

Eastland County Education Majors Teach In Program

(Credit to Joan Richmond, Staff of Stephenville Empire-Tribune)

The recent SAIL (Summer Adventure in Learning) Program at Tarleton State University, Stephenville, utilized the teaching skills of some Eastland County Education Majors. It also brought more awareness of a creative method of education.

The SAIL Program involved a Social Studies Course for the University students, and covered the teaching of world culture, computers, culinary skills, vocabulary, reading, and many other things to Elementary pupils. Professor Candice Chandler of Tarleton arranged and directed the Summer Adventure in Learning.

Among those participating in the intensive three week program was Randy Linn of Cisco, Sheila (Sawyers) Johnson of Cisco, Sharon Davis of Lake Leon, and Diana (Maynard) Gregory of Eastland.

Dillon Schleppe, a gifted student from Eastland, also participated. And Betty Nelms (Mrs. Gaylon Nelms) wife of the Pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, came to the Mexico studies class in Mexican dress and showed slides from that country.

Randy Linn of Cisco will graduate with a Degree in Education (Minor in Science) next December. He plans to teach Science, probably on a Jr. High level. Randy has worked as a Teacher's Aide in the Cisco City Schools.

Diana Gregory of Eastland has one more year's work toward her Degree, which will include Kindergarten Certification and Elementary Certification. She hopes to do her Student Teaching in Eastland.

Sharon Davis (Mrs. Jim Davis) of Lake Leon will receive her BS in Elementary Education at the end of the term this month. She like Diana Gregory returned to College after several years absence. She reports that the Education Courses have been very rewarding, especially the SAIL Program.

Sheila Johnson (Mrs. Matt Johnson) was near the completion of her University studies at the time of the SAIL Program, and received her Elementary Education Degree shortly after SAIL ended. She enjoys working with children, and looks forward to teaching.

In explaining why she arranged the SAIL Program, Dr. Candice Chandler says,

"I saw a need. Teachers were going out into the classroom without experience in supervised surroundings - without someone to turn to and ask for advice."

So Chandler, fellow Professors Dr. Virginia Bazel, Dr. Ray Reutzel, seven graduate assistants and two Tarleton Education classes set up three basic classrooms and created the most interesting learning environment a child could wish for. Students on three levels of learning were accepted - gifted, average, and those deficient in skills. No one had to be urged to take part in this pilot program, but 30 students came from 10 different School Districts to participate. Each classroom was decorated in the theme of a country - alternating with Mexico, Japan and Africa; Germany, France and Thailand. The best part was the opportunity for individual attention, and a chance for each student to learn at his own pace. Creativity was encouraged, as well as participation. There were no "failures" just an amazing amount of progress. Randy Linn of Cisco worked with the Learning Disabled during the Course, and he states that he was "Thrilled over this Program, and very happy with the response of my students." This group studied Japan and France, and many interesting projects were tied into the themes. "The boys in the Program responded exceptionally well to me as a man," Linn reports. "I worked with them individually, so I could identify with their needs."

"We were getting away from the traditional classroom, where you often learn by rote. These children really experienced learning, through crafts and other means. One thing they did not experience was failure, and that alone gave them a great boost."

"Some of the children had been in the 'I hate school' frame of mind before the classes began."

"But I started getting notes such as 'Thank you, Mr. Linn, for being such a good teacher!'"

"Toward the end of the Course one little boy - who apparently had the wrong idea about how to get into the Program - announced: 'I'm going to read real hard in school next year, so I can come back to this!'"

Diana Gregory, Sheila Johnson, and Sharon Davis worked together with the Classroom on Mexico. They were supervised by Dr. Virginia Bazel.

Diana, wife of Grady Gregory of Eastland, states that she thoroughly enjoyed the experience.

"We avoided lectures," she says, "And children could learn about sitting at a desk. The classes were not crowded - there were 13 children in our class - ten boys and three girls. When a student asked one of the teachers a question he didn't have to wait for an answer."

Local news in brief

MAN ARRESTED

A 19-year old Cisco man was arrested at 1 p.m. Wednesday and charged with misdemeanor theft in connection with towels, a sheet and pillow disappearing from a room he had occupied at J&M Motel. Police Chief Billy Rains said the case was under investigation. The man was released on $1,000 bond set by City Judge Jasper Cook.

