

Heavy Study Rules

Airmen and NCO personnel assigned to the Materiel Control Section of the 3500th M&S Group have gone "all-out" to better prepare themselves for career goals in the Air Force, Maj. John J. McConkey, materiel control officer, cited this week.

Nineteen of the 20 assigned personnel are actively engaged in off-duty education through USAFI, and ECI courses and programs at South Plains College in Levelland. Presently, five of the men are preparing for college level GED testing and three have successfully completed tests in the past two months.

"Through proper counseling and systematic guidance these career servicemen have planned and directed their educational efforts to coincide with their goals and growth potential," the major said. "Such a positive response to qualitative training programs is indicative of highly motivated and devoted members of the USAF team."

Easter Hunt For Eggs Set

Several hundred Reese children are expected to take part in the annual Easter Egg hunt, starting at 2 p.m. Sunday on the base parade ground.

All children from 1 to 11 years of age are eligible to compete, with prizes offered in each age group. Divisions will be for the 1 and 2 year olds, 3 and 4 year olds, 5 and 6 year olds, 7 and 8 year olds and 9, 10 and 11 years old.

The Frenship stage band will provide music during the afternoon and parents are asked to accompany their children.

The Air Explorer Scouts will monitor the egg hunt and senior Girl Scouts are to see that the Easter Bunny leaves the eggs in proper hidden places for the hunt.

their own toe-tapping numbers.

Judges will be Don Maxey of the Texas Tech speech department, Bill McAllister of KSEL and Bud Andrews of KCBD-TV.

Captain Robert M. Opdycke, Talent Show project officer, has directed that all entries attend a mandatory practice at 10 a.m. Monday in the theater.

Clean-Up Week Designated For Base During Next Week

Next week, April 22 to 28, has been designated as Clean-Up and Fire Prevention Week at Reese and every effort will be made to eliminate potential fire hazards, Truett Cranford, fire chief, has announced.

Unit fire marshals and wardens have been instructed to supervise a general cleaning and cooperation of all personnel, including families in housing areas, is asked.

"This is an excellent opportunity for Reese people to show we appreciate the highly important aspects of fire prevention discipline," Chief Cranford commented. "Prompt disposal of trash and rubbish will destroy a favorite breeding ground for fires and remove a chief cause of spontaneous combustion fires in buildings. Elimination of rags, particularly oily rags, will be extremely helpful."

Area inspections next week will be accompanied by building inspections to obtain a clean base, inside and out. Included in areas covered will be base buildings and the base trailer park and the government housing outside areas.

"Good housekeeping, cleanliness and policing not only increase morale and pride in an installation, but also reduce fire hazards and unnecessary losses," the chief stated. "We all have pride in our base, and Clean-Up Week gives us another opportunity to show it."

National Paper Publicizes Base

More publicity for Reese was given this week in the April 22 issue of the national edition of The Register, America's National Catholic Newspaper.

More than a third of the page devoted to the Church in the Military was given over to a profile on the base in which a story told of Reese training almost 8,000 pilots in contributing its part toward world peace. Two pictures accompany the article.

Copies of The Register are being placed in dayrooms and elsewhere at Reese.

Women Urged To See Cancer Film Showing

A film designed for every woman over 21 years of age will have two showings here next Thursday. The first will be at 12:15 p.m. in the base theater, the second at 8 p.m. in the Reese Elementary School.

The film, called "Time and Two Women," was made by the American Cancer Society and shows how and why the cell examination for uterine cancer could lead to virtual elimination of uterine cancer as a major cause of cancer death among women. Uterine cancer, the second most common form of cancer in women, claims the lives of 16,000 American women annually.

Col. L. C. Hess, wing commander, and Lt. Col. Charles F. Ford, hospital commander, both urged all Reese women to see the film, stressing its value.

"Our aim in showing this film is to convince every woman over 21 years of age to have an annual checkup that includes the cell examination for uterine cancer," said Dr. Robert M. Todd, hospital gynecologist. "I cannot emphasize too strongly how important this film is."

Members of the Protestant Women of the Chapel will assist with each showing next Thursday and will serve coffee after the evening film. Eighth grade Intermediate Girl Scout Troop 123 will provide nursery care for the evening showing.

