Young County to Elect Supervisor for Zone 1 Portion of the Upper West Fork Soil Conservation District

Mr. M. J. Phillips, member of Board, Newcastle, Texas, is announcing the upcoming election. Phillips states that the election will be held October 6. This is on Tuesday and will be held at the Newcastle Vocational Agricultural Building. Phillips states "the meeting time is 7:30 p.m."

Phillips says, "this is an important meeting as the supervisor elected will serve on the Board for a five year term. All land owners are encouraged to attend."

M. J. Phillips, Supervisor of the Upper West Fork Soil Conservation District, says, "Since the first soil and water conservation district was organized nearly 3000 districts have been established. Today, 95 percent of the farms and ranches in the United States are in such districts."

"Soil and water conservation districts are people—not just an idea or a program. The supervisor elected to hold office is in a very important position."

"Supervisors govern the districts. They are all citizens of the districts they serve, and are usually farmers or ranchers. They are chosen by their neighbors and they work without salary and with little praise."

"Soil and water conservation districts are created by local people under authority of State law. The districts are financed by State and county appropriations, by money earned by the districts, and by contributions from private sources. Districts are units of State government."

"District supervisors, however, have the authority to enter into formal agreements with Federal, State, and private agencies. The US Department of Agriculture has an "understanding" with each board of supervisors after the board has prepared its district program and requested Department assistance. These "understandings" provide for technical assistance from the Soil Conservation Service and the help of other department agencies."

"Each board of supervisors is responsible for soil and water conservation within its district. In addition to deciding on a district program, and planning and arranging for assistance to put the program into effect, they are responsible for making cooperative agreements with farmers and ranchers; seeing that soil surveys needed for sound technical work are made; making the best use of available funds; establishing practical work priorities; cooperating in adopting practices and rates for cost sharing in applying needed conservation; acquainting landowners and operators with sources of credit; and informing all people of the soil and water conservation problems in the district."

Play Carroll Friday Nite Cats upset Chico 19-8 to make it three in a row

The Newcastle Bobcats upset unbeaten Chico Friday night at Chico. It was a big win for the Cats. The Cats gave away 17 pounds to the man, but playing with great determination, led by linebacker Harold Whiteley on defense and Donnie Hulse on offense, the Cats overcame the favorites to win 19-8.

Chico went into the game a two touchdown choice, but the little Cats didn't seem to notice. The Cats kicked off to Chico, and on the first play Chico fumbled and James Walker recovered for the Cats. Five plays later Donnie Hulse went over from 24 yards out for the first TD. John Tomlinson kicked the point after.

After the Cats kicked off, they held the Dragons and forced a punt, but the Cats fumbled the punt on their own 30 and the Dragons recovered. From there QB Wayne Ogle passed to FB Milton Marburger for the TD. The Dragons added two points after to lead 8-7 at half time.

Just before the half QB John Tomlinson reinjured an ankle he had hurt in workout and was forced to retire from the game.

The Cats used freshman QB Danny Casteel the last half. The Bobcats rotated Danny Casteel on the T formation and freshman Preston Pitts on the single wing. The Cats superb condition proved to be a major factor.

After the second half kickoff Hulse passed to Pitts down to the Chico 35. From there Pitts ran on down to the 3 yard line. Hulse scored on a dive play from Casteel.

Chico completed three passes out of 10 the last half, but the Bobcats caught as many as the Dragons. Whiteley, Jim Mitchell and Jack Clayton all intercepted a Dragon pass. Terry Creel and Whiteley recovered fumbles to stop Chico drives.

The Bobcats last score came in the 4th quarter on a 1 yard run by Hulse. The Bobcats got great offensive blocking from John Taack, James Walker and Wayne Fields. Defensive standouts were Alton Beckham, Terry Creel, Jack Clayton.

4-H News

The Newcastle Community 4-H Club will hold the first meeting of the school year Monday night, Oct. 5, in the Community Center. Officers will be elected, and everyone is invited to attend.

Children 8 thru 18 years of age can become members. This is a wonderful way for boys and girls to learn by doing and realize responsibility. Parents are always welcome, too. Don't forget the first Monday night of every month is 4-H meeting night. Be sure and be present.—Reporter.

