

HALL OF REMARKS

BY HERREL HALLMARK

IT SEEMS AS though the weather can not make up its mind what to do this year. One day it feels like summer with the sun baking down and not a cloud in the sky, while the next day it feels like winter with almost cold temperatures and overcast skies.

Despite the cooler temperatures, most people hereabouts were glad to see the rains fall early this week. Cisco received some good showers of long awaited rain. There should be some good crops this year for area farmers following the rains.

Now the sun has come out and the temperatures have been rising again. Maybe summer has come at last since this is the first week of June.

IF YOU HAVE never listened to the birds sing in the morning, then why not make plans to get up early tomorrow and just sit outside, or near an open window, and listen to the beauty of their songs.

I have really been noticing their songs the past few mornings and it seems such a joy just to listen in the quiet of the morning at our house. It makes you marvel at the wonders of God who created all humans and all animals, as well as the entire universe.

We have many things to be thankful for, even if we have no worldly goods, if we will just take the time to sit back and look at, listen to, smell and taste some of the wonders around us.

God blesses everyone with the beauties of nature. Be thankful for your blessings.

Matt Ritchie Wins State Music Award

Matt Ritchie, a 1983 graduate of Cisco High School, became the first CHS musician ever to win the top award—a "1" or "Superior" rating—for an instrumental solo at the Texas State Solo-Ensemble Contest. This year's event was held at Austin on Monday, May 30. According to Band Director Alvin Young, Matt's trumpet solo was of a difficult level, and the level of performance had to indeed be superior in every respect to earn the top rating in state competition.

Matt, who will attend Abilene Christian University on a band scholarship this fall, has been in All-District band since the seventh grade, has been in All-Region Band the past three years, and he won All-area honors the last two years, which qualified him for All-State tryouts. He was first chair trumpet in the All-Region Band this year, and he also won the band's "Alton Roan Award." He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eris Ritchie of 1307 Park Drive in Cisco.

Several other members of the CHS Band participated in the state competition. "To even win the opportunity to compete at the state level musically is an outstanding accomplishment," Mr. Young said, "and we're extremely proud of all of our students who worked hard this year and earned the right to be at the state music meet." Mr. Young concluded, "All individuals and groups performing in Austin did well, made good ratings, received fine comments from their adjudicators, and represented Cisco and CHS in a creditable and dignified manner. We're very proud of them, as well as all of the other members of the CHS band who have distinguished themselves during this past school year in so many, many ways."

Those participating in the state meet, in addition to Matt, were: Jana Jeffcoat, vocal solo; Robin Ritchie, flute solo; Tara Davies, Melissa Wylie, and Leah Lambeth, twirling ensemble; and the entire membership of the Cisco High Jazz Ensemble, which includes: Greg Sipe, drums; Matt Ritchie, trumpet; Kendall Anderson, trombone; John Bailey, trombone; Eric Zarate, trombone; Pete DeLeon, trumpet; Randy Baateas, percussion; Harold Roan, trumpet; Randy Hastings, saxophone; Kyle Anderson, trumpet; Tommy

Good Turn-Out Is Seen For Tourney

Some 30 teams of golfers from throughout this region are expected to compete in the annual Cisco Country Club low ball partnership golf tournament this weekend, Chairman Bennie Nichols reported.

The winners of last year's tournament, LeRoy Pearson of Ranger and Boscar Satterwhite of Breckenridge, are expected to return to defend their title. Teams were still entering Friday as the 6 p.m. deadline approached.

There will be prizes for the longest drives and for the balls closest to the pin on a par three hole each day. Plans call for tee off both days at 8:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. The tournament was limited to 48 teams.

Mr. Bennie and Club Manager Bob Bennie were in charge of arrangements.

During Summer Months: Four Local Churches Will Combine Evening Services

Beginning June 5th, the congregations of the First Christian Church, the First Presbyterian Church, the First United Methodist Church and Wesley Methodist Church will hold their regular Sunday evening worship services at First Christian Church during the months of June, July and August.

Pastors of the churches will occupy the pulpit on an alternating basis during the summer. The services will commence each Sunday evening at 7 p.m.

The Rev. Milo Steffen, pastor of First Christian Church, will be the speaker at the first service Sunday, June 5. Pastors of the other churches are the Rev. Wm. C. (Bill) Weeks, Presbyterian church, and the Rev. David Adkins, First United and Wesley Methodist Churches.

The schedule for pulpit appearances was announced as follows:

June 5, Steffen; June 12, Adkins; June 19, Steffen; June 26, Weeks.

July 3, Weeks; July 10, Steffen; July 17, Adkins; July 24, Steffen; and July 31, Adkins.

August 7, Steffen; August 14, Adkins; August 21, Weeks; and August 28, Weeks.

Plans call for ice cream socials to follow the worship services on June 26 and July 24 and for a watermelon party to follow the August 14 service.

The general public is invited to attend the services, which will be held at the Christian church for the benefit of senior citizens who might have trouble climbing stairs at the other churches, it was reported.

Disposition Hearing Is Held For Cisco Youth

Judge Jim Wright of the 91st District Court was to hold a disposition hearing Friday for a 16-year old Cisco High School juvenile who entered a "true" plea to charges that he attacked and injured a coach.

The plea was entered at the juvenile's hearing Tuesday in 91st Court. The true plea under juvenile court procedure amounts to the same thing as pleading guilty. After the plea, Attorney Leslie Vance asked the court to release the youth to custody of his parents, and this was opposed by District Attorney Emory Walton. The youth's parents testified.

Judge Wright ordered the youth to be returned to county jail until the Friday hearing. Under juvenile law, the judge can release the youth to custody of his parents, release him to custody of someone else, free him on probation, or send him to custody of the Texas Youth Council.

In a detention hearing last week, Coach Ron Mouser, Junior High Principal Jim Puryear and Cisco Detective Jackie Hobbs testified as to the incident that occurred near the high school gym on May 24th.

Firemen Answer Two Alarms C&W Musical Set Saturday

Cisco volunteer firemen took two units to the Carl Stroebel place south of town Thursday to extinguish a grass fire. No damage was reported.

The fire department answered an alarm when the automobile of Clifford Smith of Cisco caught fire near the post office last Wednesday.

A Country and Western musical will be held at 7 p.m. Saturday, June 4 at the Scranton Community Center.

Homecoming at Scranton will be Sunday, June 5. Reservations will start at 10 a.m.

LeFlore Trial Is Set For June 20

The 91st District Court has set Monday, June 20, as the trial date for Thomas LeFlore, 41, on charges of capital murder in the Nov. 29, 1981, shooting death of Debra Garcia of Cisco.

LeFlore was found mentally competent to stand trial in a hearing held May 23rd in 91st court before Judge Jim Wright. His brother, Charles, was sentenced to 65 years in prison in the case when he pled guilty to murder charges last August.

Mrs. Garcia was kidnapped from her job at Quickway Grocery and her body was found three days later in a roadside ditch. An autopsy showed that she died of a bullet wound to the head.