Mrs. John A. Slaughter, Jr., is cancer project chairman on the base.

Strong Rating Given

Air traffic control facilities at Reese are in "excellent condition," members of a team visiting the base to study conditions have stated in an informal report.

Captain James D. Kelly and CMSgt. Henry R. Taylor came to Reese for four days as an Air Traffic Control Analysis Team assigned to the Southwestern Communications Region of the Air Force Communications Service.

They reviewed all air traffic functions and control and held conferences with Donald McLeod, chief controller of the Federal Aviation Administration at Lubbock Municipal airport. They also talked with Col. Harold T. Babb, deputy wing commander; Lt. Col. Delmar Atchison, wing operations officer; Maj. E. W. Nutting, base operations officer; Maj. Walter Malin, base communications officer; Maj. Richard Condric, safety director; and Maj. Jack Turner, weather officer.

The analysis team was hosted by Detachment 2, 2010 Communications Squadron, under command of CWO Basil Parker.

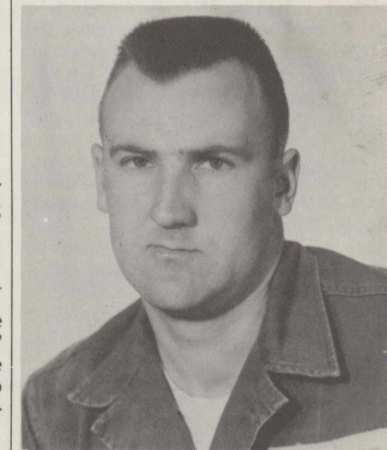

Paving Work Nearing End

Repaving of principal arterial streets at Reese Air Force Base by a civilian contractor is virtually completed after work lasting about three weeks.

Pioneer Pavers, Inc., successful bidder in a letting, has laid 78,156 square yards of resurfacing and used 7,062 gallons of asphalt in the work.

A total of 5,956 tons of asphaltic concrete costing $8.75 a ton was applied to an average depth of one inch and a half or was overlaid on the existing pavement.

The work, supervised by Fred Ohls, a Reese engineer, is complete except for minor touch-up in a few spots.

AIRMAN MORRIS

Maintenance Man To OTS

The first Reese Air Force Base assignee in two years to receive the honor, A2C Benton E. Morris, aircraft maintenance man in the M&S Group, has been accepted for training in the Officer Training School.

He will undergo a course in the aircraft maintenance career field in Class 63-A and on graduation will become a second lieutenant. He will report at Lackland AFB, San Antonio, May 14.

Airman Morris is a physical education graduate of Troy State College in Alabama and of the jet fighter maintenance course at Amarillo AFB. He also is a graduate of high school in Chattahoochee, Fla., and of the Chipola Junior College, Marianna, Fla. In high school he participated in football and basketball and was a member of the National Honor Society.

Construction of 150 silos to house the Air Force's MINUTEMAN missiles is proceeding on schedule in an area which covers 1,500 square miles in Montana.

From The COMMANDER'S DESK

By Col. L. C. Hess, Wing Commander

It is most appropriate that we have designated next week as clean-up week at Reese, since spring is the normal time of year to get rid of the winter's accumulation of unneeded items and spruce up for an enjoyable summer.

More important, however, is the fact that we can best use this opportunity to vigorously search out and eliminate fire hazards, potential causes of ground safety accidents and unsanitary conditions. To do this, and accomplish the desired results, requires an inside and out, top-to-bottom cleaning of every structure and adjacent area at Reese.

I solicit your active and positive cooperation not only in this clean-up campaign next week but throughout the entire year as well. Our efforts will speak for themselves and result in a cleaner, safer, happier community in which to live.

USAF Supports Family

The United States Air Force is becoming more and more a "family" service. An AF-wide survey reveals a dependent population of over 1,500,000. That's a lot of wives and children to be taken care of!

Of all officers on duty, 88 per cent are married. If the second lieutenants — only 55 per cent of whom are married — were not considered, well over 90 per cent of USAF officers would be listed in the married category. Captains, incidentally, have the most dependents — over 147,000 — of any officer rank.

