Good Showers Fall Across Valley Sunday

From good to heavy showers fell across the Valley area Sunday morning.

The rains started falling in spots around seven o'clock and fell intermittently until between 9:30 and 10:00 when it started falling heavier and continued to fall until noon.

The rain fell gently with no runoff for the most. The heavier amounts seemed to be over Quitaque for some reports of more than two and one-half inches were recorded. Most of the reports seemed to be in the half inch to three-quarter inch range all over the area. In Turkey proper, the report was about .70 of an inch. Seems everyone got a good shower, however, and the area was getting dry and needing some moisture.

Right now the countryside is turning green again and looking good.

This is what Main Street in Quitaque looked like following the brief storm that hit town two weeks ago. The blow was of brief duration but winds were reported to have reached 90 miles per hour. The debris shown in the photo came from the roof of the garage located across the street from Caprock Home Center. Two pickups and an automobile were covered. Members of the Quitaque Fire Department quickly cleared the street.

Patriots Host Crosbyton To Open Season Friday

Farmers Union Districts To Discuss International Trade, State Issues

Robert G. Lewis, National Secretary and Chief Economist for National Farmers Union, and Texas Farmers Union President Jay Naman, are combining resources to headline a discussion of international, national and state agricultural issues in a series of regional meetings across Texas.

All area farmers and ranchers in Briscoe County are included in TFU District II and are encouraged to attend the special meeting and luncheon scheduled for Tuesday, September 19 at 12:00 noon at the Memorial Building in Crosbyton. Meal tickets are $4.00.

Principle topics will be recent progress toward an international floor price for wheat, problems with disaster programs and land ownership and the effects of foreign investment and speculation.

Lewis enjoys the respect and acclaim of many for his expertise in the field of economics and international trade. He has served in a wide variety of posts ranging from service to the USDA, the United Nations and the Kennedy Administration. He was Vice President of the Commodity Credit Corporation and Deputy Administrator of ASCS from 1961 to 1965. He has also served as consultant in the fields of food economics and rural land use and development planning and his articles are often seen in various national periodicals.

"We are pleased to be able to bring such an outstanding agricultural economist out to these meetings," says Naman. "Farmers and ranchers in Texas are ready again to get back to the business of dealing with the economic and political issues that affect their futures. We are designing our meetings to provide some of the current facts and hope to receive input in return as to the directions we should be taking. I might also add that we're looking for commitments that farmers aren't finished fighting."

Continued interest among congressmen to solve farm problems has been displayed recently in a meeting between three U. S. senators and agricultural officials from Canada. In that informal meeting consensus was reached that producing nations should end "cut-throat" competition and make efforts to establish price floors in sales of commodities to developed industrial and oil nations, an initial minimum for wheat at $4 a bushel. Lewis will discuss the details of that meeting and its effects on other farm commodities.

In Texas, the farm organization is gearing toward the January legislative session. Discussion of the recent special tax session and its direction to tax agricultural lands on productive values will be tied to upcoming issues of foreign land investment and credit aid to young farmers.

"Our goal is to constantly provide a forum for education and a vehicle for action for the individual farmer," says Naman. "We hope these district meetings will do just that."

GRUNDY FAMILY REUNION HELD HERE SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brundy of Shafter, California, came Friday and visited his mother, Mrs. Jess Grundy, until Monday of this week.

On Sunday, all his brothers and sister joined him and his mother for a visit. They were Mr. and Mrs. John Van Winkle of Amarillo, Buddy Grundy of Wichita Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Grundy of Matador, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Grundy, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Grundy, Quitaque, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Slayton, a niece and husband, of Plainview.

"Get a Chief" is the war cry in the Patriots' camp as the Valley High coaches and members of the squad go through their paces trying to get ready physically and mentally to take on the Crosbyton Chiefs here Friday night.

Coach Ted Giddens and Assistant Steve Adams are in their first year at Valley, and along with Robert Phelps are looking for a good season with the Patriots, who have had the finger pointed at them as the team to beat in the North Zone of District 2-B.

