'Welcome Wagon' Service Comes To Community

There's something new in Artesia—"Welcome Wagon," an organization, as well as an idea, to make newcomers feel at home and welcome.

The idea in Artesia is personified by Mrs. Leroy Cranford, the Welcome Wagon Service hostess for the community.

Briefly, the idea is this: Local businessmen donate gifts, which are put into gayly decorated baskets, to be presented to families or members of families on five of the most important times of their lives—the birth of a child...

Mrs. Cranford said the gesture of hospitality is an expression of congratulation or welcome from various merchants, who wish to express their personal greetings in an effective manner.

With a friendly greeting, Mrs. Cranford will give to newcomers a map of the city, helpful information on shopping centers, clubs, churches, and the like.

She will inform them of campaigns and drives in which they might be interested, and at this time she will remind families that under the new provisions of the Social Security Act, maids and other domestic servants are included.

Mrs. Cranford said this information at times will be of more importance to newcomers than the gift certificates presented by the Welcome Wagon hostess.

But oftentimes the hostess may spend as much as an hour in a home visiting and presenting a newcomer gifts and courtesy cards from leading merchants who are sponsors of Welcome Wagon Service.

The courtesy cards serve as introductions to friendly service and new acquaintances, with the merchants inviting the new residents to visit their stores, where they will receive a cordial welcome at all times.

Mrs. Cranford has been a resident of North Eddy County about 15 years and of Artesia the last four years. Prior to coming to Artesia, Mr. and Mrs. Cranford and three children lived at Maljamar and Loco Hills.

Jackie Dean Brown Is Charged Manslaughter of Bob Beane

Jackie Dean Brown, 19-year-old Artesia youth, is being held in the Eddy County jail at Carlsbad in connection with the hit-run death on a Carlsbad street of Robert J. (Bob) Beane early Saturday night.

Brown was booked at the sheriff's office some time after Beane's death on a charge of involuntary manslaughter.

Richard Robinson, assistant district attorney, said the death of Beane was the result of a hit-run accident and that Brown was the owner of the car which killed him.

An inquest was scheduled for 4 o'clock Monday afternoon in Carlsbad.

Time of the accident was set at about 7:40 o'clock Saturday night and the place near Ash and Church, only a few steps from Beane's home at 1007 West Church.

Police said the death car was traveling east on Church Street. The assistant district attorney said Brown was accompanied by two boys and two girls. They were Shirley Mills, Pat Richardson, Charles Bentley, and Jerry Oliver Dearmore. Officers at Carlsbad said Brown was found at the American Legion hut some time after the accident and that his car was found abandoned on Lucky Street. Brown reported the theft of his car to the sheriff's office about 8:45 o'clock. When the car was recovered, it bore evidence of having collided with or struck some object, officers said. A city bus driver told officers that he had let Beane off his American Legion bus at the Ash and Church corner at 7:40 o'clock and that a few moments later he saw a car traveling east at a high rate of speed on Church and that then he heard a sound, presumed to have been that of the car striking Beane. Brown has been picked up by Artesia police several times on traffic charges, including speeding.

Sentence is expected to be passed the latter part of this week or the first of next week on Paul H. Breithaupt, 43, who was found guilty Thursday in Eddy County District Court of involuntary manslaughter in the deaths of three Arizona women in an automobile accident at Seven Rivers last Dec. 30. District Judge C. Roy Anderson is to complete the criminal docket of the present court session about Thursday, after which he will pass sentence in this and other cases. Breithaupt was the driver of a pick-up on Highway 285, which collided with a car in which Mrs. Kitty C. Aitkens, Alice Lonbaken, and Janice Lonbaken were riding. Two of the women were instantly killed and the third died in a Carlsbad hospital a few hours later. The driver of the truck was also seriously injured, suffering a skull fracture, and fractures of a shoulder and elbow. State Police Officer A. B. Munsey of Artesia testified at the trial that a whiskey bottle containing a small amount of whiskey was found in the glove compartment of the pick-up. Breithaupt testified that he had purchased the whiskey the night prior while returning from Phoenix to Artesia, where he was employed by the Zee Development Company on a residential project. Overflowing Oil And Burned Roast Cause Two Alarms Burning oil which had overflowed from a stove and a burned roast were the causes of two runs by Artesia firemen on Saturday. The first alarm was at 5:10 o'clock Saturday morning, when overflowing oil from an oil stove which had just been turned on caused a fire on the floor, with little damage. One of the trucks was sent to the Jim Berry farm southeast of the city at 11:30 o'clock that morning, but they found there was no fire, but rather a badly burned roast in the oven, smoke from which did some damage.

