Ike Outmaneuvers Democrats Over Farm Veto, It Appears

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower appears to have outmaneuvered congressional Democrats who thought they had him over a political barrel because of his farm bill veto.

In the nearly two weeks since the President's rejection of the measure there have been a few signs of the kind of action that some Democrats were counting upon.

Similarly, Republicans complaints against the veto have died to a whisper in Congress. There is every indication of almost solid GOP support for new farm legislation the President would find acceptable.

This, plus some Democratic backing, may deliver to the President's desk in the next few weeks a soil bank measure designed to put some government checks in the hands of farmers before they go to the polls in November.

Democratic leaders have said they won't go along with the President's advance payment plan. Under it farmers who sign up to take land out of cultivation would get immediately 50 per cent of the amount due them when they comply fully with the contract.

Congressional Republicans are convinced that in a showdown many Democrats will hesitate before voting against a proposal which would give farm income a shot in the arm.

While the soil bank program holds out some hopes for income increases, Republicans are counting politically also on rising farm prices between now and election time.

These prices went up one per cent between mid-March and mid-April, continuing an upward trend which began in December. Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) said he thinks they will continue to rise. He said that is one reason he believes Democrats will make certain that this session passes some farm legislation.

Man Missing In Collision On Conchas Lake

TUCUMCARI (AP)—One man was missing and believed drowned and another in serious condition last night as the result of a two boat collision on Conchas Lake near here.

Missing and feared drowned is Lee Morrison, Dumas, Tex., and in serious condition is Lawson Bare, also of Dumas, Tex. also injured were the wives of both men. The ages of the four people were not known.

Doctors were working on Bare late tonight and had said they did not know whether he could be revived.

The accident took place on Conchas Lake at approximately 9 p. m. when the boat in which the two couples were riding was involved in a collision with one driven by Jack Dorris of Clovis. Also in the boat with Dorris was Leroy Wilkin of Clovis.

Officers are dragging the area of the lake where the accident occurred in an attempt to find the body of Morrison late tonight. A doctor and two ambulances were called from Tucumcari.

Administration Power Policies Are Criticized

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sen. Estes Kefauver, criticizing Eisenhower Administration power policies, says the Republican party has "placed a ceiling on progress." Republicans in their turn say GOP policies have given the working man a greater share of the national income.

Kefauver, completing a swing through Oregon and Washington, hopped cross-country today toward another busy week of campaigning in Florida. Adlai E. Stevenson moved into Portland, Ore., to start a series of West Coast appearances.

The two are so far the only avowed candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination. But Philo Nash, Wisconsin Democratic state chairman, predicted in Milwaukee yesterday that Gov. Averell Harriman of New York will "open his active campaign" for the nomination in a speech there May 5.

Harriman has said repeatedly he is "not an active candidate," and added a week ago that it was "highly questionable" he would ever change that status.

But Nash said he had read a draft of Harriman's address prepared for a Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner and added, "We have in the making a really great national event."

A statement by House speaker Sam Rayburn indicated he hopes for more than a favorite son candidacy also by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas. Johnson has said he is not seeking the actual nomination.

Rayburn's statement, another in a series of sharp exchanges with Texas Gov. Allan Shivers, in a contest for control of the Texas delegation, took issue with a suggestion that Shivers head the delegation and Johnson be the favorite son.

"This would be the kiss of death in any hope of making Sen. Johnson the Democratic nominee," Rayburn said.

Stephens, one a campaign tour of northern New Mexico, said that such a program would encourage the tourist business in New Mexico.

Three Remaining Russians Say Pressure Applied To Comrades

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Russian seamen, declaring they plan to remain in this country, testified Saturday they thought "pressure" caused five of their companions to return to Russia.

"Somebody put pressure on them," said Viktor Talamikov, adding "I am sorry. They will perish. They will cut wood in the alvase labor camp."

The three seamen went before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee to tell their story only a day after they had spurned direct appeals from Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zarubin that they return to Russia.

Michael Ivanov - Nikolov, 35, quoted Zarubin that "our families were waiting for us, begging us to come back and that all would be forgotten."

"But the expression on his face contrasted with everything he said Zarubin told me," my family is waiting for me and the government continues to pay them my salary."

A fourth seaman, Viktor Solov'yev, had appeared previously before the subcommittee, which is looking into Soviet activities in the United States.

All were crewmen on the Soviet tanker Taupse, which was impounded by Nationalist China in 1954. They and the five who returned to Russia suddenly on April 7 had obtained political asylum in this country last October.

Forest Fire Controlled Without Property Loss

Israel To Get More Jets From France

WASHINGTON (AP)—Israel is due to get 12 more Mystere jet fighter planes from France soon in a deal which the United States favors but does not formally approve.

The carefully limited American policy of trying to encourage other Western countries to sell defensive arms to Israel while keeping the United States aloof from the whole business is expected to get a boost from Secretary of State Dulles in Paris next week—what ever boost he is able to give it.

So far it has not been very productive.

Dulles is leaving Tuesday for a meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Paris. There he will make known to the foreign ministers of the 14 other NATO countries the United States' readiness now to join in giving the essentially military alliance greater responsibilities in economic and political fields.

Damage To Timber Estimated $125 Thousand on 8,000 Acres

ALAMOGORDO (AP)—A fire that rampaged wildly Thursday and Friday, was slowed even as its heat warmed the boards of a church camp Friday night was apparently tamed Saturday night.

U. S. Forest Service officials said that barring a break-through on the west side, the 8,000-acre fire has been contained.

They said that if this is true, they got off extremely light in view of the fact that the blaze had incinerated two villages, a summer resort and the church camp 40 miles east of here.

Apparently not a single plank of personal property was damaged and no substantial personal injuries resulted in the southern New Mexico blaze.

Damage to the rich pine and fir stands was estimated by L. J. Schroeder of the Forest Service at $125,000. Firefighting expenses so far have been $25,000, he said, and another $25,000 will be needed before the fire is out.

