Bush addresses Texas Legislature

AUSTIN (AP) — While admitting that he once didn't know what a chicken-fried steak was, President Bush talked like a Texan when he addressed the Texas Legislature.

He spoke of cowboys and outlaws, cattle and oil. He praised the 101-year-old Capitol building in which he spoke. He even became an honorary Texas Ranger.

"From the Pecos to the Peder-nales, from the Rio Grande to the Red River, there is no place on Earth like Texas," said Bush, who calls Houston home.

Bush's speech Wednesday, which amateur historian Gov. Bill Clements says was the first to the Legislature by a sitting president, touched on serious subjects. He endorsed construction of the super collider, urged increased domestic oil production and called on Congress to pass a savings and loan bill. But he devoted much of his address to reminiscences about his 1948 move to Texas and his deep affection for the state.

Raised in Connecticut and owner of a home in Kennebunkport, Maine, Bush took some ribbing from Democrats during the 1988 campaign over his claim to Texas, where his address now is a Houston hotel.

"Let me just say a few words about what it means to be a Texan. My credentials," Bush said. "I have my driver's license here. I have my Texas hunting license here. And somewhere, my voter registration slip.

"And it is true, I like Kennebunkport. But I am a Texan. I just want to clear the air and say a few words about that."

Unlike Alamo hero Davy Crockett, Bush said, he didn't ride to Texas on a horse but in a red Studebaker.

"And more than 40 years later, that trip is still a vivid memory. Highway 80. Neon Pearl Beer signs appearing in the desert twilight... And stopping at a cafe.

"I'll admit it. I didn't know if a chicken fried steak was a chicken fried like a steak or a steak that tasted like a chicken. But I've learned," he said, winning laughter from his lawmaker audience.

OPENING NUMBER — Students enrolled in Western Texas College's music and drama departments are shown rehearsing the opening number for "An Affair of the Hair," the musical revue which begins its two-performance run Thursday at 8 p.m. Shown directing the group is Jim Rambo. The show will be repeated Friday in the Fine Arts Theatre on campus. (SDN Staff Photo)

'An Affair of Hair' to begin two-day run

The musical revue "An Affair of the Hair" will begin its two-performance run Thursday, presented by Western Texas College music and drama students.

The show will be performed nightly at 8 o'clock in the Fine Arts Theatre on campus.

Tickets for the revue are $5 for adults and $3 for students and senior citizens. These may be reserved by calling 573-8511, ext. 234.

The "affair" centers on the theme of hairdos, dress and musical changes throughout this century. Drama students will provide narration and dance numbers. The WTC Choir will sing "Another Op'nin, Another Show" from Kiss Me Kate; "Won't You Charleston With Me" from The Boyfriend, and "Hip to Be Square."

The choir females will sing "Chapel of Love" and the choir males will sing "Earth Angel." The Women's Ensemble will sing "I Want to Hold Your Hand," "Jeepers Creepers" and "The Nearness of You." Scattered throughout the evening will be a variety of solo numbers.

Producing the revue are Jane Womack, Brent Hardegree, Jim Rambo and Jan McCathern. Fine Arts Division chairman John Gibson designed the programs.

College announces top scholastic students today

Jim Blain Kenney and Julie Roewe were introduced as the Outstanding Male and Female Student at Western Texas College Thursday morning during the annual Awards Day event.

Other nominees for the awards were Don Murray, Dale Williamson, Julie Newberry and Julie Lou Strunk of Snyder, Jody Mauldin of Roby and Tonia Robinson and Darrell Berryhill of Sweetwater.

Dr. Gil Fleer, president of the WTC Faculty Association, was master of ceremonies for the awards program, held in the Fine Arts Theatre.

Dr. Harry Krenek, college president, announced the names of this year's winners after introducing all nominees.

Special recognition awards went also to Roewe and Kenney as Outstanding Academic Adulees.

Roewe, who is from Haskell, has served as captain of the Lady Dusters basketball team this year and also lettered in her freshman year.

Kenney, from Pecos, is a member of the WTC Rodeo Team and the Rodeo Club.

Awards Day is sponsored by the WTC Faculty Association to extend recognition to students for outstanding work. Students who had been named to Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges were recognized also.

A reception honoring the students and their families was held in the Scurry County Museum following the program.

Outstanding students recognized Thursday, by division, were:

Vocational Education —Cosmetology: Debra Davis, Snyder; Nikki Routon, Haskell. —Golf, Landscape

Technology: Don Murray, Joy Feist, Snyder; Darrell Berryhill, Sweetwater; Greg Parker, Albany.

Business-Math —Business administration: Tonia Robinson, Sweetwater

—Computer science: Cecilia Meek, Joel Smith, Snyder; Shanna Mueller, Haskell; George Wall, Ozona.

—Management: Julie Lou See STUDENTS, page 11

SHS class of 1939 due reunion

A 50-year class reunion for the Snyder High School graduating class of 1939 will be held Friday and Saturday at Willow Park Inn.

