Propose Changes In Vets' Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP)—Veterans' pensions would be tied with social security payments and gradually eliminated under a proposal offered yesterday by President Eisenhower's Commission on Veterans' Benefits.

Farm Bill Action Seen By Senator

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Ellender (D-La.) said today President Eisenhower can get quick congressional action on another soil bank bill "if he agrees to a few additional provisions."

Ellender, chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said in an interview that these would include: 1. A ceiling under cotton acreage allotments at about the level of this year, 17.4 million acres, plus special protection for small cotton farmers. 2. An increase of 51 million acres in the basic commercial corn allotment eligible for price supports. 3. Some compromise system of supports for oats, barley, rye and grain sorghums, the chief livestock feed grains in addition to corn.

Two Men Fined In Drunk Driving Charges Here

Two men received fines in court here today totalling $275 on charges of driving while intoxicated.

Man Is Killed At Potash Mine

CARLSBAD (AP)—Ira Jones, 40, a potash miner, was killed today when struck on the head by a piece of equipment falling from a crane.

The accident took place at 8:30 a.m. at the International Potash and Chemical Corp. mine about 15 miles south of Loving on State Road 31.

Margaret Gets Rolling Pin

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—A rolling pin is among the wedding presents Mrs. Harry S. Truman is packing off to daughter Margaret and her new husband, who will be in New York after the two-week Nasau honeymoon. The 32-year-old daughter of former President Truman was married Saturday to Clifton Daniel, 43, assistant to the foreign editor of the New York Times, in a ceremony at Trinity Episcopal Church was attended only by members of the families and close friends.

CHARLES JOHNSON

Artesia Banker Named To ESC As Replacement

Charles Johnson, Artesia banker, today was named to the New Mexico Employment Security Commission replacing A. J. (Bert) Exter of Albuquerque, who resigned for health reasons. Johnson's term expires Feb. 1, 1957.

Water Shortage Seen By Engineer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The chief of Army Engineers says "it is fast becoming possible" this country will run out of water if prompt action isn't taken.

"If something is not done now, then 20 or 25 years from now it may be too late," says Lt. Gen. Samuel D. Sturgis Jr. in a copy-righted interview in U.S. News and World Report.

Band To Start On Goodwill Tour Thursday

The Artesia High School Bulldog Band, under the direction of Justin Bradbury, will leave Thursday morning for the Third Annual Goodwill Concert Tour.

The tour will take the school musicians to Carlsbad, Eunice, and Lubbock, and to the Texas Tech campus.

The group will perform before the instrumental students of the Carlsbad City Schools on Thursday morning, play a concert for the Eunice High School student body on Thursday afternoon, and in Lubbock on Friday.

Dr. William Hall, public relations director of Texas Tech has arranged a tour of the Texas Tech campus for the youthful musicians on Friday morning.

On Friday afternoon, they will play in Lubbock, rehearse with the Texas Tech College Band, and work in clinic sessions with Dr. D. O. Wiley, director of bands at Tech.

Cooperating in this annual Goodwill Tour are the schools, the mayor, the Chamber of Commerce, which will send a representative, and the band parents group.

"Each year we try to take our instrumental students to a different college campus where they may observe college life," said Bradbury. "We feel also that we can create goodwill and show people of other towns that Artesia is a friendly town in which to live."

The band will return to Artesia Friday night.

Eleven Die When N. Y. Home Burns

ROME, N. Y. (AP)—A fire that flashed through a two-story frame home in this Mohawk Valley city last night took the lives of a family of seven, including five children.

Arabia Looks Like Cold War Battleground

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—The Arabian Peninsula "Land of the Tolls" looks like the next major battleground in the cold war between the Arabs and the British.

Signing of a new military alliance Saturday by Egypt, Saudi Arabia and the little desert kingdom of Yemen promises trouble in the sandy stretch of the Arabian Peninsula. That strip forms the last stronghold of direct British control in the entire Arab world.

Around this perimeter are numerous sheiks and sultans who in theory are sovereign as Queen Elizabeth II but whose "independence" depends almost entirely on treaties of protection with Britain.

Their desert frontiers rarely are well defined, and the British-backed rulers recently have come increasingly into conflict with their larger neighbors to the north—Saudi Arabia and Yemen.

Yemen's conflict with Britain centers mainly around the Aden protectorates—30 "independent" states jammed into the 100-mile-width of the peninsula's southwest corner between Yemen's southern frontier and the Indian Ocean.

Some of these sultans and sheiks live on as little as $10 a month, derived largely from the tolls they charge on camel caravans plodding through their roadless domains. The inevitable tollgate, a dirty mud hut village and possibly a Beau Geste type fortress with mud walls often constitute the entire populated area of the sultan's domain.

Lonely British agents, many of them the only Europeans in the area, act as the link between the sultans and the British government with only a few locally raised troops for protection.

Adlai Charges Ike Misleads Nation In World Situation

Adlai Stevenson said last night President Eisenhower misleads the nation in taking a cautiously optimistic view of the present world situation.

On the contrary, Stevenson said, "baffled and uncertain" leadership has left the country's foreign affairs in worse shape than when the Republicans took office three years ago.

And Sen. Estes Kefauver, who is vying with Stevenson for the Democratic nomination and the chance to oppose Eisenhower in November, used a backhanded compliment to criticize the President's Saturday night address.

Eisenhower, besides voicing the optimistic world view, suggested the creation of a "rotating advisory board" of private citizens to help advise on foreign affairs.

Kefauver agreed such a board would be a good idea. He added: "There has been a crying need for long time to use the most able people, regardless of party, in making and administering foreign policy."

Up to now, he said, "foreign policy has been handled on a partisan basis in this administration."

Eisenhower's speech to the American Society of Newspaper Editors steered clear of attacks on the Democrats, although he formally opened his campaign last week.

He told the editors they must help keep Americans informed on (Continued on Page Four)

Thousand Idled At Los Alamos

LOS ALAMOS (AP)—This Atomic city was cut off by a picket line today which a federal official estimated was idling about 1,000 workers.

Pickets from the Teamsters Union, one of five unions demanding higher wages from the Zia Co., paraded across the main access road a short distance outside the gates.

