

'As It Looks From Here'

Cong. Omar Burleson

The Congress is now grinding out appropriations bills for money to run the government for the fiscal year beginning July 1 and running to the same period in 1954.

Reductions are being made in practically everything, but unfortunately the greatest reduction must come from National Defense if the cost of government is greatly reduced.

Since 87c of every Federal tax dollar goes to pay for past wars, foreign military and economic aid, defense at home, veterans benefits, and the interest on the National debt, it only leaves 13c to run all the other huge activities of the government.

The National Defense budget has been reduced by over 5 billion dollars, and the Air Force is evidently bearing the brunt of it. The Secretary of Defense says that the efficiency of the Air Force will not be reduced. I hope he is right, but it is hard to see. It concerns me deeply because it just seems there is no choice but to be strong if we are to be safe in the dangerous world in which we live.

Incidentally, I am setting up a file on the requests I receive not to cut funds for this, that, and the other. It seems most of us are for cutting funds which affect the other fellow but not for expenditures for those things in which we are particularly interested. Usually letters and telegrams start off with, "I am for economy, but—" or "I am for economy, however—"

This country is in somewhat the same position as the couple who got married and set up a budget for their living. The boy had a limited income. So they were going to set aside so much money for this and so much for that. However, after about a month, the boy began to receive bills for things purchased by his wife before their marriage. The bills had to be paid, and the budget went out the window.

This country has bought two World Wars for itself and a great many other countries and the bills are past due. These bills are represented by the Public Debt, the interest on which is around 6 billion dollars. In addition, since the present preparedness program started, there is left unpaid approximately $1 billion dollars. Those bills are now becoming due, and they can only be paid from the dollars wrung from the poor old taxpayer. The Congress is always trying to figure out how the bitter pill can be sweetened, but it ain't easy.

In the face of these tremendous responsibilities, there is no need for me or anyone else to say that the path before us is strewn with roses. It is not too difficult for us to face a real crisis, when we can see it—such as war—but it is human nature for us to lose sight of the essentials before our eyes if we can put it off to another day.

The Eisenhower Administration says that the budget cannot be balanced this year, even if taxes are not reduced and even if considerable reductions are made in spending. They ask that the excess profits tax on corporations be extended from its expiration date on June 30.

Regardless of the level of taxes, one thing is certain. There is a great need for adjustment of taxes. We need an overhauling of our entire tax system in order to better equalize the burden.

I am often reminded to ask myself which is worse—to have no convictions or no courage to back them up.

CONTOURED, TERRACED FIELD

Could you use more rain? Most all farm owners and operators realize that a deep underground season is badly needed, yet, after recent rains it was observed that water ran out of some terraced fields in the Upper Clear Fork Soil Conservation District. It was also noticed that adjoining fields, where level terraces were well kept and had the ends blocked, held all the water that fell and absorbed it very rapidly.

Three inches of rain was reported on one farm. New terraces with closed ends held all the water that fell, while water ran out of other terraces in the same field.

The water that runs down to a terrace after a rain does not help the underground moisture or the crop yield above the channel. Each row needs to be level to hold the water where it falls. This will help keep the "underground season" from running down the river.

The experiment station at Spur has compared cotton yields from fields with closed level terraces,

Miss Nila Shaded returned to her home in Oklahoma City Monday. She had visited several days with her sister, Mrs. Jim Nayfa, Mr. Nayfa and baby. Mrs. Nayfa's mother, Mrs. Shaded of Oklahoma City, had been here several days and remained for a longer visit.

contour rows and rows down the slope. Contouring alone was a little less than half as effective as were closed level terraces. Over a period of years saving all the water had increased returns 46%. Reducing the amount of runoff by one inch gave an increase of 20 pounds of lint per acre. In no case did flooding the crop reduce yields.

The supervisors of the Upper Clear Fork Soil Conservation District realize that some farmers do not have all the equipment they need to maintain terraces. They have made available the following equipment for the use of any farmer in the district:

Whirlwind terraces, for enlarging fairly good terraces;

Disc plows, for plowing to the terraces;

Tumbler fresnos and scoops, for making fills and blocks.