GRASS FIRES HERE

Cisco firemen went to the Thomas Bailey ranch seven miles north of town on Highway 183 on Monday to extinguish a grass fire. A fire on the Glazner place a mile north of Nimrod was extinguished Wednesday. Little or no damage was reported.

Lions Club Initiates New Members Here

Lions Hutchinson and Mike Johnson were initiated as new members of the Cisco Lions Club at the weekly luncheon last Wednesday noon at the Colony Restaurant. Lion Jay Richardson was in charge of the induction ceremonies.

Mr. Johnson, a native of Cisco, owns and operated a used car business on I-20 access road. Mr. Hutchinson, a resident of Cisco for nine years, is employed here by Ensearch Corporation.

Chairman Ivan Webb of the club's advertising sales committee passed out assignments and supplies for members to sell ads in the program for the annual Lions Benefit Bowl Football game. The contest will be played between Cisco and Ranger junior college grid teams at Breckenridge in mid-September. Lions Club of this area are sponsoring the event.

Mr. Webb asked committee workers to complete their ad sales in two weeks. He said that a big percentage of the program revenue would go into the treasury of the club for use in community projects.

Lion Truman Kirk reported on a District 2E-1 Cabinet meeting held last Saturday in Graham. He said that April 6-7, 1984, was the dates set for next year's district convention and that International President Fowler has accepted an invitation to address the meeting.

Area Lions Clubs will continue their work in the drug abuse program during the coming year, it was announced at the cabinet meeting, Mr. Kirk said. Jack Farleigh, Cisco Lion, was appointed to serve as zone chairman during the coming year, Mr. Kirk reported. Mr. Farleigh spoke briefly to urge Lions to continue their community benefit projects.

work and knead the dough, and form the shape of the country. The boys, far in the majority, were so cooperative."

All the Education Majors agree that they benefited from the SAIL Program along with their students. They had learned skills to help them directly reach these young people - to break any pattern of impersonal teaching.

Dr. Candice Chandler expressed it this way: "It sounds so simple, yet I know how difficult it is. But if students feel good about themselves and you meet their interests, needs and abilities, you can only have a winner."

"And they really did ask a lot of questions. We studied the language of Mexico, the food, clothing, holidays, and music."

"Some of the children became so interested they brought things from home to add to the classes."

"We believe this study gave everyone a greater appreciation of the culture of the country. I do plan to use some of these ideas in the classroom when I begin teaching."

Sharon Davis also found the program inspiring.

"There were so many projects directly involving the students. One thing they enjoyed was making a dough map of Mexico. They had to

Stockholders Attend Kamon House Meet

Some 75 stockholders from several states were in Cisco Thursday to attend annual meetings of three oil companies with offices at Kamon House, 1304 Avenue L.

Stockholders of International Royalty and Oil Co., meeting Thursday morning, heard reports of activities during the past year from Richard F. Hare of Fort Worth, IRO president. Black Giant Oil Company's Triangle Royalty & Oil Company's activities were outlined by President Robert Kamon of Cisco at afternoon meetings.

The reports showed that the financial condition of the three firms was comparatively good. The companies hold extensive royalty interests under oil and gas concessions in Australia where development work has been going on during the past year.

An oil test has commenced in Honduras on a 114,988 acre concession in under which Black Giant Oil Co. hold substantial mineral interests, Mr. Webb reported. The BGO president expressed optimism about prospects for a concession to be granted the firm in Guyana, South America.

In the United States, Black Giant has potentially productive leases in Southwest Indiana, Nowata County, Okla., and elsewhere, Mr. Webb said.

President Kamon noted that Golden Triangle Royalty & Oil, Inc., recently declared a five per cent stock dividend more than a month to GTRO's interests.

Mr. Kamon said that there has been considerable interest in GTRO's stock on the over-the-counter marketplace during the current year. The company has royalty interests in a number of states plus Australia and Honduras. The firm is free of debt.

All officers and directors of the three companies were re-elected. Lynn Ashley & Co. of Abilene was named independent auditors of the firms for 1983. A catered luncheon was served to stockholders at noon.

School will be starting in a few days. There is so much excitement and anticipation with the beginning of school.

Being a parent to school age children and dealing with all the peer pressure problems can be frustrating for a parent.

