

Message Clarifies Military Pay Raise

Accounting and finance section has clarified parts of a proposed pay increase for military personnel.

Quoting parts of an Air Force Accounting and Finance Center message, the Reese accounting and finance section released this information:

"On April 15, 1970, the President authorized an 8.1 per cent across-the-board pay increase for members of the uniformed services effective Jan. 1, 1970.

"A person who became entitled after Dec. 31, 1969, but before April 15, 1970, to receive payments such as lump-sum pay, any type of separation pay or six-months death gratuity is not entitled to any retroactive increase in such payments based on the new rates.

"A person is not entitled to any increase in his basic pay for any period before April 15, 1970, unless he was on active duty on that date.

"A person who became entitled to retired or retainer pay after Dec. 15, 1969, but before April 15, 1970, or who died during that period is entitled to a retroactive increase in basic pay for any service he performed during that period for which he was entitled to basic pay.

"A person who became entitled to retired or retainer pay after Dec. 31, 1969, but before April 15, 1970, is not entitled to any increase in retired or retainer pay as a result of this legislation. "Implementation will be accomplished for all Air Force members by means of revised pay programs, which will be forwarded to bases approximately May 11, 1970. No payments of retroactive amounts will be made prior to May 28, 1970, except in those cases where members are separated on or after April 15, 1970, but before May 28, 1970.

"Basic pay increases due re-enlisting members for the retroactive period will be included in their May 28 pay." (Note: May 29 is a legal holiday therefore end of month payday will fall on May 28).

It should be noted that the 8.1 per cent raise referred to in the message pertains only to military personnel. Civilian workers are not affected by this message. Implementation of raises for civilian personnel will be issued as they are received.

Reesites Quick To Respond In Area Disaster

A handful of Reesites were quick to respond to a massive emergency on the South Plains over the weekend aiding victims of a chain of tornadoes that swept an area north of Lubbock leaving more than a score of persons dead, hundreds injured and millions of dollars in property damage.

Spearheading the Reese effort was TSgt. Kenneth L. Malloy, a member of the Field Training Detachment 429S, who is also—along with his wife, Pat—active in Radio Emergency Associated Citizen's Team (R.E.A.C.T.).

When initial word of the disaster came Friday night (April 17), R.E.A.C.T. was alerted. A short time later, R.E.A.C.T., composed of volunteer citizens radio operators of which Sergeant Malloy is a member, was sent to Whiteface, Tex., when it was discovered that an emergency situation was in progress there.

Most of the members were placed on duty manning road blocks and maintaining communications. Sergeant Malloy, the secretary-treasurer of the club, saw that a massive problem was developing due to a lack of drinking water. He went into Lubbock and contacted Loy McGee, who operates a tank supply firm in Lubbock. Mr. McGee loaned Sergeant Malloy a 560-gallon tank, which was promptly loaded with drinking water and driven by the sergeant back to Whiteface. It was the first of many trips he was to make last weekend. According to Jackie Randolph, Cochran County Civil Defense director, it was the first large-scale delivery of drinking water to the area, although some in very small containers, such as buckets and pails had been delivered.

Sergeant Malloy didn't see a bed until Sunday morning, at which time he went home for a few hours sleep before returning to Whiteface and more work. His wife, Pat, worked side-by-side with her husband, and the good

NCOA Schedules Special Meeting

The Mark T. Kuykendall Chapter of the Noncommissioned Officers Association of America (NCOA) will hold a special meeting 7:30 p.m. Monday to elect two new board members to fill vacancies created by permanent change of stations for two current members.

Leaving office will be MSgt. Gerald J. Rodosta, chairman, and SSgt. Willie Holmes, secretary-treasurer.

All members are urged to attend the meeting and to bring their wives.

Two Entries Received In Armed Forces Day Beauty Contest

Two more contestants have been added to the Miss/Mrs. Armed Forces Day Contest list. One is Mrs. Peggy Fallin, wife of 2nd Lt. O. Randall Fallin, a student in Class 70-07.

Mrs. Fallin is five feet, five inches tall, weighs 125 pounds and is 37-24-36. She was entered in the Roundup-sponsored contest by Section I, Class 70-07.

