Austin's Furniture Company Is Open Again For Business Here

Burned-Out Business Re-Opens In Old J.C. Penney Building

Austin's Furniture Company is back in business in Cisco in a new location, 706 Conrad Hilton Avenue. Bill Austin Sr., owner, stated they have been open in their new location for about a week.

A Grand Opening is being planned for early June, after more merchandise has arrived.

There is no sign up at the present time, but it is being worked on and will be up in the near future. The building which Austin's is now occupying formerly housed the J.C. Penney store in Cisco.

Mr. Austin stated he has leased the building for six months to allow him enough time to get his insurance settled up on the fire which destroyed his former building. After the settlement is made on the insurance, he will decide what his future plans are: whether to re-build or buy another building. He said his lease plan on the Penney building does contain an option to buy clause, should he decide to do so.

Austin's already has a good supply of carpet and vinyl in stock and they have some dinette and bedroom suites, along with other pieces of furniture and brass items. They are reportedly getting in at least one truck a day, and sometimes several, bringing them a fresh supply of merchandise.

Mr. Austin stated the merchandise suppliers are helping them to restock their store and they are grateful for their help. He also said he is grateful to the continued support of long-time customers who faithfully helped them through the month of April.

The old Austin's Furniture Company building was destroyed by fire on March 24. The building had been erected in 1912 and had been a furniture store ever since. Mr. Austin purchased the business 26 years ago from Ralph Glenn and the Glenn family had operated a store there 19 years.

HALL OF REMARKS

BY HERREL HALLMARK

YOU WILL SEE a column in this edition by J.W. Sitton who was released from the Dyess Hospital over the weekend, but we are sad to report that he was returned to the hospital early Tuesday morning, since he seemed to be having trouble breathing, according to the report we heard.

At the time of this writing I did not know any more details, such as whether he was re-admitted to Dyess Hospital or not.

Mr. Sitton came into the Press office for a little while on Monday to write his column and then he left, since his doctors have instructed him to get plenty of rest.

I am sure you will want to join all of us who work with Mr. Sitton in praying for his full and complete recovery soon.

AUSTIN'S FURNITURE Company has leased the old J.C. Penney building in the 700 block of Conrad Hilton Avenue for the next six months and they have been operating out of that location for about a week.

They are still building up their supply of furniture and carpets, even though they already have a good selection of carpets and vinyls in their store.

Bill Austin Sr. and Bill Austin Jr. both expressed their appreciation to their long-time, loyal customers whose purchases saw them through the month of April with over $12,000 worth of business being done.

Bill Jr. stated that "business has continued in spite of the fire." Both Austins also expressed appreciation to their suppliers who have placed them at the head of their lists when it comes to sending supplies.

A Grand Opening is being planned for the new location in early June. Be sure to go by and say how glad you are for the Austin's to be reopened.

than the city can pump it, Mr. Moore reported. Basically the city has been pumping water 24 hrs. a day.

Mr. Moore urged citizens to cut back on their water usage especially watering outside. He said that the major worry now is that there may not be enough water pressure to fight fires.

Citizens consider a glass of water more important than a green lawn and the problem may come to that point in the near future.

The 12" service pipe should be completed by June 1st but during that time water will be turned off several times for the hook-up to be completed. The City Council will notify Cisco by the news media of the water turn-offs. When this pipe is completely hooked up the city should have more water pressure.

The City Council will discuss long range effects of the water problems caused by the drought in the area at their next meeting. Lake Cisco is the only water source for Cisco and it is dropping rapidly.

City Manager Mike Moore agrees with Senator Block and strongly encourages everyone to pray for rain.

Cisco Kiwanis Club's Annual Bar-B-Q Set

Let's have a Bar-B-Q! Sound good to you? Then don't make any other plans for Saturday, May 19. We're gonna have a couple hundred pounds of brisket cookin up in our own special way and we sure need some help eatin' it. That's right, it's the Cisco Kiwanis Clubs annual Bar-B-Q. There's gonna be live entertainment, horseshoe pitchin, washer tossin, and badminton. And if that's not enough, you can play miniature golf for free. So load up Gramma and the kids and come on out to Lake Cisco Park, just below the dam. We'll be serving food from 3-7:00 p.m. so it should fit into everyone's schedule. Come early, stay late and enjoy yourself. Tickets can be purchased from any Kiwanis Club member or at the Bar-B-Q. The price is $4.00 for adults and $2.00 for children under 12. Hope to see everyone there.

Pre-Registration For Kindergarten During The Month

Pre-registration for 1984-85 Kindergartners will be in Mrs. Webb's room at the Primary School any afternoon in May from 2:30-3:30.

Please bring your child's shot record and birth certificate with you.

Only children who will be 5 years of age on or before September 1, 1984, may attend public school kindergarten.

locate props; to Mr. Ballinger for putting up with the mess; to Mr. Lindsey for letting us have this play; to the students who have worked so diligently on their parts; to Laura Jeffcoat and Sharon Miller who helped the students with acting and blocking; and to Jana Jeffcoat for Choreography.

The parents of the children in the choir would like to give a Big Thank You to Davene Jeffcoat.

Every year the Intermediate Choir gives a final performance at the end of the school year. Each year the well known person wonders how the choir can be as entertaining as they are before. It is always so. Even if someone does not have a child or relative in the Choir it will be worth making plans now to attend next years program.

