"Hello, Dolly!" Abounds With Talent On Stage And Behind The Scenes

By JACKIE KINCHELOE

No one person can be attributed to the success of a show. There are people both on stage and behind the scenes who devote their talents to making a production the best it can be.

Deona Offield is one such individual. Her tireless efforts in costuming brought to life the characters in OLIVER! Once again, she's hard at work designing and crafting the wardrobe for HELLO, DOLLY! Armed with her trusty glue gun and scissors, Deona can tackle a pile of polyester and strands of trip and create a sumptuous ball gown. The audience has no clue as to the origin of a show's wardrobe. Each garment has its own unique story. Deona is a senior at Baylor, majoring in Theatre Design. Having spent much time in Europe and England with family, she has developed a love of the English countryside and hopes one day to costume for the London theatre circuit. This is Deona's third summer to be a member of the CJC drama company. She likes to keep one foot on the stage by being a member of the chorus or taking a small part in the shows. Having once been an art major, Deona is delighted to have the opportunity to "brush-up" on her painting skills as she assists with sets for HELLO, DOLLY! Her background with theatre started in Breckenridge where she worked on costumes during high school drama productions. When asked about sewing, Deona confesses that, at the age of seven, her mother taught her how to use the sewing machine. She was soon creating her own Barbie doll clothes and with time has simply made the transition to costuming for the theatre.

Jane Offield, mother to Deona, is one of those silent, seldom seen, behind-the-scenes workers who mustn't be over-looked. Thanks to many long and tedious hours at the machine, costumes are constructed for HELLO, DOLLY! Few people stop to think of the effect that would result from a show being done without costumes. A lot of the magic of the performance would be lost to say the least. Jane Offield is proud to watch daughter Deona blossom in the theatre while she devotes her love of the arts as a skilled but silent behind-the-scenes volunteer.

Le Jones, who brings to life Barnaby Tucker, comes to the east from Rising Star where he has been teaching for the past two years. Le admits that his Liberal Arts degree coupled with Secondary Education enabled him to teach just about anything. And he did teach a variety of subjects from Spanish to Band.

Jail Paid For; Commissioners Still Discussing County Roads

Things were lively both inside and out of the County Commissioners temporary meeting place in the Courthouse basement Monday.

Nearby, workmen ran a jackhammer or moved piles of material involved with the installation of the new elevator. Inside Room B-10 there were discussions with citizens about County roads, or more peaceable agenda items such as Ambulance funds, assuming the assets and liabilities of the Gorman Hospital District, or how to handle Courthouse parking.

There was also good news - an announcement of the final payment on the County Jail, which was constructed in 1979-80, this ended an era of a "Debt Service" which had to be figured annually into the County Budget.

Total costs of the Jail were estimated as around $1.2 million, not including the Lasater property - around $75,000 - which has been added to the complex.

County Judge Scott Bailey Monday began the agenda items by telling of various calls from individuals complaining of roads. The Commissioners reported that all the roads were "passable," but that some more work did need to be done. Heavy rains in some places during the past two weeks had complicated the problems.

Several citizens were in the meeting room joined in the discussion on roads. Miles Moore of Big M Oil Co. told Comm. L.T. Owen of Pct. 3 that the ditches Owen had made on a road beside an oil lease (west of Scranton) were not adequate to carry off the water.

"You need to get an engineer out there," Moore said. He added that he was again having trouble with a Mr. King about flooding on adjoining property.

"I fixed the ditch just like you said to fix it," Owen replied.

When Moore replied that the Precinct maintainer piled the dirt in the middle of the road, Owen said he didn't have any other place to put it. He said he was not going to haul it off.

Moore said he would probably be involved in a lawsuit because the ditches were not adequate on the road he warned that the County could also be involved in this lawsuit.

Another complaint on roads was heard from Rickie Hanifan, who lives near the Comanche County line in the Gorman area. He said a stretch of road near his home was in bad repair, and the rain had washed dirt away from a bridge on the Sabanno River.

"Eastland County has the worst roads anywhere - except Comanche County," he said.

Owen disputed Hanifan's description of the road near his home, and said that he would take care of the roads if Hanifan would not "come around mouthing off around my hands."

Judge Bailey said that patching roads had put a lot of strain on the Commissioners budgets, but hopefully some aid would be forthcoming.

On other matters, the Commissioners heard a report from Hershell Cordell, representing the defunct South Eastland County Hospital District. He asked that tax records, assets and liabilities of the Hospital District be assumed by Eastland County, including $63,000 which had twice been offered to the Internal Revenue Service.