The activities begin 6 p.m. Friday with a reception. On Saturday there will be a brunch at 10:30 a.m. and a picture session at 6:30 p.m. followed by a dinner at 7 p.m.

The 1939 class had 62 graduates of which 21 are now deceased. Five are physically unable to attend, and organizers expect about 28 class members.

The class has never had a reunion and four teachers and the school principal are also expected to attend. The teachers in-

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Shouting to make kids behave is like steering a car with the horn."

"I betcha" is a phrase used by Texans more as a means to make a point rather than to make a wager.

You might be careful, because someone might just take you seriously. After seven years, a court has ruled that "a bet's a bet."

It all started back in the oil boom days. An independent oilman took up a dealer on an offer to "flip double or nothing."

The prospective customer, instead of having to pay double for the $125,000 BMW sports car, drove away without paying a dime because he accurately called the flip.

The oilman, 21 years of age at the time, had already purchased a BMW and a Ferrari from the salesman when the 1981 wager was made. The oilman walked away with everything except the car's title.

The oilman kept the auto for 11 months without ever getting a Texas title. During the 6,500 miles that he put on it, it was even brought in for repair.

By the following year, the dealership had been sold and the new owner called and asked if the car could be placed in an auto show. When the weekend was over, an embarrassed dealer called to report that the car had disappeared.

The car finally showed up, but it was turned over to the police who had it impounded. When the "owner" showed up, he couldn't produce a valid title.

The former dealer used an extra set of keys to drive the car away, claiming in court that he felt the car belonged to him because the coin flip had never meant to be a serious bet.

The court disagreed, and awarded the car to the oilman along with $10,000 in exemplary damages. Betcha neither guy gambles any more.

Blowup has local 'critical'

A 60-year-old Snyder man was in critical condition in a Lubbock hospital Thursday morning with head injuries suffered when a tractor tire exploded at his East

Hwy. tire business Wednesday afternoon.

Elmo Powell of 106 33rd St. was changing the tire when the accident occurred, inflicting a scalp laceration and other injuries. The incident was reported at 3:34 p.m. Wednesday inside the 214 East Hwy. service station building that he had converted into a tire-changing business.

Powell was taken by Snyder EMS Ambulance Service to Cogdell Memorial Hospital, where he was treated until being flown by helicopter to St. Mary of the Plains Hospital in Lubbock at 5:50 p.m.

A spokesman for St. Mary's said Powell suffered "massive head injuries" and was listed in critical condition in the hospital's intensive care unit.

3 injured in accident

Three Snyder residents were injured, with one being held for observation at Cogdell Memorial Hospital, in a two-vehicle accident at 3:55 p.m. Wednesday at Ave. E and the East Hwy.

Police said a 1981 Mercury driven by Prudencio Salinas Jr., 15, of 1708 Ave. G was southbound on E and a 1977 Chevrolet pickup driven by Richard Dupree of 1212 25th St was eastbound on the East Hwy. when the collision took place.

Salinas was treated for lower back pain and released, as was 8-

Q — Has anyone ever checked for radon gas in Snyder?

A — We're aware of one local homeowner's check, using a testing kit secured in Dallas. The test results of this east Snyder home was 1.7 picocuries per liter. The Environmental Protection Agency notes that a reading below 4 picocuries per liter is considered average.

In Brief

North trial

WASHINGTON (AP) — The jury in Oliver North's trial resumed deliberating his fate today on 12 criminal charges as it entered its sixth day plowing through 363 exhibits totaling some 1,300 pages.

The office of U.S. District Judge Gerhard A. Gesell said Wednesday that all of the jurors were bearing well, following earlier health problems reported by several members.

Since Monday, when juror Jean Johnson complained of high blood pressure problems, courthouse nurses have made regular visits to the jury.

More protests

BEIJING (AP) — More than 150,000 students and supporters of their pro-democracy campaign burst past a police line today and triumphantly filled Tiananmen Square, defying communist leaders' threat of a crackdown.

"We have created history today. History will not forget us. The people will not forget us," a student leader shouted through a megaphone to students in the 100-acre square, China's symbolic seat of power.

Local

WTC artists

The annual Western Texas College Student Art Exhibit will open Thursday with a reception from 7 until 8 p.m. in the Fine Arts Gallery.

The exhibit will be in conjunction with the first performance of the WTC musical revue, "An Affair of the Hair," presented by WTC music and drama departments.

Included in the art show will be drawings, paintings, ceramics, ceramic sculpture and jewelry by students in classes taught by John Gibson and Ty Brunson. The show will be in place through May 10.

To aid center

A garage sale will be held Saturday from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. to benefit the Snyder Child Day Care Center. Funds will go towards the repair of the center's van.

The garage sale will be at the center, located at 115 31st St.

Weather

Snyder Temperatures: High Wednesday, 95 percent; low, 63 percent; reading at 7 p.m. Thursday, 67 percent; no precipitation; total precipitation for 1989 to date, 3.20 inches.

Snyder Area Forecast: Tonight, partly cloudy with a 40 percent chance of thunderstorms, some possibly severe this evening. Low in the lower 60s. Rain chance less than 20 percent.

