

Help Demonstrate - Fly Your Flag ★★★★★

Flags in this issue will be flying at Seminole State Bank, picture #1; #2 U. S. Post Office - Carl Davis responsible; #3 Chamber of Commerce - Jean Jones responsible and picture #4 Administration office at school - Jelly Sample responsible.

The demonstration of the 150,000 flag waving people in New York City last week was heart warming to many loyal and law abiding Americans. Last Thursday between the hours of 2:00 and 3:00 p. m. the News tried to capture pictures of the flags flying in Seminole. There was a flag flying at the Post Office, the administration office at school, F. J. Young School, the Seminole State Bank Building, Seminole News and the Chamber of Commerce. One of the things that I always enjoy on a trip to Seagraves or Lubbock is passing by the W. H. Griffith farm and seeing the flag flying in the front yard. It was flying Thursday. Other people who fly flags are Mrs. Velma McIntyre, Bob Davis, Lynn Garrett and several others in Seminole. Usually the Texas Highway Department, the high school and the courthouse have flags flying, but Thursday was not their day. This article is not being written to complain about non-flag-fliers but to brag on those who do and encourage red blooded Americans to be red blooded Americans. The new high school annual came out on the same day that the pictures were made around Seminole, with the flag its theme. Hooray for those people who are responsible. And to the people who do not like our flag, that resent its colors and its stand for patriotism, I have the greatest sympathy. I encourage you to search for a flag of your color, live under it and be loyal to it. (PLEASE READ THE AD, SIGN AND SEND TO THIS NEWSPAPER OR TO MAYOR C. O. WRIGHT.) ★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★

Dewey Collum was the first owner of Jo's Restaurant. When we built our first office in 1947 where the Seminole Auto Supply store is on South Main, Alton Freeman was building the building where Jo's Restaurant is now. Burley Hull, a car dealer, was across the street.

Dewey Collum has been dead several years but he was one of the funniest men I've ever known, always doing the unexpected. He was the man that made $58.00 on the big dog that was found on South Main. He got $1.00 a pound for every pound he made him gain, if he could make him weigh over 100 pounds. The dog weighed 46 pounds to begin with and 104 at his peak. He got the very best of all the food left over at the Restaurant. He laid at the back door and was good natured, but the place was never bothered.

Dewey was the man that came into my office, asked for a dime to buy coffee with and Henry Viggeretti, vice president of an

RE-EVALUATION COMPLETED

At the Commissioners Court meeting yesterday at 10:00 a. m. Thomas Y. Pickett Co., appraisers for oil properties of Gaines County, set oil evaluations within the county at $567,697,000.00. This includes utilities, plants and oil properties but not pipe line properties of $3,051,000.00. The Commissioners Court set a tax rate of 16% of taxable value, or a taxable evaluation of $93,880,000.00. This compares to $67,000,000.00 of one year ago. The company of Southwestern Appraisal set a value of $105,400,000.00 on real estate (top side) and banks.

A 16% taxable value would amount to $16,800,000.00. This is compared to $5,960,000.00 of one year ago or before re-evaluation. The total evaluation of the county amounts to $673,097,000.00, not counting pipe lines. The county tax rate last year was $1.20. The new rate is thought to be $1.00. State was 42¢; will now be 37¢.

The school's present taxable evaluation for the past year was $61,837,000.00. It was pointed out that the county tax needs would need to run $126,000,000.00 which would well and more than take care of school needs of $80,000,000.00. The assessment for the past year was 11.75 of taxable property. That figure this year will be 16%. For that reason the county tax rate will be lowered from $1.20 to $1.00 and the state tax from 42¢ to 37¢. The school board has not set its rate.

"In the near future all property owners will receive from Southwestern Appraisal Company a letter showing 100% value with the county proposing to use 16% of this figure for tax purposes." (After receiving the letter, anyone wishing to discuss the 100% may meet with them on the third floor of the courthouse between now and June 12th.)

In the above photo Leroy Lumpkin of Loop, Texas examines a two year old field of Weeping Lovegrass that he established through the Great Plains Conservation Program. Mr. Lumpkin uses this grassland as diverted acres and runs cattle on it during the time that grazing is allowed on diverted acres. The grass cover protects the land from erosion and grass is an excellent soil improver.

Grass planting time is here and many farmers in the Gaines- Andrews Soil and Water Conservation District have already seeded land to grass this year. Best stands have resulted where seeding is done into a dead litter cover. This cover protects the land from erosion and prevents the young seedlings from being destroyed by blowing sand. If no dead litter cover is present, irrigation water should be available to water the grass to a stand and to allow the grass to make good, rapid growth.

Farmers who are planning to plant grass are encouraged to contact the Soil Conservation Service for assistance.

Glenn Baird, son of Mrs. Willie Baird and the late Vernon Baird is salutatorian with an average of 95.66 at Coleman High School.

insurance company, remarked what a terrible shape he was in. He had found a woman's tam, needed a shave pretty bad, and could look the part of a Philadelphia lawyer or a real bum. This day he was a bum.