A native of Calvin, La., the petite brunette attended Louisiana Polytechnic Institute in Ruston, La.

Sherii Keeler

Sherii Keeler, a 19-year-old Texas Tech University sophomore, has been entered by the Information Division in the Miss/rri.sMrA

Mrs. Armed Forces Day Beauty Contest being conducted by the Roundup.

Miss Keeler lives with her sister, Mrs. Kenneth Lord, wife of Capt. Kenneth Lord, a student pilot at Reese, and thereby qualifies for the contest. Mrs. Lord is a staff writer on the Roundup. The Lords and Miss Keeler live at 4716 45th St., Lubbock.

Miss Keeler is an attractive brunette measuring 34-24-35. She has been at Texas Tech since January and before that attended college at Southwestern Texas

State University at San Marcos, Tex., and at the University of Maryland in Germany. This is her first beauty contest.

Clocks Go Forward Sunday

Reesites are reminded to turn their clocks forward Sunday morning to comply with nationwide Daylight Savings Time.

This means that Reesites will be coming to work with one hour less daylight than before, but will have that additional hour of daylight during the afternoon and evening hours. The working hours at Reese remain the same — 8 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. The only change is in the clock itself.

If you fail to set your clock ahead (say from midnight to 1 a.m. Sunday morning) you could find yourself late to work Monday morning.

The formula most often used to determine the movement of clocks for Daylight Savings Time is "Spring forward, fall back." This means, of course, to turn clocks forward in the spring and backward in the fall.

FOR THE COMMANDER

Preventive Dental Care Expounded

Col. Clyde J. Morganti
Wing Commander

By Lt. Col. Charles A. Allman Jr.

In August 1968, I stated in this space that dental patients, as recipients of a preventive treatment philosophy versus a "fix-it" one, "should notice a shift in clinic and civic dental emphasis to the home care of your mouth." That effort and other clinical and community achievements in preventive dentistry during 1969, is briefly reviewed here.

The Air Force Preventive Dentistry Program for Children was implemented at this base on Jan. 6, and during the year 679 children were treated in that program. Of that number, 627 were dependents of active duty military personnel, of which 602 were Air Force dependents. Utilization

Col. Allman Jr. of the program rose from an average of 46 patients per month the first half-year to 67 patients per month the second half-year; an increase of 46%. We would like to see another increase in program use during 1970.

On Nov. 14, the first formal announcement was made that, with respect to the occurrence of fluoride in water and dental fluorosis (brown tooth stain), base water is considered fit for general use by children of all ages. This was followed on Feb. 6, by a Lubbock newspaper announcement that the local dental society was taking a similar position with respect to Lubbock city water.

Finally, it should be of interest to know that 20% of the Dental Clinic's total work effort is usually devoted to preventive dentistry. In 1969 this increased by 1.3% to a total of 9,768 procedures directly related to prevention. That increase is equivalent to a diversion of 40 man-days to this most important aspect of dentistry.

It was the dental staff's intention that you noticed one or more of these efforts to improve the dental health of you and your family. I hope you become increasingly conscious of our efforts in preventive dentistry during 1970.

Hospital Answers Queries

By Capt. Stephen F. Sears
Registrar, 3500th USAF
Hospital

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following questions and answers concern civilian consultant service and medical care, and concern the areas Reesites are most interested in having answered.)

Question: My doctor at the base referred me to a civilian consultant in Lubbock. Will the hospital pay the civilian doctor's bill?

Answer: This question is frequently asked since many patients from the Reese community use civilian medical consultants in the Lubbock area. Generally, if the civilian doctor evaluates your case and reports his evaluation to your doctor at Reese who continues to be primarily responsible for your care, then the civilian doctor's fee is paid through the Hospital Business Office. Congress has authorized this payment since it is for evaluation only and the treatment is being provided at a military hospital.

Question: Now suppose the civilian doctor examines me and wishes to treat me himself.

Since this service is not available at the base hospital will the hospital pay for it?

Answer: No. In this case the service received from the civilian doctor is no longer evaluation and your doctor at Reese is no longer primarily responsible for your care. When you return for treatment the visit you make is considered under Outpatient Services of the CHAMPUS (Medicare) Program. Consequently you are responsible for the deductible and a percentage of any additional charges. As you know this program is different for the different categories of dependents (active, retired, etc). If you are referred to a civilian physician, check with the Hospital Registrar to be sure you receive all the benefits available under both programs in your particular case.