Former cook receives three life terms

CLEBURNE, Texas (AP) — An attorney for a former pizza cook says a jury, shown genetic test results before convicting and sentencing his client in three stabbing deaths, needed to consider other experts on the evidence.

A state district judge on Wednesday formally sentenced Ronald Trimboli to three consecutive life terms for the June 17, 1985 slayings of Danielle Lemieux, 14, and her 12-year-old sister, Renee, both of Arlington; and John Bradley, 17.

Defense co-counsel Lee Joyner said he believed DNA testimony presented by prosecutors convicted Trimboli despite testimony from forensic experts. Comparisons between DNA taken from samples of the 44-year-old man's blood and from semen found on the bed where Danielle Lemieux's body was found didn't match, they said.

"Jurors have given some mystical aura to scientists who testify for people like Lifecodes," the DNA testing lab, Joyner told the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, adding he would appeal the conviction.

"If Lifecodes isn't the finest example of corporate America, I don't know what is... This ain't the FBI doing this. This isn't crime labs in the county and state. This is a corporation... Basically, they are corporate America. They are paid-for results. And they get them."

Joyner, in closing arguments, told jurors he still believed Trimboli was innocent.

"I believe in my heart and soul he is not guilty, even though I can't argue with your verdict. I believe a terrible mistake was made," Joyner said.

Cindy Trimboli, the defendant's 17-year-old daughter, ran crying from the courtroom as the judge read the sentence. Weeping uncontrollably, she beat the marble courthouse wall with her hands and repeated, "He didn't do it. He didn't do it. He didn't do it."

Trimboli, after conferring with his attorneys and the judge, told family members, many of them in tears, "I love you. I'll see you

I love you." He was led away in handcuffs.

Reading a statement before State District Judge John MacLean, Trimboli said he would trust the court's decision and held no animosity toward MacLean or jurors.

"You were not present to hear evidence supporting my innocence and the motive of other suspects," Trimboli said. "... I feel that if you had heard and saw all the evidence that I would not be here today in front of you. I hope you will find peace in your decisions you have made."

The teen-age boy had moved into the girls' home the day before the slayings.

The slain girls' mother, Joann Lemieux Carley, dabbed her eyes and bowed her head as Trimboli made his statement to the judge.

"We're just relieved that everything's done," said Ms. Carley as she left the courthouse with her husband.

Johnson County jurors, in the third panel to consider the case, deliberated less than an hour before returning the sentence.

"It was a very difficult decision," one juror told the Star-Telegram as he left the courthouse.

Jury foreman Gene Paul Roy said no single piece of evidence, including genetic testing, outweighed any other in the jury's decision.

"There was just a pile of evidence," said Roy.

The foreman, asked if he believed the prosecution's DNA experts, said, "I did. I'm not speaking for everyone."

"There was no disagreement in our decision," he said.

Trimboli's first trial in Tarrant County ended in mistrial when it was learned a relative of one of the victims had talked to a juror.

A second case, also in Johnson County, ended as a mistrial when jurors could not reach a verdict.

MacLean ordered Trimboli to serve the life terms consecutively, meaning he will serve 20 years on each count — or a total of 60 — before becoming eligible for parole.

Co-defense counsel Bill Lane said the conviction would be appealed.

'Jane Roe' visits courtroom during abortion arguments

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Jane Roe," a Texas cleaning woman whose pregnancy led to the 1973 landmark decision legalizing abortion, watched quietly as the Supreme Court revisited her case 16 years later.

Recently emerged from the anonymity that had concealed her real name and kept her away from the court when it decided in her favor in 1973, Norma McCorvey was inside the Supreme Court on Wednesday as an observer during its arguments on whether to overturn the Roe vs. Wade decision.

"I'm very overwhelmed," she said later. "I was just looking around and trying to listen to the arguments. I was thinking, I should have been there in 1973."

McCorvey, as Jane Roe, agreed to become a test case in the legal challenge of anti-abortion laws when she became pregnant with a second child in 1970.

McCorvey, 41, answered questions with great difficulty and stumbled through a nine-line written statement as she met with reporters. Her present attorney, Gloria Allred, assisted her and told reporters that McCorvey has only a modest income, cleans other people's homes for a living, and has a 10th grade education.

Allred, a feminist lawyer from Los Angeles known for her flamboyance, has helped McCorvey put together a movie deal about her experience. McCorvey is being paid as a consultant to the project.

She has been in hiding since April 4, when shotgun blasts were fired at her Dallas home. She suspects abortion opponents were trying to intimidate her.

McCorvey disputed suggestions she has been used in the new case and said she stepped forward at considerable risk because she still believes in the cause of a woman's right to an abortion.

"Our law is in jeopardy for all the women of the United States," she said. "I have to protect Roe vs. Wade."

McCorvey said she considered an illegal abortion in 1970 but was revolted by conditions at a back-alley abortionist's office she visited.

She didn't have an abortion. Instead she gave birth and put her child up for adoption.

