Washington Snapshots by JAMES PRESTON

Within the next fortnight, you'll be reading statements and reports of speeches about the new defense plans now being hatched. The watchword at Capitol Hill is "anything could happen," and the White House now talks of a defense program triple—not double—present estimates.

The plans amount call for 160 billion dollars to be spent by the end of 1943 or early 1944. More battleships, tens of thousands of tanks, and more than 100,000 airplanes, including about 30,000 long-range bombers; and defense to consume 50 percent of industrial capacity as against 18 percent at present—that's the new goal.

It was only a year ago that Washington was assuring industry and labor that defense would be super-imposed on the regular business of the country. "Guns and butter" was the slogan. And no one in Washington had the courage to talk of sacrifices to come.

The 100-billion program now talked of would mean man-hours of work enough to employ every single man and woman in the country's whole labor force for one year. Or looked at another way, it would mean putting all present employees in manufacturing to work on a 40-hour week schedule for six whole years.

Washington behind-the-scenes talk these days is of the "stiffening" White House attitude on strikes that are hampering defense work. The fact is that even the pro-labor men around the President are beginning to talk of being "fed up."

Congressional leaders are now drafting legislation with sufficient teeth, they think, to eliminate jurisdictional labor disputes which have been paralyzing business and industrial activity in some entire communities.

Some observers believe the President may try to head off legislation by some proclamation or stern statement against defense strikes. So far the President has already announced that the O-P-M would take action to reduce or eliminate jurisdictional disputes.

Do You Know TEXAS?

Memorable Passage "Let Texans know Texas and they will love Texas; and loving Texas, they will love the American Union with a love so great, so devoted, so genuine, so deep, so unselfish, and so faithful as to be beyond the power of words to express—and beyond the power of other countries to equal or to understand."—Ben B. Hunt.

Q. Did any Negroes fight in the Texas Revolution? A. Yes. The muster rolls of the Texas army, now on file in the General Land Office, list one Negro as having been in the Texas army. Bascom Giles, Land Commissioner, reports.

Q. Would You Believe It? A person may travel on a straight line from Erath county to Andrews county, a distance of approximately 300 miles, without crossing a county.

Q. Where is the largest salt dome in the world? A. Grand Saline, Texas.

Only two cities in Texas, Dallas and El Paso, are still served by electric street railway systems. Nearly 25 cities are served by bus systems.

Q. How do Texas' largest cities rank with the population of other large cities in the United States? A. Houston is listed twenty-first, Dallas thirty-first, San Antonio, thirty-sixth, and Fort Worth, forty-sixth.

Pledge to Texas' Flag "Honor the Texas Flag of 1836; I pledge allegiance to thee—Texas, one and indivisible."

Q. Is it a violation of the law to leave rocks, worn out tires or other obstructions upon the highway? A. Yes. It is also a violation to pass a school bus that has stopped to discharge or take on passengers.

If all the state designated and maintained highways in Texas were laid end to end, the road would reach more than around the earth. In the summer of 1940 there was a total of 23,804 miles of such highways in Texas. Only three-fourths of this total, however, could be classed as all-weather roads.

Q. How many public libraries are there in Texas? A. There are approximately 120 free public libraries, according to records in the office of superintendent of public instruction.

Freezing Of Peas Requires Care

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 4.—Green peas in frozen storage often lose so much weight by evaporation that in many cases the appearance and quality of the vegetable are impaired.

According to Grace I. Neely, specialist in food preservation of the A. & M. College Extension Service, this moisture loss is due to the lining or wrapping material used in the package, rather than to the type of container. Studies show that packages which are either lined with or wrapped in moisture-proof viscose sheets show the least weight losses.

TECH STUDENT HAS ATTENDED SEVEN COLLEGES LUBBOCK, Nov. 3 — After commuting 18,000 miles in attending seven colleges in two states J. R. Wright, Jr., of Omaha, expects to get a degree in agronomy and farm machinery next summer at Texas Technological college. He plans to enter the Naval Air Corps after graduation. Colleges attended include the University of Texas, Arkansas A. & M. college, North Texas Agriculture college, John Tarleton Agricultural college, the University of Arkansas, East Texas State Teachers college, and Texas Tech.

ONE ANCHOR NOT ENOUGH!