Lengthy Checklists Essential For Safe Aircraft Operation

"Too many rules and too many checklists—it's no longer fun to fly!" Ever hear that lament?

It could have been said a half century ago. Yes, even the pioneer aviators recognized a need for rules and checklists. Peruse this extract from an aircraft operations directive issued by the United States Air Service in January 1920:

1. Pilots should carry hankies in a handy position to wipe off goggles.
2. Do not trust altitude instruments.

3. If an emergency occurs while flying, land as soon as you can.
4. Pilots will not wear spurs while flying.
5. Learn to gauge altitude, especially on landing.
6. If flying against the wind, and you wish to turn and fly with the wind, don't make sharp turns near the ground. You might crash.
7. Hedge-hopping will not be tolerated.
8. Don't take the machine into the air unless you are satisfied it will fly.
9. Don't attempt to force machine onto ground with more than flying speed. The result is bouncing and ricocheting.
10. If you see another machine near you, get out of its way.

Without their boldness and bravery in this challenge that has intrigued man since he first marveled at the flight of birds . . . do you think man would have landed on the moon? The answer is obviously "no."

Yet, the technically-complex makeup of high performance aircraft demands a comprehensive check system for the men who fly. Pilots choosing to challenge the validity of those rules often find the price supreme. (ATCPS)

On The Line

Seek 'Human' Existence

By Chaplain (Capt.)
Clyde F. Pressley Jr.

In 1935, Nicholas Berdyaev asked in his hook, "The Fate of Man In The Modern World,"

" . . . is that being to whom the future belongs to be called man . . . or something other? We are witnessing the process of dehumanization in all phases of culture and of social life." This sounds so contemporary.

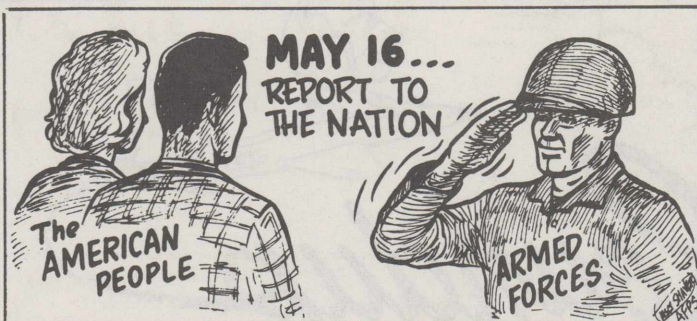

It seems that while we concern ourselves with physical survival on this planet, there is another type of survival that needs attention. This is our survival as "Human Beings." Albert Schweitzer said that the chief end of man is to become more human. Are we so becoming? Or are we in "getting and spending" laying waste our powers? Many in our society have assumed a consuming style of life, which advertisers are eager to encourage. To the limit of our capacity, we seek out and consume any and everything that pleases, thrills, fills, comforts, or gives status.

The truly human existence is distinguished by the capacities for reasoning, feeling, caring, creating, relating, loving, deciding, and aspiring for a relationship to the whole of being. The widespread willingness to settle for a less than truly human existence should be a source of deep concern for us all. Sensitive, responsible and creative human living is both painful and wonderful. We as human beings are called to such a life.

readiness and dedication to the task at hand — protecting the nation. The military services are an investment made by the American people to assure the future. Billions of dollars and hundreds of thousands of young men and women are part of this investment. The desired result of all this is a firm assurance that the nation which they helped build, and are building, will continue as a strong force working toward the betterment of man.

It is the people from whom the men and women of the armed forces draw their responsibility, resources and support. As the people honor those in uniform, it is fitting they should be able to see that the trust of the nation's defense is being carried forward with energy and dedication. (AFPS)

Quote Of Note

(An AFNS Feature)

"Many of the actions taken this past year at the Defense Department are steps designed to move us methodically toward the ultimate goal of an all-volunteer armed force. For example, we have proposed a 20 per cent pay increase for servicemen with less than two years' service; we have urged action to increase compensation for military families whose incomes are below the poverty line as defined in the President's Family Assistance Program; and, of course, draft calls have been reduced." (Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, Washington, Feb. 27).