Company officials told H. H. Atkins of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service they estimate about 675 workers in the community were staying off their jobs. Workmen for three large contractors doing construction work here also were honoring the picket line, running the idle to roughly 1,000, Atkins said.

The unions involved were the Teamsters, the carpenters, the painters, the laborers and the iron workers.

The Zia Co. operates Los Alamos community-base of the top-secret Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory which engages in atomic research under contract with the federal government.

Negotiations broke down over weekend. Atkins said the company had withdrawn its various wage offers today, but Wendell Miller, Zia Co. manager, issued a statement saying he is ready and willing at any time to continue negotiations.

Eunice Oilfield Worker Burned As Rig Destroyed

EUNICE (AP)—A Eunice oilfield worker suffered critical burns when a drilling rig burned yesterday afternoon southwest of here.

Loss from the wildly rampaging blaze which destroyed a jackknife rig, motors, mud pumps and a large quantity of tool equipment may run as high as $80,000, a Eunice fireman said.

Reds Have Exploded H-Bomb From Airplane: Khrushchev

BIRMINGHAM, England. (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev said today the Soviet Union will soon have "guided missiles carrying an H-bomb."

The Soviet Communist party boss also told a Chamber of Commerce luncheon that the Soviet Union already has exploded an H-bomb from an airplane. He claimed Russia was the first nation to do so.

"The United States only now is intending to do this," he said in a speech. "The United States' first H-bomb explosion was from a ground installation."

Then, listing the areas in which the Soviet Union can compete with the Western world, Khrushchev said: "Guided missiles—we can compete there, too. I am quite sure we will quickly have guided missiles carrying an H-bomb."

In Birmingham, some demonstrators passed out anti-Communist pamphlets to the Soviet party as it arrived at the industrial fair. Many of the Russians—but not Bulganin or Khrushchev—accepted the pamphlets before realizing what they were.

A radio truck patrolled the streets blaring anti-Communist slogans.

At City Hall, Bulganin stood under the crossed flags of Britain and Russia and spoke of his aims in Britain. His remarks were translated by an interpreter.

He said no one wants another war. "In past history, our peoples lived as two friendly nations," he said. "That friendship was cemented by the common effort against the common enemy—fascism."

"After the war, certain misunderstandings arose which led to a deterioration of our relations. "Let us not try now to determine why that took place and the reasons for those misunderstandings. It is quite possible that both ideas are to blame for part of that."

"We have come to try to do away with that and to establish closer and friendly relations between our country and Britain."

Bulganin and Khrushchev were guests at a luncheon party given by the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce.

Earlier jeering demonstrators carrying anti-Communist banners heckled Khrushchev and Premier Nikolai Bulganin during a whirlwind tour of Birmingham.

Obviously excited, Khrushchev referred to the demonstrators and warned: "Never shake your fist at a Russian."

He told the luncheon that he and Bulganin—now on a 10-day visit to Britain for high-level talks—had seen placards "attacking us and Russia and we have heard the cries of many people. We have seen fists shaken at us."

"I would remind the man with the fist that attempts have been made previously to speak to us (Continued on Page Four)

House Damaged, Sawmill Burned By Weekend Fires

A house belonging to Hill Hernandez was badly damaged by fire last night at 1510 Freeman, on the exact spot where Hernandez's home was destroyed by fire in 1954.

The house was rented to Lee Boulden whose furnishings and personal belongings were partially burned last night. Firemen said the fire appeared to have started in a closet in one of the bedrooms. There was no estimate of damage as yet but two rooms were pretty badly burned out.

Dulles Appeals For Unity Of Free World

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles appealed today for positive unity in the free world in the face of Soviet soft talk, and called for development of the North Atlantic Treaty alliance into something more than a military pact.

"The time has come to advance NATO from its initial phase into the totality of its meaning," Dulles said in a speech prepared for the Associated Press annual luncheon.

Dulles did not spell out in his prepared text just what he had in mind as to NATO.

But he talked about "more economic development" and "more independence" in discussing the attempts by Western nations to improve the world's lot.

Aides suggested in Washington that Dulles' speech might be comparable to one made by the then-secretary, George C. Marshall, at Harvard University June 5, 1947. Marshall at that time proposed a European self-help program, with United States backing, that eventually became known as the Marshall Plan.

Dulles said in developing the main theme of his address that the North Atlantic Treaty was a necessary alliance to draw the free world together against the threat of Soviet militarism.

Social Security Representative To Be Here

Ralph H. Yowell, field representative of the Roswell Social Security Administration office, will be in Artesia, Tuesday morning, April 24 to assist local residents in making applications for old-age or survivor's insurance benefits and to give general information concerning the Social Security Act. He will be at the office of the New Mexico State Employment Service, 511 W. Main, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 3 p. m.

Social Security reports are due in April from housewives in Eddy County who employ domestic workers, according to Yowell. Housewives are required to make these reports during April on household workers paid as much as $50 in cash wages in January, February, and March.

Boy, 11, Kills Entire Family

MANSFIELD, Conn. (AP)—An 11-year-old boy, aiming awkwardly because of poor eyesight, shot to death his entire family—mother, father and older brother.

He told police they picked on him and he feared he would be sent to reform school.

Fifth-grader Robert Curgenvin said he killed the three late Saturday afternoon at the family's rural home here, 30 miles east of Hartford. He slept in the farm house that night, then reported the killings to a neighbor Sunday morning.

One night last week his father spanked him because he wouldn't put out his bedroom light and go to sleep, Robert said.

After telling his story to police yesterday, Robert was committed to the state hospital at Norwich for a 30-day mental examination.

Robert is built stockily but he has poor sight in his right eye and wears glasses. He said he had to sight the rifle with his left eye. He told State Police Lt. Harry Taylor he reloaded the .22 caliber rifle after every shot, carrying spare bullets between his teeth.

Robert said he slammed another round into the rifle chamber, and his father, Richard, 42, ran out of the house toward him. "Hi Dad," Robert said and fired a shot that hit in the abdomen. Although wounded, the father shouted to him: "Give me that rifle." Robert said he loaded once more—the last time, for the next shot caught his father in the head, and he fell to the ground dead.

