

HALL OF REMARKS

BY HERBEL HALLMARK

A GOOD NUMBER of Cisco Junior Varsity fans traveled to Haskell Thursday night to watch the high school teams play. There seemed to be about as many Cisco fans at the game as there were Haskell fans.

Cisco's J.V. cheerleaders did a good job of leading the cheering on Cisco's side and it was noticed that Haskell's J.V. did not even have any cheerleaders at the game. Guess they didn't think they would need them.

elite group of ideologies? It appears so.

During this week of special first-amendment recognition, I ask you to consider the blatant hypocrisy of those who decry book banning on the one hand and suppress Christian ideology on the other. These are the very people who threaten the safety of our sacred civil liberties.

WHILE ENROUTE to the game in Haskell, we had to make a small detour in Anson because of the Jones County Fair parade being held in the downtown streets. We didn't get to see much of the parade, just some horses in the distance.

AN ITEM OF interest brought into The Press office Friday morning is being printed in this column because it seems to deserve attention. The item is as follows:

Dear Editor:

This week, bookstores all over the nation are uniting in a special promotion. "Banned Books Week" is the title of this promotion. Spearheaded by the American Booksellers Association, it is designed to make the public aware of volumes that have either been banned or been threatened with banning in our nation's libraries, schools and bookstores. Why does the public need to be aware of these volumes? According to Robert Hale, associate executive director of the ABA, "the result (of book banning) is always and ever the denial of another's freedom to read. It is a very potent form of oppression. In a free society, such oppression and denial of a basic freedom cannot be allowed."

It is odd that bookstores belonging to the Christian Booksellers Association were not asked to participate in this aggressive effort to assert the first amendment's freedom of expression. After all, no other group of booksellers has more need for the freedom of expression promised by the first amendment than Christian booksellers. The books I carry in my bookstore face a banning more serious than that denounced by Mr. Hale and the ABA—more serious because Christian books and their ideas are censored by the very people most vocal in denouncing censorship.

Consider these facts:

1. Many religious bestsellers consistently outsell general bestsellers, often by a 3 to 1 margin, yet these books are banned from the national bestseller lists.
2. The evangelical Christian book-selling industry is a billion dollar per year industry, yet Christian books are banned from magazine and newspaper book review columns.
3. One-third of all books commercially sold are Christian books, yet if they gain entrance at all into secular bookstores, they are banished to the back of the store where they end up in a nebulous section titled "Religion and Philosophy."
4. Christian books are in no danger of being banned from public and school library shelves since they rarely are allowed on those shelves in the first place.

As you can see, Christian books suffer "a potent form of oppression" in our society, and those responsible for their suppression are denying others their constitutional right to read them. (As Mr. Hale says, "Books and ideas aren't dangerous, but information restraints on a free people are.") Ironically, those who ban Christian ideas are the objective, give-all-sides-an-equal-voice media, and several groups masquerading as champions of pluralism and defenders at the top of their lungs, they relegate Christian books and ideas to the back of the bus. Is the first amendment now only applicable to an

The American Association of Retired Persons, the nation's largest retiree organization, is now celebrating its 25th anniversary with a number of national and local activities, according to Walter Knowlden, President of Cisco Chapter #2447.

In honor of the anniversary and the Association's founder, Dr. Ethel Percy Andrus, Chapter #2447 will be making lap robes for the Nursing Home, collecting and distributing food staples for the needy, and offering tax counseling for the elderly.

According to Mr. Knowlden, the local chapter is one of more than 3,200 AARP chapters throughout the nation which sponsor a wide range of community public service programs; work to influence the enactment of local, state and national legislation of benefit to older Americans; and acquaint Association members and other older citizens with the programs and services offered by the national organization.

Among the programs offered by Chapter #2447 are: Driver Improvement Courses, Health Education, Local, State and National Legislative reports, Tax Counseling. The Chapter meets the 3rd Thursday each month at the Corral Room, Mr. Knowlden said.

Founded in 1958, AARP now has nearly 15 million members and continues to grow at a rate of more than 1,000 members per day. There are more than 645,000 members in Texas. The Association encourages older Americans to remain active in community and public affairs, provides them with legislative representation at all levels of government, and sponsors a number of services to help them stretch retirement incomes. It also publishes magazines and other

AARP Is Celebrating Its 25th Anniversary

Numerous Positions Open In Girl Scouts Program

by Wanda Hallmark

Ladies, do you ever feel as though there should be more to your life? Do you want to make an impression on a girl's life so that it will help her to make the right decisions all through her life? Do you want to have more fun? Then you are needed in Girl Scouts!

There are numerous positions to be filled in Cisco's Girl Scout Program. The positions don't take much of your time. Areas needed to be filled are Troop Consultant, Associate Chairman, Secretary, Nominating Committee, Restoration Committee, Fund Driving Committee, Finance Chairman and most of all Troop Leaders.

There is also a need for a Troop Organizer in each school. Training is available. Unfortunately, it will not be a good idea to start up the troop meetings until all offices have been filled. So, we need these positions filled as soon as possible.

A meeting was held on Tuesday, September 6, to start the Girl Scouts back up again in Cisco. The Girl Scout House is in an unusable state after it burned August 23 but plans are in the making to keep the Organization going in our town. Those in attendance were Donna Fincher, Executive Director of Girl Scouting in Brownwood, Claudia Hander and Brenda

Cisco needs to depend on its own citizens to keep the Girl Scouts going, not on the Brownwood Council. There are people in Cisco who are the perfect ones for this Organization.

Right now, several little girls are waiting to go to their first meeting. They are anxious to have a "whing-ding good time".

Cisco needs people who will say "I'm going to do something for Girl Scouts!" This saying has been lost & now it needs to be back!! Don't say you can't, because you can!

Do you read the newspapers or magazines and see articles written on bad things about young girls and think would it be different if? The difference could be Girl Scouts in their life.

There will be another meeting about the Girl Scouts on October 4. Mark it on your calendar.

If you want more information of if you are interested in volunteering for a position in Girl Scouts call Betty McGrew at 442-1051 or Donna Fincher at 915-646-1516.

Loyal Lundstrom Leaves For Huntsville Thursday

Loyal Lundstrom, 60-year old Ciscoan who was given a life sentence in 91st District Court last Tuesday after a 11-day trial on charges of murdering his wife, left Thursday for Huntsville and the Texas Department of Corrections, according to Sheriff Johnny Morren.

Sheriff's personnel took Lundstrom to Abilene to meet a prison bus that was scheduled to leave there about 8:30 a.m.

Six days were used by state and defense attorneys to select the jury that found Lundstrom guilty.

$782 Is Contributed To Drive

The annual Labor Day Muscular Dystrophy Drive was a huge success in Cisco. A total of $782 was contributed.

Johnny and Kathy Jarvis, husband and wife team answered the phones and collected money during the telethon. They were at the Chamber of Commerce office on Conrad Hilton Avenue.

The Cisco Volunteer Fire Department headed up the local drive.

Johnny, co-ordinator in this year's telethon was happy with the results. Kathy said they received about 30 calls.

CHS Junior Varsity Loses To Haskell Thursday

Cisco High School's Junior Varsity Lobos lost their second game of the season Thursday night in Haskell where they were scalped by the Indians 44-0.