Mike Eoff and Jim Farrar of Eastland are LeFlore's court appointed attorneys. Brenda Gail Andrews, 20, of Rising Star, a former cook at a local restaurant, has also been charged with capital murder in the Garcia shooting. She is free on bond.

'Deathtrap' Will Open Dinner Theatre Season

DEATHTRAP by Ira Levin will be the opening production for the 1983 Summer Season at the Roof Garden Dinner Theatre in Cisco. This ingeniously constructed play offers a rare and skillful blending of two priceless theatrical ingredients - gasp - inducing thrills and spontaneous laughter. Dealing with the devious doings of Sidney Bruhl, a writer of thrillers whose recent works have all been flops, and who is prepared to go to any lengths to improve his fortunes, it provides twists and turns and sudden shocks in such abundance that you will be held spellbound until the very last moment.

Managing Director Philip Craik has assembled a cast of 4 professional actors and 1 apprentice for this production Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights on two weekends - June 9-11, and 16-18. Tickets for dinner and show are $12. Dinner begins at 7 p.m. Reservations can be made by calling (817) 442-2567 Monday - Thursday 9 to 5 or (817) 442-2589 after hours and weekends.

SIDNEY BRUHL (Steven Vincent) forces his wife Myra (Kathy Byrne) to sit down and say nothing about an upcoming murder.

Water Injection

Bill Passes State

Legislature Recently

Several bills out of the state legislature dealt with water pollution and the handling of water injection wells in oil recovery projects. One of these, H.B. 2112, passed recently.

The original of this bill stated basically that before injecting fresh water into a recovery well an applicant must provide written information to the Texas Railroad Commission as to whether other substances were technically or economically feasible for use in the wells.

The bill was amended to state that this regulation will not apply to permits which are granted before Sept. 1, 1983. The amendment also states that if fresh water is currently being injected, and another substance temporarily used, the permit cannot be canceled.

A spokesman for Sun Oil stated that this Corporation opposed the bills, feeling that all "made it too difficult for an operator, by telling him what to use on his property."

"H.B. Bill 2112 is not as objectional as some, however. We can live with the amended version."

Sun Oil is involved in a large waterflood recovery project at the old Ranger Boom Field. This project is reported to be "on schedule". Most of the recovery well applications are assumed to have already cleared the Railroad Commission.

Senior Citizens Nutrition Menu

If you want to produce a delicious meal or dish in a hurry, how about trying the Ancient Chinese Art of stir-frying?

Stir-fried food stays bright, crisp, nutritious and flavorful.

The traditional utensil for stir frying is a wok. It is a small bottom fry pan and allows a small amount of oil to keep the food well-coated and the curved sides make it easy to keep the food moving. If a wok is unavailable, a 10 to 12 inch skillet with flared sides or an omelet pan can be used.

Before heating the pan, have all ingredients ready as needed. Most foods can be prepared, wrapped and refrigerated before hand. Foods that require the longest cooking time should be added first.

Slice foods diagonally. This increased the surface area, allowing "dense" foods to cook more quickly and absorb seasoning fully. Finely slice to a uniform thickness. The preferred oil for stir-frying is peanut. Its faint flavor does not mask the flavor of other food, and it has a high smoke point. Vegetable and corn oil also work well. Because olive oil, butter and margarine have low smoke points, they are not recommended.

Next week, we will discuss the ingredients. The programs for the past week included: Wiley Peebles and Stephen Zell presented a program, representing Cisco Junior College. Mr. Peebles sang beautiful songs of old while

Mr. Zell accompanied at the piano. The Senior Citizens Band and Choir presented programs. Vida Killion presented the dinner music. THE MENUS FOR THE COMING WEEK ARE:

Monday--beef stew/mixed vegetables, raw salad/with cheese shredded, coconut pudding, cornbread, butter and drink.

Wednesday--swiss steak, cauliflower/cheese sauce, pineapple and carrot jello, cherry cobbler, bread, butter and drink.

Friday--oven fried chicken, glazed carrots, potatoes, fruit jello, bread, butter and drink.

Lights From The Christian World

Josephine Cleveland

A young man shared with me that while he was in his teens he had a minister friend who had a plague on the inside of his office door. It read, "Nothing is worst than a failure."

One day he asked the minister why he chose such a motto to place on his door. "My son, the minister said, "One can think of this in two ways. Some people feel that nothing is worst than to fail. They are afraid to take risks, to enter into any endeavor for fear of failure. Others think that to do nothing is worse than failure. They are the doers who do not fear failure. They are the ones who are willing to dare to do. It is they who are conquerors; it is they who have faith in themselves and God. That motto reminds me each day to move forward without fear. I know that the Lord does not want me to bury the talent He gives me; to fear lest I lose it. He rewards our attempts and I am confident that He will take our failures and work them for our good - if we will believe that "nothing" is worst than failure.

Red Cross Seeks Money To Replenish Disaster Funds

CISCO-Calling its financial situation critical, the American Red Cross announced it is launching a $12 million nationwide emergency disaster relief fund at once to bolster depleted reserves needed for victims of future crisis.

The unprecedented number of major disaster operations has exhausted the amount budgeted for disasters during this fiscal year, which runs from July 1, 1982 to June 30, 1983. "Red Cross relief efforts have wiped out a disaster operating budget of $18.5 million, $10.5 million in reserved funds and nearly $5 million contributed recently by Americans across the country for disaster relief," said Roy V. Cartee, of Cisco, Eastland County Chapter Chairman.

District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, The Virgin Island and Guam.

Texas, 7 in Louisiana and 4 in Mississippi to assist more than 5,000 families affected by flooding and tornadoes. In Texas alone, there have been 8 tornadoes, 5 storms, 4 floods, 1 explosion and 206 fires in the last 10 months.

"We hope that our communities are not affected, but we are not immune," stated Mr. Cartee. "Please send a contribution today to Grover Hallmark, Eastland County Red Cross

Treasurer, First National Bank, Eastland, Texas, 76448. Please mark your check or contribution as "Disaster Relief Fund."

Help as much as you can.

Floods, hurricanes, tornadoes, earthquakes, mud slides and fires have devastated our country these past ten months. American Red Cross volunteers have helped more than a million people with emergency food, shelter and clothing. This people helping program has cost millions and Red Cross Disaster funds are now exhausted. Please send a check to your Red Cross Emergency Disaster Relief fund today.

Deadline Draws Near For Insured Planting

June 10 is the final planting date for insured peanuts (runners) in Eastland County, Texas, according to Ardell M. Kalmbach, Director for the District 09 of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC). "Acres of runners planted by June 10, insured by FCIC (or by a private company reinsured by FCIC), must be reported by June 30 to receive full crop insurance coverage," says Kalmbach.

Acres planted after June 10 must also be reported on the June 30 acreage report as being planted too late for insurance. "Farmers unable to plant prior to June 10 because of excess moisture conditions may sign a 20-day late planting agreement, which permits insurance coverage, but provides for a lower guarantee due to the late planting," Kalmbach explained.

Farmers wishing additional information about the new late planting agreement should contact their local, authorized crop insurance agent.