Fighting costs were held down, Schroeder said, by the fact that 725 of the men were military personnel from Holloman Air Force Base here and Ft. Bliss, El Paso, Tex.

Saturday evening, the fire burned apparently harmlessly, circled by wide fire walls which were carved by bulldozers during the day. Only in the west, where shifting winds caused spot fires and kept firefighters jumping did there seem to be a threat of the fire breaking free from its charred, 2 1/2-mile-long bed.

Some 50 crack Indian firefighters stood guard at the point of the fire, where a fire lane stopped it 25 yards from the Methodist Assembly church camp. A quarter of a mile back is the tiny town of Sacramento, used as one of the headquarters for the fighters. Half of these 50 were from Santa Domingo Pueblo near Santa Fe and the others were from Cochiti Pueblo at Pena Blanca.

Mesaero Apache Rednair and Zuni specialists bore the brunt of activity on the fire line during evening hours as fire breaks were widened to provide insurance against wind spread fire.

Officials said the turning point in their battle against the blaze came Friday night when winds that had roared through the trees in gusts up to 50 miles an hour began to calm.

With the spread thus slowed, fighters were able to rip open dirt breaks between the raging fire and the timber that surrounded the towns of Sacramento and Weed, the church camp and Artesia Camp, a resort area used by the fighters as their base.

The matter remained in doubt through Saturday, however, as winds would rise feebly and threaten to carry the fire outside the hastily drawn perimeter.

Bobbie Jo Hanson Wins Honorary Science Award

Bobbie Jo Hanson, a member of the senior class of Artesia High School, is the 1954 winner of the Bausch & Lomb Honorary Science Award Medal for achieving the highest scholastic record in science subjects during her high school career, it has been announced by Calloway Taubee, principal.

Only winners of this Award, presented annually in 5,800 second-year schools throughout the country, are eligible to compete for the Science Scholarship sponsored by the Bausch & Lomb Optical Company at the University of Rochester.

The internationally famous Rochester, N. Y., optical firm provides for three or four scholarships annually, with flexible stipends based on financial need. The maximum total individual Bausch & Lomb award is $4,000.

Although the Science Award Medal is presented upon graduation, the winner must be selected at an early date because applications for the scholarships must be filed with the University on or before March 1. The selection of the winner is based upon scholastic record.

Committee Formed To Deal With Juvenile Problem Here

A group of Artesia parents met with the city and school officials Friday afternoon at the city hall.

In answer to Friday's meeting on the juvenile problem, Juvenile Officer J. D. Josey, made the following statement verbatim: "Juvenile Officer J. D. Josey's reaction to the meeting held Friday in the City Hall, in which the local juvenile situation and juvenile officer were discussed, is that it was the proper thing to do. I am always happy to see our citizens take an interest in the welfare of our boys and girls as I consider them our most precious asset.

"I did not know about the meeting, but I am available and anxious to talk to those who might have a complaint.

"Since the question has been raised, and in fairness to me as juvenile officer, it is my request that those who might question my qualifications as juvenile officer, should take their complaints to our District Judge, C. Roy Anderson, Carlsbad, New Mexico, for his consideration."

J. D. Josey Juvenile Officer and formed a committee to study juvenile delinquency within the city and to recommend ways of combating what appears to be an increasingly bad situation prevalent among juveniles here.

The committee immediately made arrangements to send a delegation to Carlsbad at the earliest opportunity to discuss the problem with District Judge Roy Anderson, who is also juvenile judge.

The group leveled sharp criticism at J. D. Josey, local juvenile officer for what many seemed to believe was over-lenientcy on his part in dealing with juvenile offenders.

For more than an hour the group aired dozens of cases of juvenile delinquencies that had come to their attention, ranging from traffic violations to petting parties.

Most of the offenses brought up at the meeting occurred in the vicinity of the Junior High School, and involved both junior and senior high students and older youths.

Many of the incidents related were of a shocking nature and will probably come as a surprise to many parents who have no doubt heard completely in the dark as to what has been going on.

One mother who lives within one block of the Junior High told of observing boys and girls, some as young as 11 years of age, taking part in what she described as "breaking in parties." By her description, the boys and girls would form a circle and one boy and a girl would go to the center of the circle where the boy would stand with his hands at his sides and the girl would "love and pet the boy."

Enter Confessions In Graham Trial

DENVER, April 28 (AP)—Two confessions by John Gilbert Graham that he placed 25 sticks of dynamite—fashioned into a time bomb—aboard an airliner which exploded last Nov. 1, killing 44 persons, were presented today to a District Court jury trying him for murder.

The written confession is the instrument which the prosecution relies upon to send the 24-year-old defendant to death in Colorado's gas chamber.

Graham is charged in the death of his mother, Mrs. Daisie E. King 35, a passenger on the United Air Lines plane that blew up near Longmont, Colo.

Colorado law requires there be either a confession or an eye witness to a crime before the death penalty can be inflicted.

Graham said, in the five-page typewritten statement which he intialled in 15 places, that he assembled the bomb in the trunk of his car shortly after 3:15 p. m. last Nov. 1. He said he placed it in a suitcase his mother was taking with her to Alaska, then went to the airport and saw the bag checked for the plane.

Graham said he watched his mother board the airliner.

Plot Revealed To Assassinate Soviet Chiefs

LONDON (AP)—High British officials said yesterday anti-Communist had plotted to assassinate Prime Minister Bulganin and Soviet party boss Nikita Khrushchev during their just concluded 10-day visit to Britain.

London newspapers, the first to break the story, gave it wide play. One account said a secret anti-Communist band drew lots one night to choose a single man for an assassination attempt which would have rocked the world.

The British officials said word of the plot reached Scotland Yard and set off extremely tight security measures.

Fantastic Missile Claimed For Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Aero Digest magazine said today that the Russians have developed a missile that can be fired from a submarine 300 feet under water and hit surface targets up to 150 miles away.

The aviation engineering magazine also said the United States is "studying" guided missiles that can be launched from submarines under water, against any submarines, surface targets or aircraft.

