J. W. Lyon, Jr. Announces For Judge's Office

J. W. Lyon, Jr., of Quitaque, this week authorizes this newspaper to announce that he is a candidate for the office of County Judge and Ex-Officio Superintendent of Schools in Briscoe County, subject to the Democratic primaries July 25th.

Mr. Lyon has been a resident of Briscoe County for over thirteen years and is well acquainted among the people of this territory. A graduate with honors from the Quitaque High School, he has attended both Wayland College at Plainview and West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon, receiving his pre-law education at these schools.

He received his LL.B. Degree last year from the law school at Cumberland University of Lebanon, Tennessee, a nationally recognized institution, and has since continued his studies to better prepare himself to serve the people of this county and state.

Mr. Lyon, feeling that he is prepared to undertake the duties of the office, now announces his candidacy for an important position in the county administration. In doing so, he is the first in this county to ask the consideration of local voters for the office of County Judge in the coming primary.

In making his announcement, Mr. Lyon stated, in part:

"For the past several months I have been seriously considering asking you, the voters of this county, for this important office. I am not unmindful of the duties and responsibilities it holds. I have tried to prepare myself for the position, and feel that I am qualified. I do not intend to make promises which I cannot fulfill, but I do assure you that I will do my best, if elected, to serve the people and to give them a good, economical, and fair administration.

"Before asking for your vote in the primary, I will try to meet every man and woman in the county, and will personally explain my position. Any support which you may give me for the office will be greatly appreciated. Thank you.

Fire Destroys the Old Collier Home Wednesday P. M.

A sudden fire shortly after one o'clock Wednesday afternoon destroyed the old Zack Collier home, which was occupied at the time by the M. C. Anderson family, two miles east of Quitaque.

The large frame house was completely destroyed by the blaze. The fire originated in a defective flue, Anderson stated, and was out of control before it was discovered.

The Quitaque Fire Department made a quick run to the scene, but the flames, fanned by a high wind, had completely enveloped the seven room frame structure and the fire was completely out of control.

Only a few household effects, most of which were in the basement, were saved from the blaze. No estimate was made on the amount of the loss.

AGRICULTURAL BRIEFS

BY THE BRISCOE COUNTY AGENT

One week of mourning for a dead AAA should be enough for all of us. Lets let the dead bury the dead, and turn our hands to something else that's facing us.

There isn't much we can do about the dead AAA, but we CAN let our Congressmen and Senators know that we want some kind of a farm program that will do a little for the farmers of what the tariff wall does a lot for the manufacturers.

No better time ever presented itself for farmers and farm women to inaugurate a program of "live at home" than the present. During the past two years we have either had a benefit check in hand or one coming with which we could buy groceries and things, but now we face an era during which we won't have a check in hand nor on the road so we will have to produce at home the things we have heretofore been buying at the store.

Victor T. Hall Named Dealer For Oldsmobile

The Hall Motor Company, owned and operated by Victor T. Hall, well-known local farmer and business man, this week announces the appointment as dealer for the Oldsmobile, a General Motors car, in Quitaque and territory.

Mr. Hall opened his headquarters at the Cantrell Service Station here Tuesday, and is ready at all times to give demonstrations of the 1936 model Oldsmobile. He will handle the agency for both 6 and 8 cylinder models.

The Hall Motor Company invites you to see their announcement in this issue of the Post.

CHEVROLET PRODUCES OVER A MILLION CARS IN 1935

Other years to product over 1,000,000 units were 1927, 1928 and 1929.

Chevrolet built its 11,000,000th car early in December. Its total all-time production, from 1912 to the close of 1935, is 11,105,278.

Carl Cooper To Speak At M. E. Church Sunday

Carl Cooper, Turkey, delegate to the Southern Methodist Young People's Conference at Memphis, Tennessee, last month, will speak Sunday evening at the Methodist Church here in a report on the Young People's work as outlined at the national convention.

Mr. Cooper will be heard at the regular hour for evening services, 7:30 p. m., Rev. Keever having turned the program for the evening over to the members of the local Epworth League.

Cooper was selected by the members of the Cinco Union, five-league organization of young people from Turkey, Quitaque, Matador, Flomot, and Whiteflat, to represent the union at the conference at Memphis during the closing week in December. He delivered an interesting report on the Conference before the Union in a meeting at Turkey recently, and has accepted the invitation to repeat the report here Sunday evening as the principal speaker on the program sponsored by the young people.

