulings of the regional grazier.

DELBERT MUNCY ESCAPES SCHOOL BLAST

A letter received by the Harve Muncy family the latter part of the week from Mrs. Helen Groh, nee Helen Muncy, tells of some of the horrors connected with the New London, Texas school blast tragedy which occurred the 19th of March. Until the letter was received, friends and relatives here and at Hope had expressed uneasiness relative to the safety of Delbert Muncy, son of Mrs. Groh and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Harve Muncy. The Grohs live about four miles from the New London school, but according to Mrs. Groh's letter, earlier in the season Delbert decided to attend the Gaston school instead of the New London school and thereby escaped the consequences of the blast.

A VANISHING ART

THE totem pole, symbol of achievement among families of the West Coast Indians of North America, is disappearing. The art of carving and painting, with native dyes, these picturesque monuments to valor and legend, now is known to so few of the older members of Pacific Coast tribes that both the United States and Canadian Governments have taken steps to preserve all authentic totem poles in their respective territories.

Except for some museum pieces, totem poles are unknown to people who live east of the Rockies, but they are items of intense interest to tourists and travelers to Alaska. The shaded portions of the map (inset) show where the best examples are now to be found. The layout illustrates two excellent examples of this vanishing Indian art. Right is a splendid totem pole at Sitka, Alaska, and below is a strange animal designed by an ancient native of Kitwanga, B. C., to guard his village against intrusion by evil spirits.

THE INSANITY PLEA

Last month Fred Bailey, 59, a former preacher, believing after prolonged study of the Bible that he had been given a "mission" to perform, shot and killed three relief officials in Denver.

Was he insane?
We must go back to the year 1843 when a certain McNaughten under delusion that he was persecuted by Sir Robert Peel killed that statesman's secretary. He was acquitted of the charge of murder on the plea of insanity. But the case caused so much discussion that the law lords of the British upper house were asked to decide the hypothetical question of what does constitute insanity. Then was made the famous McNaughten ruling that to prove his client "insane" a lawyer must show either that the criminal did not know the nature of his act or that if he did know its nature then he did not know that the act was wrong.

Doctors ever since have challenged this rule because it leaves undefended the victim of an irresistible impulse who nevertheless knows what he is doing and knows it to be wrong. But the lawyers retort that to excuse a man on the ground that he has an irresistible impulse is to leave too large a loophole. About all you can say of such an impulse is that as a matter of fact it has not been resisted. Can anyone prove that it could not have been resisted?

So with the exception of a very few of the states America as well as England adheres to the McNaughten rules.

Unfortunately we are all much more interested in retributive justice than in the public safety. Ex-reverend Bailey had done some shooting in Omaha as far back as May, 1934. If we were to attend to such gentlemen before they commit murder instead of arguing about what to do with them afterwards, we should save more lives. How? Well, that is another story, in fact two other stories, that belong more properly than does this one in a column on public health.

Deepest Well On Gulf Coast Is Producing

PONCA CITY, Oklahoma—Promise of a new oil pool in Louisiana was seen recently with announcement by Continental Oil company that its Ophe Herbert Well No. 1, Vermillion Parish, is producing 50 barrels of high gravity oil and 2,000,000 cubic feet of gas, after having been drilled to 12,216 feet and then plugged back to 7,675 feet.

The Herbert Well, second deepest ever drilled in the United States and the deepest on the Gulf coast, encountered a high pressure sand with good saturation from 11,198 to 12,216 feet. This sand was never tested due to mechanical difficulties and the small size of the hole at that depth. A sand at 11,795 feet showed considerable gas and 3,650 pounds pressure, but was cemented off to enable testing of other sands further up in the hole.

After plugging, the 5 and 7-inch casing was perforated with 28 holes from 7,666 to 7,675 feet, from which sand the 50 barrel daily production was obtained.

Oil men here are of the opinion that the Herbert Well forecasts the deepest commercial production yet found in the United States. The only well ever drilled deeper was the McElroy No. 103, in West Texas, which was abandoned at 12,786 feet.

Miss Vena Gault, of Albuquerque, New Mexico, sister of Mrs. Howard Stroup spent the week end in Artesia with the Howard Stroups. Mr. and Mrs. Stroup drove her as far as Roswell on Sunday afternoon.

Chevrolet Shorts

The Chevrolet purchasing department bought enough tires in 1936 to make a stack 466 miles high. Or if divided into 1,500 equal stacks each pile would be higher than the Empire State building.

The tubing bought in a year, by Chevrolet, if laid out in one piece would extend more than 12,500 miles—halfway around the earth at the equator?

If all the upholstery and cloth used to trim Chevrolet bodies in 1936 were in one roll a foot wide, that roll would stretch from New York to San Francisco?

This same upholstering material would make 6,500,000 overcoats?

The total amount of material moved by the Chevrolet traffic department in a year, if figured on a ton basis, would fill nearly 80 per cent of all the box cars owned by all the railroads in the country?

