Despite a week of rain, the 17th Annual Cisco Civic League Folklife Festival held over the weekend was a huge success, according to all reports.

Civic league members and their families worked hard Friday pumping the water out of Rockwell Lumber Yard, hauling gravel into the yard, and then covering the gravel with hay. This absorbed most of the remaining water on the grounds. And no one seemed to mind the inconvenience caused by the rain.

Crowds were good both days, and as usual the food and entertainment were excellent. One of the favorites seemed to be the style show featuring wedding dresses dating from the 20's through the 70's.

Famous actor Tommie Lee Jones was in town Friday, April 20. He had breakfast at Traditions Restaurant where his waitress was Cheryl Wilkerson. Cheryl said, "He had to wait for coffee. We had been very busy and all the cups were dirty." His breakfast consisted of pork chops and eggs over easy, which were cooked by the proud cook, Sherri Pitts. He did sign autographs and his breakfast was taken care of by Donna Gerhardt, owner of Traditions.

Our congratulations to the five Cisco High School students, Christine Deadman, Renee McCafferty, Jana Muller, Rachel Valek, and Jayna Willingham, who have advanced to the UIL State Meet which will be held May 3-5 at The University of Texas in Austin.

Absentee Voting Now In Progress

Time is running out for those who wish to vote absentee in the city, school and other local elections.

Applications for ballots to be voted by mail must be received by absentee election officials by April 27, and May 1 is the last day to vote absentee by personal appearance.

Election Day is Saturday, May 5.

Five CHS Students Qualify For State UIL Academic Meeting

Cisco High School has qualified five students for the University Interscholastic League Academic State Meet, May 3-5, at The University of Texas at Austin.

Qualifiers include: Christine Deadman-- Feature Writing, first place; and Shorthand, second place.

Renee McCafferty-- Poetry Interpretation, third place.

Jana Muller-- Calculator Applications, second place.

Rachel Valek-- Calculator Applications, third place.

Jayna Willingham-- Shorthand, third place.

The students earned eligibility by placing first, second or third at the UIL Regional Meet held Saturday, April 21, in Stephenville.

"Reaching the state level of academic competition shows determination and preparation on the part of the contestant and sponsor," Dr. Bailey Marshall, UIL director said. The development of the skills to handle the intense competition and the attainment of knowledge required to achieve this honor will benefit the contestant far beyond the high school years."

Contests range from headline writing to Lincoln-Douglas debate, calculator applications to accounting. Of the million and a half students who participated in UIL activities in 1988-89, over one-half million students competed in one or more of the 20 general academic contests.

In participating at the State Meet, students qualify for Texas Interscholastic League Foundation scholarships. During 1989-90, the TILF awarded more than $468,000 in scholarship grants to 361 college students who competed at the UIL State Academic Meet. In 1990-91, the TILF expects to award an estimated 370 new and renewed grants, valued at approximately $489,000. The TILF funds are made possible through grants from foundations, individuals and families. The TILF has almost $2,000,000 in endowed funds.

For more information, contact Phil Warren, Principal, or the University Interscholastic League at 512-471-5883.

National Organ & Tissue Donor Awareness Week

As you hopefully are already aware, National Organ and Tissue Donor Awareness Week is being observed April 22-29 this year.

Hardly a day passes without a newspaper or TV report about a life saved by an organ transplant. Transplantation is one of the most remarkable medical success stories of recent years. Transplants of organ and tissues are no longer experimental, but widely accepted medical treatments. True, some transplant surgeries are more successful than others. And true, many things are still not understood or known about some transplants. And true, more things are being learned everyday in the field of transplantation. But is this not true of most everything in life?

Transplantation owes its success to several factors. One such factor is medical progress. An equally important factor is the widespread acceptance of organ and tissue donation. The public now recognizes that they can help save a life by donating organs and tissues at their death. Moral and religious leaders the world over favor such donations as expressions of the highest humanitarian ideals.

Public education and early education is mandatory for the continued acceptance and progress of organ transplantation. Approximately 48 percent of those aware of organ transplants say they are likely to want their organs donated after their death. Though the black population has a higher incidence of kidney failure than any other racial group, the race donates less frequently. Latin Americans have a high incidence of diabetes and many would benefit greatly from pancreatic transplants.

Each year the number of transplants increases, but so does the number of those waiting-- men, women and children of all ages, all races. Only transplantation can offer these patients the chance for a fuller and more productive life.

The future of transplantation depends on the support of people like you. As more people become aware of the need for organ and tissue donation, the more this life-saving medical advance can be used for the benefit of mankind.

Giving a "Gift of Life" is easy. Just fill out and sign a donor card, put it in your wallet, purse or glove compartment. Returning the duplicate copy inside the "Carry the Key" brochures with a self-addressed stamped envelope will assure you of obtaining a small gold key to carry on your key chain or in your pocket or purse to identify you as an organ donor. "Carry the Key" brochures with attached donor cards are available at businesses throughout Cisco.

Even if you filled out an organ donor card, doctors will not go ahead with organ removal without permission from next-of-kin. But medical personnel will find it easier to ask for permission if they have a donor card. Besides carrying a card, you should also let your family know of your wishes.

