

Luncheon Speaker Named

Base Readies For AF Day

Plans are rapidly materializing for Armed Forces Day at Reese AFB—plans that include an open house designed to entertain upward to 10,000 persons at the base May 16.

Firmed up is the traditional Armed Forces Day luncheon at which Lubbock civic leaders are guests of Wing Commander Col. Clyde J. Morganti at a noon luncheon at the Officers Open Mess.

The principal speaker for that occasion was firmed up Monday with the acceptance of the role by Waggoner Carr, former Texas Attorney General, who now serves on the board of directors of Texas Tech University.

Mr. Carr is a former Lubbock resident who served in the state house of representatives, including two terms as Speaker of the House. He was elected Attorney General in 1960, and served three terms. He is now in private law practice in Austin.

Three presentations are being planned during the luncheon. Watches will be presented to the recently named Airman of the Year, CMSgt. Paul E. Jantzen, and to the winner of the Miss/Mrs. Armed Forces Day beauty contest. (See story this page.) Also, the Lubbock Chapter of the Air Force Association is planning to make a presentation of a plaque to the civilian of the Lubbock community, who, over the past few years, has done the most to cement relations between the base and the community. Name of the recipient has not yet been made public by the association.

The open house is due to start at the base at 11 a.m. and continue through 4 p.m. It will include static displays of aircraft and exhibits, mainly set up in building P-82. Also scheduled, weather permitting, will be a parasail demonstration.

Lab Technician Named Airman Of Month Here

A hospital laboratory technician has been selected as the 3500th Pilot Training Wing's Airman of the Month for May.

AIC Woodie D. Scott works primarily in the chemistry section of the 3500th U.S. Air Force Hospital. He has been instrumental in enabling the hospital to perform the Rubella test, which is used in checking pregnant women exposed to German measles. Previously the test had to be sent out to a reference laboratory, requiring approximately three weeks to obtain results.

Airman Scott has been lauded for his performance in all phases of hospital laboratory work. Lt. (See AIRMAN, Page 8)

Children's Dental Appointments Due

Now is the time to make children's Preventive Dentistry Program appointments for children with birthdays in June.

Full information is available in handout Wing Regulation 162-2, available at the base exchange, commissary, general therapy clinic and dental clinic.

Vote Your Choice In Beauty Contest

Roundup readers are being asked to vote on one of six candidates for the title of Miss/Mrs. Armed Forces Day—1970. The winner will reign over Armed Forces Day activities at the base May 16, acting as hostess for the Armed Forces Day luncheon at the Officers Open Mess, and will be presented a diamond wristwatch courtesy of Zales Jewelry of Lubbock.

Pictures of the six candidates are on this page, along with the vital statistics for each.

An official ballot can be found on page 8. Mark on the top line the name of the candidate of your choice, then sign your name and clip it from the paper. Bring the ballot into the office of the Roundup, building 815, by Noon Tuesday (May 12) and it will be counted. The candidate receiving the most votes on official ballots will be declared the winner. Please remember, only official ballots will be counted.

The winner will be announced in next week's Roundup.

FOR THE COMMANDER

Importance Of Good Communication

Col. Clyde J. Morganti
Wing Commander

By Lt. Col. Everett W. Truxal

Communication is a most difficult and very necessary part of our everyday life. We may find oral communications difficult at times, but we can generally get the message across by reiteration or discussion. We are not always afforded the convenience of oral communication; and, therefore, must resort to written communication and herein lies our major problem. Far too often we send or receive a written communication that is unclear and either requires additional interpretation or source data.

Many factors must be considered when putting a thought on paper. The words we use must be understood by, not above, all of our readers. ALL pertinent data must be included in our message and, if necessary, in proper sequence. All documents that we initiate should be critically reviewed, proof read, and, when at all possible, interpreted by someone else prior to final print and distribution.

Although communication is a problem in all areas, we in aircraft maintenance have a daily problem in pilot-to-specialist communication. Austere manning and good management do not allow oral debriefing of each flight crew and, therefore, we must resort to written communication. Added to this, the flight crew is generally pressed for time, conditions on the flight line are not generally favorable to good writing practices, and the flight crews are seldom in a position to observe and document all the needed information during an in-flight malfunction.

These unfavorable conditions, however, should not be allowed to degrade our communication. A "right engine flame-out" entry in the aircraft forms can cost many unnecessary manhours of trouble shooting. The specialist needs to know altitude, airspeed, power setting, throttle movement, "G" loading, aircraft attitude and other information to assist him in his trouble shooting. Without this complete communication, the specialist manhours expended are multiplied and, in most cases, the corrective action will be delayed until the specialist can locate the flight crew and obtain the required information.