For many years adolescence has been thought of as a period of "storm and stress." More recently, that "storm and stress" has been recognized as a critical period during which youngsters focus on special problems and concerns brought about by physical, intellectual, social and emotional changes.

Most early adolescents - 11 to 14 years of age - share concerns about their physical development and relationships with family and friends, yet they have exaggerated feelings of being very different from others.

Girls usually mature earlier than boys and more anxious about attracting boys than boys are to gain their favor.

Being an early- or late-maturer poses a special problem for early adolescents. These youngsters may feel "out of step" with their peers. Late maturing boys and girls, for example, may feel anxious and wonder if they ever will attain normal adult height and physical development.

Early adolescents seem sometimes to be emotionally unstable and overly sensitive.

One 14 year old girl, for instance, had her hair done at a beauty shop before a special school party. But she became upset with the way her hair looked because the other kids might think it looked "funny." She cried and then completely changed the new hairdo. While her parents felt that her reaction was extreme and inappropriate, it is actually quite typical. The girl's strong need for peer approval interfered with a more sensible judgment about the hairdo.

Although incidents of this kind may not be pleasant and can cause tension in the family, they are a normal part of a youngster's struggle for identity and independence.

Parents, middle-school or junior high teachers, 4-H leaders and others can be helpful to young people who are struggling for their own identity. Young adolescents need the support of parents and other adults who take the time to listen and accept them just as they are.

Early adolescence is a time of growth and frustration for both parent and child. But it is a necessary step in order for the young person to achieve a sense of identity and self-worth.

Many Good And Sincere Individuals
...give little thought to the question of values when we should measure them in terms of personal worth in everything he buys, enjoys or does. For example, some folks will buy real estate without any kind of evidence of title disregarding the fact that the principal value of the purchase is in the title, not in the land itself or the improvements thereon. This kind of thinking costs property owners thousands of dollars annually which could be saved and a part of the savings wisely spent for an abstract of title or title insurance.

Texas Teen-Age Baseball Tourney

Cisco proved to be big enough and Eastland proved to be good enough for the 1983 Texas Teen-Age Baseball Association's Junior State Tournament for players age 13 to 15.

Cisco was big enough to host, along with the Tri-Cities Baseball League of Eastland County, a smoothly run State Tournament with adequate facilities and housing provided for the visitors.

The Eastland Greenbacks, the winners of the Tri-Cities Baseball League, were good enough to earn third place in the state after being knocked out of the championship game by the finalist M&T Construction team of West.

West received the second place trophy as they in turn were defeated by the Ronny Wells Insurance team of Killeen which went through the double elimination tournament without a loss to receive the championship trophy. The Wink Summer Recreation Wildcats were the fourth place team.

The trophies were presented by ABC President and Tournament Director Bill Manire and ABC Secretary-Treasurer and Tournament Scorekeeper Jackie Williams, who worked from early morning to late at night keeping the tournament going for the four days. A number of other volunteers also worked hard to do the other jobs and operate the concessions, especially the Grounds Crew, which was made up boys off of the local teams.

The City of Cisco, the Cisco Jaycees, Cisco Junior College, the Graham Memorial Hospital, the Boy Scouts, and other assisted or cooperated to make the tournament the success that it was.

According to Manire and Williams, the game officials did an excellent job with only one protest, which was quickly ruled on by the committee. Protest committees were provided for each of the teams by the AARP.

The Host Eastland Greenbacks, whose three allowed pickup players also included a Cisco boy, were allowed to play in the State Tournament after winning the first half of the season in the Eastland County League 16-1 before losing the second half to a good Ranger Braves team and then playing a mini-series with them to determine the county league champions. The team, managed by Greg Sedillo, Jr. and coached by David Morren had a 16-4 record coming into the tournament.

The other teams, who were admitted to the State Tournament after winning District Tournaments, included the champion Killeen team which was managed by W.A. Hooten, Jr. and entered with a 11-3 record, the second place West team managed by Eugene Maroul and entering with a 10-0 record, and the fourth place Wink team managed by Mike Jones and with an 8-2 record.

Also included were the Port Lavaca John Dodd Pharmacy Cardinals 13-0, the Snyder Buffs 14-1, the Palestine East Texas Citizens Credit Union Rangers 20-5, and the Gainesville Jaycees 14-1.