Cordell said: "All the creditors have been satisfied" on debts of the District, and the Federal Bankruptcy Court was expected to close the case soon.

The Commissioners voted to accept Cordell's request. The $63,000 will go in an interest bearing account for eight years, subject to a claim by the IRS.

Tax records of the Hospital District will be transferred to the office of Nancy Trout. One agenda item concerned personnel matters and policy for Eastland County Courthouse maintenance employees. Commissioners Christian, Bacon and Owen voted to reduce the maintenance and operation staff from three to two people, with Comm. Richard Robinson of Pct. 1 abstaining from voting on this motion. The motion carried, effective Oct. 1.

On Courthouse parking, the Commissioners allocated a parking space for the D.P.S. near the Courthouse door on the east side. There was considerable discussion of allocation for a loading zone for the County Tax Collectors office, and also how to enforce the time limit on parking for the public. No definite plans were made along this line.

Billy Bacon, Commissioner of Pct. 4, reported that "everything looked great" on Jail maintenance. He said there were currently 14 prisoners in the jail, with four for the Texas Department of Corrections, one on a "blue" warrant and nine County prisoners.

It was reported that Senator Bob Glasgow's office had replied on the County Resolution concerning the allocation of State Prison space. A formula cutting Eastland County's allocation from four inmates each month to two inmates will go into effect September 1.

Senator Glasgow will write a strong letter to the Criminal Justice Board asking for a variance for Eastland County, due to the County's location and flow of traffic.

Isn't the weather nice, so cool? The rain that was received yesterday was wonderful. About 1 and 4/10 inches fell around noon. More rain fell last night. The grass has greened up, and some lawn mowers will be running when the ground gets dry enough. I am told the people are beginning to think about a fall garden. Let us be thankful for the moisture and cool weather. Approximately 5 and 1/2 inches of rain has fallen in July.

Have you been by the Park in Moran lately? Much work is being done and it looks real good. People are using the park for picnics and lunches. Rides have been constructed for the children. A volley ball net is up and people are enjoying volley ball. Drive by and look what has been done to improve the park.

Dental Dialogue
by Cone C. Rice, D.D.S.
Overcoming Your Fears

Q. I've been afraid of the dentist ever since I was a child. What can I do to overcome my fear?
A. Fear of visiting the dentist is a problem that often lasts into adulthood. Some people with such a phobia put off all dental visits except emergencies. You need to try and pinpoint the exact problem that first made you fear a dentist. Maybe it was all the strange-looking equipment, the noise of the drill, or someone telling you it wouldn't hurt just before you felt discomfort. Talk to your dentist about your fears, and don't be afraid to ask him or her to explain instruments and procedures. Together, you and your dentist can find the best solution for you.

Teen Drama To Perform At First Methodist Church

What is Teen Drama? Teen Drama is a group of high school age students dramatizing real life issues through improvisational skits. Sponsored by the Boys and Girls Clubs of Greater Fort Worth and the Fort Worth Adolescent Pregnancy Board, these young people volunteer at least 40 hours of their free time to be educated on such issues as: teen pregnancy, drug and alcohol abuse, communication with parents, as well as many other issues that confront our youth. The acceptance of the presented information has been great, as young people tend to be much more receptive to information presented to them by their peers.

This group is directed by Mary McGrew-Smith, formerly of Cisco. They will perform at the First United Methodist Church in Cisco Saturday, Aug. 11, at 3 p.m. For more information call Betty McGrew at 442-2155 or Rev. David Leech, pastor

A Thought For The Day....

For centuries, letters were a principal means of communication between people. Many letters of the past have found their way into literature, and the early forms of the modern novel were written in the form of letters to and from the principals in the story. During World War II, Kate Smith, one of our country's greatest singers, urged folks on the homefront to write military people to help keep up their spirits during one of the worst wars in history. She made famous the statement: "If you don't write, you're wrong." This statement still rings true today. Writing to people is a concrete way to touch them. There's something about a nice letter that continues to bless with the passing of years. A person can read a letter over and over again; meaningful phrases can be reread. Letters can be "tucked away" and be brought out when a person needs assurance; sometimes a feeling of togetherness; sometimes a feeling of love. Wouldn't today be a good time to sit down and send a few thoughts to a friend or a relative?

Fishing Outdoors

By Terry L. Wilson

Boaters Beware

Most boaters when first viewing Lake Leon recognize the potential hazard in operating a water craft on what some refer to as "Little Lake Toledo." Stumps, stumps, and more stumps, create a maze for boaters. But there are some safe paths, according to some new marking buoys. Paths that are not the paths traditional followed by most local anglers. In fact, every local boater I have visited with is suggesting that these new markers should be moved to the traditional paths before an unaware visitor to Leon falls prey to the timber. One can attempt to follow these markers while reading the depth sounder and see many tree tops only a few feet below the surface. One stretch that is newly marked anglers have already had mishaps in. A large pecan grove of trees resides here and a recent group from out of town made the mistake of following the markers.