Questions on Price Control To Be Answered

The meeting is open to businessmen by courtesy of Artesia Lions Club, of which Floyd Springer is president, and Jack Fautleroy, program chairman, because the club is relinquishing its regular program for this community service. Petty Furthers Plans for Cancer Drive This Month

As the annual campaign of the American Cancer Society in North Eddy County starts off for the calendar month of April, Ralph Petty, local chairman, is making plans for every possible means of contact with the public by way of informing them of the magnitude of the cancer problem and the reasons funds are badly needed. Petty said Monday talks at meetings of the various service clubs and other organizations, as well as talks on the radio, are being arranged throughout the month, through the co-operation of Beta Sigma Phi sorority. County coin containers were distributed to places of business Monday by Girl Scouts. Petty said the cans make a convenient way to contribute to the annual campaign, as well as representing an invitation for one to drop his change in them in addition to more substantial donations. One may contribute by making his check out to "Cancer" and mailing it to "Cancer, Artesia," and it will be properly delivered, with credit given to the local organization headed by Petty.

Knife-Fork Speaker Hits Hard at What's Right and Wrong With America

As American as a bacon and eggs breakfast and as concise and accurate as a wirephoto was the speech given by Gerhart H. Segar at the Artesia Knife and Fork Club dinner at 7 o'clock Saturday night in Masonic Temple. His speech was titled "What Makes America Tick," and his speech did just that—ticked with precision, insight, common sense, and a wonderful sense of humor. No milk and water talk, his speech hit hard at what was wrong, as well as what is right, with America. The speaker now a naturalized American, was born in Germany and is, described himself, "as German in appearance, a squarehead, blue-eyed, as Hitler would have liked to have been."

Democracy in Action

On the black ink side of the ledger, he gave no airy theories, but brought the glory of democracy home in down-to-earth cases. He said that what makes America salient in this point is: "That we accept a man on his say-so; that it is possible to telephone and talk to a general or other high-ranking government official, whereas in Europe one must call at his office and present an avalanche of documents to prove his identity. He lauded the information, complete, accurate, unbiased, on all policies, available from the Government Printing Office. Concluding his talk he praised the basic documents of America, the Declaration of Independence, and the Constitution, as written by men of keen intellects whose work, done in the "horse and buggy age" (Continued on page six)

Bulldog Netters Crush Cavemen For Third Win

Continuing their triumphant blitzkrieg on the courts, Artesia High School tennis team rolled up its third straight win and its second victory over the same opponent this season when the Bulldog netters beat Carlsbad High School Cavemen 7-2 on Saturday morning in the Eddy County capital.

The Bulldogs in the opening match of the season had beaten the Cavemen 8 to 1, then trounced the Roswell Coyotes 9 to 0.

Flashing rackets of the Bulldogs cracked out aces. Bobby Flynn garnered 15, 10 of them in singles, a quintet in the doubles. Doug Whitefield got five singles aces.

Only dark spot in the match was the loss of Flynn and Charles Gibson to Don Johnson and Harkey Boling, 6-2, 3-6, 6-4. This was the first loss of the Artesia pair in 15 intercity matches.

The Bulldogs lost one of the singles contests, when Alan Miller defeated Bill Branson, 6-4, 8-6.

In the competition, there were 199 games, of which the Bulldogs won 121, Cavemen 78, 27 sets, with Artesia taking 21, losing a half dozen.

Results of the competition, with Artesia players first named:

- Singles
Jody Williams d. Don Johnson, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4.
Charles Gibson d. Harkey Boling, 6-4, 6-3.
Bobby Flynn d. Jim Dodson, 6-1, 7-5.
Doug Whitefield d. Holt Davis, 6-0, 6-1.
Bill Branson lost to Alan Miller, 6-4, 8-6.
Jerry Cranford d. John Dupont, 6-2, 4-6, 8-6.
- Doubles
Flynn-Gibson lost to Johnson-Boling, 6-2, 3-6, 6-4.
Williams-Whitefield d. Dodson-Holt, 6-2, 6-1.
Branson-Cranford d. Dupont-Miller, 6-4, 6-1.

Four Squads Of Basketeers To Be Saluted

Der Tag for three Artesia school basketball squads will come on Thursday night when Artesia High School A, B, and C squads are honored with a covered dish supper in the high school cafeteria.

The affair will compliment squad members and their dates, Central Valley Electric REA Travelers will be special guests.

Hosts will be parents of the school squads players. They have been contacted and are asked to bring a covered dish and $1 to the cafeteria.

The program will begin at 6:30 o'clock. Public as well as parents of players are invited to attend, bringing a covered dish.

There will be a presentation of awards. Bill Keys will be master of ceremonies.

Vets Line Up Wrestling Deal

Wrestling matches are due to be started in Artesia on April 6 and continue each Friday night until mid-June at the Veterans Memorial Building.