All of the teams had tournament wins after the listed season records. There were no home runs in the tournaments but adjectives such as good, interesting, and unusual were quickly used by those viewing the games to describe the baseball played.

The games were scheduled for seven innings but Palestine played Wink twelve innings after having lost an earlier game to Killeen 40-14. Palestine had 18 hits to Wink's 3, but Wink won 10-8.

Eastland scored four in the seventh to beat Snyder and also scored in the seventh to beat Port LaVaca.

The Eastland players were Shane Bowles 13, Troy Washington 14, Glenn Nevill 15, Matt Parker 14, Clyde Wilson 14, Tracy Fullen 14, Tim Sedillo 14, Doug Underwood 13, Daniel Garrett 13, Juan Espinoza 13, Guy Porter 13, Mike Jordan 13, and Eddie Holland 15, with pickup players Kevin Farmer 14 and Mark Barry 14 of Eastland and Jason Rattan 14 of Cisco.

Country Music Stage Show Set August 19th In Moran

A two-hour Country Music Stage Show will be held in Moran Friday, August 19, at 8:30 p.m., in Moran Football Stadium. Joe Paul Nichols and His Five Pennies, recording for Custom Records, and Dale Lay, recording for GM Records, will be the performers.

If hard work is the road to success, Joe Paul Nichols and His Five Pennies figures they have piled up more than their share of mileage. Nichols and his band continue to be one of the busiest groups in Texas and Oklahoma playing shows during the week and dances on weekends. Joe Paul and his band are one of the best dressed groups in this area. They have several sets of matching uniforms.

Always, for Nichols, there is a search, the constant looking, for The Song—the tune which will become the big hit. Joe Paul has recorded over one hundred songs in his career on singles and albums. He records for Custom Records, and some of his recordings are "Hello Trouble", "These Little Things", "Hallelujah Jones", "Mathilda", and "Texas Memory".

Nichols and His Five Pennies have toured with the Hee Haw cast, and are familiar faces around state fairs and rodeos where they have performed with stars like Mel Tillis, George Jones, Ernest Tubb, and Johnny Paycheck.

What the crowds get is a goodly portion of traditional country music, strong on George Jones and Bob Wills, for example, leavened with contemporary contributions from such as The Oak Ridge Boys, Larry Gatlin, and etc. There is plenty of instrumental work and plenty of Joe Paul Nichols, too, in the person of his strong baritone.

Dale Lay was raised around the saw mills of Eastern Oklahoma near the Arkansas border, where listening to country music was a part of life. The Grand Ole Opry, broadcast over WSM in Nashville, was something he looked forward to every Saturday night. Little did he dream that the day was to come when he would be invited to come to Nashville to sing over WSM. Dale developed a deep love for country music early in life. Hank Williams was among his favorite singers.

It wasn't long before young Dale was doing a little picking himself, playing for country dances by the time he was nine. This proved to be the start of a life-long career as an entertainer. Today Dale Lay is well known in the entertainment world of country music. He is recognized by well known show business personalities. Dale is quick to give credit for his successful career to old friends like Ernest Tubb who gave him a helping hand along the way. In turn, Dale tries to help others get a start in the music business. In his unselfish effort he has helped Tim Knight into a very successful career in the world of entertainment.

Dale has managed somehow to hang on to the simple lifestyle that many other successful entertainers seem to lose. He has written and recorded a number of songs on the GM label. His records and eight-track tapes can be found in the homes of friends and fans all over the country. Many thousands of country music fans have come to know Dale through television shows and his many personal appearance tours on the Grand Ole Opry road shows with Loretta Lynn, Little Jimmy Dickens, The Wilburn Brothers, George Jones, Cal Smith, Jack Green and Jeannie Sealey, David Houston, Bobbie Bare, Ernest Tubb and a host of other big names of country music.

Dale has come a long way from the country dances in Eastern Oklahoma saw mill country to the successful career he now enjoys. One thing Dale enjoys most of all is meeting new friends as he travels across the country. He is certainly one of the most likeable show business personalities of today.

The Moran Rural Volunteer Fire Department is sponsoring the Country Music Show.

Admission will be $3.00 per person at the door. Everyone is welcome.