Among airmen, "only" 61 per cent are married. But if the airmen basics and the A3C's were not counted in, the "married" figure would be about the same as for the officers.

The Air Force is well aware of the responsibilities of personnel to their dependents. Policy-makers go overboard to provide help in housing, medical care, schooling, recreation and religious ministrations. The word "help" is used advisedly since the primary responsibility will always rest upon the family breadwinner.

While it is true that the Air Force cannot supply housing for all personnel, tremendous advances have been made in this area since we became a separate service in 1947. The construction of base housing continues to be a major project. To help prevent hardship to families moving to new areas, Air Force Pamphlet 34-9-1, "Forecast on the Availability of Family Housing," is brought up to date every three months and distributed to the field. Pamphlets are also issued on conditions in all overseas areas.

Dependent medical care at AF hospitals and Medicare for families in areas not served by such hospitals have been a boom to husbands, wives and children in maintaining a high level of health.

The term, "The Air Force Family," is not just a catch phrase. Our common interests and relationships are so close that we literally are bound into a single unit.

Base Library Week Success

Observance of the annual National Library Week, April 8-14, at Reese was entirely successful, Helen K. Fuller, base librarian, said this week.

Visiting the library to see the many exhibits and to look over shelf after shelf of books were 1,141 adults and children, including classes from Reese Elementary School. Everyone received book markers, two-year calendars, reprint from a national magazine and a paperback book.

Awarded prizes were Katherine Neece of the procurement office, the anniversary edition of "Gone with the Wind"; A3C Robert A. Riley, "Inaugural Speeches of the Presidents"; and 1st Lt. Clarence

J. Doane, "Encyclopedic Cookbook."

Books and articles on freedom and democracy were stressed in the many exhibits. Posters sought greater appreciation of books and articles. A speed reader which is intended to increase the amount of information obtainable in a given time attracted much attention.

Exhibits showed freedom, defense of the flag and constitution, citizenship, aerospace development, the United Nations and its work, oral helps, proper use of pronouns, dictionary aids, identification of animals and words, and other features.

Spring Restores Stronger Faith In Resurrection

By Chaplain James D. Taylor

In the fall of the year there is something pathetic about the trees as they lose all their leaves, or in the rose bush as the last rose loses its petals and there is not much beauty there. It looks as if all is dead. But then as the first days of warm weather come, we see the trees begin to bud and the leaves appear. Also the rose again blooms in all its beauty. We could say, what a story of the life of man.

The day that they took Jesus and nailed him to the cross was a dark sad day indeed. The disciples thought that this was the end, and they began to drift back to their former occupations. Then came the shocking but glad tidings that Jesus was no longer in the grave, but had risen and had been seen by some of the women. Then in the days following, more of them had personal contact with the Risen Lord.

In each Spring, as I see the trees begin to bud and the flowers come out, it serves to make my faith stronger in the resurrection. As Christ arose, it give me the assurance that I too shall rise. That this life is but a preparation for the life to come.

O come let us rejoice together for we serve a living Lord.

ATC Wins Safety Trophy

Aided by the Reese record, Air Training Command has been named winner of the 1961 Tokyo Raiders-USAF Traffic Safety Award, Maj. Gen. Perry B. Griffith, deputy inspector for safety, has announced.

The annual award, to be presented Saturday to Lt. Gen. James E. Briggs, ATC commander, is sponsored by the Tokyo Raiders, an organization composed of members of the famed World War II mission that was led by Gen. James H. Doolittle. General Doolittle will present the award, an engraved bronze cup, to General Briggs at the Raiders' 20th reunion in Santa Monica, Calif.

Command accident records and traffic safety prevention programs that are effective in reducing Air Force and private vehicle accident losses are the factors used in determining the award winner.

The presentation to General Briggs will mark the fourth time since the awards inception in 1955 that ATC has been chosen as the winner. SAC won it first in 1955 and again in 1960 with CONAC winning in 1958.

Eligibility for competition is limited to major air commands that have three or more operating bases in the United States. Commands with both stateside and overseas bases are judged only on their stateside bases.

