FHA EXPLAINS NEW TYPE HOUSING LOANS

The supply of modern housing in Briscoe County may be expanded by a new cooperative effort with private industry announced today by George H. James, Jr., county supervisor for the Farmers Home Administration, rural credit service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"From now on builders, developers and others in the home building and financing fields ran work directly with prospective borrowers to 'package' applications for rural housing loans," James said.

"Participation in the packaging program," he added, "will be limited to those who can provide all the necessary information about the home, assure its delivery at a specified price, and can work directly with the applicant family."

He explained that the packager will assemble reliable information on the applicant and the home he wants to buy, build or improve. They will submit the data on forms supplied through the local Farmers Home Administration office at 219 Northwest Second in Tulla, or at the Briscoe County Courthouse, at Silverton. When the information about the building and applicant is complete, the loan can be approved and funds made available by the FHA.

Families residing in communities of 5,500 population or under are eligible to apply for FHA loans. They must be unable to obtain adequate credit from private sources. Approved borrowers receive direct financing through FHA.

The county supervisor said a briefing session for interested builders and developers will be held at Tulla, Monday morning, November 9.

"The first step for a prospective packager is to meet with the FHA county supervisor to obtain detailed information about eligibility requirements for a loan and the type and cost of homes the agency can appropriately finance," James said.

In general, he explained the family must lack decent, safe and sanitary housing must be unable to obtain credit from other sources and must have sufficient income to repay the loan, pay taxes and insurance, maintain the house and meet other living expenses. Family income, however, may not exceed limits established by FHA.

The county supervisor said loans may be made to farm owners, non-farm tract owners, rural residents or non rural residents with low to moderate incomes who work in a rural area. The home may be on a farm, in open country or in towns under 5,500 population that are rural in character and not adjacent to an urban area.

"Each packager should understand that final action cannot be taken on applications until all required information has been submitted to FHA. The applicant is interviewed by the county supervisor and any required supplementary information has been obtained," James pointed out.

A 36-page manual explaining the program is now available at the local office.

The Farmers Home Administration rural housing program totals $1.5 billion in fiscal 1971, and will finance about 125,000 units. The total in 1972 is expected to reach 200,000 units.

The county supervisor noted that James V. Smith, Administrator of the Farmers Home Administration "has expressed confidence that this new program will help smooth the way for applicants and move us more rapidly toward the national goal of adequate housing for every family in rural America."

To the Voters of the 80th Legislative District

We want to direct your attention to the candidacy of State Representative Bill Healty of Paducah, and to enlist your active support in his behalf. Our reasons are these:

His knowledge of law and government eminently qualify him for this position. Fortunately, Bill has a clear understanding of this district's goals and problems. His ability and courage to do something about them is unquestioned. These qualities have won him recognition and respect within the Democratic House majority and the public officials with whom he works.

This same dedication and effective effort also has made him enemies. You can be certain that smear tactics and innuendoes, sown and spread by self-serving, outside interests, which preceded the primary election will be renewed with vigor. So be forewarned.

Bill has given this district EFFECTIVE Representation. He will continue to do so as a seasoned member of the Democratic majority already assured if election. We hope that not only for Bill Healty, but for what it means to Texas and to our district in particular, that you—and your friends—will actively support Bill Healty in his campaign for re-election November 3.

JAPAN—FIRST BILLION DOLLAR OFF-SHORE
CUSTOMER FOR U. S. FARMERS

Briscoe County residents are well aware that U. S. - Japanese trade is extensive, Louie Kitchens, chairman of the Briscoe County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee, commented recently.

"Almost everyone recognizes that Americans are important customers for Japanese goods. I wonder how many of us realize that the Japanese are major customers for American goods, especially for American farm commodities.
"In fact, Japan imports more U. S. agricultural products than any other country in the world—a record $1.1 billion worth during the 1970 fiscal year," Kitchens said.

He pointed out that feed grains, soybeans, wheat and cotton are important farm crops in Briscoe County and that exports of these farm products to Japan have gone up dramatically in recent years.

More than six million tons of feed grains were shipped to Japan last fiscal year—just about one-third of U. S. feed grain exports.
Soybean exports to Japan had a 251 million dollar value, and wheat exports $136 million. Japan is our best cotton customer, taking one-fourth of its cotton from the U. S., and Japan bought $50 million worth of tobacco from the U. S. during the last fiscal year.

The ASC committee chairman reported that Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin recently* took note of the American-Japanese trade story, calling it unprecedented.