Her lawyer said McCorvey considered the experience "far more traumatic to her than an abortion would have been."

Yet McCorvey said she has recently begun efforts to locate that adopted child, whose conception triggered the landmark case.

Allred insists there's no irony or inconsistency there. "The whole point is it's about a woman's right to choose," she said.

So what would Norma McCorvey, once Jane Roe, say to this child?

"Well, I obviously wouldn't discuss politics right away," she said. "I'd just say, 'I'm your mom. How about a hug?'"

Courageous bidding

By James Jacoby

Today's deal demonstrates the value of being brave when it's your turn to bid. East had a minimum opening, and partner West was right to pass. (Responding with a queen and two jacks is looking for trouble.) North now doubled for takeout. At this point many players with the East cards would reason as follows: "Partner could not respond to one spade, and North probably has four hearts for his double. Since I have a minimum hand, I'll just pass quietly." If that happened, it is virtually certain that South would jump to three diamonds (not forcing, but showing a good hand). North would then bid three spades, asking for a spade stopper, and South would bid three no-trump. And you can't beat that contract, even with a pickax.

Instead East pulled himself together and bid two hearts. South bid three diamonds and West bid three hearts. Some readers might argue that North should now act, but because South's three-diamond bid might have been simply competing for the part-score, it seems OK for North to pass, thinking that he will probably beat three hearts. Alas, South continued with four diamonds, and that was set a trick.

This fine result for East-West came about when East bid two hearts, changing the effect of South's three-diamond bid from game-invitational to merely competing. Over a game invitation, North might have found another bid, but not over the simple competing diamond bid.

Infants' hearing key to learning

NEW YORK (AP) — Hearing impairments in infants should be identified early to avoid lifelong learning problems, says Marion P. Downs of the Deafness Research Foundation.

"If training doesn't start in the first year of life, many may never come up to their potential in language skills despite heroic remedial training," says Downs.

She says the critical period for language development is the first 24 months, and if a child can't hear the language, there will be a permanent reduction in language skill.

"Both the child who is deaf at birth and the infant with ear infections must be identified in the first year of life if their language is to become adequate," says Downs, professor emeritus at the University of Colorado Health Science Center in Denver.

If there is a history of hearing loss in the family or if the mother was exposed to German measles during pregnancy, she says, the infant could be a candidate for testing.

Other warning signs, she says, are premature babies with low birth weight, babies with blood incompatibility and those with defects of the head and neck, such as cleft palate.

"Even when a baby has a very profound hearing loss — or no hearing at all — early identification helps," says Downs. "Such babies can begin to learn 'sign' language in their first year."

"In addition to learning signing, these babies are taught to watch lips, to learn to read very young and to get as much hearing through a hearing aid as they possibly can. They may even be taught what speech feels like on a special instrument — a total learning program procedure."

Deep Creek ABWA gives Boss of the Year Award

The Deep Creek Chapter of American Business Women's Association held the annual Bosses Night April 20 at The

Charlie Reynolds with the Scurry County Sheriff's Department spoke on crime prevention, saying crime is difficult to prevent because, like accidents, no one knows when to expect it.

Reynolds stated the community needs to be more concerned with increasing alcohol consumption among local juveniles.

CHARLIE REYNOLDS
...guest speaker...

Statistics presented by Reynolds show that everyone has a 50% chance of being involved in a drunk driving accident. He said 70 Americans die every day in alcohol-related accidents. The cost to the state runs some $24 billion annually.

Over 67% of domestic beatings are alcohol related; 40% of rapes involve alcohol; and 38% of suicides are influenced by alcohol. One million Americans suffer serious, debilitating injuries as a result of someone driving while intoxicated.

Reynolds said alcohol is America's number one drug problem, and urged citizens to be more aware and concerned about the situation. He especially stressed that young people need more things to do and places to go which do not involve alcohol consumption.

Reynolds attended Howard Payne University and received his bachelors degree at Criswell Bible College in Dallas. He served in the Army and also served as City Marshall of Cross Plains. His sons, Daman, 21, and Tommy, 18, are employed with Reef Chemical. Tommy is also a student at Western Texas College.

Penni Coffee, hostess for the evening, recognized past recipients of the Boss of the Year Award, and presented the 1989 plaque to Ann Morris with the Texas Department of Human Services. She is a supervisor in the Children's Protective Services Unit.

Penny Cochran also helped hostess the event and gave the welcome. Pam Dortch offered the invocation and Brenda Clark gave the benediction. Vivian Cochran presented a brief history of ABWA and Mae Cole introduced Reynolds.

Revlon adds babies to grooming market

NEW YORK (AP) — Revlon Inc., capitalizing on its broad distribution base, has entered the baby grooming business, long the province of Johnson & Johnson.

On the market are mousse baby shampoo and foaming bath sponges, both of tear-free formulas. The soap-filled sponges allow a parent to wash baby with one hand while holding him with the other, according to product information. Both are marketed under the Care For Kids label.

Other items include a comb and brush set, nail clippers and scissors and hair-styling shears.