This chart shows information on plan before Congress to up quarters allowance

Quarters Bill Gets Earlier Effectiveness

WASHINGTON (AFNS)—The Quarters Allowance bill (H.R. 11050) went before a House Armed Services Sub-Committee last week and came out containing more benefits than ever.

First, the effective date of the increased BAQ allowances was moved up three months earlier by the Rivers sub-committee, targeted now for Oct. 1 instead of Jan. 1.

Second, the BAW system for non-coms including E-4s with over four years service was completely reworked on the pattern of the officer BAQ system, putting them back under the Career Compensation Act.

Third, the matching Class Q allotment system was retained only for use by the lower enlisted grades.

Fourth, an 8 per cent increase in BAQ goes to E-1s, E-2s, E-3s, and E-4s under four years service.

What committee members did not rework also is important. They left unchanged the Defense Department's proposed increase of quarters allowances for officers and the Dependents Assistance Act hike for lower grade airmen.

Revamping the non-com system did bring with it some rate changes. For the great majority, the alteration was a happy one with newly proposed increases substantially above the earlier proposed hikes. For a number of non-coms in the three dependent category, the change is about $5 a month under the original request.

A look at the new charts not only shows the money difference but also illustrates the new concept for non-coms.

If boils down to these changes — no longer will non-coms (including E-4s with four or more years service) be required to have a Class Q allotment. They, and not their wives, will receive the allowance with their pay checks, the same as an officer does.

In making this conceptual change, Chairman Rivers of the House Armed Services Sub-Committee No. 1 stressed that the non-commissioned officers hold highly responsible jobs and are able to run their own families.

Representative Rivers also emphasized increased BAQ allowances were long overdue and that the bill must be passed.

Still pending is full committee action, approval on the floor by the House of Representatives and a similar pattern of committee hearings and floor action by the Senate.

Congressional leaders have said publicly they hope to recess by July 15 in this election year.

It should be noted that the rewritten BAQ proposal, contains other important points:

Provides BAQ payment to reserve non-coms on active duty for training. Does the same for E-4s under four years service and below if the training is longer than 30 days. Excludes, however, six months training stints.

Makes permanent the Dependents Assistance Act due to expire next year, for E-1, E-2, E-3 and E-4 with under four years of service.

Wipes away completely an already suspended provision requiring a dependent parent physically to live in the same household with the serviceman.

June Promotions Total Moves Up

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — A total of 51,000 promotions for airmen has been announced for the June cycle.

Although substantially the same as previous cycles for each grade, easing of skill limitations provides a better chance for those aiming at the E-7 and E-6 grades since the June, 1961, cycles.

Promotion quotas are E-7, 2,200; E-6, 3,000 E-5, 5,300; E-4, 18,000; and E-3, 22,500.

A firm reduction in the number of skills in which overages have existed for the last 12 months improves the opportunities for airmen looking for promotion, particularly to master sergeant and to technical sergeant.

Promotion Cycles Will Go Unchanged

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — Air Force will continue to promote airmen under the best qualified basis for the three promotion cycles of February, June and October each year.

A plan for automatic promotion to A1C, under consideration for several months, will not be adopted, USAF officials have declared.

Reason for dropping the automatic promotion idea is that such a plan would deny promotion to outstanding airmen. Under its original presentation, the plan was to automatically promote A2C to A1C upon their reenlistment.

Yokota Wins 1961 Trophy

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — The highest award for maintenance excellence, the Daedalian Maintenance Trophy, has been awarded to the Third Bombardment Wing (Tactical) Yokota Air Base, Japan, USAF announced here.

Awarded for the calendar year 1961, the trophy has been awarded only once before. This was in 1960, when the winner was the 3500th Maintenance Supply Group, Reese AFB, Texas, Air Training Command. Reese also was selected as having the best maintenance unit in 1961 in ATC and represented the command in Air Force competition.

Although popularly known as the Daedalian Maintenance Trophy, the proper name of the silver cup is the Maj. Gen. Clements McMullen Memorial Daedalian Weapon System Maintenance Trophy.

Another trophy, that for flying safety, is also presented by the Order of Daedalians. The winner of this trophy is expected to be announced shortly.