NYA Girls Aid Warm Springs Foundation

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 3.—Twenty girls employed at a part-time NYA Resident Center are assisting in the operation of the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation, which upon Saturday rounded out its first week of treatment for crippled children. J. C. Kellam, state NYA administrator, said today.

The girls assist in the preparation and serving of food for the little patients, the making up of beds, caring for the laundry and the other tasks accompanying the normal routine of the Foundation, which leaves the two resident nurses free to devote their time to the patients.

With a dozen children already receiving treatment, the unit's capacity of 16 is expected to be attained within the very near future. Patients are being admitted to the Foundation through the Vocational Rehabilitation and Crippled Children's Division of the State Department of Education, of which J. J. Brown is director.

Ross Booth and Harold Michelson, both of Gonzales, are president and secretary-treasurer, respectively, of the Foundation, located in Palmetto State Park, at Odine, ten miles north of Gonzales on the Gonzales-Lubbock highway.

Kellam recalled NYA's first work in connection with the Foundation, an NYA construction project to which unemployed youth from Gonzales and surrounding counties were assigned to build the brick structure, now modernly equipped throughout, which contains two eight-bed wards, one for boys and one for girls; a reception room; an office for the nurses and for visiting physicians; two indoor treatment pools for use by the physiotherapist in charge of that work; a kitchen and a dining room. The project also included the construction of the outdoor swimming pool, which like the indoor pools, is fed from the warm springs.

Plainview To Hold Eighth Turkey Show

PLAINVIEW, Tex., Nov. 4.—The 8th annual Southwestern Dressed Turkey Show will open here on Wednesday, December 3, for a two-day exposition of prize birds from flocks in several states.

In addition to the dressed show there will be an exhibit of live birds. Prize money for the two exhibits totals $400 and entries are eligible from anywhere in the United States.

George McCarthy, poultry husbandman of the A. & M. Extension Service, will judge the show. McCarthy has urged turkey growers to "ride herd" on their flocks and cut out the poorly developed and mest marketable birds, such as livestockmen cut out their cattle for market.

Red Raiders Play Bluejays From Omaha

LUBBOCK, Nov. 3 — Texas Tech's annual homecoming celebration will be Saturday, Nov. 8. Plans have been made for a reunion of alumni and ex-students in a real old-fashioned get-together. Homecoming is always the day for renewing old acquaintances with former schoolmates and the faculty. It will be a day for reminiscing the old college days, and re-living on one day the pleasures of the past.

It will be Texas Tech's sixteenth annual homecoming and will really start on Nov. 7, but the grand climax will be at 2:30 Saturday afternoon, Nov. 8, when the Texas Tech Red Raiders battle the Creighton University Bluejays in Texas Tech's seventh football game of the season. Previous to the game there will be an open meeting of current and ex-students. There will be a colorful downtown parade Saturday afternoon, a parade which will be headed by Professor D. O. Wiley and his huge Texas Tech band. Friday night will see the big pep rally in the Tech gymnasium, followed by the huge bon-fire on the Tech campus.

It is the consensus of opinion that the sixteenth annual homecoming will be the largest and most colorful in the history of the comparatively young Texas Tech giant. The football game will definitely be one of the toughest on the Red Raiders' 10-game schedule. The Bluejays boast a powerful team and have won five of their six games. It will be the first meeting between Texas Tech and Creighton since 1937 when the Red Raiders walked off with a 27 to 0 decision.

Carthy said. Only turkeys rated U. S. Prime will be accepted for exhibition at the Southwestern show. Persons desiring information on the show should write to H. Smith, secretary of the F. I. View Chamber of Commerce, manager of the show, and a catalogue will be mailed immediately. Members of the Hockley Defense unit received their instruction in the manual of arms last week when the unit was issued wooden rifles for training purposes. Sergeant Clapp of Lubbock and a corporal brought the guns to Levelland and had charge of the initial instruction. This week each member was issued a "gun" to take home for use in practicing the manual of arms at his convenience. Over 50 have signed for membership in the unit, which meets each Tuesday night at the American Legion Hall.

Local Golfer Plays With Denny Shute

Dr. W. A. Schaal, Muleshoe chiropractor, has written the following account of a golf match which he and J. D. Taylor of Clovis played Monday afternoon against Denny Shute, runner-up in the 1941 National Open Championship and Walt Hunsaker. The match was played at Clovis.