W. J. Stribling of Roswell, resident of that city for five years and himself a former wrestler, said there would be six wrestlers participating in three matches on each date of the bouts.

Doors will be open at 7 o'clock and the matches will start at 8. Admission will be $1.50 rindside, $1 general admission, and 50 cents for children 12 and more years old.

Fred Jacobs is chairman of the veterans organization committee for the deal.

Mustang Gridders End Spring Drill

Spring football practice at New Mexico Western college wound up last week.

There were 25 men out. Practices took place the last three weeks. Many of the men out this spring were carried over from the 1950 fall team which took second place in the New Mexico conference.

Several of the old men have been called by the draft. If Coach Al Johnson can keep the men he now has, chances for a successful 1951 season look good.

Tiger Baseball Team to Battle Bulldogs Today

Alamogordo Tigers will be the second opponent of the Artesia High School baseball team. The Bulldogs are to meet the invading nine at 2 o'clock this afternoon but location, Coach Cal Hall said Saturday, was a puzzle.

He said he was not certain of the condition of the municipal park diamond the game might have to be played on the practice field of the high school.

The Bulldogs dropped a double-header to the Roswell Coyotes there on Thursday afternoon, losing the first 2 to 7 and the second also a five inning contest, 0 to 4. Coach Hall took 23 boys on the trip, of whom 15 saw action.

Bulldog runs were made by Jimmy Juarez who in the first inning was hit by a pitched ball, stole second base, went to third on passed ball, then home on Coor's grounder, and by Eduardo Leaton.

Hits were even at five all in the second contest, and also even in the first, three-three.

only two weeks before the show played.

The college does not claim that the show is made up of professionals nor that it reaches the polished finesse of professional water shows, but every effort is made to put on as finished a production as college talent and facilities permit.

After the hospital show, the cast moves directly to Santa Fe for an 8 p. m., performance on the same day at beautiful Bishop's lodge, outstanding ranch resort in New Mexico. The cast will also stay at the lodge during its brief Santa Fe stay.

Early next morning will find the college swimmers on the road for the trek to Hobbs where they will perform at the renowned Aqua-Marine swimming pool for two nights, May 27, and May 28. The second annual Hobbs style show will be held in conjunction with the "Aqua-Parade."

A show for personnel and visitors at Biggs Air Force Base is scheduled for May 29. This will also be an 8 p. m., performance under the colored lighting of the New Mexico Western College production.

May 30, will find the show at Las Cruces where the Las Cruces Jaycees will sponsor the appearance of the water troupe, also at 8 p. m. Pool locale will be announced later.

The last day of the tour will have "Aqua-Parade" at Deming under the sponsorship of the 20-30 Club. Here too, the pool will be announced later. Immediately after the Deming 8 p. m., show, the cast will head home to Silver City to gain a few days' rest before start of classes on June 4.

"Aqua-Parade" is reported to be the first water show of such proportions in the Southwest. Although only in its second year of existence, it has gained the interest of students and townspeople alike.

Over 100 students took part in some capacity last year. In Silver City it is scheduled for shows on May 14, 15 and 16 at the college pool. Last year the water show initiated use of the college pool which was just completed for use.

Bulldogs Crush Coyote Netters

Roswell High School Coyote netters were swamped by Artesia Bulldogs 9-0 in a series of matches played in Roswell. The Bulldogs won all nine matches, won 18 straight sets, 108 out of 128 games while the Coyotes took 20.

Jody Williams d. Jerry Ware, 6-0, 6-1.

Charles Gibson d. Alva Curry, 6-2, 6-3.

who cares for horses—for "bridegroom" in The Advocate, it frequently appears in contributed notes. Someone went a little far the other day, however, when she referred to "the goon's mother."

It seems some of the younger set—the girls thereof, that is—have taken up pipe smoking, as we have witnessed as they whizzed past in automobiles.

But it's so clumsy looking. Why, just the other day, we saw a girl trying to knock out the ashes of her pipe bowl, by tapping the bottom of her bowl, instead of soundly smacking the open end against her open palm.

But, girls, pipe smoking as an art is not complete until you learn to strike a match on your pants.

We see by the weekly newspaper, Labor, that it was Robinson Crusoe who started the 40-hour week. He had all of his work done by Friday.—A. L. B.

In summoning up the case to the jury, Randolph Reese, district attorney, said a verdict of guilty could be found on the basis of any part of the information:

That the woman's death resulted from the defendant's driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor, unlawfully attempt-ting to pass another vehicle traveling in the same direction while not having clear vision for 500 feet ahead, unlawful driving with criminal recklessness and negligence into the path of the oncoming vehicle in which the women were riding, or reckless driving.

Diverse America While in the United States town after town has the "same Main Street, same corner drug store," there the similarity ends, he said in an earlier part of his speech.