Haskell scored once in the first quarter, three times in the second quarter and twice in the fourth quarter. Cisco was unable to put any points on the scoreboard.

Haskell drove the ball downhill and crossed the goal line in the first quarter, but the play was called back because of a penalty. Five seconds later, Haskell made the touchdown good. A try for two extra points was stopped by Cisco, giving Haskell a 6-0 lead with 4:57 left in the first quarter.

A 65-yard touchdown run by Haskell upped their score to 12-0 in the second quarter. A run for two extra points made the score 14-0.

The same Haskell back turned in a 75-yard the jury heard Judge Jim Wright's charge and arguments by attorneys.

The jury was out about an hour before Foreman Bruce Stovall told the judge they had reached the guilty verdict. After deliberating another 50 minutes, the jury voted a life sentence. Judge Wright, in pronouncing the sentence, noted that the death of Doris Lundstrom was with a deadly weapon, which meant that Lundstrom would have to serve at least 20 years before being considered for parole.

After the verdict was read, Defense Attorney Bill Hart of Eastland said that "we will appeal the verdict." In as understood that the defense has 10 days in which to file formal notice of appeal.

In March, 1968, Lundstrom went to prison in Minnesota after his conviction in the death of his first wife, Helen. He was released in November, 1969, after the Minnesota Supreme Court overturned the conviction on grounds that criminal intent was not shown. The case was not re-tried.

The Lundstroms owned and operated the Cisco Motel, a bus station and a tombstone monument business for more than 10 years before her slaying last March 3rd.

form, stop by the Chamber of Commerce on Conrad Hilton Ave. and pick one up. Anyone in the 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th or 6th grade is eligible to play. There will also be cheerleaders for each team. There will be a registration fee of $10.00 for one child or a family for $15.00. This money will help off set the cost of the shirts and the trophies.

touchdown run later in the same quarter. A pass was completed for the extra two points making the score 22-0 with 5:22 left in the first half.

With 1:10 left in the half, a Haskell pass to the end zone netted six more points and a handoff got the two extra. The half-time score was 30-0, in favor of Haskell.

During the third quarter, Cisco's defense seemed to tighten up a little and play better ball. They did a pretty good job of defending against Haskell's passing attacks. They prevented Haskell from scoring any points in the third quarter.

In the final quarter of play, Haskell took possession of the ball following fourth down at Cisco's 38-yard line. Five plays later, the Haskell quarterback made an 11-yard touchdown run. The try for two extra points was no good, making the score 36-0 with 4:42 left in the game.

Cisco received the ensuing kick and seemed as though they might put some points on the scoreboard following a 15-yard punt return by Steve Abbott. A completed pass from Cisco quarterback John Gonzales to Dusty Deitiker netted 32 yards, placing the ball on Haskell's 30-yard line. However, two plays later a Cisco pass was intercepted by Haskell and returned 80 yards for their final touchdown. A handoff for two extra points was good, making the final score 44-0 with 4:00 minutes left in the game.

Despite the indications of the score, Cisco had some good offensive plays made by Danny Kearney, James Berry, John Gonzales and Dusty Deitiker.

The Cisco J.V. will have a free week this next Thursday, but will resume play on September 22 in Cisco against Winters.

(ED.NOTE: An Eastland Countian, one of many enthusiastic athletic supporting parents, shares this column from the Saturday, Sept. 3, edition of the Wichita Falls Record-News, written by Nick Gholson)

Little Johnny was a team man.

He was the first on his feet every time his team scored a touchdown. It was about the only time Johnny ever got off the bench.

In fact, Johnny had never been on the field and the season had only one game remaining, the biggest game of the season with the championship on the line. Johnny told his coach that his dad was getting off work at the plant early and would be in the stands. The coach told Johnny he wouldn't be starting, of course, but he'd make sure he got him into the game.

It was near the end of the first half and the score was tied 7-7. Johnny got off the bench, walked over to the coach and with eager eyes asked "Now coach, now, can I go in?"

"No," the coach told him. "The game is too close right now."

Johnny's team had taken an 8-point lead and had the ball with just two minutes to go when the rose-cheeked little boy approached his coach again. "Now, coach, can I go in now?" he asked. "No, Johnny," the coach answered. "We're only ahead by eight points."

The game soon ended and Johnny was slapping all of his teammates on the back telling them what a good game it was. All during the celebration, he was holding back the tears. Johnny would't dare let his friends see him cry, but on the inside he was crying. His dad sat angrily in the stands, but Johnny's eyes knew better than to glance that way.

Was winning worth it? Wichita Falls Athletic Director Bill Jeter told a similar story when he met with all his coaches just a few weeks back. Jeter doesn't want what happened to Johnny to ever happen again in Wichita Falls, at least on the junior high level.

And Jeter isn't just talking. He has done something to see that all the Johnny's get a chance to play. This year all city seventh grade games will be played in 10-minute quarters, instead of six, and the eighth grade games will be 12-minute ones, instead of eight.

And Jeter has told all junior high coaches to pull their starters at the end of the first quarter and use second-team players or other players on the team who haven't played will be used the first five minutes of the third quarter. At the end of every game, all of the players will have been on the field.

We old former benchwarmers applaud such a move. Athletics at this level is for the kids, not the coaches.

Jeter agrees. "I know all coaches want to win, but that can get unhealthy at this level. I told our junior high coaches that this (winning) is not their job," he said. "Their job is to develop good, positive attitudes in kids and teach good, sound fundamentals to the best of their abilities.

"I believe athletics are good for kids and it's truer now than at any other time in our history," Jeter added. "I won't be satisfied until every kid in our schools is competing in some kind of athletics."

And moves such as the one Jeter has made in our junior highs is a step in that direction. Sometimes winning is just not worth it.

Julia Worthy

Jiminy!

Why Walt Disney had to choose the cricket to present as such an engaging little critter, I do not know.

It is unbecoming to speak ill of the dead, and I really don't mean to low-rate ol' Walt, but I feel pretty ill about some of his ideas about our animal and insect "friends."

Especially, the cricket. Given a choice between kicking fourteen rattlesnakes off the porch every morning and sweeping away fourteen thousand crickets, I'll take the rattlesnakes every time.

A fellow has a chance to get rid of the rattlesnakes, even if he decides to do it the hard way with a twenty-two instead of a four-ten.

Mr. Webster says the cricket is "a leaping insect related to the grasshoppers." Mrs. Worthy says much more than that, but Mr. O'Brien can't put in a family newspaper, so I'll have to forego the syllabication of some of the more pungent comments I'd like to make about this relative of the grasshopper.

Besides the nuisance value of the massed of stinking crickets to be swept from sidewalk to gutter, what about being dive-bombed by these unwelcome insects? They don't just leap—they fly. Those wings propel.

They have propelled their possessors into my hair, into my coffee, and (ultimate intrusion) into my bathtub. If anyone had told me I ever would gloat over drowning insects while I viciously and gleefully muttered four-letter words, I would have been insulted as I do not consider myself a basically four-letter-word person.

