

Mr. Muleshoe

Written especially for The Journal by a member of its staff

The machine age was to usher in a period of leisure for man. Every man was to sit under his vine and fig tree and watch the happy hours go by, occasionally rousing to bat at a fly or mosquito.

The machine has let us down. I venture to say that with all our machines and gadgets there is less leisure in the world than ever in man's history. Most men in Muleshoe are so busy they couldn't tell you their names without referring to their social security card.

Most farmers are too busy. They leap from their downy couch before the break of dawn, hurry to get their chores done, gulp their coffee and eggs, kiss the back door, slam their wives, and hurriedly mount their tractor, fearful lest the day's declining sun find them with less than twice as much done as they did yesterday.

A business man who doesn't have four times as much to do as his doctor advises is safe for him to see about slipping. I wish we might go back and enjoy some of the calm and poise of the cave man, his leisurely pace, his arrows in his leisurely bag, fooled along a bubbling stream, stabbed a fish or two, maybe speared a hippo, and, as the sun slowly slipped over the mountain he ambled back to the cave to doze until the evening meal was ready. He didn't flip an electric button on a machine all day—ah he did was rest and take it easy.

Perhaps some are wishing they changed editors every year or two like they do Methodist ministers. No such luck for you. I reckon the Methodist preachers know more people in the country than most anybody.

J. C. White Is Home on Leave

Pfc. J. C. White is home on a 15-day furlough. He has been stationed at Orlando, Fla., where he works in the discharge office, and will return there November 16. White entered the Army November 22, 1945. Prior to entering the service, he attended Muleshoe High School, and would have graduated with the class of '46.

Legion Breakfast Was Held Monday

G. I. men of World War II predominated at the American Legion breakfast held at the Legion home here Armistice Day morning at 8 o'clock, but there was a liberal sprinkling of the "old boys" there, too.

Bacon and eggs, fried potatoes and coffee were on the menu, and tasted mighty fine to the men who developed a keen appetite standing in line and waiting for the chow to be dished out.

The mess crew consisted of Lefty McWilliams, Blondie Ray, Ewell Pritchett, Gil Wollard, June Waggon, and Jack Barber.

"Chief" Jones, commander of the Legion post here, made a brief talk in which he told of the present Legion Home fund drive, giving a fine report of said drive. The Post has paid for the tract of land recently bought from the Warren interests and will have a tidy sum left over for its building campaign.

A group of veterans present volunteered to assist in the break-fast to further the Post's automobile campaign.

Hitherto, it has been the custom of Ben Richardson Post to have a barbecue dinner at noon on Armistice Day. Several present expressed the opinion that the breakfast is the better deal and likely the custom will be continued to become a tradition here. About 70 attended the breakfast.

Paving Survey Work Started

Preliminary work was started this week on surveys for the paved road project in the county. J. S. Green of the firm of Hasie-Green Engineering Co. is on the job to supervise the work in this county.

At last reports he was looking for rooms or apartments. Yesterday he said he was still looking for help, needing two more men to assist in the surveys.

The first road to be surveyed is the road running from the Muleshoe and Clovis highway to the West community.

Green asked The Journal to publish a request to everyone to respect the stakes he is driving in the ground along the line of the roads to be paved.

He said that in the past he has experienced much delay and loss of time and money because someone broke down or removed a stake. If one is removed or destroyed it involves shooting the elevation again and driving another stake.

Each stake costs 49c by the time it is driven in the ground, and the worst is that the road paving will be delayed if one is tampered with. Members of the Commissioners Court joined in asking everyone to remember the presence of these stakes and refrain from carelessly breaking them down.

It is expected that the road between Circleback and Baileyboro will be advertised for construction at the January 1947 letting in Austin. This would mean that construction would begin about February 15, 1947.

City Cleaners To New Quarters

Removal of the City Cleaners to the new building recently finished for the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Elliott, will be accomplished during this week end and the new place will be open for business Monday morning.

The cleaning plant, which has been located the last several years in the E. R. Hart building on Main Street, will occupy the west one half of the new 25 by 140 foot brick building.