Taylor quoted Robert as saying he covered the bodies with blankets and went into the house. He ate something and went to bed about 9 p. m., but he said he didn't sleep very well. He got up at 9 a. m. Sunday.

It wasn't until 11 a. m. that he went to the home of a neighbor, John E. Powers, a placement officer at the University of Connecticut.

Powers said that at first he didn't believe the boy's story. He said he seemed quite normal and talked "in a normal way." But Powers went to the farmhouse and found the three bodies.

Marlowe Notes Similarity Of Politicians And Pinball

By JAMES MARLOWE
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Pinball machines can make you hear bells in your head, and whirring sounds. You can get the same effect from politicians. It comes from trying to tell who's right.

Politicians had a lot to say over the weekend. As the weekend started some of the nation's editors and their guests, government officials took a vote here Saturday morning.

"Does a shooting war look less close? Is this country losing the cold war? The editors and their guests voted yes to both questions. Later in the day President Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson seemed split on the answers.

At lunch, Stevenson, pursuing the Democratic presidential nomination, made a speech, perhaps the most detailed one of his campaign, to the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

"We have drifted and stumbled," he said, and "lost the initiative" in the cold war because of the "sterility" of the Eisenhower administration in foreign affairs.

A few hours later, speaking to the same editors at dinner, Eisenhower said he didn't think anyone knew who was winning the cold war.

But as for less likelihood of a shooting war, he seemed optimistic. "We have reasons," he said "for cautious hope that a new, a fruitful, a peaceful era for mankind can emerge from a haunted decade."

Not so Stevenson. In a nationwide broadcast Sunday night, he expressed doubts a shooting war looked further away but he wouldn't say it looked closer.

In his speech to the editors Stevenson offered a number of suggestions for improving America's foreign relations. Eisenhower put his emphasis on suggesting things the Russians should do to create more faith in them.

While Eisenhower was addressing the editors in a hotel dining room Saturday night, two well-known Democrats were making speeches at a Democratic fundraising dinner in an armory.

Unlike the fairly mild Eisenhower and the well-controlled Stevenson, these two Democrats—Sen. Alben Barkley of Kentucky, former vice president, and Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn of Texas—used more traditional methods.

They are of the table thumping, give-'em-hell school of politics. The aim in this case were the Republicans.

Presbyterian Women Revive May Breakfast

Barkley said their foreign policy was "massive confusion" while Rayburn said that as a result of it this country is "losing ground and losing friends."

The campaign is just starting. In the months to come the average voter hears bells in his head, he doesn't have to worry. It usually starts going away after election day.

Mrs. J. L. Briscoe Elected Head Of Legion District

Mrs. J. L. Briscoe was elected president of District Six, department of New Mexico, American Legion Auxiliary, at the spring meeting held in Hobbs Saturday.

Mrs. Briscoe will be installed at the department convention at Carlsbad in June.

Mrs. Jack Whitaker, local president, gave a report on the unit's activity for the past year.

Members from Artesia attending were Mrs. H. B. Gilmore, Mrs. J. L. Briscoe, Mrs. J. B. Mulcock, Mrs. Jack Clem, Mrs. Jack Whitaker, Mrs. D. M. Walter, Mrs. Lillian Bigler, Mrs. Earl Darst, and Mrs. W. G. Graham.

Mrs. Golden Elected To Head Bulldog Parents

Mrs. Bernice Golden was elected president of the Artesia Bulldogs Parents club at a meeting held Sunday afternoon in the High School library.

Other officers elected were Lloyd Foulkes, vice president; Mrs. J. O. Stewart, secretary; and Mrs. Lloyd Foulkes, re-elected treasurer.

Mrs. Chester Mayes, president, held a short business meeting. It was announced a party is to be held May 10 for all boys participating in high school athletics.

The graduating seniors who have lettered in athletics will be presented blankets at an Awards Assembly May 4.

At this meeting it was planned for boys' parents from the 7th to the 12 grade to join the club at a later date.

Presbyterian women are reviving this traditional May Day Breakfast this year for the first time in three years.

For thirty years Artesia citizens could be found on the morning of May first in the Presbyterian church eating hot biscuits and jam, strawberries, and bacon and eggs all prepared by the women of the church.

This year, because of popular demand, famous cooks of the church will, once again don their aprons and tempt the public with their culinary art. There'll be the ever popular straws of Margaret Anderson's famous hot biscuits, Spring's first strawberries, tender pink ham or crisp bacon and eggs cooked to personal taste.

This traditional May Breakfast was originated 30 years ago by Mrs. R. L. Paris who was then president of the Presbyterian Ladies Aid Society. She brought the idea with her from her home town of Grant City, Mo., where such a breakfast had long been in progress.

Tickets, priced at $1.25 for adults and 75c for children, may be purchased from any member of the Presbyterian Women's Association or by calling Mrs. Cliff Loyd at Sherwood 6-4463. The breakfast will be served from 6 until 9:30 a.m. on May 1 in the Parish Hall.

Girl Scouts Spend Weekend At Roswell

Girl Scouts troop 15 spent the weekend in Roswell at the Nixon Hotel. The girls are working on their travel badge.

The girls were met at the depot by Miss Frances Johnson of Roswell, and then taken to the hotel. In the morning they visited the museum and in the afternoon they visited the medical center and recreation center. That night the girls skated. Sunday morning they attended services at the Methodist church and were recognized by the Rev. Austin H. Dillen, pastor.

Girls making the trip were Sandra Colbert, Glenda Johnson, Sharon Yeager, Linda Alford, Paula Phillips.

Louise Hannah, and Mrs. Kirk Yeager accompanied the group.

Ladies-In-Waiting Wear The Pants

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
It's a far cry from the days of the Mother Hubbard maternity dress to the gay and youthful fashions designed for the modern lady-in-waiting.

Much of the credit for the new look in maternity fashions must go to the three Frankfurt sisters of Dallas, who started a little over a decade ago turning out clothes designed to make expectant mothers look and feel young and pretty.

Elsie Frankfurt is the only unmarried sister had in finding the idea of improved costumes when she observed the troubles her married sisters had in finding the kind of clothes they wanted for the period before their babies were born.

"Mothers are getting younger and younger these days," says Elsie, "so there's no reason why they should either look or act like old ladies just because they are expecting the stork."

