Good rains fall over area

Ground soaking thunderstorms poured out good rains over this area early Monday morning. Some hail was reported in the Belknap area.

The soil which was already soaked by a 1-2 inch rain was further drenched by the rain early Monday morning. The total over the week end was 1 1/2 inches.

No serious damage by wind lightning or hail was reported. We understand Graham received a gully washer and some hail.

The City Lake was replenished with about 3 or 4 feet of water, which gives us a short respite from the inevitable. Another inch of rain would have made a lot of difference.

Saturday, May 15, 1965, at 9:30 a. m., opening exercises for a day set aside by the Fort Belknap Genealogical Association and called "Jimmy V. Allred Day" will begin.

The Allred family will make it a family day and on the programme a paper will be given on the life of the late Governor by his brother, Judge Renne Allred of Bowie.

There will be a very short business session where two council members will be elected. At 12 everyone will repair to the Cox Grape Arbor for a sack lunch.

The Fort grounds are at the peak of beauty in the spring of the year; the program is one of the best ever planned; and it is hoped the public will attend this meeting.

Among artifacts in the museum and Women's building are artifacts from the Allred and Harmonson families. Both buildings will be open to the public May 15.

Couple married in church ceremony here

Miss Glenda Nell Boatright daughter of Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Boatright, was married Saturday to Bobby Ferris Pounds, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ferris Pounds, all of Newcastle.

The father of the bride performed the double ring ceremony at 7:30 p. m. May 1, 1965, in the Newcastle Assembly of God Church, of which he is pastor.

Large baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums were placed at the top of the white satin covered steps leading to an archway formed of two seven tiered candelabra holding votive lights.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Rev. Thurman Boatright, wore a formal gown of white satin with bodice of bridal lace and full length sleeves. Her ballerina length veil was French illusion fashioned with pearls and rhinestones. She carried a cascade bouquet of carnations with white orchid and tied with a shower of satin ribbon atop a white Bible. The bride carried out the tradition, something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue, and a six pence in her shoe.

Nuptial music was played by Mrs. Floyd Boatright, sister-in-law of the bride and vocalist, Mrs. Don Brooks, sister of the bride.

Mrs. Melvin Boatright, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. Mrs. Thurman Boatright, sister-in-law of the bride, Mrs. Bill Wheeler, sister of the bride, and Miss Joyce Pounds, sister of the groom, were bridesmaids. Sandra Boatright, the bride's niece, was flower girl. All of the bride's attendants were dressed in pink satin covered with white lace and carried long stemmed American Beauty Roses. Leland and Smith, cousin of the groom, was best man; Jimmy Stewart, cousin of the groom; Danny Phillips from NTSU and Floyd Boatright, brother of the bride, acted as groomsmen. Bill Wheeler and Don Brooks, brothers-in-law of the bride, were ushers. Mike Boatright, nephew of the bride and Mike Smith, cousin of the groom, were candle lighters.

A reception was held in the Fellowship Hall immediately following the wedding ceremony. Assisting with the reception were Mrs. Leland Smith at the registering table, Mrs. Joyce Bullock and Elaine Stewart serving cake, and Janay Anderson presiding at the punch bowl. The beautiful three tiered wedding cake topped with miniature bride and groom was

The lady standing at the entrance of the harbor is a symbol of the freedom generations of Americans have enjoyed.

Part of that freedom is the quest for knowledge and the forthcoming commencement is a symbol of that freedom.

This is a freedom valuable beyond price . . . for it is the key to the future.

We wish all graduates every success for the future and hope for their continued growth in freedom and knowledge.