Winning seven games last year while losing three, the Patriots returned five All-District players plus several others with starting and playing experience. All-District returnees are Kenny Chandler, Jeff Crump, Darrell Dowd, Kirk Proctor and Kenneth Helms. All five of these players play both offense and defense. Jon Davidson, Greg Ramsey and Vance Price are returning starters along with others with playing experience.

The Patriots have returning players who scored 34 touchdowns between them. Big guns, of course, are Darrell Dowd and Kenneth Helms, who accounted for 29 touchdowns; James McNary, two; Proctor, Chandler and Ramsey, who accounted for one each, according to this unofficial scorekeeper.

Local fans have looked for this year to be, perhaps, the "big year" for the Patriots but to date luck has been pretty bad, for two weeks ago big Kenneth Helms, a mainstay in the offensive backfield as well as a fine defensive man, underwent an emergency appendectomy. Then Jeff Crump and younger brother, Ken, who had been showing great potential, both suffered knee injuries and Ken has been lost for the season. It is hoped that Helms and Crump will be back on the team in time for district play. The non-district schedule gives Coach Giddens and assistants a chance to see how the younger players come along and develop into maturity.

Since the Valley school came into existence the first football game of the season has been with Chillicothe and the Eagles won the first three games. Since that third year the Patriots have won rather handily over the Eagles and Chillicothe decided not to begin another season on a losing note and Valley has had to find another opening opponent. So this year the Patriots will have their hands full opening night. Had Valley been at full strength they would probably have been favored to win, but since some of the key players will be watching from the sidelines, the Chiefs may be favored, being a Class A school. Traditionally, however, the Patriots have been scrappers, even in those dark first days when the Patriots were learning to play football and they did not know the meaning of not going all out in every game.

So, look for the Patriots to go for the win Friday night. This reporter looks for Coach Giddens, Coach Adams and Coach Phelps and the Patriots to win Friday night and then to get better every week. It is hoped that the stands will be full when kickoff times rolls around at 8:00 o'clock Friday night. See you there.

Coach Giddens expects to start the following lineup: at center will be Vance Price; guards will be Shane Smith and Joe Kirk Smith; the tackles will be Dennis Farley and Dane Cheatham; ends will be Kenny Chandler and Jon Davidson; the quarterback will be Kirk Proctor; fullback, James McNary; tailback will be Darrell Dowd and the wingback duties will be shared by Greg Ramsey, Terry Brittain and Mike Dowd.

Important FU Meeting Is Monday

There will be an important meeting for Turkey Farmers Union members Monday, September 11, at 8:00 p.m. in the Chandelier Room at Peoples State Bank.

tember 8, beginning at 5:30 and continuing to 7:30. Tickets will be $2.00 and may be purchased from any member of the Junior Class or may be purchased at the gate.

A good time is in store for Quitaque women at the regular meeting of "We The Women" at noon Monday when Royce's and Rice's Dry Goods present a Fall Style Show.

Freshman homemaking girls will be modeling the Junior line of clothes and Quitaque women will model sportswear, formal wear and lingerie. Bena Patrick will provide background music and during the program, Wilma Smith will entertain with musical numbers.

Turkey Senior Citizens Meet

Thirty-six members were in attendance at the August 29 meeting of the Turkey Senior Citizens at the Senior Citizens Center at the Bob Wills Community Center. Blood pressure tests were taken by EMT Jerry Landry.

After the group participated in games, singing was enjoyed. Special selections were sung by Mr. and Mrs. Lancaster, Mrs. Colleen Stone, Mrs. Linda Catoe and Mrs. Guyretta Clinton.

During the business meeting, the president, Mr. Lancaster, named members of the advisory board as the nominating committee for the election of officers at the next meeting, which will begin with a salad supper at 7:30 p.m. on September 12.