"Yep," I said to Henry, "he owns the cafe on the other end of the block." In unbelief he said, "Let's go up there and drink coffee and so help me if you're telling me the truth I'll buy you the biggest K C steak in town."

When we went into the cafe Dewey was standing at the cash register, counting the money. (The steak was good.)

Dewey was the same man that I always played twenty questions with. He's the same fellow that ran a match business with a customer. The customer furnished the empty penny match boxes and he took a few out of all the new ones, making 1¢ profit. They split 38¢ over the years.

He's the man that came into his own cafe, had on one of those big noses with glasses on it and had big red veins drawn on that nose and colored to his complexion. He had on that woman's tam again. He sat down at the counter, raised his voice and said, "How much is a ham sandwich and a glass of buttermilk?"

The waitress had trouble recognizing him and I had even more trouble recognizing him.

After being told that the order would come to 45¢ he got his change out and carefully counted it four or five times, asked again the cost and finally his order was turned in. The place was full.

His order came and he got the sandwich and held it in both hands like you would gnaw on a bone. He started mooching on it, with every eye in the cafe on him. All of a sudden he'd jump and look at someone who was staring at him and nearly scare them to death. He would begin to gnaw on it again and, sure enough, he would jump and look at someone else. He disrupted the whole operation.

Finally he was through and they brought him a ticket. He raised his voice and said, "You told me it would only be 45¢ and 45¢ is all I'm gonna pay. Did you hear me? You said 45¢ and 45¢ is all I'm paying."

He plunked the 45¢ down, stormed out the front door, went around the building, smiled at and patted the 104 pound dog on the head, went in the cafe, washed his hands, put on his apron and went to work.

Well at least me, him and the waitress had a good time.

News readers will recall the story of the graves and gravesites on the Hobbs Highway, approximately 14 miles west on the Billy Walker ranch, the Weldon Smith farm. The gravesites can be seen here and, thanks to the family or some interested party, mesquite bushes have been cleared off and someone has planted poppies. The graves set on the south side of the highway in an alfalfa field now. Vina Pauline Culp was buried after accidentally swallowing some kind of poisoning, lye water or some other type poison while her parents were out looking for their stock that had strayed.

I visited MRS. ANDERSON'S ARTS and CRAFTS room Tuesday morning and, as always, was impressed with the many facets of art form that she teaches, from ceramics, decoupage, molding, painting and many others too numerous to mention. Several of the children were working on a paper mosaic which was done by using various colors of crepe paper wadded up in small balls and glued to the sketch on poster board. Thank Heavens for people like Mrs. Anderson with artistic ability and who is able to teach our young to appreciate beauty. --- MRS. MONROE HOBDY giving MARGE GLADSON a helping hand at KELLEY'S DRESS SHOP Monday while ANNA KELLEY is at market. --- FAY WOMACK, JEANNE ABLES and CLARA HEALD cleaning house at the UNITED DEPARTMENT STORE Monday. --- MARGE COFFMAN finishing daughter, SUSAN'S, wardrobe for her trip to Paris soon. --- MRS. There were no commencement exercises because of the destruction left by the tornado recently in Lubbock, so Tommy's diploma was mailed to him. Congratulations, Tommy, I'll bet getting your degree was worth it, even if it did come in the mail. --- JIMMY PIERSON saying last week at JO'S RESTAURANT he was resting up after having worked four days in Lubbock. On my vacation Mr. and Mrs. Fisher Medlin took Mrs. Opal Hughes and Mrs. Bessie Maltsberger to Saguaro Lake, north and west of Phoenix, Arizona, the 3rd lake from the Roosevelt Lake. These lakes are dammed and released for irrigation for the Salt River Valley.

My brother and sister's big boat was a 17 foot Larson in-board. It is all American top powered by Merc-Cruzer, 110 horse power with a 21 inch propeller.

This lake has lots of bass and lots of blue gill crappie and catfish. This lake has lots of water skiers and lots of motor boats. There must be 100 boats on the lake and it's just a nice place to relax and enjoy yourselves. The back part of the lake is for so many people fishing and the big cliffs on the side furnished shade for fishermen in a still boat.

One day we went up to Oak Creek Canyon. We went through the mountains. It was so beautiful. The villages were Navajo Indians. These mountains were so pretty and high and Oak Creek running through the Sedona where we ate dinner on the creek. We went about 155 miles in the mountains and back.

We saw the most beautiful colors in these mountains. This trip was so wonderful to anyone who loves nature's colors.

Thanks One & All

How do you just keep on thanking people and thanking them when you cannot possibly repay them. Someone once said that to accept a gift gracefully is the mark of an outstanding person.

Thanks to Ray Whisenhunt and the excellent book, Home, Next To Woman, God's Greatest Gift to Man, by John A. Lanzone, a history of the Straus-Frank Company. A delightful book.