The district supervisors encourage farmers to use this equipment and hold the rain where it falls.

The Most Common Human Ailments

By Texas Medical Association.
Three common problems facing medicine today are overweight, headaches and hardening of the arteries. Overweight (or obesity) plagues an estimated 15,000,000 Americans. The chief cause, regardless of alibi, is that the person affected takes in more food than his body can spend in energy. Even if the "glands" are to blame, the patient usually overeats to make things worse. People should control their weight to keep from dying young and to avoid diseases of middle and later life, such as high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries or kidney disease.

To reduce, the patient must give his wholehearted cooperation to the doctor. A diet is of little help unless it is followed. However, more liberal diets are recommended now than formerly, and the medically supervised diet often allows the patient more food than one he might draw up for himself. Reducing pills to curb the appetite may be considered helpful by the doctor. Too, the physician can help the patient develop healthful attitudes toward eating and life in general so that he is not so badly tempted to overeat. The chief value of exercise is to keep the muscles in tone.

The causes of headache may be almost without number; however, one of the most common types is the "migraine" or "sick headache." Although the brain is not sensitive to pain, other structures inside or near the head are, for example, the blood vessels and nerves, the covering of the brain called the "dura," the muscle of the scalp and neck, and the eyes, nose or teeth. In migraine headaches, it is believed that the blood vessels become swollen, twisted or stretched, setting off the pain reaction.

The headache victim often is able to find relief through lying in a quiet, dark room with cold applied to the head. However, if headaches are frequent, he would be wise to see a doctor. Physical examination and treatment not only may make life more bearable; they also may reveal trouble, such as a brain tumor, in time for the patient to be helped most.

Hardening of the arteries (arteriosclerosis), which usually isn't especially dangerous, may lead to trouble if deposits on the inside of blood vessels cut off the blood supply to an essential organ like the brain or heart. The danger of a blood vessel bursting is slight unless syphilis or some other serious disease weakens the wall. Patients with hardening of the arteries often have trouble with their legs and feet; the slowed down circulation may lead to pain, ulcers or gangrene.

Arteriosclerosis is considered a natural part of aging. However, it has been found to be present in infants and children and almost absent in some aged persons. Those who develop the condition early in life are likely to pass the trait on to their children. Hardening of the arteries often is associated with diabetes and high blood pressure.

Medical science can sometimes slow down the development or arteriosclerosis. However, much remains to be learned about its cause and treatment.

Cpl. Sparks, who has recently returned from 1½ years' service in Korea, has been home on a 30-day leave. He is the son of Mrs. J. B. Metcalf of Aspermont and has made his home here with his grandmother, Mrs. Tom Sparks, while attending school here.

The bride, daughter of T. N. Smith of Annona, Texas, and the late Mrs. Smith, has been making her home with Mr. and Mrs. Price while attending school. She was a member of the graduating class here this year and received her diploma Friday night with the class.

Vanetta Baillio was brides maid, and Ross Smith attended the groom.

Of her wedding the bride wore a white linen two-piece dress and used navy blue accessories. Her flowers were white carnations.

Rev. Marvin Brotherton read the single ring ceremony.

For the reception the dining table was laid with a white brocaded satin cloth. The bride cut the first slice of the white wedding cake, then Barbara Sparks, sister of the groom, served the cake, and Mrs. Archie Neely poured punch.

Jewelry Requires Proper Cleaning

Is your drawer or jewel box a jumble and tangle of chains, pins, necklaces and earrings? This disarray is neither conducive to wearing jewelry nor to its good condition.

Whether you picked up the jewelry at a bargain counter or if you had it presented as an expensive and even sentimental gift, jewelry requires care and some attention. You can save it from becoming scratched and marred in appearance. You may even save some expensive repair bills on having clasps and such renewed.

How to Store
If you have a jewel box with separate compartments, this is a good way to keep the jewelry orderly and uncluttered. If not, it's simple enough to use a shallow flat box and fit this with smaller boxes which will hold pairs of earrings in each, a necklace or bracelet in another, etc.

