A VISITOR in Cisco during the holidays was Steven Dean Baily, who visited his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dean.

THE SNOW was a week late for a white Christmas, but we enjoyed a white New Year's day and the day after. Snow started falling in the area early in the afternoon of Jan. 1 and continued to do so throughout the night. Wednesday morning there was approximately 2-3 inches of snow covering the ground. A layer of sleet below the snow made for hazardous driving in the area, until the mid-day sun started melting the ice and AGAIN, I am going to borrow an article from a local church newsletter. This time it is from the Calvary Baptist Church and it deals with the starting of the new year. The article is as follows:

JOURNEY THROUGH 1985
As we have just started our trip in life on highway 1985, it would be a good time for us to have a spiritual tune-up:

Adjust your lights so others may see your good works and glorify your Heavenly Father.

Set your timing so as to be on time.

Adjust the brakes on your tongue; it's a slippery place.

Tune up your heart and have the peace that passeth all understanding.

Align your directions so you may be able to travel the straight and narrow road ahead without a mishap. Tune your mind so you will think on pure, holy and noble things. For a quick start and a sure victory, be ready always and willing to do the Lord's will.

of Commerce to succeed Randy Speegle, according to an announcement by President Bill Austin, Jr.

Mr. Scheuren, who lives with his family at 510 West 8th Street, took over his new duties Wednesday, Jan. 2. His employment was approved at a CofC board meeting last Friday.

Mr. Speegle, who had served as manager for two years, resigned the position as of Dec. 31st to devote full time to The Side Lines stores in Cisco and Eastland in which he is a partner.

The new CofC manager is a native of Philadelphia, Pa., and came to Texas in 1964 with the U.S. Air Force at Sheppard Field, Wichita Falls. After a year, he was discharged as a sergeant and moved with his wife, Pauline, a native of Wichita Falls, to Cisco to manage the Ben Franklin Store.

During the years that followed, he worked in store management and for newspapers at Mineral Wells and Granbury and for radio stations in Mineral Wells, Wichita Falls, Graham and Abilene. The businesses were all owned by the same company. For the past year, Mr. Scheuren worked for a wholesaler in Abilene.

The Scheurens, who own their home here, are the parents of four children - Daniel, who lives in Georgia; Barbara, wife of Larry Jessup of Cisco; Ronnie, a sophomore at Cisco High School, and Cathy, an 8th grader. Mrs. Scheruren is employed at Intermediate School Cafeteria.

The Scheurens are members of the Catholic Church and have been active in community affairs. He attended Weatherford Junior College and Cisco Junior College.

"We feel very fortunate in being able to secure the services of Mr. Scheuren as our manager," President Austin said. "His experience in retail businesses plus work in radio and newspapers gives him a fine background for his new duties. It was good for us that he was tired of commuting to Abilene for work and available when our vacancy occurred."

Mr. Speegle took over management of the Side Lines store, 502 Hilton, on Jan. 2nd. The Side Lines store here and one at 301 East Main in Eastland is owned by the partnership of Randy and Charlotte Speegle and Jackie and Linda Witt. John Clinton, Jr., manages the Eastland store. "My two years with the Chamber of Commerce were interesting and rewarding," Mr. Speegle said. "I am very grateful to those who worked with me in making the years productive."

Jerry Morgan, retiring CofC president and member of the board, told The Press that "Randy did a fine job for us, for which we are all grateful and appreciative, and we wish him well as he devotes his energies to the management of his own business."

Lake Gains New Water

Lake Cisco gained some 20 inches of new water during the past week as rainfall measuring up to three inches plus another three inches of snow fell in this region. Temperatures dropped to the low 20s as the season's coldest wave swept through. The rain fell last Sunday night and gauges measured from 2.3 to three inches in this region. Rain seemed heavier to the north and northwest areas.

City officials said Lake Cisco would probably gain some two feet of new water from the good rain. Lake residents reported the initial run-in amounted to 18 inches, and the water level was continuing to inch upward late in the week as Lake Bernie was running over and the Battle Creek pumps were in operation.

The Battle Creek Pump Station became operative as soon as water started flowing there Sunday night and the pumps were still running Friday, officials reported. The two pumps send approximately 1,000,000 gallons of water per day to Lake Cisco. A creek runs from Lake Bernie, which was full, to Lake Cisco.

Snow and sleet started falling New Year's Eve night and continued Tuesday, measuring some three inches in this area. The snow was heavier to the south, according to reports. Local motels were full Tuesday and Wednesday nights as travelers moved with caution.

With temperatures below freezing, traffic on I-20 virtually stopped. Streets were slick but no accidents were reported in this area.

The weather forecast for this region called for clear skies and warming temperatures for the weekend and the early part of the coming week.

Although temperatures dropped to a low of about 24 degrees at night, stock tanks did not freeze over, according to reports. Lake Bernie and Lake Cisco had some ice in shallow areas during the early morning hours.

Lake Cisco gained some four feet of new water during good rains last November.

Goodfellows Still Receive Thanks

The Goodfellows of Cisco have continued to receive thank-you notes from those persons who received food baskets during the Christmas holidays.

One family writes, "I want to thank you all and also the nice people who helped you all. I was really in need and it made my Christmas a good one. I wish a happy new year to each of you. I cooked my black-eyed peas for New Year's Day."

Another writes, "Dear Goodfellows and everyone who helped for the wonderful Christmas basket. We had a real nice dinner. Every one said thank you. Had it not been for the Goodfellows, we wouldn't have had one."

"And also I wish to thank you and everyone who made the toys possible. It made my little grandson very happy. You will never know how bad it was needed. I give thanks to our Lord and you good people for being so good to us."

"Thank you for the food and toy that was given to our family," writes another recipient. "I wish each of you could have seen the joy on our children's faces when they saw the beautiful toys you provided. Thanks a million from the bottom of our hearts."

Another writes, "We thank each one of the Goodfellows of Cisco for the food basket. You made our Christmas very happy. Thank you all, God bless you."

A card received from one family had the following verse printed inside, "The world's a whole lot better place because of people like you who give real joy and pleasure by the nice things that they do, and, with your recent thoughtfulness still very much in mind, this is meant to bring a "Thank You" of the very warmest kind!"

CITY OF

Box 110 Cisco, Texas 76437 (817) 442-2111

January 4, 1985

Editor, The Cisco Press and Citizens of Cisco

Dear Editor and Citizens:

Now that the Holidays are behind us and we've begun a fresh new year, I think it an appropriate time to sincerely commend the newly-organized Goodfellows of Cisco for their tremendous contribution to a Christmas spirit in its most noble meaning. And not only are the Goodfellows to be praised, but all are to be thanked who, individually or through their various churches helped make a nice Christmas for those of our community less fortunate than themselves.

The Goodfellows, under the leadership of President Stanley Pirtle, Executive Vice President-Secretary James Jones, and several dedicated directors, provided food and Christmas gifts for 53 Cisco families, which included 84 adults and 100 youths. And the citizens of our community opened their hearts and pocketbooks in the amount of $5313.75 in cash contributions to enable the Goodfellows to accomplish the project in an overwhelming fashion. And we can be sure this project would not have enjoyed such success had it not been for the constant and prominent publicity given it by The Cisco Press. At the end of a year that had seen severe drought and generally tough times economically for our town, a very commendable benevolent spirit was demonstrated.