Why do so few Americans carry donor cards? Mostly it's simple inertia, but sometimes it's because of misinformation about organ donation. Consider these facts:

-Everyone, regardless of age or medical condition, is a potential donor. A 65-year old with a variety of age-related diseases can have other still-healthy parts-- liver, kidneys, corneas, bone, bone marrow and even a heart-- to help others. "The idea that an organ has to come from a young, healthy person is just not true," said Gene Pierce, executive director of the United Network for Organ Sharing (UNOS), the government mandated agency that coordinates the nationwide distribution of organs.

-Organ donation is consistent with the beliefs of all major religions in the United States. If you have any concerns, talk it over with your minister, priest or rabbi.

-There is no cost to the donor's family or payment by the recipient.

-Donation doesn't delay funerals. Organs are usually removed immediately after consent is obtained. And there is no visible evidence of the surgery.

Cisco PTO And Wal-Mart Plant Trees At Elementary

The Cisco PTO, project for the year, in association with the Texas Dept. of Agriculture's "Trees for Texas" with help from Eastland Wal-Mart store and their employees set out 41 trees at the Cisco Elementary Monday.

"Trees for Texas" is a state wide effort to plant, over the next 10 years, one tree for every Texan. Monday Cisco Elementary made a good start.

The 41 trees donated by Wal-Mart included one Fruitless Mulberry which was planted in front of the elementary. 40 Pink Snow Flake tree seedlings which are a relative to Crepe Myrtles were set out along the West and South Fence lines of the play ground. These should make excellent wind breakers.

TDA representative, Bill Eaves of Gorman, came to help with the tree planting. His grandson Randy Harris is a Kindergartener at Cisco.

Local property tax rates in Texas have increased by 33.5 percent over the past three years. This increase accompanied an $89 billion drop in property values, according to the Texas Research League, an Austin-based public policy research group. Higher tax rates on a lower tax base produced a 17 percent increase in tax revenue for local governments.

Property taxes in Texas averaged 1.6 percent of market value (selling price) in 1988-89, but varied widely throughout the state from a high of 2.7 percent in Crystal City to less than 1 percent in Highland Park (Dallas).

Locally property taxes were 97.9 percent of value (see total column of appendix pages A-1 to A-5 for your city and school. Rates per $100 are the same as a percentage.) That rate consisted of .5678 percent levied by the city, .9202 percent by Cisco ISD, .1958 percent by Cisco Jr. College, .1175 percent by the hospital district, .2986 percent for the county, and .0000 percent levied by other taxing jurisdictions.

For a single-family house that would sell for $80,000, the highest tax was $2,358 in the North Forest ISD part of the City of Houston and the lowest was a $683 tax bill in Seminole. If the house were eligible for various homestead exemptions, the lowest tax would have been $629 in Highland Park compared to a high of $2,274 in Crystal City.

Additional exemptions were granted to homeowners aged 65 or over which reduced the highest property tax bill to $1,686 in Cisco and to a low of $139 in Irving (in Coppell ISD).

In Cisco the tax bill on an $80,000 house in 1988-89 averaged $1880 or $1831 if a homestead or $1686 if owned by a senior citizen.

The report points out that school tax bills for the elderly are frozen at the level in place when the homeowner turned 65, and, consequently, elderly persons may pay less.

Equitable appraisals among different types of property are significant in attracting new industry and jobs to a community. The 1988-89 property tax on industrial equipment and inventories values at $80,000 ranged from $704 in Gatesville to $2,224 in Crystal City.

For property worth $80,000 in Cisco the report shows a tax of $1680 for an average of all types of property, $1716 for industrial equipment and inventories and $1618 for commercial inventories and fixtures.

The report cites two reasons for the wide range of taxes: First, local officials adopt budgets, set tax rates, and homestead exemptions. Second, unless all property is appraised uniformly, tax burdens will vary. Average ratios of tax appraisals to market value (selling price) ranged from 65.6 percent in Central Heights (Nacogdoches County) to 171 percent in Laureless ISD (Kleberg County).

Locally, the report shows a ratio of 97.9 percent for all types of property in the Cisco ISD.

Local governments in Texas relied upon the property tax to finance 36.7 percent of their budgets in 1988. Counties relied upon this tax for 47.4 of their general revenue; followed by school districts, 42.9 percent; cities, 27.7 percent and special districts, 12.8 percent.

"Higher taxes affect not only the real estate market, but also impact the cost of doing business for commercial endeavors, postpone the creation of new enterprises, and force inflationary increases in rents both for business and for individuals," said Gary Wood, President of the Texas Research League.

During the past decade local government spending in Texas has grown at the rate of 11.6 percent per year compounded. The rate of growth of local government spending, the report concludes, has continued in recent years despite the decline in property values in Texas.

The people of Moran and surrounding area had the privilege of watching the rain fall last Friday when approximately two inches fell. The rain is most welcome, as the grass, weeds and grain are growing fast. Some time drive around the country and just look at the beautiful scenery, and admire what the rains have done for our country.