Could it be that pranksters have moved these markers. If so its not a laughing matter for our visitors who do not know the normal clear cuts; road beds and fence rows in which to run. Areas which you may run now may be hazardous when the lake level falls another foot. So if you are unfamiliar with Leon or any lake, travel with extreme care. And please don't move marking buoys the laugh could be on you.

Don't forget the Wednesday evening Jackpots at Lake Leon. Starting time is around 6:00 p.m. until dark. For more information feel free to contact Tom Maynard at 629-3550.

August 3 will be the next meeting of the Eastland County Bass Club. Once again President Tom Maynard would like to invite everyone to stop by the E.N.B.B. at 7:30 p.m. for this get-together. Members will be renewed for the new year. At the same time as the August 31 end of fishing and hunting licenses.

I would like to remind you all of the upcoming Brownwood Bass Club 3rd Annual Summer Open Tournament. This event will be July 29 at Lake Brownwood and Headquarters will set up at the Flagship Inn. The entry fee for the open division will be $25.00. Junior division 13 or under entry fee $5.00, and the all new women's division $10.00. The payback will be based on the number of participants.

The following piece is brought to us from the fine folks at Fond Dulac WI., Mercury Marine; a Brunswick Company.

Heat Wave

Boaters are generally sun worshippers, the Mariner Outboard boating folks have observed, but you can get too much of a good thing.

If your boat has a top, put it up by all means when you're spending hours out on the water during the middle of the day. If you don't have a top, carry a white umbrella aboard and use it as a sun shield while you're anchored or running slowly. It's especially beneficial for older fishermen and kids, who are affected much faster than young adults by hot weather.

A small ice chest and some cold drinks are practically essential in mid-summer boating. Also, you can dip a cloth in the cold water of the ice chest and wipe your hands and face periodically. Or, get the cloth wet and lay it on the back of your neck.

You can also keep cool by simply dumping some water from the lake or stream over your clothing. In the process of evaporating, the water will help lower your body temperature.

Keep an eye on your passengers. If someone in your party quits sweating, or feels weak, nauseated, faint, or if his or her skin feels hot and dry, it's time to take action. Get the sufferer into the shade and into a comfortable lying position. Cool him down with wet towels and by circulating air around him. If he doesn't seem to respond, get some medical attention for him.

'Back To The Future III' To Show At Majestic

In 1955 Doc Brown (Christopher Lloyd) gives Marty (Michael J. Fox) some last minute instructions before the youth travels back to the year 1885.

Summer entertainment continues at the Majestic in Eastland, with "Back To The Future, Part III" opening Friday, July 27 at 7:30 p.m.

The Universal Film will continue at the same time each evening through Monday, July 30. Tickets will be $3 at the box office, with the picture rated PG.

This movie has the same stars as the other two films of the "Back To The Future" series - Michael J. Fox as Marty McFly, and Christopher Lloyd as Doc Brown. Mary Steenburger is schoolteacher Clara Clayton in this new film, and other character actors round out this good-natured romp through time.

"Being able to complete the saga of Marty and Doc in 'Part III' was one of the reasons I was excited about doing the sequels," says Bob Zemekis, who worked with Bob Gale on writing this movie. "When you hook all three movies together, they work as a complete trilogy. We knew we were taking a risk in leaving some questions unanswered at the end of 'Part II,' but everything is totally wrapped up in 'Part III.'"

In this 'wrapping up' Marty and Doc bounce back to the Old West and year 1885 - an interesting contrast to 1955 and 1990 and the year 2015.

This picture is fun, but also thought provoking.

Dr. William Beazley Retires From HSU

Dr. William O. "Doc" Beazley retired from his position as executive vice president of Hardin-Simmons University in 1981, but continues to represent the Texas Baptist institution in an unusual way. Besides being an ordained Baptist minister, he's also the man with the white horses.

"You can go to any big city today and you can find people who have heard of the Cowboy Band and the Six White Horses," said Beazley, who now serves as vice president emeritus.

"The Cowboy Band has brought more fame to Hardin-Simmons than any other organization. The Western heritage influence is terribly important to this school."

The Six White Horses were originally introduced in the 1930's as a promotional gimmick for the internationally famed Cowboy Band. The band and the horses still attract attention. This year, for the first time, scholarships will be available to the riders of the White Horses.