The shop will be directly across the street North of the Muleshoe State Bank building.

The Elliotts have operated City Cleaners here several years and are well known to the people of this territory.

They have purchased new equipment for their shop, and expect to purchase more as soon as it is available.

Mr. Elliott announced that he has leased the front part of the building, a 25 by 140 foot space to the Burrows Grocery & Market, which is making plans to move this week end.

Glass for Cheerful Living

PITTSBURGH, PA. — How full walls of glass can be integrated into the modern home and still retain the much desired element of privacy is graphically shown in this small house designed by Architects Leon Hyzen and Allmon Fordyce. It is one of the prize winners in the national "House For Cheerful Living" competition sponsored by the Pittsburgh Plate Glass and Pittsburgh Corning Companies.

For the front of the house above, the architects have chosen a well-balanced combination of glass, wood and stone that hides home activities from the eyes of passersby. For the back of the home, below, where screens and shrubbery are used as shields, walls of glass have been used to lend spaciousness to the living and bedroom areas. Additional privacy is provided by an ingenious arrangement of interior curtains.

Emphasizing practicality, it features economical arrangement of all rooms including three bedrooms. The direct linking of utility, kitchen, and dining sections saves time and steps for the modern housewife. The interior living area adjoins an exterior court making a large recreation space.

The back wall of the house is almost all glass. In cooler climates these panels could be composed of Twindows — the prefabricated double-glazed window unit that prevents condensation, insulates against cold, and provides means for temperature control.

Western Drug Store Robbed

Jewelry and narcotics to the value of perhaps $900 were missing from the Western Drug Store in Muleshoe after someone entered the store Saturday night by removing a glass in the rear door. Local officers began an investigation Sunday, led by Sheriff J. C. Buchanan.

N. H. Greer, manager of the store, and a partner in the business, Tuesday completed his check of missing items.

His check revealed that eight watches, a pearl necklace, women's lapel pins, brooches, diamond rings and other articles were missing from the jewelry case.

He said value of the narcotics taken would run between $40 and $50.

No money was taken, although the front cash register was left open and change to the amount of $200 had been left for Sunday morning use of the clerks.

Officers said a number of drug-store burglaries have occurred over the South Plains in recent months. The fact that narcotics seemed to be the main object of the intrusion would indicate the burglarly here had some connection with others in the territory.

L. Slaydon, of Baileyboro.

General Decline In Average Farm Products Prices Expected in 1947

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 12.—Total demand for farm products is due to drop in 1947 and prices received by farmers during the coming year are likely to be below the 1946 average.

This is the situation reported by specialists of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service who attended the Annual Agricultural Outlook Conference in Washington, D. C., recently to get the picture on what to expect in agriculture for 1947. As summed up by the specialists, the following is a general outlook for farmers next year:

Although cash receipts from farm marketings and government payments may be five per cent less than in 1946, farmers are still likely to receive more money for their products than they did in 1945, a near-record year. With increased production costs and reduced sales, it is possible that the net income of farm operators will be reduced as much as ten or fifteen per cent from 1946. Even with such reduction, the net farm income will still be near the high wartime levels of 1943-45, and about two and a half times the 1935-39 average.

The increased consumer income due for next year is likely to go more for satisfying cumulated demand for many manufactured goods, as these become available and not for the purchasing of more farm products.

Also, foreign demand for farm products is likely to be somewhat smaller in 1947. Index of prices received by farmers during 1946 is estimated to be about 225, and that figure is slated to drop the early part of 1947. Prices in the latter half of the year may average considerably lower if crops continue large and exports are greatly reduced.

KATE SMITH TO HEAD U. S. POLIO CAMPAIGN

KATE SMITH
Kate Smith, famous radio star, is national chairman of the 1946 Sister Elizabeth Kenny campaign for Infantile Paralysis, which will be conducted throughout the nation November 18 through December 7.

