Cisco Jr. College Wranglers To Play Kilgore JC In Kilgore Saturday Night

The 1986 homecoming for ex-students of Cisco Junior College ended on a high note Saturday as their Wranglers scored an impressive 20-to-11 triumph over Navarro JC of Corsicana in a conference football game at Chealey Field. The Wranglers, who are now 2-1 in conference and 5-2 for the year, continue conference play this week when they play Kilgore JC's Rangers in Kilgore Saturday night. The Navarro game was the final home appearance for the Wranglers this season as they go to Kilgore, Brenham (Blinn) and Breckenridge (Ranger) for their last three games.

The passing of David Dacus, sophomore quarterback from Kingsville, featured Cisco's win over Navarro. He completed 18 of 35 passes for 332 yards and one touchdown. The Wranglers had 134 yards rushing to give them a total of 466 yards in offense.

Dacus was named the CJC's team top offensive player, while defensive "well done's" were voted to Linebacker Darnell Pratt, sophomore from Baltimore, Md., and Defensive Lineman Jerry Childress, freshman from Belton. Other top defenders included Andre Horton, Lance Wiley, Mark White, John Langillotti, David Cox, Frank Habecker and Sam Dudley.

The Wranglers came through the game without a disabling injury.

Penalties were almost disastrous for Cisco. Officials dropped flags 15 times and walked off a total of 125 yards against Cisco, nullifying at least two touchdowns.

The Wranglers scored a touchdown on their first possession but it was called back for a penalty. When the drive stalled, Eric Edwards was called on for a field goal that was good as the only first quarter score. Edwards had another field goal attempt blocked in the period.

Soon after the second quarter began, Cisco got possession and Dacus passed 32 yards to Back James Dixon to midfield. Dixon then got loose for 39 yards. Three plays later, Dixon drove into the end zone for a touchdown and Edwards converted.

Late in the period, Cisco drove to the Navarro 25 and with :06 left Edwards hit a field goal from 33 yards out to give the Wranglers a 13-to-0 half-time lead.

The third quarter was scoreless with the two teams exchanging punts four times. Opening the final period, Navarro began a drive that carried to the Cisco 18. On fourth down, Albert Hartfield kicked a field goal to put his team on the scoreboard.

The Wranglers took the kickoff and Dacus passed to End Leslie DeHorney for 75 yards and a touchdown. Edwards kicked the extra point to increase Cisco's lead to 20-to-3.

Late in the game, Cisco got possession deep in their territory and Navarro's Danny Richardson intercepted a pass and stepped into the end zone for a touchdown. A try for two points failed.

Moments later, Cisco Punter Edwards dropped back to kick on fourth down. The ball sailed over his head into the end zone for a Navarro safety and two points—the game's final score.

Statistics were as follows: First downs, Cisco 20, Navarro 12; passes, Cisco 18 of 35 with 2 interceptions, Navarro 5 of 15 with 2 interceptions; yards gained passing, Cisco 332, Navarro 66; yards gained rushing, Cisco 171, Navarro 122; punts, Cisco 5 for 34, Navarro 8 for 39; penalties, Cisco 15 for 125, Navarro 4 for 40; fumbles lost, Cisco 1, Navarro 2.

Score by quarters:
Cisco 3 10 0 7 -20
Navarro 0 0 0 11 -11

Continental Singers & Orchestra To Perform

The Continental Singers and Orchestra, a worldwide contemporary Christian musical group, will be performing their dynamic new program "All Over the World - Let Them See Jesus" this coming Tuesday, Nov. 4, at 7:30 p.m. at First Baptist Church in Cisco.

Featuring 25 vocalists and 10-piece orchestra, the Continentals' program is an energetic look at the command of Christ to "go into all the world and make disciples." It contains songs by some of today's foremost Christian composers and arrangers designed to challenge the audience and motivate them to take action in sharing their faith. Ken Waggoner, Executive Vice President of Continental Ministries, explains that "ALL OVER THE WORLD" is a "musical 'Great Commission'." We are expected by God to take the gospel to the world and reach people one by one. It can start right here with our neighbors and extend out to people in the most obscure parts of the earth.

The concert reflects that viewpoint as it encourages Christians to open their hearts to "a world in need of the answers only Jesus Christ can supply." Waggoner speaks adamantly, "If we truly believe what we say we believe, then we must tell others about Him."

Now in their 19th year of operations, The Continental Singers will send out 18 tours to take this message to all 50 states and approximately 32 countries throughout the world.

The Continentals are well known for utilizing a variety of musical styles to convey their theme. This year's program will incorporate a contemporary approach with bright arrangements and strong lyrical content. Waggoner promises that it will "cause people to sit up and take notice. We want them to be moved and motivated."

For those interested in touring with The Continentals as vocalists, instrumentalists, or technicians, auditions will be held after the concert.

Joe and Frank McCollum and Barbara Ann McCollum accepted the Texas Family Land Heritage certificate for the Jo-Bar Farm and Ranch founded in Eastland County in 1884 from Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower at the October 15 ceremony at the Lyndon B. Johnson Auditorium in Austin. This is the thirteenth year of the Texas Department of Agriculture's program which honors properties that have been maintained in continuous agricultural production for 100 years or more by one family.