There are more than 1,100,000 Americans alive today who have been cured of cancer, as against 16,000 25 years ago.

WEATHER LADY—When student pilots asked for directions from the mobile tower at Reese last Thursday, it was the voice of Maj. Suzanne Englestad of the Texas Tech Angel Flight which reported on weather for a short time. The first pilot to get Englestad directions was flabbergasted and asked for a repeat. Here the young woman, with other Tech AFROTC auxiliary women on base tour, is on the mike, filling in briefly for Capt. Lucian Ferguson.

Deadline Set Registration

Reese people were cautioned this week to re-register their automobiles before April 30. At the same time, it was stated that no cars without 1962 license plates may drive on the base.

CWO Henry Travinski, base security officer, asked that persons desiring new base windshield stickers make application as soon as possible to prevent possibility of too many late applications.

Drivers must produce 1962 licenses, proper proof of insurance, and vehicle inspection stickers to secure new permits for 1962. Officers and NCO's may certify as to insurance, but airmen will be required to bring their policies to the registration office. All drivers will be required to remove the triangular ATC sticker and to replace it with the new rectangular sticker on the windshield.

Re-registration applications are obtainable at squadron orderly rooms and Mr. Travinski requested blanks be secured there and be filled out when application is made at the Air Police office.

School Lunches

Menus planned for next week at the Reese Elementary School are:

MONDAY—No school; Easter holiday.

TUESDAY—Ham chunks, pinto beans, broccoli, stewed apricots, hot bread, milk.

WEDNESDAY—Skillet dinner, green beans, congealed salad, hot bread, peanut butter cookies, milk.

THURSDAY—Ham burgers, french fries, lettuce, tomatoes, fruit pie, milk.

FRIDAY—Tuna salad, tossed salad, scalloped potatoes, hot bread, stewed apricots, milk.

Air Force entries in the Freedoms Foundation Letter Award Contest won 35 awards for a total of $2,950.

Fitness Program, Performed On Schedule, Quite Beneficial

ATC HEADQUARTERS, RANDOLPH AFB — "Well, Doc," the major said, "I don't need to take that exercise, I bowl three times a week."

This and other similar remarks have greeted many of Air Train-Command's physicians in recent months since the Royal Canadian Air Force 5BX Physical Fitness Program has been adopted by the Command.

The major was uninformed, says ATC's command surgeon, Maj. Gen. M. S. White. Regular daily exercise of the 5BX type would pay the officer the greatest dividend of health in the world, unattainable through bowling alone or many other active sports, says the general.

General White was responsible for instituting the program in ATC and is an accepted authority. He not only has had the most flight surgeon experience of any Air Force medical officer now on active duty, having been a flight surgeon for 27 of his 31 years service, but he also is an American Board recognized heart specialist.

The general states that the programmed series of exercises which include six minutes of running-in-place are the best and simplest way to develop a heart and lung reserve which can save as well as prolong lives.

Too frequently in the past, an individual over 40 years of age was advised to "act his age, walk slowly, don't run for buses or over-exert your heart." This is good advice for a sedentary worker who obviously could harm himself if not in condition, says Gen. White. However, this type of individual has lost all ability to resist heart strain and is a likely candidate for an early grave. Medical authorities now believe exercise, within the capabilities of the individual, enhance the heart's ability to withstand insult.

General White believes that the 5BX Program, when properly done with observation of all necessary precautions, and graduated progress will surprise the younger, as well as older, individuals with their improved "wind" (or heart and lung efficiency).

Many other benefits also accrue throughout the musculature system of the body. General White recommends that every person taking the 5BX program stay in his own level and perform daily repetition of exercises, to use full time for each exercise, and to take the exercises at the most convenient time in each day.

He also counseled that the exercises will not bring reduction in weight but "push-away from the table" and diets prescribed by doctors will reduce poundage.

The general also said that an XBX program for women soon will be distributed and "this will be used if you can convince your wife she needs the exercise."

Orientation Course Enrollment Urged

Reese wives this week were urged to make final plans to attend the Family Services orientation courses scheduled for the nights of April 30-May 1 and May 3-4. Sessions will be from 7 to 9 each night in the Reese Elementary School, with registration nightly at 6:45 p.m.