Fun In The Sun Can Be Painful

Summer is rapidly approaching and many people will be taking to the outdoors for some "fun in the sun."

A word of caution. Too much "fun in the sun" could be very painful . . . even fatal.

Sunburn, sunstroke and heat exhaustion are common during the hot summer months. The story of most victims is one of disregarding simple precautions.

If you haven't been exposed to hot rays recently, 30-45 minute intervals in the sun, using a tanning lotion, oil, or "Grandma's special formula," is the recommended procedure.

As the skin becomes conditioned to the sun, more time can be spent outside. This will vary with the individual.

When swimming, many people come out of the water and lie down to get a suntan. Often, it results in sunburn. Apply the tanning agent when you leave the water and don't fall asleep.

So if you're going to take advantage of the up-coming summer months . . . do it gradually until your skin is conditioned.

By ignoring common sense rules . . . you could spend a few days or weeks in the hospital while your friends are having their "fun in the sun." (ATCPS)

Family Services Volunteers Assist Reese Elementary School Reading Program

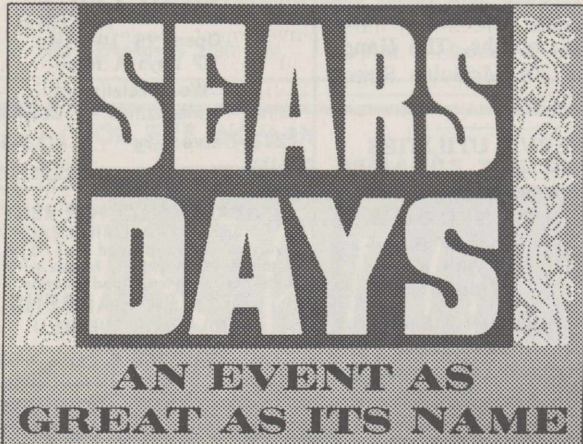

By Mrs. Marvin Eichmeier
Publicity Chairman
Every day from 9 to 10:30 a.m. Family Services volunteers provide reading assistance for children in grades one through three at Reese Elementary School. The need for this assistance was established by the Parent Teacher Association last year and the program began last September. The program was established for children having trouble reading who needed more individual attention than the regular classroom teacher could provide. Mrs. Carl Kovacs, chairman of the reading program, believes it helps the children build a strong reading foundation. The volunteers help the children learn the alphabet, the primary colors, counting and basic reading. No teaching experience is required to help with this program, just the willingness and desire to help. The Volunteers may work either at the school or in their own homes after school. Due to the large number of Family Services members who responded to the request for help, it is accepted as Family Services time and credited to a member. See Readers, Page 8

Reese Dependent Wife Lands Starring Role In Odd Couple

The wife of a Reese AFB instructor pilot has been picked for a starring role in a rollicking comedy that opened Tuesday at the Hayloft Dinner Theater, "The Odd Couple".

She is Mrs. Margaret Handley, the wife of Capt. Edwin D. Handley Jr., 3500th Pilot Training Squadron. She portrays one of two sisters living above a pair of bachelors, played by Ron Grant and Tony Diamond, who are the object of the bachelor's attention.

Mrs. Handley is a native of Canterbury, England, and has had a varied career in acting and modeling. She was a member of the Marlowe Little Theater group for two years and appeared in British Broadcasting Corporation television productions such as "Man On A Mountain Top," and "Emergency Ward 10," plus several other roles. She was a professional model for four years in England.

She has four children, Loraine, 12, James, 10, Janine, 9 and Christina, 16 months. The Handleys live at 309 McGuire Street in Reese Village.

By Mrs. Marvin R. Helms
Publicity Chairman
The April 14 meeting of the NCO Wives Club was highlighted by the signing up of two new members and the presentation of three guests at the luncheon meeting.

The new members are Mes. William Gladman and Kenneth Robinson. Guests were Mes. Robert Bomyea, Robert Henderson and Rod Phillips.

The NCO Wives Club will help sponsor Western Night and Roaring Twenties Night at the NCO Open Mess tonight beginning at 9 p.m. Dress may be either western or something typical of the roaring '20s. Door prizes will be given.