The horses are constantly touring, appearing at parades, schools, vacation Bible schools, and many other places. They also appear in a series of books written by Beazley.

After Beazley wrote a book in 1986 called Horses I Have Known, a conversation in HSU's faculty lounge with Dr. Charles White, professor of marketing, sparked another White Horses tradition.

"He said what we need is some children's books that will get them interested in Western culture," said Beazley, who recently completed the seventh and final book in his "Six White Horses" series.

"The quickest way to go broke is to write books," said Beazley. Though he doesn't plan to write any more books, he is working on an article about Chuck, a White Horse with an unusual gift.

"Every time he sees a child in a wheelchair, he goes and rubs the child's cheeks," said Beazley. "That isn't something we trained him to do. He just does it on his own."

Chuck and his fellow horses are often around children. After a teacher who had read the books asked about letting her students see the horses, Beazley started bringing two of the horses to various schools and church groups. He said over 3,000 children netted or rode on the horses during the past school year.

When asked if he gets many letters from children about the horses, Beazley pointed to a towering stack of envelopes on his desk.

"They send letters, even drawings," he said. "We've got hundreds of drawings." Beazley said another possible project is a book featuring the best of those drawings.

Of course, the horses aren't just for children. They frequently appear in parades all over America, and Beazley speaks about them to civic organizations. In 1972, Texas Governor Preston Smith commissioned the riders of the Six White Horses as Ambassadors of Good Will.

All of these appearances through the years might make people wonder if there are really only six horses known as the Six White Horses. Actually, new horses are trained as the old ones get too old to perform, and sometimes a horse is temporarily replaced because of an injury.

"The big problem we have all the time is finding horses with the disposition that can work with children, can be hauled, and look good," said Beazley.

With plans for HSU's Centennial Celebration and many other appearances being scheduled, the Six White Horses will keep their coordinator busy.

Beazley has been teaching since 1937. The Lexington, VA., native has been associated with Hardin-Simmons since 1948, serving in numerous capacities.

Fall Litter Roundup Greens As It Cleans Texas

What's green and clean from New Mexico to Louisiana and from Oklahoma to the Gulf Coast? Texas, of course. And that will especially be true after this fall's "Great Texas Cleanup-Greenup" on September 15.

The cleanup-greenup event is underwritten by a corporation, sponsors of the State Department of Highways "Don't Mess with Texas" and Adopt-a-Highway programs. The $5 million commitment to the antilitter effort through September includes providing 33-gallon trash bags and wildflower seeds to the thousands of volunteers who will participate in this statewide event.

"This gives the Adopt-a-Highway volunteers the chance to help Texas put on her best face as they clean up and then spread more seed for next spring," said Don Clark, director of the highway department's Travel and Information Division. "Not only will the groups be able to promote their efforts through the familiar blue and white Adopt-a-Highway signs along our highways, but now they will have beautiful displays of Texas bluebonnets, Black-eyed Susans and Indians Paintbrushes along their stretch of adopted road."

The Texas Adopt-a-Highway program was the first of its kind in the nation. In the past three years, it has been copied in 37 other states. Texas currently has 3,456 volunteer groups that have adopted more than 7,200 miles. More than 20,000 mostly rural miles still are available for adoption. Interested groups or individuals who want to participate in the September 15 Cleanup-Greenup should contact their local highway department office for more information. They need to sign up by July 15 to allow enough time to get their signs installed before the cleanup.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Anyone reading the paper where the commissioners claim that all road repair from spring rains are repaired should just take a drive down Hallenbeck Road at Lake Leon where the pavement washed away and they piled rocks over the hole and they have never been dragged since.

It is still dangerous for the low built cars.

Thank you,
Please withhold my name.

LETTER

Dear Editor,

I am gratified that the city elders have finally realized the state is not going to bail them or this county out its financial and employment plight by locating a prison here. Having heard Abilene's and other counties' prison "inducements," I don't think we could have afforded a prison.

Now, in less than three weeks the city will hold a special election "to vote on Tax for Industry." I read Richard Kurklin's front page article in the Sunday, July 22, 1990 edition of the Eastland Telegram and thought to myself "how wonderful" or is it? How is a tax increase going to bring more industry to Eastland? How long will this tax increase remain in effect?"

Don't take me wrong, I want to see Eastland grow and its people prosper, but let's do so realistically. We must take into account our strengths and weaknesses. We have many positive characteristics to present a new industry. For instance we have easy access to a major highway, the I-20. Our county is close to a major consumer, the Dallas-Fort Worth area. We have a surplus of inexpensive real estate, good schools, and two Junior Colleges. Eastland County has excellent doctors and hospiitals. There are several other elements that could be itemized. We don't have to work on our strengths, we must work on our weaknesses.