Production expenses are likely to continue the upward trend which has prevailed during the war period. Total farm production costs in 1946 will be about 10 per cent higher than in 1945, and a further increase of as much as five per cent greater than in 1920, the highest year prior to World War II. Increasing prices for nearly all commodities used in production are mainly the reason for the production costs due. One exception is the lower prices in sight for feed bought for livestock.

In the years immediately ahead, a higher average interest rate for the farm mortgage debt is seen, judging from the mortgage debt trends of the past few years. A more significant rise in interest costs during the coming year may occur in connection with non-real estate credit. The various creditors will make loans at about the same rates, but to finance larger purchases farmers will increase their debts with dealers and finance companies whose rates are considerably higher than those of the more usual lenders—banks and production credit associations.

Property tax payments made by farmers in 1947 will be up somewhat from those of 1946. The 1945 levies on farm real estate, payable than those of 1943. A further rise largely late in 1945 and early 1946, were more than 10 per cent higher than those of 1946. A further rise is expected in 1946.

For 1946 the realized net income of farm operators is estimated at about 147 billion dollars, or more than 10 per cent above 1945. Net income for 1947 may be from 10 to 15 per cent below 1946.

In the marketing and transportation picture, some shortages in means of processing and distributing farm products are expected to continue. Rail transportation shortages are likely to remain critical throughout the year. Food processing equipment should be improved to some extent next year, but limited plant capacity and equipment is likely to hold down normal progress in some lines of food marketing. Over the long run, important developments are anticipated, such as pre-packaging of fresh fruits and vegetables and the growing use of quick-freezing methods of food preservation.

Shortage of motor truck transportation in 1947 will probably be much less critical than the rail shipping situation.

It is very unlikely that water transportation tonnage will return to pre-war levels. Most types of transportation, especially by rail, probably will cost the user considerably more in 1947 than during the current year. The Interstate Commerce Commission has already permitted a temporary increase of about three and a half per cent in rail rates on agricultural products, and hearings are now being held by ICC on the carriers' request for still further rail rate increases.

RAINFALL CONSERVATION --

Precipitation over Bailey county is great enough nearly every year to produce a good crop if all rainfall were properly conserved. Frequently, however, spring and summer rains fall very quickly and on unterraced fields run off without wetting the soil to an appreciable depth.

Terraces will check the run-off enough that a fair crop can be produced, when on adjoining unterraced fields a complete failure results.

When the slope is not too great merely contouring the rows will help materially in holding water on the land. While contoured rows help, it is advisable also to use terrace structures.*

More Flowers In Postwar Gardens

This year many a home dooryard will take on gayer colors than for some years past. Victory Gardeners who concentrated on vegetable growing during the war can now afford to give more attention and space to flowers while continuing to raise enough vegetables for the table. From now on, seed of a greater range of flowers will be available, too. Certain kinds which were produced to a limited extent or not at all during the war are coming back.

You can find annual flowers suitable for almost any location on your home grounds. Is the soil sandy and inclined to be poor? Nasturtiums often like it better and bear more abundant bloom than when the seed is sown in more fertile ground. The same is true of poppies, portulaca, and zinnias.

Do you have a 'hot spot' where the soil is likely to dry out rapidly? Ornamental sunflowers, petunias, annual galliards, calliopsis, sweet alyssum, four o'clocks, and cosmos can endure quite a lot of heat and drought.

No annual flowers will thrive in all shade, but in a place where they get sunshine only part of each day you can enjoy the modest beauty of pansies, violas, bachelor buttons, and mignonette.

Plan for a border of annuals that will furnish cut flowers over a long season with plenty left on the plants for dooryard charm. Most flowers do well in the same kind of soil that will grow good vegetables.

No annual flower in the world is more attractive, graceful, and longer lasting than the aster. Be sure to select wilt-resistant strains in their lovely pastel tints and shades. Other easily grown annuals with long stems for cutting are tall marigolds, giant zinnias, calendula, Pink Queen clove, and cosmos in white, pink, orange, and the newer yellow tints. With shorter stems, though still ideal for bowls and vases and effective in the foreground of a border, are lilliput daisies, the brave array of newly developed dwarf marigolds, annual pinks and chrysanthemums, snapdragons, and bachelor buttons in white, rose, red, and the popular blue.