Dr. Schaal's account of the match follows:

Denny Shute, runner-up in the 1941 National Open Championship at Colonial Club, Fort Worth, twice PGA champ, British Open title holder in 1933, the last American to win that old and coveted crown, and a traveling professional golfer for the last decade, paid the Clovis Golf Club a visit last Monday afternoon.

When it was learned that he intended to play on that date, the members of the club decided to play a qualifying round Sunday before last. The three lowest scorers would make up the foursome. Dr. W. A. Schaal, Muleshoe, J. D. Taylor, Clovis, and Walter Hunsaker, Clovis, turned in the lowest card respectively. It was then decided that Hunsaker and Shute would team against Taylor and Schaal. The match was to start at 1:30 p. m.

Shute tossed a coin for the honors and Schaal called it wrong, so Shute and Hunsaker teed off first. Shute split the middle with a screaming drive. Hunsaker played down the middle. Schaal shot down the fairway short of Shute, and Taylor hooked over the trees to the left. Schaal and Shute putted for birdies, but Schaal took three putts while Shute only required two; Taylor missed for par; result, Shute and Hunsaker went one up.

None of the foursome parred No. 2. No. 3 was halved with par 5. No. 4 was halved with par on No. 5. Shute shot first, laying a 7 iron six feet from the pin. Walt missed the green. Schaal fired a spade mashie within ten feet of the can, and Taylor landed in the frog hair. Schaal missed his try for a birdie, and Shute rammed the six-footer in the back of the cup.

On No. 6, both Taylor and Schaal made par 5, while Shute and Hunsaker took 6 each. On No. 7, Shute regained the honor with a nice iron shot and putt. No. 8, the longest par 4 hole on the course, gave Taylor and Schaal a hole back. Schaal canned a 30-foot putt for a birdie 3.

No. 9 was halved with par 3. As the foursome started over the nine-hole layout again, No. 1 hole was again lost by Taylor and Schaal. No. 2 went to Shute with a three. No. 3 was halved when Hunsaker knocked in a long putt to tie Taylor and Schaal. No. 4 was a half in four Taylor having a 3-foot putt for a birdie, but as he started to putt, someone cast their shadow over the hole and walked over the edge of the green. When that happened, Taylor looked up at the sky and rimmed the cup. No. 5 was halved in par 3 when Shute and Schaal missed their birdie tries. No. 6 was lost to Shute when Taylor's birdie putt jumped out of the cup, and Shute knocked his birdie down. No. 7 was halved in par. No. 8 was won by Taylor and Schaal. All four were within seven feet of the cup. Shute missed; Hunsaker missed; Schaal sank a downhill putt, and Taylor tallied his four from six feet.

On No. 9, Schaal shot to the frog hair on the right. Taylor was over the green in the frog. Shute was to the right of the green, but Hunsaker was on the green 20 feet from the cup. The three golfers who missed the green approached close to the hole, and Walter Hunsaker calmly and deliberately sunk his birdie two to win the hole. The match was enjoyed by all of the contestants and the gallery, composed of Clovis golf fans from school boys to business men.

After the golf match, Denny Shute gave some pointers in golf over the Clovis radio station. Charlie Alsop, the announcer, Gayle Parker, president of the Clovis golf club, and Dr. Schaal took part in the broadcast. Mrs. Shute also made a few remarks. Denny and Mrs. Shute enjoyed their visit very much and stated that they might settle down in this western country after Denny retires from active golf competition.

Mayor Brown Attends WTCC Convention

Mayor R. L. Brown left Monday afternoon of this week for Midland, Tex., to attend the annual West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention. Before the organization Tuesday was a recommendation by the work committee that the body adopt resolutions demanding curtailment of non-defense federal spending, and legislation "correcting labor abuses."

President J. Thomas Davis of Stephenville, and other officers were re-elected by the chamber's directors Monday night.

Chosen to continue in office were George Jones of Marfa and M. C. Ulmer of Midland, vice presidents; Malcolm Meek of Abilene, treasurer and D. A. Barden of Abilene, general manager. The work committee, headed by James D. Hamlin of Farwell, also recommended adoption of resolutions urging:

Independent Texas participation in the inter-territorial rate investigation, with the Texas railroad commission to represent the state.

Creation of a post-war economy and projects board.

Cooperation of West Texas communities in the chamber's defense and preservation contest.