House Of Representatives 68th Legislature Concludes

Jim Parker-District 65

By the time you read this, the people of Texas will once again be safe in lives, liberties and pursuits of happiness, for the 68th Legislature shall have been concluded. To paraphrase Winston Churchill, "I think never before have so few done so little for so many."

Conversely, at least if we did not help you much, hopefully, we did not hurt much either. Seriously, the 68th Legislative session is closing with a whimper and a sigh as opposed to the fireworks of previous sessions. Possibly this bodes well for the people of the state of Texas, but probably not, because I think all parties, regardless of their philosophical or political persuasions realize that a special session will be necessary. I only hope that a special session will not be called quickly and that a significant economy will have time to rebound to the extent that a special session will be called to determine how to spend the additional state revenues created by a more vigorous economy rather than to prematurely determine what areas of our economy should be taxed to fund those issues and meritorious programs that were neither adequately nor comprehensively addressed in the regular session. One of the many areas of amazement and wonder that I have observed in this session is the resiliency and vibrance of the Texas economy and of the Texas people, be they from Harris County with its 2 million plus population or Loving County with its 97 person population.

Regardless of your political persuasion and political bent, I can assure you that you can be proud, almost to the point of vice, to live in such a unique state and one with such a genuinely good and hearty people.

Your having allowed Martha and me to serve you in the capacity of your State Representative during this session has, in all ways but economical, been a blessing to us and we, along with my very competent and faithful staff, consisting of Missy Jackson, Administrative Aide; Karla Bowers, Administrative Secretary; and Susan Parker, Legislative Clerk, look forward to serving you in the interim and to addressing ourselves to any problems you may have. We often amaze even ourselves at our abilities to solve what seems to our constituents to be insurmountable problems and I know of nothing more I can do than give you this blanket invitation to allow us to assist you. We see that as our primary function and our reason for being here and look forward to hearing from you.

Two Minutes With The Bible

Cornelius R. Stam

"THE SIGNIFICANCE OF THE RESURRECTION"

In his great Epistle to the Romans, St. Paul introduces himself immediately as "a bond-slave of Jesus Christ, called to be an apostle", to proclaim God's good news about Christ.

Paul's "gospel of the grace of God" was essentially about Christ. He was always talking about Christ. His epistles are filled with Christ. Christ, in his message, was everything. This is in striking contrast to much of our modern preaching and evangelism, which is not Christ-centered, but man-centered.

The gospel Paul proclaimed was God's good news about Christ and His power and glory in defeating Satan, overcoming death, paying for sin and nailing the law to His cross.

This is why the apostle calls His message "the good news of the glory of Christ" (I Cor. 4:4) and "the good news of the glory of the blessed God" (I Tim. 1:11). To enter experientially into the truth of this good news is the greatest blessing one can possibly enjoy.

In Verse 4 of his introduction to the Roman Epistle, the apostle declares that Christ was powerfully declared to be the Son of God "by the resurrection from the dead."

Now the resurrection of Christ had been both prophesied and proclaimed as an historical fact before Paul, but to Paul was committed a special message of good news in connection with the resurrection. In his God-given message, Christ was raised from the dead to demonstrate that as God the Son He had paid the full penalty for sins that would have sunk a world to hell. Thus the apostle writes to Timothy, his son in the faith: "Consider what I say, and the Lord give thee understanding in all things."

"Remember that Jesus Christ, of the seed of David [this is how Christ had formerly been known] was raised from the dead ACCORDING TO MY GOSPEL, wherein I suffer trouble as an evil doer, even unto bonds" (II Tim. 2:7, 8).

Read the Epistles of Paul and see how salvation by grace through faith always hinges upon the finished work of Christ for our redemption. "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved" (Acts 16:31).

Videotape Brings Annual Discussion

Christian Science churches around the world have the opportunity this June to share the denomination's annual meeting season through a unique collaboration.

Instead of local Christian Scientists travelling to Boston for the June 6 meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, a special videotaped discussion will be travelling to them.

The hour-long commentary was prepared earlier this year at the denomination's international headquarters. It focuses on the church's wide-ranging efforts to meet the challenges of what it judges to be intensely materialistic times through revitalized commitment to spiritual values and Bible precepts.

Harvey W. Wood, 1983-84 chairman of The Christian Science Board of Directors, says he finds "an encouraging and growing commitment on the part of Christian Scientists to let their lives more than their words be the proof of what Christian Science is."

The Boston meeting, as the 104-year old denomination's Church Manual prescribes, consists of reports from Church officers, committees, and branch churches in some of the 56 countries where the denomination is represented.

Seeds From The Sower

Michael A. Guido

A stranger asked a farmer, "Do those letters on your mule stand for Uncle Sam?"

"No, sir," he answered. "U.S. means Unsafe."

So is sin. It is the most expensive and the most destructive thing in the world.

If you would play with something dangerous reach into the forest and play with a rattlesnake, or reach into the furnace and play with fire, or reach into the heavens and play with forked lightning, but do not play with sin.

Sin has thrown up a barrier between our souls and the Saviour. It has put out the light of our household joys, it has unstrung our instruments and filled the air with discordant noise, it has unsheathed the sword and bathed it in human blood, and it has dug every grave in the bosom of the air.

But for sin, we would not know a trial or a tear, sickness or sorrow, despair or death.

The Bible always links sin with death. You seldom find one without the other. For "sin, when it is finished, brings forth death." It is unsafe!

Word Of God

Herein is our love made perfect, that we may have boldness in the day of judgement: because as he is, so are we in this world.

There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear: because fear hath torment. He that feareth is not made perfect in love.

I John 4:17-18

OVER AT THE Cisco Post Office one day last week, Rodney Sharpe of the general delivery window asked the supervisor for an extra day and a half off since he had a vacation starting May 28th. He told them he was going to a wedding.

And the wedding turned out to be that of Rodney Sharpe and Miss Donna Wilcoxon. It was held at First Methodist Church last Thursday night. Mrs. Sharpe's parents are the Frank Wilcoxens and, we understand, she's finishing up her schooling at Tarleton State. The Sharpes are at home at 503 West 1st Street.

Rodney's due back at the post office June 13th. The general delivery window is being operated while he's away by Judy Pope, substitute clerk-carrier.

There will probably be a writeup with pictures of the Sharpe-Wilcoxon wedding. In any event, you'll want to join us in an expression of best wishes to the Sharpes.

POSTMASTER Wiley Cox, who spent last week vacationing in Colorado, is devoting some time these days to breaking in a new officer-in-charge (postmaster) at Moran. He teamed up with Assistant Postmaster Melvin Wende to play in a golf tournament for postal workers at Stephenville recently. And the Cox-Wende team came in second in their flight to win a set of woods apiece.

GOLFER BENNIE Nichols finished 3rd in the championship flights of the Breckenridge Country Club tournament last weekend. George and Tracy Owens of Cisco also participated and also ran. Golfers Bobby Smith and Delbert Schaefer planned in the first flight of the Lake Proctor Country Club tournament last weekend and, they told us, they had a good time. Mrs. John McGuire and Mrs. Betty Alford of Olney Savings' Cisco offices will be in Olney this Saturday to assist with an open house at the firm's new building.