However, the Great Cricket Invasion, an annual

"I Can Cope," a program for individuals with cancer, and their families and friends will be held Monday, Sept. 19, at 7 p.m. in the First National Bank Conference Room in Cisco. The program will be for one night only rather than the eight night course as was originally reported.

The program will be "Coping With Cancer," co-sponsored by The American Cancer Society and Upjohn Healthcare Services. There will be no fees, according to Ima Gene Hurst, R.N., Service Director for Upjohn Healthcare, Abilene.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Ms. Hurst at Upjohn Healthcare Services, 720 Pine, Suite 3, Abilene, Texas 79601, phone 915-677-7842.

event, I understand, has brought forth a new slant on language appreciation. The Greeks "had a word for it," but the Anglo-Saxons had the bywords!

But I can't use any more words right now—I have to check on such dead crickets, dying crickets, and live crickets as happened to pile up in front of The Pizza House last night.

COMMUNITY EDUCATION PROGRAM

Public school students, parents and others will "hear it the way it is" when inmates from the Texas Department of Correction visit Eastland next week.

Told by the men who lived it and who are now paying the penalty, countians will hear vivid detail the results of drug abuse and crime.

Sheriff John Morren and the Eastland County Sheriff's Department are handling the arrangements for the appearance here of three convicts from Huntsville who are now dedicated to warning young people to help them keep from making similar mistakes.

The present schedule calls for the convicts to speak Ranger High School at 8:30 a.m., Wednesday, Sept. 14; at Eastland High School at 10 a.m.; and at Cisco High School at 1 p.m.

Other schools will be invited to attend these sessions and parents and interested persons are urged to attend any of all of the sessions. The convicts will have lunch at the Eastland High School cafeterias, and will be available for "rap sessions" at other times. Persons interested in arranging other appearances should contact Sheriff Morren to see if details can be worked out, he said.

A similar program was held in Eastland County in the mid-1960's and excellent results were reported from that program.

"I got hooked on drugs as a young teenager, and the habit finally controlled my life. I eventually stole to support my habit, and burglary put me in prison for a five year sentence. The excitement and adventure of experimenting with drugs is not worth the price I am paying today, and I would say to you, 'Stop now and don't sell your very soul for a temporary high or escape that will bring you and your family nothing but grief.'"

This is the basic message of a 19 year old inmate serving time in the Texas Department of Corrections to an assembly of high school students. Through the Community Education Program, inmates have delivered their message to young people all over the State in an effort to stem drug abuse and juvenile crime.

"Operation Kick-It" was established through the Governor's Criminal

Convicts Due Here This Week

Justice Council in May, 1970. A panel of three to five inmates was formed to travel throughout Texas to tell their life stories in an effort to educate, warn and inform the public, specifically teenagers, about the dangers and consequences involved in the illicit use of drugs. In 1971, a second panel was formed in order to meet the demand of bookings, so great was the public acceptance of this program. The format was further expanded in 1975, and the program's name was changed to the Community Education Program.

"Community Education Program (CEP) panels will appear anywhere in the State they are invited," states George Lively, Project Administrator. "We traveled over 50,000 miles during 1975, and averaged five programs a day on our week long tours. During the first quarter of the year, the panelists spoke to over 35,000 young persons in 95 appearances, and they will speak to between 100,000 and 125,000 in a full year."

Primarily, the panels appear before junior and senior high school assemblies, but they also speak to church groups, civic organizations, drug abuse workshops, juvenile institutions, and halfway house residents. Additionally, the panels are regularly interviewed by the news media wherever they travel, and they have appeared on numerous TV shows.

The program format, originally designed as a formal assembly presentation, has been expanded to include small group or "rap" sessions. The "rap" sessions are generally in the form of question and answer. These informal sessions have added a credibility factor to the presentation at the one-to-one level that has proven very valuable in communicating with young people. Also available are audio visual aids, in the form of a 35mm slide presentation and a 16mm movie, which are used to give the program greater visual impact.

Panel members are chosen from the inmate population of the Ferguson Unit, which houses male first offenders between the ages of 17 and 21; the average age of those chosen is 19. Inmates wanting to participate submit an application; an intensive series of interviews by the CEP staff, the unit warden and the Bureau of Classification follows before specific inmates are chosen. Once accepted into the program, an inmate is on a probationary status until he proves himself.

"We are looking for inmates who are good security risks, potential public speakers, and are basically honest and sincere," comments Lively. "We don't expect a man to be a polished speaker; we can train him to speak. We want inmates who care that other young people don't have to come to prison because of the same mistakes they have made."

Inmates chosen for the panels go through a six week to two month training and therapy session before they travel. Prospective panelists view and discuss films on various drugs to better understand drug abuse. "Role playing" is the primary method used in the therapy sessions. This helps the panelist to understand and combat his own weaknesses, as well as giving him insight as to what motivates other people. This process better prepares him for small group discussions.

Finally, the supervisors work with the panelists in the area of public speaking. Each inmate begins by writing out his own autobiography and thoughts on drugs — what he wants to say to other young people. What panelists say to their audiences is strictly their own. They are helped with their delivery, but are encouraged to say it their way.

Inmates who participate in this program receive no special privileges in prison life or in parole consideration. About 50 percent of the panelists are paroled at the time of their first consideration. This is about the average for all inmates on the Ferguson Unit.

When panelists are traveling, they spend their nights in city or county jails wherever their itinerary takes them. They do get "freeworld" meals.

"The number of inmates involved in this program is by necessity small since the primary goal is public education," notes Mr. Lively. "But, we feel the inmates that have participated in this program have benefited greatly from their experience." To illustrate this, Lively cites that of the panelists that have been in the program, less than fifteen percent have returned to TDC.

On the other hand, measurement of success among the young people of Texas is more difficult. However, educators and school administrators throughout the State have viewed the program as a success. A quote from Mr. Earl Tom Keel, Director of Secondary Education in Grand Prairie, — "We think it has been the most effective drug education program we have ever used." — is typical of the responses.

Nine Members Of Nelms Family Join Auxiliary

Nine Nelms sisters were installed into the Purple Heart Auxiliary of the D.A.V. at the American Legion Hall in Cisco recently. Louise Nelms of Fallowbrook, California installed the family members. A number of them came from some distance.

The ceremony honored their brother, Elvis Nelms, a former Cisco resident, served in the Army in Europe during World War II. He was awarded the Purple Heart twice, the Bronze Star once, and other medals.

DAR Devotes Whole Week To Constitution

On September 17, 1787, Congress adopted the Constitution of the United States. 168 years later, the National Society DAR, originated the idea of devoting a whole week, each year, to the Constitution, beginning September 17.

This undertaking led to the approval, by Congress, of a resolution authorizing the President to designate "Constitution Week" as we observe it today.

Everyone who enjoys the privilege and protection of this document should pause long enough to review its meaning. Why was it framed? What events led to its adoption?

A bit of history is in order during this review; also some current happenings. Let's be aware that there are some who wish to weaken it, or destroy it.

The preamble states the purpose of our Constitution: "We the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union—"

A perfect union would insure justice, domestic tranquility and proper defense plus all the other freedoms we enjoy. Under this protection Americans have been able to show the greatest progress in the world and enjoy the greatest freedom before known to mankind.