Line small boxes with quilted cotton pads, and this will serve as further protection against they're being shuffled about.

Earrings can be a problem! First of all, be certain they're kept together. They can be clipped to the edges of the box, or in a section in a jewelry box. Otherwise, hook the clasps together and save yourself frantic searching at the last minute when you decide to wear them.

Cleaning Jewelry
Frequent cleaning will show your jewelry off to good advantage, and it doesn't have to be only the expensive pieces either! White plastic beads, for instance, take to suds and brushing to your grooming benefit.

Liquid cleaners, of which there are many, do a good job on stones whether they are real or fake. They will also remove tarnish and stains from the gold and silver plated parts of jewelry.

Let Diamonds Sparkle
Diamonds in your rings as well as other pieces should not be allowed to become clogged with grime and dirt as this cuts down sparkle. If you wear them often, such as your rings, then clean them often, too.

Make suds of mild soap with water and add a drop or so of ammonia. Bring to a boil. When cool, brush (with a clean mascara brush or a child's toothbrush) the rings and then rinse in clear water.

Place the rings on a bobby pin and dip in some denatured alcohol to cut the remaining soap. Drain on tissue paper. There's no need to wipe as the alcohol evaporates very quickly.

WOMAN'S WORLD

It's Easy To Apply Decorator Touches To Your Bedroom

IF, LIKE so many homemakers are doing, you are planning to change the decor of your bedroom for the Summer, you'll find that the job is one of the easiest and least expensive in the home.

You can do so many things without professional help, for example. Then, too, you can press many remnants or inexpensive materials into service, especially if you use a sewing machine.

If the room is quite sunny, plan to use some bold color for interest. Some red is very good in shady rooms, such as those with north exposures. If you like coolness and serenity, consider blue or green, but add some contrast.

Give Interesting Contrast

When the bedroom is small, and you'd still like to give it some type of interest in contrast, why not try wallpapering a single wall if not too large a pattern or perhaps painting this wall dark green or perhaps deep red?

Wallpapering is an especially good trick on a wall where the wall is irregular or has a bay effect.

Carry one of the predominant colors in the wallpaper to the remainder of the room and have plain drapes or glass curtains. If you use one of the dark colors on a single wall, have print in the drapes or bedspread which carry the dark color. All this is done to give a unity of effect.

White or an off shade of white is a good idea. Use it generously, as it gives a light effect, especially during the summertime.

Adding Decorative Touch

Ruffles which are always so summery, can always be added to the curtains on bedroom windows. They don't have to be the same color as the curtain, in fact, a nice contrasting shade is often lovely, especially with white.

You can dye ruffles which you already have, or you may buy ruffling by the yard in all kinds of material. Two tones of the same color are effective, too, and contrasting colors in the ruffles themselves might be used.

Dotted Swiss curtains can be freshened by dyeing a pastel. You'll find them very effective for a girl's room. Write her name in rickrack braid on the curtains for personalized interest.

Large roses or leafy patterns may be cut from old drapes or remnants to be applied to spreads, dressing table skirts or drapes of plain material.

Fixie Motif on this darling sunsuit can be achieved on the sewing machine without the use of any attachment. This can be achieved with the Etching Stitch.

Gather 'Round How-Down Fans

Gather 'round all you square dance fans! It's time to make hay while the sun shines and have a rip-roaring hoe-down.

Plan to have an informal supper to put you in the mood for a square dance with informal but appetizing hamburgers, a tantalizing salad of tomato aspic made with a tangy lemon flavor, a bucket of potato chips, cookies, fruit to eat from the hand and some fruit punch.

These recipes are planned to serve 16.

Hoe-Down Hamburgers

32 medium-sized hard rolls
2 pounds ground beef
1½ cups rolled oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked)
¾ teaspoon pepper
3 teaspoons dry mustard
1½ cups tomato juice
4 eggs, beaten
¾ cup chopped onion

Cut off top of each roll and hollow out inside to make a shell. Combine remaining ingredients thoroughly to make meat filling. Pat a small quantity of each mixture into hard roll, filling until a slightly rounded top is achieved. Place on baking sheet. Bake in a moderate (350°) oven 25 to 30 minutes.