Valley Booster Club Has Salad Supper

by Cathryn Selliff The Valley Booster Club met on Tuesday, September 5, 1978 at 8:00 p.m. The meeting was called to order by President Jimmy Davidson. Rev. Melvin Clinton of First Baptist Church, Turkey, led the invocation.

After a bountiful salad supper, the Valley Cheerleaders, Laura Fuston, Jana Smith, Leslie Pigg, Lisa Herrington, Jendy Turner and Lana Fuston led the group in Valley Patriot yells. The group enjoyed this very much.

After the yells, President Jimmy Davidson introduced the new coaches, Ted Giddens and Steve Adams, and also recognized Coach Robert Phelps. We are real proud of our coaches. Coach Giddens spoke about the upcoming game with Crosbyton and showed a film of the Crosbyton-Paducah scrimmage.

Come out and support our girls and boys! Let's wear red, white and blue to all the football games if at all possible.

BAPTIST WOMEN TO OBSERVE WEEK OF PRAYER

The Quitaque First Baptist Church women will observe the Week of Prayer for Home Missions Monday, September 11, beginning at 10:00 a.m. Lunch will be served at 12:00 noon.

After the Spaghetti Supper Friday night, the class wants to invite everyone to the football field for the Valley Patriots' season opener against the Crosbyton Chiefs. We are expecting all of you to come out and support the Patriots at all games.

Spirit Party Held Tuesday Night

by Teresa Turner On September 5, 1978 at the Valley School Cafeteria, the first Spirit Party of the 1978 football season was held. The Valley Cheerleaders led the Pep Squad, football team and attending parents in some cheers and chants, following a salad supper furnished by the ladies.

The first cheer was "Fight Patriots," with the cheerleaders doing some of the new stunts that they have learned. Some of the cheers following were "Get Down, Get Up & Boogie," "We Are Challenged," "Patriot Power," "Adams Family," "Class Yells," "Funky Chicken," "Red Fight," and the Victory Battle Cry.

The Spirit Party was closed with the School Song.

Windows of the Soul

Eyes have been called the windows of the soul. Clarity, expression and size—all of these are supposed to reveal character. A child's eyes seem innocent. But small, closely-placed eyes may also indicate deception. Some even say that you can tell a criminal by his eyes.

Calling it nonsense, even scientists find it hard to dispel the old wives' tales that have persisted for centuries.

Eyes, in a certain sense, can be the windows of the soul—precious windows through which you look at life. Don't judge another man by his eyes. Look instead through eyes of understanding and compassion, for in God's sight we are all equal. If your inner vision has been a bit faulty lately, why not start going to church next Sunday?

The American farmer builds two things better than anyone else in the world. He builds the next generation, passing along a special kind of wisdom... respect for the soil, honesty, independence, and faith in the future. And he builds his land, leaving it better than he found it. That kind of building usually requires borrowed long-term capital. That's where we have helped for 60 years.

THE AG SIDE

Presented By DANNY FUSTON

It is not unrealistic to assume the American farmer could solve our world trade deficit. This deficit has arisen we are told from the importing of large quantities of foreign oil and petroleum products. This immediately tells us Americans use more oil than the balance of the countries use food. There are more hungry people in the world than Americans have automobiles, yet we have large surpluses of food-stuff which is not marketed worldwide. This tells us we no doubt do not have a good sales force in the international food business, and/or our politicians are not practical enough to realize the impact of food in the world market. Could be a point to give some thought.

BOLL WEEVIL CONTROL PROGRAM DELAYS ATTACK

LUBBOCK—The annual assault of the Diapause Boll Weevil Control Program to stem the westward movement of the weevil will be launched about three weeks later than usual this year, leaders of the program have decided.

The major effort of the program is the concentrated and carefully coordinated aerial spraying of infested acreage just before diapausing weevils leave the field and enter the ground trash in the early fall. This is when spraying has the least chance of aggravating the bollworm situation, explained Dr. James F. Leser, area Extension entomologist. Once weevils enter the ground trash, they are inaccessible to spraying, he noted.