Mother's Day cards not just for moms

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — When America marks the 75th anniversary of Mother's Day on May 14, many of the 145 million cards given that day may not be for mothers.

Researchers at Hallmark Cards say that with the increased number of married women in the work force many Mother's Day cards address those who care for children, including relatives, nannies and babysitters. The cards now include those for grandmothers and great-grandmothers, aunts, nieces, daughters, sisters and godmothers.

Mother's Day was first proclaimed officially by President Wilson in 1914, after a persuasive letter-writing campaign by Anne M. Jarvis, an unmarried schoolteacher from Grafton, W.Va. Its roots go back to ancient Greece, where each spring a celebration honored the earth-mother goddess Cybele.

Charles I, king of England, Scotland and Ireland, ascended the throne in 1625 upon the death of James I.

Union Carbide makes final payment

HOUSTON (AP) — Union Carbide Corp., in its first shareholders meeting since the Indian government ordered payment of a $470 million damage settlement, closed its financial books on the disastrous 1984 gas leak that killed more than 3,000.

Much of the focus of Wednesday's meeting, which was marked with protesters and arrests, centered on the settlement. Union Carbide described the settlement as the end of a four-year legal ordeal, but others protested the settlement was inadequate.

The Dec. 2-3, 1984, leak of poisonous methyl isocyanate gas from a Union Carbide chemical plant in Bhopal, India, injured an estimated 20,000 people, according to government statistics. Activist groups cite figures of 4,000 dead and 200,000 injured.

The Supreme Court of India on Feb. 14 directed the Danbury, Conn.-based company to pay $470 million "in full settlement of all claims, rights and liabilities related to and arising out of the Bhopal gas disaster."

Minority shareholders, some from church-affiliated groups, had introduced a resolution urging the company take additional steps to provide immediate humanitarian relief to India, but it was rejected by 93 percent of the voting shareholders.

"That should be the last of the direct financial effects of the Bhopal tragedy," Robert D. Kennedy, chairman and chief executive officer of Union Carbide, said after a two-hour meeting in which a resolution to sell South African holdings also was rejected.

Kennedy said the company had attempted to provide additional, direct aid to the people of Bhopal, but the government had rejected such efforts. Protesters, including three Bhopal victims touring the country to draw support for their cause, said the amount is inadequate.

displayed banners and distributed information outside before the meeting, and several shareholders called for additional company aid during an orderly meeting.

"We are here to tell that this settlement has been rejected by the people of Bhopal," said Satinath Sarangi, who later was arrested along with three others for trying to distribute contradictory reports on the accident.

"They do not accept it because they know that this amount is insufficient to meet the health care requirements (of victims), Sarangi said. "To accept such a settlement is to accept certain death, and they are not prepared to accept it."

The settlement is on appeal, and the government is withholding its distribution, the company said.

Young Parents in a Standoff About Sitting for Their Son

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1989 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Please, please print this as soon as possible so my husband and I can stop fighting about it. I'm sure you will see it my way.

I work days and my husband works nights. We have a 5-month-old baby boy who my husband takes care of during the day, and I take care of at night.

My husband accuses me of being too protective of our son. He may be right, but I will let you be the judge. One day, I was talking to my husband on the phone and he said, "The baby is sleeping — I think I'll run over to get a pizza and bring it home." I flipped out! Abby, the pizza parlor he wanted to "run to" is two blocks from where we live.

I told him he shouldn't even think of leaving the baby alone for two minutes — ever! Then he started in again with how overprotective I am, and we had a huge fight on the telephone.

He never did get the pizza that day, but I worry now, wondering if he has ever left the baby alone without telling me. Or maybe he would do so in the future. I wanted to ask friends and family what they think so I could prove my point to him, but I don't want any of them to know that he even considered leaving our baby alone. Please settle this. I am desperate.

MASSACHUSETTS MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: A baby should never, never be left alone. If you have the slightest doubt that your husband has left your baby alone for as much as five minutes — or that he would do so in the future — don't trust him to look after the baby. Get a sitter.

DEAR ABBY: A while back you had a letter in your column from someone who wanted to know if it was OK to ask "who else will be there" before accepting or declining an invitation. There could be a good reason. I am a 56-year-old successful professional woman with a rather unusual handicap I've never been comfortable disclosing to others: I am unable to remember the names of casual friends and acquaintances. Once a person has been identified for me, my memory of that person returns, and from then on, I'm fine. I have a good memory and function well in other areas. I have been psychoanalyzed up one side and down the other, so I know this condition isn't caused by emotional problems.

When I attend a social event, if I know in advance who will be there, I can recognize them. Otherwise, I must wait until someone uses their name, which doesn't always happen. This has caused me endless embarrassment. I cannot very well say, "Who are you? I've only seen you 100 times."

So, please, Abby, don't condemn those who ask, "Who else will be there?"