Funeral services for Jack Dennis, local rural mail carrier, were held at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday at the First Baptist Church in Moran with Rev. Jack Clack, pastor, officiating, with burial in the Moran Cemetery, under the direction of Godfrey Funeral Home. He passed away at his home Monday night.

Mrs. Dub Midkiff was transferred to the Cisco nursing home and will enjoy visits from friends.

James Weatherby of Stephenville spent the weekend with his grandmother, Mrs. Mae Delle Jones.

'A Broadway Revue' To Be Presented Thursday At Cisco Junior College

"A Broadway Revue" will be presented by the CJC Wrangler Band, Belles, and choir, Thursday evening, April 26, at 7:30, in Harrell Fine Arts Auditorium.

The "Revue" has been planned to draw attention to the trip the Band and Belles will make to New York in November. They will participate in the 1990 Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade.

There will be no admission charge, but the audience will have an opportunity to make a contribution to CJC for the New York trip. The students must raise $250 each, and any contribution will be appreciated.

The stage band will open the show with "Hello, Dolly" and will continue with three other numbers. The CJC Singers will present a medley of songs by Lerner and Loewe, which will include excerpts from "My Fair Lady," "Camelot," and "Paint Your Wagon," directed by Wyley Peebles.

The concert band, directed by Bill Swinney, will play selections from "Oklahoma," "Fiddler on the Roof," "The King and I," and "The Music Man," as well as a couple of marches. Former CJC Band Director Tim Jones will appear as guest conductor to direct the "Pride and Glory March."

The Wrangler Belles, directed by Debbie Baker, will appear throughout the show as presenters. As a group they will perform dance routines to "Devil with a Blue Dress" and "That's Entertainment," the finale of the musical revue.

Elsie Jackson & Faye Gardenhire Honored By First Industrial Arts

The First Industrial Arts Club met in regular session on April 19, 1990, at the Women's Club House. Mrs. Evelyn Fry, president, called the meeting to order. She extended greetings to both members and guests.

Mrs. Fry referred to the fact that our club was organized in 1906, and then became a federated club in 1908. She spoke of the many activities and worthy projects this club has carried out through the years. Then came the time to introduce the special part of the program: the presentation of certificates to two club members who have been members 50+ years, Mrs. E.L. Jackson and Mrs. Faye Gardenhire. Each one told of some interesting and amusing events she experienced during her term, as president of the club. To conclude the program, Mr. Jackson showed some slides that were made in 1965 which revealed memories of yesterdays' picnics. Several of the ladies shown in the slides are still in the club, but many of them are no longer with us.

After a period of fellowship and refreshments, the club adjourned.

A Thought For The Day....

The clown is a symbol of the urge of men to laugh at fellow human beings and of their need to laugh at themselves. Though he has often changed his dress, make-up and antics, his contribution has always been essentially the same; to show the folly of taking oneself too seriously.

The ability of a person to laugh at himself means that he has accepted himself. He doesn't take himself too seriously. Of all the things we laugh at, other people's mistakes is the least healthy, and laughing at our own is the best therapy there is. What we laugh at is a window into the innermost recesses of the soul. Laughing at yourself means that you are able to view yourself objectively...

When was the last time you had a good laugh at yourself?

Ranger Man Incompetent For Trial

John Murray Farr Sr., age 88, was found to be incompetent to stand trial for murder Monday by a 91st District Court jury.

He will be sent to the Vernon State Hospital for further evaluation and treatment.

Farr was charged with the shotgun slaying last March of Juanita Maddox Farr, age 57, at the couple's home in Ranger.

According to reports, Farr said his wife had committed suicide. District Attorney Emory Walton said preliminary autopsy reports listed the death as a homicide.

The 91st District Court jury ruled in a second finding Monday that there is a "substantial probability Farr will attain competency to stand trial."

Carbon News

By Dorothy Jackson

April 23:

I do not know about you but I think I have something growing between my toes. I do not want to complain about all the good rain, but it's been so long since we have seen the sun much. I received 3 inches of rain this past week, it all has fallen so nice, not a great lot at one time, no wind, no hail so far. Too bad we can't battle some of this for July and August. Most all tank and lakes are full and the ground has about all it can hold for awhile. The farmers had a few days rest, now they can go back to the fields as soon as they can stay afloat.

I am sure each of you have heard the news on TV and read the paper, it is very sad when part of the history in our area is no more, will only have K-6 at Carbon School next year.

More years than I care to remember, as a little cotton headed country girl I started to school at Carbon. There were a lot of little country (1 or 2 room) schools but in the 40's, they began to be done away with (by Austin) and Carbon received a lot of students from those schools. I can remember going to class in make-shift buildings until more rooms could be added onto the building on the hill.

Now I guess you could say it is Carbon turn to fade away. It's the same in all areas of life, the little people get rooted out, like small farms, small business, all have give way to the bigger. It's not easy to sit and watch it happen and as you look back, so much good has been associated with Carbon school. So many good people have passed through those doors, Doctors, Lawyers, Bankers, Preachers, Farmers, Housewives and the list could go on and on. Oh what stories could be told if only those walls could talk, even a few we might not want told. It's a shame we can't turn back the pages of time and keep the simple things in life.