In recent years, this assault has begun about the first week in September, said Ed Dean, director of field services for Plains Cotton Growers and secretary of the control program's technical advisory committee.

But this year, the program's aerial attack will begin about September 25, officials decided at a recent meeting. Intensive scouting of fields this season has revealed a somewhat different pattern of weevil activity, the group noted.

Weather, crop conditions and the successful adoption by producers of cultural practices recommended by the diapause control program have been factors in the changing activity, the officials said. Among the cultural practices urged by the program and supported by growers in the control zone was use of a uniform planting date to deny emerging weevils adequate plant food for reproduction early in the season.

The movement of weevils to winter habitat will be heaviest during late September and early October, said Dr. Don Rummel, research entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station here. The percentage of diapausing weevils in the total population in the control zone will remain relatively small until late September, it was noted.

Consequently, program officials selected September 25 as a target date for opening the aerial attack, Dean said. "This means that producers will need to keep a close check on their individual fields and provide their own treatment if it is needed before the proposed starting date of the control program spraying," Dean said.

The uniform planting date was a major factor in making it practical to delay the spraying program to insure that adequate funds are available to give adequate treatment when the maximum percentage of weevils have attained the state of diapause, Dean added.

The diapause control program was initiated by growers in 1964. It is jointly funded by the growers and the U. S. Department of Agriculture. It covers all or part of 16 counties, with 13,500 square miles and is administered by the USDA Plant Protection and Quarantine Office. Collection and administration of funds from growers is handled by Plains Cotton Growers.

Since the program began, the cotton acreage in the control zone has increased from some 250,000 acres to 437,118 acres last year. However, government funding has remained at the 1964 level, and inflation has more than outdistanced the increased funding provided by producers, based on bales produced. Spray materials, such as Malathion, which a few years ago cost $5 a gallon now costs almost $10 a gallon.

The increased acreage and limited funding make it imperative that maximum effectiveness be obtained in the diapause program this fall, Roy J. Moritz, officer in charge of the USDA-PPQ office in Lubbock, stressed.

TAX PRACTITIONER WORKSHOP PLANNED

Topics to be covered include Schedule C & F, Employment and Social Security Taxes, IRA and Keough Plans. This year three advanced programs will be offered in Houston and San Antonio stressing tax preparation for small businesses also.

KIKER'S KORNER

BY EARNEST KIKER
SMALL GRAINS NEED FALL NITROGEN

Don't spare the nitrogen on small grains this fall.

There are three important reasons why wheat and other small grains need nitrogen at planting or a short time afterward:

- for early grazing,
- to help decompose excess residual straw, and
- for high production of forage and grain.

Sufficient fall growth for early grazing cannot be expected without adequate nitrogen at planting. The advantages of early planting and favorable fall growing conditions can be lost if nitrogen fertilization is delayed until the condition of the stand can be determined. Establishing a good uniform stand requires some nitrogen, and most soils are deficient in this nutrient.

To meet nitrogen requirements during the fall growing period, producers can apply the total requirement before planting on heavy textured soils or can apply a small amount at planting followed by topdressing soon after planting.

Of course, fall nitrogen fertilization is also affected by the amount of straw from the previous crop. The bacteria and other micro-organisms needed to decompose the straw require nitrogen and can use that already in the soil as well as that applied, thus reducing the amount available during the fall.

The general rule in applying nitrogen has been to increase the rate about 20 pounds per acre for each ton of undecomposed straw. However, a portion of this nitrogen is recovered during the final stages of decomposition so that as much as half of this may be available during the spring months. This means that about half of the "extra" nitrogen could be deducted from the late winter topdressing.

4-H ACHIEVEMENT PROGRAM DEVELOPS YOUTH

4-H Achievement Program winners know how to work for social progress, both in urban and rural projects.

An example of the scope of projects conducted by National 4-H Achievement Program winners include an Arkansas youth who is a member of the 4-H Energy Resources and Conservation Committee and is planning a 4-H energy conservation group which will function at the state level. Another example is a Virginia 4-H'er who raises and trains horses and gives riding lessons to disadvantaged youth and to physically handicapped people.