The Constitution is the corner stone of our government. It contains the treasures which have made the building possible. Do you appreciate what it means to Chief Guthrie reported that the Department is still in the "red" since the mishap with the fire truck last Tuesday.

The carnival will be back in Cisco again, sponsored by the Fire Department. Additional information will be available later on this month.

Fire Dept. Is Kept Busy During Week

A grass fire in the area of the Harris Dairy, some seven miles southwest of Cisco, was brought under control by Cisco and Rising Star firemen late Tuesday, according to Fire Chief C.W. Guthrie.

The fire broke out when a pickup truck caught fire in a dry grassy area. Commissioner C.B. (Runt) Dill of Precinct 4 sent a road maintainer to the scene to help control the blaze.

Chief Guthrie said the help of the maintainer contributed substantially to controlling the fire. The Cisco department's 1941 fire truck "burned up" its engine during the afternoon, and both Cisco and Rising Star trucks had tire problems, Mr. Guthrie added.

Firemen left at 1:30 p.m. to fight the fire and returned at 8:30 p.m.

Firemen had to return on Wednesday, as another fire broke out in the same area.

On Thursday, firemen from Cisco and Putnam responded to 11 fires on the Old Abilene Highway between Cisco and Putnam. The fires were caused by an East bound train. The train was stopped in Eastland and checked to prevent more fires. The firemen had to make 4 trips starting at 12:40 p.m. to finally get the fires put out.

October 6 Is Deadline For Lundstrom Appeal

Thursday, Oct. 6 presumably is deadline day for filing of an appeal by Loyal Lundstrom, convicted of murder in 91st District Court Tuesday.

He was sentenced to life in prison on that date, Sept. 6, and his attorney indicated that an appeal will be filed in the case.

Such an appeal would be made direct to the 11th Court of Appeals.

Under earlier procedure, convicted defendants had ten days to file a motion for a new trial, before sentencing. Such request for a new trial originally was a prerequisite for an appeal filing. It no longer is, authorities report.

Lundstrom was taken to Abilene Thursday by County Sheriff John Morren where he was transferred to a Texas Department of Corrections bus for delivery to Huntsville.

House Of Representatives

Jim Parker-District 08

Many of the new laws passed during this last session of the Legislature are quietly going into effect this week. Although many of you will be unaware of the new laws, I thought I would explain some of the legislation effecting particular groups of people.

An issue which we have read about often in the past few years and which effects many of us, either directly or indirectly, is nursing homes. Much of the nursing home publicity has been based on horror stories relating to events which have taken place in a few of the more disreputable homes. While these particular homes make up a very small percentage of the homes in Texas, the fact that some of the neglected patients who died could have been members of our family asks everyone take special note of any atrocity hoping to hear of punishments of penalties for the nursing home's neglect. Such was the case in Texas City where a nursing home scandal a couple of years ago caused much furor. As a result of the publicity more stringent regulation was required by the Legislature. I might add, too, that because of the bad publicity created by the events in this case, both the Texas Department of Health and the Texas Department of Human Resources (DHR) have strengthened regulations and requirements for certifications simply through policy changes made within each agency.

The changes mandated by the Legislature because of the and other such cases go into effect this week.

On new measure requires the Health Department to make two unannounced inspections of every nursing home each year. If any problems are found, a "superior" rating (which can be used by the home in their advertisements) would be taken away for a 12 month period. Prior to the new law, a nursing home could lose its "superior" rating only if problems were found during its annual inspection.

Along the same line, there is now a penalty for a Health Department official who warns a nursing home from making a correction of any deficiency simply because they had been made aware that an inspection was about to take place.

The Legislature also created a penalty for any employer who harassed or fired a nursing home employee who had reported a home for substandard care of for not meeting safety requirements.

While at first glance these legislative changes may not seem to be significant, I believe that they will be beneficial to nursing home patients.

The Health Department and Department of Human Resources have made some changes through their policy-making procedures too. In the very near future DHR will announce stricter penalties for nursing homes that continue to fall out of compliance again and again. All of these changes, both in Legislation and in policy, should help to make nursing homes a safer and healthier place for the elderly and infirm. While other changes may remain to be made, at least a start has been made which should make us as family members of patient or as future residents ourselves feel confident in the direction Texas is taking in regard to regulation of nursing homes.

 The Fair will be held northwest of Eastland near the Eastland Lake on FM 3101 at the livestock show grounds. Some booth space is still available. Those interested should contact Betty Cross or Mr. and Mrs. Don Underwood.
 A carnival will offer family fun each night. A downtown parade will begin at 10:00 a.m. Saturday, October first. The Parade and carnival are sponsored by the Eastland Chamber of Commerce.
 Everyone is invited to a free meal at the fair grounds from eleven to one-thirty after the parade. The meal will be furnished by Eastland and Ranger Savings.

Stewart's Tire Store has opened in a new location on Highway 36 East, just 1.1 miles from the City Limit sign. Guy and Betty Stewart invite the public to come out and look over their large stock of new and used tires. They will also do a number of service jobs related to tires and welding.

Alergic Folks

Asked To Write

Alergic folks are busy with a letter-writing campaign and they seek help.

In August the Federal Register published a proposed rule that will bar Medicare-Medicaid payment for provocative food testing, food antigen immunotherapy, cytotoxic, provocative neutralization and sublingual testing and treatment.

It is assumed that the entire insurance industry will follow this same pattern.

Dr. Jim Whittington of Fort Worth, and formerly of Eastland County, has obtained a promise from the government that they will block this program of restraint of trade if they receive enough documentation by Sept. 15, 1983.

Persons interested in seeing the program continued may do so by writing:

Health Care Financing Administration
 U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
 P.O. Box 26676
 Baltimore, MD 21207
 Att.: BERC - 231-PN

Copies of the letter should also be mailed to Honorable Marget Heckler (Secretary of HHS, 200 Independence Ave, Washington, D.C. 20201) and to Sens. Tower and Bentsen and to Cong. Charles Stenholm.

A flood of letters is the goal.

TSTA Tips For Parents

What is your goal in your child's education? Is there a better way to achieve it? The Texas State Teachers Association is your partner in helping your child to learn. The following is the third in an eight part series. It focuses on "mathematics."

Math Made Easy

Give your child practical experience using mathematics at home. Mention the size of containers, such as pints of cream and half gallons of milk. Encourage help when you bake, lay carpet or tile, or seed or fertilize the lawn, and allow your child to actually measure ingredients, or areas of quantities of materials.

Use the metric system of measurement to increase the child's knowledge of and proficiency in the use of the metric system.

Before a shopping trip, have your child read newspaper ads and price the cost of items to be purchased. Encourage comparison of prices and quantities marked on containers to determine the best buys.

Allow your child to purchase an item and figure out the change to be received. Other ways to help children apply their growing knowledge of mathematics to practical situations are: (1) letting them double check the addition on grocery tapes; (2) manage allowance; and (3) read thermometers, barometers or even stop watches.

Let them calculate age, weight, height and dimensions, or figure gas purchases and mileage, tolls and other trip expenses.