Somewhere near a porch where you sit after the day's work is done, raise a clump or row of nicotiana or "flowering tobacco". The plants with their long trumpet blossoms are attractive, and a breath of the heavenly fragrance as night falls will well repay you for giving nicotiana a spot in which to grow.

SUDAN SEED CROP SHORT

COLLEGE STATION, November 12.—Texas farmers who wait until spring to start hunting seed for a Sudan crop are likely to find themselves out of luck.

According to a report received by the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service from the USDA Bureau of Agricultural Economics production of Sudan grass seed in Texas this year is estimated to be only 5,200,000 pounds—the smallest since 1929. Indicating just how low that figure is, the report showed the average seed production of this state over the past 10 years to be 27,490,000 pounds. Last year's crop was only 9,000,000 pounds, which was still nearly twice as large as the current crop.

Although Texas farmers aren't ordinarily on the lookout for Sudan seed this far ahead of the spring planting season, the short crop, as indicated by the BAE report, should move them to buy Sudan seed now instead of waiting until spring when a mad rush to find seed usually occurs.

Present supplies of the Sudan seed for the entire nation, including production this year plus the carryover, stand at 45,859,000 for pounds. This is 34 per cent smaller than the 1945 supplies.

LUBBOCK—Farmers may help prevent the customary winter drop in milk production by providing sheds for dairy cattle and by keeping the herd's drinking water well above freezing, according to E. C. Pine, associate professor of animal husbandry at Texas Technological College.

The best temperature for water in cold weather is about 40 degrees Fahrenheit. If cows are unprotected from the weather and if they must wade, body heat warming the water they drink, they burn up nutrients that should be available for milk production.

FIXING UP the HOME

By Diane Greider

CHEST UNDER WINDOW

ONE of the charms of old houses is the bay windows found in them and the window seats that provide a view of the outdoors in sunny or rainy weather and a place to sit alone with one's thoughts. The small size of the average modern house or apartment makes a bay window impossible but the space below a window may be used advantageously to capture some of the charm of the houses of the last century. A cedar hox chest veneered in woods to harmonize with the other furnishings of your room, may be banked with pillows or topped with a colorful cushion to become a window seat. Thus, you will make use of space that would otherwise be wasted. And, in addition to the beauty and extra seating space given your living room, you will have increased storage space of the best possible kind for your woollens and furs.

The rich fragrance of red cedar wood is the best of all weapons against the menace of moth damage. The aroma, so pleasant to human beings, paralyzes moth larvae so that they are unable to eat. Consequently they starve to death leaving fine fabrics and furs untouched. The airtight construction of the modern cedar hox chest is a guarantee against damage from dust as well.

JUNIOR NEWS

With the beginning of the school year, the junior class met and organized as follows:

Doris Alford, secretary.

Maudena Richardson, vice-president.

Anita George, reporter.

The annual junior play will be presented in the near future. Please refer to this column for further information on this subject.

The juniors sold pop and candy at the senior play last week, thus beginning a class fund which will be largely used in the annual presentation of the junior-senior banquet.

We have hopes for a very successful year and with the teachers we have we think it will be possible to succeed in our studies and yet have an enjoyable and profitable school year.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

Since this is the first time for us to prepare a written report for the paper, we shall list our class organization. It is as follows:

President, Harold Layton.

Vice-president, Doyle York.

Secretary, Charlotte Hall.

Reporter, Tommie Ann Bogard.

The H. M. girls of both classes are giving a tea for the mothers of the home making girls Friday afternoon, Nov. 15. Our plans are being carried out now for the occasion and we hope it will be a grand success.

Watch this column for further news of the Sophomore class and of Bula school.

FRESHMAN NEWS

Earlier in the school year the freshman class met and organized as follows:

Leatrice McBee, president.

Dorothy Thomas, vice-president.

Myrtle Bayless, reporter.