We just endured a water shortage and odd/even rationing. We have a limited work force; lacking an abundance of professional, white collar workers. We will get professionals to move here with the new industry, but that does not mean jobs for the current residents. Because we do not have a large minority population, a national corporation may not consider this area for relocation.

Let's not dwell on the negative. Instead let's look at some possible solutions. First let's try to develop industries that will enhance existing resources. Farmers and ranchers are the main stay of this county. Some byproducts of farming might be the use of peanut shells to make scented fireplace logs. This would be popular for the holidays like Thanksgiving and Christmas. Mesquite trees seem to grow well. A factory to chip them for barbeque smoking or flower beds could be started. Mesquites can be planted and this would be a renewable source of a natural material. Cattle lots could be cleaned, the manure sanitized, and sold as garden fertilizer. The skins of the slaughtered cattle could be tanned and made into leather products. (I remember seeing the TV news report about the family who made leather goods, relocating to the Big County, and their store burning to the ground. Eastland could have been a contending town.) With the price of chicken as much as $2.49 a pound for breasts, why not start a chicken farm and processing plant. There is a building on Highway 80 between Eastland and Cisco that would be a good beginning.

Let's not forget the quality of the local people. You don't have to be designated an All American City, like Abilene, to have All American Ideas. Maybe we could start a small business incubator using one of the vacant buildings. Even though Washington (D.C.) is not gushing with money, Congressman Stenholm and the Small Business Administration supports business incubators and similar projects. The Cisco and Ranger Junior College Professors could provide the business expertise and in return we could provide practical, hands-on experience for the students. This would be less expensive than paying someone minimum wage (students work for a grade) and help get an enterprise off the ground. The locals could enter the job market above the minimum wage level.

As I have stated, there are alternatives to a tax increase for obtaining jobs.

J. M. Roe
Olden, TX

Dear Editor:

In 1988, Congress passed a law called CLIA '88 (Clinical Laboratory Improvement Amendments of 1988). This bill will directly or indirectly effect just about every rural resident in the United States.

The Health Care Financing Administration (HCFA) is just now getting around to trying to implement it, and they are still holding hearings regarding the Bill. It is a very complicated law, but simply put, it suggests rules for regulation of labs in doctors' offices. You might think, so what's the big deal! The big deal is that there is just about no way that the majority of rural doctors can comply without extreme effort and cost.

It calls for 3 levels of labs. The first, a 'waivered' lab, would be able to do very little; level I would be able to do a few simple diagnostic tests, but only Level II could do all of the tests necessary for a family physician to operate in a rural area.

In order to qualify as a proposed Level II Lab, the lab would have to go through an application process, paying a substantial certification fee, comply with proficiency testing requirements, practice quality control and assurance, have a pathologist or PhD level scientist as the director or managing consultant, and have a certified (registered) medical technologist directly run or supervise all tests. If the technologist was not 'in house' there would have to be a back-up technologist, similarly trained, who would replace the first. The lab would have on-site inspections by qualified government representatives.

Probably the biggest problem for many facilities would be quality control. That would mean for each test run, a similar test with a known high value, a low value, and a normal value, would have to be run. Instead of running one test, the laboratory would run four. This would be fine if there were a high volume of patients receiving the same test, but in a rural office this is not always the case.

It is probably not necessary to explain what additional cost incurred when adding a pathologist to a staff . . . or adding a back-up medical technologist. Is it necessary to add that it is already difficult to find qualified staff for offices and hospitals in rural areas?

If rural physicians can't perform tests in their offices, the patients, particularly older patients, will really suffer. This will mean that it will be impossible to make some diagnoses while the patient is in the office, as the doctor can now do.

If the office laboratory can operate, but only under the proposed conditions, the

Gordon Spot

By DeMarquis Gordon, County Agent—

Even though we have had good rains, prussic acid poisoning could continue to be a danger for livestock in Eastland County.

Prussic acid poisoning can occur when livestock eat cyanogenic plants when the plants have had a period of stress. Cyanogenic plants include Johnson grass, Sudan grass, Sudan-Sorghum hybrids and common sorghums. The poisonous principal is increased following a time of wilting caused by drought or frost. There have been a few cases of prussic acid poisoning reported this month.

The most dangerous time following a frost is when the plant material begins to wilt. Another particularly dangerous time is when new sprouts begin to form on a stressed plant following a rainy period. The new growth usually becomes non-toxic within a week to 10 days following a rain. However, to be safe, it is recommended that livestock not be grazed on new growth until it is 18 inches tall.