Rotary Club Citizenship Award Banquet Thursday

Dr. Ralph A. Phelps, Jr., president of Howard Payne University, will be the guest speaker at the annual CISCO ROTARY CLUB CITIZENSHIP AWARDS LUNCHEON to be held Thursday of this week, May 17, at the Colony Restaurant.

The luncheon will honor two Cisco High School graduating seniors - John Mulkey and Margaret Yeager - for traits of good citizenship exhibited during their four years as students at CHS.

Dr. Phelps, HPU's fifteenth president, is an educator, administrator, business executive, writer, and churchman. He assumed the presidency of the Brownwood university in 1980, having previously been the chief executive of Quachita Baptist University in Arkadelphia, Arkansas for a sixteen-year term. Before becoming an administrator, he had taught at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Dr. Phelps received his A.B. and M.A. degrees from Baylor University and his Th.M., Th.D. and Ph.D. degrees from Southwestern. He has done additional studies at Harvard, Yale, Southern Methodist, the University of Wisconsin, and the University of Texas at Dallas.

During ten years in the private business sector, he served as administrative vice president of a 14-corporation conglomerate, as operational vice president of an international design firm, and as vice president/trust officer of a large bank.

As a writer, Dr. Phelps has had two books published and has contributed to four others. He has had articles published in a number of scholarly and religious journals and wrote a weekly hunting and fishing column for a newspaper in Arkansas.

Dr. Phelps is a former chairman of the Education Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention, and he also served for six years on the Baptist Joint committee on Public Affairs in Washington.

Mrs. Phelps, the former Betty McCarthey, is adult and juvenile probation officer for the Thirty-fifth Judicial District of Texas.

Cisco Mayor Eris Ritchie, who is chairman of the Awards Luncheon for the Rotary Club, has invited members of the general public to attend the luncheon Thursday. "Any who are friends or family of our two honorees, or any who would like to come and hear Dr. Phelps speak, are most welcome to be with us," he said. The price of the luncheon will be whatever the Colony Restaurant's prevailing cost for buffet service totals, Mayor Ritchie said.

Swimming Lessons Will Be Offered At City Pool

Swimming lessons will be offered this summer at the City Park swimming pool. The classes will begin on Tuesday, May 29th and will last for 10 days. The first week of classes will be from Tuesday, May 29th, through Saturday, June 2nd; and the second week will start on Monday, June 4th, through Friday, June 8th. These lessons are NOT a Red Cross Certification program.

The cost for these classes will be $25.00 per student, and classes are restricted to 10 students each, so sign-up for the classes will be on a first come, first-served basis. The swimming classes will be as follows:

Class I: Ages 6 months to 3 years - 9:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. (Mothers must accompany child in the water for this class.)

Class II: ages 4-7 years - 10:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

Class III: Ages 8 to 12 years - 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

To sign up for classes, come in person to City Hall at 116 West 7th Street and see Mrs. Beth Prickett. The tution for the swimming class must be paid at the time of registration. Please make checks for tuition to Iris Tipton, the swimming instructor.

If the demand for the swimming lessons is sufficient, additional classes will be held this summer as demand dictates. Anyone attempting to register for these first classes and the classes are already full, their names will go on a waiting list and they will have first opportunity to register for the second set of classes later in the summer.

Parents of all students will be required to sign a liability waiver for Ms. Tipton and the City of Cisco.

Q: I have an extra bedroom that I plan to turn into an exercise room. The weight equipment is chrome and has white upholstered seats. It is going to be rather crowded in that small bedroom. What do you recommend to make it appear larger? Also, I need a window treatment because the west sun heats the room so badly.

A: You have a delightful idea! The white and chrome have a visually cooling effect, so follow through with the rest of the room. Paint the walls sparkling white. The fourth wall cover with mirrors. Maybe install a chrome barre for stretching exercises. Give the room a feeling of the outdoors by painting the ceiling a soft aqua blue. If you feel venturesome, paint an undulating graphic in the same ceiling color paired with a slightly darker version of blue. I would recommend vertical blinds at the window that are white vinyl, rotate like miniblinds, but can be drawn like drapes. Get the perforated vertical blinds. They allow a view of the outside, yet cut down heat and glare tremendously.

You may already have a floorcovering. If not, you might look at a commercial type continuous loop carpet. They are available in virtually every color, and are low maintenance. Add several fresh leafy green plants in chrome containers, and your room is ready for a real workout!

Located four miles west of Eastland, the well is in an 80-acre lease in the H&TCRR Survey, Sec. 45, Blk. 4. It is designated as the No. 1 Belzner.

On an open choke, it pumped ten barrels of oil and 98,000 CF gas per day.

The well bottomed at 3,690 feet and will produce from an interval 3,509 to 3,515 feet into the hole.

Proco Operating CInc. of Grafard has filed for permit to drill the No. 1 R.E. Kizer, a 3,400-ft. developmental well six miles north-northeast of Rising Star. Location is in an 80-acre lease in Eastland County's Sipe Springs Field, T&NORR Survey, A-1188.

At a location four miles southwest of Ranger, Sun Exploration & Production Co. of Abilene has finished a new oil producer in the Eastland Regular Field.