I sometimes think maybe things have gotten too modernized but I know in reality we have to try and stay in step with the rest of the world and its not easy because of all the world and its not easy because of all the changes we are called upon to make. As

LEON'S FISHING GETTING TOUGH

The E.C.B.C. recent open jackpot at Lake Leon drew 18 entrants for some tough fishing. Changing lake levels were the cause by anglers for a long but beautiful day 'Fishing Outdoors.'

Charles Lafferty once again won this open tournament. Charles hails from Abilene and says Leon is one of his favorite lakes. With three fish going 5.12 this won him some nice pocket change. Second place and big bass was Tommy Maynard, and third place went to Gary Crew.

Don't forget Tuesday, April 24, will be the final day for anyone planning to fish the E.V.F.D. Open April 29, to pre fish. The lake will become off limits to all contestants at this time. The reason for this is to avoid over fishing by locals and to make this event fair for everyone. See you all in the weigh-in line.

The 1990 class makes plans to graduate I can recall the time I was in the class making those plans.

Lets all remember July 7, 1990 this is the year for our school homecoming, lets strive to make this one the best ever.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sandlin and daughter Belinda of Springtown visited Mrs. Elizabeth Sandlin over the weekend.

Mike Ripple of Stephenville visited J. L., Mary, and J. C. McDaniel, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Royce McGaha visited Mr. and Mrs. Bill McGaha and family of Farmington, N.M. last week.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Earl Freed last week was his sister Mr. and Mrs. Bill Walters, the Walters live in Brownville during the winter and return to Michigan for the summer.

Achievement test were given at Carbon last week. Shane Hardin won 1st place in Shot Put and 100 meter dash at the Jr. Hi. Track meet at Baird.

Parents, and some of the school officials are sponsoring a prom at Carbon for Jr. Hi. and High School students Saturday night April 28 at 8 p.m. til 12 p.m.

There will be a music concert May 15 at Carbon, performed by the Carbon Band students.

Lake Brownwood is offering some tough angling for black bass, but the stripper and sand bass fishing has been fair. And make sure before going to Lake Brownwood that all items in your boat are in order. Life jackets, boat registration, fire extinguisher, etc. And if you lose a jacket while on the water you best head for bank and buy another one. The local game warden does an excellent job of making sure we are all in compliance with state law for own protection.

Till next time, if you or someone you know is wanting to learn more about bass fishing, I would suggest you contact Tommy Maynard about joining the Eastland County Bass Club. Most of the gentlemen are willing to share a few trade secrets to help another angler get started. You may phone Tom at 629-3550.

Lake Sam Rayburn was the sight this past weekend where 6,500 fishing folks met for the annual McDonald's Big Bass Classic. As usual Big Sam turned out some huge bass. A 10.77 fish caught on Sunday was the winner. And an Eastland native now residing in East Texas, Howard (Gene) Wilson took home some winning with his 7.93 lunker. This fish won second place hourly money worth $500 plus finished in 37th place overall netting Gene an additional $250. Congratulations to all the winners and the non winners for supporting this excellent fund raising event.

The recent rains have really changed fishing up this spring, raising and falling levels, low then high oxygen, and P.H. changes have left many anglers scratching their heads. But putting the tough fishing aside, the rains have done an even greater damage I fear. Now this is just my idea of what has happened. Many of our females have left the nest and absorbed their eggs. Of those which have laid, I fear many of the small weak fry could have been lost through the morning gloom and are in transit down stream. Hopefully, I'll all wet with these thoughts, but I guess it will be a couple of years before we see the results.

Sidewalk Art Contest Winners

Peanut Election & Referendum

A Texas Peanut Producers Board election and referendum will be conducted on May 1st. Peanut producers in Eastland, Callahan, Stephens, and Young Counties will vote in the Eastland County Extension Office between the hours of 7:00 a.m. and 7:00 p.m. on May 1st. The Extension office is located in the courthouse basement of Eastland.

Voting is also allowed by absentee. Peanut producers may vote absentee by calling, writing or visiting the Eastland County Extension office before April 27th, to request a ballot. All absentee ballots must be post marked on or before April 28th. The address of the Eastland County Extension Agent is P.

O. Box 287, Eastland TX, 76448 and the phone number is 817-629-1093.

Producers will be electing member-at-large for the Texas Peanut Producers Board (TPPB). In the referendum, producers will be voting for or against a proposition changing the limit of assessments rate for the TPPB from $1.00 per net ton to $2.00 per net ton of peanuts marketed. The purpose of the assessment is to finance programs of peanut market development, disease and insect control, research, education and promotion to encourage the production, marketing, and use of peanuts designed to enhance producer income.

Gordon Spot

By DeMarquis Gordon, County Agent—

With spring already in full bloom, the time is ripe to spray newly budded pecan trees.