A bigger problem might be that a lot of rural doctors will just throw in the towel and head for the bigger cities where they can see a lot more young people, receive better reimbursement, and certainly have better working hours.

If you want to help protect the areas that produce you food and fiber, please contact your Congressman to rescind this Law; and protest to HCFA at Health Care Financing Administration, Department of Health and Human Services, Attn: HSQ 176, P.O. Box 26676, Baltimore, MD 21207. Your comments must be there before August 20, 1990.

Ayres R. Cermin, M.D.

The symptoms of prussic acid poisoning depends on the size of the dose and time over which it is absorbed. Affected animals may show signs of suffocation, muscular twitching, or have the head turned toward flank as in milk fever. Many times only dead animals are found since the poison works very rapidly. Affected animals may die within 1 to 2 hours. They usually show symptoms in severe cases within 10-15 minutes of eating toxic material, and die within 2-3 minutes. In some poisoning the venous blood may be bright red, but more commonly it is dark.

Affected animals can be saved if treated in time. Speed is important since the toxic principal works very rapidly. If veterinary assistance is available the veterinarian should be called as early as possible and told what to expect so he can bring an antidote for the poison. Cattlemen can also prepare for an emergency by having several bottles of antidote on hand in case they are a long distance from veterinary service. Your local veterinarian can provide you with the proper antidote and instructions in its use.

There are some precautions that stockmen can take other than not grazing new growth until it is 18 inches tall. Don't pull livestock off dangerous pastures even overnight, for they soon lose their ability to withstand prussic acid. Don't forget that livestock are less likely to be poisoned by prussic acid if they are filled with hay before being turned into potentially dangerous fields. Don't let livestock graze dangerous fields too closely, for it increases their chance of eating poisonous early plant growth.

Eastland County Represented Well At Convention In Ft. Worth

Eastland County was well represented at the Texas State Republican Convention at the Tarrant County Convention Center in Fort Worth recently. Seventeen delegates and alternates were in attendance so that a full voting contingent of twelve delegates represented the interests of Eastland County at the convention.

Contrary to the major media's attempted portrayal of the convention as one being split with controversy, party unity and enthusiasm were evident on the convention floor. The strong pro-family, fiscally conservative platform was adopted in the final session without debate.

No pre-convention agreements or restrictions were placed upon Eastland County's delegates that would prohibit their voting their consciences on each issue. However, the Republican platform so well represents the values and thinking that a majority of Texans embrace that the Eastland County delegation voted unanimously for its adoption. Three Eastland County young people also served as pages at the convention. They were Clay Hunt and Stephen Groce of Eastland and Leah Watson of Gorman. The enthusiastic participation of delegates, alternates, and pages from our area are good indicators of the growth and bright prospects for the future of the Republican party in Eastland County.

Among the major upcoming events is the September 8 barbecue at Maverick Stadium in Eastland featuring U.S. Senator Phil Gramm, Texas Governor candidate Clayton Williams, and Texas Agriculture Commissioner candidate Rick Perry.

Texas Oil Production Rate Continued At 100 Percent Of Market Demand

The Railroad Commission has continued the Texas Oil production rate for August 1990 at 100 percent of market demand.

Commissioners James E. (Jim) Nugent and John Sharp continued the top production allowable after reviewing oil companies' nominations to buy a total of 1,840,237 barrels of Texas oil per day. The August nomination total, an increase of 17,340 barrels daily when compared to July purchaser nominations, estimates Texas oil production in the coming month. August 1989 nominations totaled 1,909,094 barrels daily.

The Commission first went to the ceiling level for oil production in April 1972. It applies to all fields in the state except those that are assigned lower legal rates of production so that reservoir pressures will not be depleted before the maximum amount of oil has been recovered.

Commissioner Nugent also reported that August nominations for the purchase of Texas gas totaled 20,932,614 Mcf/d (thousand cubic feet per day). July nominations totaled 21,084,071 Mcf/d. August 1989 nominations amounted to 21,387,404 Mcf/d.

The next statewide oil and gas production allowable hearing will begin at 10:00 a.m., on Thursday, August 16, 1990, at The Midland Hilton, 117 West Wall at Loraine, in Midland.

Major purchasers filed these August nominations from the floor at the hearing: Amoco Production Company, 149,000 barrels, unchanged; Conoco, Inc., 61,000 barrels, up 500; Exxon Company U.S.A., 152,000 barrels, down 1,500; and

Benefit Barbeque August 4 In Gorman

There will be a benefit barbeque dinner on Saturday evening, August 4, from 5:30 until 8:30 on the lawn behind the homemaker cottage at the Gorman School.