13th Annual Family Land Heritage Program

AUSTIN—"Not only are we here to recognize the past achievements of the state's family farm system, but also to help assure a future for such families. Farm families are our nation's seed corn, and we need to protect and nurture the family farm system so it remains vibrant and productive for us for centuries further down the road," Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower said today.

Hightower made the comments at the LBJ Library, where the Texas Department of Agriculture held its 13th Annual Family Land Heritage Program. One hundred eighty-five Texas farm and ranch families—the largest number since 1975 and the third largest number ever recognized in a single year by TDA's Family Land Heritage Program—were honored for keeping their land in continuous agricultural production for 100 years or more.

Four of the honored properties are older than Texas, having been established prior to 1836.

The oldest property recognized this year is the Winfree Ranch of Orange County, founded by Abraham Winfree in 1831. In Austin today to accept the Family Land Heritage recognition from TDA was the current owner, Lester Winfree.

Since it was started by TDA in 1974, the Texas Family Land Heritage Program gram has now recognized 2,089 family farms and ranches for 100 or more years of continuous agricultural production.

"Now think about that for a moment," Hightower said. "Go out on the streets of Austin, Dallas, Houston or any place in the state—few of the businesses you see have made it to their tenth anniversary, much less have been able to celebrate a century of enterprise. The achievement of these productive agricultural families is remarkable indeed."

Each of the 185 honored families received a special gate sign designating their property as a "Texas Century Farm" or "Texas Century Ranch." The 12-inch by 18-inch metal sign, bearing the seal of the State of Texas, certifies that the property has been maintained in continuous operation for more than 100 years by the same family. The signs can be posted on gates or fences, making the Family Land Heritage recognition known to neighbors and passers-by.

Honorees will also receive a Family Land Heritage Certificate. The four farm and ranch families who have maintained their property for more than 150 years will receive a certificate of "Special Sesquicentennial Recognition" from TDA. Each of the properties will also be included in the 1986 edition of TDA's Family Land Heritage Registry, which includes a written history and photographs of each of the honored farm and ranch families.

"But it's much more than historic property that we salute today," Hightower said. "Really what we're talking about are people—hard working efficient, productive, innovative, creative people. There are people of every ethnic background—German, Czechoslovakian, Italian, Black, Mexican-American, right on down the list. These are solid people who are living, productive symbols of an entrepreneurial unit that is our lifeblood in this state and in this country—the family farm and ranch. Better than 15 million Texans, 250 million Americans and a good portion of the rest of the world count on the very people we are honoring today to put three 'squares' a day on the table for us. It's hard to get along without that."

"Yet, too often we as a larger public have taken dinner for granted. We've kind of been like hogs rooting for acorns under an oak tree, never bothering to look up to see where it is these acorns are coming from, or to worry about whether the tree itself is healthy. Now we must be concerned about this, because the tree is endangered.

"The price-busting, surplus-creating, tax-eating farm policies we're now living under are crushing the life out of America's rural economy," Hightower said. "Under this misguided federal legislation, farm prices are at historic lows, and farm bankruptcies are at historic heights; surpluses are so large we don't have room to store them, and exports continue to plummet; taxpayers' costs have skyrocketed, and farm-related employment is in the dumps; farm debt is disastrously high, and farm equity is disastrously low."

"The results are devastating. Texas could lose 20 percent of its farmers and ranchers this year. This loss will be most serious among those 60,000 full-time commercial operators in our state who struggle to derive their living from the land. It's not just that we expect to 'expel' more than 10,000 Texas farmers and ranchers from their livelihood in 1986, but that expect to lose our very best farmers—the ones we count upon to put three square meals a day on our tables.

"All of us in Texas, especially urban consumers, must take note of this crisis and view today's Family Land Heritage celebration as more than a ceremony. The state of Texas must rededicate itself to the family farm and ranch system, and we as a people must join in the search for solutions that allow families such as these being recognized today to continue doing what they do best, so that future generations of Americans can benefit from the efficiency and productivity of their heirs.

"Nor is it a matter of just appreciating Texas farmers and ranchers, but relying on them. Our state's greatest wealth is not in the oil and gas wells; it is not in the high-tech industries that are coming into this state; it is not in the giant bank towers that dominate our urban skyline. Rather, it is in the land, the water, the sun and the people who feed us—these people we are honoring today. They are the difference between our being a well-fed country and being a hungry country. That is why we salute them today," Hightower said.

The families and their guests at the LBJ Library also viewed the "Texas Family Land Heritage Sesquicentennial Touring Exhibit." The exhibit is co-sponsored by TDA, Central Freight Lines, Lufkin Industries, and the Texas

Motor Transportation Association. Throughout this anniversary year, the 18-wheel tractor-trailer rig has been traveling to livestock shows, county fairs, schools, courthouses, shopping malls, local Sesquicentennial events, and TDA special showings across the state, providing millions of Texans with an instant opportunity to learn more about the state's diverse farm and ranch heritage.

The qualifications for TDA's Family Land Heritage Program are quite specific: the land must have been in continuous agricultural production since 1886; the owners must reside in Texas and actively manage and direct the daily operations; and the land cannot have been leased to someone outside the family. TDA is the final judge on all entries.