If your child is having difficulty with multiplication tables, buy or make flash cards and use them on a regular basis. Children will enjoy giving answers they know and will learn more complex problems through drill. Let your child explain the math papers brought home from school and take time to help with correction and understanding of mistakes.

News in Featherston, New Zealand, was submitted to the Hico, Tx., News Review:

A small town is... Featherston, Greytown or Carterton?

-A small town is where you don't have to guess who your enemies are. Your friends tell you.

-A small town is the only place on earth where people past middle age are called by their first names when they saunter down the street.

-A small town is where everybody knows everybody else's car by sight and also where and when it goes.

-A small town is when you get the wrong number, you can talk for 15 minutes anyhow if you want to.

A small town is where the ratio of good people to bad people is something like 100-1.

-A small town is where it is hard for anybody to walk to work for exercise because it takes too long to stop and explain to people in cars who stop and honk and offer a ride.

-A small town is where city folks say there is nothing to do, but those who live here don't have enough nights in the week to make all the meetings and social functions.

-A small town is where everyone becomes a neighbor in cases of need.

-A small town is where businessmen struggle for survival against city stores and shopping centers.

-A small town is where those same businessmen dig deep many times to help with countless fund raising projects.

-A small town is where many teenagers do and then are surprised to learn that their big city peers are saying the same thing.

-A small town, when all is said and done, is a nice place in which to live.

-A small town knows all the news before it is published. They just read it to see if the Wairarapa News got it right.

Security Income

An individual or couple can have some income and still be eligible for supplemental security income (SSI) payments, according to Glyn Hammons, the Social Security district manager in Abilene.

As of July, an individual can now have countable income up to $304.30 a month, while a couple can have up to $456.40 a month.

If a couple have been living apart for more than six months, each person is treated as an individual. If they are living together and only one member qualifies for SSI, a portion of the other person's income is treated as if it were the eligible individual's.

An unmarried child under 18 who is living at home is considered to be receiving a portion of the parents' income. Allowance is made for the parents' work and living expenses, and for other children living in the home.

Plans to Expand Services for Aged Citizens

A study of the Aging Services Programs under the West Central Texas Council of Governments shows detailed plans to assist the elderly across a large region of Texas.

Behind this wide sweep of services lies the idea that Senior Citizens continue to have value to the communities in which they reside.

In a 19 county West-Central-Texas area, which includes Eastland County, 21.1 percent of the people are above 60 years of age. This translates into a census total of 65,376 out of a population of 309,686.

Representing these people on the area Agency Advisory Council are Eastland County Judge Scott Bailey and Lois Elsom of Ranger. Judge Bailey also serves in a state advisory capacity.

The Senior Citizens are generally native-born, hard-working people who have given much to their families and communities. Yet 12,131 out of the 65,376 live in what is called a "below poverty" financial level.

There are numerous reasons for this impactment in poverty by such a large group of the older people. A lot of the situation is connected with the year in which they were born, and their lack of opportunities. It had something to do with the vocations and professions of their families. There has been a tremendous revolution, for example, in agriculture - and just in their lifetimes.

Another economic factor was the drive of an individual's family toward education. Before World War II only about 10 percent of high school graduates attended college, and now around 40 percent attend in the U.S. Before the 1940s a high education for even one member of a family required a tremendous sacrifice. Sometimes it still does.

The cost of raising their own children, in the past, the high cost of their present existence, and the state of their health have all contributed to the financial plight of some senior citizens. Even a wealthy person can be impoverished by one serious illness, with the cost of medical care.

As one elderly man commented: "I'm caught right in the middle. I don't have enough to die on either!" The aged long to be self-sufficient, and generally ask for little. Their needs, however, are great - especially if they are physically disabled and have no families to care for them.

The West Central Texas Council of Governments oversees a number of on-going projects, and more are planned for the future. In Eastland County the first thing that comes to mind is the Senior Citizens Meals Program, which is sponsored by Cisco Junior College and Ranger Junior College.

This program covers a much wider range of activities than the luncheons. It also includes crafts, recreation and educational programs for seniors.

Already the WTCG has defined some objectives for the years 1984 and 1985. For 1984, the plans are to expand nutrition and supportive services in at least five counties to serve an additional 200 older people. Volunteer programs will be developed in at least three counties to provide in-home services to 45 older persons.

An Emergency Response System will be expanded to 70 units. These will be located in the homes of older persons in at least five counties. An effort will also be made to strengthen and expand programs of outreach, telephone reassurance, postal alert, recreation and volunteerism in at least four counties.

It is also hoped to develop and implement educational programs on crime prevention and legal information to serve at least 250 persons in six counties.

The best part about these projects is that they are going right into effect, and should be completed by September 30, 1984. There will be others for 1985, including an expansion of employment services for senior citizens.

These plans were formulated as a result of state and federal legislation, by the Texas Delegates to the 1981 White House Conference on Aging, by participants in State Conferences, and through eight public hearings conducted during April 1983. There will be other meetings and other plans in the future. It will be interesting to see what develops from this concentrated effort.

There have been a few cattle deaths in recent weeks due to prussic acid poisoning.

All cattlemen should be aware that the problem may exist in Johnson grass, Sudan grass, and hybrid sorghums. The problem seems to appear for several days after a shower on drought stressed grass. Prussic acid is also a problem following a frost.

As far as prussic acid poisoning is concerned, the poison acts rapidly and can kill animals within minutes.

In most acute cases, animals become affected within 10-15 minutes after eating toxic material and can die in two to three minutes. Symptoms may include a brief period of stimulation followed by depression and paralysis.

Signs of colic may be present, Stupor (loss of sensibility), difficult breathing and frequent convulsions may result. Death is caused by suffocation since oxygen remains in the blood and is not exchanged to the tissues. This also causes the blood to appear bright red.

Here are some suggestions to avoid such losses from prussic acid poisoning:

1. Observe cattle closely when you put them in new pastures that might contain even a little Johnson grass of sorghum. Some poison cases have occurred in coastal bermuda the contained some Johnson grass.

2. Don't pull cattle off pastures they are now grazing, even overnight unless you have lost some cattle in the pasture.

3. Don't graze new second-growth that springs up after cutting for hay until plants are 18 inches tall.

4. Cattle are less likely to be poisoned by prussic acid if they are filled with hay before being turned into potentially dangerous fields or pastures.

5. Don't feed new cut hay until it is well cured. Wait three days after cutting before baling and don't feed hay for one month after baling.

6. When you do turn cattle into new pastures first turn in one or two less valuable animals and observe for 24 hours before turning rest of herd into pasture.

What to do in case of poisoning:

1. Call your veterinarian immediately. He can usually save the animal if her heart is still beating, but time is important.

2. You can prepare for an emergency by having several bottles of antidote on hand in case you can't get the Veterinarian. First consult your veterinarian about antidote to use and instructions for using it.

3. Puncturing the animal's side does not stop the poisoning, but will relieve pressure so she can breathe easier. If you do this - puncture high on the left side.

4. Do not excite the poisoned animal any more than necessary. Excitement will speed her death since the blood is already low in oxygen.