The well is designated as the No. 1 D.K. Scott, pumping at the rate of six barrels daily.

Location is in a 288-acre lease in the T&NO Survey, A-531. Bottomed at 3,950 feet, the well will produce from perforations 3,209 to 3,242 feet into the hole.

The same operator has revealed plans to drill two 3,650-ft. developmental wells in the Eastland Regular Field. The operator has 3,370 acres leased, with drillsite in the John York Survey, J A-557 and has designated the ventures as the Nos. 359 & 360 North Central Ranger Unit. Drillsites are five miles southwest of Ranger.

A 4,200-ft. developmental well is planned by Leonard Brothers Operating Co. of Ft. Worth at a drillsite six miles north of Cisco, Eastland County. Location is in the 320-acre lease in the H&TCRR Survey, A-224. Well's designation is the No. 1 Exall. It is in the JMJ Field.

Snow Oil Co. of Ft. Worth has filed for permit to drill the No. 2 Hanna, a 4,200-ft. developmental well three miles north of Eastland. Location is in a 143-acre lease in Eastland County's Snow Field, H&TCRR Survey, A-306.

The No. 1 Jacobs has been finished by Michael D. Brown of Ft. Worth.

It is a developmental well in the Eastland Field, one mile northwest of Rising Star. Drillsite is in a 20-acre lease in the ETRR Survey, Sec. 12, Blk. 2.

Daily potential of four barrels was posted with the Railroad Commission. The well went to a 1,125-ft. bottom. Production will be from perforations 1,010 to 1,066 feet into the wellbore.

A Houston-based operator has staked location for the

No. 35 Delbert Tarver "A", a developmental well to be located one mile west of Romney. With projected total depth of 1,200 feet, the well is in a 120-acre lease in Eastland County's Hawk-Eye Field, H&TCRR Survey, Sec. 57, Blk. 3. The operator is Ridgeway Exco Inc.

GEM Associates Inc. of Wichita Falls has filed for permit to plugback for shallower pay at the Nos. 2-1 & 2-3 Lee Hoga in the Eastland Regular Field, five miles northeast of Cisco. Proposed total depths are 4,000 and 4,100 feet. The wells are in a 79-acre lease in the H&TCRR Survey, A-225.

NUTRITION AND ATHLETIC PERFORMANCE

If you have been staying abreast of the importance of proper nutrition and athletic performance then portions of this column will not be news. But there remains a number of traditional, erroneous thoughts about the matter despite overwhelming evidence to the contrary.

Take the issue of protein in the diet. It was common practice for years for athletes to receive diets heavy in beef, a protein-rich food. Since our skeletal muscles are lean tissue, it was believed that excess protein in the diet led to a growth in muscle tissue.

Today that concept has been replaced in some circles, but not in all. Teams who have nutritionists consulting them have gone to liquid-carbohydrate program diets to enhance performance.

While the carbohydrate loading theory is recognized as an effective means of building up glycogen stores, which are critical for endurance activities, it has not gained such support in anaerobic events. Unfortunately, most of our popular activities are anaerobic in nature. Specifically, football and baseball are of this nature. These are athletic events in which endurance training seldom plays a role in the outcome of the competition. (This is not true with the sport of basketball.)

The question may then be asked, whether carbohydrate ingestion is critical to anaerobic activities. The answer is yes, and this includes weightlifting, which is the least aerobic of all activities. The issue is not whether the sport is aerobic or anaerobic, but what food supplied the muscles with the most efficient source of fuel. The answer is complex carbohydrates.

The problem with the low carbohydrate diet is that protein and fat are basically inseparable. If the athlete is on a high protein diet (low carbohydrate) it is also a high fat diet. Fat diets, while high in calories, have proven to detract from athletic performance.

Protein supplementation in the form of protein powders is another issue. This practice is followed by athletes interested in muscle growth (hypertrophy). The growth of a muscle is affected by three factors: 1) The presence of testosterone (a male hormone); 2) the existence of a training regimen (resistance work); and 3) the presence of nutrients.

It is that third factor which throws a wrench into an otherwise complicated mechanism. Of course there are six nutrients, plus fiber. Three of those nutrients provide energy. We recognize protein as necessary for normal muscle growth but not necessarily for hypertrophy.

The bottom line is simple. Protein is necessary for normal muscle growth. Any amount of protein ingested above approximately 30% of the total caloric intake is unnecessary. Therefore if you're interested in significant hypertrophy (bodybuilding), you must 1) be a male; 2) train with heavy weights; and 3) consume as many calories as you can without gaining in percent body fat. These calories need to be distributed in a balanced fashion, with at least 50% of the calories coming from complex carbohydrates.

Caring For Children

BY ANDREA PAUL

Dear Andrea:

My husband and I have always been very religious. Church has been an important part of our lives. Our children have always attended church with us, and seemed to enjoy it, too. Now my fifteen year old son refuses to go with us. He shocks us and breaks my heart by claiming not to believe in God. I am saddened and worried about him. What can I do?