Cooper may be accompanied by Dennis Coker, also of Turkey, his fellow delegate to the National Conference. Special music and vocal numbers will be arranged by the local Epworth League, completing Sunday's program.

TEXAS COTTON CROP IS ESTIMATED AT 3,050,000

Joe Graham Slightly Injured In Car Wreck

Joe Graham was slightly injured in an automobile accident on Highway 18 two miles east of Turkey Monday morning when his automobile overturned in the bar ditch.

The accident occurred at the cross roads two and one-half miles east of Turkey. Graham, attempting to avoid a crash with another car which was turning off the highway, was forced into the ditch, his machine overturning as it struck the opposite bank.

Graham received minor head injuries and cuts and bruises as window glasses were shattered. An unidentified man, a hitch-hiker picked up on the road, was slightly injured.

Graham was returning from a trip to Childress when the accident occurred. The other occupant of the car had been picked up on the highway shortly before the accident. The Graham car was slightly damaged, glasses being broken and the fenders and top dented by the impact. The machine was not completely overturned, remaining on its side in the ditch.

The two men were taken to Turkey for treatment, Mr. Graham returned to Quitaque shortly thereafter.

AT THE THEATRES

QUEEN—Quittaque
"Mutiny on the Bounty"—a great and stirring tale of adventure and mutiny on the high seas—brings new thrills to a theatre audience in its initial appearance at the Queen
Thursday and Friday.

With a great cast including Charles Laughton, Clark Gable and Fran-chot Tone, the picture is off to certain success. Faithfully reproduced at a cost of more than $2,000,000 to MGM studios, the picture brings a realistic sea story from the world famous book of Charles Nordhoff and James N. Hall—a tale of mutiny on his majesty's ship, the ill-fated "Bounty."

Charles Laughton appears in probably his greatest role as the villain captain—a slave to Duty. Clark Gable as the leader of the mutineers and Franchot Tone in his unique role of supercargo—an Englishman and a gentleman—give stirring performances.

The picture is unquestionably one of the greatest spectacles ever produced on the screen. The scene shifts from the blood-drenched decks of the man o'war to the sun-baked paradise of the south seas. The natives are real, and much of the picture was filmed in the island of Tahiti, deep in the southern Pacific.

Saturday the Queen presents
"Escape from Devil's Island," with Victor Jory, No man Florence Rice. The feature for the Monday-Tuesday spot has not been announced.

a touching little comedy.

ing romance, "Little Big Shot" —

cluding Glenda Farrell, Robert Arm-tures of 1935. A real romance of

WASTE AND WAIST

A brewer's dray had collided with a heavily laden milk cart and sent can after can splashing into the street. Of course, the world assembled to watch the great event.

A small man, coming up late, had to stand on tip-toe and keep dodging his head from side to side in order to see past an enormously stout washerwoman, who was just in front of him.

"What is it? What is it?" he kept on asking.

At last he caught a glimpse—the shattered cart and the fresh white milk streaming through the street.

"Goodness!" he exclaimed. "What an awful waste!"

The stout woman turned and stared at him.

CORPS AND CORPSE

A Columbia county clergyman, in preaching a funeral, referred to the deceased saying: "The corpse has been a member of this church for fifteen years."

IMMERSED AND EMERSED

An old negro preacher did the honors and the candidate for baptism was a coal black negro woman. The preacher led his victim far out in the stream, where she could be thoroughly immersed, and at the auspicious moment he cried in a loud voice:

"Be stiddy, be stiddy, an' you'll come up whitah dan snow."

"Oh, parson!" she exclaimed, "dat's askin' too much: a cream color'll do!"

TAIL AND A TALE

A little girl who loved animals came home accompanied by a stray dog.

"Why, Cissy," said her mother, "that dog isn't yours. You have no right to bring him home."

"Well, mamma," pleaded Cissy, "he didn't belong to anybody any more than the flowers. I can pick flowers—wild ones—and keep 'em, and the doggy was just like the flowers, so I came along and picked him."

At this point the dog turned round and displayed a noticeable lack of tail, whereupon Cissy's small brother broke in with, "Why didn't you pick a longer stem?"

It has been rather common that laws which are too strict limits for automobile protection against accidents at which one may depend upon the road conditions involved.