SORRY TO HEAR about the death of one Mrs. Dick (Dorothy) Spencer's mares. The beautiful horse recently gave birth to a colt and was found dead in a stock tank, apparently a drowning victim, at the Rudolph Schaefer place the other morning. Dr. S.W. Reynolds, pastor of the First Methodist Church at Killeen, is retiring after 40 years in the ministry, at the end of the present conference year - next week. He formerly lived here while he was a district superintendent. The Reynolds will live in Fort Worth. They've made plans to visit frequently in Cisco with their daughter and husband, the Olin Odoms, and two children.

THE RED ANTS aren't nearly as plentiful at the Cisco Country Club course these days. Charlie Graham has been after them again. Each year, Charlie carries a can of ant poison on his golf cart and treats ant beds as he comes across them. And local golfers are very grateful. Mrs. Bob Cluck of Cisco and daughter Dr. Nancy Cluck of Big D enjoyed a holiday weekend visit down in the hill country

... Saw Gid Bowers, mayor of the Lake Cisco north shore country, driving a Cadillac the other day. And he looked nice in it.

CofC MANAGER Randy Speegle spoke on the work of the Cisco CofC at the Cisco Rotary Club's luncheon last week. There was a gathering of the Cook Clan out at the 1302 Bliss Street last weekend. It was Mr. S.L. Cook's 91st birthday and several others of the clan were observing birthdays in a period of two or three weeks. So they celebrated all of them, and it was a nice affair, our scouts reported. CJC Prof Steve Zell is busy these days doing some pretty major looking work at their home out on Avenue N.

THE EDDIE McMillans are beginning to gather up things (like legal tender stuff) to take along when they fly out June 18th for a tour of three weeks or so in Europe. Understand their itinerary calls for visits to France, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, England, Scotland, Ireland and maybe some other countries.

Making the trip will be Eddie and wife Youvonne and son Bret. Here's hoping that they'll have a fine vacation.

THE WATER at Tulsa is not as wet as ours, reports Mr. Ed Farley. They've just returned after a long weekend visit in Oklahoma with relatives - their son and family. Mr. EF says they paid $4.10 in toll charges on highways in Oklahoma. The Lions Club will hold a director's meeting at 7 a.m. Tuesday at the Colony Restaurant. County Agent

Dee Gordon tells us that it's time to spray your pecan trees for case bearers and other insects. And we've just heard that Mrs. Bear Bryant wants to move to College Station - to get away from football.

COACH JOHN Parchman, new CHS football coach and athletic director, got his family moved to town last Saturday. They're living at 1011 W. 7th in the house they bought from the Rick Whatleys. Hear that Lou Jane Qualls, CHS librarian, has enrolled at North Texas State University to take some courses in library science this summer.

BAND DIRECTOR Al Young got in this week from Austin and the state band meet and headed to Commerce to enroll at East Texas State U. for graduate study. Matt Ritchie, senior CHS band student who won fine honors at Austin (you can read about it elsewhere), tells us that he is very grateful to Mr. Young for the guidance and help that enabled him to do well in band and to earn a scholarship at ACU. Matt is the son of the Eris Ritchies.

COACH DON Montgomery took over June 1 as CJC's boys basketball coach and he "hit the ground running." Athletic Director Ace Prescott reports. The new coach, who comes to CJC from St. Edward's University in Austin, is busy making arrangements to move here and recruiting athletes. Understand he hopes to get possession of a house here in mid-summer.

See by the Abilene newspaper that Mr. Montgomery has recruited Mike Simmons, a basketball star at Abilene High School and a 4-A AAAA all-district player.

Texans Should Beware Of Tick Fever

COLLEGE STATION—The tick population is up this spring, likely due to the mild winter weather, and therein lies a potential threat to Texans.

Some ticks can cause Rocky Mountain spotted fever, a disease that can be fatal to humans.

"Texans should be aware that ticks are active this time of the year and should be especially cautious when camping or in the outdoors," says Dr. Phil Hamman, an entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Cases of Rocky Mountain spotted fever have increased rapidly in Texas in recent years, with 64 reported last year. Three cases have already occurred this year, with two deaths resulting.

Cases of the disease have occurred over most of the U.S. in recent years.

The fever is caused by the organism, rickettsia, which is carried in rodents and other wild animals and transmitted by ticks. Humans can be infected with the disease through actual tick bites or through their fingernails when crushing ticks found on dogs or other pets, explains Hamman.

Symptoms of spotted fever develop in 2 to 14 days after contact with an infected tick. First symptoms are sudden onset of headache, fever and aching muscles. If these symptoms occur within two weeks after a tick bite or other contact with a tick, get immediate medical attention, emphasizes the entomologist.

Early treatment averts serious illness or complications, says Hamman. A rash (hence, the name "spotted fever") develops two to three days after fever starts. The rash starts at the wrists and ankles and spreads to other parts of the body.

Two types of ticks are known to transmit Rocky Mountain spotted fever in Texas—the American dog tick and the Lone Star tick. The first is found throughout Texas while the Lone Star tick is found mostly in central and eastern areas.

What precautions can be taken regarding ticks?

"Awareness is half the battle," points out Hamman. "Be aware that ticks are in the environment when you're camping or just outdoors and routinely examine your body and clothing for ticks—two to three times a day. Early removal of ticks is important and since the disease organism is not transferred until ticks have fed for two to eight hours."

Always remove ticks with their mouthparts intact, cautions the entomologist.

Mouthparts left in the skin can transmit the disease or cause secondary infections. To relax tick mouthparts for easy removal, touch the tick with a hot needle or a few drops of camphor, alcohol, turpentine, kerosene or chloroform. Sometimes the best method is to grasp the tick firmly with tweezers or fingers and remove it with a slow, steady pull. Always treat the wound with a germicidal agent.

When outdoors for extended periods, Hamman recommends using an insect repellent, spraying the shoes, socks and pant legs. Since most repellents are effective for only short periods, repeated applications may be necessary.

If ticks are found on pets or in the yard, several pesticides are available for treatment. Those that can be used both inside and outside the home include chlorphrifos (Dursban), diazinon and propoxur (Baygon). Be sure to follow label directions in using these materials, cautions Hamman.

4-H Scholarships To Be Awarded At Roundup

COLLEGE STATION--Scholarships totaling $332,500 will be awarded by the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation to 68 outstanding 4-H members during State 4-H Roundup June 7-8 at Texas A&M University.

"The monetary value of these scholarships represents one of the largest 4-H scholarship programs in the nation," points out H.T. "Tom" Davison, the Foundation's executive director and also a 4-H and youth specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "The scholarships range in value from $500 to $6,000."

Davison says the Foundation arranges for donors for the scholarships and presents them in the donors' names. 1983 donors include the following:

- Raymond Dickson Foundation, Hallettsville.
- Texas 4-H Foundation's Memorial Fund, College Station.
- Texas 4-H Foundation's Annual Fund, College Station.
- Texas Farm Bureau, Waco.
- Texas 4-H Foundation's

C.J. Davidson Endowment, College Station.

-Pioneer Hi-Bred International, Plainview.