The dependents will learn much about what the Air Force offers and benefits due families, 2nd Lt. H. M. Ravatt, personal affairs officer, stated. Certificates will be awarded wives completing each course and women already holding certificates are urged to attend for refreshers.

Track Team Practicing

Practice for the Reese track team which will enter Air Training Command competition started Monday with several candidates on hand.

Included are Dale Dickson, Hospital; William Kurtz, 3501st Student Squadron, and Douglas Clifford, Civil Engineers, who are candidates for the mile run. Kurtz also is a half-miler.

Captain Matthew Kurzawa, base budget officer, and James Mikelson of Civil Engineers will be trying to outdistance each other and opponents in the shot-put.

James Freeman, Engineers, will run the half mile and Cornel Gray and Harvey Stevens, CE, the 440 and 200 yard dashes. Gray and Freeman also seek places on the mile relay team.

Running the 100 and 200 yard dashes are George Jackson and Phillip Pierson of Air Base Group and Fred Bailey of M&S.

Milton Laddner will toss the javelin, while Ralph Taylor is to pole vault and broad jump. Both are Civil Engineers.

Practice sessions will be held each Monday, Wednesday and Thursday at the Texas Tech athletic field.

Additional candidates are sought for all events. Persons wishing to participate in track activities may call Coaches A3C Jerome Freeman, A1C Ralph Taylor, Capt. Kurzawa or the project officer, Capt. J. R. Tanner.

CAREER GIRLS—Every Monday, Wednesday and Friday a group of Career Girls of the base spends a noon period seeking physical fitness in a class taught by Mrs. Hanford R. Wright at Mathis Service Club. Mrs. Wright, who has a degree in physical education, emphasizes mental alertness, absence of nervous strain and physical well-being. The class here stretches muscles. A similar class for Air Force wives meets at 10 a.m.

Base Golfers High In Pro-Am

Most top honors in the second annual Pro-Am golf tournament at Reese last weekend went to professionals and amateurs of Lubbock, but three base officers were "in the money."

Teamed with Ben Waters of Meadowbrook Golf Club were Maj. Joe Setnor and Captains Lou Ferguson and Joseph Mee-seji. The team was second with a score of 61.

About 120 golfers participated from many communities. Most of them stayed for the barbecue in the evening and to see Paul Hahn, trick and comic golfer, demonstrate his shots. Upward of 300 other spectators were on hand.

Warren Cantrell and Cal Garrett of Lubbock shot a 67 for pro-honors, with Bert Watkins of Portales, N.M., and Troy Badgett of Amarillo second.

Three players, each with 70 tied for low amateur. They were E. Sweeney of Lubbock, A. Littlejohn of Midland and John Farquhar of Amarillo, former Texas Tech golf captain.

Low team honors of 60 went to H. G. Preston, Clinton Bussey and Herschel Gale of Lubbock and W. Barton of Sulphur Springs.

Perrin Wins ATC Title

The Reese base level volleyball team last weekend finished third in Air Training Command competition as Perrin won the championship and will represent the command in Air Force worldwide contests at McGuire AFB.

Perrin defeated Sheppard, Reese and Keesler to win the title, winning over Reese 15-4 and 15-7.

Reese won its first competition by defeating Lackland, 15-13 and 15-6. It added Keesler to its victims with 15-13 and 15-10 games and then bowed to Perrin.

Keesler, which had won over James Connally and Sheppard, then moved into the finals with a 13-15, 15-10, 14-10 victory. In the finals its was 15-10, 15-10 for Perrin.

Perrin's Paul Palmer, who had seen Cadet Ahmad Fard of Reese win the most valuable player award in three previous meetings emerged as the most valuable in the final ATC competition.

Frank Ray, 173; TSgt. Henry Schmitt, 172; TSgt. Walter Kelly, 171; Maj. Joe Setnor, 170; and A1C Jim Colbert, 169.

Study Contract Awarded For 'Follow-On' Fighter

(AFNS) — The heralded TFX "follow-on" fighter aircraft to the "century" series has been placed under an approximate 90-day study contract with the Boeing Company and the General Dynamics Corporation.