A high executive of leading automobile companies, who has made study of speed in its relation to accidents, declares that 50 or 60 miles an hour over good open roads in the country may be safer than 30 miles an hour in cutting corner town.

The safe driver is not necessarily the slow driver, but one who uses common sense whether driving fast or slow. Careless driving while turning corners, passing pedestrian or other cars, crossing railroad tracks and maneuvering in congested traffic is the greatest menace to life and limb.

Sense, not speed, is the important factor in determining whether a driver is safe or unsafe.

Milestones of American Genius

Jackson Memorial at the Hermitage, Nashville, Tenn.

ANDREW JACKSON

WHEN the rough-hewn, outspoken Andrew Jackson became the seventh President of our country, he represented a new phase in American life. It marked the coming of age of American democracy.

His six predecessors in the nation's highest office had come from homes of culture and comfort. Jackson's life, on the contrary, had been one of poverty, hardships and self-education.

Jackson's rise to the supreme executive post also marked recognition for the frontier West. Although born in the Carolinas, in 1767, Jackson spent all his adult life in Tennessee, which was then an outpost of the new West.

Andrew's father had died shortly before the future President was born, and his mother died when he was fourteen. Thus orphaned, he proceeded to make his own way in life.

Deprived of the opportunity for formal education, Jackson nevertheless prepared himself painstakingly for the law and at twenty-one he was public prosecutor of the Western District of North Carolina, which is now Tennessee. His fearless championship of the common folk and his natural talents as an orator and leader enabled him to rise politically.

His role in the War of 1812, when he became the Hero of New Orleans, gave an additional impetus to his meteoric career. The whole West leaped and honored him and Tennessee loaded him with the political preferment that ultimately made him President, in 1828. He remained at the post for two terms.

President Jackson spent his last years at The Hermitage, the beautiful home he built in Nashville. The mausoleum in the sketch above is one that he erected himself for his wife. He joined her there after his death on June 8, 1845.

The impressive memorial stands in the garden of The Hermitage, which has been turned over by his heirs to the State of Tennessee as a national shrine. In the story of American democracy it represents a most significant milestone.

Texas Senator Offers Tariff Debenture Farm Relief Plan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Senator Tom Connally has revived the export debenture farm relief plan as a substitute for farm relief legislation in view of the decision of the Supreme Court holding the Agricultural Adjustment Act. His plan is not exclusive but may possibly be linked with other farm legislation in order to make a complete program.

A bill embodying the export debenture plan will be introduced in the Senate by Senator Connally this week.

The export debenture for farm products is based upon the same principle as the protective tariff except that it is made applicable to exports rather than imports. Since the farmer must pay the tariff on manufactured goods and must sell his export surplus in a world free market, the Senator's theory that the exportable surplus of farm products should be sold in the domestic market with imported goods at the same level with manufactured goods.

It provides that the Treasury should issue certificates for each product which may be used for the same purpose as the tariff certificate on each pound of cotton or bushel of wheat will be fixed with a view to giving the farmer an increase of his price. By thus lifting the export price of such commodities the price in the domestic markets will be lifted to the same levels. Tariff schedules would prohibit the reimportation of such exported surplus in order to protect the Treasury and the domestic market.

In commenting on the measure, Senator Connally said: "When the manufacturer cannot compete in the domestic market with imported goods the government gives him an import tariff in order that he may do so. It the farmer cannot compete in foreign markets why not give him an export tariff to equalize conditions and enable him to buy manufactured articles which cost him more by reason of the tariff?"

The export debenture farm relief plan was advocated by Senator Connally when first a candidate for the Senate in 1928. In 1929 the plan in the form of an amendment to the Farm Board Act passed the Senate on two occasions but was rejected by the House of Representatives during the Hoover Administration.

"Agriculture is entitled," said Senator Connally, "to permanent legislation which will put the farmer upon an economic level with industry and manufacturing groups. The export debenture plan is designed to secure that end. It may be used either singly or as a part of a more comprehensive program of farm relief and I am earnestly and aggressively supporting it. At the last session of Congress we were able to secure an amendment to the revised Agricultural Adjustment Act, appropriating thirty per cent of revenues from tariffs on imports as a fund to be used by the Secretary of Agriculture for benefit payments to the farmers. That amendment was carrying partially into effect the export debenture idea. Agriculture must be saved. The export debenture plan will go a long way toward that desirable objective."