The NCO Wives Club will hold a coffee at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday at the NCO Open Mess. The coffee will be highlighted by a crazy hat contest, at which members will display crazy hats that they have made. They will also hear an address by Capt. Frank C. Myers, medical dental officer, on preventive dentistry for children.

Members of the Reese AFB NCO Wives Club have been included in a coffee 9:30 a.m. Thursday at the Lubbock Club in the First National-Pioneer Natural Gas Building in downtown Lubbock. The coffee is being hosted by the women's division of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

Talon Talk

By 1st Lt. Wayne M. Schnell

There are many men out on the flight line who work hard to keep the squadron flying. This month, due to his outstanding service, SSgt. Ronald W. West was picked as crew chief of the month. He will receive tickets to the Hayloft Dinner Theater.

The forgotten one was not forgotten, even though he may have wanted to be forgotten. Maj. William I. Aycock II was left off the list of people who received mugs at the last squadron party. He did get an assignment to a T-28 in Thailand, the garden spot of the Southeast.

Several of our people were honored: Capt. Gary W. Michael received the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal and the accommodation medal; Sgt. Robert L. Madden received the accommodation medal.

Capt. James DeMilita had one of the shortest F-5 trips on record. It lasted a little over two weeks. He should get another trip later, when they decide to send more aircraft over.

Capt. Roy A. Mamiya has received an assignment in a UC-123 to Southeast Asia. He will be flying on Tree Top Airways while he is over there, in the 123, knocking the leaves off the trees.

Two new personal equipment men are in now: Sgt. Thomas Buck and Amn. Kenneth Clarkson. We welcome them to the squadron.

A full flap, no flap without gear—A Flight wins the honors this week. A student on a contact ride was shooting a no flap pattern. As he started the final turn he lowered full flaps. Shortly thereafter he saw that he had full flaps down and compensated by raising the gear. I am sure it flies fine with no gear, but it might be pretty hard to land on those flaps.

F Flight tried to break the squadron record in one week. In five days of flying they flew 215 sorties for a total of 293.3 hours. That is a good piece of flying. Keep that up and we will not fly on Saturday.

Tweety Topics

By Capt. Gerald T. E. "Speedy" Gonzalez and 1st Lt. Frank "Bazooba" Chuba

Be it known to all who read these presents that Maj. Carl Nelson is getting short—six feet at last estimate. Please give him your regards before he disappears.

The 3501st Pilot Training Squadron "unsung heroes department" takes special notice of the following individuals:

1st Lt. Jim Kennedy is the squadron's "Top Tripper" for March with nine feats of valor for this period.

People are beginning to think that Capt. Al Earls has been re-assigned to the squadron—he flew 21 sorties with us in March to take the recognition as our guest instructor pilot of the month.

Once again Capt. Gary Welch heads the list for the most hours flown with students. During the month of March he had 56 hours' worth. He must be getting enured as he was observed sitting more during this month than during previous months in which he took this same honor.

The squadron's top mobilizer for March was Capt. Doug Kyle, who took the hazardous trip to that venerable "limbo" ten times during the month.

Squadrooners generally concede that 2nd Lt. Gary Thompson indisputably will claim the honors for the toughest day during the month of April: he had an I-talkie, his initial mobile check and a student C-5 all on the same day! Rumors have him submitting a volunteer statement for Air Force kamikaze school.

The recent reorganization of the personal equipment room has left C Flight with a deluge of inquiries like "Where's my chute?" I guess the Caesars have been having their problems lately as they seem to be consistently dropping egg on their black Tee shirts.

Congratulations to Captains Marvin Eichmeier, Richard Zuckerman and Gary Confer on their awards of the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Mentioned In Passing

The squadron's golf team "waxed" their opponents recently—"Dorp" Newendorp led the pack with a 69 . . . Observation pointed out that D Flight-wasted no time in leaving the squadron Friday after flying was cancelled. Saturday morning they were reportedly still milling around in the fog . . . Last column's quoteworthy individual was Capt. Newt Campbell . . . Squadron's quoteworthy quote for this column: "No one can 'tick' me off now" . . . This column ends Capt. Gerald "Speedy" Gonzalez's tour of duty as the squadron's journalist—due to his re-assignment as squadron juggler (scheduler). He is now being relegated to advisory status . . . His parting comment: "Thanks to all for their cooperation and particularly their interest in this column. I leave you in good hands."