This example is one of many in which we can readily see and measure the immediate benefits of proper communications. We can all benefit in our communication endeavors if we conscientiously try to communicate when we put words on paper.

A F Day Previews 1970s

(An AFNS Editorial)

Armed Forces Day 1970 marks the beginning of a new decade—one in which the Air Force will face its defense commitments with a smaller budget and fewer people. Meeting these commitments will require a continuation of the highly skilled and dedicated efforts which have marked

Proper Turn Signal Provides Necessary Margin Of Safety

Years ago, the automobile was a luxury item for the few who could afford the "horseless carriage."

Today it is a different story. The car is not a luxury item, but a much needed asset for pleasure and work.

Each year designers devise ways and means to make the auto a safer mode of transportation. But the basics remain the same . . . headlights, mirrors, brake lights and turn signals.

Man could design a car "unsinkable" as the Titanic, but there would still be accidents.

What causes accidents? Safety officials say human error is the source. Whether it be driving while intoxicated, or too fast for conditions . . . man usually causes accidents.

Take the turn signal for an example, a simple safety device that requires no skill to operate. It's installed on autos to let other drivers know that you are going to turn or change direction of travel.

How many times have you witnessed an individual cut in front of you on the freeway or turn into his driveway without signaling?

Traffic laws were designed to protect the people. Abuse them and the result often ends in property damage, personal injury and death.

Giving the proper turn signal does not take an extra shot of adrenalin. Not much energy is needed. Why not use the signal when changing lanes or turning into your driveway? (ATCPS)

Air Force advancements in the past.

Looking back at the 1960s we saw the addition of new aircraft—fighter, attack, reconnaissance and cargo—into the Air Force inventory. We also saw improvements in logistics, aerospace medicine, administration, training and management techniques.

In the 1970s we can expect even greater advancements in these areas as well as the new systems being added to Air Force operations—the F-15, B-1, Minuteman III, over-the-horizon radar and an expansion of the C-5 airlift force.

The Air National Guard and the Air Force Reserve also will see changes during the seventies with newly assigned missions and modern equipment.

Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. John D. Ryan summarized what lies ahead for the Air Force when he spoke before the Senate Armed Services Committee.

"As we enter the 1970s we face an environment characterized by an expansion of Soviet and Chinese capabilities, continued world crises and increased competition for national resources. The Air Force finds itself having to do better, and more, with less."

Let it be said—we will continue to get the job done.

Promotions For Reservists

DENVER (AFNS) — The Air Reserve Personnel Center advised 562 Air Force Reservists of their selection for permanent promotion to the grade of first lieutenant. None are on active duty.

On The Line

Acceptance Of Identity Is First Step To Success

By Chaplain (Lt. Col.) Isaac M. Copeland, Jr.

We are many things to many people and we are many things to ourselves. Yet a man can never know who he really is until he recognizes the basic facts of his existence—that he is a creature of God, that he has been made in God's image and so endowed with the power to make moral choices.

Much of our restlessness and most of our troubles develop when we try to forget our place in God's creation.

The eminent Swiss psychiatrist, Dr. Paul Tournier, believes that what troubles modern man, is his unwillingness to face up to the fact that he is God's creature. Calling it "our typical malady," he says that modern society discounts religious values, giving primary importance to reason, science and material realities. But the religious factor does not stay down and out. According to Dr. Tournier, "a person is a neurotic when he has repressed something without having really eliminated it." Modern man thinks he has eliminated the world of moral consciousness; but really he has only repressed it. And that makes him suffer.

We are creatures of God. Only when we accept that fact do we begin to know who we really are. Then a man has a chance to make an effort to use his God-given abilities, taking a responsible attitude toward life and his place in it, and to know whom and what he may become.

The United States Government has a long list of subversive-type organizations which constantly seek new members through various forms of recruitment. Some of these groups are outright candid in stating their goals. Others conceal them in order to carry out deliberate and detrimental ideals contrary to our form of Democratic society. They ALL seek to destroy, or drastically change, our system of Government!

Fortunately, our Government knows the names of these groups and their aims. In many instances, they know the names of those who are or have been members. But, ironically, the list is long and memberships are starting and realistic.

Communism is the system of government avowed to destroy all other forms of government. It is sworn to strangle countries one by one until it emerges as the world's system. No nation on earth is too large (as in the case of the United States) or too small, notably Cuba. Its encroachment begins menacingly unnoticed. Sometimes it begins within the ranks of the less fortunate; often within the realms of the intellectual strata.