The Air Force said "minor changes in the basic design will be made to provide two versions designed to meet the requirements for a carrier based fighter."

Officials stressed the contract is for study purposes only but underscored Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's belief that "over-all program costs can be reduced, and delivery dates expedited, by the two services cooperating in designing and producing a single aircraft to meet future needs of both."

The USAF designation F-111 already has been reserved for the TFX. Its configuration and technology were broadly sketched by McNamara in his mid-January military budget statement to the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Utilizing a variable geometry wing and powered by turbofan engines, the TFX should be capable of very high speeds at altitude, as well as low-level bombing operations," the Defense Secretary told Congressmen.

"This fighter should be highly efficient in all tactical and air defense missions for either limited or general war and because of its long ferrying range and refueling capability, it can be rapidly deployed to all parts of the world."

Describing the TFX as a "follow-on" tactical weapon system, he ended his Congressional discussion by saying, "we hope to select a contractor and get the development effort under way within the very near future."

Base Men To Sing In Annual Parade

Two Reese singers, SMSgt. Leason Dale and A2C Richard W. Jeffords, will sing in a chorus at the annual parade of the SPEBSQSA at 8:15 p.m., May 5, in the Monterey High School auditorium in Lubbock.

Many quartets and choruses are to take part in the songfest, including the "Singing Plainsmen," of which the Reese men are a part. The SPEBSQSA is the Society for Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America.

Interested Reese persons may call Airman Jeffords at Extension 758.

An ion engine as well as several other methods of low-thrust propulsion necessary for maneuverability in space are undergoing research by the Air Force Systems Command.

Only Fit May Go To Isolated Area

WASHINGTON (AFNS)—Personnel slated for assignment overseas, particularly to isolated areas, will be subject to stricter medical and dental examinations hereafter, the Air Force has announced.

Isolated areas as defined in Chapter 2, Part I, AFM 35-11, will also call for a complete mental as well as physical examination.

Although all USAF personnel customarily have been examined prior to their departure for overseas assignments, officials have indicated that there will be a closer supervision of regulations governing the preparation for overseas assignments.

Not only will the necessary immunization shots be given each individual before departure from CONUS, but all physical, mental and dental requirements will be met.

A closer interpretation of the regulations is being made so as to assure that personnel assigned to isolated duty stations will be sufficiently well, both physically and mentally, to complete the normal tour of duty.

Training Courses Shift To Keesler

A scheduled move of two training courses to Air Training Command's Keesler AFB, Miss., will result in an annual saving of more than 600,000 Air Force dollars.

The move concerns the Semi-Automatic Ground Environment (SAGE) Computer Maintenance course now conducted at IBM's Kingston, N.Y., plant and the SAGE Maintenance Control officers course at Richards-Gebaur AFB, Mo.

The computer maintenance course, which will have an average load of about 1,500 students, is scheduled to begin at Keesler in September 1962 with final phaseout at Kingston by March 1963.

In the maintenance control officer course, students will begin training at Keesler April 16, 1962 with concurrent phaseout of facilities at Richards-Gebaur.

The combined personnel increase at Keesler as a result of the move will amount to more than 1,600 students plus a small number of permanent party personnel.

High School Contest Judged By Officers

Five Reese officers, all members of the base Officers Toastmasters, judged the persuasive speech contest of the regional University Interscholastic League at Texas Tech Saturday.

Serving at the invitation of Charles Buzzard, speech contest director, were Capt. Richard Burpee and 1st Lts. Gary Alden, Carl Larson, Franklin Varley and Kinsely Wood. Captain Burpee is president of the Reese Officers Toastmasters.

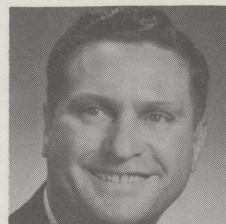

May Designated For Bond Drive

May has been designated as the month for the Freedom Bond Drive during which all people at Reese will be asked to begin or enlarge bond purchases.

Every person here will be given opportunity to participate and will be asked to buy bonds through the payroll savings plan. Project officer is Maj. Alex Goodnin, who will be assisted by key workers in each unit.
