TWENTY-THIRD YEAR, NO. 35

Most Draft Boards Staying On Job Until It Is Definitely Finished

Commenting upon the continued induction of men for the armed forces and the consequent resignation of some Texas local boards, Gen. J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director, said Friday that "as a matter of fact, the number of local boards that have asked that their resignations be accepted is so small as to be almost negligible - only four out of 351 boards."

"Naturally," General Page said, "they are all tired after five years of arduous service. As board members they have done one of the most patriotic jobs in the annals of our country. In addition to being non-compensated, they have neglected their own business."

"In many cases they have lost money, and friends of long standing, and have been subjected to all manner of abuse—these men without exception. They can never be fully repaid for their contribution to the winning of World War II. Their only remuneration is contained within their hearts and souls in the knowledge that they have served fearlessly, tirelessly and honestly for their country. No man can do more. But their service is not yet completed, even though the shooting war is over.

"Millions of our boys are overseas and have been there and in combat for several years. Certainly they should now be allowed to come home to their families. For example, I haven't seen my boy for over three years. Now, my boy is simply representative of hundreds and hundreds of thousands of other fathers and mothers and wives of men long in the service. The government is strenuously trying to return these men. In fact, right here in Texas the official reports of discharges which we are receiving at State Selective Service headquarters now total close to 1,000 notices per day. The Army, the Navy, the Marine Corps and the U. S. Coast Guard cannot keep this up unless, of course, we can send adequate men to replace those who should now be sent home.

"Surely, in this democratic country of ours, it is expected that every man shall participate in its wars. A great many of our young men in the 18 through 25 group have been deferred for several years for one reason or another. These young men have been on good salaries. They have been able to sleep in good beds and have good food. They have had almost complete security with little or no jeopardy of life or limb. Why should not these young men now take up the gun and 'stand guard' a while?"

"That is why we must for the present continue to issue calls for the induction of men. The calls are small—about 50,000 per month for the nation—but as President Truman has pointed out, they are still necessary. That is why most of the local boards are 'standing by their guns' and not resigning. The boys 'over there' didn't lay down their guns until it was all over."

Saturday Last Day For Wheat Crop Insurance

Quite a number of Bailey County farmers have been contacting the AAA office in the last few days to find out details about Federal protection on their wheat crop next spring according to W. L. Key, the chairman of the Bailey County AAA Council.

"We want every wheat farmer in the county to have an opportunity to sign an application to purchase this all-risk protection," Mr. Key stated. "However, the time is drawing short and unless you sign your application before noon Saturday, September 1, you will not be able to obtain the protection offered by this All-Risk Insurance. Don't wait until your wheat crop is lost or is damaged to realize the value of Federal crop insurance. We can't help you then. You plant for a good crop every year, but nature destroys as well as makes a good crop. When nature goes into reverse, the protection of Federal Crop Insurance can do a lot for you and the community in which you live."

Unfavorable weather, insects, and other natural hazards need not hold the same threat for you this year as in the past because you can get All-Risk crop insurance on winter wheat this year for the first time since 1943. You as a farmer are winning a plan that has more production hazards than any other business. Business men insure their investment which does not have the risk as your wheat crop. You believe in insurance protection on your life and on your buildings, then why delay in protecting your wheat crop?

Call at the AAA office before noon Saturday, September 1, and obtain this protection.

What Foods To Send Overseas

The war's end has not been solved the problem of sending food overseas to servicemen and "food from home" is the first thought of most of the boys when they are asked what they would like to find in their Christmas packages. Miss Grace L. Patterson, County Bailey County, says, "Experience last year taught us to use foods canned in tin cans if at all possible. At least, it is essential to pack the foods in tight metal containers."

Reports of servicemen indicate that food not sealed in cans was usually molded, infested with insects, soaked in oil or water, or it was dried out and old.

Proper canning will be even more important this year with the bulk of the packages going to the Pacific, where the climate and distance of travel will be harder on the contents.

"When sending food to the servicemen, it is best to send a variety of things unless he has asked for on specific food," says Miss Patterson. "Some women planned a menu on this order: 1 can turkey, 1 can cranberry sauce, 1 can nuts, 1 can plum pudding. Another sent 1 can cheese, 1 can pickles, and 1 can crackers at one time. A meat, a vegetable, a fruit, a relish and a sweet which go together well might make a whole meal," recommends Miss Patterson.

Fruit cakes were among the most popular items sent last year. It is one of the most desirable products; therefore, Miss Patterson advises that we continue to send fruit cakes even if sugar substitutes have to be used.

Other items which have been canned and sent overseas successfully are: cookies, candies, baked or fried fruit pies, breads, premeats, fritos and potato chips, pickled boiled eggs and many other types of cake in addition to fruit cake. For details on packing and canning these items see your county home demonstration agent.

LABOR DAY... and its meaning
In 1884, the Knights of Labor celebrated the first Monday in September with parades to foster the cause of improved labor conditions.
Since 1887, when the first act making the day a legal holiday was passed in Colorado, Labor Day has been established in most of the states of the Union.
It is Labor's own Day, set apart to honor every working man and woman. In tribute to them all, this bank will not be open on Labor Day.
This Bank Will Be Closed Labor Day, Monday, September 3

AMERICAN HEROES
by WOODY COWAN

DEATH came to Lt. Dale Christensen, Gray, Iowa, 112th Cavalry, after heroic action at New Guinea, which earned him a medal of honor. Finding his platoon badly shot up from short range fire, Lt. Christensen crawled close to the enemy, silenced one machine gun with hand grenades and later led an assault which resulted in the destruction of four mortars and ten machine guns. Our investment in War Bonds encourages such men to offer the supreme sacrifice for freedom for all humanity.