-Texas Grain and Feed Association, Fort Worth.

-Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, Houston.

-Fort Worth Exposition and Fat Stock Show, Fort Worth.

-Word and Patricia Sherrill, Midland.

-Texas 4-H Foundation's Floyd D. Lynch Endowment, College Station.

Three new scholarships include the Pioneer Hi-Bred International and the Texas 4-H Foundation's Memorial and Annual Fund Scholarships.

"All scholarship recipients are 4-H members and graduating from high school," Davison adds. "Each applicant completes a scholarship application which is screened by a committee of Extension personnel. Finalists are interviewed before the recipients are named."

The 4-H Foundation's scholarship program is one of 13 major areas of support provided to the Texas 4-H program, says Davison. The program began in 1964 with two scholarships totaling $2,000.

Pecan Growers Demonstrate Calibration Of Sprayers

By DeMarquis Gordon

County Extension Agent Thirty five people attended a pecan field day at Charles Walker's orchard May 24. The field day was planned by the Eastland County Pecan Growers Association to demonstrate different types of sprayers and to teach growers how to calibrate the various sprayers. Specialists discussed herbicides, insecticides and fungicides. It is most important that pecan growers know how to apply the exact amount of pesticides needed, because of economics, safety and effectiveness, says County Agent De Gordon.

Those who furnished sprayers for demonstration were Jimmy Edmondson, Nut Hustler, Inc., Lampasas; Kenneth Johnson; Neil Eaves; Wayne Carlile; and Charles Walker.

Speakers for the program were Dr. J.W. Worthington, Experiment Station Horticulturist; Dr. Sammy Helmers, Extension Horticulturist; Dr. Jesse Cocke, Extension Entomologist; and Dr. Chip Lee, Extension Plant Pathologist.

Dr. Cocke said that the pecan nut casebearers were later than usual this year. He predicted that Eastland County growers would need to spray their pecans for the insects sometime between June 1 and June 4.

Sprayer Class

During the pecan field day at Charles Walker's orchard Dr. J. W. Worthington, Horticulturist at Research and Extension Center in Stephenville, explains to 35 pecan growers how to calibrate sprayers so that the correct amount of insecticide is applied.

Commission Approves Lower Gas Rates

The Railroad Commission has approved contract amendments sought by Dow Pipeline to lower rates for natural gas charged to Lone Star Gas Company. The new lower rates will decrease Dow's annual revenues by approximately $13 million and the savings will be passed on to Texas cities by Lone Star through reductions to its city gate rate. The city gate is the delivery point at which a city distribution system receives gas from its supplier. Dow filed its application with the Commission March 15. To expedite savings to gas consumers, Chairman Mack Wallace and Commissioners Buddy Temple and James E. (Jim) Nugent approved the lower rates on a temporary basis April 4. Today's Commission action makes the lower gas rates permanently effective for all bills rendered on and after March 15. Had the change been in effect for Lone Star's March 20 filing, it would have reduced the city gate rate by approximately 4 cents per Mcf (thousand cubic feet) of gas. Lone Star serves more than 500 city gas distribution systems in the state.

...give little thought to the question of values when we should measure them in terms of personal worth in everything he buys, enjoys or does. For example, some folks will buy real estate without any kind of evidence of title disregarding the fact that the principal value of the purchase is in the title, not in the land itself or the improvements thereon. This kind of thinking costs property owners thousands of dollars annually which could be saved and a part of the savings wisely spent for an abstract of title or title insurance.

The Northwest Texas Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation in Ft. Worth sends out an interesting newsletter. I would like to share some good information from this month's newsletter.

It is possible for individuals with arthritis to continue to cook. All that is needed is a few simple gadgets and new ways to work in the kitchen. The Arthritis Foundation offers some suggestions:

PLAN AHEAD: Plan your activities in advance to minimize physical stress and fatigue. Do things in moderation so that you do not over-extend yourself.

REST: Alternate periods of food preparation with periods of rest. For example, plan ten minutes of relaxation for each half-hour of work.

SIT RATHER THAN STAND: For comfort and support, sit on a high bar stool (preferably one that swivels) to reach your sink, stove or counters. If a stool is not available, sit in a chair and create a comfortable work surface by putting a board across an open drawer or your lap.

REARRANGE YOUR KITCHEN: To avoid bending and lifting, reorganize your work and storage areas. Place objects together in convenient locations so that you do not waste effort collecting them every time you need them. Install a pegboard in an easy-to-reach area as a simple yet decorative way to store things. Dividers in drawers or lazy susans can make kitchen tools and food supplies more accessible.

USE LABOR-SAVING DEVICES: Electric devices such as can openers, knives, mixers, and blenders can conserve your energy and prevent strain on joints. To open jars, use the palm of your hand to protect finger joints, or you may want to install a v-shaped opener on a wall or under a shelf. The metal teeth of this tool (available at most hardware stores) grip the screw tops while the jar is twisted with one hand. Foam rubber padding around handles can make utensils more comfortable to grasp or use. Pliers are handy for turning the small knobs on your oven.

USE PUSH-POWER: A shopping cart or a table with wheels can save you from making unnecessary trips in the kitchen. Either of these can be helpful in moving bags of groceries or other heavy items.

If your strength or mobility is affected by arthritis, you may want to consult an occupational therapist for specific ways to meet your kitchen needs. Your physician can refer you to a qualified individual for help.

For additional information about managing chores around the house, the Fort Worth chapter has a SELF-HELP BOOK available for $4.00 which might be of valuable assistance. Their address is ARTHRITIS FOUNDATION 3145 McCart Street, Fort Worth, Texas 76110 or telephone (817) 926-7733.

RECIPE FOR THE WEEK: Need a good quick easy casserole recipe? The recipe I'm using this week is called Hobo Dinner, and is from the new State 4-H Cookbook which 4-H members are currently selling throughout the county.

HOBO DINNER
1 lb. ground beef
1/4 c. evaporated milk
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
6 lg. potatoes, thinly sliced
2 lg. onions, sliced
1 can cream of mushroom soup
1/4 lb. sharp cheese, grated
Press ground beef into bottom of 2 1/2 quart casserole. Sprinkle with milk, salt and pepper. Layer potatoes, onions, soup and cheese over top. Bake covered, at 350 degrees for 1 hour or until potatoes are tender. Yields 8 servings.

Real Estate Consumer

Builders in some parts of the country are reducing the costs of new homes by selling the house without the lot.

Rather than buying the land on which the house sits, the homeowner rents it from the developer. The land lease is long-term, running at least for the expected useful life of the house.

In markets where land prices are high, such as California and New England, this technique may reduce the cost of a home significantly. Savings are derived from the lower down payment and the smaller size of the mortgage loan.

Developers may sell the leases to investors or in the secondary mortgage market to recoup their investments. Homebuyers should recognize, however, they will be required to pay rent on the site, and the value of the house without the site may not appreciate as rapidly as the value of homes which sit on the homeowner's land.