Where and how do we fit into the picture? It's simple. We are all potential members! There are hundreds of members of these groups who may be completely unaware of their dangers. Innocent individuals may be "conscripted" every year without realizing the initial intent of the group. Dormant cells of Communism are being formed with each new cell becoming a greater threat to our Nation.

The fact that a close friend asks you to join an organization does not mean it is a good one. Check it out with your security officer. Your friend may have been "sucked in" the same way he is trying to convince you of the group's laurels. In all honesty, he may sincerely believe it is a worthwhile organization. That's how these memberships build.

Don't be a sucker for Comrade Doublecross. Be an American. That's where the "apple pie" really is (AFPS)

Sergeant Cited As Safe Driver

Sgt. George W. Ebbinghaus, 3500th Supply Squadron, is the first Reesite to be cited for safe driving under a plan inaugurated by the Reese AFB Traffic Coordinating Group in March.

Sergeant Ebbinghaus was "caught in the act" of being a safe driver by Sgt. John W. Tyrrell on April 16. Sergeant Tyrrell observed Sergeant Ebbinghaus driving a Government vehicle delivering supplies around the base, using every principle of safe driving in the performance of his duties. Other Security Policemen confirmed the assessment, adding: "You can always see him driving safely."

Sergeant Ebbinghaus was issued a certificate attesting to his safe driving habits.

OMS Sergeant Gets '00th Nod

Sgt. Robert J. Nash, 3500th Organizational Maintenance Squadron, has been named Crew Chief of the Month for April by the pilots of the 3500th Pilot Training Squadron.

Sergeant Nash has been in the Air Force for four years and has just returned from assignment in Southeast Asia where he was a crew chief with the 35th Tactical Fighter Wing. He received more than one-third of all votes cast by the squadron pilots.

Sergeant Nash, a native of Oakland, Calif., will receive, as a prize, a night at the Hayloft Dinner Theater.

$250 Cash Awards Presented To Two Reese Military Men

Two Reese military men were awarded $250 each for separate suggestions which saved Reese AFB a total of $4,744.26 in man-hours and material during the April meeting of the Military-Civilian Incentive Awards Committee.

TSgt. Dale P. Burton, and A1C Paul S. Dendrin, both of the 3500th Organizational Maintenance Squadron, each received the award from their squadron commander, Lt. Col. Everett W. Truxal (see picture above). Sergeant Burton's suggestion concerned "local fix or lever hooks on bracket assembly" and saved the base $747.83 annually. It saves Air Training Command a total of $3,959.72 annually. Airman Dendrin's suggestion concerned a "fix for flap hinge assembly and saved $3,996.43.

Other military personnel receiving awards under the program included Col. William W. Hosler Jr., deputy commander for Materiel, for a suggestion that eliminated battery operated emergency lights. He received $80 for the suggestion that saves the base $753 annually.

Also, TSgt. James O. Buchanan, 3500th Field Maintenance Squadron, was awarded $25 for a suggestion concerning a safety box for testing aircraft parts. Capt. Larry D. Rider, Operations Division, was awarded a Suggestion Certificate for a suggestion concerning the elimination of night lights in squadron buildings.

Six civilians received monetary awards for suggestions. They are Thomas E. Fullerton, MFM, who received $40; Henry J. Krey and Garland C. Kennedy, CE, received $40 each; Robert B. Davis and R. D. Townsend, MFM, split $50; and Joseph Rosendo, CE, received $25.

Birthday Marked Patronize Your Advertisers

By Mrs. Marvin Eichmeier Publicity Chairman

This month marks the thirtieth anniversary of the Reese AFB Family Services Program. Predicated on the concept that the Air Force should "take care of its own," Family Services has been supported from its beginning by volunteer wives.

The services offered have been many and varied—from loan-out of essential household items to newly arrived and departing personnel, to extending emergency assistance to dependents when normal family routine has been disrupted unexpectedly. Today, approximately fifty volunteers support an extremely active program and the Family Services Center is one of the finest anywhere.

NCOA Slates Next Meeting

The Kuykendall Chapter of the Noncommissioned Officers Association (NCOA) will meet—along with their newly formed Ladies Auxiliary—Monday at 5:30 p.m. in the NCO Open Mess.

The auxiliary was formed at the association's last meeting, April 27.

Also highlighting that meeting was an address by Col. William W. Hosler Jr., deputy commander for Materiel at Reese. He spoke on the importance of the non-commissioned officer and the NCOA.

In still another action during the meeting, two members were elected to fill vacancies to the NCOA board of directors. They are MSgt. James Ishee, 3500th Supply Squadron, and TSgt. Elmore Callahan, DCM.