"Common Learning" Creating Controversy In Schools

The new teaching method known as "common learnings" in the San Angelo public schools was abandoned recently when parents in an organized fight against the method, elected a new school board and the new board elected a new superintendent.

In general the "common learnings" followed the pattern of modern day psychiatrists who contend that a child should not be corrected because of the danger of giving him an inferiority complex.

Those who opposed the "common learnings" method claimed that it did not teach the fundamentals, or the three R's, which they considered of great importance in education. The "common learnings" method advanced pupils from one grade to the next, regardless of whether or not they made the work. Students were allowed extreme freedom, ganging up to discuss their work, and taking home no report cards.

There is a question in the minds of many, both parents and teachers, whether too much freedom has not been given students, under the old method of teaching. Also each of the various "new, modern" methods in practice in most schools now, have not seemed to have been an improvement, as to general education, over the old-time methods.

It seems to be agreed by practically everyone that either the present day pupils are dumber than those a several years ago, or the teaching methods are not as good. When one finishes high school he should be able to read, write and do some fairly simple figuring. Not a great percent age of high school graduates are proficient in either.

The only improvement in the school methods or practices of the present day seems to be in the studies and projects of a practical nature, such as homemaking, FFA, etc.

The contention of the "old fogies" is that the public schools should lay the foundation for a practical education—something learned that will be of practical benefit to the student in later years, that will help them in the work they may enter after they finish their high school education. Since only a comparatively small number of high school students enter or finish college, the greatest benefit they can receive in high school, many believe, is from learning things they can use in later life.

"Common learnings" was taking hold in many parts of the country, and except for such drastic action as was taken by the San Angelo parents, was destined to spread over the whole country.

THE BARBITURATE DANGER

An article in Today's Health, a publication of the American Medical Association, warns against the excessive or improper use of barbiturates.

The article says that in 1951 more than 688,000 pounds of these drugs were produced—enough to put every man, woman and child in the nation to sleep for 20 days if administered in the usual doses. It is estimated that more than half of the huge barbiturate production is distributed through illegitimate channels for non medical purposes.

When used properly, under a physician's supervision, barbiturates are of great value and can prevent much suffering. But, as is true of most habit-forming drugs, improper use can lead to destruction of the victim's personality, crime, and even death.

Food Poisoning Danger In Hot Weather

The coming of warm weather brings a warning from Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, for all persons to be on the alert regarding food poisoning. Most cases investigated by the State Department of Health disclosed that improper food handling was responsible for the illness.

Food poisoning is commonly caused by bacteria in food. In general there are two types, food poisoning and food infection. Food poisoning is caused by bacteria in the food that produces a poison and usually the symptoms appear within a few hours. In food infection, the bacteria do not produce a poison, but attack the body. This takes longer so symptoms usually do not appear for 12 to 24 hours after eating.

In both kinds of illness the symptoms may be similar: nausea, vomiting, diarrhoea, abdominal pain and fever may all occur. In food poisoning nausea and vomiting may predominate while in food infection diarrhoea may be the prominent symptom.

As a prevention, Dr. Cox suggests that all food be protected against flies and other pests. Refrigerate all perishable food, including meats, poultry and creamed filled pastries. Many outbreaks of food infection are caused by leaving food out of the refrigerator. Also, avoid handling food if you have a sore or an infection on your hands or if you are sick.

Here's a brilliant performer with a high-compression eight-cylinder engine full of eager pep for traffic, wonderfully economical on the open road.

Pontiac is a striking beauty! No car is more distinctively styled than a Dual-Streak Pontiac.

And what a buy it is! For all its size, roominess and 122-inch wheelbase, Pontiac is priced right next to the lowest. It's not only GM's lowest-priced eight, but is also offered with a remarkably economical six at even lower cost.

It all adds up to this: As an eight or as a six, dollar for dollar you can't beat a Pontiac. Come in and see for yourself!