He said Americans were the most responsive of audiences.

"The English like to heckle, the French are stinky and unless the speech is two hours long they don't think they are getting their money's worth, while in the United States they pay you money to shut up."

Seeger said in New England the audiences took on the granite qualities of their region while in the Middle West, they appeared "afraid of collection and sat 'way back in the hall," but Texans would be found right in front.

In the question period that followed his talk he lauded the way the average American woman in Germany was acquainting herself with German women and German life.

Asked how the Germans were taking to democracy, he reminded his listeners that democracy in Germany had the obstacle of being a form of government taken up after Germany had lost World War I and World War II—"and we can't switch over as fast as Americans could."

We are indebted to Old Tack in The Amarillo News for this one:

"Errol Flynn, the movie star, is a great game hunter. He goes to Alaska and Canada regularly and returns with the biggest of heads and trophies.

"A story going the rounds and one some tell on him is that his friends were amazed at his great success. And one intimate finally prevailed on Mr. Flynn to take him along.

"And so they went to Alaska to a cabin back in the mountain. The first night they heard a scratching on the door and they opened it.

"Outside was a pack of huge wolves. And when they saw Mr. Flynn, they sent up a chorus of friendly howls. And the next morning when they started out, they were accompanied by the wolves.

"And shortly the wolves jumped a big moose and they ran it by the hunters, who knocked it over. A little farther on the wolves located a huge grizzly, and they led the hunters to a knoll, where they shot the grizzly without any difficulty or danger. And quickly the wolves chased by a whole herd of caribou.

"When they returned to the cabin, the friend expressed his astonishment.

"What is this all about?" he asked. "Why are these wolves so friendly; why are they going to all this trouble for you?"

who cares for horses—for "bridegroom" in The Advocate, it frequently appears in contributed notes.

Someone went a little far the other day, however, when she referred to "the goon's mother."

It seems some of the younger set—the girls thereof, that is—have taken up pipe smoking, as we have witnessed as they whizzed past in automobiles.

But it's so clumsy looking. Why, just the other day, we saw a girl trying to knock out the ashes of her pipe bowl, by tapping the bottom of her bowl, instead of soundly smacking the open end against her open palm.

But, girls, pipe smoking as an art is not complete until you learn to strike a match on your pants.

ing to pass another vehicle traveling in the same direction while not having clear vision for 500 feet ahead, unlawful driving with criminal recklessness and negligence into the path of the oncoming vehicle in which the women were riding, or reckless driving.

While in the United States town after town has the "same Main Street, same corner drug store," there the similarity ends, he said in an earlier part of his speech.

He said Americans were the most responsive of audiences. "The English like to heckle, the French are stingy and unless the speech is two hours long they don't think they are getting their money's worth, while in the United States they pay you money to shut up."

Seeger said in New England the audiences took on the granite qualities of their region while in the Middle West, they appeared "afraid of collection and sat 'way back in the hall," but Texans would be found right in front.

In the question period that followed his talk he lauded the way

the average American woman in Germany was acquainting herself with German women and German life.

Asked how the Germans were taking to democracy, he reminded his listeners that democracy in Germany had the obstacle of being a form of government taken up after Germany had lost World War I and World War II—"and we can't switch over as fast as Americans could."

lings out in the country, which need killing off, although it seems that when one is killed two more spring up. At any rate, that would be a good place and way to use up some of that BB energy.

We are indebted to Old Tack in The Amarillo News for this one:

"Errol Flynn, the movie star, is a great game hunter. He goes to Alaska and Canada regularly and returns with the biggest of heads and trophies.

"A story going the rounds and one some tell on him is that his friends were amazed at his great success. And one intimate finally prevailed on Mr. Flynn to take him along.

"And so they went to Alaska to a cabin back in the mountain. The first night they heard a scratching on the door and they opened it.

"Outside was a pack of huge wolves. And when they saw Mr. Flynn, they sent up a chorus of friendly howls. And the next morning when they started out, they were accompanied by the wolves.

"And shortly the wolves jumped a big moose and they ran it by the hunters, who knocked it over. A little farther on the wolves located a huge grizzly, and they led the hunters to a knoll, where they shot the grizzly without any difficulty or danger. And quickly the wolves chased by a whole herd of caribou.

"When they returned to the cabin, the friend expressed his astonishment.

"Mr. Flynn shrugged his shoulders. "Professional courtesy, he replied."

McCaw Hatchery Offers Fryers At Their Best

If you want fryers at their best, your best bet is McCaws, which you can buy either at McCaw's Hatchery, 13th and Grand, phone 590-W, or from your favorite food store.

The McCaw Hatchery maintains a "perpetual motion" plan, under which there are fryers always in some stage of development, from the egg to the packing room and freezing.