Families who believe they will qualify for the program in 1987 will be able to obtain application forms from their county judge, county historical commission, their nearest TDA district office, or by writing the Family Land Heritage Program, Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, TX 78711.

Applications will be available in mid-1987 with next year's Family Land Heritage recipients to be honored at a ceremony in Austin next fall.

LOSING

YOU WILL HEAR A LOT FROM THE SO-CALLED CONVENIENCE BANKERS ABOUT PROPOSITION FOUR BUT YOU PROBABLY WILL NOT HEAR THIS:

The big banks of Texas hope to create a bank monopoly of your region. Proposition Four has disguised branch banking as "full service banking." Whatever they call it — branch banking is a bad idea for Texas, and Texas will end up footing the bill for the big Texas bank holding companies to get bigger.

You especially don't want this to happen now since the Texas Legislature just passed a law permitting the large banks of New York City to purchase some or all of the large Texas bank holding companies. Not only can this legally happen now, but it is almost certain to take place in the immediate future.

For all these years, Texans have never wanted or allowed the big banks of New York City to own and control the Texas Banking Industry. We are sure that this position by the people of Texas still has never changed.

Halloween History

Parties, black cats and witches haunting to-house while O'Lanterns with candle-lit eyes.

Nowadays, it's just for fun. Merely make-believe, nothing more. But it hasn't always been so. No, not at all.

It began long ago, in a darker age, when simpler folk with simpler ways huddled in horror on Halloween. And only a stout cottage or roaring fire meant safety from a cold touch or things that bump in the night...

To the ancient Celts of Britain, nearly 3,000 years ago, the waning of the harvest moon marked not only a new year but the start of winter, season of cold and darkness. So it was, that mighty and terrible Samhain, Celtic lord of darkness, took Halloween as his feast day.

Samhain celebrated, the Celts believed, by releasing the souls of all dead in a night-long reprieve to moan, wail and visit among the living.

Fearing a macabre family reunion, the Celts fled their homes at nightfall after decorating their hovels to placate their ghostly kin. Sheaves and gourds from the new harvest were signs that the household prospered. And mementos of those passed on were signs that the dead were yet remembered and revered.

The living then huddled until dawn around great fires built by their druids, or priests. In the sanctuary of those Halloween bonfires, the druids foretold event and led the tribes in prayers for leniency from Samhain.

Samhain, meanwhile, convened his minions to plot their black schemes and choose their carnate forms for the coming year. The forms were usually those of animals, and it is from this belief that the aura of the black cat arises.

The black cat was sacred to Samhain. Its silhouette adorned his coat-of-arms, and only his evillest demons were allowed to take its shape. Thus, the Celts gave black cats a wide berth and shuddered should one cross their paths.

After the Romans conquered Britain around 45 B.C., their autumn festival of Pomona, goddess of the orchard, was incorporated into the Halloween of the conquered Celts. The Roman game of bobbing for apples on Pomona's feast day remains a staple of modern Halloween parties.

Despite the advent of Christianity in the fourth century, peasants of the old civilizations clung stubbornly to their old beliefs. Christian doctrine was often synthesized with pagan ritual.

In time, Samhain took on horns and a tail. He no longer reigned over all dead souls but held only a minor demomship over the eternally damned. Black cats became familiars of witches. Bonfires gave way to night-long masses for the dead.

The Church, too, played part in this melding of old beliefs and new, though for different reasons. The Vatican hoped, in time, to diminish pagan holidays by supplanting them with Christian ones. Thus, in the ninth century, Pope Gregory IV declared November 1 to All Saints, or All Hallows. And October 31 became "Hallowe'en," from All Hallows Eve.

The middle ages not only gave Halloween its name, this period also gave Halloween its most enduring tradition.

Trick-Or-Treat sprang from the medieval belief that, on the night preceding All Hallows, witches, demons and condemned spirits roamed the earth, terrifying the righteous and playing cruel tricks.

To protect their homes, people left sweets and newly-harvested fruits as bribes at their doors. And those who had to venture out on All Hallows disguised themselves in grotesque costumes, allowing them, so they thought, to move undetected among the horrors walking the night.

And while they were out, they seized the opportunity to do bothersome neighbors a little mischief and help themselves to the goodies on the doorsteps.

Jack O'Lantern's familiar face also first appeared in the middle ages. Legend held that an ancient nightwatchman named Jack sold his soul to the devil, and then won it back in some underhanded game of chance. When he died, Jack was denied entrance into heaven for being a miser. O' Scratch still bore a grudge and wouldn't let Jack into hell, either. So Jack still wanders in All Hallows, toting his watchman's lantern till Judgement Day.

With the Anglo settlement of North America in the late 1500s, many settlers brought their Halloween traditions along to the new world. In the 1600s, Halloween celebrations all but vanished from England and North America with the arrival of Puritanism and strict taboos against celebrations of any kind. And with the greater horrors of the witch trials, for the strict puritans, Halloween traditions walked to thin a line to outlawed sorcery and paganism.

Halloween remained popular as ever in Scotland and Ireland, however. And waves of Scottish and Irish immigrants to the United States in the 1800s revived the celebrations.