Gorman resident Gerald Scitem, who does contract farm work and has no insurance is to have major surgery

At Stake: Self-Government

by Bernice Prescott Part I

(ED. NOTE: These two articles are being re-printed because they are so important, and they both contained confusing typographical errors the first time they were printed. We apologize to Mrs. Prescott and to readers.)

We have been had again, by the power structure within our state Legislature, aided and abetted by other elected officials and State Judge Scott McCown.

The total state budget for the fiscal year 1989-90 was $25 billion, 236 million, 558 thousand, 051 hundred.

Of this total amount, approximately 45% ($9 billion, 555 million, 321 thousand, 2 hundred and 61) was allocated to state education.

Add to this amount federal funds and local school taxes, and the sum being spent on education defies all logic particularly when we consider that while the cost of education has gone through the roof, the quality of education has gone through the floor.

None-the-less, the power structure in our two legislative houses adamantly persist through six (6) special sessions (at a cost of $1,386,000) that more money was the only solution to educational inadequacies and inefficiencies.

The power structure won and the tax-payers lost (as well as quality education) to the tune of an $528 million increase in educational spending for the fiscal year 1990-91, with projections of tripling that amount over the next five years.

One only has to read the new Educational Reform bill to realize that it is only a costly re-hash of the "new innovative instructional idea" syndrome which pulled the plug on quality education initially.

The lack of quality educational opportunities is not due to an inadequacy in educational funding but to an overabundance of bureaucratic intervention. Our schools have become laboratories for testing drawing-board theories rather than institutions of learning.

Today's students are not being educated with true applicable knowledge, they are being programmed for material success.

Essentially, they are being yanked right out of their cradles into adulthood. As children and youth are individuals, not assembly line products, the space-age pace of programmed learning results in the increasing number of drop-outs, failures, and defeatist attitudes, not the least of which are increased suicides.

Before the ink had dried on the Educational Reform Bill and Gov. Clements had signed it into law, the Legislative power structure, including Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby had already started a hue-and-cry for even more tax increases to "improve" social programs, state high-ways, etc.

By meekly accepting the growing despotic activities of this power structure, they have interpreted our silence as consent.

As columnist Ann Landers often warns, we had better wake up and smell the coffee. Both the U.S. and Texas constitutions guarantee our right to self-government and self-determination, and specifies that government's role is as servant of the people.

During the last half of this twentieth century, we have become servants of government, even their serfs in the area of taxation.

We may not be able to touch members of the power structure with our votes at the ballot boxes, but as their actions effect all of us, then they are accountable to all of us.

We can certainly express our opinions to them via letter, telephone, fax-machines, and if necessary, a petition for a recall election.

The right to self-government must be maintained by vigilance and active participation.

Part II

An article in the June 25 edition of Forbes magazine, entitled, "Parkinson's Law 101" reveals the nationwide fraudulent use of educational funds provides specific documented studies to substantiate their statements. The article begins by alerting tax-paying citizens to the fact that "The educational lobby demands more money for schools. But a study of the nation's largest public school system reveals that less than a third of what we already spend ever reaches the classroom."

Do we know how our $9 billion, 555 million, 321 thousand 261, State education fund plus unknown totals of federal aid funds and local tax monies were spent during the fiscal year Sept. 1 1989 to August 31, 1990? A letter to our State Auditor, Lawrence F. Alwin, requesting an audit report on the TEA for this fiscal term, was responded to with a telephone call from the State Auditors office to inform us that an audit will not be completed until January of 1991. However the gentleman promised to send a Master Report for the TEA fiscal year Sept. 1 1988 to August 31 1989. Perhaps this will give local taxpayers some insight as to how our hard earned tax-dollars are being spent.

When we consider that students entering Junior Colleges require remedial courses in the very basics of academic knowledge, and when we read that business owners and managers are going bankrupt or closing their business due to a "frail contemporary work ethic," then we can be certain that the multibillion dollars being spent on education are not buying quality, applicable knowledge nor providing students with same. Then where is it going?

Perhaps if the powers that be would spend less time seeking "new, innovative ideas" in education and instruction and more time researching the methods of instruction which provided such high-quality education in decades past, they might discover that it isn't money but motive which equips youth for their leadership roles tomorrow. It doesn't make any difference whether society lives in the machine age or space age, the basics of mortality are the same.

Whether a society dwells on a civilized plane or struggles in the throes of an uncivilized jungle depends on its quality and use of knowledge. Educational institutions can be utilized to elevate society or it can be used to destroy a society. We are paying for it, its direction should be our choice.