The aviation engineering magazine said that Aerojet-General Corp., Azusa, Calif., has been working for the Navy at Key West, Fla., for some time on underwater rocket propulsion.

Navy sources confirmed that the Navy is interested in underwater missile studies but gave no details. There has been no Navy announcement of an underwater missile project.

Walter Bergquist, rocket and missile editor for Aero Digest, said in an article that the Germans developed underwater - to - surface missiles as early as 1944. He reprinted photographs of the German firings and equipment, which he said were released to the magazine by the Army's Redstone Arsenal at Huntsville, Ala.

Bergquist said the following underwater missile types are "being worked on" both in Russia and in the U. S.:

1. Underwater - to - underwater missiles—highly advanced super-torpedoes that can be used against enemy submarines as well as surface vessels.

2. Underwater - to - surface rockets, based on German developments with rockets using solid propellants.

3. Underwater-to-air missiles, "an entirely new concept, in submarine defense against attacking aircraft."

The Aero Digest writer said that some submarines in the future may be built as launchers of intercontinental ballistic missiles.

Backstage New Mexico

By The New Mexico Staff Of The ASSOCIATED PRESS

Face foliage fever is sweeping New Mexico's largest city in near-epidemic proportions.

Growing whiskers for a community celebration isn't anything new. But the grandiose scale on which it is being approached for Albuquerque's 250th anniversary celebration this summer makes it worthy of special attention.

No one knows exactly how it caught fire.

Original plans were modest—just encouraging as many men as possible to sport mustaches, sideburns and beards for the big show July 4-14.

The plan gained momentum. Next announced plans were to strive for a goal of 20,000 bearded gents in the Duke City.

The campaign went over the top on Friday the 13th. City Commission Chairman Maurice Sanchez on that date issued a mandate requiring every Albuquerque male of whisker-growing age to produce some type of face foliage or face the consequences. And he promptly laid down his own razor.

THE MAN without some type of whiskers is rapidly becoming an oddity in Albuquerque. Those who started early on the growing contest are out of the scratchy, itchy scraggly stage and the beards are becoming, as the birds would say, luxuriant.

The wives have had their say, but no organized resistance has developed thus far.

To further the bearded gentry class, officials of the observance have formed the Dukes of Albuquerque.

These are beard-growing chapters scattered all over the city. Each chapter members pays a dollar and gets a lapel button. The Heights Lions Club went into the campaign en masse, voting 100 percent to grow mustaches, sideburns or beards—or all three.

The observance in Albuquerque is being billed as "America's Greatest Celebration for 1956" and advance notice indicates an extravaganza of epic proportions.

The "show of the Century" actually will be staged at the University of New Mexico stadium with nine performances slated July 6-14. It will feature a "mammoth cast of 2,000-brilliantly costumed. Gigantic block-long stage flooded with dazzling lights—thrilling music—nineteen spectacular scenes—the dramatic story of Albuquerque from wilderness to atomic center of the world—Conquistadores, Indians, soldiers, gay nineties, battles, action-packed two hours. Fireworks, turning night into a blaze of breathtaking color."

The circus greats of yesteryear could take pride in the billing and advance publicity . . . including such phrases as those above and "network radio and television programs originating from Albuquerque . . . square dancing on horseback . . . thousands dressed as old . . . re-enactment of the Old West . . . unusual attractions in all Albuquerque stores."

And the beards, of course.

A NEW TWIST in politics has bubbled up in Grant County.

Carl Dunifon, Silver City attorney, is seeking the Democratic nomination for state senator. He wants the post now held by State Sen. C. C. Royall Jr., who is seeking renomination.

Dunifon took half page advertising in the Silver City Press recently to outline the campaign and write a direct and open letter to Royall. He recalled that 30 years ago, when he went to Silver City new start in a strange territory, as a "sick boy trying to make a name of the first people who befriended him was State Sen. C. C. Royall Sr.—the father of his current opponent.

"Nothing I will say or publish," Dunifon wrote, "will cast the slightest reflection on the integrity of either your good father or yourself. You are a man of dignity. I hope I am. The office to which we aspire is certainly an office of great dignity and importance . . . In the event I am vanquished, which eventually I certainly do not anticipate, I will be the first to congratulate you. On the other hand, if I emerge the victor, I would want you to be the first to offer your felicitations. Certainly there need be no bitterness nor rancor as an aftermath to our contest."

BOP? Nothing to it, says the family's six year old. He explained to his mother "All you have to do is move your feet and wiggle your hips."

About 89 years ago, one of the West's famous trailblazers, Oliver Loving, died of complications from a bullet wound at Fort Sumner.

Loving and Charles Goodnight established the famed Goodnight Trail over which thousands of cattle were herded west from Texas and north through eastern New Mexico to hungry gold miners in Colorado. Comanches attacked on one drive, and Loving was wounded in the wrist. Four men happened along after the fight and took him to Fort Sumner where the arm was amputated. Loving died in September, 1867, and Goodnight returned from Denver to take his body home. Goodnight wrote, "I took his body, placing the metallic casket in a wagon drawn by a pair of good mules and returned it to his home in Weatherford, Tex., something over 600 miles, where he was buried by his own lodge of Masons, and

Survey Shows Oil Production Costs Doubled

NEW YORK (Special) — In less than a decade, exploration, development and production costs in the petroleum industry have more than doubled.

Total cash outlays covering these activities increased from 2.1 billion dollars in 1944 to 3.8 billion dollars in 1953. On a per barrel basis of net crude oil produced these costs averaged $1.47 in 1944, $2.21 in 1948 and $3.16 in 1953.

These sobering bits of information are among the highlights of a special survey made jointly by the American Petroleum Institute, the Independent Petroleum Association of America, and the Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

Published today, the survey is the second and final part of a study initiated 16 months ago by the three associations with one thought in mind: To develop specific information on drilling costs and production costs — data that never had been compiled before on an industry-wide basis. Many oil men knew the general outlines, and their own operating costs, but none had specific pinpoints on trends or long-term comparisons of the industry as a whole.