Spraying will combat scab, the most prevalent disease among pecan trees. The disease is hard to see, but if growers have had the problem in the past, they probably can expect it this year, especially with all the rain and high humidity we have had this spring. Pecan scab usually produces lesions on the leaf and black or dead shucks.

Some varieties such as Burkett, Wichita, Delmas, and Western are susceptible to pecan scab and should be treated with a fungicide. Varieties resistant to pecan scab are Choctaw, Desirable, Cheyenne, Pawnee, and Sioux, but growers should still be alert for problems with the fungus.

Spray immediately after the buds break and then two or three more times until June.

While spraying a fungicide, also spray the pecan trees with zinc. Zinc sprayed on foliage helps produce larger leaves and promotes overall tree growth and nut production.

The prime time to fertilize pecan trees is immediately after the buds break. The old rule of thumb is to apply one pound of ammonium sulfate, 21-0-0, per inch of trunk diameter.

Fertilizer should be broadcast on the surface under the pecan tree and should extend out to the canopy. A common misconception for fertilizing is to dig a hole near the trunk and pour liquid fertilizer into the hole. Since most feeder roots are in the top 18 inches, there is no need for fertilizer to be placed beneath the depth of the soil.

Newly planted pecan trees should be cut back to one-half their height. When pecan trees are dug at nurseries, the roots are damaged. Cutting the tree back gives it a better chance of regenerating a new root system.

Mulching is also important in helping young trees get established. Some of the best mulch is leaves, hay, pine needles and straw.

Unlike most trees, young pecan trees can withstand

Roundup applications that are used to kill surrounding grasses. Young trees need plenty of water and should be kept relatively free of competition with grasses, especially bermudagrass.

Insecticides are not usually needed until the last week of May when the pecan nut case-bearers hatch out. The exception may be tent caterpillars that eat the leaves on pecan trees. If they are present in large numbers, the insecticide should be included.

It looks like we will have a very significant loss of St. Augustine grass, and maybe some bermudagrass. There has been a loss of St. Augustine in South Texas so sod may be in rather short supply. We have been advising people to wait until the first of May before drawing a final conclusion.

Some have reported that a little St. Augustine is coming out in their lawns. If this is the case it will be best to let it recover and do not fertilize until the grass is actively growing. When you do fertilize use a 3-1-2 ration such as 15-5-10 or 12-4-6.

New Pipeline Capacity For Lone Star Gas

Lone Star Gas Company, a Division of ENSERCH Corporation, will construct a 24.5-mile, 30-inch gas pipeline in Ellis County, Texas to connect its 36-inch pipeline from West Texas to its 30-inch Gulf Coast pipeline.

Additional compressor equipment will be added at the Katy hub near Houston to enhance the interconnect capability. Total investment will be about $17 million. Construction will commence shortly with completion expected in the third quarter of this year.

Lone Star has contracted with a major company for the transportation of 100 million cubic feet of gas per day from the natural gas hub at Waha in West Texas to the Katy hub. An additional agreement provides for transportation capability to the Carthage hub in East Texas. The agreement is for five years with an additional five-year option.

"This is an important step for Lone Star Gas," said David Biegler, Chairman and President. "Lone Star is the only pipeline directly linking the three major natural gas hubs at Waha, Katy and Carthage. This new pipeline significantly enhances our capacity and enables Lone Star to participate actively in the growing market to move gas from the west to the east. It also enhances the Company's ability to serve residential customers during periods of peak requirements."

NRC Gives License Approvals

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission today approved the issuance of a license for full-power operation of Comanche Peak Unit 1, plant owner TU Electric has announced.

Testing of the unit at low power began on April 3 and was completed on April 6. As the plant systematically proceeds to full power operation, testing will continue. When the unit is producing 10 to 15 percent power, it will begin supplying electricity to TU Electric customers. The unit is expected to be at full power during the peak season of electrical use this summer.

"I want to reconfirm to you and to the public TU Electric's strong commitments to safety and quality and to a standard of excellence in our nuclear operations," TU Electric chairman Earle Nye told the Commissioners in Rockville, Maryland, prior to their action today.

"Our activities since issuance of the fuel load and low-power license have shown that we can satisfy these commitments, and I am convinced that TU Electric can be one of the best nuclear power plant operators in the country."

The NRC issued a low-power operating license for Unit 1 on February 8, 1990. Initial start-up of the reactor occurred on April 3, and most of the low-power testing has been done at a power level of approximately 3 percent.

"We have established high standards of performance, and we are committed to moving deliberately and cautiously into operation," Nye told the NRC members.

The second Comanche Peak Unit is scheduled for operation in 1993. Each unit of the plant, near Glen Rose, will produce 1,150,000 kilowatts of electricity, enough to serve a city, almost half the size of Dallas.

TU Electric serves more than 5 million people across the northern third of Texas.

Williamson Named Coordinator For St. Jude Bike-a-Thon

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital announced today that Geneva Williamson will coordinate the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital "Wheels For Life" Bike-A-Thon in Eastland on June 19, 1990.