Q. Why do word pictures work so effectively in communication?

A. Word pictures have been time-tested by the world's greatest communicators. Word pictures grab and direct attention. Word pictures lock thoughts into our memory. Word pictures provide a gateway to intimacy.

There are seven steps to creating emotional word pictures:

1. Establish a purpose
2. Carefully study the other person's interests.
3. Draw from inexhaustible wells (explained later)
4. Rehearse your story.
5. Pick a convenient time without distractions.
6. Try, try again.
7. Milk your word picture for all it is worth!

We will continue next time with the inexhaustible wells described in The Language of Love by Gary Smalley and John Trent, PhD.

Safe Driving Tips from Rhonda

Effects of drugs on driving: Alcohol is classified as a "Legal" Drug, but it is illegal to drink and drive. Even one or two drinks affect a person's ability to drive. Alcohol affects coordination. It is difficult to coordinate what your eyes are seeing with what your hands should be doing. Judgement is impaired. It is difficult to choose the proper alternatives that are so often presented while driving. (To be continued in next week's article)

The next reunion will be the first weekend in July, 1991, at Camp Inspiration in Eastland.

New Chancellor Elected At Hardin-Simmons University

Hardin-Simmons University's Board of Trustees Thursday, July 19, elected Dr. Jesse C. Fletcher as Chancellor effective June 1, 1991.

He will step down from the presidency which he has held since November, 1977, the second longest tenure in the university's nearly 100 year history.

Citing completion of the Centennial celebration and his 60th birthday as appropriate points to lay aside the presidency, Fletcher, a tenured professor of religion holding the Connally Chair of Missions, indicated his strong desire to follow the lead of the late Dr. Rupert N. Richardson, a former president of HSU, and return to teaching and writing.

Chairman of the Board of Trustees, Robert Hitt of Abilene, said the board has accepted Fletcher's plans with regret, but with appreciation for his contribution and gratitude that he will continue to represent the University as Chancellor.

Fletcher will be the university's second Chancellor.

lor. The first was his predecessor, Dr. Elwin L. Skiles, who is now president emeritus.

In a letter to the HSU faculty and staff, Fletcher said, 'With our second century dream beginning to take place and economic recovery underway, I think new leadership will be an invigorating experience for us all. The trustees have a board based plan to mount a search for our new President and I'm convinced an outstanding person will be named before the school year is over.'

During Fletcher's tenure, enrollment records were set for fall, spring and the decade. Seven new buildings were constructed and the academic program was reorganized into a University configuration.

Faculty credentials and salaries were greatly enhanced and nearly $50 million dollars were added to the University's assets.

Endowment grew from just over eight million to approximately $30 million dollars.

Fletcher helped organize and served as the first President of the Abilene Intercollegiate School of Nursing. He also was the founding President of the Trans American Athletic Conference and he was the Chairman of the Board of Minister's Life of Minneapolis, MN.

Active in Abilene community affairs, Fletcher has chaired the annual United Way Campaign and served as President of United Way.

He was a founding director and is current Vice Chairman of the Community Foundation of Abilene, is a governor of the Southwest Golf Classic, served on the Mayor's Task Force for Flood Control and most recently as Vice Chairman for ACTNOW. He is a director of Abilene's Chamber of Commerce.

Long a leader in Baptist affairs, Fletcher, who was a top administrator at the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board for over 15 years, served on the General Council of the Baptist World Alliance, preached the Southern Baptist Convention's annual sermon in Atlanta in 1978, chaired a key committee for the long range planning for the Baptist General Convention of Texas and is current Missions Chairman for the Abilene Baptist Association.

A member of Abilene's First Baptist Church, Fletcher was on the Pastor Search Committee that chose Dr. Bill Bruster to succeed Dr. Jim Flamming as pastor.

One of Southern Baptist's most published authors, Fletcher has written 10 books for Broadman Press, including 'Bill Wallace of China,' a bestseller in the early 1960s.

He was named a distinguished alumnus of Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary and is a former national alumni President of the seminary in Fort Worth.

Fletcher has preached all over the world in his roles with the Foreign Mission Board. Most recently, he was the preacher for Paisano Encampment and is currently the Baptist preacher for the Bloys Cowboy camp meeting in the Davis Mountains. Last year Fletcher gave of Baylor University's inaugural Hixon Lectures.

He accepted the presidency of HSU while he was the pastor of the First Baptist Church of Knoxville, Tenn., where he serve for almost three years.

An active pilot, amateur astronomer and avid outdoorsman, Fletcher said, 'I'm looking forward to this exciting new phase of life,' but admitted, 'I doubt if more time on my hands will be a part of it.'