Lloyd George once said: "No country ever long lived when its cities and towns grew and its country faded."

What Does America Ask of Congress?

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN
National Chairman
Sentinels of the Republic

With the new year comes a new session of Congress. What does the average American ask of it?

Basically his demands are modest—and few. All are in conformity with the rights and powers granted him under the Constitution.

He wants those rights respected and preserved.

He wants his collective interests, as a worker, an earner and a taxpayer, considered above and ahead of the demands of organized minorities operating as political pressure groups.

He wants his national Legislators to exhibit those qualities of responsibility and self-reliance expected of the chosen representatives of a free people. He has seen enough of rubber-stamp Congresses, eager and willing to enact hasty measures at the behest of appointed bureau chiefs, in whose selection the voters have no choice and over whose actions they exercise no control.

He wants Congress to know and respect the Federal Constitution, to refrain from legislation which violates our Fundamental Law and its Bill of Rights.

He wants Congress to remember that public debts created by reckless expenditures and waste must be paid out of taxes—clipped from the worker's earnings or the earnings of his children and grandchildren. He wants it to stop mortgaging our future.

He wants members of Congress, whatever their party affiliations, to think of the Nation as a whole, rather than in terms of political groups and factions.

In brief, he wants courage, reason and economy in government—and he asks Congress to assure these things. It is a fair request. If the members of Congress will heed it, they can do much to restore that public confidence upon which depends not only our national recovery, but the future security of America.

Why We Need a National Umpire

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN, National Chairman, Sentinels of the Republic

As happened after the crash of the Blue Eagle, the recent decision invalidating A. A. A. has aroused various proposals for a change in our American form of government.

That's what advocates of those amendments are asking us to do. But, simple as this idea can be made to sound, it remains a serious and dangerous proposal.

That alone, among the greater nations of earth, our country has retained its form of government unchanged during the past century.

That under our form of government America has enjoyed a larger share of happiness and prosperity than any other nation.

That whatever passing benefits various odd experiments may offer a favored few, they do not hold the solution of our problems.

Government Costs and the H. C. L.

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN, National Chairman, Sentinels of the Republic

With the next session of Congress only a few weeks away there has been a cheering revival of discussion on methods of checking waste and extravagance in our government.

A group of Representatives, news dispatches report, will study the entire Federal picture with the idea of determining why expenses should mount so swiftly.

Well, they might look at the growing list of Federal agencies—and the huge payrolls thus created for American workers to meet.

No wonder these are boom days in Washington. No wonder the capital is congested with jobholders, recruited by scores of job-creating commissions.

Today, the High Cost of Living and the High Cost of Government are closely related. What the people—and the politicians—must realize is that one way to reduce the first is to deflate the second.

victory over Spur. Worn-out from their hard-won victory over McAdeo, the Pantherettes returned to the court an hour later, at ten o'clock, to meet the Yellow Jackets for the tournament crown. Trailing 15-9 at the half, they staged a great comeback to tie the score and forge ahead in the third period. After a bad first period, the Pantherettes, regaining control, played in championship form with a spirit that refused to be beaten.

The final period saw a desperate battle that kept the stands in an upheaval each team fighting hard for a narrow margin. A last minute goal by the Yellow Jackets forward gave the Pantherettes a one point lead in the final victory, 26-25, as the Pantherettes, staging a fighting finish, scored their own goal, saw their lead fall short of the basket. The trophy for second place was presented to the Pantherettes by the captain and star forward, Ed Graham, the winning trophy of the Roaring Springs tournament was immediately followed by the Yellow Jackets.

Congress Faces a Dual Responsibility

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN
National Chairman
Sentinels of the Republic

As members of Congress reconvene at Washington, America is hearing many familiar promises of economy in government.

Let's hope our legislators mean it this time. Let's hope they remember that the staggering debts piled up by government must be paid out of our earnings and our savings; that what they do to the public budget affects our family budget as well.

Let's hope that, unlike New Year resolutions, the promises will be fulfilled. It's time they were. For today, as a result of reckless spending by our federal, state and local governments, a public debt of more than fifty billion dollars has been written up for us, the workers and the earners of the United States, to pay.