Freezing Doesn't Cause
Meat to Spoil Quickly

The widespread belief among some customers of food lockers is that meat is more perishable after it has been frozen and thus for safety must be used more promptly than other meat, did not prove true in research by William Sulzbacher, Bureau of Animal Industry, U. S. D. A.

In fact, Mr. Sulzbacher's tests indicated that spoilage actually may be slower in meat that has been frozen than in meat that has not been. His tests were made with ground pork and beef loin to which were added types of bacteria commonly causing spoilage and food poisoning.

Sample of meat were kept frozen from two weeks to a month, then thawed and held in a refrigerator five days. For comparison, similar unfrozen meat containing the same types of bacteria was held in the refrigerator. Samples were tested daily to learn how rapidly the spoilage organisms were growing and increasing.

Bacterial growth started at once in the unfrozen meat, but not for 48 hours in the meat which had been frozen and thawed. These tests seem to indicate that freezing may cause a lag in growth of spoilage bacteria.

Mr. Sulzbacher says his results might be different if the meat had been frozen for a longer time. But his tests suggest at least that meat which has been frozen is no more perishable in the refrigerator than "fresh" meat which has not been frozen, and that the housewife need not feel that for safety she must cook meat the moment it has been thawed, if she keeps it in a good refrigerator.

Hobbs Friday 7:00 p.m.

A twilight service in the Hobbs Baptist Church Friday night at 7:00 p.m. united Nelda McIntosh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McIntosh of that community, and J. D. Martin of Pecos.

Martin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Martin of Sardis community. Officiating at the double ring service was the church pastor, the Rev. O. C. Byrd.

Vows were said before the altar banked with greenery and accented with tall baskets of pink gladioluses. An arrangement of ivy was on the piano. White and yellow iris were arranged on the registry table. Where Joanne Logan, teacher in the Hobbs school, was in charge.

The bride's brother, Roy Gail McIntosh, was usher, Ring bearers were Tommy and Bobbie Lay.

Wedding marches were played by Mrs. Floyd Hughes of Roby, who also presented a recital of pre-nuptial music. She was accompanist for Mrs. Earl Martin of Denton, who sang, "Always," and gave the musical reading, "How Do I Love Thee"

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a strapless gown of white lace and accordion pleated net over satin, in ballerina length. The gown was complemented by matching lace bolero. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a half-hat of lace over satin. For "something borrowed" she wore crocheted gloves belonging to her attendant. The "something old" was a single strand of pearls that belong to the bridegroom's mother, and were worn by her at her high school graduation, at her wedding, and when she was initiated into the Eastern Star Lodge. The bride wore pearl ear screws, gift of the bridegroom.

The bridal cascade bouquet was a nosegay of feathered carnations, satin and nylon net, centered with an orchid.

The bride's attendant was a school mate in Hobbs high school, Nona Hudnall.

The bridegroom was attended by Bud Ellis of Pecos.

The bride's mother wore orchid

Local REA Now Has Extensive New Repair Facilities Working

Midwest Electric Co-Op at Roby now has its own transformer and meter repair facilities with the opening of the Transformer-Meter Repair Division of Texas Power Reserve Electric Co-Op in Austin this month.

Texas Power Reserve, the statewide association of rural electric co-ops, built and is operating the plant for the Midwest Co-Op and the 76 other rural electric co-ops located throughout Texas.

Manager Johnnie Ammos of the Midwest Co-Op, who is also secretary of Texas Power Reserve, says it is one of the most modern, up to date such plants in the entire country.

All of the equipment is specialized and was designed by Texas Power Reserve employees, Ammons continues, for handling all types, makes, and sizes of distribution transformers and large high voltage transmission transformers.

The specially designed equipment is used to wind, treat with baking varnish, dry, and test transformers, as well as process insulating materials. The plant's bake oven is one of the few walk in type ovens in the state.

The biggest job now in progress in the plant is a 333 KVA sub station type transformer from North Plains Electric Co-Op at Perryton Texas.

At full capacity, the plant can handle some 200 transformers per month.