Secretary Hardin also said: "The Japanese economy has paralleled that nation's growth in trade. In the years between 1960 and 1965, Japanese shipments in world trade more than doubled. By 1969, they had almost doubled again, reaching $16 billion. Shipments to the United States increased in those nine years by more than four times—$4.9 billion.

"The Japanese householder's disposable income has more than tripled since 1960. His demand for meat, milk, and eggs—a good 'horseback' measure of consumer prosperity—has increased by more than four times in 15 years."

"He is diversifying his eating habits as his income goes up. For example, per person consumption of wheat flour in this traditionally rice-eating society has increased by 30 per cent in a decade and a half.

"Ten years ago, Japan's agricultural imports from the U. S. were $440 million. In the fiscal year just past, they were more than twice as great—nearly $1.1 billion.

"But the agricultural exports are only one aspect of a beneficial trading relationship that can be summarized very simply: in terms of total exports, the United States is Japan's best customer, and Japan is the United States' best offshore customer.

"As you might expect, two-thirds of U. S. shipments to Japan last year were raw materials, mineral fuels, and foodstuffs, while 90 per cent of Japan's shipments to the U. S. were manufactured goods.

"This is the basis of beneficial world trade—an exchange of goods based primarily on production efficiency.

"It is this principle that led Japan to look to efficient producers on the broad farmlands for the feed grains needed to satisfy its people's rising demand for livestock products.

"As a result, imported feed grains have triggered a rapid expansion of Japanese livestock production. This has brought Japanese consumers more meat and poultry at better prices; it has opened opportunities for Japanese farmers for new and profitable livestock enterprises; it has meant an important and expanding feed grain market for world agriculture.

"Almost the whole range of U.
S. farm commodities finds Japan a leading customer.

"Japan wants, needs, and can afford these products, and the U.
S. can supply them in any system of international trade in which price, quality and availability are the primary factors.

"In a world of competition, export expansion means salesmanship and service as well as price, quality and availability. The producers and marketers of the major U. S. agricultural products have understood this, and they support some 68 private trade organizations formed to develop markets overseas in cooperation with the Department of Agriculture. This is, of course, a mutual effort—with many strong Japanese organizations bringing it to their special knowledge, their special abilities."

In closing, Agriculture Secretary Hardin gave special recognition to the trade organizations for the three commodities which last year accounted for two-thirds of total U. S. agricultural exports to Japan—feed grains, soybeans, and wheat.

Why
Preston
Smith

Preston Smith believes in working hard. For you. And that's why he's doing such a good job as Governor of Texas.

When Preston Smith entered public service, he didn't start by asking Texans to elect him Governor. That would have been foolish, because being Governor carries great responsibilities. And it demands the clear, steady judgement that comes only from experience.

Preston Smith had the good common sense to work his way up—gaining insight into how our state government functions.

He served six years each—as State Representative . . . as State Senator . . . and as Lieutenant Governor. Only then, when he felt fully qualified, did he seek the Office of Governor.

Now, after two years he has expanded the duties of the Governor's Office to better serve all the people of our State.

Yes, Preston Smith believes in hard work. For 20 years, he's been working for Texas—doing a good job. You can help keep him as Governor. Vote. Vote for Teach them the wonder of its foliage, the panorama of its seasons, the mystery of ever-renewing life.

Teach them the world God made.

But teach them, too, the God who made the world . . . the majesty of His Power . . . the purity of His Holiness . . . the tenderness of His Love.

Teach them the Christ through Whom our Creator revealed His heart to mankind.

There is no greater tragedy than to cherish a book, but not understand its Author.

Shirttail Sermon

"Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God." (Matthew 4:4)

It was a beautiful airplane, new, fast and powerful. But as it took off and began to climb, it stalled and crashed. Just before the pilot died, he replied to a question about the cause of the crash: "I tried to fly it on ordinary gasoline, but it was built to run on high octane only." And so, because of inferior fuel, the plane was lost and the pilot killed.

The soul which God placed in man was designed to operate on a certain type of fuel. If your life isn't pleasing you (much less God) run in for a checkup. You may be using the wrong kind of fuel.

There are many who insist that man can live by bread alone. Food, clothing, shelter, financial security, good health—these, they think are the ingredients of life. So they provide these for living and expect contentment. But they have a gnawing hunger for something greater. They are dissatisfied and empty.

There are others who recognize that bread is not enough. These turn to spiritual food—the high octane fuel on which the soul of man depends. They respect the Word of God and when God speaks they listen. These know that the bread of this life has its place, but they are not satisfied with this alone. They know they cannot survive on the low octanes of life.

Your soul operates on high octane only! Have you checked your fuel lately?