Pinkie's Pantry Patter

By 2nd Lt. Robert E. Woerner

After completing an endless week of welcoming ceremonies and briefings, 71-07 finally got off the ground. Reactions to the initial T-41 flights were varied. Enthusiasm ran high, but most confessed to having some difficulty controlling the plane.

There were several cases of unintentional acrobatics, but the birds emerged unbent. Some individuals zig-zagged on takeoff runs as if determined to explore both sides of the runway at great length. A few seemed to confuse straight-and-level flight with coordination exercises.

One student pilot denied having any difficulties, but his 450 previous flying hours have probably prepared him for at least the first two or three T-41 sorties. As for the rest of us, things should get really interesting this coming week as we approach that ultimate moment of truth—the first solo.

Thus stands Class 71-07, now baptized in the ritual of flight training. Spirits are generally high and all systems are go. We look forward to a most interesting, exciting and challenging year ahead.

Comedies, Dramas Scheduled Next Week At Reese Theater

The theater fare at Reese next week includes a variety of comedy, drama — including a couple of return engagements.

Tonight's feature is "Hell Boats," a World War II action drama starring James Francis and Elizabeth Shepherd. The film is rated GP.

Tomorrow's matinee brings

Devillette Drivel

F Flight — The wives of F Flight would like to officially welcome to the flight Mrs. Daniel Trial who, I might add, has a great potential to offer the squadron.

E Flight — The wives of E Flight held a farewell coffee for Mrs. Forrest Fenn, Thursday night in the home of Mrs. Marvin Eichmeier.

C Flight — The wives of C Flight also have two new wives that they would like to welcome into the flight and the squadron. They are Mrs. Robert Corson and Mrs. Edward Sykes.

back a popular movie, "Thoroughly Modern Millie," starring Julie Andrews and Mary Tyler Moore. The film is rated for general audiences.

Tomorrow night's feature is also rated GP. It is "The Forbin Project," starring Eric Braeden and Alex Rodine. The film is a science fiction drama.

Sunday's film is an epic of a few years ago—"How the West Was Won," starring Henry Fonda and Carroll Baker, with roles by such film greats as John Wayne, Gregory Peck and Spencer Tracy. It won three academy awards. It is rated for general audiences.

"The Arrangement," starring Kirk Douglas and Faye Dunaway is scheduled at the base theater Tuesday. It is rated R.

Wednesday and Thursday will see the controversial comedy, "M-A-S-H," come to the base theater. It stars Donald Sutherland and Elliott Gould and is a satire on the Army Medical Corps. It is rated R.

More Than 75 In Attendance

Reese AFB Personnel Participate In ROTC Orientation Program

Six Reesites formed the backbone of an orientation sponsored by the Department of Aerospace Studies, Texas Tech University, April 14 in the Mesa Room of the Student Union Building on the Tech campus.

The Reese personnel, representing different functions of the base, explained their respective functions to 75 students, many of them accompanied by their wives. The students are seniors and juniors of both the U.S. Army and U.S. Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps, many of whom will be commissioned in ceremonies May 16 at the Tech campus.

Leading off the program was 2nd Lt. Ronald A. Di Pietra, chief, Information Division. He was followed by 1st Lt. John S. Nabil, accounting and finance officer (see picture above). Then in the order of their appearance came Capt. Stephen Sears, 3500th USAF Hospital, Mark Mahan, base commissary, Joe Reagh, household goods and transportation, Capt. Fernando L. Gallardo, assistant staff judge advocate and SMSgt. James W. Anderson, personal affairs section.

The program is designed to acquaint the officers-to-be of the many facets of Air Force life before they enter on active duty, and it marked the first time for participation by Reese personnel in the orientation.

Air Base Group Scores Win Of Intramural Bowl

Air Base Group scored a stunning 4-0 win over Field Maintenance Squadron last week to end up the regular season play in the Reese AFB Intramural Bowling League in a tie, then defeated Supply Squadron in a roll-off.