The first phase of the survey was published in January. It covered drilling costs and showed, among other things, that oil men and oil companies expended an average of $50,000 in drilling and equipping each of the 49,279 wells drilled in 1953. It also emphasized the astronomical way in which drilling costs skyrocketed as depths increased.

Like the first unit of the survey, the statistics in the second are no more recent than 1953, these being the most up-to-date at the time the study was initiated. Costs and other factors no doubt have increased materially since then, but the survey does give specific information over a 10-year period, and provides illuminating data where none existed before.

Production costs alone were almost two and one-half times as great in 1953 as in 1944. The figures here are 43 cents per net barrel produced in 1944, 70 cents in 1948 and $1.02 in 1953. Expenditures and development in 1953 were slightly more than double the 1944 totals. This comparison shows that exploration expenditures were 45 cents a barrel in 1944, 64 cents in 1948, and 95 cents in 1953. Similarly, development expenditures were 59 cents a barrel in 1944, 87 cents in 1948 and $1.19 in 1953.

Lumped together, as production statistics normally are, the figures then indicate that for each barrel of net crude oil production in 1944, the estimated expenditures were $1.47 a barrel; in 1948, they were $2.21 a barrel; and in 1953, they were $3.16 a barrel. This is dramatic evidence of the tremendous growth in producers' costs during this 10-year period.

Percentage-wise, the survey statistics show that the total expenditures per net barrel produced increased 50.3 per cent between 1944 and 1948, 43 per cent between 1948 and 1953, and 115 per cent between 1944 and 1953.

THE SO-CALLED Depressed Areas Bill, which is getting a rechristening and is now to be called the Redevelopment Bill, is being redrafted to take care of some problems particularly affecting New Mexico.

Sen Paul Douglas, who heads the joint committee on the economic report, has advised Sen. Dennis Chavez of New Mexico that the bill is being redrafted. The redrafting possibly is the result of testimony given recently at a hearing in Washington by witnesses from New Mexico.

The new version of the bill will include Indian areas in great need and an adequate number of rural and semi-rural counties including logged-off areas in timber country. Douglas notified Chavez his committee is authorizing still further appropriations to meet their needs and "we are also improving the bill in other respects."

Sen Paul Douglas, who heads the joint committee on the economic report, has advised Sen. Dennis Chavez of New Mexico that the bill is being redrafted. The redrafting possibly is the result of testimony given recently at a hearing in Washington by witnesses from New Mexico.

The new version of the bill will include Indian areas in great need and an adequate number of rural and semi-rural counties including logged-off areas in timber country. Douglas notified Chavez his committee is authorizing still further appropriations to meet their needs and "we are also improving the bill in other respects."

In the Class A tourney, Eunice piled up 106½ points. Dexter was far back with 45, followed by Jal with 39½, Hagerman 26, Ruuidoso 21½, Capitan 21, Carrizozo 20½, and St. Peters 7.

Negro Player Causes Game Postponement

BATON ROUGE, La., April 28 (AP)—The listing of a Negro player in the Lake Charles lineup caused postponement of an Evangeline League game with Baton Rouge tonight.

Negroes are barred from the park used here by the Class C baseball clubs, but the problem was solved last night by a "gentleman's agreement."

Under the agreement, Lake Charles benched Negro shortstop Ralph Crosby and center fielder Felipe Alou while Baton Rouge benched their regular shortstop and center fielder, Baton Rouge then beat league-leading Lake Charles 7-4.

Tonight, however, Lake Charles presented its lineup which listed Crosby. Chief Umpire Joe Powers in turn gave the lineup to Bob Breazeale, president of the Baseball Fans, Inc., which operates the Baton Rouge team.

The public address system then read a statement to approximately 600 fans, explaining that the game had to be postponed because of the segregation ban.

The Baton Rouge club had expected Lake Charles to use at least one Negro tonight and had not opened the ticket office. The fans drifted in to see what would happen.

Powers next will report to Ray Mullins, president of the Evangeline League, who will rule on the situation. Mullins was expected to forfeit the game.

Sam Tarleton, general manager of the Lake Charles team, previously warned that the "gentleman's agreement" would not be in effect tonight.

Wanted—A New Heavyweight Champion Of The World

NEW YORK (AP)—Wanted — a heavyweight champion of the world.

The retirement of Rocky Marciano, unbeaten in 49 pro fights, leaves boxing's "golden" division in a state of wild confusion. Everybody wants to get into the act.

Before Marciano had confirmed his wife's announcement from Brockton, Mass., of his decision to quit, Archie Moore, the light heavyweight champ, had claimed the title through Charlie Johnston, his manager. Floyd Patterson, through his manager and Cus D'Amato also filed a claim.

Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, started to talk of Moore, Hurricane Jackson, Patterson and "six or seven others including Bob Baker, Nino Valdes and Johnny Holman."

The IBC plans an elimination tournament, starting with a Baker-Holman pairing in 12 rounds at Miami Beach, May 9, which would include all the ranking fighters.

"I will go to the New York State Athletic Commission, the European Boxing Union and the National Boxing Assn. to see if they will recognize the winner of the tournament that we, or any other promoter run."

Norris said he was trying to make a Patterson-Jackson match but it was "nowhere near closed."

Marciano goes home to Brockton to spend more time with his wife, Barbara, and 3½-year-old daughter, Mary Anne. "Actually I feel good," he said. "I weigh about 212, 23 pounds over my fighting weight and I still have some good fights left in me. But I think I would be taking advantage of my family if I tried to fight any more.

"Even before the Archie Moore fight (his last of six defenses, Sept. 21, 1955) I was thinking of retirement. After the fight I began to consider it seriously. My wife and I discussed it on our South American vacation and I promised to quit before May 1.

Marciano's purses for 49 fights in which only six opponents have gone the route, runs to about $1,700,000 including manager's cut and tax.

Bulldogs Bow To Clovis With Two Defeats

The inexperienced skeleton squad of the Bulldog baseball team Friday night suffered two defeats at the hands of Clovis in a twin bill here.