Approximately 1500 layers provide eggs not only for hatching, but infertile eggs for the market. McCaw Hatchery during regular seasons hatches three breeds of chicks, New Hampshires, White Leghorns, and Hamp-X-Whites, the last of which are a crossbreed used principally for fryers.

In the broiler room, a large room filled with battery brooders, the chicks are kept until they are about 4 or 5 weeks old. Then they go into the finishing room, to be raised until they are about 10 weeks old and weigh 2 1/2 pounds and up.

McCaw Hatchery finishes about 600 fryers a week and has approximately 6000 on hand at all times from those just hatched to those ready for the dressing room.

The dressing room is equipped with a new killing stand, where the broilers are killed and bled. Next comes the automatic, thermostatically controlled scalding machine, to assure perfect picking. And there is an automatic picking machine, which cleans them thoroughly, even to the pin feathers.

In the packing room the chickens are inspected, thoroughly cleaned, cut up and packed in cellophane covered boxes, which are sealed for freezing.

We suggest you stop in at McCaw Hatchery, 13th and Grand, or at your favorite food store for McCaw fryers.

Farmers Asked To Save Bagging

North Eddy county farmers were advised today by N. W. Stiver, administrative officer, Carlsbad, that supply of burlap and cotton bags is expected to be tight and said conservation and maximum re-use of such bags was needed to offset the possible shortage.

He quoted a statement by Charles F. Brannan, secretary of agriculture:

Maintaining adequate supplies of materials needed in the production and handling of agricultural commodities is one of the most important jobs in the defense effort. "A great deal depends upon the success of our efforts to insure continuing abundance of food and fiber.

"Bagging and related materials are high on the list of essentials. Serious shortages of bags would place obstacles in the way of the all-out production program, just as in the case of other strategic materials.

"It is therefore extremely important that farmers and other handlers of agricultural commodities take all practical steps in conserving and re-using essential burlap and cotton products. Every bag destroyed or not used is an economic waste which we cannot now afford."

Skim Milk Fed to Laying Hens Will Increase Egg Production with Small Backyard Blocks, according to County Agent Dallas Rierson. And the farmer will benefit in two ways, for he can sell the cream at a good price, Rierson adds.

"Keep skim milk before the chickens all the time," the county agent advises. "They will need to drink at least three gallons per day per 100 hens to give best results. Keep drinking containers clean and control flies."

Feed three different kinds of grains available, such as corn, maize, wheat, and oats. Feed more corn and maize than wheat and oats.

Mix with each gallon of grain one tablespoon of a good grade of cod liver oil and feed the amount of grain the chickens will clean up each day.

Feed cod liver oil every day, but if you have plenty of young tender green feed available, the cod liver oil may be omitted until green feed begins to play out.

The western range lands comprises almost 728 million acres in 17 states.

Merely Loose Talk

FOR THE PAST THREE TO FOUR YEARS we have heard considerable loose talk regarding the establishment of a daily newspaper here. We have discussed the possibilities with local civic leaders and explored the idea off and on for the past six years.

During the six years we have owned The Advocate, we have improved the service; increased our number of employees; increased our equipment and investment and done a good many things to better serve our city.

We even doubled the frequency of the publication of The Advocate against the advice of some of our newspaper friends. When we did that, we increased our business in advertising but we did not double it as we might be expected to do.

Likewise as odd as it might seem, we lost subscribers—we lost between 250 and 300 subscribers. We dropped in circulation from around 2400 to approximately 2000 to 2100. That will surprise many but it is a fact.

Today we feel we are pretty well covering the field in securing business and display advertising. We hope and expect to increase this as we go along. That is our hope. But, as we stated, we failed to double the business, although we actually doubled in many respects the cost of putting out The Advocate. It takes twice as much paper; twice as much type; twice as many stories; twice as much make-up; twice as much time and double the men to get it out that it required to get out the weekly.

It is also true that a comparative check of the actual gross income from The Advocate from all types of advertising shows that the total income would fall short from $2000 to $3000 per month of paying the actual cost of getting out a daily newspaper.

That would have to be obtained even before the paper broke even. An increase of $2000 to $3000 gross income per month is a pretty large amount. Yet that is true. There would have to be further increases before the daily made a profit.

And it takes profitable business ventures to contribute to the community; to provide good and substantial payrolls; to do the community jobs they are supposed to do.

That is another problem which confronts us in our consideration of the publication of a daily newspaper.—O.E.P.

X-Ray Service Is for You

THERE WAS A TIME when tuberculosis—it was "consumption" then—was a hush-hush word, something about which people did not talk. If a member of the family had the disease, he was "wasting away."