The Transformer Division's transportation facilities include a truck and trailer for pickup and delivery of transformers throughout the state. A hydraulic side-gate on the trailer facilities loading and unloading. The truck can carry more than 100 average-size transformers, about 22,000 pounds of transformers, at one time.

Texas rural electric co-ops operate some 125,000 miles of power lines in serving nearly 300,000 Texas farmers and ranchers. "They've long needed their own facilities for repairing their own transformers," says Ammons, "and this is it—the co-ops own."

Creole Frankfurter Platter (Serves 4-6)

- 1/2 cup drippings
- 1/2 cup sliced onions
- 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
- 1 No. 2 1/2 can sauerkraut
- 1 No. 2 can tomatoes
- 1/2 cup chopped parsley
- 1 teaspoon chili powder
- 6 frankfurters

In a saucepan, place the drippings, onions and green pepper. Cook slowly for 5 minutes. Add sauerkraut, tomatoes, parsley and chili powder. Mix thoroughly. Cut about 5 crosswise slits in each frankfurter. Place on top of sauerkraut mixture. Cover saucepan and cook 20 to 25 minutes. When ready to serve, place kraut in center of large platter and top with frankfurters.

Creole style frankfurters simmered with sauerkraut offer an interesting flavor team which will be kind to slender budgets. The platter looks interesting with boiled new potatoes and cut green beans plus giving you the whole main part of the meal on a single plate.

Sausage Surprise (Serves 6)

- 1 pound pork sausage links
- 2 tablespoons water
- 1 onion, chopped
- 1/2 green pepper, chopped
- 6 pieces celery, chopped
- 1 can tomato soup
- 1/2 cup catsup
- 1 can kidney beans

Place sausage in cold frying pan. Add water, cover and simmer until water evaporates. Remove cover, increase heat and brown sausage. Add onion, green pepper, celery, tomato soup and catsup. Cover and simmer slowly for 30 minutes. Drain beans. Add to cooked mixture and heat.

Wash Old Boots In Washing Machine

If Spring showers and mud have done their very best to boots and rubbers in the family, why wear yourself out scrubbing them in a bucket? Toss them in your washing machine, of course!

It can be done, and done very nicely, too. In just a short time you can have clean, thoroughly clean boots and rubbers, with the least of effort.

Use lukewarm water, mild soap or detergent suds and wash for three to five minutes. Rinse under a spigot, hang with clothespins to drip dry.

How to Store Boots

Perhaps some of your winter wear is still around, such as long boots or stadium boots. Pop these, too, in the washing machine and wash as you do muddy rubbers. After drying, polish with a soft cloth, stuff with paper so the boots keep their shape and place in a box for storage.

It's a good idea to rub vaseline on the zippers before storing, too, as this will keep them well lubricated and will keep from rusting just in case you live in a damp climate.

Wrap the boxes in paper and seal tightly. Result: better wear prolonged wear for your feet comes Fall or Winter!

Care for Stadium Boots

Wash the insides of stadium type boots with a long handle brush, rinse with a wet cloth or brush, then hang to dry. Brush the fur when the boots are dry.

Spray the furry insides with a moth preventive. Clean the leather parts with saddle soap and use shoe wax on the uppers.

If the boots have any suede on them, use a suede cleaner or dressing. Cover the boots tightly and seal in paper wrapped boxes.

Wax Helps Protect

Winter sports shoes and boots respond best when cleaned with saddle soap. Wipe off with a damp cloth. When dry, use a thin coating of floor wax on the soles, and apply wax shoe dressing on the leather of the shoes.

It's a good idea to remove old shoe laces, too, for these could attract moths during the storage. Store new ones in the shoes, if you want to be certain of having them.

Wrap the shoes in tissue paper when they're clean and waxed, thus protecting against dust and scratches. They're best stored in boxes which are wrapped and sealed.

NOTICE OF INTENTION OF THE CITY OF ROTAN TO RECEIVE BIDS FOR OIL AND GAS LEASES ON CITY OWNED LAND.