The young "Dogs went down 5-1 and 8-0 before the onslaught of the older and more experienced Clovis team.

Miss Gaynelle Brown was crowned "Miss Baseball" for the Bulldogs between games.

Badly depleted after losing most of their Junior and senior team mates for an infraction of rules, the Bulldogs played the best game their experience permitted.

The last game was the first time the Bulldogs have been forced to a shutout.

The Bulldogs will go to Carlsbad Wednesday night and Roswell will meet them here next Friday to wind up the season.

Sime Shatters 30-Year-Old Drake Record

Des Moines, April 28 (AP)—Muscular Dave Sime, Duke's sophomore cannonball, shattered a 30-year-old Drake Relays record today with a 9.4 triumph in a 100-yard dash over a water-logged track.

Rapidly aging stature as this nation's top Olympic candidate for the 100-meter honors, the 190-pound Sime handed Bobby Morrow of Abilene Christian his first century defeat in 31 starts by a yard and a half.

The superb 9.4 effort under miserable conditions which forced the pole vault and the high jump indoors, enabled Sime to crack the 9.5 Drake record set by Nebraska's late Roland Locke in 1926.

Locke's mark had been tied by two Olympic sprinting stars, Ralph Metcalf of Marquette in 1932 and Ohio State's Jesse Owens in 1935.

The spectators, some 5,000 dripping wet die-hard track fans, deserved recognition as much as the 19 champions crowned. They sat huddled through a soaking rainfall and 38-degree temperature.

Sime's 9.4 effort, only a 10th of a second behind the world century mark of 9.3, was the sole record breaking performance in the two-day competition for athletics from 75 universities and colleges.

Abilene Christian, with Morrow anchoring two races, took meet honors with three relays titles—the 440, 880 and mile baton events in the college division.

In the university division, Baylor took the 440 and 880 relays with football halfback Del Shofner anchoring both times, and placed second to Oklahoma A&M in the closing mile relay. Iowa also won university class relays - the sprint medley yesterday and the distance medley today.

Easy Choice

Some confusion is developing around the Democratic race for nomination for governor—a contest in which the elements are so clear that there should be no misunderstanding on the part of anyone.

The shouting about stooze candidates, denunciation of the new welfare laws and wailing about big trucks do not change the simple circumstance in which the Democratic party is offering one qualified, responsible candidate for the office, the incumbent governor, and two who so far have not demonstrated any reason why they should be in the race.

Corporation Commissioner Ingram Pickett is an affable individual and is widely admired for a position he took several years ago against a telephone rate increase. We doubt however, if there are many thinking people who would want MR. Pickett at the head of the state's national guard, as one who selects the regents of the state's universities and colleges, as the final authority on legislation, as the apportioner of judges, wardens, educators. Commissioner Pickett hasn't demonstrated the kind of ability required to handle the massive load of the governor's office.

We frankly don't know why Robert Stephens, the other one, is in the race.

The confused opposition to Governor Simms is almost entirely attributable to resentment towards acts of the legislature. The proper place to register complaints against the legislature is in the very important legislative races that are also before us. Democratic voters would do the state and their party no good by sacrificing responsibility in their candidate for governor to satisfy a pique against another branch of the state government. The only intelligent choice for Democratic nomination for governor is John F. Simms.

They Should Reverse It

Every year there are a good many discussions by the newspaper folks regarding political advertising and political speeches.

Most of the comment about the speeches concerns the fact they are delivered over TV or the radio where time must be bought and paid for and then submitted to the newspapers as news.

Most of the newspapers object to this. That, of course, is understandable. If the politician wants his speech over the air and buys time to get it there then if he wants it in the newspaper he should expect to buy and pay for the space.

The fact is that unless the candidate says something startling or unusual, the speech has little news value. But if he does have something of news value the thing to do is give it to the newspapers first and let them run it before he or she makes their speech on TV or on the radio. Newspapers have developed a habit of not wanting to run something that has been announced or something that has even been published. So to insure it being used, if it is news worthy, the thing to do is give it to the papers first.

We can assure the average candidate who is making a television appearance and a speech in Albuquerque he or she is wasting their time and their money by preparing a copy of this speech and mailing it out to the newspapers over the state.

They are not about to use it after it has been given and especially when they know the candidate had to pay to get it on television.

The fact is that if there is anything startling or revealing in the speech the wire service are going to have it anyway and the candidate can save his paper, his stamps, his envelopes and the time of those mailing it out.

Newspapers are slowly learning they can't expect to sell the one item they have to sell—white space—by giving it away to the politicians while they spend their money to get on radio and television.

The smart politician likewise isn't going to expect to pay one place for his or her advertising and then expect another advertising medium to provide the advertising for nothing.

And when newspapers halt the practice of running speeches made over the radio they won't have any trouble selling their advertising.

In Police Court Saturday, Willie John Hutson and Mary Johnson, both of 310 N. Sixth pleaded innocent to a disturbance charge and were released on $25 bond each.

form the police department of every traffic violator whose license he revokes so they may be on the lookout for the juvenile in case he drives without a license.

Theatre owner, Ray Bartlett told of suffering as much as $400 damage in the form of slashed seats in the theatres. He said that he is going to have to close the balcony as soon as doors can be installed, due to juveniles throwing things from the balcony into the audience below. He cited one instance of a juvenile pulling an "eight-inch" knife on an usher who had made him remove his feet from one of the seats in the theatre.

Bartlett said that he had adopted a "get-tough policy" in the theatres about 60 days ago and that as a result, the situation there was now pretty well under control.

He said that "getting hard boiled" has worked in the theatres. A similar policy by the police and juvenile authorities may have the same results.

Howard Stroup, chairman of the Board of Education said that he believes getting hard boiled with the ring leaders might be the answer. Stroup also said that he believed something had to be done to break up "going steady" among school students. He said that there are entirely too many school marriages taking place.