Thursday, Sept. 15 Is
Hay Show Entry Deadline

Thursday, September 15 is the deadline to enter hay in the Eastland County Hay Show, reminds County Extension Agent DeMarquis Gordon. Entries may be left at any feed store in the county on or before September 13 or delivered to the C&D Feed Store in Eastland by September 15. Anyone who has an entry to be picked up should call the County Extension Office - 629-1093 and a member of the forage committee will pick up the entry.

Only county residents are eligible to enter the hay show, but the hay may be produced anywhere.

Any entry may consist of one bale, regular or large bale. No fee is charged when entire bale is entered. As another option a producer may enter a cross section of a regular bale, 6 to 8 inches in thickness, string tied with a $3.00 fee for testing. If an entry is made from a large bale put a minimum of 3 pounds of hay in a box approximately 6 x 14 x 18 inches with a $3.00 entry fee.

The hay show is an educational event to help producers learn how to produce high quality forage. Gordon says because of the short supply of forage this year it is extremely important for producers to know the quality of hay they are feeding. The hay show is the best way to learn about the quality of your hay.

JOIN A GROWING OUTFIT!

In 1983, the Texas Farm Bureau is 50 years old. From its humble beginnings back in the midst of the Great Depression, the TFB has grown into the largest state Farm Bureau in the nation—more than 300,000 member families.

The Farm Bureau is conducting a statewide membership drive now.

As a farmer or rancher, here's why you should join this growing outfit:

• Speak with an organized voice. Only the strongly organized can be effective with local, state, and national governments. Alone, you are weak. Allied with more than 3.2 million families nationwide, your voice is magnified.

• Improve net farm income. Become active in one of the 12 organized commodity divisions to help solve production, marketing and regulatory problems.

• Help preserve our system of government. Farm Bureau offers citizenship training for our youth and educational programs for young farmers and ranchers.

• Save through economic services. Members enjoy numerous benefits that are available only through group association—including insurance, tires, batteries and tillage tools.

RETIRING OR MOVING?

At least 18 per cent of the people in America will move this year. And many of you are thinking about retiring. These decisions are a part of your life and will affect at least one out of every five of your family and friends soon.

When making your retiring and moving decisions you'll soon discover that you've really accumulated a lot of possessions in the last few years. And you'll quickly see that it will be very difficult, time consuming and quite expensive to haul your possessions across the country or even around town.

But, you can turn these accumulated possessions into quick cash by holding an auction. A well planned auction can cash out your entire household in just a few short hours. And, I provide complete auction service so you don't have to worry about a single detail.

It's a whole lot easier to have an auction and put cash in your wallet than it is to put your piano, refrigerator & hide a bed in a truck. And remember, when it comes to buying or selling AUCTION'S BEST (SM).

Reflections In Perspective

I.W. Ussery

Liege, Belgium, in spite of its being in a highly industrialized area is a lovely city. I was quite favourably impressed with the place the first time I visited there, and my opinion was never changed. Although the general climate is somewhat humid, and there is a high rate of rainfall, the industrious, proud citizens of the city keep it remarkably clean. Liege is best known in the United States as the home of Fabrique Nationale d'Armes de Guerre, which is the parent company of the American firm of Browning Arms Corporation. Although we think of Liege as the base of the firm, its factory is actually at Herstal, five miles outside Liege.

The principal franchised distributor of the products of "F.N.", as the arms manufacturer is known worldwide has its office and warehouses in Liege, from whence they have distributed firearms throughout the world since 1870. It was on an appointment with the distributor that I made my first...and many subsequent...visit to Liege.

Being totally unfamiliar with the city on my first visit, I had asked the firm to arrange accommodations for me during my brief stay in Liege. Although I had booked passage on an airline flight from Brussels to Liege, I learned upon landing in Brussels and checking with the airline that the flight for that day had been cancelled. Quite a frequent occurrence, I learned later. So I took the railway from Brussels to Liege, a non-stop journey of just over an hour and a very pleasant trip it was.

At the railway station in Liege I asked the driver of a waiting taxi to please take me to "le Hotel Clu d'Or". With a tip of his cap, and a cheerful "Mai oui, m'sieur. Voila!". We were on our way to the hotel with a most un-hotel-like name.

Straight along the river to the heart of the city, and a sharp turn to the left up a cobblestone paved street which was barely wide enough for a single vehicle, and up a hill so steep that I was held to the back of the seat during the ascent; and with another cheerful "Voila!" I knew that, with the door's having been snapped open by the driver that we were either at said hotel...or it was time to change taxis. When the driver placed my bags beside the gate in the high brick wall, and pressed a button in the wall I suspected that we were indeed at our destination.

A uniformed doorman opened the garden door, picked up my bags, and with a bow and a sweep of his arm indicated that we were to proceed inside to a building that looked more than anything else like the mansion of an extremely well-to-do potentate. With his "Voila!", we proceeded down the stone-paved walkway the few yards to the ornate, studded oaken door which, just before we hit it head-on was opened by a maid.

At the end of the entrance foyer, and at the foot of a winding stairway was the reception desk. Yes, M'sieu was expected. Indeed, reservations had been made. And would M'sieu be so kind as to affix his signature to the guest register? M'sieu, still feeling that he was trespassing on some baronial estate did just that, whereupon the waiting doorman indicated that I was to follow him up the stairway. I couldn't bring myself to disregard a suggestion made by a man in such a resplendent uniform. And besides that, he had my bags. Upon reaching my room, the doorman explained that my key would not only open the door of my room, but would also open the garden gate! In case I just happened to be out past the hour of nine, I would find the gate locked. But no problem. The key would let me in. It would also open the entrance door, just in case that was also locked. Quite security conscious, were the Belgians of Liege.

Although a bit small, by western standards, the room was very comfortable, well-appointed, and tastefully furnished. Some of the furniture appeared that they would bring a premium ransom at an antique auction.

I called the man with whom I had the appointment for the following morning (it was about mid-afternoon when I reached the Clu d'Or). He inquired of my health, and was the journey tiring? And would it be convenient for me to have dinner with him at my hotel at twenty hundred hours? (The majority of the Europeans use the 24-hour clock in calling time...what he meant was eight o'clock that evening). I could, indeed, and would look forward to it. And that gave me time to unpack my bag, and to take a stroll down the hill for a bit of sightseeing.

The dinner was delightful, and in the course of the meal my host informed me that the restaurant of Le Clu d'Or was quite famous as an eating place. But it was not an eating place which attracted a lot of street traffic. One would have the impression that food was served only to a clientele made up of people who had made advance reservations. It was never crowded. And I had the distinct feeling that to order a simple hamburger would result in immediate eviction from the premises.

It was also learned that the hotel was indeed a baronial estate. It was the "manor house" of a vast estate along the river which flowed past the foot of the hill and which was overlooked from the castle. Built, as I best recall, sometime in the thirteenth or fourteenth century, the mansion had withstood countless wars, having been restored after each war.

On the following day I returned to the hotel at an hour well past mid-afternoon, relaxed in my room for awhile, and strolled down the stairs and to the restaurant in the back more to enjoy the view of the city than anything else. I was the only guest, it seemed. That meant that there were eleven vacant rooms, and I had the feeling that there was at least one ghost in each of those eleven rooms. A quiet, restful hotel, though.