If our citizens will pull together in all our worthwhile community and charitable causes in the same way we did in the Goodfellows project, there should be no limits to what we can accomplish in our efforts to make Cisco an even better community in which to live, work, play, and worship. May we wish the very best for all our people for 1985.

Cordially yours,

Erin Ritchie, Mayor

First Tuesday -

This morning we left Sorrento early for Salerno, for special military ceremonies at 10 that morning.

Traveling with us was a crew from the NBC Affiliate of NBC, in El Paso, who was making a documentary of the trip. And Erric Morris, a noted author on World War II, was on our tour bus for several days. He is a very good speaker and talked to us about the battles of Southern Italy. He is the author of "Salerno".

Erric Morris is Deputy Head in the Department of War Studies and International Affairs at the Royal Military Academy, Sandhurst. Born in Cardiff in 1940, he read Modern History at St. David's University College, Lampeter. After completing a postgraduate Diploma in Education at University College, Cardiff, he studied for his Master's Degree in the School of West European Politics at the University of Leicester. In 1967 he was appointed to the Staff of Liverpool University as Lecturer to HM Forces. In 1970 he joined the Royal Military Academy as a Senior Lecturer and in 1980 was appointed to his present position.

From his book "On the morning of 9 September, 1943, the Allied Fifth Army under General Mark Clark landed at Salerno, just south of Naples, as part of a plan to crush the Axis armies in Southern Italy between that area and the Eight Army pushing up from the south. The surrender of the Italian army was announced the day before the landings and the British American forces found themselves confronted by powerful and experienced German units dug into strong positions in the surrounding hills and fully prepared for the attack.

The struggle that followed was bitter and very nearly disastrous. Due to poor planning and insufficient strength on the ground the Allied forces were barely able to fight their way out of their beach-head, and instead of annihilating the enemy with one swift blow they found themselves merely at the beginning of the long and bloody struggle for the Conquest of Italy."

Salerno is the seaport capital of the province of Salerno in Italy. An Italian Mediterranean shipping center, it lies on the Gulf of Salerno, about 30 miles from Naples.

Salerno was the seat of an early medical school from the 1000's to the end of the 1200's. Some of the churches in the city, including the Cathedral of San Matteo, were built during the same period, when the Normans controlled Salerno.

When we arrived there, there was already a large crowd gathered around the huge marble statue which had a ship's anchor at the top of it.

Many Italians were dressed in their military uniforms and all of them wore berets, except one man who wore a large hat decorated with many feathers. He was the mayor of Salerno.

All of the men in uniform had many medals displayed some on their chests, and some were pinned to their caps.

We all gathered near the beach for the ceremonies. Representatives from the Italian government were there, as some former military men from Germany who fought in that area. Representatives from the 6th fleet, and from the American embassy.

There were several speeches, military music, and the Official Greetings of the Mayor of Salerno:

In greeting you officially on behalf of the people of Salerno who I am honored to represent as their mayor, I should firstly like to emphasize that the occasion of your visit today gives me the opportunity to recall one of the striking moments, one of the turning points; undoubtedly the most important of the second world war: the landing in Italy. It was an unforgettable episode and it characterized a change of the route in the war operations on our peninsula; Operation Avalanche, which one of the best reporters in Salerno, Carricci, vividly described in his gripping articles. The landing was first operation following the armistice of Cassibile, stipulated five days previously and which many people, even those of high rank, were quite unaware of; it was the first point of reference of the new, altered alliance. I won't dwell on the historical and logical aspects of that enterprise, it is enough for me to recall the bridge-head on the Amalfi Coast and the assault on Salerno resulting in the blowing-up of the ammunition deposits and general warehouses at the port, which determined the opening attack and contemporaneously the first indication of the new fighting situation which came about following the Sicilian Agreement.

During the time while the plains burned, the names of Eisenhower, Bedell, Smith and Taylor were on the tips of everyone's tongue, especially in the town of Salerno devastated by the bombing. That operation was to have acted as a pendant as regards the other, more articulated operation, that of the Giant 2, the parachute landing on Rome. This should have been the result of linked operations, but in fact it did not turn out that way and the landings in Salerno marked only one of the steps, certainly, the most significant of the War in Southern Italy. Surprisingly, in my capacity as Mayor Saerno, I have celebrated two events of this year which are both linked in some way the Second War and on both these occasions Salerno has played a leading part. A few months ago we celebrated the 40th Anniversary of Salerno Capital of Italy with the visit of Pertini, President of the Italian Republic; today your presence here brings to mind the allied troop landings on our beaches, events of incalculable historical and political importance over the last fifty years, a period made famous as a result of the discord between different races.

But the occasion I am offered today is a happy one and it is characterized by a pause of reflection and for peace, by an admonishment for brotherhood among peoples, those races which fight side by side toward progress and harmony and have been doing so, ideally speaking perhaps even since the 9th of September of that far off ninth hour.

With this in mind, I welcome you here today in Salerno, to commemorate those far off events on the road to the future, a future marked by collaboration and reciprocal respect fused into the same ideals."

After the ceremonies we all went to the Hotel Cere for lunch, with all of the people on the tour, and those officials attending the earlier ceremony.

We had "Aperitivo all' American, Proscutto e melone, Crespelle al la paringina, Lasanga all Cere, Scalloppina ai fughii, Patate rosolate, frittura di pesce, Insalata capricciosa, Macedonia con gelato, and Caffè".

Then the tour buses drove further down the beach of Salerno where the 36th had landed and every one went down to see where they had come ashore from the troop ships many years ago.

The men remembered they thought the landing would be easy. General Eisenhower's dramatic announcement of Italy's unconditional surrender came over the ship's radio at 1830 on the eve of the invasion and started wild speculation as to whether there would be any fighting at all the following day. Commanders assured the troops that there would be, but smiles and moderate celebrations could not be restrained.

Nolan joined the 36th Division in February, 1941, as his was a low draft number, in Palo Pinto County, 528. As the 36th was a National Guard unit, mobilized in 1940, and sent to Camp Bowie, and selective service trainees filled the Division to combat strength, and he was one of those. The 36th trained at Camp Bowie, "fought" with General Walter Kreuger's Third Army in the swamplands of Louisiana.

It moved overland to sandy Camp Blanding, Florida, in February, 1942, and there was primed for an early overseas shipment. But orders changed. After extensive maneuvers in the warm Carolinas during the summer, the 36th moved to a Yankee station Cape Cod, Camp Edwards, Massachusetts. The men practiced the then new art of amphibious operations on Martha's Vineyard. Then on April 2, 1943, having time together from staging areas at Camp Edwards and Port Dix, New Jersey, a solemn 36th sailed out from the New York Port of Embarkation and by fast convoy arrived at Oran, Algeria, eleven days later.

Until Rommel's Afrika Corps were decisively whipped at Tunis and Bizerte, the Division was held in combat reserve. Then in a political move to avert Spanish or German designs on French Morocco, the 141st and 143rd Regiments, Division Headquarters and Special troops shuttled five hundred miles and spent the summer in the cork forests near Rabat and Casablanca. The 142nd went to Tlemcen, in Algeria, and patroled a wide area in search of stray Germans.