DRAWS A BLANK

DEAR DRAWS: Obviously, knowing in advance who else will be there has its advantages. I had in mind those who inquired before accepting an invitation in order to decide whether to accept or not. For a valid defense of that inquiry, read on:

DEAR ABBY: What's wrong with asking, "Who else will be there?" I am not anti-social; I thoroughly enjoy the company of friends with whom I can exchange some meaningful conversation. But I consider it a waste of time to make small talk with a collection of strangers I may never see again. If I know in advance who will be there, I can always stay home.

Bush supporting new SSC project

AUSTIN (AP) — President Bush's strong endorsement of the super collider project may have been the most important thing he said for Texas, according to top state officials.

"I think of all the messages that he had, his comment and his strong support for the super collider was very positive," said House Speaker Gib Lewis, D-Fort Worth.

"It gives all of us a real good feeling, because you know we've been receiving ... too much negatives about the funding and the problems we're having and things upon that nature. But when the president comes out that strong, I think that's a very positive sign," Lewis said.

State officials are counting on the $5 billion high-energy physics research project to boost the state's high-tech economy.

During his speech to the Legislature on Wednesday, Bush noted that a site south of Dallas had been chosen for the 52-mile underground atom smasher.

"Another sign that Texas is becoming a world center of technology is the selection of Ellis County as the site of the superconducting super collider," Bush said.

"With a little imagination, you can conclude that future research in the field of high energy could someday help us conquer cancer. Or discover a way to boost the amount of information on a microchip. Or answer questions that eluded Einstein, giving us a glimpse of the forces that bind the universe together," he said.

"The SSC is the key to understanding nature and to developing the technologies and industries of the 21st century. Let me assure you, I will back the construction of the SSC because it is good for the entire United States of America."

Texas officials have feared that congressional debate over the super collider, and complaints from other states that wanted it, might jeopardize funds for the massive project.

After Bush's speech, Gov. Bill Clements and other leaders said they appreciated the president's high-profile endorsement.

"I already knew he felt that way," Clements said. "But I'm delighted for him to say it publicly in a formal address that way."

"I particularly liked his strong support for the super collider," added Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby.

Fur seal pups suffer high mortality in the first weeks following birth, often being crushed by highly aggressive males moving about to defend their territories, says National Geographic.

Tiger thinclads set for Region I-4A meet

Extra work leaves Guynes confident

Overman ready for next hurdle

A couple of weeks ago, Charles Guynes wasn't looking forward to the Region V Track and Field Meet.

"I was kinda dreading it. I wasn't getting any better. I was getting worse," said the junior pole vaulter from Snyder High School.

But some serious work on his steps has changed all that. Guynes, who was runner-up in the vault in District 4-4A, has a different outlook now as he prepares for Saturday's competition in Brownwood.

"I've finally got my steps down. I came out here Sunday and probably ran through it 50 times until I got my steps down. I ran it about eight straight times perfect before I went home," he said.

He came back out Tuesday and vaulted in the 15 to 15-6 range.

"I feel good now. I feel confident about my steps. I'm looking forward to it (regionals) now," he beamed.

Guynes had been using a 14-foot pole but has recently starting using a 15-footer. He got it just before the district meet but couldn't use it there because he wasn't familiar enough with it. He cleared 13-feet in the district meet - good enough to send him to regionals for the second year in a row. At a qualifier's meet last weekend, he tried the pole, but found he couldn't get his steps down right.

"My steps were way off. I was pretty disappointed," he admitted.

Guynes has vaulted 14-feet this season and hopes to be able to add another foot to that this weekend.

"I'd like to go 15, but I'm just going to take it one height at a time. Start out at 12, then 12-6 and on up."

It will be Guynes' second straight trip to region in the pole vault. Last year, he suffered a badly sprained ankle and possible hairline fracture just a few days before the meet. He tried to vault anyway, but after two painful attempts had to put the pole down.

Barring another injury, Guynes will make his bid for a state berth at 9:30 a.m. Saturday at Cap Shelton Track in Gordon Wood Stadium.

When Nichole Overman stood in the blocks at the District 4-4A track meet and looked down the rows of hurdles she knew it might be her last high school race. She didn't want it to end in Monahans.

"It was adrenalin, I guess. I knew I had to do it," said the Snyder High School senior.

Not only did she win the event, she ran a 15.7, shaving four-tenths of a second off of her previous best time.

"I felt wonderful," she said with a glow in her eyes. "It was great."

Earlier in the season, at the Canyon Reef Relays, Overman had confessed that her goal was to get to the Class 4A state meet in Austin. She's one step away.

Friday afternoon at 4:15 p.m., Overman will run in the Region I-4A preliminaries in Brownwood. The finals are set for Saturday at 2 p.m. First and second place winners advance to state.

She'll be joined by triple jumper Liz Greathouse, who competes at 3 p.m. Friday. Greathouse placed third in district, but will advance as the alternate because the second place has decided not to compete in the event.

"This is what I've been working for the last two years," said Overman. "I'd like to look back and say I made it to state. If I don't, I'll still know I tried my best. I think that's what I concentrate on. Just trying my best."

She's been involved in track since the seventh grade, and been a varsity team member for four years.