And, as with all things American, our modern Halloween has since been flavored and spiced with dashes of different cultures. Autumn barn parties from

D.P.S. Halloween Safety Rules

Halloween is a time of fun and great excitement for youngsters of all ages. Unfortunately, each year, it results in injury and, occasionally, death for some. Captain G.J. Matthews, Commander of the Texas Highway Patrol for the Abilene District of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said, "If parents will do some planning and closely supervise their children's activities on Halloween night, many of these injuries could be avoided."

He said, "First, the trick or treaters should be dressed in white or light-colored clothing. Don't put a child out on the streets in a black or dark-colored costume unless it has reflective tape on it. The children should be instructed not to sample any

France and Germany are particularly popular in New England and the Midwest. And from the wheatlands of Eastern Europe came the hayrides, with young lovers snuggling in the discreet straw under a full harvest moon.

And, of course, bonfires still burn on Halloween. And sheaves and gourds still decorate homes. And people disguise themselves in costumes, and so on and so forth.

But, as for those silly ancestral superstitions, those long-forgotten fears? Poppycock, of course. Ghosts. Bah. Black cats. Hah.

No one believes in those things anymore. Do they? Hmmmm?

of the candy until they return home. The treats should be carefully inspected to insure, as best you can, that it is safe to eat. If you have any doubts about any of it, it should be discarded. Wash all fruit and slice it into small sections to insure nothing has been embedded into it."

Captain Matthews strongly urged parents to remind their children of all the pedestrian safety rules they should observe while trick or treating and to furnish them a flashlight to use. He also suggested to use facial makeup instead of having them wear a mask since a mask severely reduces their ability to see.

He suggested to go only to homes where the porch light is on and where you, as parents, know they are welcome. "If we confine a child's trick or treating activity to our own neighborhood, where we know the residents, we would know the treats are safe."

"Drivers have a special problem on Halloween night, also," Captain Matthews said. "They have to be alert for trick or treaters and remember, in a child's excitement, they are likely to forget to look before crossing streets. If drivers would drive as if their child was out trick or treating, we could avoid the vehicle-pedestrian accidents on Halloween."

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER

By Michael A. Guido, Metter, Georgia

Greatness does not consist in reducing others to your service, but in reducing yourself to their service.

Napoleon made himself the master of France by fighting men. Pasteur made himself the servant of France by fighting malaria.

Mussolini swayed Italy by his electrifying speeches, but he was dishonored.

Marconi served Italy by his electrical skill, and is honored.

But it is not the possession of extraordinary talents that makes extraordinary usefulness. It is the wholehearted dedication of what you have to the service of God.

It was Hudson Taylor who said, "A small circle of usefulness is not to be despised. A light which does not shine beautifully around the family table at home is not fit to rush a long way off to do a great service elsewhere."

Our Lord said, "Who-soever will be chief among you, let him be your servant. The Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give His life a ransom for many."

Homecoming activities began on the campus at the college with the judging of the dormitories that were decorated for the weekend program. The judges, including Mesdames Joe Wheatley and George Owens and J. W. Sifton, awarded a trophy to Bivins Hall that used a Hallowe'en theme in their decorations. A second place trophy went to Wrangler Hall.

Parents Day and homecoming visitors were honored at a reception at Homecoming activities began with a bonfire and pep rally on college hill Friday night. A dance at the Student Union Building was the concluding event Saturday night.

I foresee a lot of serious problems facing County Government in the next few years. State and Federal funds are being cut or eliminated and additional drops in the price of oil will cut tax bases resulting in additional revenues having to be made up somewhere. The retired and older taxpayer can ill afford additional taxes and certainly the small businessman is overtaxed now.

Costly new programs may be in the works in the next few years with the county forced to fund them. Your county commissioner must be on top of these changes to keep the county's programs and operations moving with the least amount of expenditures possible. Of course this must be done with sound business policies.

The recently mandated "Indigent Care Law" that was forced upon the counties will be another area that needs close supervision by the County Commissioner, otherwise I see our taxes continuing to soar.

I came up with a good excuse to give John Clinton, the pastor of the church where I attend, as to why I was not there Sunday evening.

I was walking out our front door with my daughter Teresa to go to church and when we got to the car, we started smelling a skunk very strong. Teresa looked back toward the house and saw one start running away from the house about two feet from the front door.

When we got in the car, I kept smelling the strong skunk order and when we picked up Mrs. Dollie Cooper she commented about how strong the order was.

I finally figured out that I had been sprayed on the foot by a skunk. So I went home and told Herrel (he thought it was hilarious), and he said that I needed to wash my foot in tomato juice to get rid of the smell. Give me a break! I was just sprayed and now he wants me to do something that's really weird.

By the way Coast soap works just as well as tomato juice and the floor cleaner Top Job works very well on high heels to get rid of the order.

I now make sure I look out in the yard before I step out at night. And after I told John what happened he thanked me for not going to church that night.

How to influence an 18-year-old.

MUSIC. Discuss current trends with your son as his stereo blasts away at full power. Drop the following names: "The Boss," New Edition, Rush. The rest of the time just mumble.

SPORTS CAR. So what if he can't pronounce Porsche? Give in and buy him a sports car. That will get his attention.

SPORTS. Gain his undying love by repairing the garage basketball backboard and adding overhead lighting for night games.

NEW THREADS. You've heard of "Dress for Success?" Well, today it's "Dress to Excess." Close your eyes and buy him a new wardrobe.