Then the 36th own time came at Salerno, September 9, when all that the long months of training had prepared them for paid dividends as an unyielding 36th clung to the threatened beachhead.

DRINKING DRIVING DEATH
A Combination we CAN'T LIVE WITH!

Lights From The Christian World

by Josephine Cleveland
"And now, little children, abide in him that, when he shall appear, we may have confidence, and not be ashamed before him at his coming." I John 2:28

How often we are like that artist who mullied over the events of his life. God had started to paint a picture on the canvas of his life; but he had taken the brush from God and began to paint his own picture.

As he painted the colors began to run and the objects in the picture were worthless. He had made a mess of his life.

So he said, "I will take the brush back to God." God didn't say anything about the mess he had made; but with his mercy and compassion dipped the brush in the reservoir of His love and started all over.

The artist rejoiced as the lovely hues of color blended together and the graceful lines from the master's brush took shape.

Friend, have you made a mess of your life? As the new year unfolds give the paint brush of your will to God. Then you can be assured that in the marketplace of God's world you will be of worth and you can rejoice in Him.

WORD of GOD

2nd Commandment

Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of anything that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth.

Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me.

And showing mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my commandments.

Exodus 20:4-6

IN THE INTEREST OF SERVING THIS AREA,

JIM CALDWELL BRINGS YOU THESE IMPORTANT MONEY-SAVING ARTICLES:

How much does it really matter if an engine is dirty? One important point: a dirty engine is more likely to have trouble starting on a damp day, because that's where moisture collects.

Buckle up—and have passengers wear seat belts, too. According to industry studies, most passengers would put on seatbelts if the driver asked them to. (They do in airplanes, without complaint.)

Cooler weather causes the pressure to drop in your tires. Check them regularly. Remember: too-low pressure wastes gas and increases wear.

Special safety measure on fuel-injection systems will shut off fuel supply to the engine if there is a collision at 30 MPH or more.

If one radiator hose goes, it's smart to replace both at once. Smarter yet: replace hoses periodically, without waiting for trouble.

Foreward To "Costa Rica"

By Viola Payne

Not long ago the wife of a relative of mine was talking about how the Central American country of Costa Rica is often confused with its warring neighbors by the North American public.

As a native of Costa Rica, she was quick to explain more about this friendly republic. I asked her to send some information for The Eastland County Newspapers. So I received her first-hand account in the mail this week.

Virginia Jones lives in Midland, and is the wife of a geophysicist for an oil company. She spoke Spanish as she grew up in Costa Rica, but has certainly learned how to speak and write well in English.

COSTA RICA

By Virginia Jones

Next to the smallest of the isthmian republics, Costa Rica sits between Nicaragua and Panama. It is a friendly land, often called the Switzerland of the Americas. Lake Switzerland, Costa Rica is small and mountainous, with clean and progressive people.

"Rich Coast" is the way the name translates, but early Spanish explorers found little gold and few Indians to exploit. Thus the country evolved as basically middle class. Columbus discovered the country on his fourth and final voyage in 1502. The nation gained independence from Spain in August 15th of 1821. But Costa Ricans heard the news September 15th 1821, because it was obtained in Guatemala, which at that time was its capital. The news took a month to travel from Guatemala to Costa Rica because of the transportation. At that time everyone traveled by horses, oxen, carts, and small boats.

Costa Rica's area is approximately 19,575 sq. miles. Its population is 2,240,000, with less than 5,000 Indians. There used to be four different tribes called the Chorotegas, Burucares, Urutare, and the Wetares. They were very smart; they knew many things like planting corn and tobacco. They used to hunt wild birds, deer, and wild pigs. Also, they became very good fishermen. The Indians knew how to work the gold mines. They wore a variety of gold ornaments, made many gold figures of animals like frogs, toads, lizards, and figures of people. The finest collection of ancient Indian handwork is found in the National Museum of Costa Rica, in San Jose.

In 1502 Columbus arrived in Costa Rica, landing at a little island named "La Uvita". It is on the Atlantic Coast. He thought it was a gold territory, but not too much gold was left by that time. It is heard in history class that one of the conquistadores named Juan De Coronado turned out to be greedy and thirsty for gold. Then the Indian, whom were very smart, melted gold and gave him a large, hot, delicious pot of gold to drink.

Costa Rica's customs are very much originals from Spain; even the language spoken is very similar to the Castilian which is the best Spanish spoken in the Province called "Castilla" in the northeast of Spain. Also it is considered the best Spanish spoken in all of the American continent.

Today Costa Ricans are interested in saving their ancient Indian language, called "The Bribri." To give the surviving Indians a chance to preserve their ancient tongue, a broadcasting called "The Voice of Talamanca" is broadcast two hours a day. Because people can afford today's inexpensive transistor radios, they can listen to this broadcast. The new radio station plays music, announces a medical teams visit, and transmits "personals", many of which are in "Bribri," so the young will not forget their roots.

Messages bring words of birth, or wedding, an invitation to a family reunion, and not-so-subtle pleas for Marta to meet Louis at the big rock by the river's curve.

Costa Rica does not maintain an army and is one of the most peaceful nations in the world. With a civil guard force of only 2,000 it boasts that it has more schoolteachers than soldiers.

Its schools are some of the finest in Latin America. Many students from foreign countries choose to study at the University of Costa Rica in San Jose. There are people from many countries, and everyone is welcome, especially Norte Americanos; they are said to enjoy sightseeing of beaches, valleys, mountains, and volcanos. People also enjoy all kinds of tropical fruits. Costa Rica has 2,000 different types of trees and has the richest forests of Central America.

Costa Rica's capital is San Jose. Its population is 250,000. San Jose is called "La Meseta Central," Costa Rica's most popular and most populous plateau.

San Jose, the capital of the country, is on the coffee growing central plateau. It is a sparkling white city, pleasant and peaceful, with a beautiful national theater built in the 1800's. It is made of the finest imported materials from Italy, like red velvets, marbles, and golden chandeliers. It's architectures were brought from Italy, and many of the famous painters of the quality of Miguel Angel (Michaelangelo) came to paint the ceiling and walls. The paintings show people in gardens with beautiful colors, light pink of bring pink, and light green like the new buds of the leaves in the early spring season; also elegant living rooms with people visiting and drinking tea. They have very harmonious facial expressions.

The national theater is one of the popular places for international and social events, as is the Museum of Gold on the ninth floor of the "Banco Central" (Central Bank) on Central Ave. of San Jose.

People come to Costa Rica for many reasons. I heard the story of a man who came with three other young men in the Society of Friends from Fair Hope, Alabama, where they refused to register for the peacetime draft, and ended up in prison, because they refused to register. Once released, they heard of the wonders of Costa Rica from a Quaker couple who had just returned; they heard of the farmer-turned-soldier, Jose Maria Figueres, who had abolished the Costa Rican army in 1947.

This couple started to move their relatives and friends by oxcarts to "Wolf Recalled." At that time the only had an oxcart trail. The oxen pulled the carts up the mountains through knee deep mud. Most families lived in tents while they were facing the mosquitos, bugs, and snakes like coral and rattlesnakes. But it was worth it.