NO GUARANTEE AGAINST FLOODING
Buying property that is outside the 100-year flood plain is not a guarantee your house will never be flooded. Many survey plats and construction documents state that the property does not lie within a flood-prone area as designated by the Federal Insurance Administration. This is not, however, a certification against flooding. It merely means the property is outside the boundaries of a flood-prone area as shown on a map.

Property that is thousands of feet from such an area could still be inundated. The causes could range from a severe storm to inadequate drainage facilities. Most storm sewers, for instance, are designed to handle storms of smaller than 100-year magnitude.

So, knowing your property is not in a 100-year flood plain is reassuring, but it is not a guarantee your house will always stay dry.

TENANT TIPS FOR LANDLORDS

If you own rental property and have a vacancy problem, here is a suggestion to help improve your occupancy rate.

When your tenants leave, find out why. Interview them. Ask their reasons for moving.

Is there too much noise? Is maintenance inadequate? In other words, is there some annoying condition you can correct?

If a tenant is moving because the apartment is too small, perhaps you can offer a larger apartment and thus keep the tenant. If you own an office building, conduct an interview to discover why your business tenants are leaving. Perhaps they want to upgrade their image, or perhaps they found similar but cheaper quarters elsewhere.

These reasons might indicate you need to renovate your units or adjust your rents. But whatever you find out, an interview with departing tenants can give you good information on how to hang on to your tenants.

FUTURE HOMES SMALLER BUT BETTER EQUIPPED

The financial and psychological benefits of homeownership appeal to a broad range of people. The growing demand for housing units in many areas is outstripping the ability of developers to add new units to the stock.

This means prices are rising more rapidly than inflation. For many people to afford new housing, they will have to buy less house. Does this mean the house of the future will be plainer with fewer amenities? Many architects do not think so.

They see a trend toward smaller houses but with more special equipment, such as whirlpool baths and fireplaces. To save money, living rooms and kitchens may be shared with unrelated individuals who each have private bedrooms and baths.

As one architect has stated, "Small is quality, small is manageable, small is affordable."

LEASE-OPTION HELPS HOME SELL

If you have a home for sale but have found it difficult to locate a buyer, here is an idea that might help. Ask your agent to advertise the home as a lease-option.

A lease-option means you would lease the home to someone and give them the option to buy it at the end of a specified period, say one or two years. Most people will want to be sure the monthly lease payments are high enough to pay the mortgage and other expenses. And you may wish to set the home's purchase option price at what you believe the market price will be when the lease-option expires.

If you think homes in your area appreciate at 12 percent per year, the purchase option price would be 12 percent higher than the current rate, if the lease is for one year. And you may negotiate a lease which provides full or partial rent credit toward the purchase of the home.

Spotlights & Sidelights

Julia Worthy

Wordsworth had a sharper point than he realized when he wrote, "the world is too much with us."

Wordsworth, who existed and wrote in a sheltered environment it is hard for me to imagine, did not foresee the pace at which we prance today.

Tennyson had an inkling with his "heavens filled with commerce" and "pilots of the purple twilight," but even Tennyson never peeped about instant coffee.

So much of our lives has been reduced to the add-the-water-and-stir level that I am beginning to feel the truth of that Pennsylvania Dutch quote, "The hurriedier I go, the behinder I get."

There's a lot to be said for, as well as about, instant coffee, instant tea, condensed milk, cake mixes and prefabricated houses.

Horsepower under the hood gets you places faster than horsepower in the harness. Air Mail beats the Pony Express—most of the time.

Think of all the jobs these discoveries and inventions have created! How did we ever manage without unions and strikes, paper diapers and jars of baby food?

Lest you write me off as prejudiced against progress, I do protest I'm not!

Cakes mixes, for instance, can be a blessing, both to the cooker and the eater thereof. Good intentions do not always make a good cook.

A recipe that is delicately delicious for one cook may turn out absolutely awful for another. Cake mixes do offer a chance for consistency.

Well, so much for instant food. There are many other instant products designed to save thee and me something-time, money, whatever.

Among the many pieces of mail I didn't need to get, there is a brochure informing me my card for instant membership in the National Association of Mature People is enclosed.

There are four pages of single-spaced typing listing the advantages of belonging to NAMP. I have no reason to doubt the organization is every bit as effective as it claims to be, but I think I'll pass. I already am a member of AARP which is busy doing about the same thing for me.

NAMP will get a lot of members from this mailing, or so I expect...and certainly, they expect so, too. For one thing, they enclosed a postage-paid envelope instead of one of those that has instructions on where to place the stamp. If you don't know where to put the stamp, you don't need to mail a letter anyway.

The second reason they'll get a response is that the age limit is much less than AARP. You only have to be forty for NAMP.

"Mature" has nothing to do with it, but it sounds well. Some people are as mature at eighteen as they'll be at eighty-one. Some people never will be mature, and they may never be forty, either. Gloomy thought, but I'm not pessimistic. Of course, I'm past forty, too—way past!

Have you noticed—surely it's not just my imagination—how the older segment of the population is being courted these days? We're being offered more and more ways to spend money—all for our own good, naturally.

It is nice to be noticed, whatever the reason, whether you're old or young. And in this time when, indeed, the world may be "too much with us," all of us older people should take the opportunities offered us to swim in the mainstream. We should also keep a firm clutch on our life jackets.

Whether our interests coincide with poetry or comic strips—or any place in between—let us keep in mind there's no such thing as a free lunch and read the righthand side of the menu. Life is not all instant!

Food Preservation

Workshops Scheduled

On Friday, June 10, 1983 the Eastland County Extension office will sponsor two "Food Preservation Workshops" at the Texas Electric Reddy Room in Eastland.

The first workshop will be geared toward youth ages 9-19 with little or no experience. This workshop will begin at 1:00 p.m. and end around 4:00 p.m. Participants need to bring two pint size canning jars with lids and rings, and enough green beans and tomatoes to fill each jar. Participants will go through the actual steps in pressure canning and water bath canning. There will also be demonstrations on preparing fruits and vegetables for freezing.

The second workshop will be for adults and will begin at 7:30 p.m. for the public. Whether you are a beginner or experienced in preserving foods, this workshop will provide you an opportunity to learn or "brush up" on the food preservation recommendations.

These workshops are offered free to the public. Free food preservation bulletins will be available at the workshops.

Reflections In Perspective

I.W. Ussery

It has been mentioned that the British, with their long experience in colonial development and administration (not always too successful) have developed a high degree of expertise in "pioneer industrial development". No detail as regards "creature comforts" is overlooked when an outpost base is established, insofar as providing such comforts is in any way feasible or justified. As for facilities required for security, safety or just plain everyday necessities, nothing was overlooked. And treatment of the ills and ailments, real or imaginary, of men far from home on bachelor status was given very high priority.

Das Island, that sun-bathed volcanic speck in the Persian Gulf was a classic case in point. From the amazonian jungles to the primitive outpost of Fao, Iraq and to the desert beach at Jebel Dhanna, it has not been my experience that any place could be more isolated than Das Island. And Das had its little working-men's hospital, complete with a British Medical Officer and his assistant, a very high-caste Sikh from East India who was a Fellow of the Royal Academy of Surgeons.