But it was tuberculosis just the same. Many seemed to attach a feeling of shame to the fact they or others of the family had tuberculosis, just as there still seems to be a stigma attached to cancer.

Both are dreadful diseases, it is true. But science has gone a long way in conquering both.

Years ago tuberculosis was not discovered until it reached an advanced stage. Then there was little to do but to go to a higher altitude with a dryer climate and to take the rest cure.

Today the disease may be discovered or suspected in its earliest stages, when treatment is a relatively simple matter. Rest is still part of the cure or part of the treatment in achieving an arrested case.

But the main thing is to catch the disease before it has reached a dangerous degree, when there is little to do except to take it easy and change one's habits, in order to live a little longer.

That is exactly what is being done by the State Health Department with its X-ray equipment, which is taking hundreds of pictures in North Eddy County at this time.

There is no charge for the examinations. And if any shows positive tuberculosis—or even a suspicion—the person who has been X-rayed is notified. In the case of a suspected case, there will be a chance for another examination later, provided the person does not hasten to his own physician, which many naturally would do.

The examinations throughout North Eddy County—and throughout the state in a matter of months—are for rich and poor, black and white, male and female, without cost, in an effort to make the people of New Mexico more healthy, by catching tuberculosis and other chest disorders in time.

Everyone who pays taxes to the state helps pay the cost of this modern service.

No matter how healthy you think you are, be sure to take advantage of this great service. It will take you only a minute or two.—A.L.B.

Missing Opportunity

THE CHIEF OF POLICE of one of the prominent cities in our state recently attended a police officers' short course and conference at the University of California. On his return from that session where he learned a number of things, was above average in his work and made a fair showing, he said, "We don't have any police department."

That course convinced him that not only could he learn plenty, but that his department had plenty to learn. And with the realization that his department needs to be overhauled and improved—well the chances are it will be done.

The fact that he realizes some changes and some improvements are needed will result in action. How far he can go and what he can do, of course, is going to depend on the money he has to spend and the appropriation his department can have.

But he not only talked about his own department, but he voiced a wish—that wish was that one of the New Mexico institutions of higher learning would offer such a course.

And his suggestion is a good one. Many of the colleges over the nation for a good many years have offered short courses and special instruction for various municipal employees. They conduct meter reading courses, meter repair courses, city manager courses, electrical courses and many others.

It would be a fine thing if for instance New Mexico A. & M. College could bring in one or two special instructors in police department work including traffic problems and offer such a course.

Such a course would bring many peace officers from over the state to the college. It would also result in them being better peace officers because of the course of instruction.

It is an opportunity to render another service to our state and it is

WRIT OF ATOMIC CORPUS

Chairman Gordon Dean of the Atomic Energy Commission in mid-February addressed a meeting of lawyers sponsored by the School of Law of the University of Pittsburgh on a provocative topic. His subject was "The Impact of the Atom on Law."

Mr. Dean, in an informative treatise, opened up a subject that may be of great importance to the legal profession in years to come. Legal aspects of the use of atomic energy for peacetime projects at home may be far-reaching; present laws were written without knowledge of atomic power.

There could be, for example, the case of the jet-propelled car whose driver stepped on his chain reactor instead of his neutronic brake and crashed into a truck loaded with uranium whose mesonic lights were not working right anyway. Who was responsible for the subsequent radioactivity which fried all the bananas in the corner fruit store?

Or the case of the community whose atomic central heating plant got its signals mixed one Sunday morning and heated the small radiator by the pulpit white hot while the loft was left cold. Who could be held responsible for the protons found in the collection plate?

Then there might be the incident where a father applied punishment to his son in an appropriate place but a Geiger counter in the boy's pocket short-circuited and succeeded only in further firing the parent's indignation. Where would the responsibility lie for the boy's subsequent delinquency? The possibilities seem limitless. They will be interesting to watch.—Daily News, McKessport, Pa.

EXCUSABLE SENTIMENT

There was a reference, once upon a time, to "government by incantation." It was a neat figure to describe forms and rituals that must be kept, with ceremony and authority, though they long ago ceased to have a meaning. It is recalled today by the news that the Tennessee Legislature as last has removed the poll tax as a requirement for voting.

But how? The poll tax remains. The Tennessee Constitution still says that all male citizens "shall be subject to the payment of poll taxes and to the performance of military duty." Not one line of that Constitution has been changed since its adoption in 1871. With its patina of age and veneration, it is not lightly to be flouted. . . .