One mother chided parents for "condoning acts of immorality among juveniles by not fighting it." She especially urged them to avoid endorsing juvenile marriages without parental sanction, but allowing their children to participate in showers for the young couples, thus glamorizing them.

It was the general consensus of the group that the answer to the problem lies with the parents. It was pointed out, however, that there is "a 10 per cent" among parents also.

Taulbee had warned earlier against "allowing your perspective to become based on the five per cent of juveniles who are the trouble makers. Others among the group voiced a feeling that the percentage was more like 10 per cent.

One of the big problems facing parents and school officials is control of students during off hours, after they have left the school grounds. This is where most of the delinquency takes place and it becomes almost impossible for authorities to do anything about it and parents probably most times are not aware of what is taking place.

State Representative Fred Cole cited a court test case which established school authorities have no jurisdiction over students once they leave the school grounds. Cole said, aside, that he is going to back a parental responsibility law in connection with vandalism, in the next session of the legislature.

It was generally felt that some means of stronger punishment for juvenile offenders must be found, and it is in this connection that the committee appointed a delegation to go before Judge Anderson.

One mother cited an instance in which her ten-year daughter received a traffic ticket and went before Judge Josey. Her daughter she said, came home feeling disgusted because the judge didn't so much as give her a dressing down for the offenses.

Mayor Yeager explained the limited authority invested in Judge Josey, saying that the juvenile officer may lecture the culprit, revoke his drivers license if he has given to them by officials for signatures.

East where, Dulles has emphasized, NATO has a direct and vital stake because it obtains the oil for its engines of war from the great petroleum-producing areas of that region.

Another problem, which Dulles definitely plans to take up at Paris and which may figure importantly in NATO discussions, is that of Cyprus. Dulles is expected to press British Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd to redouble efforts for a settlement of the issue which has split Greece from Britain and Turkey.

Still another issue due for discussion is the unrest in North Africa. France has made heavy withdrawals of troops from its NATO forces in Europe to deal with North African uprisings.

As for the Middle East problems, it is clear that the United States would like for some of the other Western nations to play a more active part without involving the United States officially to any great degree.

ention of the district attorney and file an information in district court (which here is also the juvenile court). He pointed out the maximum punishment for a juvenile is to send him to the industrial school at Springer, the district judge is very hesitant to send a youth to a school for crime. However, it is up to the juvenile officer to decide what cases are to be filed in court.

It was pointed out, however, that the parents of juvenile offenders may be filed on, but it was not made clear how this might be accomplished. It was also pointed out that where older youths are concerned, they may be filed on for contributing to the delinquency of minors.

School officials informed the parents that they would cooperate to the fullest extent with the parents group in whatever means they may come up with to meet the problem.

Oil Demands Outstripping New Reserves

AMARILLO — The oil industry is "not finding oil in sufficient quantities to keep up with the growing demand," Ernest O. Thompson told members of the Panhandle Products and Royalty Owners Assn. yesterday.

Thompson, of Amarillo, is senior member of the Texas Railroad Commission. He said "We must find oil. We are drilling as never before in history—more wells and deeper wells—but we are not finding oil in sufficient quantities."

Thompson made his remarks when he introduced Dillon Anderson, chairman of the National Security Council planning board and an assistant to President Eisenhower.

Anderson said "The competitive system, under which we long have operated, and the incentive to prospect for, find, and produce petroleum products can and must be preserved."

He told the 300 persons at a banquet that this was the thought of the administration. He said the administration feels natural resources within states should be regulated by the states without federal interference.

The organization elected John O'Brien, Amarillo, president and George Cree Jr., Pampa, first vice president. Others elected were John Turner, Borger, second vice president; F. V. Wallace, Amarillo, secretary; Frank Storm, Amarillo, treasurer, and W. C. Stallings, executive vice president.

Road Program Due For House Vote Today

WASHINGTON — Voting starts in the House today on the final shape of a $1 1/2-billion-dollar national road construction program designed to be self-financing.

Both Republicans and Democrats predicted it would pass.

Opposition that appeared in the first day of floor discussion on the measure yesterday dealt primarily with two side issues — wage regulation and utility line relocation costs.

A compromise was reported reached on the utility facilities so as to allow the states to follow their traditional practice on reimbursing utility lines for moving their poles and lines along road rights of way.

A fight loomed on the provision to allow the secretary of labor to set minimum wages for workers on the proposed interstate systems.

The bill would provide for 51 1/2 billion dollars in federal and state roadbuilding over the next 13 years. It includes 27 1/2 billions for a 40,000-mile system of interstate superhighways. The federal government would pay 90 per cent of its cost, the states the rest.

The federal government also would step up its regular aid to states for roads.

The measure carries tax increases with it — $14,800,000,000 in new and increased taxes for road users over a 16-year period. These with road taxes already collected, supposedly will be ample to pay for the new program.

Rep. Boggs (D-La.), author of the tax provisions, said he knew of no opposition to them.

Boggs told the House yesterday it has been estimated the increases would cost the average motorist an additional $8.83 a year.

FEATURING a striking use of "black light" for special effects, the Lions open the show with a "Lion-up" of luminescent cards spelling out the title of the attraction.