POST OFFICE. The post office isn't really an influence, it's a destination—within a month of every male's 18th birthday. Here he must register with Selective Service. However, some young men put off registering, and a few decide not to register at all. That's why we're making this direct appeal to you. We need you to help influence your son to register—and to do so on time. You see, registration is the law. And, it's required for federal student loans, federal employment and job training benefits. Don't let a young man you know miss out on any federal or state benefits. Make sure he knows about registering with Selective Service. A complete registration list saves our country six vital weeks in mobilizing our manpower in a national emergency.

Selective Service Registration.
It's Quick. It's Easy. And it's the Law.

The City of Cisco reminds all residents that the city's voluntary water conservation is still in effect.

The voluntary water conservation program means that watering is restricted to two days a week, Tuesday and Saturday, from 1 a. m.

until 12 noon.

Mr. Moore asked that people of Cisco work together in order to conserve our resource of water. He added that the city looks very badly upon flagrant violators of the voluntary water conservation program.

THE TASK OF recruiting folks to help keep the Mobley Hilton Hotel open on Saturdays and Sunday afternoons for the benefit of visitors who would like to tour the restored historical site is coming along nicely. That's the report of Mrs. Kitty McCracken, chairman.

They've received calls from a goodly number of individuals who are volunteering to help. Plans this week called for letters to go out to clubs and churches asking them to help by assuming responsibility one weekend a quarter, Mrs. McC reported. Two-hour tours of duty were taken last Saturday by Ann Adams and J.D. Yardley, Helen Kilgore and Nita Harrison, and Lillian Bradshaw and Polly Wright. Twenty-five or more out-of-town folks toured the building. Grace Mizell and Idella Taylor kept the Mobley open Sunday afternoon with a good turn-out.

THEY'RE MOVING equipment and props and the like from the Laguna Roof Garden to the Mobley Hilton these days in preparations for the first performance next month by the Cisco Junior College Dinner Theater in the new location. And it's quite a moving job, reports Chairman Wyley Peebles of the CJC Music Department. You'll be hearing and reading more about the first program and you'll want to get your reservation made for the show.

OUR SCOUTS report that Mr. Tracy Owens, son of the George Owensens, recently took and passed all sections of the state exam for Certified Public Accountants. Passing all sections for the first time they're taken is pretty unusual, our scout said.

Tracy, who works for a Dallas firm of CPAs, has been working in Abilene on a special audit for his company for a couple of weeks or so. He is a graduate of Baylor University, finishing there last spring.

ATTENDING THE reception for CJC homecoming visitors at Maner Memorial Library last weekend, we enjoyed looking over the paintings by Artists Stubblefield and Cadenhead on display there during October. The two lady artists live in Brownwood and most of their work on display is portraits.

Understand the two ladies are good friends and have met once a week for over five years to study and paint together. You'll enjoy seeing the good assortment of their paintings.

THE FOOTBALL game that climaxed homecoming day for CJC Exes attracted a good crowd. In pre-game ceremonies, they introduced members of the board of regents and the parents of players and band and Belle members. Mrs. Jean Reichling of Philadelphia, Pa., mother of Wrangler Footballer Ken Reichling, was introduced and folks sang "Happy Birthday" to her. The Band and Belles presented an outstanding half-time show. The Wrangler Band is a 45-member group directed by Tim Jones and the 32-member Belle squad is directed by Nicki Harle. Navarro JC's band and drill team also made a nice half-time appearance. The pre-game invocation was given by Cheryl Romo, sophomore student and secretary of the CJC Student Body. Daryl Underwood, sophomore student from Eastland, led the singing of the national anthem.

A LADY WE know brushed her teeth before going to bed the other night. Then, she picked up a bottle to gargle. Spitting out the liquid, she tasted to herself, "My, that tasted awful." She looked at the bottle and learned that she had gargled with Windex.

We told her we'd try to keep her name out of the newspaper for an apple pie. Don't you think that's a fair offer?

MRS. LUCY Collier, who works as a dormitory supervisor at Cisco Junior College, suffered a broken left wrist in a fall out there last Saturday. She was taken to an Abilene specialist after receiving emergency treatment here. She's back at her dormitory apartment and doing as nicely as you can with a wrist in a cast. Mrs. Kenda Kiehm, wife of the Methodist minister, and Mrs. Phyllis Culp, who works at the Callarman Insurance Agency, are look-alikes. The First Baptist Church softball team won the recently completed league race and the handsome trophy they won was presented to the congregation by Coach Cam Webb last Sunday.

WHAT'S GOING ON with all the construction on 9th Street. We asked a telephone man, and he explained that SWBell is replacing an underground cable that will add to their ability to serve more customers with straight-line phones to the west and south.

A contractor was awarded the cable replacement job by SWBell. Since they closed the local offices, we've been unable to get any official information about the telephone company. The local office phone doesn't answer and there's no indication how to call anywhere else to find answers.

MEMBERS OF THE Cisco Country Club should put it on their November calendar that their annual stockholders meeting will be held at 7 p.m. on Nov. 20th, reports President Tim Jones. There will be a catered dinner free to members prior to the business meeting, Mr. TJ said.

"There will be some important business matters that members will be asked to help with," Mr. TJ said. "We would like to have a big turn-out."