Founded by Danny Thomas in 1962, St. Jude Children's Research Hospital is the largest childhood cancer research-treatment-education center in America. St. Jude Hospital is non-sectarian, interracial and provides medical care for over 3,200 active patients. Currently, over $183,000 is needed each day to keep the doors open. These funds come primarily from public contributions.

The Bike-A-Thon program this year is dedicated to Ellen Marie Haynes. Five-year-old Ellen Marie, from Rossville, Georgia, developed a malignant tumor in her abdomen in June, 1986. After treatment at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, which consisted of surgery, radiation, and chemotherapy, Ellen Marie was taken off all therapy in January, 1987. Although she isn't cured of her cancer yet, her prognosis is good.

We are grateful for the concern that Ms. Williamson has for our work and we hope the citizens of Eastland will support the Bike-A-Thon to help provide the funds that are needed to preserve the world's greatest asset... "Our Children."

Safe Driving Tips from Rhonda

Effects of drugs on driving: Alcohol is classified as a "Legal" Drug, but it is illegal to drink and drive. Even one or two drinks affect a person's ability to drive. Alcohol affects coordination. It is difficult to coordinate what your eyes are seeing with what your hands should be doing. Judgement is impaired. It is difficult to choose the proper alternatives that are so often presented while driving. (To be continued in next week's article)

Texas Peanut Referendum - Election Is Underway

May 1, 1990 is the date set by the Texas Peanut Producers Board (TPPB) to conduct a statewide election and referendum asking peanut growers to set the refundable peanut assessment rate not to exceed $2.00 per net ton, farmers stock basis, which may be set annually by the producer elected Board to finance programs of peanut market development, disease and insect control, research, education and promotion to encourage the production, marketing and use of peanuts designed to enhance producer income.

The terms of three directors expire with this election. Candidates on the ballot for those three positions are Lyndell Coan (incumbent), DeLeon, Billy M. Barnes, DeLeon, and Tim Beaty, DeLeon.

Voting locations will be set up in the County Extension Agent's office of each major peanut producing county. The polls will be open on May 1 from 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m.

Absentee ballots are available at the county extension agent's office of each peanut producing county. Absentee ballots must be postmarked no later than April 28, 1990, to be valid.

All Texas peanut producers are eligible to vote. The law defines a producer as anyone who produces or causes to be produced the commodity involved. This includes landlords who rent on a "share" basis.

"Peanut farmers in all of the other peanut producing states have been investing $2/ton for many years into their check-off programs. Texas growers must be willing to support research and education at the same rate, if they are to be competitive and continue to produce peanuts at a profit," says Ted Higginbottom, TPPB chairman.

The Texas Peanut Producers Board was established 21 years ago when Texas growers voted to assess themselves $1.00 per ton for a check-off program to finance research, education, promotion and market development. At that time, the price support was $235 per ton. The quota support price for 1990 has been set at $631.47 per ton. Grower funding through check off dollars have played a role in keeping profits in peanuts through a strong price support program.

For the past 21 years the Texas Peanut Producers Board has supported research and education efforts for the advancement of the peanut industry in Texas. Today's peanut producers reap the benefits of these investments through increased profits, cost containment, reduced risks, and market quality. In the 1990's research and education programs will have even greater impact on the industry as they are strengthened by new technologies.

The future of Texas peanut production depends upon the ability of Texas producers to compete in the national and international marketplace. Production costs in Texas are 12.4 percent higher than in other peanut producing states due mainly to lower rainfall and high irrigation costs.

New knowledge and new technology generated by research and education in the 1990's will strengthen the competitive ability of Texas peanut producers into the next century.

Passage of the referendum will require a two-thirds majority of those voting. Chairman Ted Higginbottom encourages all peanut farmers to vote in this important election.

Q. What are some other ways to help a learning disabled child at home?

A. Besides providing a stable homelife, speaking the truth in love when correcting, and guiding development of social skills, there are some very practical ways of helping the child to become more organized.

Have a designated area for study at home with a desk, proper light and supplies. Setting a time for study each evening is also a good idea. You the parent need to sit down BY the child and give help with homework when it is needed. Otherwise, just your being there will help the child to stay on task.

Have the child to keep an assignment notebook to bring home from school to help him remember the assignments. Be sure to check with the child each evening to see what needs to be done.

Designate a place by the door to place completed homework so that it will be remembered on the way to school the next day.

Be sure to compliment the child on the things he does well and encourage creativity in hand crafts. Also, membership in organizations such as boy scouts or girl scouts may be helpful in socialization skills as well as development of desired character traits.

As a parent you should be aware of your child's diet. Whole grains, fruits, and vegetables should be a big part of the diet. Sweets should be limited and watch for food additives. All of this can affect your child's learning and general well-being.

Scientists Stop Fire Ants In Traffic Boxes

Fire ants have been given a red light on their marches against traffic signal control boxes, attacks that have been costing Texas taxpayers millions of dollars.

Fire ants seem to have a fatal attraction to electrical equipment, and this includes relay switches in traffic signal boxes, said Dr. William MacKay, a Texas Agricultural Experiment Station entomologist. "Ants will invade to the point that the switch is completely filled," often disrupting the traffic signal, he said.