The Frankfurt sisters design everything from swim suits to dance dresses for the stork club set, on the theory that it is good for mothers-to-be to continue their normal activities and have fun before the baby comes. Among the most popular items in their current collection are sports outfits consisting of loose overblouse top and contrasting pants in all lengths, from short shorts to ankle-length slacks.

Many of the outfits have matching skirts, also adjustable, so that a three-piece ensemble becomes practically a wardrobe.

"With several different over-blouses, a shorts and skirts in matching or coordinated colors, a young woman can be fashionably dressed for practically any occasion before the baby comes."

A Columnist Learns Much In His Mail

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That it used to take five hours for grandma to cook a major dinner for a family of four, but a mother can now do it in a single hour.

That the Folding Paper Book Assn. estimates modern packaging and new ways of preparing food give the average housewife a month's free time every year she didn't used to have.

That the dandies of Paris used to send their finery across the British Channel to Dover to get it laundered properly.

That Bermuda shorts were once known as "Spanish kettle drums." That when men wore long, tight-fitting hose a gentleman's mark of gallantry would let the lady of his choice wear a new pair of his hose for a week before donning them herself.

That Americans spent more than 18 billion dollars on travel last year here and abroad, including the cost of those "you were here" postcards.

That about eight million American school children have defective vision—one out of every four children needs eye care.

That, no matter how often you think it is wrong, the U. S. Weather Bureau forecasts the weather correctly 80 per cent of the time.

Hobbs Plays Better Than 500 Ball To Take SW League Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Five Southwest League teams Monday night will open their home seasons-four of them with the hopes that their home fields will provide the means of climbing out of the last division. Only Hobbs of the five teams that have been on the road thus far in the young season has been able to play better than .500 ball. The Sports tripped El Paso 5-1 Sunday to take over fifth place, a first division berth in the 10-team league.

In the other games yesterday, Ballinger nipped Plainview 7-6, Midland got Clovis 11-2, Roswell beat Carlsbad 7-5 and San Angelo edged past Pampa 5-4.

Monday night's schedule, home openers for five teams, has Plainview at Midland, El Paso at Roswell, Carlsbad at Clovis, Ballinger at Pampa and San Angelo at Hobbs.

Hobbs' victory yesterday knocked El Paso out of a share of the league lead. The Sports put together two run innings in the sixth and seventh to ice it behind the six-hit pitching of Andy Schreiber and Gene Callaway.

With El Paso and Plainview both falling, San Angelo took over the lead on the strength of its narrow victory over Pampa. The Colts rallied for two runs in the bottom of the eighth, the deciding run coming on a single by winning pitcher Jodie Phipps.

Frosty Kennedy drove in six runs on two homers and a single for Plainview, but the Ponies slipped from the top of the heap when Ballinger rallied for two runs after two were out in the bottom of the ninth.

Roswell broke a 5-5 deadlock in the ninth to take Carlsbad in the rubber match of their three-game series. Manager Tom Jordan had a two-run homer for the Rockets in the third.

Catcher Ike Jackson blasted a bases-loaded homer in the third for Midland to spark the Tribe's easy victory over Clovis.

NEW COLLEGE PLANNED
FARMINGTON (AP)—The Farmington School Board has voted to open a junior college, operating at night and using present school buildings and school personnel. The college possibly may open next fall.

"I've been second so many times this year I can't remember them all," said Miss Berg after taking first money here.

She won the Dallas tournament with some great putting. She called it "absolutely terrific."

Tall Beverly Hanson of Apple Valley, Calif., finished sixth with 296, shooting a 71 on the final round. Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, and Miss Ziske tied for seventh with 297.

Pueblo, Lincoln Top Western League Play
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Class A Western League today hands to Amarillo and Des Moines the chore of attempting to slow the pell mell nearly season pace established by Pueblo and Lincoln.

Pueblo and Lincoln have finished four-game opening series without a loss and share the top spot in the league. Amarillo and Des Moines last night lost their first games in four starts.

Lincoln took its fourth straight 9-4 over Topeka yesterday, while Sioux City crushed Des Moines 9-1. Pueblo took Albuquerque 8-6 and Colorado Springs edged past Amarillo 2-1 in the other games.

Pueblo barged out 16 hits to stop Albuquerque. The Dodgers put six of them, all singles, together in the fourth inning for four runs.

Roberts Headed For Seventh Straight In Select Circle

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Robin Roberts to win 20 games is as close to a sure thing as you get in baseball.

The Philadelphia Phillies ace has a head start toward a seventh straight year in the select circle. But he insists he never set a goal, just doing his best for the club.

He doesn't put too much stock in low-hitters either. With him a "winning game" in which he gives nine hits is a better job than a lost one-hitter.

His first two starts this season illustrate. He barely staggered through against Brooklyn opening day, yet he won it. Yesterday at Philadelphia, he needed a tight effort to beat Johnny Antonelli's three-hitter. He gave the New York Giants five hits but Antonelli threw one bad pitch—a three-run homer by Ted Kazanski—and the Phils won 3-1.

The Giants climbed on Curt Simmons, making his first start, and batted out a 9-7 edge in the second game. Willie Mays hit a three-run homer off reliever Bob Miller in the ninth.

Don Newcombe got on the beam with a three-hitter as Brooklyn downed Pittsburgh 4-1 in a game called by rain in the seventh.

Milwaukee remained in the National League lead by slugging St. Louis 13-5 in the second game after St. Louis took the first 10-4 on an eight-run sixth-inning.

Homers by Ernie Banks, Monte Irvin and Solly Drake gave the Chicago Cubs a 5-4 decision over Cincinnati. Their second game was called by darkness, a 1-1 tie after seven innings.

The New York Yankees cooled off the Boston Red Sox, taking three in a row at Yankee Stadium to tighten their grip on the American League lead. Five Red Sox errors and homers by Don Larsen, Yogi Berra and Joe Collins added up to a 13-6 Yankee victory.

Billy Pierce of Chicago shut out Kansas City with three hits 3-0 in a quick turnaround by the White Sox, who were slugged 15-1 by the A's Saturday.