The late Dr. Mike Bailey, Chief Medical Officer on Das Island, in his assignment as such was a classic case of a round peg, perfectly fitted into a round hole. He had few peers and certainly no superiors in the field of industrial medicine. Aply assisted by Dr. Jolly, the Sikh mentioned above, Mike treated the usual run of minor fractures, cuts, sprains and abrasions with a skill that would be a credit to any hospital in London. During my tour on the Island, they successfully performed an emergency appendectomy. The patient, well on his way to recovery, was on a flight to London for recuperation in a matter of days.

And Dr. Bailey, as befitted a doctor faced with a wide variety of complaints, was a skilled psychologist. In his line of duty, he almost had to be. Bachelors, far from home, friends and loved ones sometimes come down with some psychosomatic ailments that are real dillies. Not once could Mike Bailey have been accused of treating such problems lightly. Actually, the man felt that he was terminally ill. Dr. Bailey would take him at his word, and having determined that the man in fact had nothing pathologically wrong with him, could apply his practice and knowledge of psychology.

The case of Jay Medley (not his real name) was typically one in point. Jay stepped off the charter flight into the glaring sunlight of Das Island one Spring day, took a look around, climbed into the waiting Land Rover and asked the driver if there was a beer joint on the Island. The "Club" was only a short distance from the quarters in the Staff Camp to which Jay had been assigned, and less than half an hour after his having been shown to his room by the driver, he was perched on a bar stool...in continuation of the five-day drunk he'd been on since departing the U.S. He didn't know whether he was on Das Island or in Navasota. Nor did he care, particularly. It had been a long time since he'd found twenty cent beer. He remained at the bar in the Club until its closing time, and came back to his quarters, complaining of the ridiculous hours "That Beer Joint" observed. Closing in the middle of the day like that...who ever heard of such? How did they expect to make any money? Oh, Jay was really on a thermo-nuclear tear.

Now Jay was a highly skilled supervisor, and was sent over to assist in a technical aspect of the project which had a crying need for his skill. And when, after the second day, he failed not only to report to the jobsite but remained in his room...sending his room steward to the Club for his refreshment...it became obvious that something had to be done to help him (and the project) with the dilemma. Jay was talked to. Quietly, but with considerable emphasis, Jay was talked to. He was in poor condition. He needed to snap out of it.

Jay agreed. And then he developed an acute attack of stomach ulcer. Imaginary, of course, but it just happened to be the first thing that came to his mind. Had an old ulcer, and it was acting up on him. "You just can't imagine the pain". Jay, meanwhile, had forsaken the beer for something with a higher alcoholic content. He was really in a state.

Well, then. We couldn't put him on airplane back to the States in that condition. No airline would allow him to board without a nurse or a physician in attendance. In order that he could get his ulcer treated, we'd take him right down to the hospital and Dr. Bailey. We were in luck. Somehow that got through Jay's befuddled brain and was accepted as a very good idea. So, away we go to see Dr. Bailey.

Jay explained those almost unbearable pains to Dr. Bailey, who listened very patiently and with deep understanding. He'd have to put Jay to bed in the hospital while he ran some tests and did some X-rays. Jay balked, momentarily, but Mike persuaded him that at that moment, there was nothing on the Island more important than bringing Jay Medley back to health. Jay went to bed in the hospital, but only after Dr. Bailey had given a steep injection of vitamin concentrate and orders that Jay was to remain under the watchful care of an Indian male nurse until the morrow. Jay went along with it, and thanked Dr. Bailey profusely for his interest.

On the following day (after having determined from us, who had not yet reached the state of having to join Jay in the hospital that his services could be dispensed with for the remainder of the week) Dr. Bailey gave Jay Medley the combination of bad news good news. Yes, he did in fact have a serious peptic ulcer (which probably came as a surprise to Jay). That was the bad news. The good news was that it could be treated. He'd got on to it just in time. And by the end of the week, under careful care and medication Jay could possibly leave the hospital. More injections followed.

By the end of the week, Jay had quite thoroughly dried out and was beginning to chomp at the bits. He'd come over to work, and he wanted to get on with it. Dr. Bailey ordered his clothing to be returned to him, and Jay to see him in his office as soon as he was dressed for discharge from the hospital.

Meanwhile, Jay had been put on a course of "strong medication", which consisted of nothing more than sugar-coated vitamin tablets. Three of those large pink tablets had to be taken every day. They would hold the ulcer until it could heal, naturally. And then came the clincher.

"Now Mr. Medley, you must continue to take this medication, and you must see me every Friday morning until I can be certain that you've totally recovered. And by the way, Mr. Medley; I don't know whether or not you are a drinking man. You've had nothing to drink since you've been in the hospital, but I must warn you that so long as you are on this medication...and it is vital that you continue to take it... one drink of alcohol and you're a dead man. Strong stuff, this medication. It has to be. But mixing it with alcohol forms a deadly poison."

Final Verdict May Reveal PIK Program Less Costly

COLLEGE STATION--When the final verdict is in, PIK may not be as costly a government program as some have suggested.

While estimated costs of the payment-in-kind program range from $10 to $25 billion, two economists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, peg the cost at about $11 billion.

Dr. Ron Knutson and Ed Smith break this figure down to $7.5 billion as the value of PIK commodities, $2.3 billion for deficiency payments and $1.3 billion for diversion payments. Deficiency payments are for taking cropland out of production.

Analyzing the $11 billion cost of PIK, here's a breakdown by specific commodities: corn, $5.4 billion; wheat, $3.1 billion; cotton, $1.4 billion, grain sorghum, $700 million; and rice, $500 million.

"Although the total cost of PIK may seem high compared to farm programs in the 70's, the figure is low compared to what the government's farm program would have cost without PIK," say Knutson and Smith. They estimate that farm program costs for 1982-83 will reach about $18 billion and that costs for '83-'84 would total almost $21 billion without PIK.

Since this estimated $21 billion would include $3 billion for the dairy support program and another $2 billion on minor agricultural commodities and general administrative expenses, the remaining $16 billion represents program costs for grains and cotton in the absence of PIK. Thus, if the $11 billion estimated cost of PIK stands up, the program could be viewed as causing a net savings of about $5 billion.

"These savings would result mainly from reduced commodity storage costs and reduced deficiency payments," say the economists.

State Capitol Highlights

Texas Press Association

Lyndell Williams

AUSTIN—The Governor's proposed tax increase program fell flat in a House committee last week, but even as it closed the regular session, the Legislature braced to return for a special session on taxes.

Governor Mark White overhauled his tax program after the Ways and Means Committee voted 14-1 to kill all bills to which White's program could have been attached.

White's revised proposal would abandon the proposed doubling of certain luxury tax items, and install an expanded sales tax on alcohol, tobacco, video games and other luxuries, and alter the state's motor fuels tax. Under the new fuels tax proposal, gasoline taxes would change from a flat 5-cents per gallon to a five percent rate, and diesel would go from the current 6 1/2-cent charge to 6.5 percent rate.

Since fuel prices hover at slightly more than a dollar at present, fuel taxes would increase only slightly. However, if fuel prices rise, the tax revenue which funds highways and education would automatically rise also.