The quakers were not so miserable. They had many good resources in the wilderness and the mountains, like timber, animals, birds, many kinds of the 1,200 varieties of orchids, plenty of land to farm, and cattle. The main business of the community was the cheese factory. Producing its average 2,000 pounds of cheese daily requires some 2,300 gallons of fresh milk, a demand that has also greatly benefitted the Costa Ricans in the dairy zone.

The national hunger for the delicious Monteverde cheddars, gouda, monterico, and cheese spreads seems limitless, but the company is reluctant to expand. They have been successful for thirty seven years.

When the Quakers settled on the mountain they set aside a heavily timbered region near the headwaters of the "Guacimal River" to be held undisturbed. And at the same time they safeguarded their small hydroelectric plant. Soon the frogs were attracted by the new community, and many tropical scientists came to see these brilliantly colored amphibians. These frogs were found to be a new species, Bufo Perilenes, the Golden Toad. When developers began buying up nearby land, the local scientific community persuaded international conservation groups to press for government protection of the area. Together they offered more than 2,000 species of flowering plants, 100 mammals, and 320 birds, the foremost being the Quetzal.

Costa Rica, with 13 new national parks and six biological reserves, leads Central America in moving away from the soil-leaching deforestation that has long plagued the Isthmus.

Costa Rica holds a different kind of appeal for one of the most enduring and insular groups of North Americans in the country, the Quakers of "Monteverde" (Green Mountain).

We are pleased with the community as it is. It is ideal, where people - Gringos and Ticos both - are pulling together toward something good.

Fighting a false rumor

What do you do when a totally false rumor about your organization persists, even though you've tried to dispel it for years? You continue to tell the truth and you file lawsuits against those who spread the rumor.

That's the approach The Procter & Gamble Company is taking in trying to stop the spread of a false and malicious rumor that the firm's "moon and stars" trademark is a satanic symbol which signifies some connection with the devil. Another form of the rumor claims that a P & G executive appeared on a talk show to discuss the company's connection with satanism.

None of this is true. In fact, P & G has enlisted the support of a number of prominent religious leaders, who feel so strongly about this matter that they have clarified it before their congregations. Nonetheless, the rumors, which began several years ago, have recently taken on a new life in many parts of the country, including this area.

"It's a ridiculous rumor, and it's too bad we have to spend time fighting something so ludicrous," says P & G spokesman Don Tassone from the company's headquarters in Cincinnati, Ohio. "But it's important to us that people know the truth, and we're doing our best to give people the facts."

The facts, Tassone explains, are that P & G's trademark is more than 130 years old and represents only P & G. Further, no executive of the company has ever appeared on any talk show to discuss satanism. (The company has letters from various network talk shows clearly supporting this.)

Still, P & G is getting thousands of calls and letters from people curious about the rumor, wondering whether it's true. As a result, the company this fall launched a direct mail campaign to news reporters and religious leaders throughout the country to give them correct information, and to ask for their help in getting these facts out to the public.

And make no mistake, Procter & Gamble is very serious about all of this. "Simply put, people, perhaps without knowing the truth, are making libelous statements about our company," Tassone notes. "If the rumor persists, we may be forced to sue individuals who we know are spreading these false statements. We sincerely hope this will not be necessary, though."

THE "moon and stars" logo, Procter & Gamble's corporate trademark for 130 years, has unfortunately been the target of preposterous and totally false rumors lately.

To be sure, when the rumor reached a peak in the summer of 1982, P & G drew a number of lawsuits, charging seven individuals with libel. All of them publicly retracted their statements, and charges were dropped. The rumor appeared to go away — until recently. P & G is not certain why it has now resurfaced, but he hope that this time it'll be stopped for good.

"Nothing is more important to us than the integrity of our company, which has been serving the American public with quality products for 147 years," says Tassone. "We're confident that once people have the facts, and realize these stories are untrue, we can put an end to this preposterous rumor."

Anyone wanting more information can call P & G directly by using the toll-free 800-line telephone number found on all of its product packages.

EASTLAND

The Eastland Telegram and Eastland County Newspapers publishing departments have moved into a new building on the 200 block of South Seaman. The attractive, contemporary quarters are expected to provide excellent working space for every part of the newspaper business. An Open House will be held Jan. 27, giving the public a chance to come by and visit this latest addition to Eastland and the County.

County Judge Scott Bailey has requested that the Mayors of Eastland County towns serve on a County-wide committee to coordinate the activities commemorating the Texas Sesquicentennial. Texas will celebrate its 150th birthday in 1986, and it is hoped that Eastland County will join with other parts of the state in marking this event. On further plans for Eastland County, the Judge states that Mrs. Ginger Mangum of the Eastland County Farm Bureau will coordinate the planning activities of the County-wide committee.

Don Underwood, who was elected County Sheriff in November has been sworn in to this office. Underwood announced that Jerry Heflin of Eastland would be named Chief Deputy Sheriff. H.T. Pillingim, formerly a peace officer at Sweetwater, will serve as a Deputy to his home county of Eastland in 1983.

The City of Eastland is expected to enlarge its landfill by utilizing an additional 60 acres joining the present dump site. City Manager Roy Underwood says that this should take care of the City's needs for another 25 years, even with the projected growth for the town. The present dump is staffed at all times, and charges for dumping trash here is $4 per pickup load.

CISCO

The Cisco Historical District has been entered in the National Register of Historic Places, according to Peter Flagg Maxson, Chief Architectural Historian for the Texas Historical Commission in Austin. The nomination, sponsored by the Cisco Historical Society, is the result of a five year effort to gain official recognition of Cisco's cultural and historical resources. Bounded roughly by Conrad Hilton Ave., Highway 80, Ave. K and 3rd St., the district contains approx. 275 structures.

Robert L. (Bob) Keyes, head football coach at Cisco Junior College for the past three seasons, has resigned that position to become an assistant coach at Abilene Christian University. Keyes holds a BS Degree in Physical Education and Math, graduating from ACU in 1970. He received a Master of Education Degree in 1974 from ACU. At the present time no successor to Coach Keyes has been named at CJC.

The Cisco Writer's Club will meet Tuesday, Jan. 8 at 7 p.m. at the home of Lela Latch Lloyd, Conrad Hilton Ave. The meeting will begin with a Pizza Supper, with the main part of the meal furnished courtesy of The Pizza House of Eastland. Manuscripts will be read and plans made for the new year.

Randy Speegle has resigned as Manager of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce, bringing to a close his two successful years in that office. He lists the reason for his resignation as "to pursue personal interest in a growing business in Cisco." He says he hopes to stay very active in the community and the Chamber of Commerce.

The Cisco Music Club will meet Wed., Jan. 9 at 10 a.m. in the Women's Clubhouse on West Seventh St. A National Founders Day Program will be presented, commemorating the 87th anniversary of the founding of the National Music Clubs. Visitors are encouraged to attend.

GORMAN

The Gorman Housing Authority Board will meet on Tuesday, Jan. 8 at 1:30 p.m. in the Assembly Room of High Rise Apartments.

A monthly 4-H meeting will be held on Monday, Jan. 7 at 7:30 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church.

RANGER

The Ranger Social Security Office, which is located in the Joseph Building on Main Street will be taking appointments on the following dates in January: Wed., Jan. 9 and Wed., Jan. 23, 10 a.m. each day.