Sincerely, Marianne

Dear Marianne:

It is very concerning when your child discards a value so important to you. Try not to worry too much. Your son is fifteen years old. This is the age of rebellion. A child during adolescence searches for his own values. Sadly enough, a part of this process often means throwing out all of his parents' values. Religious beliefs, perhaps because they are so central to the lives of the parents, are often the first values a teenager will loudly reject. This is very common. But take heart. You know you have given him a strong religious background. Studies show that while many, many teenagers and young adults reject the traditional religious values of their parents', they once again embrace these same religious beliefs by the time they have children of their own.

Though it will be difficult now (so much during adolescence is difficult), try to be patient. In a few years at most, I bet you'll find him right back in church each Sunday.

Dear Andrea:

Do I have a right to tell my daughter how to lead her sex life?

Sincerely, Sheldia

Dear Sheldia:

Yes, provided your daughter is still a child and/or still living with you. You most definitely have a right to tell her what behavior you think is proper or improper. You also have the right (and duty) to structure her life to make it easier to comply with your ideals (curfews, knowing where she is, chaperoned parties, etc.) However, once a child is at an age when parents must worry about their sex lives, they are also at an independent age. They can basically behave as they want. All a parent can do is hope that his good example in the past, and close relationship with the child, will help keep him/her on the right track.

Avoid asking your child personal questions or pry into his/her life. Do try to keep up a close relationship by showing a genuine interest in your child. Answer questions and state your position without giving lectures. Good luck.

Family Physician

BY DR. JAMES G. PRICE

Q. Several of the shopping malls in our area now have doctor's offices in them and most of them advertise "Family Practice." Is it possible to really do this kind of practice in this setting?

A. The practice of Family Medicine is more dependent on the function of the physician than on the location, so it is possible. To gauge if any physician is practicing Family Medicine you might find the answers to these questions:

Are the patients seen by the same physician most of the time?

Does the physician practice that is not limited by the age, sex, or problem of the patient?

Does the physician take care of hospitalized patients?

Will the physician provide care to all members of the family?

Is the physician reasonably available day or night?

If the answer to all these questions is "Yes," the physician is practicing Family Medicine, regardless of where the office might be.

Q. What is considered the normal age for girls to begin having periods? When should we begin to worry if this hasn't happened?

A. The vast majority of girls begin periods sometime between the ages of 11 and 15½, and this range is usually considered as "normal." However it is possible to be a little on either side of this range and still have nothing wrong. I'd suggest that if a girl hasn't begun within this range, you discuss it with your doctor.

Q. Do you think it's possible for a woman to be a mother and a doctor and do a good job of both?

A. Absolutely! Naturally during late pregnancy a woman may not be able to do some of the things she ordinarily might do, but it's surprising how many of them in the medical field can work right up till the time they go into labor, have the baby, and be back at work in a few weeks. It's my opinion that "doing a good job of both" requires extra effort on a woman's part as well as on the part of her husband, but I've seen this work out quite successfully many times.

I think that many female physicians bring an approach to patient care that's a little different from that of males, and it is one which often is uniquely beneficial to the patient. You might be interested to learn that females now make up about a third of the students in medical school!

Senior Update

BY VIVIENNE BODEAU

There was an old expression, "Eat your cake and have it too," that is applicable to the sale and leaseback plan option in the Development Fund Reverse Annuity Mortgage Program — "Sell your house and keep it too."

The plan is suitable for the senior homeowner or couple who wishes to live in their home for life and is willing to give up title to the property in trade for a lease which can be renewed indefinitely.

The transaction nearly always involves a discounted sales price, a mortgage loan which provides income to the seller for a specified term, then a deferred annuity which provides for continuous income thereafter. The seller gives up property appreciation to the buyer/investor and pays a market rent. The buyer now assumes responsibility for major property maintenance and taxes.

It is advised that the seller's family and heirs, together with an attorney, financial and tax advisor be apart of the negotiations.

The national Center for Home Equity Conversion has received a major grant from the Administration on Aging, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services to administer a national program on home equity conversion.

The San Francisco Development Fund has been a forerunner in the reverse annuity programs. Their legal counsel, Trudy A. Ernst, worked with the National Center for Home Equity Conversion on the new plan.

The San Francisco group will be a sub-contractor to the government Center and will be responsible for training and helping establish five new programs across the United States. Denver, Boston, Buffalo, Milwaukee, and Pima County, Arizona are sites currently being considered.

A typical beneficiary of this plan is a 79 year old man who after 50 years in the same house began to have trouble affording the upkeep of the house when his wife's death reduced his income greatly. Through the equity conversion program he is able to remain in the house for the rest of his life.

If you should want more information about this program write to Senior Update, care of this paper.

Spotlights & Sidelights

Julia Worthy

NO RE-RUNS, PLEASE

"I will not go back / Insensitive and wise / To test a memory / With time-tempered eyes." Kyle Crichton wrote that, and I picked up on it in my salad days.

It has helped me through some sweeping changes—such as our move from the humid indolence of the Gulf Coast to Oklahoma where Kansas whooshed south to Texas one day and Texas blew it back the next.

It is a probability that it is just as well not to go back as I believe we forget the worst parts most of the time and remember the good. It isn't that we are more insensitive nor any wiser; just selective.

I do remember the blowing dust, grit, sand-well, red clay from a bulldozed hill right there in Oklahoma was what gave me pink sheets—not Kansas top soil.

But the clay must have sprouted some kind of vegetation to hold it down by now, the reason tells me that the masses of pink and blue wild flowers that grew along Wild Horse Creek weren't that big and beautiful nor that plentiful.