The local golf course has had the greens seeded to winter grass and they're playing on them again, Mr. TJ said. No. 6 still is undergoing a complete rebuilding job and a temporary green is in use there, he added.

LET'S TAKE OUR hats off to the E.L. Graham Memorial Hospital Auxiliary. These items cost $3,711.

The Auxiliary, you know, makes its money from such things as the recent Book Fair that netted $607. There's a Blood Bank drive out at CJC from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. this Wednesday (Oct. 29). Drop by the Student Union Building and they'll take your blood.

THE REV. Jasper Cook of the Cross Plains United Methodist Church reports that they're having their Lord's Acre Dinner from 5 to 7 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 1, at the church there. And you're invited to drive down, buy a ticket and eat a fine meal and then attend their auction.

"We're real pleased with the many, many fine auction items," Rev. Cook said. The Cross Plains church will be observing its 100th anniversary on Sunday, Nov. 30, and plans are well underway for the event, Rev. Cook added.

IN OUR ITEM about the Eastland Camp of Gideons International the other day, we listed only three of the Cisco members. Chairman Ron Patton reports that the six members we didn't name include Al Anderson, Dr. Tim Boersma, Ernest Reich, Newt Hagan, Bill Hill and Drew Dan Jackson.

Dr. C. M. Cleveland and Marshall Ivie, who were named, are Gideon speakers and often appear at churches to talk about the Gideon program. The Eastland Camp includes a number of Eastland men as well as men from other cities in this region.

CISCO
 The Cisco Goodfellows are making plans to help the needy at Christmas time. Applications for food baskets will be given out beginning Monday, Nov. 3, at the Chamber of Commerce office. The Goodfellows officers started the fund this year by donating money. This year's officers are Richard Connell, president; Stanley Pirtle, vice president; Wanda Hallmark, secretary and public relations; and Allen Masters, vice president and treasurer. The Goodfellows was started in Cisco in 1984 by Jim Jones, in an effort to make the holidays brighter for those who find it hard to provide for themselves.

Dr. Fred Cullens, administrator at Canterbury Villa Nursing Home, is leaving Cisco this week for the position of administrator at Coastal Care Center, Texas City. Dr. Fred, a singer and musician, gave a final concert at the Nursing Home on Tuesday. He said he enjoyed living in Cisco, and will miss the people here. He also said that Canterbury Villa is a credit to the town, and that a lot of improvements have been made in the facility.

Cisco hairdressers will be having a "Cut-A-Thon" Saturday, Nov. 1, from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. in the Eastwood Village parking lot. The haircuts will be free, but patrons will be asked to make cash donations, which will be divided between the Goodfellows and Mobley-Hilton Community Center. Lynn Wages of the Merle Norman Studio will also give free makeovers to the ladies. There will be a drawing every hour for gifts. In case of bad weather the "Cut-A-Thon" will move inside at Universal.

The First Christian Church will hold its annual bazaar Friday and Saturday, November 7 and 8. Breakfast will be served from 7 to 10 a.m., and lunch from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Cake and pie and coffee will also be served during the day. There will be many handmade articles and gifts for sale, and items from a bake shop. The Church's rummage sale will be held on Nov. 14-15, the week following the bazaar.

Mrs. Bob (Pat) Isbell has been honored as the member who has worked the most hours as a volunteer by the E.L. Graham Memorial Hospital Auxiliary. Mrs. Isbell has worked a total of 1,500 hours since joining the Auxiliary. She was presented a service bar for her volunteer's pin at a recent meeting of the organization. The Auxiliary now has 28 active and 22 sustaining members, with Louise Anderson as president.

EASTLAND
 A bronze of "Old Rip", the famous Eastland County Horned frog, has been presented to the county by Dale Stewart, Cisco sculptor. Stewart's bronze model was accepted with thanks by the Commissioners court, which plans to display the borse in the Courthouse. Another model of "Old Rip" by Stewart is now in the Texas Ranger Museum in Waco, as well as a few owned privately. The annual Senior Citizens Bazaar will be Thursday and Friday, Nov. 6-7 at the Rebekah Lodge in Eastland. The Bazaar will be open from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. both days. Besides the beautiful displays of handcrafted items, the Extension Homemakers will have stew, cornbread and baked goods for sale. The public is invited to come and eat and look over the items the seniors have made. This event is a must for all who enjoy fine handcrafts.

The Sixth Annual Reunion of all former employees of Vasarette of Munsingwear and the old Hollywood Maxwell Co. will be held on Saturday, Nov. 1 from 10:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at Camp Inspiration. A covered dish dinner will be served at noon.

Jim and Sylvia George of Cisco have purchased a franchise from the Life Call Medical Alert Systems and will operate this 24 hour monitoring system under the name of Emergency Help Security Systems. This will serve all Eastland County and surrounding areas. A small radio transmitter worn on your belt, carried, or in a pendant around the neck will signal for the emergency service needed. This is done by the touch of a button on the transmitter.

A new log home five miles north of Ranger was destroyed by fire early Sunday morning. The house was owned by Bob Driskill, and had only been occupied for a short time. No one was at home when the flames erupted about 3:20 a.m. When firefighters arrived on the scene they were unable to contain the blaze. The cause of the fire is not known at this time.