REWARD

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER

By Michael A. Guido, Metter, Georgia

Prayer can transform the sighing into singing, obstacles into opportunities and adversities into adventures. This transformation is recorded in the prayer of Psalm 61 for our comfort and cheer.

Mark the "where" of the prayer: "From the end of the earth will I cry unto Thee." Man may pray in any place. Jonah prayed in a fish. Peter prayed on a roof. Paul prayed in a jail, and the dying thief prayed on a cross. Each prayer was answered. The Lord's ear is always close to the believer's lips.

Mark the "when" of the prayer: "When my heart is overwhelmed." It is hard when one is banished in body to "the end of the earth," but it is harder when one is also broken in heart. But when it is hardest to pray, one should pray hardest. The Lord who hears will also help and heal and hold.

Mark the "why" of the prayer: "Lead me to the Rock that is higher than I." The Lord is our mighty, towering Rock of safety. Our impotence needs His omnipotence, our human folly needs His divine wisdom, our sinful souls need this sinless Saviour. We are directed to Him, but never driven. He leads only those who let Him. Will you let Him lead you to the Rock of Ages? You have no other refuge.

If you want to personalize the quilts you make or design your own contemporary quilts, the author reveals her secrets of design that anyone can master. Homemaking Hints

County Extension Agent

Janet Thomas

Winter did arrive this week and what a beautiful snow covered country. However, winter is the time some Texans will find themselves confronted with frozen plumbing. Goodness, let's hope it's not like last winter.

Even in normal, moderate Texas winter, it's possible to have pipes freeze because of a sudden drop in temperature.

Pipes are most likely to freeze if homeowners turn the heat off while they go away on vacation. Whenever the house will not be lived in for a period of time, set the thermostat at 55 degrees Fahrenheit to protect the plumbing.

Should the pipes freeze, there are two important rules for thawing them in a way that won't do more damage in the process.

First, always open faucets connected to the pipe being thawed. When the faucets are left closed during the thawing process, the pipe may burst if steam develops in the blocked pipe.

Second, don't use open-flame heat sources to thaw pipes. The pipes could be damaged and dry or flammable materials near the pipe may ignite.

The safest and most effective way to thaw pipes is to use electric heating tape.

Simply wrap the tape around the pipe at the points most likely to be frozen, and plug it into an appropriate outlet to start the thawing process.

One advantage of electric heating tape is that it can be left in place on pipes likely to freeze frequently during the cold season and plugged in when needed. Consumers should check to make sure the heating tape bears an Underwriters Laboratories (UL) label.

Other means of thawing pipes include the following:

Hair dryers or other hot air gun-type heaters - use the high heat settings and direct the hot air along the frozen pipe. Clear cobwebs and flammable material from the area to be heated.

Vacuum cleaners - connect the vacuum cleaner hose to the discharge outlet of the machine and blow air from the vacuum cleaner and the room onto the pipe. This is good if the room is warm and the pipes are in cupboards, closets or under floors and in walls where air can be easily blown.

Small fans - if the room is above 40 degrees Fahrenheit, direct the fan onto the area where the pipe is frozen. This works well if the pipes are in cupboards or closets.

Hot water and rags - wrap the pipe with rags and pour hot water on the rags. Continue pouring hot water until the pipe thaws. This technique is not suitable where water will damage walls, floors or other areas.

Homeowners can save themselves the trouble of having to thaw pipes if they'll simply wrap up any exposed pipes or encase them in insulated tubing before the worst of the winter cold is here.

RECIPE FOR THE WEEK:

The beginning of a new year means eating black-eyed peas and making New Year Resolutions! Probably the most popular resolution is to lose weight, especially after all the holiday goodies.

This week I am sharing a recipe for Creamed Chicken that has only 197 calories per serving. Add a fresh fruit or green salad for a wonderful low calorie meal.

CREAMED CHICKEN

3 small chicken breast halves, skinned
Vegetable cooking spray
1 tablespoon plus 1 teaspoon margarine, divided $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sliced fresh mushrooms
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon chopped celery
1 tablespoon minced onion

2 tablespoons all-purpose flour

1 cup skim milk

1 hard-cooked egg, thinly sliced

2 tablespoons diced pimento

$\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt

$\frac{1}{8}$ teaspoon pepper

3 English muffins, split and toasted

Paprika

Cook chicken in unsalted boiling water 30 minutes; drain. Remove chicken from bone; coarsely chop, and set aside.

Spray a medium skillet with cooking spray; add 1 teaspoon margarine. Sauté mushrooms, green pepper, celery, and onion over low heat until vegetables are tender but not brown. Remove vegetables from skillet; drain and set aside.

Melt 1 tablespoon margarine in skillet over low heat; add flour, stirring until smooth. Cook 1 minute, stirring constantly. Gradually add milk; cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened and bubbly. Add chicken, sautéed vegetables, egg, pimento, salt and pepper; stir gently.

Spoon mixture over English muffins; sprinkle with paprika. Yield: 6 servings (about 197 calories per serving).

WORD OF GOD

LAKE STEAMERS ARE NOT ALWAYS SMALL BOATS

Many people think that because a steamship operates on the Great Lakes it is not as large as ocean-going ships. But this can be quite wrong. Some Lake steamships are much larger than many ocean vessels. The Seandbee, a Lake steamship, has a 100-foot beam, and the only ocean-going steamship with beams that long are the Normandie and Queen Mary. So it looks like the Lake steamships are not such an insignificant lot after all.

Governor White Will Not Support Severance Increase

Speaking before the annual meeting of the Texas Research League last month in Austin, Gov. Mark White once again said he would not support an increase in the state severance tax on oil and gas.

With a new legislature to convene soon, and indications that lawmakers are seeking any possible place to raise more revenue, independent oil operators and royalty owners are calling on them to try other means. They say the tax base should be diversified, rather than to return to the oil and gas operators for more revenue.

Speaker Pro Tempore Hugh Berlanga (D - Corpus Christi) continues to urge his colleagues to recognize the realities of the Texas economy and seek new ways of financing state government.

Farmer's Income Tax Workshops To Be Jan. 10

Two farmer's income tax workshops will be held at the Eastland National Bank Community Room Thursday, January 10, according to County Extension Agent Demarquis Gordon.

The first workshop will be held in the afternoon beginning at 1:30 p.m. The workshop will be repeated at 7:00 p.m. for the benefit of those who can not attend during the afternoon.

It is that time of the year again when farmers and ranchers are getting their records together for income tax reporting. The Extension Service will conduct the workshop to help farmers and ranchers understand changes in the 1984 tax laws and provide information that could save money at tax paying time.

Dr. Ashley Lovell, Area Extension Economist, will discuss changes in the 1984 tax laws and answer questions on tax reporting and discuss other tax topics of interest. Farm records will also be discussed.

The workshops have been planned for both the afternoon and evening so that farmers and wives may attend the workshop session that is most convenient.

Everyone is invited to attend session of the workshop which will last about 2 1/2 hours each. The 1984 Farmers Income Tax Guides will be distributed.

4-H Shooting Sports Club

There will be a 4-H Shooting Sports Club Monday, January 7, at the Eastland National Bank starting at 7:00 p.m. Future events will be decided on, including the 1984 Texas 4-H smallbore (.22 caliber) Postal League that will be running February, March, April. If you are not in 4-H but are interested in guns, you are more than welcome to attend. If you are in 4-H, grab a friend and come to the meeting. This should be a step toward a great shooting sports club.