"The Lion's Roar" Brings Forth Roars Of Laughter

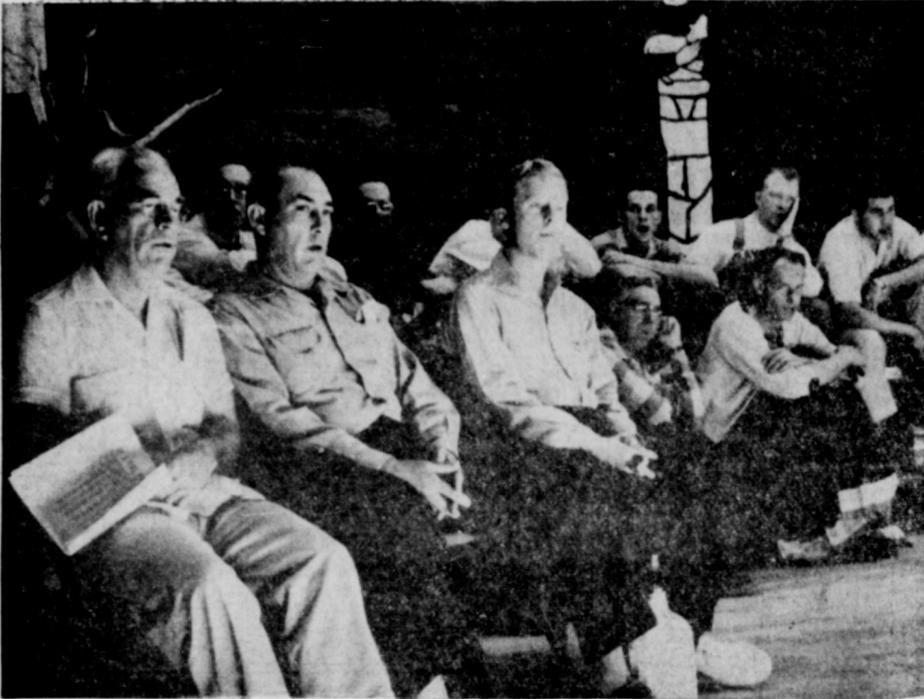

Lions estimate more than 1,500 turned out Friday and Saturday nights to enjoy the highly Lionized show. "The Lions Roar."

Blessings to Dorothy Blessing for a superb job of directing the show. Also to Ferdy Blessing as technical director, and to many others who helped to make the show a success.

AN ADVOCATE PICTURE STORY

Proceeds of the show go to many worthwhile projects sponsored by the Lions Club, including the Lions' sight conservation program.

An enthusiastic audience might well toss a bouquet to the Lions for a swell evening of fun. (All Advocate Photos)

READING OFF the riot act to the chorus during rehearsal, Dorothy Blessing (right), director of the show, tells Lions they will have to rehearse until everything goes smoothly. Actually there was little time for rehearsals. Everybody worked hard and turned out a fine performance. Standing in front of Mrs. Blessing are Lions, Chuck Baldwin (left) and Bill McGinty (in straw hat).

Miss Phoebe Jane Welch, Mr. Haldeman Wed Here Monday

The marriage of Miss Phoebe Jane Welch and William Vance Haldeman took place at 8 p. m. Monday at the First Presbyterian Church. The Rev. John H. Payne, Jr., Episcopal pastor performed the double-ring Episcopal ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Marion Condrey Welch, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Haldeman. The choir stalls were adorned with smilac, daisies and candles. Pedestal baskets of white double snapdragons and candles were used on the altar. The aisles were decorated with daisies, smilac and candles, and the back of the altar was banked with palms.

Mrs. Stanley Carper at the organ played the traditional wedding marches, and accompanied Mrs. J. T. Caudle who sang "O Perfect Love," by Barney, and "The Lord's Prayer," by Malotte.

The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, V. S. Welch. She wore a gown of candlelight ivory imported silk taffeta. The bodice was fashioned with a wide noyean age neckline, outlined in cordonnet, and long taffeta sleeves that tapered to petal points over her hands. Tiny covered buttons extended down the back of the tightly mouled bodice, re-embroidered in cream lace veiled the bodice and the front of the bouffant princess paneled skirt that swept to a wide fan shape court train. Her veil was of imported French silk illusion and extended in misty tiers to her fingertips, from a narrow pillbox of Alencon lace sprinkled with tiny seed pearls. She carried yellow orchid with cascade of stephanotis on her prayer book.

Miss Patsy Ann Iverson of Fort Worth, Texas, cousin of the bride was maid-of-honor. Mrs. Thomas Flynn Welch of Salem, Ill., Mrs. Wendell C. Welch of Artesia, Miss Marion Jo Welch of Artesia, and Miss Marjorie Nell Welch of Beverly Hills, Calif., were the bridesmaids. The attendants were identically attired in gowns of aqua taffeta. The long-torso bodices were fashioned with a wide square shape neckline and brief shirred sleeves. The full gathered skirts were waltz length. They wore half hats fashioned of three tiny tailored bows of matching aqua. Miss Iverson carried a crescent bouquet of yellow gladioli florets and yellow sweethearts accented with iridescent braid. The bridesmaids carried crescent bouquet of white gladioli florets with yellow roses accented with iridescent braid.

Victor Haldeman, brother of the bridegroom was best man. Ushers were E. H. Ward, Bernard Cleve, Glen Farmer, and Sanders Terry all of Artesia.

The bride's mother wore a beige silk organza and lace dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was of pink orchids. Mrs. Haldeman, mother of the bridegroom wore a blue lace over rose taffeta dress with blue accessories. Her corsage was of pink orchids. A reception was held at the Artesia Country Club. The reception table was centered with silver punch bowls and an epergne filled with white lilies, Marguerite daisies and yellow roses. On the bride's table was a three-tiered cake iced in pale yellow on a silver tray with fern and stephanotis around the base, and the cake was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. The couple left that evening on a honeymoon trip to Las Vegas, Nev.

Local Doctor Asks: Why Suffer With Allergies?

The common thought is that allergies are caused by human hypersensitivity to a substance which in similar amounts may be harmless to others. While it may be true that a person is sensitive to certain substances, the cause of that sensitivity is actually within the patient's body. And the basic cause is a disturbance to the nervous system due to a nerve pressure brought about by misaligned or subluxated vertebrae pressing on the spinal cord and spinal nerves.

Chiropractic results have proven that removal of this nerve pressure is most effective in ridding the patient of allergies. The Chiropractor is especially trained and scientifically equipped to locate and remove nerve pressure. Therefore if you are suffering from an allergy, it is not true to say "I have done everything possible" until you try Chiropractic.

For further information about Chiropractic you are invited to consult Dr. K. Behnke Rains, Palmer Graduate Chiropractor, 420 W. Quay, Phone SH 6-3800.