RISING STAR

The local F.H.A. is under the advisory committee of the Eastland and Brown County Texas Highway Department for this program. The Rising Star School emblem, the Wildcat, has been painted on the storage van at the southwest end of the football field by singer painter R.C. (Rockey) Reiser of Sipe Springs. It's a great job - come out and look at this emblem.

"Old Rip" In Bronze Is Presented To County

Eastland County Judge Scott Bailey is shown holding the bronze sculpture of Old Rip. The sculpture was presented to the county by artist Dale Stewart.

County Judge Scott Bailey presented the Eastland County Commissioners with Old Rip in bronze at the beginning of the County Commissioners meeting on Monday, October 27.

This replica of the famous Eastland County Horned Toad was cast by Dale Stewart, Cisco sculptor. Mr. Stewart has donated this piece as a gift to the county.

Judge Bailey and the commissioners expressed appreciation for this striking piece. Suggestions were made to put this bronze toad in the courthouse with Old Rip. It was also suggested that a plaque be placed in the case with the name of the sculptor.

Bill Riddell, Commissioner of Pct. 2, reported that the Pct. 2 bulldozer (Traxloader) which had been held about three years had been returned to the County Barn in Ranger. After an agreement to do so it was removed from Calvin Ainsworth property by Riddell and a county employee on Thursday, October 23.

A lawsuit by Ainsworth and a cross-action suit by the Commissioners Court concerning this bulldozer are still pending in District Court.

The commissioners decided to have an expert on heavy equipment inspect the bulldozer and determine its condition before putting it in service for the county again.

In other business, Sgt. Jerry Matthews of the Department of Public Safety requested that the county hire a replacement J.P. Court Coordinator. Cindy Carlton, who is presently holding this position, will soon begin work for the DPS as a Driver's License Clerk.

Sgt. Matthews suggested that the J.P. Coordinator replacement be hired by Nov. 13, so that Mrs. Carlton would have time to train this person before she assumes her DPS duties.

This plan was approved by the commissioners.

Another item on the agenda concerned the appointment of a replacement for an Absentee Election Judge. Mrs. Bill (Wynell) Brown of Pct. 2 was appointed to this position.

The commissioners discussed Ad Valorem Property Tax Relief at some length, with the feeling expressed that many property owners are unhappy about the tax raises they have experienced during the past few years.

A measure was passed during the last State Legislative Session which gives the county power to levy a one-half cent raise on sales taxes. State Comptroller Bob Bullock would collect the extra taxes, which would then be returned to the county and replace some of the property taxes.

A county-wide referendum would have to be held for voter approval of this addition to the state sales tax. This additional tax would bring the local sales tax up to around .06 cents per $1. County Judge Scott Bailey and the commissioners indicated possible approval of the plan, but said they felt it would be best to wait until April, at least, to hold a referendum on it.

Bills, claims and accounts occupied the rest of the session for the commissioners. Present at the meeting were Richard Robinson, commissioner of Pct. 1; Bill Riddell, Pct. 2; L.T. Owen, Pct. 3; and C.B. Dill, Pct. 4. Norman Christian, Democratic-Elect Commissioner of Pct. 2, sat in the courtroom as an observer. County Clerk Joann Johnson recorded minutes.

an emergency control center. They immediately send the help you need. Within seconds, your call for help is received and emergency personnel are on their way to your home.

The Lifecall System has six vital steps to safety and security.

2. Microprocessor - The microprocessor is connected directly to your telephone and relays your distress signal and dials your phone.
3. Telephone Line - Your signal instantly travels over telephone lines.

Many older and handicapped persons can live secure, independent lives in their own homes without fear of life-threatening emergencies because they have Lifecall protection.

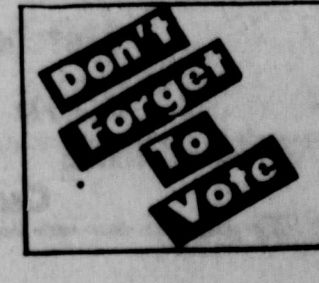

Lifecall also has a smoke detector which can be placed in your home. When smoke is detected the alarm is sounded and the system automatically calls the fire department. This can be done even if no one is home at that time.

Lifecall can be either purchased or leased at a reasonable rate.

Mr. and Mrs. Coleman have been residents of Eastland since about 1950. They plan to continue Otis Coleman Aluminum, which has been in business about 15 years.

Fishing Outdoors

By Terry Wilson

How many times have you wished for a worm you could throw and work on top? Well it's here, thanks to Zetabait of Jacksonville, Florida.

Zeta's new Float-A-Hook Gillraker incorporates a proprietary component never before used in soft plastic lures. The result is dramatically increased flotation. In fact, the eight inch Gillraker will float on the surface with a medium size wire 3/0 hook.

These fantastic new gillrakers are available in 4 fish catching colors. Standard 6 and 8 inch gillrakes available in 57 colors, plus 6 new colors, not listed in the 1987 catalog.

The Float-A-Hook gillraker is a real winner folks. With the expanding gears beds on area lakes these should coax some of those hawks out of hiding. For more information you may call ZETABAIT (904) 731-9012 Jacksonville, Fla.