Clothing Workshop

Are you confused about your clothing? Did you look into your closet this morning and nothing looked good for today? If so it could be that you need some help in selecting the right color for you...it might be the cosmetics you choose that just doesn't do something for you...plus many other problems. If you are interested in improving your image then come to the 4-H Clothing Workshop Saturday, January 5th. It will be held at the Texas Electric Reddy Room from 9:30-12:00. We will have four speakers to present excellent presentations on various image topics. The schedule of topics and speakers are:

Cosmetics - Allene Smith

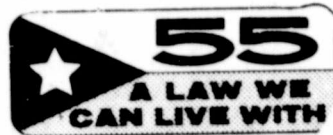

Color Selection - Darla Cagle
Hair and Accessories - Sherry Arther
Presenting Yourself - Laura Cox

This will be an exciting experience and during some presentations the audience will be asked to participate. So come and get involved and learn how to improve yourself for a better image. This is an excellent opportunity for 4-H'ers to begin their Clothing Project for this year. It is open to all youth and adults in 4-H program or interested in the 4-H program. The program is not just for GIRLS, we had 3 young men at the Clothing Workshop...it will be fun!

Fake Subscriptions Sold

According to Dick Chenault, assistant director of the Petroleum Industry Security Council, an expensive and illegal scheme is operating in the states of Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas. An unauthorized representative of a legitimate industry publication is selling fake subscriptions for sums of as much as $500, cashing checks and disappearing. The main targets so far have been independent oil operators. Chenault suggests that if you are approached by someone selling an expensive magazine subscription, call that publication's main office to check on the salesman's authority before allowing your check to clear the bank. If you believe you may have been a victim of such a scam, telephone Chenault in Austin at 1-800-OILCOPS.

Senior Citizens Nutrition Menu

Christmas has come and gone, and so has January 1, but snow and ice has come to replace those days of warmth!

However, we have so much to be thankful for... none of our members were involved in accidents, and only one or two became ill and had to be taken to the hospital.

Now it is time to begin to think about seeing our friends again. So why not call 442-1557 and make a reservation for your luncheon, and let it be a 1985 habit?

The programs for this past week included: Wayne White who sang and lead the members in singing. The dinner music was provided by Lydia Krauskopf, Rozelle Gish and a husband and wife team (Arvella and Roy Speegle). Birthdays and anniversaries were recognized and the Senior Citizens band performed.

The menus for the coming week will be:

Monday-- Beef/gravy, whipped potatoes, greens, pineapple tips, cheese stick, bread butter and milk.

Wednesday-- Ham, lima beans, tomatoes, & okra, fruit, cornbread, butter and milk.

Friday-- Shepherd's pie/beef, mustard greens, succotash, gingerbread, bread, butter and milk.

Firemen Answer Two Alarms Here

The Cisco Volunteer Fire Department answered two alarms on Thursday, Jan. 2, to put out blazes at mobile homes, according to a report by Fireman David Gill.

A trailer owned by Coy Green at 300 East 21st Street had minor damage in a blaze that was reported at 10:20 a.m. Firemen went to the Chapman trailer at 504 East 14th Street at 9:20 p.m. where a minor blaze was under control when they arrived.

Cisco Man Shot At By Motorist

A Cisco man who stopped to help a stranded motorist left the scene in the 1000 block of Humble Avenue Wednesday night with bullets flying in his direction, according to a Cisco Police Department report.

Chief Billy Rains said the man whose name was withheld had agreed to use jumper cables to help the stranded motorist. When the man in the stranded car pulled a gun, the other fled in his pickup. There were three bullet holes in the tailgate, Chief Rains said.

Police were investigating the incident.

Chief Rains said the police department was also investigating a break-in at Oscar's Barbecue last Wednesday night. The burglars entered the building by breaking a back window. Missing was a brisket roast that was being cooked, Chief Rains said.

City police arrested one man for driving while intoxicated and another for public intoxication during the New Year's holidays.

TEXAS WINTER - Cisco residents are used to seeing cactus throughout this area and snow is not all that uncommon, but the combination of a cactus surrounded by snow creates a pretty scene. This picture does not do justice to the actual scene on Wednesday morning. (staff photo)

CISCO RESIDENTS did not have a white Christmas this year, but snow did fall one week later on New Year's day. The nativity scene at the Redeemer Lutheran Church was surrounded by approximately 2-3 inches of snow Wednesday morning, Jan. 2, when the above photo was taken. (staff photo)

The Bible. It has a lot to offer.

Taxation And Its Costs

After the holidays the subject of taxation comes into our lives again. Much of this taxation is handled by the Eastland County Appraisal District, which presently has a total of eighteen member taxing units. The total levy from these units will be in excess of $6,400,000, probably one of the largest ever for Eastland County.

Occasionally the question comes: What does it cost the County to levy and collect these taxes? Who pays for it?

Each of the taxing units pays a certain amount, with the amount owed by each jurisdiction based upon the percentage resulting from dividing the levy of each individual unit by the total levy of all member tax units for 1984. This method is required by the State Property Tax Code.

Of the member districts, thirteen will have a lower amount due for 1985 than 1984. This is due to the amount of their levy for 1984 compared with what they levied in 1983. The five units that increased their levies for 1984 had an increase in the amount of the budget payment due.

The total 1985 budget allocation for the Eastland County Appraisal District is $252,002, and this will be met by quarterly payments by the various jurisdictions. Eastland County (General) will pay $33,204.72 for 1985, and Eastland County (Road and Bridge) will be $11,322.13. Eastland City will pay $7,544.87. Eastland ISD will pay $42,358.69.

In other parts of the County, Ranger ISD will pay $32,859.23 and Ranger City $4,754.96. Ranger Hospital's part is $3,746.70, while Ranger Junior College will pay $6,468.82.

Over at Cisco, the Cisco ISD will pay $39,953.59, and Cisco City $10,988.98. The Cisco Hospital is levied $5,446.45, and Cisco Junior College $9,476.47.

The Carbon ISD will pay $12,691.25 toward support of the Appraisal District, and Carbon City will pay $67.95. The Gorman ISD will pay $8,371.45, and Gorman City $2,339.53. The South Eastland County Hospital District has the amount to pay of $4,866.10.

Rising Star is portioned out the amount of $13,712.63, and Rising Star City will pay $1,827.46.

It can be seen from these figures that the State has a detailed taxing system in place. Anyone who becomes delinquent for the collecting with provisions on how to pay will find that out very rapidly. And it won't be local lawyers whom you hear from.

Caprice Scott - They Call Her Midoka Now

By Viola Payne
Caprice Scott, a young Special Education teacher who grew up in Ranger, flew in from Kenya, Africa during the Christmas Holidays. She visited her family, the Joe Scotts, then returned to Africa.

She teaches Special Education and other classes in a Mission School in Nairobi, and her weekends are spent working with children in Dagoretti Orphanage. Many of these children are handicapped, were abandoned, and are victims of past malnutrition. They call her "Midoka", meaning "The White Woman".