And so, the legislature clings to both Constitution and poll tax simply providing that, to vote, a man must pay only the poll tax assessed against him for the year 1871. There being naturally nobody left with an 80-year-old tax unpaid, thus the form, the tradition and the urge of progress alike are served. One more electorate joins the procession of free men to vote no price tag is attached. An affectionate look backward, a ritual obeisance to the past, may be pardoned in such a case. And now only five states remain lagging behind the democratic parade.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

THEY HAVE CHILDREN, TOO

Statistics, notoriously, neither stir the blood nor bring the tears. And the huger the figures the less can the human mind translate them into language of the heart. One small drama conveys what thrice three digits can never do. And such a drama is the discovery by men of the cruiser St. Paul of 45 half-starved, half-frozen, and ragged orphans left and forgotten on a barren little isle in Inchon Harbor—their parents dead or swept away with millions of refugees before the ebb and flow of battle.

The story has a heart-warming if not happy ending—at least for the moment. The crew of the St. Paul have supplied food, clothes, shelter, and heat for all, and care for the sick ones. Two Korean women and a man, found also on the island, presumably are left in charge.

But the story carries a lesson, too. Those shivering, hungry little waifs, huddled together for warmth, tell why Europeans hope their lands will not become a battlefield, why they are appalled at talk about "liberation" after they are overrun. They have children, too.—Christian Science Monitor.

Kentucky police found a man, his wife and 11 children cooped up in a two-room shack. They were just residing there—not living.

It is possible for fish to remain alive after being frozen in ice. As a rule, orchids take 10 or 12 years to bloom.

'NEITHER SNOW NOR RAIN, NOR HEAT NOR NIGHT. . .

My New

fascinates the Broadway mob. For organized a new company. Its program, bottled in bond, sold at list price to preferred clients. The singer is a lad named Ray Barber, who came to Mr. Capone before Mr. Capone had been taken by the talent of a young singer this was a naive soul named Vic Damone, a Paramount Broadway usher, who Mr. C. managed right into the five-figure income bracket.

When he heard young Barber sing, he decided to do something about the boy's future—in a business-like way. He organized a company to groom the kid for stardom. He made himself general manager and he enlisted publicist Sid Ascher, who helped make Evelyn Knight, Lisa Kirk and Andy Russell stars, and attorney David S. man as other executives. Then the company set about packaging and polishing its product.

ALL THIS, MIND YOU, took place in what the Wall Street would call a bear market in men singers. Dick Haymes, for instance, has been reported toying with the idea of turning to private shenanigans, a la Dick Powell, and the only warblers who seem to have any firm grasp on the public are the Mario Lanza types—ones who can break their larynxes.

The Barber company began business by hiring top vocal teachers and music coaches. Then they outfitted Ray with a big wardrobe what I have been assured is a "proper hair-style." Ascher undertook the job of making Barber's name known, and then Capone negotiated a recording contract with Mercury Records and got him spots as guest singing star on television shows.

This has more than passing interest to me because it bears a certain resemblance to a plan I once wanted to carry out. An old companion of mine is a reporter named Alvarez, who is a big romantic-Spaniard type, a onetime Brooklyn schoolboy athletic star. If he could have been prodded into it, Alvarez would have made a Clark Gable in the films, and I once started organizing a Capone-style company to accomplish this end. Alvarez, however, promptly by an unexpected flush of modesty and thinking of what the boys the press shak down at Headquarters will say, declined the idea.

The spade work began to pay off on Ray Barber almost immediately; two movie company representatives heard the boy sing and eyed him appraisingly with his "proper hairstyle" and offered to sign him. Radio and TV executives came with contracts in hand. But Capone and company are no Johnny-come-latelys to the music arena. They turned down all the quick offers, all the seven-year-with-options contracts. The Barber records will appear in the photograph stalls shortly—and when they do, Capone and company raise his price will rocket skyhigh, and the $50,000 investment (that's much it is estimated will be sunk into the kid) will begin to pay.

IN THE END, YOU WILL NOTICE from the above diagram, company is making its gamble on the one, sure, saleable quality along Broadway—talent. If young Barber's voice and personality of what they believe they are, they'll be in thriving business. If not, they've backed the wrong horse. This is a city where a guy can be a heel, a wife-beater and an opium-drinker, but if he has talent, 23 three to five and out that he will get to the top. "Has he got it?" the big question. If he has, the big town will buy.

The next speaker on the program was William Duffy, who remarked wryly, "I remember very well the long, windy speech to which Mr. Young refers. I made it."