But MacKay, who addressed the recent 1990 U.S. Imported Fire Ant Research conference at Texas A&M University, said research has found a way to prevent the costly invasion of these traffic devices.

One light dose of a pesticide each year and an epoxy seal around the relay switch cover has driven the pesky fire ant away from the signal equipment, said MacKay. The methods have been applied in Bryan-College Station.

Traffic control boxes are the usually gray colored cabinets attached to signal light poles at intersections. Through a computer, the control box determines the sequence of light changes. Ants packed into the relay switch, MacKay noted, could cause a traffic light to stop blinking red or yellow.

The study first aimed at finding a quick way of preventing ant entry. A secondary study considered why the ants are attracted to the relay switch and sought a long-term solution.

MacKay said research showed that the insecticide Dursban applied at one ounce per square foot, or one-third the label recommended rate, will kill all the ants within minutes and will remain effective for about a year.

But he said a long-term solution was desired to eliminate the cost of annual insecticide applications. Before a solution could be found, he said, a reason for the attraction had to be discovered.

He noted that relay switches aren't the only device that draws ants. Air conditioners, phone pedestals, electric transformers and airplane cockpits all have been invaded by fire ants.

Dr. Herbert Hand, whose Phronesis Inc. in South Carolina has designed an ant-free mount for utility equipment, noted that fire ants have caused widespread electrical problems.

When Hurricane Hugo caused a power outage on the East Coast last year, for example, the utility company opened every transformer in an attempt to restore electricity. Workers found that 75 percent of the transformers were completely infested with fire ants, Hand said.

"Nationally, there is about a 4 percent premature failure rate of transformers," Hand said. "But we suspect it is much higher than that in fire ant country."

Costs associated with electrical equipment damage multiply almost as abundantly as the prolific fire ant.

"We estimated that with traffic signals as well as central air conditioning thermostats and pump switches on rural water wells, the cost (of damage) is $11.2 million a year in Texas," said Dr. Terry Ervin, agricultural economist at Texas Tech University. "And that is only in the part of Texas currently under Red Imported Fire Ant quarantine, which is about the eastern one-half."

Ervin said economic studies show that total dollar losses in electrical equipment due to fire ants is second only to having equipment damage.

With plenty of wide open spaces to occupy, scientists have puzzled over the apparent charge fire ants derive from packing into electrical equipment. The path to a relay switch almost certainly means death by electrocution for the first fire ant who wanders in and all who follow her pheromonal trail.

"The most important reason (for the invasion) is the electric field produced by the relay switch," MacKay said the research found. "When we turned the power on, the ants immediately attacked. The higher the voltage, the stronger the attraction. When we turned the power off, the ants left."

MacKay said resolving the relay signal problem was easily accomplished by permanently sealing the plastic box that encloses the hand-sized equipment.

The conference was coordinated by the Texas A & M University department of entomology and included reports on fire ant research ongoing in six states.

'Born On The Fourth Of July' To Show At Majestic

The new Universal film "Born On The Fourth Of July" starring Tom Cruise will show at the Majestic in Eastland Friday, April 27 through Monday, April 30. Showtime will be 7:30 each evening, with admission $3 at the box office.

The screenplay for this Universal picture is by Oliver Stone and Ron Kovic, and the story is based on a book by Kovic. A good supporting cast backs up Tom Cruise, whose leading part details Kovic's actual experience in the Vietnam era.

When Ron Kovic went to fight in Vietnam, his fellow Americans were waving flags. When he returned, paralyzed from the mid-chest down, they were burning flags. He still loved his country, but he believed America no longer loved him.

In taking the role of Kovic, Tom Cruise stars as a man who must find the courage to create a new life when the world of his youth has been shattered beyond repair. "Born On The Fourth Of July" covers 200 years of American life, and takes place in locations as diverse as a small town in upstate New York, coastal Vietnam, College campuses, a Veteran's Administration Hospital and the Mexican desert.

Locations in the Philippines served for both Vietnam and Mexico. The scenes in Ron's hometown were mostly shot around Dallas, where Oliver Stone had just completed work on "Talk Radio." The "town" was later updated to shoot scenes taking place in 1969.

The movie was released last November, and has drawn a lot of attention since. It won an Academy Award recently for the Film Editing, and Oliver Stone won an Award for Best Director.

A number of people say "Born On The Fourth Of July" is the most perceptive film to yet come from the Vietnam Era.

Peanut Growers Go To The Polls May 1st

Texas peanut growers will vote May 1 whether to double a per-ton assessment used to research and promote the $137 million annual crop.

Since 1969, Texas peanut producers have assessed themselves $1 per ton to pay for the research and promotional efforts. If two-thirds approve the May referendum, the assessment will increase to $2 per ton and push the annual collections to near $500,000.

Although the program is voluntary, Texas Peanut Producer Board chairman Ted Higginbottom of Seminole said, 99 percent of the state's peanut farmers currently participate, collecting about $225,000 a year.

"This money is needed to meet the challenges of the 1990s in regards to disease, insect and weed control and marketing," said Mary Webb, executive director of the producer's board, based in Gorman. "All the other peanut-producing states have such a program and already have been paying $2 a ton for 10 years."