Two homers by Detroit's Al Kaline helped account for a first-game victory over Cleveland 6-4, but Bob Lemon went the route for the first time since last May 30 to give the Tribe an even break with a 5-2 verdict in the nightcap. Rookie Fred Besana topped Washington in Baltimore's 7-3 opening victory, but Camilo Pascual earned a split for Washington with a 4-1 four-hitter in the second.

Richardson Defeats Seixas To Win River Oaks Tourney

HOUSTON (AP)—Hamilton Richardson, young Rhodes scholar who scored three Easter holiday victories over the nation's top amateur, returned to London today for the British hard courts tennis championships.

The 22-year-old Richardson yesterday defeated top-seeded Vic Seixas, 7-5, 6-0, 3-6, 6-4, for the championship of the 22nd annual River Oaks tournament which had a starting field that included nine of the nation's top 11 amateurs.

"I'm playing now about as well as I ever have," Richardson said. "I'm very satisfied."

The Baton Rouge, La., star left by plane last night for his return to Oxford after spending the Easter holidays on the U. S. tournament trail. A late itinerary change permitted the popular Richardson to become a last-minute entry here.

It will be a mixture of studies this week, however, in that the British championships start tomorrow. Richardson said he will return to the United States after the Wimbledon tournament this summer to marry pretty Ann Kennington of New Orleans, who witnessed his River Oaks triumph.

Richardson began his third straight victory over Seixas by taking the first set with a 21-9 edge in placements. During Richardson's sweep of the second set, Seixas added only six more placements, with none in the first two games and three in a 16-point third game.

Seixas won the third set by breaking service in the first, fifth and ninth games, while Richardson broke only in the second.

The favored Seixas opened the Hills, Calif., died instantly when his powerful Ferrari crashed into a tree at 75 miles per hour on a sharp hairpin turn in the first fatal accident in seven years of road racing in the National Sports Car Races at Pebble Beach.

Troy Ruttman of Fresno, who lapped the field, won the 100-lap Vallejo race on a 5/8-mile graded clay track in 47 minutes, 39.75 seconds. Les Snow, Bloomington, Ind., was second and Marshall Teague, Daytona Beach, Fla., third. All drove 1956 Chevrolets.

At Pebble Beach, Carroll Shelby of Dallas won the Del Monte Trophy event for modified cars of over 1500 CC. eH averaged 71.74 M. P. H. for 100 miles over twisting, narrow roads. Phil Hill of Santa Monica, Calif., was second and Jack McAfee was third. All drove Ferraris.

final set with a service ace and was even until he began the seventh game with a double fault. Three errors followed quickly to give Richardson a 4-3 lead. In the 10th game, Richardson jumped to a love-30 lead but Seixas fought off match point with a drop shot placement. Seixas slammed the next serve beyond the baseline, saying later he thought the ball had hit the top of the net and was out of play.

It was Richardson's second appearance in the River Oaks finals. Seixas' third. Richardson lost in 1954 to Dick Savitt. Seixas lost in 1953 to Gardner Mulloy and last year to Tony Trabert.

Richardson eliminated Seixas in the semifinals before bowing to Savitt in the finals at Dallas last week. He earlier had defeated Seixas in four sets in the Montego Bay, Jamaica, tournament finals.

Leader Or Jumble To Result From This Week's Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Two crucial series are scheduled in Southwest Conference baseball Friday and Saturday. In one of them leading Texas Christian meets Baylor in the other Southern Methodist, tied with Baylor for second, clashes with fourth place Texas A&M.

From these battles a clear-cut leader will emerge or a big jumble will result.

Texas Christian can virtually sew up the championship by beating Baylor twice or can maintain leadership by splitting the series. A double loss by the Horned Frogs would, however, throw the championship race into a free-for-all.

It was Baylor that halted the surge of Southern Methodist last week. The Golden Bears straggled the Methodists 5-1 and it gave TCU a 2-game lead over the field.

Texas Christian beat Rice 5-0 in the only game the Frogs could get in during the week. SMU and Baylor also were to have played two games but the second was rained out.

Rice and Texas, both out of the race, will hook up in a cellar fight at Houston Friday and Saturday.

Each has lost six games.

Texas A&M barely stayed in mild contention by splitting with Texas last week. The Aggies won the first game 5-4 but lost the second by the same score.

Patty Berg Takes The Dallas Women's Open For First Win

DALLAS (AP)—Patty Berg, the sturdy veteran from St. Andrews, Ill., had her first tournament victory of the year and was leading the money winners as the women's golf tour moved on to Spartanburg, S. C., today.

Miss Berg won a playoff over Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg and Marlene Bauer Hage of Asheville, N. C., yesterday to win first money of $1,350 in the $7,500 Dallas Women's Open. They had tied over the 72-hole route with 281.