To George Sultemeier and the 7 different kinds of barbed wire he brought in. George, you wouldn't believe it but a salesman came in and said, "Where in the world did you get the Burnell, the Arrowplate, Glidden Railroad, Buffalo and the Snail barbed wire?" He gave me a lesson in history, a delightful one on barbed wire in the west. He said, "I've got a book you'll have to have and I'll bring you 100 different kinds of barbed wire." Thanks George.

Rayford Bates, thanks for letting me read your book, Do It, by Jerry Ruben, what it takes to be a yippie. I enjoyed reading the sorry thing, but I've got news for you, we'll never make one.

Thanks, Lee Burk, for the book published in 1910, Making Things With Tools, by A. Neily Hall. How I would have loved to have the book when I was 12 or 13 years old. It tells how to build kites and model airplanes, how to build a sailboat, a speedboat, a pirate's pistol. I'd forgotten how to make a twig whistle, a grassblade whistle, button twirlers, toy windmills and on and on. It was delightful to see again.

To the Dee Cokers, what are friends for but to enjoy and use? Thanks for the pictures and your sharing. Also thanks to Tom Coffee. One of the pictures he made.

Then there's the "Progressive Farmer" I get that someone sends to me, the "Hoard's Dairyman", the "U. S. News and World Report" from Cindy, the "Scandal Sheet" from Uncle Ward Collier, the "Agricultural Demonstrations" from Lynn County and the "Publisher's Auxiliary".

Thanks to Alda Benton for sending me the "War Whoop" and to that nice person that brought me the picture of the Gaines County Fair and Parade I was in, I'd have to thank you.

To Jimmy Ivy and his sons, thanks for bringing in the sand rattle snake skin and 12 rattlers. It proves to a few people that there is a difference between a sand rattler and a diamond back. Besides that, it looks good on my board with my branding iron, spurs, barbed wire and other junk.

To all the people that keep sharing the old pictures with us, I never will get through thanking.

To my nephew the lawyer in San Angelo, Kenneth Courtright, thanks for all the material on dope addiction, teen-agers and dope, youth and the law and youth and marijuana.

If you've shared information, pictures, books or magazines with us, consider this a personal thanks if I've failed to mention it.

I cannot forget the cakes, the pies and the candy that shows up every week, not only in the office but on us. Thanks.

Special recognition goes to Rhonda Smith for her faithful attendance at school. Rhonda was one of the eighth grade graduates Thursday night. She hasn't missed a day or been tardy in her eight years of school.

Refreshments of cupcakes and punch were served in the gymnasium by the 8th grade mothers following the awards.

The 8th grade class presented their sponsor, Mr. Dan Calfee, with a beautiful desk fountain pen set.

Loop community has discovered a new artist. The humorous Charlie Brown and Snoopy artwork displayed in the gymnasium on graduation night was the work of Charlene Hord. Betty Young, a well known artist in this area, said she would gladly take the credit for these but just couldn't.

The senior class, along with their sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hamilton, have gone on their senior trip. They left Loop by school bus at 5:30 Saturday morning and plan to tour the Lone Star State for the next ten days. They left the school bus in Abilene and joined Sunset Stages there. On to San Antonio to visit the zoo, Alamo, Mission San Jose, and oh yes, don't forget the tour of Budwieser brewery.

The next two days they will be in Corpus Christi, swimming and beach combing at the Gulf of Mexico. By now they are fully roasted but not done yet.

On to Houston for two more days to see such things as the great Astrodome, Manned Space Craft Center, Astro World, San Jacinto Monument and Battleship Texas. The Astros will be out of town so they will be unable to watch them play while there.

By now they should be well done or tanned, and pooped, ready to go back to Abilene to pick up their school bus to return to Loop on the first day of June. They left here, ten anxious and happy kids. By the way, has anyone heard from the Hamiltons since they left? Hope they are still along.

The seniors for next year received their class rings the day before school was out. The annuals should arrive soon.

This would be a good project for 4-H'ers who are limited on space or who are unable to care for sheep or swine. The rabbits will be shown at the annual Gaines County Show for the first time.

The Tigers played the Seagraves Yankees Friday, May 22, at Seagraves. The Yankees came out on top, 11-10.

John Niland, the pulling 256 pound guard of the Dallas Cowboys, said, "You're just as big as you want to be. I do not believe there's a man in the NFL that can whip me. Niland made the statement at the All Sports banquet last Friday night to a capacity crowd. He went on to explain what he meant in probably the best program ever presented at a Booster Club banquet.

An uncommon man, he said, was one that was able (1) to think - to place a score on the scoreboard of life, one would have to be able to think; (2) want to work - stating that work begins when it begins to hurt; (3) courage - example: Willis Reed having to go against Wilt Chamberlain with torn ligaments in his leg. (4) pride - "And that's the reason I said that no man could whip me, I never accept defeat. The Dallas Cowboys have been beaten in a game, but never whipped. (5) Capacity for faith- unseen eyes that watch over you and for you.

"I had to be a 100% man to become an uncommon man. I prayed for victory but it was Criag Bingham that taught me that prayer was answered when he was able to participate and do his best - the uncommon man with capacity for faith."