She began running the hurdles as a sophomore but only began three-stepping between hurdles for the last two years.

Her district time of 15.7 - which she also ran a week later in a qualifier's meet - is among the best in the region this season.

"I think I have a good chance. I'm more relaxed about it," she said.

SHS girls hold down 3rd place

BROWNWOOD - Snyder High School's Lady Tigers were holding down third place at the midway point of the Region I-4A golf tournament, being held at Brownwood Country Club here.

The Tigers, runners-up in District 4-4A, shot a 384 over the first 18 holes. Play will continue with the final 18 at noon today.

Andrews dominated the first round, firing a 354 total. Belton is in second place with a 373 - 11 strokes ahead of the Lady Tigers. First and second place teams will advance to the state tournament in Austin.

Snyder got a 91 from Amy Armstrong. Jacy LaRoux shot 95, Jamie Leatherwood and Kim Duncan 99 and Stacie Cline 104.

Ira banquet set May 9

IRA - The Ira ISD Sports Banquet will be held 7 p.m. Tuesday, May 9 in the Ira school cafeteria.

Guest speaker will be Western Texas College men's basketball coach Tony Mauldin. The meal will be catered by The Shack.

Tickets are on sale in the principal's office for $5 each, through May 9. All fans are invited to help honor the athletes.

WTC banquet Sunday

The Western Texas College All-Sports Banquet will be held Sunday, April 30 at Towle Park Barn.

The event, to honor WTC student athletes, will begin at 12:30 p.m. and includes a barbecue lunch.

Tickets are $6 for adults, $3 for children and may be purchased at the college athletic office or Buddy's Auto.

Reservations can also be made by calling (915) 573-7403 or 573-6679. Anyone wishing to attend is urged to make reservations by April 28.

Basketball camp in June

Tony Mauldin's 1989 Boy's Basketball Camp is set for June 19-23 at Western Texas College.

The camp will stress the fundamentals of basketball - passing, dribbling and shooting. Rebounding and defensive techniques will be stressed.

All campers will receive a basketball, camp T-shirt, certificates and "report card". Special awards and trophies will be given for contests and competition.

The camp is open to boys entering the fifth through the 12th grade. New UIL rules permit varsity players to attend the camp. Fees are $180 for resident campers and $100 for commuters. A non-refundable deposit of $50 is required.

Mauldin is head men's basketball coach at Western Texas. Joining him will be a group of successful area high school coaches.

For more information, contact Janice Mauldin at (915) 573-5900.

Pelluer a no-show at camp; coach considers trading him

IRVING, Texas (AP) - Dallas Cowboys coach Jimmy Johnson is considering trading quarterback Steve Pelluer, who doesn't have a contract, after the player refused to show for the team's mini-camp.

"I want positive people who are willing to put it on the line 100 percent for the Cowboys," said Johnson. "If not, we'll have someone else in the position."

Former UCLA quarterback Troy Aikman, who recently signed a six-year contract for $11.037 million, was in camp. He took a ribbing from some of the veteran players about his salary.

"I didn't mind the jokes," said Aikman. "It's a fun thing to be kidded about."

But Pelluer said he didn't miss camp because of Aikman's salary.

"I don't want to be treated as a back-up the rest of my career," said Pelluer. "Maybe I'll have to ask to be traded."

He played out his five-year contract last season. Pelluer was making $600,000.

The Cowboys coach said he had talked to Pelluer and would do so again. "The people in my plans are the ones who work in training camp. There are not starters right now. This has to be earned," said Johnson.

"I think Steve will be a productive player with the Cowboys if we get things worked out. We'll take into consideration his feelings and try to resolve things. What's going to happen would be difficult to predict."

Also missing the start of three days' workouts was offensive guard Crawford Ker. He doesn't have a contract either.

"We'll talk to Ker's agent and see what we can get worked out," said Johnson.

Meanwhile, in the Cowboys' front office, new team owner Jerry Jones continued his shakeout. Treasurer Don Wilson, who had been with the team since 1971, was fired in a one-paragraph letter.

"I was kind of surprised," Wilson said. "That's the way it goes around here."

Joe Bailey, former club president Tex Schramm's right hand man for 17 years, announced he was leaving the team to join Schramm with the International Football League.

Bailey had negotiated the club's contracts, a task now taken over by Jones.

"The opportunity with the new league was difficult to pass up," said Bailey. "It has an exciting future to it."

Veteran players had little resentment about Aikman's contract.

"That's good for him," running back Herschel Walker, who is on the fourth year of a five year contract at about $1 million per season, said. "I'm not going to try to renegotiate now.

"Herschel Walker signed a contract because he was happy and nobody twisted my arm. If I'm unhappy then it's my fault that I made a bad deal. This is business."

Aikman was busy learning Johnson's playbook and making friends. "I'm being kidded about the money but it hasn't hit me yet that I'm rich," he said.

Linebacker Jeff Rohrer predicted that Pelluer is gone.