Special Session

White, who has taken to the television airwaves to push his tax hike to boost teacher salaries and education in Texas, hinted strongly last week of a coming special session if lawmakers do not act... and they did not.

Speculation has the special session being called for any time from the day after the session to mid-July. Mid-June probably has more believers than any other date.

When White does call the session, no one will be caught by surprise.

Chairman Softening

Even Ways and Means Committee chairman Stan Schlueter, D-Killeen, who has blocked a tax hike at every turn, seems to be softening a bit. Schlueter said last week he would work with White and legislators to formulate the best tax increase program available, even though he would not vote for it.

Indeed, Schlueter's acceptance of the coming session reflects what many lawmakers are conceding privately: that the Legislature, having failed to agree on which state expenditures to cut, must now fight a battle over whether and how much to raise taxes.

Bullock vs. White

When White charged out with his tax hike offensive two weeks ago, even Comptroller Bob Bullock, the governor's nemesis and probable '86 opponent, was silent for awhile. Bullock, after all, had accused White of lacking in leadership, a charge that looked a bit thin after White came out dancing and jabbing.

But last week Bullock showed his mettle: he reduced his revenue estimates for the fourth time this year, trimming off another $93 million from the amount lawmakers can legally budget for the next two years.

Bullock also made headlines last week when reporters discovered he had loaned out his official license plates for two years to one of his major contributors.

The Senate

The Senate last week approved legislation that would:

—Increase the price of what is considered a felony theft from $200 to $750.

—Salvage the state's unemployment fund by taxing employers an additional $1.1 billion over the next three years.

—Allow auto dealers to earn commissions up to 35 percent on credit life insurance policies they sell customers. The bill by Rep. Bill Messer, D-Belton, was opposed by the State Board of Insurance.

—Extend state law requiring school attendance to children in kindergarten.

—Authorize counties to charge up to $5 in extra vehicle registration fees.

The House

Legislation approved last week in the House included measures:

—Allowing consumers to get a refund or a new car if a dealer sold them a "lemon."

—Abolishing the mandatory life sentence for three-time felons, but including a minimum 25-year sentence.

—Removing the fuel tax exemption for gasohol, currently being marketed in many cities as super unleaded.

—Restricting the use of the insanity defense in criminal trials.

Speaker Probe

When House Speaker Gib Lewis omitted several business ventures from his financial disclosure report earlier this year, House members quietly agreed to put off any investigation of the slip until after the regular session.

Last week the House Ethics Committee began to review Lewis' late disclosures and will meet again early this summer to consider further action.

Among business partnerships which Lewis failed to mention before he amended his report following a barrage of bad press were partnerships with a one-time horse racing lobbyist and beer and liquor dealers. Horserace betting and DWI legislation figured prominently in the current session.

Although the Travis County District Attorney said at the time that Lewis had actually violated no law, the committee lawyer said any legislator who knowingly filed an incomplete financial disclosure could be prosecuted for perjury.

Governor's Tax Program

Eastland, Stephens Counties Participate In Camp

On Friday, June 3, 1983 at 2:00 p.m. eighty Eastland County 4-H members arrived at the Texas 4-H Center on Lake Brownwood to participate in the annual county 4-H camp. This year the camp was held jointly with the Stephens County 4-Hers.

To start off the camping program 4-H'ers had several hours of free time to enjoy swimming, tennis, basketball and other activities. Then everyone joined together for get acquainted games and a "Foot Long Hot Dog" supper. After dinner everyone got into the swing of things with a square dance by Mr. Joel Wilson of Abilene, and for those with two left feet there were a variety of crafts available including designing your own kite. Everyone was having a really good time when all of a sudden a giant birthday cake appeared and a clown popped out to help celebrate the 7th birthday of 4-H, along with punch and cake for all. After the party there was more free time for a moonlight swim, a 4-H ceremonial and then lights out.

The fun began again Saturday morning at 7:00 a.m. with a flag ceremony and breakfast. From 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon everyone got a chance to participate in their choice of 3 of the following workshops:

- 1) canoeing and sailing, 2) archery & shooting, 3) high adventure games and 4) water sports and swimming.

Finally, it was lunch time, and then time to clean up and go home. As the 4-H'ers said good-bye to their new found friends they were looking forward to next year's camp.

Gorman Crimestoppers To Hold

Anti-Drug Program Tuesday

Gorman Crimestoppers will present a program on drugs at the Senior Center on Tuesday, June 7, 1983 at 7:00 p.m.

Special guest speaker will be the Coordinator of TEXANS' WAR ON DRUGS, Marilynn Golightly of San Angelo.

Ms. Golightly is a dynamic speaker and has a message on the devastating effect of drugs on our society and on our children. The drug problem is affecting each and every one of us in one way or another, and it is only through a coordinated effort we can eliminate or minimize the problem in our county.

Please make plans to attend the meeting in Gorman on Tuesday evening, and bring a friend.

Watching Washington

Senator Lloyd Bentsen

Some U.S. police departments have recently begun using robots to perform a very dangerous job: carrying suspicious packages, thought to be bombs, from the spot where they are found to heavily armored bomb disposal trucks.

There will not be many complaints that these particular robots are denying jobs to workers.

It is likely that in the years ahead we will gladly relinquish other hazardous or dirty jobs to robots.

But, will the coming robotics revolution cause tens of thousands of more attractive jobs to be taken away from humans and turned over to machines?

That is a valid question. One that deserves our urgent attention. We see new uses for robots every day, as their memory and optic capabilities improve. New generations of these dexterous, uncomplaining machines pick fruit, sand and paint autos, weld dirt buckets to bulldozers and drill bolt holes in F-16s.

There are about 20,000 robots in the world today, including some 5,000 in the United States. Sales are expected to increase at the incredible rate of 25-50 percent a year between now and 1990, when there could easily be more than 100,000 of them in use in this country with sales of over $2 billion a year.

The reason for the use of robots is no industrial mystery—they increase productivity, sometimes dramatically. One robot sands the wings of Boeing's cruise missile in 46 minutes, a job which formerly took a crew of workers eight hours. General Dynamics has found that the robots they use to make the F-16 are three to four times more productive than workers alone.

There are sharply differing views, though, on the effect robots will have on the American work force.

One analysis, by the firm of Arthur D. Little, predicts that by 1990 up to 4 million jobs—a fourth of our factory workforce—could be lost to robots.

Experts at the National Bureau of Standards, on the other hand, predict that robots will create more jobs than they displace. They estimate that every new robot will create from two to four man-years of work somewhere in our economy. The Bureau of Labor Statistics predicts that some 800,000 new jobs will be created this decade just to produce robots.

Who is correct? It is vitally important to know, to at least have a substantially better idea than we do today.

As a senior member of the Joint Economic Committee, I have asked the Office of Technology Assessment to evaluate the consequences of robotics on employment in America.

This is a tough job for the OTA, since there are many imponderables. But they have advised me they hope to have a report ready next fall, one that will answer the basic question: how many jobs will robots create or destroy?

Once we have this answer, whatever it is, we will be far better prepared to cope with the robotics revolution.