25,000 people have visited historic Fort Belknap since January 1, 1964; 3-miles south of Newcastle

Since January 1, 1964, there have been approximately 25,000 visitors to the historic old Fort Belknap, located 3 miles south of Newcastle. Mr. and Mrs. A. Wiley Whiteley, caretakers of the buildings and grounds, report the year has seen the greatest influx of tourists since restoration in 1936.

In the museum 4,475 visitors have registered since January 1. Mr. Whiteley says a very conservative estimate is only about one out of every five visitors sign the register. Among the hundreds who came during the month of June, with the event of the Wagon Train encampment, almost none of the visitors took time to register.

There is no way of knowing how many more restored barracks could be used to its capacity at the fort. The reservations for use of the buildings for set meetings and family reunions has been filled long ago. There is no way of accommodating a new reservation request. More room is needed. There is one exception to the "filled to capacity" situation. The beautiful Club Room on the second floor of the museum building is seldom used. It is large, accommodating in every respect, and is truly beautiful and spacious. The public is invited to call Mr. Whiteley at the fort for reservations for use of the room.

Three of the largest gatherings this year, with the exception of some family reunions, has been the Rockhound Show, the Fort Belknap Genealogical Meeting, and the Wagon Train Historical Society meeting which brings dignitaries from all over the state, is yet to be held at the fort.

The archives has outgrown its quarters. During the 1964 summer, the serious searchers for historical facts have come from far away and in large numbers.

The fort is the property of each Young County taxpayer and it is with pride that each taxpayer can point to Fort Belknap and talk of her success. The fort stands proudly and unmoved as the visitors go by.

Unlike many forts across the nation, Young county's fort is maintained by the commissioners' court and the county judge. In turn the county business men and women are the recipients of the tourist dollars. This makes Fort Belknap not only a proud historic spot, but a source of thousands of dollars of revenue for the county.

Because the fort is maintained by the commissioners' court there is no charge at the gate for visitors. Folks who have traveled the width and breadth of the USA know this is a unique fact.

The museum pieces, which are the finest collections anywhere are donated by interested persons. There are literally thousands of items for the tourist to enjoy. It affords an educational trip through the past.

Without calling all names, the commissioners and county judges since 1936 and up to the present are to be commended for their interest in the fort and in Young county's welfare. Approximately 25,000 have already visited the fort this year, and still they come.—BNL

A Service Of The Thor Research Center For Better Farm Living

A reader who is tired of squeaky floors in his home wants to know how he can eliminate the squeaks.

The basic cause of squeaky floors, of course, is shrinkage of the floor boards. This condition allows adjacent boards to rub against each other, as one gives and the other doesn't, when there is movement over the floor.

To solve the problem of squeaking boards on the first floor, drive small wooden wedges between the floor joists and sub-floor. This tightens the boards, preventing movement or rubbing. If the squeak is on the second floor, drive 8-penny nails at a 45-degree angle through the squeaking boards into the sub-floor and joist. The joists ordinarily are at 20-inch intervals from the outer wall. Be sure to countersink the nails and fill the nail holes after using the latter solution.

Install bridging between joists to stop vibrating.

A stop-gap solution to squeaking floors is to sprinkle talcum powder between the board spaces. But at best this is a temporary answer.

Another reader asks, "Our home is over 30 years old and in some areas the floors vibrate when they are walked upon. What's the most reliable way of making them firm?"

ANSWER: Install wood bridging between the floor joists beneath the vibrating sections. The bridging should be of the same thickness and width as the joists and should be cut individually to the exact size to fit between adjacent joists. Fasten the bridging with 12 or 14 penny nails driven through the joist and into the bridging at each end. If the vibrating floor area is large and several bridge pieces are needed, stagger the bridgings so each can be fastened individually as indicated.

Proper Study Light

To do a job right, you need the proper equipment. For home study, the right equipment is a good table lamp equipped with a 150-watt bulb or its equivalent. The lamp should be tall enough to spread light evenly over the work area and properly shaded to conceal the light bulb from the eyes. A diffusing bowl or white diffusing bulb is recommended to prevent glare. Check your children's study light now. Better light means a better student.