Price Support Of Wool for '51 Is Announced

Price supports on 1951 wool production will average 90 per cent of the parity price of wool on March 15, according to a recent announcement by the Production and Marketing Administration of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The Agricultural Act of 1949 requires that the price of wool be supported between 60 and 90 per cent of parity. The act provides further that the support shall be at a level within the range needed to encourage an annual production of approximately 360 million pounds of shorn wool. Since production is now below this amount, the support is being set at the 90 per cent of parity level. Since early in 1950, wool prices have ranged well above the 90 per cent of parity level.

cent of parity level. No purchases were made under the 1950 wool program and all USDA wool stocks acquired prior to the 1950 program have been liquidated. If changes in market prices make price support necessary, prices of shorn and pulled wool will be supported through purchases. The program announced includes the period April, 1951, through March, 1952. The 1951 program will be similar to the one in effect for 1950, when under agreements with the Commodity Credit Corporation handlers acted as agents. As in 1950, producers will be given an opportunity to decide after appraisal whether or not they want to sell their wool under the program. One change in this year's program limits purchases to wool owned by producers. This will include wool offered by producers, producer pools, co-operatives representing producers and pulleries. After the producer has sold his wool, it will not be purchased under the program. Alexander the Great, who conquered so much of the then known world, was only 32 when he died.

Artesia Men On Geologists State Program

Two Artesia men, Bud Broomfield and Ed Kinney, are on the program of the annual convocation of the New Mexico Geological Society to be held April 6-7 in Albuquerque. Tom Stripp of Roswell is vice president of the state organization.

Announcement of the state meeting was made at the Roswell Geological Society monthly meeting held at Roswell Country Club on Tuesday night. Attendance at the dinner was 52.

Members will go on a field trip May 11-12 to see the Permian reef between El Capitan and Carlsbad and also see the great Delaware Basin.

Arrangements are in charge of Tom Stripp, field trip committee chairman, Milt Hruby, and Ross Ley.

Robert E. Murphy, president of the Roswell society, told of the election of E. J. Foley, Humble Oil, Roswell, as New Mexico district representative of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists, and of Phil Helmig, Malco chief geologist, as New Mexico representative to the Rocky Mountain division of the association.

Guest speaker at the meeting was Vaughan C. Maley, Midland, division geologist of Humble. His topic of timely interest because huge quantities of oil have been found in reefs.

This is especially true in Canada, the Middle East, West Texas, and southeastern New Mexico.

Maley's talk informed the society on the way such reefs are now being formed in the ocean.

Maps and Films
To acquaint his audience with the geographic and geologic setting of the islands, Maley first exhibited maps, diagrams, and color photographs. Many of the latter were aerial views.

There were also close-ups of living coral, coral rock, and beaches. Origin of these and of lime sands and mud was discussed.

The speaker's Kodachrome views enabled the audience to share the same observation as the speaker.

In other business of the meeting there was a report by President Murphy on the St. Patrick dance which was in charge of the committee consisting of Hank Krusekopf, chairman, George Washburn, and Eugene Greenwood.

Lake Superior is 350 miles long, 160 miles wide, and its deepest soundings are 1,200 feet.

Van Zandt Given Southern Union Five-Year Award

ROY T. VAN ZANDT

Roy T. Van Zandt, an employee of Southern Union Gas Company's town plant here, recently received that company's award for five consecutive years of service. Announcement of the presentation of the award to Van Zandt was made by F. M. (Bill) McGinty, Southern Union's Artesia manager, who said

Van Zandt is the 376th company employe to attain a five-year continuous employment record. Van Zandt was employed by Southern Union on April 1, 1946, as a laborer with company's Southeast New Mexico district construction crew. He was promoted to his present position, truck driver, on June 9, 1947.

In announcing the award to Van Zandt, McGinty said that Southern Union takes pride in the fact that most of its employes have considerable experience in the natural gas industry.

He pointed out that the 43 Southern Unionites working out of Artesia have a total of more than 180 years of service with the company, an average of four years per employe. Four have been with Southern Union five or more years and four have at least 10 years of service. The Artesia town plant has one employe with 15 years of service and one who has been with Southern Union for 20 years.

by N. W. Stiver, administrative officer, production and marketing administration, Carlsbad.

The deal is that all establishments in the United States—warehouses, factories, retail and wholesale stores, service shops, farms, hospitals, schools, libraries, churches, federal, state, and local government agencies, "may, when necessary use a priority rating" to obtain such equipment and supplies.

The Carlsbad man quotes Manly Fleischmann, administrator of the National Production Authority, U.S. Department of Commerce:

"Many business and industrial firms, educational, health, welfare and public service institutions are at present having great difficulty in obtaining the materials and equipment necessary to continue in full operation at a time when more and more materials are being used to build more facilities. "We cannot let the need for materials and equipment to build new facilities interfere with the maintenance of existing capacity. We can afford a few pounds of metal today to keep a machine running rather than several tons tomorrow to make a replacement machine. And this way we avoid the loss of production and employment that would result if we allowed our present equipment to fall into disrepair.

"It is essential that the Nation's present production and service facilities be kept in good repair so that they can operate at the maximum rate consistent with direct defense requirements. The purpose of today's action is to make this possible. It is vital that we maintain a strong civilian economy while we go ahead with the job of rearmament."