4-H members 9-19 can achieve in a broad range of learn-by-doing projects and activities supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service. Achievement in 4-H means acquiring skills and sharing them with others.

4-H achievers can earn county, state and national awards donated by the Ford Motor Company Fund through the National 4-H Council. Awards include up to four medals of honor at the county level, an expense-paid trip to National 4-H Congress to one 4-H member per state, and $1,000 educational scholarships for nine national winners.

Young people can learn more about the National 4-H Achievement Program from their County Extension Agents. If you are interested come by the office, and I can give you more information on this subject.

PREPARE NOW FOR WINTER PASTURE

It's hard to imagine cold weather now, but it's not too early to begin planning winter grazing pastures for cattle. In fact, the hot days of late August and early September are the best times for early planting of the winter pasture.

Early planting means land preparation, a fertilization program and planting seed should be arranged well ahead of the planting date.

Two or three weeks delay in preparation and planting may make the difference between winter pasture and spring pasture.

The cereal grains, including oats, wheat, rye and barley, can be planted early. These small grains will be the prime source of fall and winter pasture. Shallow-planted over-seedings, such as Gulf ryegrass and clovers, should be postponed until late September since they may not survive a mid-September hot period.

Fertility is one of the few factors in pasture management that can be controlled.

Considering the expense of a fertilizer program, a soil test to inform you of the status of the soil fertility is a good investment and management tool.

Nitrogen, a prime element in plant growth, should be included in every program because little is stored in most soils.

Most research shows a direct relation between amount of nitrogen applied and increasing production from winter pastures. It is suggested that from 50 to 100 pounds of actual nitrogen (150 to 300 pounds of ammonium nitrate) be applied per acre on a prepared seedbed at planting time. The same amount applied in late February will boost spring production.

Farmers are warned to be prepared for insect invasion once the winter pasture is growing.

The fall army worm has harvested many winter pastures for individuals not on their toes. The worm can be caught at an early stage and controlled through careful observation of the pastures and application of one pint of methyl parathion when worms are found.

BEEF COWS NEED PHOSPHOROUS YEAR ROUND

Beef cows need phosphorous in their diets for efficient reproduction as well as overall performance. This means that a mineral supplement should contain 8 to 15 percent phosphorous and no more than this amount of calcium. Cheap, high-calcium minerals are not beneficial.

ACCIDENT CONTROL

Although most people view their home as a haven from hazards of the outer world, they suffer more accidental injuries there than anywhere else. People can make their homes safer by operating equipment according to instructions in service manuals, inspecting electrical and heating systems periodically, and keeping walkways and stairs free of tripping hazards.

FALL GARDENING TIME AT HAND

You can begin a productive fall garden now that will supply you with an even better looking crop than your spring garden.

But if you want that fall garden to produce, don't try to nurture the plants that are still left in your spring gardens. You need vigorously growing plants, so I would advise starting from scratch with fresh seeds.

Fall gardens have a definite advantage over spring gardens. Since the soil is warmer, germination occurs quicker and the seedling has a better chance to reach its maximum productive potential.

To achieve the best in quality and quantity, I suggest that you plant early enough to allow the crop to reach its full potential by the first frost.

Mrs. Vivian Kiser of Leveland spent the weekend visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Adamson, and with her brother and family, the J. R. Adamsons.

Mrs. Bill Farley was in Plainview where she visited with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Wanda Faulkner, on Monday.

What can you lift?

God has a way of teaching spiritual truths through physical facts.