The cypress vines sprinkled with red and yellow flowerets grow thicker and greener in my memory than when they shaded our handkerchief-sized porch.

As for going back to the Coast to live, I have to remind myself that the shirt-sleeve weather, the Spanish moss, and the unforzen seafood are not enjoyed without the flaws of dime-big mosquitoes and constant, energy sapping humidity.

When you move, whatever the reason, move your mind, too,—and right away. It does you about as much good to morn, "Things were so much better when we lived in Petunia," as it does to bewail that your darling baby boy, who thought your word was law, grew into a Grizzly Bear laying down laws of his own.

It is axiomatic that if you had wonderful friends and good people in Petunia, you'll find the population of Doodleville just as good and wonderful.

This works out most of the time. I hadn't become so convinced of the wisdom of not going back at the time I wound up working in Washington is one of the big, gray buildings on Pennsylvania Avenue. Talk about homesick! I was "heresick." I didn't really care where I went as long as it was away!

There were a lot of us from around the country, and we became fast friends while comparing notes, but each of us was unshakable in the belief that the particular neck of the woods we hailed was the best. There were: Marion from Nebraska, Nancy from West Virginia, Tony from Alabama, Ellen from Kansas, Sam from Nevada, Erna from North Dakota, Ruth from Wisconsin, and Bill from Texas, too. All of us expected to leave and most of us did.

I don't know how "insensitive and wise" we were as a group, but I certainly tested my memories with "time-tempered eyes." It wasn't back home that had changed; I had.

It was then that I began to suspect that memories could play one false by making the past look bigger and better than the present. I decided then, and my opinion has altered little over the years, that going back is like looking through the wrong end of a telescope. It's a matter of perspective.

No matter where we live, what we have, or what we do, it rarely takes a conscious effort for me to appreciate yesterday, enjoy today, and anticipate tomorrow.

May as well; going back is impossible

THE BEAUTIFUL COLEUS

The coleus is a tender plant with colored leaves or attractive flowers. They are natives principally of Java and tropical Africa and belong to the Mint family, Labiatae. Koleos is the Greek for sheath, and refers to the arrangement of the stamens.

The modern varieties of Coleus with brightly colored leaves are descended from C. Blumei, which has bronze-colored, nettle-like leaves. The leaf coloring is very varied and ranges through yellow, pink, red, crimson and green. The flowers of the colored-leaved kinds are comparatively inconspicuous. These plants require a minimum temperature of fifty-five degrees and must be potted in rich, well-drained soil when grown as house or greenhouse specimens. When used for outdoor summer beds and borders they thrive in any good soil. They need full sunshine.

To keep pot specimens shapely, the tips of the shoots should be pinched occasionally to promote bushiness. Plants that have filled their containers with roots should receive applications of dilute liquid fertilizers at weekly intervals.

The most important flowering Coleus is C. thyrsoideus, a native of Central Africa and a perennial that grows to a height of three to four feet and bears bright blue flowers of great decorative value. An important point to remember about this plant is that if it becomes necessary to pick off faded leaves this should be done with an upward pull; if a leave is removed with a downward pull a long piece of the skin will be stripped from the stem and remain attached to the base of the leaf that is pulled off.

Another good flowering species is C. shirensis, which is also a native of Central Africa. It grows about three feet tall and flowers a month or two later than C. thyrsoideus.

Coleus Fredericii, a native of Angola, is an annual or biennial kind that has richly colored deep purple flowers in the early spring. It grows to a height of three to four feet and forms well-branched bushy specimens.

The Coleus is best used in this area as border plants for our flower beds and replanted each year or as a pot plant for our homes to add color. Lets color our summer with Coleus.

GOOD GARDENING UNTIL NEXT WEEK FROM YOUR GARDEN EDITOR, TED BRICE.

'Fresh Approach' Is In-Thing For Texas Food

The "fresh approach" is the in-thing again this year. Fresh vegetables are plentiful in Texas now, so make sure you get your share.

"Ask for fruits and vegetables grown in Texas," suggests Tom Longbrake, horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "You'll be supporting Texans who earn their livelihood from growing your groceries."

Texas supplies broccoli, cabbage, carrots, spinach, lettuce and potatoes in early spring followed by cantaloupes, cucumbers, honeydews, squash, peppers and tomatoes. Blackberries, plums and early peaches will be available in late May and June along with watermelons, blackeyed peas and okra.

"Buying vegetables direct from growers at "you-pick" operations and roadside markets is increasing in Texas," notes Longbrake.

"Cost savings can be passed on to consumers by farm markets who sell locally

Popular Foods May Have Fewer Calories & Nutrition

Some of those favorite casual summer meals like hamburgers, pizza, tacos, quiche and chef's salad, can be high in nutrients and lower in calories with just a few variations.

Perhaps because children and teenagers like them so much, many people think these dishes are "junk food" or somehow inferior to other kinds of meals, says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist Mary K. Sweeten.

But in fact these dishes may contain foods from each of the four basic food groups: protein foods like meat, poultry, fish, eggs and legumes; fruits and vegetables; dairy products; and breads and cereals, she says.

According to Sweeten, you can enhance the nutritional value and cut the calories of grown produce through reduced costs in transportation, packaging and refrigeration.