The rocky shorelines and clear waters of Canyon Reservoir west of New Braunfels have proved to be excellent habitat for introduced smallmouth bass. Biologist Mike Ryan of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department said the fish, which were first stocked in the mid-1970's have had excellent reproduction and growth.

Fishermen should have success during the fall at Canyon because smallmouths become more active when the water cools. While smallmouths often are caught with the same tackle and techniques used on largemouth bass, some adjustments should be made to adapt to smallmouths habits. Smallmouths are usually found from 15 to 35 feet down, small jigs used with multicolored plastic grubs may be the best artificial lures for smallmouths, and live crawdads are considered the best live bait.

Current state record six-pounds seven ounces was caught from Lake Lyndon B. Johnson during 1985, but most of the previous smallmouth records were caught from Canyon.

November 6th the Eastland County Bass Club shall hold their monthly meeting. Location shall be the east side of the square in downtown Eastland. Starting time is 7:30 and the public is invited.

Area lake reports are looking good folks. Lake Leon, water clear, blacks excellent in staff slew and the river area. Crappie good around mouth of river, minnows and jigs both producing, catfish good on live bair.

Pioneer Lake, water clear, bass good to 4 pounds, crappie good, catfish good on earthworms.

Possum Kingdom, water clear, blacks fair to 4 pounds on jig and eel, crappie good to 20 fish per string, catfish slow. Lake Cisco blacks excellent to 3 pounds most on crankbaits, crappie slow, catfish slow.

Proctor, blacks excellent to 5 pounds on jig and pig, crappie improving, catfish good to 7 pound son cut bait.

Hubbard Creek, blacks slow to 2 pounds on crankbait, crappie excellent on minnows and jigs, hybrid strippers fair on slab spoons, catfish fair.

With crappie fishing picking up, don't forget to take those youngsters. Action is normally bait enough pace to hold their attention, and chances are they will catch Mr. Big for you.

HyTech-Ponder Tools

Consolidation Announced

Mack Ponder, president of Ponder Fishing Tools Inc., Alice, Texas announced his association with HyTech Tool Inc. This consolidation is a further advancement for Ponder's oil field servicing businesses. The rapid expansion of Ponder Fishing Tools Inc. is an indication of the strength and credibility that Ponder has built and his positive attitude in the oil patch. At present, locations are in Alice, Victoria, McAllen, Bryan, Houston, Kilgore, and Abilene. Services include fishing tools, machine shop with computerized lathe and milling equipment, directional drilling, and the recent addition of the HyTech Combination Cleanout and Drilling Tool.

The development of HyTech's Combination Cleanout and Drilling Tool (CCDT) was the result of many years of downhole experience with conventional tools and methods used in cleanout, drilling, completion, and re-entry work. In 1981 the idea of performing such jobs without circulating was conceived because of the danger, in many situations, of running wireline tools. Also, many times it was not desirable to circulate or reverse circulate since pumping fluids put undue pressure on the producing formation often contaminating the zone with foreign fluids. There were many times when it was impossible to circulate due to a depleted or low pressure zone.

After several years of research and development, a twenty-one claim patent for the tool was received. During the past six years, the CCDT has been used by many major and independent oil companies, proving its superior and diversified capabilities, usually under adverse conditions and after conventional methods had failed.

"The HyTech CCDT can safely and economically be adapted to virtually any downhole operation" Ponder said, "thereby saving in completion, workover, and fishing. It is a unique concept in oilfield tools and service to solve many problems."

The tool is currently in operation in Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Oklahoma, and Canada. Local representatives for the CCDT with Ponder are Bobby Moody (691-5886), Doug Justice (698-7011) and Lee Clark.

Fear God

"...for he knoweth the secrets of the heart" (Psalms 44:21).

"There is no new thing under the sun," was spoken centuries ago by a questioning, thoughtful man. He pondered the ways of men, the circumstances of life, the madness of man, the godness of man, the events that happened to the good and bad alike, and the rewards in life that come to those who make sacrifices and to those who do not sacrifice.

He wrote, "History merely repeats itself. Nothing is truly new; it has all been done or said before. What can you point to that is new?"

(Ecclesiastes 1:8-11)

Friend, take heart! If you are entertaining such thoughts, remember, the God who existed before creation, the God who hollowed out the surface of the earth to form the seas, the God who bound the world together so that it would not fall apart, is still in control. He never makes a mistake.

The writer of Ecclesiastes reached in conclusion, "My friend, here is my final conclusion: Fear God and obey his commandments, for this is the entire duty of man. For God will judge us for everything we do, including every hidden thing, good or bad" (Ecclesiastes 12:13-14).

Poetic Verses...

REJECTED

There is an old, old story That's told so long ago How a kind loving God Sent His Son to the world below

How we rejected Him The One that loves us so We placed a crown of thorns on his head And led Him down the road.

Oh how He must have loved us To suffer, bled and died On the cruel cross of calvary Our sins on ever side

He's waiting for us today With both arms open wide Come unto me all ye that is weary In my arms you can abide

Developmental Screening To Be Conducted Nov. 21

The screening, which takes about 20 minutes to complete, tests a young child in four areas: personal/social skills (playing, eating, dressing, etc.), fine motor skills (ability to manipulate small objects), gross motor skills (running, jumping, etc.), and language development (speech,