The City of Rotan, a municipal corporation, having determined that it is advisable to make oil, gas and mineral leases on the hereinafter described lands belonging to the City of Rotan, hereby gives notice of its intention to lease the following lands, belonging to the City of Rotan, Fisher County, Texas, described as follows:

Block Five (5) Inside Addition to the town of Rotan, Texas, containing approximately Tow (2) acres of land.

The City of Rotan here now gives notice by publication in the Rotan Advance, a newspaper published in the County of Fisher, State of Texas, having general circulation therein, once a week for a period of three consecutive weeks, and designate after such publication that it will receive and consider bids for oil, gas and mineral leases on the above described lands, at the City Hall in the City of Rotan, on the 1st day of June, 1953, at 10:00 o'clock a.m. The bids for said mineral lease will designate the primary term of such lease, together with the annual rental to be paid each year, and the form of mineral lease, to the end that the City of Rotan may determine whether or not the lease is on such form as will be satisfactory to the City of Rotan.

The city governing body will consider all bids for the lease of such lands which are advertised above for lease, and upon the discretion of the governing body shall award the lease to the highest bidder therefor, considering the bonus, if any, to be paid, the length of the lease, and the form of the lease. All bids must be accompanied by a certified check for Twenty-five (25%) per cent of the amount of the bid, as evidence of good faith, and the City of Rotan reserves the right to reject any and all bids, in which case of rejection, the Twenty-five (25%) accompanying the bid will be returned to the bidder.

A public hearing will be given on the date above mentioned, at the City Hall. The mineral lease will provide for 1-8th royalty.

Signed this 12th day of May, 1953.

THE CITY OF ROTAN,
By Cecil A. Lotief, Mayor.
Attest: O. B. Cave, Secretary.

Corn Production Cost Eats Profit Three Major Factors Will Help Yields

Corn production costs can eat up from 30 to 70 bushels per acre, depending on the market price of corn and the value of the land on which it is grown, according to a recent study by University of Illinois agricultural economists.

So it is important to get as many bushels as possible over the break-even yield level. The Illinois economists figure that with corn at $2 per bushel on land worth $100 an acre, 30 bushels would be needed to pay the cost of production. With corn at $1 on land worth $500 an acre, 70 bushels would be required.

Analyzing cost account records from northwestern Illinois farms, the economists report that it took $39.50 to pay the production cost for corn on $200 an acre land. That represents 40 bushels with corn selling at $1.50 per bushel.

The Illinois estimates are borne out in other states. Missouri agronomists report that on the average in that state, 40 bushels of corn must be grown on every acre before there is any left over for profit.

Getting profit-building corn yields depends on three major factors: 1—A well balanced supply of nutrients; 2—A good stalk population to make use of those nutrients and; 3—A soil that has good tilth and structure.

"Come Back Little Sheba" Coming to Lance

Hal Wallis' production of "Come Back Little Sheba," the Paramount picture for Sunday and Monday at the Lance, marks the motion picture debut of Shirley Booth and presents Burt Lancaster in his most unusual and dramatic role. Both Miss Booth, who has long been considered one of the top actresses of the American stage, and Lancaster one of filmdom's most popular actors, have received an unprecedented amount of critical favor for their performances. Special kudos has also gone to Terry Moore and Richard Jaeckel who, in their featured roles, emerge as a romantic team sure to fire the imaginations of movie-goers everywhere.

The high regard for "Come Back Little Sheba" that has been expressed, by critics is shared alike by the public, who have acclaimed it as an exceptional film.

Hands Off Policy

Oscar Levant had promised himself no more film roles this year but the quick-witted raconteur and distinguished concert pianist couldn't resist the temptation of matching barbs with Fred Allen in the "Ransom of Red Chief" episode in "O. Henry's Full House", multiple part Twentieth Century-Fox film at the Lance Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday.

The other attraction in the assignment for Levant was that it was the first ever offered him not in conjunction with the requirement that he play the piano.

Sgt. James C. Crite of Goose Bay Canada spent several days here last week with his family. He is a career man in the Army and had made an official trip to Boston and was granted leave to come here.