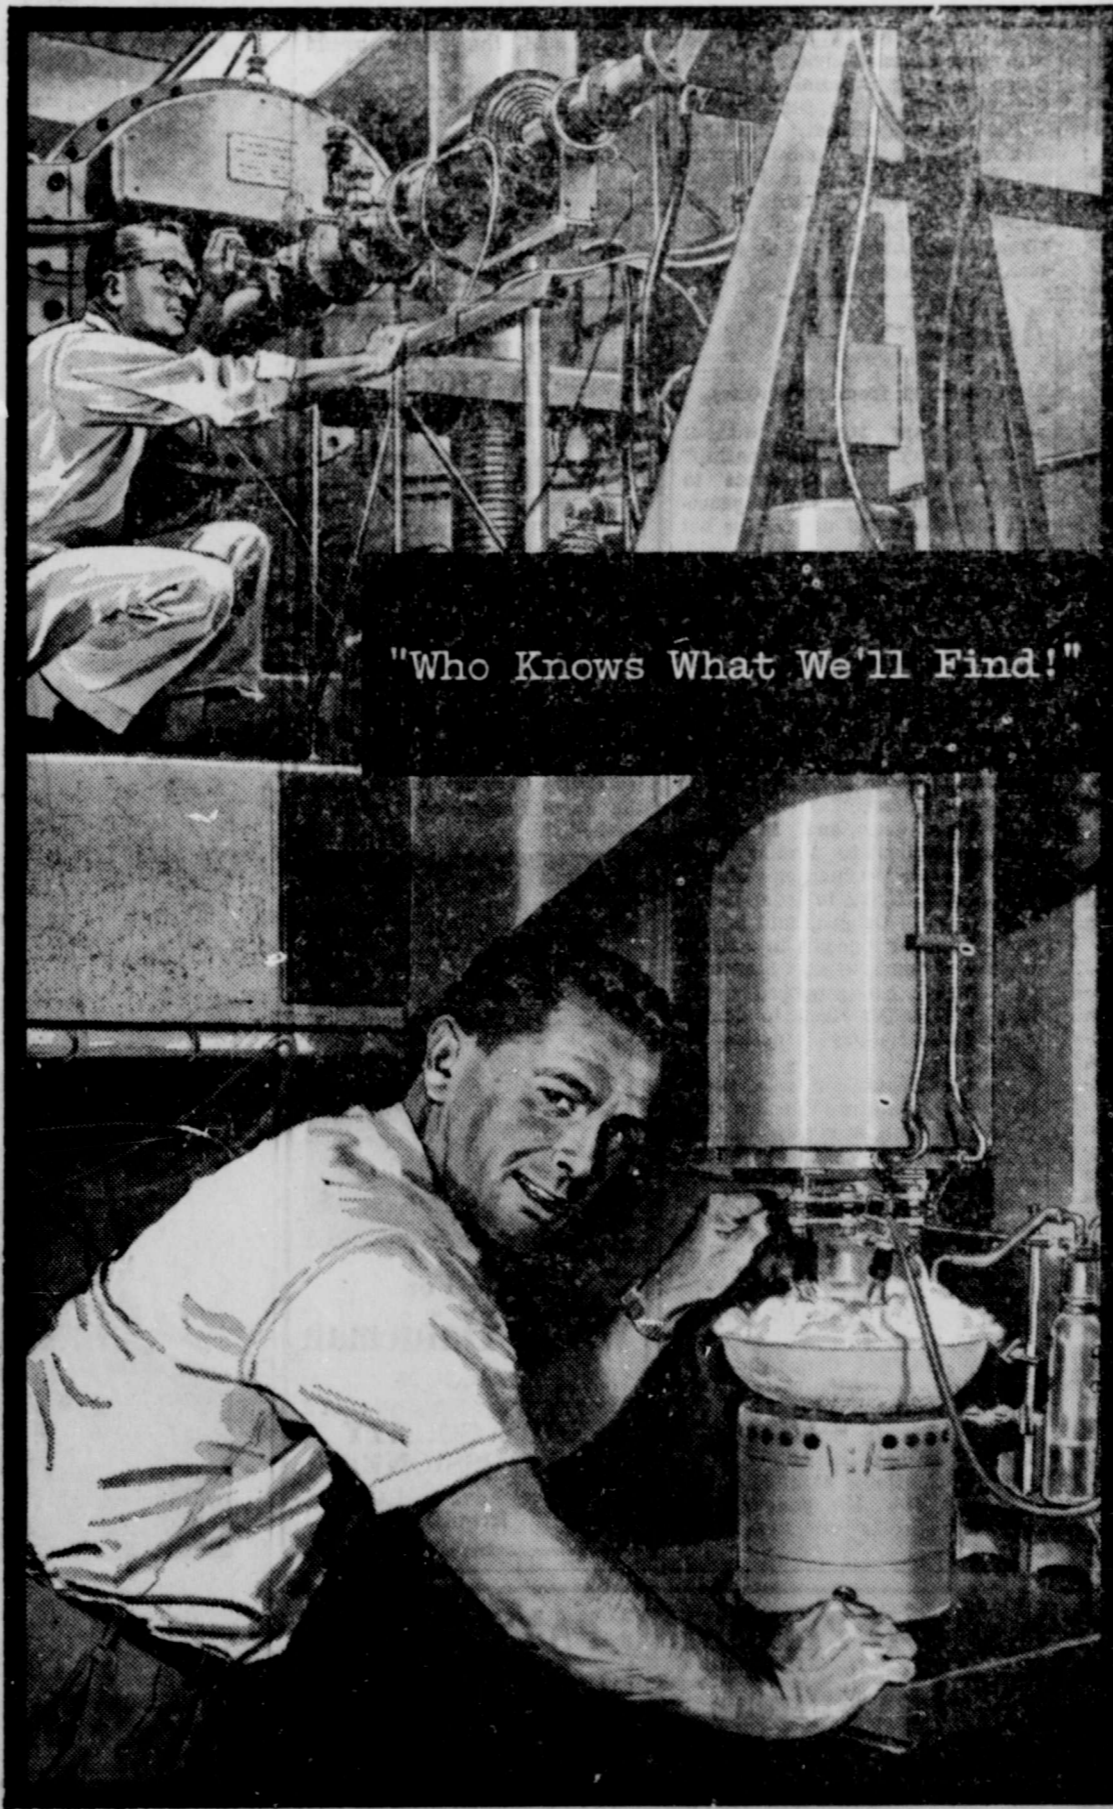

On the first extra hole Miss Berg sent a 10-foot putt down while Miss Rawls and Mrs. Hage missed theirs.

The next tournament is the Peach Blossom Open at Spartanburg and Miss Berg will step to the tee as leading money-winner of the year with slightly more than $6,000. She replaced Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., in the money-winning race.

Miss Rawls and Mrs. Hage each won $855. Winding up in a tie for fourth with Mickey Wright of San Diego, Calif., was Miss Suggs. Each had 295.

Miss Rawls had the day's best score—a two-under-par 69—to forge into the first-place tie. Miss Berg shot a 70 over the 6,218-yard Glen Lakes course and so did Mrs. Hage.

Miss Berg, 38 and in tournament golf 23 years, won her first tournament since September when she tied Joyce Ziske of Watford, Wis., than an amateur, for the championship of the Glick Open at Whittier, Calif. She was leading money-winner last year when she won six tournaments.

"Who Knows What We'll Find!"

Dear Friends

As a part of their work in Humble's Refining Research Laboratory, Humble scientists bombard petroleum hydrocarbons with electrons in a 2-million volt Van de Graaff Accelerator.

But if you ask one of these scientists what he expects to find, he'll answer, who knows!

For this is fundamental research. Results may be quick or they may be a long time developing. Who knows?