To celebrate this thirteenth year of service to Reese residents, an open house will be held at the Family Services Center on Monday from 11:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. All personnel and their wives are cordially invited to attend. Refreshments will be served.

REMINDER — Board meeting will be held Monday from 9:30 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. at the Family Services Center. All interested persons are invited.

The Lubbock Club and the entire building are a most impressive sight. Situated on the 14th floor, with large glass walls at either end, one can see nearly all of Lubbock spread below.

The centerpiece for the serving table was a double-tiered copper stand full of yellow and purple iris, mums and daisies. Below this beautiful floral arrangement was a large tray of fresh fruits. Coffee, punch and small sandwiches were also served.

Tours of five floors of the bank ended the morning. The decor of each floor is that of a different country, containing beautiful paintings, sculptures and objects de art, many ancient. Both the coffee and the tour were a compliment to those of us from Reese who attended.

The greenest leprechaun of them all is now Capt. Roy R. Theberge. Captain Theberge comes to use from Warren, Mass., with his wife, Kathleen, and two children.

No one likes to have a stranger work on his parachute, so we should all get to know the latest additions to the personal equipment section: Sgt. James Clark and Sgt. Robert Roella. Sergeant Clark is recently back from Okinawa, and Sergeant Roella made the arduous journey all the way from the "Spooks" personal equipment section.

Capt. Arlah J. Anderson has left his corner of the room in A Flight and is now a member of "Cheque" section. Captain Anderson is getting on fabulously, but it is believed he almost failed his initial checkout in the U control model airplane phase due to intense dizziness.

Meritorious Achievements

B Flight held its wives' orientation May 1. The ladies were treated to a tour of the facilities, including the synthetic trainers, flight line, mobile and base operations. Lt. Col. William E. Moore presented a briefing to the ladies on the various aspects of the Undergraduate Pilot Training program. Capt. Thomas R. W. Skinner Jr. served as guide throughout the tour.

Mentioned In Passing

1st Lt. Richard C. Null is back from "charm" school and is now the Officer Training Instructor for Class 71-05B . . . The B Flight briefing room now sports a display case consisting of the wings of Class 71-05 . . . As each class graduates, its class plaque will be mounted alongside the wings of the current class . . . Last week's quoteworthy individual was Capt. Allen R. Earls . . . The Check and Ops Group will host the May '00th Squadron meeting, with a change of pace offered. The ladies will gather for a "Dutch treat" luncheon at the Zuider Zee on Wednesday at 12:30 p.m.

Capt. James DeMilita leaves on a 105 ferry trip today. While he is away, Mrs. DeMilita and the children will visit his parents in Los Angeles. Upon their return, they will be welcomed into Check Section.

Capt. and Mrs. David Curran also are newly assigned to Check Section.

Capt. and Mrs. Allen Kennedy will be leaving Check Section and the Air Force this week for civilian life.

A Flight held their orientation program May 1, followed by a steak supper at the golf course.

Capt. and Mrs. John H. Stewart II (Sue) have been assigned to H Flight.

With a valiant effort by the IPs and studs, we almost held our own with the time line. The winds have been playing havoc with the schedule. Because of this, you would know the schedulers anywhere. Those are the guys with the white hair or those who have pulled it all out.

We would all sit around waiting for the winds to calm down and then, about 5 p.m., launch an almost complete afternoon schedule.

Maj. Harold J. Hennigar has passed 5,000 hours of flying time. Most of this time was in a single-engine jet.

There will be several new additions to check section: Our Canadian, Capt. David A. Curran; our IP of the Month, Capt. James C. Leseig; and our F-5 driver, Capt. James J. DeMilita.

A Flight held a wives orientation May 1. It included a tour to mobile, tower and out to the aircraft, followed by a party at the golf course clubhouse.

Capt. Roy A. Mamiya is not going to be a ranch hand. He is now going to Southeast Asia in an A-1E. He seems to be very happy about his assignment change.

We have several new additions to the squadron. Capt. William D. Cooper will be going to D Flight. Also we have Capt. John E. Richardson II and Capt. James G. George returning from Southeast Asia.

Class 71-07 has now completed its third week of T-41 training. Almost half of Section II has soloed. Section I has fallen somewhat behind because of the weather. Thus far, we have not flown on weekends, but this may change soon.

Unintentional acrobatics continue to thrill and surprise students and their instructors. Spins from power-on stalls and near split S's from traffic pattern stalls are seen occasionally.

As more solo students have taken to the air, the traffic pattern has become rather crowded. Go-arounds have sometimes outnumbered landings. The upwind and downwind legs have extended into miniature cross-country journeys.