Mr. and Mrs. Delma McCarty of Littlefield were in Muleshoe Friday afternoon to attend the K. K. Smith funeral services.

They say that the war has made things so tough they are now splitting toothpicks in Scotland.

New Work Clothes For Farm Women

Women do many farm chores, and with boys being called to the colors likely they'll do more in the future. Those with such active jobs will do well to investigate some new work clothes designed by the Bureau of Home Economics, advises Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, clothing specialist for the Texas Extension Service.

THIS BUSINESS OF Living BY SUSAN THAYER (Illustration of a woman with a dog and a fence)

We were spreading old table cloths over the improvised tables we had set up in the basement of the church for the Harvest Home Supper. When the tables were covered, we would arrange yellow pumpkins and purple egg plants and crook-necked squash and corn with the husks turned back as centerpieces on each of the tables.

"Just as we've been doing all our lives!" Kitty Phillips commented a little wearily. "I think I began fixing centerpieces like this when I was ten and I'll probably still be doing it when I'm ninety."

"If we're lucky," I replied. "Lucky?" she queried.

"Yes, and we keep on doing things in the good old American way. Do you realize that this is one of the few countries left in the world today where people can do things the way they did when they were children and as their fathers and mothers did before them? Why we even know now what we'll have to eat tonight, although no one has made out a list or even told people what to bring."

"Of course," she said. "There'll be at least two crocks of beans baked in molasses and still piping hot. There'll be half a dozen roast chickens. Mrs. Holmes will bring pickled peaches... " "And stuffed eggs and light rolls" I went on with the list. "Oh, yes and there'll be pumpkin pie and devil's food cake and angel's food cake and at least one Lady Baltimore."

College "Who's Who" Includes Weldon Bright

Weldon Bright, son of Rev. J. R. Bright, pastor of the Methodist church at YL, has been selected to represent West Texas State College, Canyon, in the list of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities," compiled annually. To be eligible for this recognition, each student must be of junior standing and must not have been selected for the list in any previous year.

Other West Texas State college students selected for the "Who's Who" list include O. T. Schuppback, Ben Collins, Lucille West, Dorothy Warwick, Bob Miller, Roy Chestman, Cletis Kuehler, Mickey Ledrick, Alva Thornburg, Charles Halbert, Ralph Davis, Marjorie Kirk, Charles Wilkerson, Natalie Flesher, Mable Back and Delbert McGuire. A committee, Mrs. Geraldine Green, dean of women; Olin E. Hinkle, journalism instructor; Marion Miller, former personality queen and president of Pi Omega; Arvo Goddard, president of the students' association, and the editor of The Prairie selected the students. Each committee member compiled a list of eighteen students, and Mr. Goddard selected those who received the most votes, after checking their eligibility.

Mrs. Laura Krey, author of "And Tell of Time," has deposited the original manuscript of her best-selling novel of life in old Texas in the University of Texas library.

Local Happenings

H. M. Kimbrough, and son, Harris, and Kim Harty of Amarillo were here Saturday and Sunday coming down to help open the duck season. They had poor luck, however, as they failed to get a decent shot.

Mrs. H. A. Douglass visited in Amarillo Thursday and Friday of last week with her daughter, Mrs. A. J. Sparks. She was accompanied by Mrs. W. B. Wagoner and Mrs. Charles Holdeman, who attended the Grand Chapter of Eastern Star, also by Mrs. Joel Lee, Sr., who visited her daughter Miss Carrie Agnes Lee and in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Buck Lee.

William H. Kramer, Edward Warren and Gale Wilson were here Sunday from Three Oaks, Mich., looking after ranching interests. While here, they visited the oil test southwest of Muleshoe, the first they had ever seen at close range. They were accompanied on the sight-seeing trip by Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Stone and thoroughly enjoyed seeing the big drill in operation.

Herman Sterling left last week for Lubbock, where he will be employed on houses now under construction at the Army Air Corps unit there.

Miss Virginia Sue Brown spent the past week in Lubbock working in a drug store there. Miss Brown probably will move to Lubbock to complete her school term.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Alexander, former residents of Muleshoe, were here Friday to attend funeral services for K. K. Smith. Mr. Alexander was manager of the Valley Motor Co., part of the time while residing here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wilson of Brownfield transacted business and visited friends here the first of the week.