If a whole year's traffic were loaded in one train of box cars, with you standing by the engine, and the train started ahead and kept moving constantly at average freight train speed (15.9 m. p. h.), you would have to stand there more than 12 days and nights before the end of the train was in sight?

Not one bolt, rivet, screw or nail is used in the construction of the new Chevrolet bodies? The solid steel turret top, steel double cowl, steel body panels, and steel floors are formed into an integral steel structure by the new unisteel construction? The body is assembled entirely by welding?

Chevrolet has made things easier for filling stations attendants this year, by placing all refueling operations on the right-hand side of the car? Fuel tank, crankcase oil filler intake, and radiator fillers are all on the curb side of the car, out of the traffic lanes? So is the battery cover?

The radiator core of the new 1937 Chevrolet is removable without the removal of the radiator grille—an innovation?

Flag Tourney to Be Staged at the Golf Course Soon

Plans are underway to stage a flag tourney at the Artesia golf course and to endeavor to renew interest in the club as a civic asset, members said yesterday. Improvements at the course, two miles west of Artesia have continued during the winter months with a view to making the course more attractive for the members and to provide a picnic ground for those who care for an occasional outing. The fairways have been improved and several additional trees have been planted and ditches run to the new tree plantings so that adequate irrigation water might be provided.

The tourney committee composed of Oscar Samelson, Jack Clady, Boone Barnett and Fred Henderson met yesterday and set April 10 and 11 as the dates of the flag tourney.

The flag tourney will be followed by a Scotch tourney and at the close of the flag tourney a barbecue will be served on the course for members and their families. The improved course is a real asset to the community and it is hoped that members will respond by paying their dues and thus help to finance the upkeep of the project. The course not only provides the necessary recreation for those who like to play golf, but provides a place for the stranger or the visitor, who may wish to play golf.

SHALLOW CONTOUR FURROW SAVES SOIL AND MOISTURE

Shallow furrows, cut by an ordinary plow following the contours of sloping and hilly pastures at right angles to the slope, rank among the least expensive and most effective of erosion-control and water-conserving measures, according to Charles R. Enlow, chief agronomist of the Soil Conservation Service.

Studies indicate that shallow furrows, close together, give better results than deep furrows farther apart. Shallow furrows and more of them do not turn infertile subsoil to the surface and do not prevent passage of farm machinery over the ground.

Calculations made by the service give a good idea of the amount of water which contour furrows hold. For example, each linear foot of contour furrow six inches deep and 18 inches wide will hold about 5.61 gallons of water. Thus, the water-holding capacity of contour furrows on a 160-acre pasture, with furrows averaging twenty feet apart, is at least 2,250,000 gallons of water.

"Our observations show that contour furrows in pastures will hold a considerable share of the rain and melting snow where it falls and where it will do the most good," says Enlow. "Furrows have been plowed under widely varying climatic, soil, and slope conditions, and in almost all instances they have held water, prevented quick run-off, and encouraged absorption of moisture. These facts have been established by measuring and comparing penetration on contoured pastures with adjacent pastures not contoured-furrowed."

Miss Illa Mae Hastings, a teacher in La Force, Texas, and the daughter of Mrs. Florence Hastings, spent the Easter holiday with her mother in Artesia.

Cattlemen Oppose Federal Grazing Rules at Meeting

The New Mexico Cattle Growers association in its twenty-third annual convention endorsed an eighteen point program at Raton Saturday including opposition to the federal grazing land capacity rating, the acquisition of additional lands for Indian use and reciprocal trade agreements.

Santa Fe was selected by a two-vote margin over Clovis as the 1938 meeting place and A. D. Brownfield, Florida, was re-elected president, before the meeting adjourned.

Vice presidents named were C. W. Jackson, Las Vegas; J. V. Taylor, Carrizozo; O. M. Lee, Alamogordo; and Eugene Hayward, Cimarron.

Previously A. D. Molohon, chief of range management, division of grazing, Salt Lake City, warmly defended the work of the state advisory boards in New Mexico.

"I have personal knowledge," he said, "the advisory boards have leaned over backwards to be fair and accusations that the boards have favored the large grazers are grossly unjust."

"Of the sixteen hundred permits issued, fifty-three per cent went to growers with less than a hundred head and eighty four per cent with less than five hundred."

"Most of the complaints from New Mexico districts are from people who think this is a share-the-wealth movement."

The cattle growers in their resolutions urged the immediate raising of duty on imported canned beef to fifty per cent; that the transportation of stolen livestock across state lines be made a federal offense and requested congress to secure additional federal funds for range research, particularly in the chemical analysis of range forage plants, reseeding and in control and eradication of poisonous plants.

The resolution against acquisition of more lands for Indian use was pointed primarily at the National Department of Indian Affairs' proposal to extend the boundary of the Navajo reservation in New Mexico.