Having tried to count the churches which could be seen from the windows of the restaurant (I counted 27, but cannot be certain that I didn't miss one or two), I just sat there and tried to savour the history of the place. My reverie was interrupted by a conversation behind me. Without turning, I could detect that another American was there, and that he was having some difficulty getting through to the bar-tender. A small bar was situated against the wall.

Turning slightly, I was able to determine that the American was trying to get across to the barman that he was in dire need of a jigger or two of "Old Granddad", over ice, with water on the side. And although I suspect the barman understood English perfectly, it was his day to speak French and nothing else. The American was by no means in his cups. He was only suffering from a thirst that could be quenched only with a shot of genuine American whiskey...with water on the side.

Rising from my chair, I asked the newcomer if perhaps I could help him. I could, indeed. I repeated his order, in English, confirmed that I had understood his wish, and conveyed it in my faltering French to the barman. That worthy was deeply grateful, and with the ubiquitous "Voila!" proceeded to fill the man's order. I invited him to join me at my table while he took his libation.

The conversation opened, at the table, with something like this: "I am very grateful for your help. And you speak very good English." "Thank you". "By the way; where did you learn to speak English?" It was my turn, now, so I lowered the boom on him with "In Texas, southwestern United States where I was born and brought up". He almost fell from his chair.

Turned out that he was a sporting goods dealer from Wisconsin and was in Liege...for the first time ever to be outside the U.S....working on a deal with Fabrique Nationale. Charming fellow, but totally lost. How he reached the hotel remains a mystery to me, except that his reservations had been arranged by the same people as those who made mine.

Lights From The Christian World

by Josephine Cleveland

A pastor shared this story. "I learned when we were processing the legal papers to adopt our daughter that the child has the right to reject the parents but we could never break the relationship. We were told that we must be willing to love the child and help him always. We could disown our natural son but not our adopted child."

child came into our house she knew she had the freedom to either use the front door or the back door. If she saw the cake dish she could lift the cover and take a piece. She had free access to it. We gave her "rights".

As the pastor spoke I was reminded that we can be adopted into the family of God. We can chose to reject Christ, the Savior. He will never reject us. My Heavenly Father gives us "rights" and all are to help us to be a wholesome person in body, mind and spirit.

"The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the sons of God: And if children, then heirs: heirs of God, and joint heirs with Christ." Romans 8:17.

Countians Plan Visit To D.A. Eysen

A number of Eastland Countians are planning to visit with Stephens/Young County District Attorney Tim Eysen, who officially began his new duties for that district this week.

Eysen had been serving as assistant D.A. until he fulfilled his residency requirements.

Locals here plan to discuss with him the re-trying of a Graham man who was charged with four counts of involuntary manslaughter in last fall's traffic deaths of four Eastland County teenagers. A jury acquitted the defendant on one charge, ruling he was not intoxicated. Defense attorneys claim it would put the man in double jeopardy to try him on any of the other three charges since the intoxication issue has been decided by a jury.

The countians hold that there were witnesses and evidence which were not introduced in the first trial, which could be used in other trials.

A number have indicated that they are writing Eysen asking his consideration of the other counts.

Apparently one of his first decisions will be whether or not to re-try the man.

Senior Citizens Nutrition Menu

There is a fad that states if you are a number 10 you are among the elite because you are trim, beautiful and personable. But number 4 could be far more conducive to achieving nutritional fitness.

Dr. Paul Lachance, Professor of Nutrition and Food Science at Rutgers University states the majority of Americans eat equal proportions from each of the four groups of food, thereby creating nutritional problems.

To develop sound nutrition, he suggests we adopt a new approach and eat twice the proportion of fruits and vegetables, and cereal grain foods as we do milk and milk products, and high-protein foods.

"The whole idea of sound nutrition is to approach a good balance of nutrients and roughage while at the same time keeping a reasonable calorie count.

His advice is to take off your clothes, weigh yourself, then stand sideways and look at your profile in the mirror. His assessment is that if you look fat, you are fat unless, of course, you are pregnant. But he tells us that we should be grateful that the major sources of calories in our diet are in our own control, and we can decrease or increase our intake as we see fit.

The programs for the past week included: The Senior Citizens Band went to Brownwood, to the Heartland Mall, and participated in the "Salute To Senior Citizens" program; Viola Payne, Ella White and Lean Brown presented a musical program with Mrs. Payne playing the violin and Mrs. Brown at the piano. Mrs. White sang several songs during the program. Dinner music by Mildred Johnston.

The menu for the coming week are:

MONDAY: Chicken salad, tomato-lettuce salad, golden potatoes, strawberry cake, bread, butter and drink.

WEDNESDAY: Chili with beans, potato salad, coleslaw, sliced onions, jello with topping, cornbread, butter and drink.

FRIDAY: Oven fried chicken, cauliflower, english peas with cheese salad, fruited jello, bread, butter and drink.

United States has been very important too. Did you know that in God's sight every person on earth is special and important? That's the subject of the Rev. Wallace Schulz's message "You Are Important to God" on The Lutheran Hour. Hear it Sunday on radio station KERC in Eastland at 12:30 p.m. Mission Festival Service at Our Savior Lutheran Church in Abilene starts at 1:00 p.m. with Guest Pastor Rev. DR. NORMAN Wallace began his 10th year at the helm of Cisco Junior College as the 1983-84 school year began this month. The college has made good progress during the decade and the outlook for the current year is the best ever, college officials report. Dr. Wallace is doing a fine job.

During his years as a college administrator, Dr. Wallace reports that he has concluded that 99.9 per cent of young people are good folks... He made a talk about CJC at the Cisco Lions Club at noon Wednesday. You can read about it elsewhere.

THE SCHOOL YEAR can move on now that the annual soap sudsing in the outdoor water fountain near the CJC library has taken place. Students pour soap powder into the fountain at least once a year, and two or three feet of pure suds are produced. Usually, a coed or two gets thrown into the mixture.

College officials always go out, look it over, shake their heads and make like it's a big deal, our scouts report. This act they put on lets students know that the incident has been duly noticed. Everybody has a good time, even the officials, we suspect.

TWO CISCO golf teams took part in the annual Labor Day weekend partnership tournament at Brownwood. Ralph Glenn and Bobby Smith played as did George Owens and Delbert Schaefer. Neither team had anything good to report... The Abilene TV station that took part in the national muscular dystrophy benefit last weekend recognized the Cisco High School pep squad for collecting $240... Diana Frailey, who teaches school near Tulsa, Okla., spent last weekend here with her mother, Mr. Wilma Waters. She formerly was a member of the CJC faculty.

THE CISCO Post Office flag was to fly at half mast through Friday as a part of the nation's protest of the Russians' shooting down the Korean passenger plane last week... Guess we can all thank the newspaper delivery folks like Morgan Fleming (Abilene Reporter-News) for a continuing supply of rubber bands. Everybody we know saves them and, as a result, always has one on hand when and if needed... City Manager Mike Moore reports that he expects to hear before the September 13 City Council meeting from the Attorney General's office in a proposed settlement of the suit against the city in the sewage matter.