W. D. Kay, sponsor.

The Freshman class as a whole is enjoying the new experience of high school work. Though we have fewer classes than when we were in grade school we have plenty of work. You should see some of those English and Science assignments! And tests, you should see math test we had at the end of the first six weeks! We don't know how we'll make it if they get rougher every six weeks to the end of the school term. Seriously, we are enjoying our high school work and are looking forward to the day when we will be seniors and also to the presentation of our diplomas of graduation.

We enjoyed the senior play last Friday night and hope to present a full evening play of our own after mid-term.

GRADE SCHOOL

The eighth grade, we feel, is the only class in school now with a perfect attendance record. We are proud of the fact that though we have nine members and school is ten weeks gone we have had neither an absence nor be tardy. Our aims are high and our hopes are that we can go until Christmas without missing a day. If we can do that, we feel that we can go the entire year with a perfect attendance record. Now that would be something!

At a class meeting of the eighth grade the following officers were chosen:

Kenneth Holliday, president.

Cherry Sanders, vice-president.

Sally Harry, secretary.

Jean Alford, reporter.

Mrs. Crosby, sponsor.

Our class motto is: "When the sun sets the stars shine on."

Our colors, silver and pink.

Our flower, white carnation.

We are studying very hard this year for we know this will make high school work easier for us next year.

The sixth and seventh grades have a total enrollment of thirty three and have as their home room teacher, Mrs. Williams. Up to this date, 15 have been neither absent nor tardy. Our school work is progressing very nicely.

We are sorry that Connie Clevinger, a member of the sixth grade, had a painful accident a few days back. He lost two toes in a car accident and suffered a third toe broken. We hope for him a speedy recovery and that he will be back in school soon.

The athletic activities of this room consists of basketball, football and softball. We enjoy all these very much and hope to play sixth and seventh grades of some other school before the year shall have ended. We are also looking forward to interscholastic League events of this year for it will be the first time that any of us have ever had that sort of work.

Muleshoe Yellow Jackets Defeated Levelland Lobos 25 to 18 Friday

The fireworks exploded all at once in the second half of the game here last Friday between the Muleshoe Yellow Jackets and the Levelland Lobos. Muleshoe outscored the visitors and won the final decision 25 to 18. It was the last game of the season for the low jackets, who will wind up the season against Merton there.

Levelland drew first blood with a touchdown in the first quarter. A pass, Bobbie Hart to Blondell, placed the ball on Muleshoe's one-yard line from where Williams bucked it over on the first try.

Muleshoe countered in the second. St. Clair had made it first down on the Levelland 36. Huff knocked off a first down on the 25 and another on the 11. Farrell passed to Fuston McCarty, who caught the ball and fell across the goal line. Half time found the teams tied up at 6 all as they both missed their extra point tries.

The second half started off with a bang. Hart took St. Clair's opening kick-off, which went over the goal line and raced more than 100 yards for a marker. Since the ball, if unplayed, would go back to the 20 with Levelland in possession, no one figured Hart would pick it up and run with it. He risked being tackled before he reached the 20, fooled everybody, and went over untouched.

Levelland then kicked off to Muleshoe, and on the first play St. Clair passed to Wiley Moore on the 30 and Wiley dashed over for the touchdown. Two touchdowns had thus been made within two minutes of the opening whistle.

Levelland plowed to the Muleshoe 22 before being stopped again. Held for downs, Muleshoe took over, kicked to Levelland and the latter put the ball in play on their 45. On the first play, Moore intercepted a short basket pass and raced for another touchdown, this play carrying about 550 yards. St. Clair kicked goal for the extra point, and this was the only extra point made during the game. The score stood at 19 to 12.

An exchange of fumbles and interceptions held the teams on the 20 until Muleshoe broke loose and worked the ball to their 45 where it was first down. Faking a pass, St. Clair ran to the right then cut straight down the sidelines, going 55 yards for Muleshoe's fourth and last score.

In the last period Levelland took the ball from about midfield over the goal line for their third score of the game, using mostly straight, hard football. Blondell plunging over from the 5. Two completed passes had helped put the ball in scoring position.