Tomatoes are the most popular vegetable bought at roadside markets followed by watermelons, peaches, blackeyed peas, okra, squash, new potatoes, and green beans, says the horticulturist.

"If you're in the cost-cutting mood, consider buying fresh produce by the bushel for canning or freezing at home," suggests Longbrake.

So, "get fresh" with Texas produce. Local radio and newspaper ads can tell you where fresh produce is available.

these popular foods by doing the following:

- Add the nutrition of dairy products by making your hamburger a cheeseburger and serving tacos with cheese.

- Include vegetables in these dishes by adding fresh green lettuce and a tomato slice to your cheeseburger. Serve tacos with shredded lettuce and tomatoes. Add a generous amount of mushrooms, sliced green pepper to pizza, and add spinach or broccoli to quiche.

- Reduce calories from meat by starting with lean ground beef. Make sure you drain the fat from beef before preparing taco filling or using it on pizza.

- Add protein to a chef's salad by including, hard-cooked eggs, strips of cheese, lean ham, beef, chicken, or turkey, and croutons.

- Reduce calories from dairy products by choosing low-fat process cheese for tacos and cheeseburgers, and mozzarella cheese made from skim milk for pizza. Use low-fat cheese and skim milk for quiche.

- Use high-calorie condiments sparingly. Eliminate rich salad dressing and use commercially prepared reduced-calorie dressing or make your own with buttermilk and herbs or lemon juice and tomato juice.

The nutrition of these meals can be increased even further if you'll accompany them with a glass of milk, says Sweeten. Again, to lower calories, you can select skim milk or buttermilk.

While the calories and nutrients will vary according to serving size and specific ingredients, these summer favorites can be good nutrition choices for the calories they provide, notes the nutritionist.

U.S. Dept. Of Agriculture Seeking Public Comment

The U.S. Department of Agriculture is seeking public comment on provisions of the 1985 federal wheat program which, by law, must be announced no later than July 1.

Everett Rank, administrator of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said USDA will consider these comments as well as the most current data on U.S. and world crop conditions and the supply and demand outlook before making final decisions on the program.

Rank said USDA wants comments on the following:

-the loan and purchase prices and the established target price. The minimum target price if $4.38 per bushel.

-the level to be established under an acreage reduction program. This acreage reduction cannot exceed 20 percent of a farm's wheat acreage base and will be combined with an additional 10 percent paid cash land diversion program. The diversion payment rate must be at least $2.70 per bushel.

-whether there should be an optional land diversion program with either payment-in-kind compensation or cash payments.

-whether to allow haying and grazing on acreage conservation reserve land.

-whether summer fallow acreage should be restricted for designation as acreage

U.S. Cattle Producers May Be In 'New Era'

U.S. cattle producers may have finally "moved off the track" of the typical cattle cycle and moved into a new era—one in which producers respond more immediately to profits and losses.

Dr. Ed Uvacek, economist in livestock marketing with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, bases this assessment on the U.S. Department of Agriculture's latest cattle inventory.

"In general, the report points toward a slight liquidation in the nation's cattle herd, but nothing drastic," Uvacek says.

The beef breeding herd decreased, but only by a relatively small amount. Beef cow numbers on Jan. 1 of this year were down by 1 percent below a year ago, conservation reserve land.

-whether there should be offsetting compliance requirements for an acreage reduction program.

-methods for determining 1985 crop acreage bases for wheat.

-whether contracts that producers will sign to participate in the program should be binding after the signup period.

Rank also asked for comments on provisions for a farmer-owned reserve, commodity eligibility, premiums and discounts, the establishment of county loan rates and other provisions necessary to carry out a loan and purchase program for wheat.

Further details on the proposal are scheduled to appear in the May 11 Federal Register. Comments, which must be received by June 11, may be sent to: director, analysis division, USDA-ASCS, room 3741-S, P.O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C., 20013.

In addition, a regulatory impact statement on 1985 wheat program options is available by writing to the same address.

All comments will be available for public inspection in room 3738-S during regular business hours.

This typical Eastland county rural bridge crosses the Leon River. It is picturesque, and great for strolling or a light car. The wear on it from oil field traffic, however, costs the county quite a bit for repair work each year.

New Concept In Handles

COLLEGE STATION-- Technology has brought American consumers microwave ovens, food processors and any number of labor-saving appliances. But one very simple change in the angle of handles on household equipment may do even more to change how we do our chores.

The idea of placing handles at 19-degree angle -- or "Bennett's Bend" -- as it has been patented by its inventor, makes things easier to hold and use, says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economist Bonnie Piernot.

The main effect of a 19-degree angle handle is that it eliminates "ulnar deviation," or the bend in your wrist that occurs as you pick up or use a tool, she explains. "The bend" allows you to keep your wrist straight.

To get an idea of this angle, says Piernot, make your hand into a fist, as though you were gripping a pot handle. Push a pencil into the space between the fingers and the palm. With your first palm-side down on a flat surface, the pencil will slope upward about 19 degrees from horizontal.

One cooking utensil manufacturer has already conducted consumer research on the new design, says Piernot. The research indicated that 91 percent of the women participating in the study recognized the benefits of the new handle angle.