The first time I saw Caprice Scott was when she had just graduated from Ranger High School, and was preparing to go to College. I was writing a feature story about her many honors in academic work, music, theatrics and dancing. Not to mention that she had won several beauty contests, with her silky blonde hair and radiant smile.

I applauded her desire to work in Special Education, and supposed that after college she would have a good job in some metropolitan classroom. Probably right in Texas.

That first story had the title: "Future Favors

Caprice". But I could hardly foresee that the future for Caprice lay halfway around the world, in a place with such great needs.

If I had really understood, I would not have been surprised last July when I saw Caprice in Ranger and she announced that she was leaving to work in Kenya with a christian group called The Trinity Fellowship.

I asked her to send some pictures of the place where she would be working. Months went by, then she brought them in person during the Holidays. These pictures actually show the children at the Orphanage rather than those at the school. Caprice must be a bright spot in the lives of these children, for she takes them fruits and other things to eat when she goes to work with them.

In Kenya, she says, many of the handicapped children are abandoned. The birth rate in the country is very high - it is considered a status symbol to have large families. Then, too, the practice of polygamy is widespread, and this leads to larger families.

The school where she teaches has 175 children, and living conditions there are reasonably good. Food has been plentiful enough in the city, with plenty of fruits and vegetables and canned foods and frozen meats. The native diet is based a great deal on beans a white maize boiled with water into a mush.

"Kenya has not had the widespread starvation other parts of Africa have experienced," Caprice explains. "Some of the people up country were starving, but about two months ago the rains came, and they were able to raise something to eat."

Kenya, she says, is usually lush and green. The country is about the size of Texas and lies on the Indian Ocean. The equator runs through Kenya, but mountain ranges raise the elevation at Nairobi to 6,000 ft., keeping the climate equitable. The cool months of the year are July and August.

When asked about the differences she found in Kenya, Caprice laughed and said: "Everything is different, including the language. I have learned to speak some Swahili, which is the most commonly used language."

She says that a number of people in Kenya speak some English, since the country used to be an English colony. Since 1963 it has been a self-governing nation - supposed to be a Democracy. A President is at the head of the nation.

Caprice said she had felt very welcome in Kenya, and Americans there are well treated. The country hasn't had the political problems of some other parts of Africa. But one problem many people face is poverty - lack of education, medical care, and enough material things to make life comfortable.

When asked how it felt to come home to Eastland County after living in Kenya since July, Caprice answered softly that she sees home through different eyes now. "We have so much here," she said. "So many things. But I wonder sometimes - do we really know what is important?"

"Of course I think about home often. But my work is very interesting. Kind of hard - but I love it."

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—The governor and the attorney general traveled together last week to tell a Panhandle town citizenry they would fight to stop the federal government from turning a nearby site into an atomic waste dump.

But whether their political promises to a Deaf Smith County primed for fear will ever need to be kept, only time will tell.

The feds will pick the proposed site in 1990, and the Texas site near Hereford is one of the top three locations.

No one in Texas appears to like the federal action, especially since the region around the site is fertile enough to generate yearly some $248 million worth of agriculture products.

The land also sits over the Ogallala Aquifer, a major source for the Panhandle's water supplies. If nuclear contamination made it into the aquifer, opponents fear, the entire region's population could be affected.

The feds plan to actually use the high level radioactive waste dump, whichever site is selected, by 1998.

Texans have a few years ahead of them to convince the federal officials to go elsewhere.

Lawsuit, Veto

But Gov. Mark White and Attorney General Jim Mattox, perhaps the best pair of campaigners in the Lone Star State, haven't missed this excellent opportunity to step to the fore.

Mattox has filed a lawsuit challenging the method which picked the site. White promises to use state veto power to stop the dump.

Under federal law, the state selected for the waste burial site can refuse it, but Congress can override the veto.

To Back Down?

That means the responsibility for making a Texas veto stick lies with the Texas congressional delegation, and not really with the Texas Legislature or its executive branch.

But White, a Democrat who campaigned staunchly against Reagan, has seized this moment as an entry for Democrats back into the Panhandle which has lately voted increasingly Republican.

The political furor, plus a large Texas voting population and a large Texas delegation in Congress, may cause the U.S. Department of Energy to pick on another state with less clout and back down on the Texas site.

Galveston Beach

Mattox scored a victory in the courtroom last week when a state district judge ruled he had the authority to confiscate property of Galveston beach-front owners after Hurricane Alicia shifted their property lines.

The land once owned by over 250 private citizens is ruled to be now in the public domain, which by law is the area between the existing natural vegetation line and the mean low tide line.

Mattox had sued to stop property owners from rebuilding homes on what is now state land because the hurricane changed the shore line.

Pesticide Confrontation

Texas Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower has modified his controversial new pesticide regulations, but the state's largest farm group, the Texas Farm Bureau, wants to investigate whether he has stayed within his authority.

His final version, modified after complaints from some agriculture groups, was released last week and will go into effect Jan. 21. Hightower's goal is to protect farmworkers who might unknowingly enter fields too soon following pesticide applications.

A spokeswoman for the United Farm Workers Union said union members will monitor treated fields for compliance and report findings to Hightower in three months.

Parole Returns

A study made public last week by the Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles indicates about 16 percent of the convicts paroled under a new scoring system were returned to prison within a year.

The system, called the Pablo plan, tries to identify inmates who have the best chances of keeping their paroles.

The 16 percent is about the same rate as in past years.

Parting Advice

The warden of a women's prison unit in Gatesville is retiring at 70, but said the court-ordered reforms, not her age, was the main factor.

Lucile Plane said that new rules and regulations on how male and female inmates must be treated have created problems, and she thinks that women inmates shouldn't have been brought into the lawsuit which sparked the reforms.

The abuses cited in male prison units—widespread brutality and housing and medical conditions—were not present in women's units.

Short Takes

Gov. Mark White plans to meet in New Orleans on January 17 with other Gulf Coast governors for discussions on the growing drug problem.

Recent gubernatorial appointments include: Menton Murray Jr., Brownsville, 357th District Judge; Charles W. Barrow, Waco, Texas Judicial Council.

After Legislators met with the Corrections Corp. Of America, Nashville, on the possible use of private prisons, Gov. White defended his closed-door meetings on the subject which included talks with Merrill Lynch Pierce Fenner & Smith on financing.

Rep. J. W. Buchanan, D-Dumas, has pre-filed HJR 14 which would amend the Constitution to require elections on proposed constitutional amendments to be held on the November general election date.

News From The Center

By Mae Green

The month of December was filled with activities. Many visitors came from far and near to visit. The residents got a chance to see family members that they hadn't seen for a long time.

The monthly birthday party was hosted by the Pleasant Hill Homemakers Club. Birthday honorees were: Robert Andrews, Frank Coats, Ida Shaefer, Eunice McCrary, Eva Dell Moore, Hetti Lacy, Daisy Steel, Lou Hoag, Emory Hallmark, Velma Holdrige, and Willie Mae Kent. Bo Bo presented each honoree a balloon.

A special thanks to the Pleasant Hill Club for decorating the Center for Christmas. Mrs. Sally Hounshell and other ladies along with the Brownie Troop, put decorations on each door, while singing Christmas Carols. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Beavers (the one man band) also visited the center. He played many of the residents favorite waltz tunes.

Other groups visiting the center were the Promise Kids and Freedom Flight. People like all of you make life at the Nursing home a little brighter.