It was a great day for the offensive. Hart, Blondell and Williams starred for the visitors; Jim Bill St. Clair, Wiley Moore, Eugene Huff and Fuston McCarty ran wild for the Jackets. Farrell, still crippled, played only a part of the game but while he was in he passed to McCarty for one touchdown. St. Clair had never played so well and the line plunging of Eugene Huff left nothing to be desired. Moore made two touchdowns and played his usual heady game, being a bulwark on defense also.

The fans got their money's worth from this game. More than the usual number of sensational plays, with long gains registered, came off at the crowd was in a dither throughout the second half. The Muleshoe band and pep squad and the Levelland band and squad made a pretty showing as they entertained during the half time intermission.

How to Handle a Fortune

Some months ago I reported in the Clarion how Mel Bates' uncle died up north, and left him with a tidy fortune.

Naturally, our town was curious to see how Mel would spend it: Traveling around the world... getting a new house or car... wearing fancy clothes... or dining on cold pheasant and champagne...?

We can now report, Mel hasn't changed a bit! Drop in on him any night, and you'll find him in his shirt sleeves by the fire, chatting with the Misses, sharing a mellow glass of beer with friends.

From where I sit, Mel has learned the art of handling money—as well as handling people. You don't let cash-in-the-bank push you around any more than you let people push you around. If you like the simple, homey life; companionship and quiet ways; a glass of beer and friendly talk—that's worth a fortune, after all!

Don't you enjoy the exciting bustle and bustle of preparing for the Holiday season? I've been scurrying around for days planning meals and getting my favorite recipes set for Holiday baking, and I'm certainly glad to know that our good white flour is once more on the market!

Did you know that most of the flour we buy today is enriched with three of the "B" vitamins and iron? We can depend on the bread and flour baked foods we make to provide a good share of the day's nourishment and that is very important to me with three growing children to keep healthy!

I always serve Fruit Turnovers for my Holiday dessert. Many friends have asked for my recipe—and I thought you might like to have it:

- FRUIT TURNOVERS
- 2 cups sifted enriched flour
 - 3 teaspoons baking powder
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1 tablespoon sugar
 - 1 tablespoon shortening
 - 1/2 to 3/4 cup milk
 - 1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine
 - 1 cup sweetened cooked fruit
- Mix together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Cut or rub shortening into flour mixture to consistency of coarse meal. Add milk to form a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead gently about half a minute. Roll out into rectangular sheet 1/4 inch thick. Cut into series 2 inches wide and 4 inches long. Brush with melted butter or margarine. Sprinkle a handful of fruit on 3/4 of each strip. Fold the other end and strip over strip. Press edges together with tines of fork. Bake in hot oven (400°F) 20 minutes. Serve hot or cold, with cream or sweet sauce made by thickening syrup from canned fruit. Yield: 8 turnovers.

This recipe is especially good during these days of scarce shortening and rationed sugar, and our favorite enriched white flour makes this a highly nutritious dessert—as well as one that's delicious and festive for the holidays!

Sunday dinner guests in the home of her father, W. M. Witterding. Bill Millen has donated a hot water heater to the Methodist parsonage.

Howdy Folks: After emerging safely from the "Gay Ninety" era, we wonder if it wouldn't be proper to classify the present period as the "frightened forties"?

They say that everything goes in circles, and we seem to be creating bigger and better circles to go round in.

This is an age where we develop more machines to provide more people with more leisure in which to be more bored.

It's an old saying, but true, that when the time comes that we spend more for face powder than we do for gun powder, then we can honestly say that we are making progress.

Right now, we can figure that we are making progress if we break even.

In a lighter vein, we know a woman who claims she's making progress learning to drive a car, because, as she says, the road turns when she does.

Well, "there'll always be a United States," and we hope we'll be on the job for a long, long time to supply you with Lighting Fixtures and Wiring Supplies, and Oh Yes, lest we forget, ADMIRAL REFRIGERATORS.