Persons with lifting problems, including those with arthritis, the handicapped or the elderly, may find angled handles especially useful, she says.

Products currently available with a 19-degree angle handle include kitchen cutlery, pots and pans. Hammers, pens and even softball bats with the bent handle are under development. Virtually all basic household equipment, including vacuum cleaners, mops and brooms may be affected by this development in the future, Piernot says.

Although the angled handle seems a little strange after the years of using straight handles, it should provide better grip, control and balance for many household equipment items, notes the home economist.

Lois Holder Appointed

Justice Of The Peace

Eastland County Commissioners Monday swore in Lois Holder, wife of the late A.C. Holder of Cisco, as Justice of the Peace, Precinct 4.

Mrs. Holder will serve until the general election in November.

They approved a lockable entrance opening inside the courthouse to be made in glassed-in case containing "Old Rip," Eastland's famous horned toad displayed on the north side of the courthouse.

Norman Jones with the City Glass Co. of Eastland will donate the labor and materials will be paid for by the county.

Commissioners expressed the hope that the work will be completed before Friday, when an ABC television crew is due to film a segment for "Ripley's Believe It Or Not" featuring "Old Rip."

A request by Mike Butlett of Northern Gas Products to cross a county road in Precinct 3 with a gas pipeline was approved.

Tom Barnes of Olden was given approval to consult with Kenneth Payne of the Parks and Wildlife Department for a permit to deal with deer eating watermelon vines on his 30 acres of planted land in Precinct 2.

Commissioners decided to talk with Department of Public Safety officials and the Texas Highway Department before acting on a request made by Mose Natz to attempt to control traffic east of ranger on county road No. 465 in Precinct 3. The dust condition is bad, and bridges are being damaged by heavy trucks Natz claimed.

Don Bennett, Carbon City secretary request his city's tax be collected by the county for a percentage of the receipts. Commissioner replied that the request could possibly be granted in the near future.

Commissioners will soon meet with Emma Morris county auditor, to draft a policy for applications for county employees.

DON FLOWERS

Sunday morning, May 12th, 6 avid anglers converged on scenic Possum Kingdom in hopes of capturing one of our top three places. Trophies and cash are guaranteed for the top three finishers during our monthly tournaments. Fishing was fair with all anglers reporting good numbers of small fish. However, those 14 inch plus fish were hard to find. Don Flowers was able to bring in one fish weighing 2 pounds 4 ounces. Winning first place and Big Bass. Don's fish were taken on worms in approximately eight foot of water, near the state park boat ramp. A real fine fish on any lake. Especially when Don had never fished on this impoundment before this tournament. A number of crappie were taken also in good numbers in the mouth of the cedar creek some in the 1 and 1/2 pound range.

When fishing whether for fun or competition, everyone knows the importance of safety. Our game wardens are present to help remind us from time to time and to also be sure everyone is properly licensed fishermen should always remember to have these license present during a days fishing as well as being properly equipped according to state safety regulations.

A number of local anglers ventured to Brownwood Lake to participate in the Open Little Boat Championship. Those members fishing include all senterfite second place, two day total of 12 pounds even.

Al also won Big Bass for Saturday with a 4 pound 12 ounce bucket mouth. Herman Dunlap 4th and big bass for Sunday 3 pounds 12 ounces, two days total 11 pounds 3 ounces, Butch Willingham 6th 9 pounds 6 1/2 ounces and Tommy Maynard 9th. Congratulations to all these gentlemen for their success in this fishing event. These men are all members of our organization and as you can see are some tough competitors.

Soil Stewardship Week Set

High winds have kicked up dust storms this spring throughout much of Texas, and heavy rains that are sure to come sooner or later will rob more of precious topsoil. All this points to a greater need for soil conservation.

And calling greater attention to soil conservation is what Soil Conservation Stewardship Week is all about.

The annual nationwide observance will be May 27-June 3 this year, with the theme "Conservation: A Common Commitment."

"Commitment is what is needed from everyone to reduce the loss of our valuable soil and water resources," says Dr. B.L. Harris, a soils specialist.

"We must all make a commitment to work toward this common objective, for it is from these natural resources that we reap the food and fiber that enables our very existence," emphasizes Harris, who is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

The Extension Service is joining the Association of Texas Soil and Water Conservation Districts and the State Board plus the Soil Conservation Service and others in this weeklong observance.

"We must accept primary responsibility as caretakers of God's earth," adds the specialist. "We are prepared to eat the fruit, but often we leave the task of caring for the land to a handful of people who sincerely care about perpetuating our forests, preserving our rivers and renewing the topsoil." Harris emphasizes that there is no time like the present to join the common commitment to soil and water conservation. "Our long-range food supply may depend on it. Our farmland is under a lot of pressure—from erosion, urbanization and pollution. Everyone can help conserve our natural resources.

"Let's keep America, the beautiful, and America, the greatest agricultural country on this earth," says Harris. "Join in local conservation efforts to protect our soil and water resources."

letters to the editor ...

Dear Editor, Doubtless 16 year old Ramiro Alvarez of Guayaquil, Colombia has heard of the justifiably famous reputation of Texans for hospitality.

So he will be even more perplexed when he gets word that he will not be able to come to Texas next fall as scheduled, to live with a U.S. family and attend high school for the 84-85 school year in exchange for a U.S. student to his home and country. The family which agreed to host him has changed its mind. Ramiro's family will honor their commitment to host a U.S. student.