We thank the V.F.W. Club for the fruit that they brought the residents for Christmas. Also other groups that brought goodies to the residents for Christmas.

We appreciate the 20th Century Club, Corinth Baptist Church and individual persons for gifts brought to the Nursing Home for residents who would not have had anything under the tree, had it not been for you. Beautiful flowers were sent from the Kimbroughs, the Chambers, R.C.G. Leasing, and the Potting Shed. Thanks to all of you for your kindness.

The staff Christmas party was a success. Many employees and their families enjoyed smoked turkey, ham, with all the trimmings. Tommie and Wade Seals entertained the group with songs, climaxed by Judge Jasper Cooks performance. If you haven't seen him perform you have missed a treat.

The residents Christmas party was the best one we have had yet. The families and volunteers baked cookies and served every one cookies and punch. After everyone had been served, we went to the activities room where Santa passed out gifts, assisted by many helpers.

Pastors scheduled to visit the church on Sundays were Buddy Sipe, First Baptist, John Clinton Evangelical Methodist, Philip Smith, Nazarene, Ronnie Shackelford, Calvary Baptist, and the First Christian Church.

Thanks to everyone for helping to make 1984 a better year for the residents.

From all of us to all of you Happy New Year.

People n Things

HOW WOULD YOU like to meet up with the car that you drove from 1942 to 1949 and take a ride in it?

That's what Col. Melvin Lawson of Arlington, Va., did in Abilene the other day. Col. Lawson and his wife Dolly flew in last week for a holiday visit in the Cisco home of his sister, the E.D. Andersons, and seeing his old car was a bonus for the last day of 1984.

In 1942, Col. Lawson was bought a Lincoln Continental that was a very nice car that year. He kept it through WWII and, after the war ended, he was ordered by the U.S. Army to Paris, France, for three years. He had the car shipped there and back to the USofA in 1949. Back home, Col. Lawson decided it was time to trade cars.

A couple of years ago, Col. Lawson had retired and decided to see if he could locate the old car. From Washington, D.C., where he traded it, he learned the car had been owned by collector's of classic cars in Tennessee, North Carolina, and finally in Abilene, Texas.

Going to Abilene, Col. Lawson found the car at the place of business of SW Motors, owned by Wendell Mathis. And Mr. Mathis was near the end of a restoration job on the car. He took Col. and Mrs. Lawson for a ride in it.

Mr. Mathis told Col. Lawson that he is a classic car collector and regularly attends meetings of auto collectors. The old car looks no worse for its years, runs good and seems ready for more good years, the former Ciscoan found.

Col. Lawson finished high school in Cisco and went to Texas A&M University where he graduated as an electrical engineer. After a year of working for Humble Oil, he went into the U.S. Army and served with distinction for some 30 years, retiring as a full colonel. He met his wife while in Australia.

A LETTER FROM Mr. Joe Hanna of Breckenridge noted that he was retiring as a member of the Texas Legislature after some five terms in office. He did not seek re-election.

"With my term drawing to a close, I have been thinking of those who have been helpful to me," he wrote. "I shall always remember this help and encouragement through the years. This made serving the people of the district an enjoyable time."

As you know, Mr. Hanna represented Eastland County for several terms before a re-districting placed our county in another district. He did a fine job for which we are all grateful.

THERE WILL be an announcement early in the coming week about a new coach for Cisco Junior College. A successor to Bob Keyes is being named and a new man on the coaching staff will be revealed. The official board of the Hilton Mobley was scheduled to meet Friday morning to go over final architect's drawings for the restoration project and legal details. Glad to hear that Mr. O.L. Stamey, who has been out at E.L. Graham Hospital for several days, is on the mend. A goodly crowd of friends and neighbors enjoyed the open house at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Ayres Cermin just before Christmas. All of the Cermin children were home for the holidays. The Cermins did not make their usual snow skiing trip to Colorado this holiday season.

CISCO LIONS Club members gave a Christmas turkey to the S. Lopez family on Dec. 23rd and Christmas was nice at the Lopez family on Dec. 23rd and Christmas was nice at the Lopez home, our scouts report. Olney Savings arranged for members of the Cisco Volunteer Fire department to deliver a can of blackeye peas to every home in Cisco in time for the New Year's Day dinner table. Eighty cases of peas were distributed, reports Manager Patsy Hogan. The OS folks also gave out 25 cases of delicious apples to callers during the holiday season. Mr. John McGuire, local investment broker, spent Christmas week in bed with virus problems. It wasn't until Dec. 27th that he was able to eat Christmas dinner at their home. The McGuires' daughter, Charlotte, of Telluride, Colo., spent the holidays with them at their Lake Cisco home.

CJC BAND Director Tim Jones' New Year's resolution was to stop smoking. The Audie Woolleys of San Antonio (where he's in medical school) spent part of the holiday season in Cisco with his parents, the Dick Woolleys. And Audie and his missus went to Colorado for some snow skiing before resuming his studies. Holiday visitors in the home of the Bob Connors were Mrs. C's children and families, the Ronny Powelsons of Odessa and the Danny Fraziers of Mesquite. A nice crowd enjoyed the New Year's Eve party sponsored by the Civic League at the Cisco Country Club. Music for dancing was recordings played by a San Angelo radio station disc jockey. Breakfast was served to conclude the party.

OLD SANTA Claus brought Bill Austin, Jr., the CofC's new president, a con skin cap for Christmas. Bill didn't wear it when he went out hunting after receiving the cap. Folks might mistake it for something to shoot at. You'll be pleased to hear that Mr. Wallace Johnston of our town is out of Baylor Hospital and at the home of son Don in Big D while undergoing out-patient treatment. Steve Bailey of Austin visited home folks for Christmas weekend. Her friends are watching to see if Mrs. Morgan (Marilyn) Fleming rides the bicycle that Santa brought her to work at Dean Drug.

LOCAL FOLKS report about attending a holiday open house at the home of an Abilene Texas A&M graduate. All during the afternoon a tape of the Uoff-A&M football game was played with the sound very low.

Folks not particularly interested in the Aggies left early, our scout reported. The Steve Jeans of Big D were holiday visitors in the home of her mother, Mrs. Louise Cooper.

MARY CAREY, Alaska writer de luxe, left Thursday for her home at Talkeetna after a holiday season visit in Houston with her daughter, Jean, and family and in Cisco with sisters Lela Lloyd and Annie Rendall.

Mrs. Carey's daughter and son, Joe Richardson, came to Cisco the day after Christmas and picked up Mrs. Carey for a trip to Las Vegas where Joe took part in a bicycle event. (You'll read about this in a Viola Payne story elsewhere.) The Houston folks came back here and started home to Houston on Wednesday. They got snowbound at Temple and had to stay there until Thursday.

Mrs. Carey, who is the author of several books, is working on two more. She expects to finish "Texas Bad Boys, a 'as told to me by Clyde McCormick" interview, about Outlaws Bonnie and Clyde. The other books is entitled "Alaska Is—" and it's all about the unusual things you'll run into when and if you visit there.

OLD SANTA was on the ball and found City Manager Mike Moore and wife and two sons up in Amarillo. They spent the holidays and a week's vacation there with his parents. It was a nice Christmas, he reports.