Thus 71-07 has taken boldly to the air, eager to conquer new frontiers. Next week's big project will be to have the rest of the class solo out. With a little cooperation from the weather, things should work out well.

Meanwhile, we can look forward to parasailing, ejection seat training and all the other fun activities provided by Aviation Psychology. This, plus the flying, will keep us quite busy in the week ahead.

Devillette Drivel

The Dust Devillettes will meet at the Family Services Center reception room Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. Hostesses for the coffee will be the wives of Checks and Ops.

Presenting their slides and artifacts at the meeting will be Mr. and Mrs. George Sturtz, former members of the Peace Corps who presently reside in Lubbock and attend Texas Tech.

As per usual, Check and Ops out-do themselves. This promises to be one of the most interesting and informative coffees ever.

Captain Barnett Runner-Up For Handball Title

Capt. David Barnett's second-place win in handball singles and a third-place win in table tennis led Reese AFB to a sixth place finish in points in the Air Training Command Lifetime Sports Tournament held at Lowry AFB, Colo.

Sheppard AFB, Tex., led the 16 participating teams with 19 team points, Lackland AFB, Tex., was second with 13 and Lowry third with 11. Also finishing ahead of Reese were Columbus AFB, Miss., and Mather AFB, Calif.

The highlight, as far as Reese was concerned, was Captain Barnett's showing in handball. He lost to TSgt. Ralph Johanson of Sheppard in the finals. He was also runner-up in the same tournament in 1962.

The tournament was played April 19-24.

Pro-Am Slated At Reese Today

Reese AFB will host area professional and amateur golfers today at the base golf course in a pro-am tournament that will run throughout the entire day.

Golf pro Ken McGuire said that play will begin at 8 a.m. and run throughout the daylight hours. Entry fee in the tournament is $7 per golfer.

The pro-am traditionally draws good crowds at Reese. This year, as last year, the golfers will play 18 holes and turn in their respective scores. After the last player is in, the cards are assorted according to scores and foursomes made up from those classified as pros or class A, and classes B, C and D.

AF Day Golf Tournament Set

Golfers are reminded of the Armed Forces Day tournament scheduled at the base golf course May 16. Starting times will be required, and may be made starting Thursday.

The tournament will be a team affair, one member of which must be qualified to play golf at Reese AFB, and the other member normally not eligible through membership. Handicaps will be used, with best ball on each hole determining final scores. Entry fee is $5 per team, with merchandise prizes given on the basis of entries received. Please notify the golf course of your intention to play as soon as possible.

Airman . . .

Col. Wesley E. Romberger, hospital commander, in recommending Airman Scott for the award, said, in part, ". . . his thorough knowledge and mature judgment make him additionally valuable when performing "call," which requires him to be proficient in all phases of the laboratory field."

Recently, the airman assisted in an exchange blood transfusion in an infant. The transfusion, made necessary because of the RH negative factor of the mother's blood, required fresh blood given as soon as possible. Airman Scott's ability, cooperation and experience were praised by the attending physician following the transfusion.

Airman Scott was graduated from Texas Tech University with a bachelor of science degree in bacteriology. His minor was chemistry. Additionally, he has received a master of arts degree from the University of Texas Medical School at Dallas. His master's degree is in microbiology, with a minor in biochemistry, specializing in virology.

Overseas Post Offices Bolster Contrabrand Parcel Deterrents

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — The Air Force Postal and Courier Service, in cooperation with Bureau of Customs, has begun a comprehensive program to educate patrons of overseas Air Force post offices in those contrabrand items prohibited from the mails.

Col. Andrew DiAntonio, Postal and Courier Service commander, said that initial actions will include increased use of electronic detection devices. Also under consideration are photographing of persons sending parcels and requiring patrons to show identification.

Earmarked for special attention are tape and film mailers, which have been made subject to customs to validate contents. Message contents will not be monitored. Use of scout dogs to ferret out marijuana in the mails also is under consideration.

Colonel DiAntonio stressed that Air Force postal personnel are interested only in maintaining established postal procedures. The increased security measures are being implemented only toward this end, he said. "These deterrents are an interim measure. As necessary, they will become more or less restrictive."

Prevention of dangerous explosive devices and narcotics from entering the Air Force mail system prompts the stringent procedures, Colonel DiAntonio said. While primarily aimed at Air Force members, he noted that defense contractor employees and other U.S. citizens employed in overseas positions also are authorized patrons of overseas military post offices.

Patrons in doubt of authorized mailables are encouraged to inquire at local post offices.

The Air Force Postal and Courier Service has the worldwide responsibility for approximately one million patrons at more than 400 facilities.