JURORS IN THE Lundstrom murder case that ended last Tuesday were paid $6 per day and most of them got in 11 days... Bruce Stovall of Cisco was selected by the jury as their foreman. He was quoted as saying only one vote was necessary for a guilty verdict and for the punishment phase... Expenses of the trial will be paid by the county.

Understand there was substantial insurance policy on the life of Doris Lundstrom. The company ruled after her murder that they would not pay it until after the trial as Loyal Lundstrom was the beneficiary. If convicted, the company said, the money will go to the Lundstrom children. When he heard this, Lundstrom signed a waiver and the company sent their check to the children... Permanent custody of the children is expected to be awarded to the children's grandfather, Fred Oehke, of San Antonio, who was given temporary guardianship after the murder case was filed... The Cisco Motel, which consists of 13 units and the owner's apartment, is for sale with the net proceeds to go to the children, we understand.

DR. CHIEF Brown was afoot at the Lions Club last Wednesday noon and had to hitchhike a ride. A couple of men flew in at the Cisco Airport for business in the area. They saw a card at the airport that had Dr. Chief's number. They called and he went out, gassed up their plane and loaned them his car.

Dr. Brown frequently helps folks who fly in and need gas or transportation. And he has a number of gifts, including a painting and items for his office, that are often mailed to him by visitors who appreciated his help and wanted to do something when he refused pay.

SORRY TO HEAR that Mr. Blair Clark of Arlington, who grew up in Cisco, is critically ill in the Arlington General Hospital. He suffered a stroke last Saturday afternoon... Mr. BC's brother, Charles Clark of Cisco, and wife were visiting daughter Jeanette and family in Arlington last weekend and visited Blair in the hospital.

Blair Clark and wife are frequent visitors here as they have ranching interests east of town. Both grew up in Cisco.

DOVE HUNTING for a group of friends at the Wright Ranch was below par this year, our scouts report. Not too many of the dozen or so hunter, local and out-of-towners, got their limit on opening day, the report said. Rick Watley, the DE instructor, wasn't among those scoring best but he had a number of near misses, the report confirmed.

BY THE TIME you read this, we will be in Kingston, Jamaica, to spend a month working with a newspaper. Will report from there.

Rev. Deadman Will Speak At E. Cisco Baptist

Rev. Cecil Deadman of Follett, Texas will be preaching at both services Sunday September 11 in view of a call as pastor of East Cisco Baptist Church. We will have a called conference Sunday night to vote to call him as pastor.

We will also have a covered dish luncheon at noon Sunday. All members are urged to be present Sunday.

Rochelle, President of the Heart of Texas District, GFWC, speaking on the subject, "Federation - Challenge and Opportunities". It will be a rare privilege to have this time with Mrs. Bryson, who led the Clubwomen of Eastland County through the delightful and successful district convention in Cisco during March 25 and 26 of 1983.

Other numbers of the program will be led by Mrs. C.B. Davis, the Garden Club Vice President; Mrs. M.D. Allison, Twentieth Century Club President; Mrs. Lynn Williams, Music Club Member; and Mrs. E.A. White, member of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society International. Mrs. S.J. Pirtle is President of the First Industrial Arts Club and Vice President and Program Chairman of the City Federation. Mrs. Arlin Bint, member of the Lake Cisco Extension Homemakers Club is the President of the City Federation and will be presiding at the meeting. The subject of Federation is basic to the interests and work of clubs of the City Federation, whose interests, projects and goals vary through the Arts, Conservation, Education, Home Life and Heritage, International Affairs and Public Affairs but find their unity and destiny in the sharing of neighborly love through Community and World Service.

Ambulance Service Will Continue Here

Patterson Ambulance Service will continue to serve its memberships and emergencies only in eastland and Cisco, Owner-Manager Tommy Patterson has announced.

The company which attempted to secure a minimum membership of 850 members in each town, fell 375 members, short of its goal, but will continue to operate, he said, serving only members and emergencies.

For the $39 annual membership fee individuals and families have access to kth ambulance service.

The City Federation of Women's Clubs was organized in January, 1922, and federated with the GFWC.

Wayne Pryor Receives Gifts

Wayne Pryor says "Thanks" to his many friends and family. He had a real nice birthday.

Wayne received several nice gifts and 25 cards. Some had checks or some that "green folding stuff" in them. One card was 24 inches long with 40 signatures on it.

He had a pretty birthday cake from his family and the Hendrick Dietary Services sent up a pretty decorated cake with "Happy Birthday Wayne" on it also.

All the cards, visits and everthing is appreciated.

Don Morrison Due Here At 7 p.m. Tuesday

Don Morrison, Post master and Bible teacher from Throckmorton, will be teaching at the First National Bank Community Room of Cisco on Tuesday, September 13, at 7:00 p.m. All interested persons are invited to attend.

CJC Is Community's Biggest Bargain

Cisco Junior College is this community's biggest bargain, Dr. Norman Wallace, president of the school, told the Cisco Lions Club in a talk last Wednesday noon at their weekly luncheon.

The college cost the Cisco area about $160,000 last year, Dr. Wallace said. For this investment, the community has a payroll of $151,789 per month or $1,821,461 per year, he added.

Other benefits include quality educational opportunities for young people of the community. Dr. Wallace said enrollment at CJC has shown an increase in each of the last five semesters. He said that the outlook is for a student population on campus of over 700 this fall and for more than 1,500 in the program here, in Clyde, Abilene and elsewhere.

State funds that will come to CJC during the 1983-84 school year total $2,633,000, the president said. Local taxes will provide for less than four percent of the year's budget of $4,500,000.

"The mission of Cisco Junior College is to prepare young people for studies in universities," Dr. Wallace said. "Too many young people are not ready for university study and need the kind of training available to them in our community college."

Dr. Wallace noted that CJC has three special non-credit programs that are proving valuable to the young students. These include special courses in reading, writing and math. He said that surveys show that CJC graduates do well after finishing here and going on to senior institutions of learning.

Carroll Scott, vice president of CJC, was the program chairman and introduced the speaker. Guests included David Allen, coordinator of the CJC program at Abilene.

TFWC in November of 1922, in Cisco by the earliest Federated Clubs in the County of Eastland.

Members of these clubs joined hands for one purpose: "To bring in to closer relationship one with another the Women's Clubs of Cisco; to afford facilities of a helpful exchange of ideas and club methods; and to promote, through their common interests, the general welfare during the years they have needed each other." They struggled together, giving time, money and physical labor to build "our beautiful and useful Club House". After a number of years, they succeeded in paying the final note on the property at 400 West 7th Street. It belongs to the Member Clubs. In 1984, the City Federation of Women's Clubs will be 62 years old—they still need and appreciate each other.

NAOMI FINCH
Lost 39½ Pounds and 41½ Inches
In Only 3½ Months!

I have been really pleased with the Diet Center.
I have tried several diets, which did not work for me. At the Diet Center, I was able to steadily lose weight and inches, and yet not feel hungry or crave sweets while reaching my goal.
When I first heard about the Diet Center, I was very skeptical. I could not believe I would be able to lose weight so fast and easy—but it worked—I did.
My success in reaching my goal was the result of a desire to lose weight, and the daily counseling and food supplement at the Diet Center. Nutritionally, physically and mentally I am now in great shape.