Six To Wed In One Family At The Same Time

BLENHEIM, Ont., (AP) — Six of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Dorssers' 15 children were to march to the altar today to take four husbands and two brides in Canada's biggest multiple wedding.

This southern Ontario village of 2,600 bedecked itself lavishly with colored street lights for the occasion and towns people brought around new cars for the six couples to ride in to little St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church.

A steady stream of visitors began yesterday. It included more than 50 newspaper, radio and television representatives from both the United States and Canada.

It also included a crew of technicians who set up equipment to record the ceremonies to be broadcast later in the Dorssers' native Helden in the Netherlands.

The mass ceremony resulted from the decree of 61-year-old farmer Dorssers that his six children weren't to keep him running from one wedding to another all springtime.

"One wedding is enough," said papa Dorssers adding good naturedly "I'm behind now with the spring planting."

The Dorssers' girls, Christina, Wilhelmina, Dora and Grada exchange vows respectively with Jack Van Haren, Gerard Williamsen, Bill Vandenberg and Ben Luiting. Brother Andre's bride was Anne Heuvelmans and Cornelius' was Joan Menheere.

Mother Dorssers, a plump gray-haired woman, wept quietly last night during the rehearsal. She murmured, "I didn't think there would be all this excitement but I'm very happy."

The first man made earth satellite is expected to circle the earth about once every 90 minutes.

VOTE FOR GORDON L. SLOAN Democratic Candidate FOR COUNTY Commissioner

Better, wider roads and bridges, and a fair deal to everyone is my motto. I have lived in Eddy County 25 years and I know the conditions, especially the conditions that I believe need changing for the better. If elected I promise a business-like administration and a constant drive for better roads and bridges. It can be done, to my way of thinking, don't forget it!

Of course your vote will be appreciated but the main thing if you want some honest-to-God action for the better, go to the polls on May 8th and vote for me. I'm no politician and just dumb enough to do my level best to keep all my promises. I'll admit that would be unusual for a politician but so help me, I'll deliver for you. # Farmers To Receive Refunds Of Gas Taxes After June 30

Farmers will be able to obtain a refund of the Federal excise tax on gasoline which is used on a farm for farming purposes under the law approved by President Eisenhower on April 2, 1956. The present Federal tax rate is 2 cents a gallon. Commissioner of Internal Revenue Russell C. Harrington announced that under the new law the first refund payments will be made after June 30 with respect to gasoline purchased and used during the first six months of 1956. Thereafter, refunds will be made for a one-year period from July 1 to June 30.

To get his refund, a farmer will have to file his claim after June 30 and before October 1. Claims are to be made on Form 2240 and are to be filed with the United States District Director of Internal Revenue for the farmer's district. The form will be available after June 1 at Internal Revenue offices, county agricultural agents, and many banks and post offices.

Refunds will be limited to the Federal tax on gasoline which is used by a farmer for farming purposes, in carrying on a trade or business, on a farm located in the United States. A farmer may also request a refund of the tax on any gasoline which is used on his farm by a custom operator or a neighbor in connection with cultivating the soil, or raising or harvesting any agricultural or horticultural commodity.

In general, the new law provides that gasoline shall be treated as used for farming purposes if it is used:

- (1) By the farmer or any other person in connection with cultivating the soil, or raising or harvesting any agricultural or horticultural commodity, including the raising of livestock, poultry, etc., on the farmer's own farm.
- (2) By the farmer in the operation, management, conservation, improvement, or maintenance of his farm or its tools or equipment.
- (3) By the farmer in handling, drying, packing, grading, or storing any agricultural or horticultural commodity in its unmanufactured state, but only if the farmer produced more than one-half of the commodity which he so treated during the period for which the claim is filed.
- (4) By the farmer in connection with the planting, cultivating, caring for, or cutting of trees, or the preparation (other than sawing in lumber, chipping, or other milling) of trees for market, but only if the planting, etc., is incidental to his farming operations.

No refunds of tax are allowed on gasoline used off the farm, such as gasoline used on public roads or highways in transporting family members or workmen, equipment, livestock, crops, feed, etc. Also, no refunds are allowed for tax on gasoline used in processing, packaging, freezing, or canning operations.

Farmers are also given special relief from the Federal excise tax on diesel fuel and special motor fuels used on a farm for farming purposes.

Farmers who expect to file claims should keep sufficient records to enable the Internal Revenue Service to verify the accuracy of the amount claimed.

Commissioner Harrington said that regulations relating to the new law will be issued as soon as possible.

Arid Lands Under Study At Las Cruces

LAS CRUCES (AP)—Scientists and engineers are meeting to give problems of vast arid sections of the West another going over.

The gathered in a conference of the Southwestern and Rocky Mountain division of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science. The meeting ends May 3.

This meeting picked up from discussion of arid land problems discussed at a similar meeting of international experts in Albuquerque and Socorro last year. The aim of that meeting was to bring people together from various sciences to pool ideas and efforts to help solve problems of desert and semi-desert regions.

Peter C. Duisberg, chairman of the Committee on Desert and Arid Zone Research for this section of the AAAS, was presiding over the 1956 symposium at New Mexico A&M College.

The discussion was to begin with a history of organized scientific efforts in the Southwest by C. W. Botkin, professor emeritus of chemistry at New Mexico A&M College and past president of this

Warehouses Overflowing With Surpluses

Record production, encouraged by high, rigid price supports, has filled government warehouses to overflowing. The volume of surplus commodities continues to grow in spite of vigorous efforts to dispose of them into every available outlet in the world, says John Kling, extension economist at New Mexico A&M College.

During the past year, total value of price-support purchases and loans increased nearly 1 1/2 billion dollars. At of Feb. 1, 1956, the price-support investment of the Commodity Credit Corporation amounted to $8,891,280,000. Of this amount, $2,971,201,000 was in outstanding loans. The balance of $5,920,079,000 represented the cost value of these commodities by the CCC.

Cotton leads the four commodities accounting for the bulk of the loan total under the price-support operations as of Feb. 1, 1956.