It was by far the most exciting finish of a bowling league in many years at Reese Lanes. Going into the final night of play, Field Maintenance held a half-game lead over Supply, which had led through most of the season. Air Base Group was only a game-and-a-half out, and very much in contention. By sweeping four games from the league-leaders last week, Air Base Group managed to tie Supply which won 3-1 over Hospital.

The play-off was even more exciting as the first game of the two-out-of-three series saw a tie, with Supply winning the second game. Air Base Group came back in the third game to win big—scoring nearly 1,000 pins — and win the play-off through total pinfall.

In other action, Weather won, 4-0, over AFCS and Cecil Dunn won, 3-1, over OMS.

Individual trophies were presented to the Air Base Group team members, and to others for individual efforts Tuesday. High series went to Dick Wright of Air Base Group with a 645 series. Close behind was Bill Festa with a 625 series. Festa won high game honors with a 246 pinfall.

The final standings in the league were as follows:

TEAM	W	L
Air Base Group	77½	46½*
Supply	77½	46½
FMS	75	49
OMS	64½	59½
AFCS	57½	66½
Weather	52	72
Hospital	46½	77½
Cecil Dunn	45½	78½

* Win play-off by total pinfall.

Reese Golfers To Play Webb

A long-awaited golf match between Reese and Webb AFB, Tex., is due to be played this afternoon over the Reese links.

Each base will field an eight-man team which will tee off at 1 p.m. in four foursomes. The Reese team will be captained by Capt. Jamie Gough, the Reese AFB champion, and the Webb team by Lt. Col. Thomas DiFloure.

The Reese team will be composed of Captains Gough, Jim McIntyre, Jim Newendorp, and Jim Spittler, Maj. Charles Gaylord, Sergeants Larry Stoll and Dave Robinson, and probably (duties permitting), Col. Clyde J. Morganti, wing commander.

The Webb team will be composed of Col. Donald Jones, deputy commander for Materiel at Webb, Lieutenant Colonels DiFloure and Ernie Cutler, Capt. Robert Edwards, MSgt. John Krozcka, TSgt. Frank Peralta, and Sergeants Thomas Cook and Clinton Rice.

The match will be played Nassau fashion, each participant getting one point for each nine holes he wins and another for the 18 for a possible three points. Ties will be scored as half-points.

Today's match is actually the second-half of a home-and-home match that began last year.

will they and the other Reesites created was enormous.
Still another Reesite lending critical assistance to the stricken area was TSgt. Ron Smail, a Red Cross first aid team chief. Sergeant Smail gave many victims first aid and helped to provide food and coffee for victims and disaster workers alike. His aid, like all who assisted in the disaster, was lauded by the Civil Defense officials.

Other Reesites who aided the effort included Billie Holloway of the base commissary, Perry Caddell, a civil service employee, Bob Robinson, also of the base commissary, and another Reese man who preferred to remain anonymous.

Even the South Plains Junior R.E.A.C.T. got into the thick of things. Sergeant Malloy's oldest son, Mike, and Mrs. Holloway's two daughters, Patty and Vicki, worked long hours assisting in radio operation and providing help to the victims.

Reese Dependent Is Recipient Of Army ROTC Scholarship

James M. Hosler, 17, son of Col. and Mrs. William J. Hosler, Jr. has been named as one of 85 students throughout the state of Texas to receive a four-year U.S. Army Reserve Officer Training Corps scholarship. Colonel Hosler is the deputy commander for Materiel at Reese AFB.

The scholarship will cover all expenses except room, board and incidental money while young Jim Hosler attends college. He has indicated that he will attend Florida State University this fall.

Jim is currently a senior at Frenship High School in Wolf-orth, and lives with his parents at 101 Andrews Drive, Reese Village. He has been very active in student and base youth activities. At Frenship, he was an outstanding member of the school's football team, president of the senior class and secretary-treasurer of the student council. On the base, he has served as president of the base Teen Club. He has also served as secretary-treasurer of the youth bowling league.

Specifically, the scholarship provides tuition, textbooks, lab fees and $50 per month. During the annual six-week encampment, the recipients receive half pay of a 2nd lieutenant. Upon graduation, they are commissioned second lieutenants in the U.S. Army and serve for four years.