... Perhaps the scientists will find a way to increase the yield of useful products from a barrel of crude oil.

... Perhaps they'll be able to make improvements in the fine products already supplied you.

... Perhaps they'll develop an entirely new group of petroleum products.

Who knows!

This much, however, is certain: Humble research scientists at Baytown use every device of physics, chemistry, mathematics and mechanics to provide you with more and better petroleum products.

Two quick examples: The specifications for Humble Extra gasoline, the formula for Humble Uniflo motor oil. These, without question, are the finest products you can use in your car.

Sincerely

Takes Co-Operative Effort

If we ever reduce the accidents on the highways and the fatalities no one group is going to accomplish that.

We haven't the city, county or state officers to watch every highway every minute of the day or night to see that all drivers observe the law.

The majority of the drivers on the highways, of course, are good drivers; they do not take chances; and they are not reckless drivers.

But we still have those who refuse to employ the safety knowledge they have and possess. We still have those who go out and take chances and thereby not only endanger their own lives but endanger the lives of others.

We can talk safety; we can preach safety; we can conduct campaigns over a period of time but we can't stop all of the factors that now contribute to fatal or serious accidents on the highways.

Recently in a city in Texas the officers threw up road blocks and checked motor vehicle licenses; driver's license; and they also checked individuals. It was amazing the number of individuals they found intoxicated or in no condition to drive the motor vehicle they were operating.

If these officers follow this practice up occasionally the chances are it will reduce the drunk drivers. That could help some.

Maybe the example they have set should be followed by others. Perhaps those who go out now and drive while intoxicated would think twice if they thought they were going to run into a road block.

Maybe our officers should try it. But the fact remains that we will halt the many accidents or at least reduce them to a minimum when we, the drivers of motor vehicles on the highways, refuse to take chances; when we use the safety knowledge we have; when we employ the safety measures at our command and when we discount taking chances thereby endangering our lives, those riding with us and others on the highway.

Halting of highway accidents is a job that only the drivers of the motor vehicles on the highway can halt. And we could reduce these accidents tremendously if we would only do it.

NEW YORK—Things one New Yorker thinks about: It is the custom of this department once each year to launch an all-out assault on models—the beautiful, empty, cold, calculating models who swarm through this Gomorrah with their hat boxes and collect $50 an hour for posing in front of a Rolls Royce next to a male model to whom they wouldn't speak after hours.

We argued for some time, both generalizing like mad. "They're stupid," I said. "They're not," she said. "Utterly self-centered," I said. "Who isn't?" she said. Etcetera, etcetera. We got absolutely nowhere and parted on chilly polite terms.

I still don't like models. It's probably Freudian.

SPEAKING OF MODELS, I am fascinated these days by the names that Nancy Berg, a reformed model (she must have shivered and given up when she heard me say the only good model is a dead model), has given her dogs.

Miss Berg, the TV star of the 1 a. m. Count Sheep show here—viewers are privileged to watch Miss B. climb into bed and go to sleep—has two beasts. Their names: Phaedoux and Feauvour.

Close analysis will break those down to Fido and Rover. If she acquires any more, she is reading some other choice tags: Wrequees, Luquee, Tauhszer, Wragges and so on. Coy, perhaps, but reasonably amusing.

Miss Arlene Francis—a real woman; no model, she—hopped a plane for Holland the other day to do a film spread on that country for her Home TV viewers. Then on to Monaco, for some mysterious reason. . . . The husband of Eileen Herlie, who co-stars in The Matchmaker, gave her a Rolls Royce recently—and she drives it everywhere around town herself, with a chauffeur twiddling his thumbs next to her. . . . If you come to town and want an example of the Duchess of Windsor's taste—go to the Romy movie house to see French singer Vicky Autier. They are close friends, and the pride of Baltimore has helped her career considerably from time to time.

ACROSS THE DESK: An album of Sidney Bechet jazz classics put out by Blue Note. Old Sidney, the soprano saxophonist, has been four years in Europe now. Come home, Dad, all is forgiven. . . . Three New York publishers are mulling over a book by D. K. Woodman, editor of the Mansfield, O., News-Journal, dealing partly with an Ohio mother who forced her son to become a world-famous novelist. The absorbing part is that Woodman was a close friend of novelist Louis Bromfield, who just died the other sad day.

Noel Coward was in town a couple of days back, reciting The Carnival of the Animals by Ogdon Nash at Carnegie Hall. Noel seems to be getting a bit arch and precious as he ages. Come back, son; where is the old pro of yesteryear?

I was depressed the other day by a visiting Englishman who said in dismay, "I say, old man, is Central Park the only park in New York? Not much to see, is it?" . . . I remember Victor Riesel, the acid-blinded labor columnist here and an old poker-playing acquaintance of mine, as a card player who could be bluffed. I suspect, however, that that's the only way in which he could be bluffed.

Sporadic border fighting between Yemen tribesmen and the Aden sultans has gone on for decades.

Recently the Yemenites have stepped up their campaign to get the British out, spurred by British plans to weld the numerous Aden protectorates into one federation.

Ahmed fears that would produce a single state powerful enough to rival his own.

Ahmed also is disturbed by reports Britain has granted an oil concession on the Red Sea island of Kamaran, which Aden also claims.

In its anti-British maneuvers Yemen has tightened old bonds with Saudi Arabia, whose King Saud himself has a border feud with the British-backed rulers in Oman and the Buraimi oasis, on the southeast of the peninsula.

The Yemenite-Saudi combination scored a diplomatic victory by bringing Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser into their alliance, and Nasser in turn further strengthened his position as strong man of the Arab world.

The office of Simms announced appointment of Cliff Clark of Albuquerque, an official of the Electrical Workers' Union, to replace W. S. Roberts, executive director of the Federation of Labor, upon the New Mexico Employment Security Commission. Roberts' term had expired. Clark's term ends Feb. 1, 1961.

The third remaining member of the ESC is Fred Barron, the agency's director.

James A. Price of Roswell, State Federation of Labor president, was replaced on the Labor and Industrial Commission by Thomas W. Hall of Albuquerque, financial secretary-treasurer of the Plumbers and Steam Fitters Union and also secretary-treasurer of the Motion Picture Operators Union.