It is hoped, through your cooperation in publishing this letter, a Texas family will volunteer to host Ramiro, not only to uphold the state's reputation, but because they would actually enjoy doing so and would mutually benefit from the experience.

Texas families willing to host an "A"-average Junior with hobbies including basketball, volleyball, soccer, running, skating and swimming will be interested in knowing that Ramiro's father is a civil engineer and his mother a housewife. There are three other children in the family. Ramiro has fair English.

Hosting families provide a bed (he can share a room), 3 meals a day and transportation to school and church. He has his own money for personal things and is fully insured. He will be a member of the family, share in the tasks and is deductible for tax purposes.

If interested, please call the Western Office of International Fellowship collect at 602-284-1413, or write P.O. Box 1212, Sedona, AZ 86336. I.F.I. has both boys and girls from other countries who would like to come to the U.S.

"This was about 2:00 in the afternoon. A Minister, Don Kennedy, also went inside.

"Johnnie came to the back door of the bank and asked for me. I took off my guns and went in."

Foster asked for cigarettes, and Kennedy went to get them.

While Sheriff Louie Hall talked to Foster in the bank lobby, Morren stayed with all the hostages in the President's office.

"Foster was armed, but he was clam," Hall states. "He

They have been meeting weekly since September for Bible study and have had an in-depth study of the "Women of the Old Testament."

The luncheon marked the adjournment for the studies through the summer and they are scheduled to resume in September with studies on the "Women of the New Testament."

Following the luncheon, guest speaker, Mrs. Louise Sowells, spoke on "Mothers." She reminded the ladies what it is to be a godly mother.

There was a short quiz concerning some of the things in the study and Pat Bowles had the highest score and was presented a beautiful napkin holder.

The book, "My Life Without God" written by William Murray, son of atheist Madelyn Murray D-Hair was given as a door prize.

The ladies also presented Peggy Roberts, teacher of the studies, with a beautiful orchid corsage.

Those attending the luncheon were Daisy Davis, Vergie Prickett, Mae Bisbee, Sammie Bowles, Pat Bowles, Katryn Bisbee, Lynn Johnson, Peggy Roberts, and guest speaker Louise Sowells.

The church is located at 700 West 18th in the city of Cisco.

People n Things

A HEART ATTACK is something that other folks have. I guess that is how I've felt for I've been real healthy all of my life. And I wasn't prepared when I started feeling a bit unusual a couple of weeks or so ago.

The first inkling of not feeling well came at mid-morning on Friday, April 27. I had wandered by Commercial Printing Co. and accepted an invitation to watch a printing press run. Printing and newspapering have occupied me for something over 50 years.

After a time, I had an "un-well" sort of feeling. So I pulled up a stool and sat quietly as the press turned out forms for an oil service company.

Lunch time came and went and I dressed to attend a funeral. At the church, I began feeling unusual. My hands went numb and there was a dull pain in the left under-arm area. I felt "real unwell." The service was sort of un-real for me. I couldn't seem to follow the proceedings.

Then, it was over and we went to the cemetery. I can't remember much about what happened there. But as soon as it was over, I went home and got into bed. It hadn't occurred to me that I was having a heart attack.

NEXT MORNING, I still had an "un-well" feeling so I agreed to seek medical aid. When I described how I was feeling, the medical folks immediately had me on my back. An EKG machine was attached to one arm and an IV tube to the other. An oxygen gismo was inserted into my nostrils. And the next thing I knew, I was in ICU at the hospital with assorted medication being administered.

make a difference. I lost eight or ten pounds during the two weeks.

LEAVING THE hospital last Friday, I'm under doctor's orders to "watch what you eat, do what you want to do but take it easy and don't get tired." Three kinds of pills are on my daily diet.

The schedule calls for me to begin walking again this week - one-fourth mile per day. Next week, this goes up to half a mile. And it keeps going up weekly until I'm walking four miles a day.

The doctor said he'd have me back on the golf course in two months.

AFTER WRITING this, I will go home for a rest. A lot of rest is "a must", the doctor said.

I'd like to say that I very much appreciate the expressions of friends and readers for my recovery. And I can assure you that my goal is to make a complete recovery and to get back into the swing of things in this fine community.

Dear Customer,
The City of Cisco during the month of March, 1984, supplied water that exceeded the Texas Department of Health's "Drinking Water Standards," which were promulgated as required by the "Safe Drinking Water Act", Public Law 93-523 (US), for turbidity. The water supplied failed one or more of the following criteria: (1) the monthly average exceeded 1 turbidity unit (TU).

The presence of excessive turbidity or cloudiness in drinking water may interfere with the effectiveness of disinfection of the water. Permitting the turbidity level to exceed the standard may present a risk to the health of persons drinking the water.

However, up to five turbidity units (TU) may be allowed if the supplier can demonstrate that the higher turbidity does not: (1) interfere with disinfection, (2) prevent maintenance of an effective disinfectant agent throughout the distribution system, (3) interfere with microbiological measurements.

The water system is being studied to correct any high turbidity at any future date. The notification of the public is in compliance with Texas "Drinking Water Act," as a means of keeping the public informed. Michael D. Moore