Proponents say the farmer-funded program will pay dividends to producers and to consumers who keep eating more of the nuts each year.

Spread as butter, swirled into candy or roasted in salt, more than 11 pounds of peanuts are munched annually by each American. That's up from nine pounds only five years ago.

But meeting market demands in spite of adversity is the farmer's challenge.

Even without bigger research and promotion budgets, farmers in other states have an advantage over growers in Texas where production costs are more than 12 percent higher due mainly to lower rainfall and high irrigation costs, according to Dr. Ed Colburn, Texas Agricultural Extension Service peanut agronomist in College Station.

But producer-funded research at Texas A&M, ranging from more than $50,000 to $125,000 annually in the past 20 years, has added to farmer profits, Colburn said.

Dr. Charles Simpson, a peanut researcher at the Texas A & M Research and Extension Center in Stephenville, has combed South America, for example, to collect more than 600 types of wild peanuts to use for breeding new varieties.

His collection led to the discovery of germ plasm that is resistant to root-knot nematode, a costly problem in much of Central Texas. He now is trying to breed the wild plant's resistance into Texas varieties.

"This is a major discovery," Simpson said. "The Texas growers will reap the benefits first, but it will be a benefit on the international scale."

Simpson said the root-knot nematode resistant material is almost ready to test in farmer's fields and should be commercially available within 10 years.

Colburn said Texas A&M researchers across the state also are working on many of the 24 diseases associated with the peanut plant and are adapting a low-energy, precision application irrigation system for peanuts farms.

When the variety Tamrun 88 was developed by Texas A&M scientists in 1988, Colburn said, the state's farmers gained about $60 per acre through higher yields and grades.

Higginbottom, who grows about 800 acres of peanuts, said the board would like to fund additional research projects.

"At the present time, we can only fund about 50 percent of what is requested," the farmer said. "If we have the increase in assessment, we could expand the research."

Children under 18 can carry a legal organ donor card as long as it is witnessed and countersigned by parents or guardians. (UNOS suggests that parents also carry cards for each child.) A substantial number of the patients waiting for a new heart are under 18, so the need for a pool of young potential donors is great.

All patients awaiting organ transplantation are registered on the UNOS national waiting list, where they are rated on the basis of blood type, geographic location and medical urgency. In this way, the organs go where they are most needed.

Transplants work! But others are dying because not enough of us have committed ourselves to organ donation. Wouldn't you want your death to save another's life, and your family to have that consolation?

For every fear, for every uncertainty one might have about organ donation, you need only to consider, what if someone you love needed an organ transplant?

And there is still much to be learned. Let's do our part in our own little corner of the world to prepare today - for tomorrow - for those we love and those we have loved and lost.

Commissioners Court Hears Reports On County Bridges

Woody Howell of Austin, Consulting Engineer for the Texas State Highway Department, thanked Eastland County Commissioners Monday for improving and posting bridges in the county.

Other Highway Department personnel at the meeting were Brian Neaves, Eastland, Resident Engineer, and Leon Taylor, District Engineer of Brownwood.

Howell's report to the Commissioners was an update on the Highway Department's 1986 inspection and review of bridges on county-maintained roads.

The Consulting Engineer said there were 60 bridges on county roads, with only one in critical shape - a bridge on Tudor Road on the east side of the County. This bridge should be closed, he stated.

Seventeen other bridges in the county "can't safely carry the legal limits on highways," Howell declared. But all expect one of these had been safely posted.

He cited one small bridge off Highway 183 north of Cisco as not being posted. He also said that eight of the seventeen posted bridges should be watched carefully for sign of stress.

On the Tudor Road bridges, Commissioner Norman Christian said residents in that area do not want the bridge removed because it is an antique. He said he had a low-water crossing around the structure, allowing the public to use the road. But he said he would block entrances to the bridge and make repairs.

Another bridge in Pct. 2 will be replaced if money can be found. The Commissioners voted to apply to the State Highway Department for funds to build another bridge in the county.

On other matters, the Commissioners voted to seek proposals for a certified sewer and septic tank inspector to check rural septic systems. This individual will contract with the county to make on-site inspections, as now required by law.

There was considerable discussion about the effect of this new state law on the county, and the need for having someone closer than Abilene to make the required inspections.

In another agenda item, Commissioners declared a emergency and appropriated $1800 from the general fund to pay for a used car for the Sheriff's Department. This car was purchased in Austin recently from the (Federal) Alcoholic Beverage Commission.

The Sheriff's Department is also due to receive a new car May 1. This will be paid for from the Sheriff's budget.

On other law enforcement matters, Commissioner Billy Bacon gave a report on the current status of the jail. He said there were 24 prisoners in the jail, with eight for TDC and three held under blue warrants (Out of County). Bacon said the county might be able to take six inmates (under the quota system) to the Texas Department of Corrections Tuesday.

Bacon also said that the jail was due to be inspected by the State Jail Standards Commission on May 8. He said the facility was in good shape and should pass inspection.