Price's term had expired. Hall is appointed for two years.

Also named to the Labor and Industrial Commission for a two-year term is Robert O. Anderson, Roswell Republican, head of Malco Refineries and state chairman of Eisenhower forces in 1952. Anderson replaces Leslie M. Rowe of Albuquerque, whose term expired.

According to law the labor and the management members name a third member of the commission who in theory is the public representative. This person at present is G. L. Guthrie of State College.

Simms also made appointments to several other boards. He was out of town today. Asked whether there was any particular reason for the sudden flurry of activity on long awaited appointments, an aide merely said that the governor had had a chance for two and a half days over the weekend to devote the time to the appointments.

ments. Maximum monthly payments would be $70 a month for a single veteran or $105 a month for one with a dependent wife.

The proposals are bound to stir up controversy because they conflict sharply with the benefit programs advocated by various veterans' organizations.

Timothy J. Murphy, commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, said the VFW supports many of the recommendations, but added:

"A number of them, particularly those that would throw the veterans' pension program into the social security program, are highly objectionable and should be denounced by all veterans."

On the other hand, Kenneth M. Birkhead, executive director of the American Veterans Committee, said the recommendations are a "magnificent contribution in bringing sanity and realism to the nation's programs of veterans' benefits and pensions."

In its report, the commission said today's veterans' programs should place emphasis "on those programs which take care of the needs arising directly out of military service. . . . Veterans with no service-connected disability after readjustment should be considered in the same category as citizens who are not veterans."

SIMMS CLUBS ORGANIZED

ALBUQUERQUE — Jim Barber, campaign aide for Gov. John F. Simms, says two new Simms-for-Governor clubs have been organized in the state in the past several days.

Barber said one had been formed in Socorro County under the chairmanship of Jim Moon, livestock feeder, and the other in Union County, where the president is John Alford, Clayton hotel owner.

Stalin May Fade In Moscow But Not In Georgia

Editor's Note—AP correspondent Roy Essoyan is a member of the first group of Western reporters permitted to visit Soviet Georgia since pro-Stalin demonstrations there last month. Following is his account of a trip to Gori, Stalin's birthplace.

By ROY ESSOYAN

GORI, Soviet Georgia (AP)—Joseph Stalin's luster may be fading in Moscow and other parts of the Soviet Union, but the home folks are planning to dedicate a new museum to him in this mountain village where he was born.

A top local official told four Western reporters who reached Gori yesterday the museum will be opened Dec. 21, the anniversary of Stalin's birth. He said the central government in Moscow had approved the action of the Georgian Republic earmarking 800,000 rubles ($200,000 at the official exchange rate) toward building the museum.

The official also asserted that schools in this area are teaching the same history courses glorifying Stalin as they did when he was alive. Moscow schools have suspended the study of World War II and the postwar era until new textbooks can be published playing down Stalin's role.

Leading Communists here said local officials have no plans to rewrite Stalin's part in Soviet history or to erase his influence.

Pro-Stalin demonstrations were reported in Georgia several weeks ago when the Kremlin campaign against the "cult of the individual" got rolling. The protests were said to have centered at Tiflis, the Georgian capital.

Residents of Gori obviously are unhappy about the drive to crack down on the local boy who became premier.

He still is referred to as "the great Stalin" here and one Georgian, made bold by the chance to talk in private, shook his fist and declared: "We won't forget."

Another said: "We don't talk about it much, but inside we're seething."

Communist party officials said the new official policy pushing collective leadership is being applied somewhat differently than elsewhere in the Soviet Union.

The anniversary of Stalin's death was observed by residents of Gori last month just as it has been in the past, they said. The only difference, they added, was that the wreath-laying ceremonies and speeches praising Stalin drew larger crowds than usual.

Albuquerque Teams Take Three Titles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was a fine weekend for Albuquerque high school track teams.

High school teams from the Duke City took the titles in the three meets in which they competed over the weekend, but the three meets in which they competed over the weekend, but the big news — as usual — was the mighty Highland Hornets.

The Hornets, gunning for an unprecedented fifth straight high school state title, took their 38th straight victory Friday in running off with the Clovis Relays. Hugh Hackett's squad came up with a whopping 122 1/2 points.

Albuquerque High and Valley High came through with the other two Duke City victories. Valley piled up 131 1/2 points in taking the Central Rio Grande Valley Conference meet, while Albuquerque managed 121 1/2 in copping the Northern Rio Grande meet.

The Hornets, termed by many observers as the finest team the school has had in its long string of championships, established four new meet records at Clovis and ran off with 12 first places.

One of the better performances, however, was turned in by the Hobbs mile relay team. The Hobbs squad set two meet records over the weekend. On Friday, the Eagles' mile relay foursome set a Clovis Relays mark 3:34.3, and on Saturday set a new Hobbs Relays record at 3:37.9.

With Highland not competing in the Hobbs meet, Carlsbad came through to take the title in the 12-team field with 53 5-6 points. Hobbs was next with 44 2-3, and Eunice third with 24. Six records were broken and one tied.

In the Clovis meet, Fort Sumner was second with 54 1/2 points, Tucumcari third at 34 1/2. Six records were broken in that meet.

Told that friends of Stalin lived at the Stalin collective farm 15 miles from Gori, the newsmen left for the region in a jeep. But when the Georgian driver learned their destination, he refused to proceed and turned back to Gori.

Official permission was finally obtained to visit the farm, but when reporters got there it was obvious that word of their visit had preceded them. They were told that no friends or relatives of Stalin were around.

MONSTER PROBLEM

HARDLY a year goes by in which the sighting of some strange monster isn't reported. Sometimes the same phenomenon is described by several persons and, of course, each sees it in a slightly different way.

There is a puzzle based hypothetically on such an occurrence. It is a real challenge to the wits. It is stated as follows:

Four tourists, who reported that they had seen a strange monster stranded on the shore of a remote lake, respectively estimated its length at 39 ft., 40 ft., 43 ft., and 44 ft.

A newspaper reporter, who was sent off, post haste, to examine the creature, found that two of these estimates each showed an error of the same number of feet, while the other two each showed an error of 1 2/3 that number of feet.

What, actually, was the monster's length?