Fifty billion dollars! That's a lot of money. And it will take a lot of taxes to pay it off. The interest and service charges alone cost us billions every year. It's one of the reasons why five out of every twenty-five dollars of the national income—which means the money earned by the American people—is consumed by taxes. And unless the economists are wrong, a lot of the bills which these taxes are straining to meet will be handed down as a grim legacy to our children and our grandchildren.

But you can't blame it all on Congress. The politician's penchant for squandering the people's money has extended to states and cities and smaller units as well. More than twenty billions of our fifty-billion-dollar public debt is, in fact, charged against state and local governments.

We pay for that, too—if not directly, then in higher rents and in heavier bills for food, clothing and other necessities, all camouflaged as "hidden taxes."

Only a large dose of the frequently promised economy in government can lighten the load. Only an escape from the billion-dollar complex of the past few years can help.

Today our Senators and Representatives at Washington can do their part. Because of the importance of the present session, the eyes of the entire nation are upon them as never before. If they keep their promises and apply the brakes instead of the accelerator to public spending they will not only ease our burdens but will set an example for state and local politicians to follow. They face a double and a serious responsibility.

Let's hope they meet it squarely—not only with their own relief in mind, but to assure the security and prosperity of America.

Local Cage Teams Win Over Lockney; Lose To Turkey

The Quitaque Panthers took an even break in two cage games on the home court during the week, winning over Lockney here Tuesday evening, and dropping a contest to the Turkey Turks last Friday, while the Pantherettes, playing only one home game, took a close decision from the Lockney girls Tuesday night.

In two games with the Lockney cagers at the Panther gym Tuesday evening, both Panthers and Pantherettes registered a clean sweep. In the opening contest, the Pantherettes avenged an overwhelming defeat at the hands of the Longhorn sextette suffered earlier in the season, with a 41-33 victory in a hard and fast game. Frances Graham, forward for the local girls, staged a rally in the final quarter, looping goals from all angles to score the winning margin.

The Panthers, playing in the second game of the double header, took an easy victory, 31-8, for a conference win. The Longhorns, failing to score in the first frame, were held to 3 points in the second half, counting on a field goal in the third and a free pitch in the final quarter. Bedwell led the scoring for the Panthers.

The Panthers dropped a one-sided rout to the Turkey Turks, 33-16, in a conference game here Friday evening. The game was a rough-and-tumble affair, the Panther defense cracking wide open as the Turks looped goal after goal. Only a one-man offensive rally in the final period by Jack Bickford saved greater defeat.

Reaching an agreement with the Lockney mentors Tuesday night, Coach Davis announced that the early season game with the Longhorns, billed at the time as a non-conference affair, will be counted as a conference win for the Panthers in place of the game postponed here last week.

The decision gives the Panthers a conference record of three wins, two over Lockney and one from Paducah, and one defeat to Turkey. The local cagers, in conference play, have scored 109 points to 79 for the opponents, records show.

Milestones of American Genius

Monument to Daniel Webster at State House, in Concord, N. H.

DANIEL WEBSTER

THE name of Daniel Webster stands in the American mind not merely for oratory of the highest order, but for that power of speech devoted to the service of the nation. No man in his time inspired our people to a love of country and a profound faith in its immortal destiny more eloquently than did this patriot and political thinker.

Webster was born at Salisbury, just outside of Concord, New Hampshire, on January 18, 1782, and his seventy years of life coincided with the formative period of our Republic—from the dawn of the nation to the eve of the Civil War. His memory is preserved in imperishable stone throughout the land, but none of the memorials was erected with greater civic pride than the one standing on the New Hampshire State House grounds in Concord.

As a boy, Webster was delicate and sickly. The amazing mental and oratorical energy which he displayed in his busy life represents a conquest of mind over matter. He attended Exeter Academy and was graduated from Dartmouth College. In later years he defended the charter rights of Dartmouth with magnificent passion.

After being admitted to the Bar he quickly built up a lucrative practice. His eloquence attained nationwide recognition. Political prominence was not long in following, and he became a dominant figure in national affairs. Although thwarted in his Presidential aspirations, Webster was a great political power.

His addresses in Congress and on patriotic occasions have become classics which schoolboys of succeeding generations claimed along with the Declaration of Independence and the Preamble to the Constitution. He died at Marshfield, Mass., which had long been his home, on October 24, 1852.