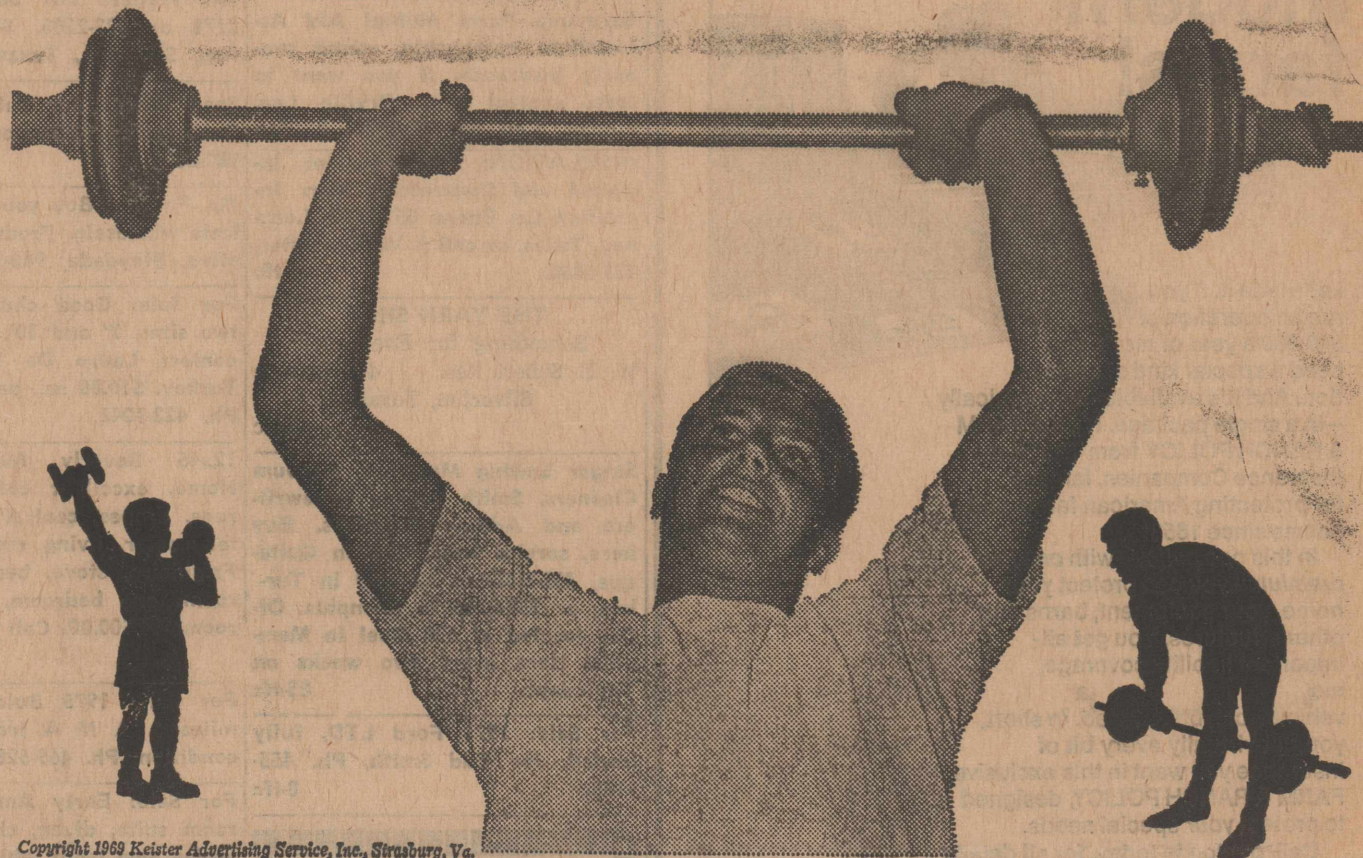

Tom used to have trouble lifting his mother's shopping bag—not any more!

That smile on his face isn't triumph—it's confidence. Given a few weeks, Tom will be lifting even heavier weights.

The first time you try to lift someone's burden, it's an awkward effort. Until you discover that physical development and spiritual growth work the same way.

Only practice makes one a friend, a helper, a partner to others in their troubles . . . and, incidentally, better able to bear your own.

Every Sunday that open church-door is an invitation to you to discover what needs to be lifted . . . and how best to begin.