"I think we'll trade him and I believe he wants to go," Rohrer said. "We'll probably get a good player for him, too."

Ker was asking $400,000 for next year and a new car.

"Crawford needs to get to camp," Johnson said.

Hawks entertain Milwaukee when playoffs begin tonight

by The Associated Press

The Atlanta Hawks, after acquiring Moses Malone and Reggie Theus during the regular season, were supposed to dominate the NBA this season in much the same way they dominated the Milwaukee Bucks.

The Hawks finished with a more than respectable 52-30 record despite finishing third in the Central Division behind Detroit and Cleveland. They also finished third in the Eastern Conference and earned a homecourt advantage in three of five games of their first-round series against the Bucks, starting tonight in Atlanta.

In addition to the 0-6 record against the Hawks, Milwaukee has dropped eight in a row in Atlanta and was eliminated 3-2 by the Hawks in the first round of last season's playoffs.

"I don't think we're overly cocky because of it," Hawks forward Dominique Wilkins said. "We understand what we have to do, but I don't think it's a disadvantage."

Bucks forward Terry Cummings said that losing all six games to the Hawks could be an advantage because Atlanta may be overconfident.

"I think we've had a pretty good year," he said, "and I believe we're in a much better position than we were last year when we played Atlanta in the playoffs."

In other games tonight, Philadelphia is at New York, Portland at the Los Angeles Lakers and Golden State at Utah.

Four more series open Friday night when Chicago is at Cleveland, Boston at Detroit, Houston at Seattle and Denver at Phoenix.

The Lakers, with five championships in the 1980s, begin a run for their third straight when they play host to Portland, the only one of 16 playoff teams with a losing record.

Coach Pat Riley said that this year is special because it closes the decade and it's the last season for all-time scoring leader Kareem Abdul-Jabbar.

"What this playoffs is all about is to bookend the '80s," Riley said. "This is the last stand of this team as we know it. We're seeing the end of a great team."

Los Angeles beat the Trail Blazers, who finished with a 39-43 mark, in all five regular-season meetings, by an average of eight points. And Portland is 3-18 against the Lakers at the Forum in the 1980s.

"We're going into LA with nothing to lose and everything to gain," Trail Blazers coach Rick Adelman said. "It's going to be good for us."

The Knicks lost four of six (see NBA, page 7)

'Lucy's' legacy will be eternal

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An outpouring of sympathy from presidents to childhood neighbors followed the death of Lucille Ball, but many said the queen mother of comedy will live on through television reruns and her influence on comedy.

The daffy, redheaded comedian whose harebrained schemes drove her television family crazy and delighted viewers for four decades died Wednesday of a ruptured abdominal artery at Cedars-Sinai Medical Center. She was 77 and died eight days after emergency heart surgery.

A private burial was planned, reportedly with no funeral services in accordance with Miss Ball's wishes.

"God has her now, and, thanks to television, we'll have her forever," said comedian and longtime friend Bob Hope.

Hospital switchboards were swamped with condolence calls and thousands of cards after Miss Ball's death, spokesman Ron Wise said.

Miss Ball maintained her sense of humor even when she was critically ill. Following her operation last week, her first words to her daughter, Lucie, were: "Wouldn't you know — this is the day I was going to get my hair done."

Miss Ball had been improving steadily from the heart surgery, so her death came as a shock.

"She had been walking, her spirits were up. Her family was with her," Wise said. She responded as well as anyone could respond to that kind of surgery."

He said she woke up early Wednesday complaining about a sudden pain in her back, and in a matter of seconds went into a full cardiac arrest that was caused by a ruptured aorta.

Miss Ball and her late former husband, Desi Arnaz, starred in "I Love Lucy" from 1951 to 1957. In the ground-breaking show, still seen in syndication worldwide, the late Vivian Vance and William Frawley played their neighbors, Fred and Ethel Mertz.

"Probably a lot of what she did rubbed off on what I do," said actress-comedian Jane Curtin, star of the sitcom "Kate and Allie." "But it couldn't be helped, because I memorized her shows."

The show, one of the most popular in television history, was distinguished by Miss Ball's faultless timing, rubber-faced expressions, wide-mouthed wails and extravagant pratfalls.

"Working with Lucy was like receiving an M.A. or a Ph.D. in comedy," recalled Joan Rivers.

Bob Rosati, who lives down the street from the Beverly Hills home Miss Ball shared with husband Gary Morton, said he was watching a rerun of "I Love Lucy" on Wednesday morning when the screen went black and the words "In Memory of Lucille Ball, 1911-1989" appeared.

"I felt I had lost someone in my family. I couldn't believe it," said Rosati, 40.

On Hollywood Boulevard's Walk of Fame, flower arrangements were placed on Miss Ball's two stars — one for her film work, one for television.

Admirers included President Bush, in Southern California at the time of Miss Ball's passing, and former President Reagan.

"Lucille Ball possessed the gift of laughter," Bush said. "But she also embodied an even greater treasure — the gift of love. She appealed to the gentler impulses of the human spirit. She was not merely an actress or comedienne. She was Lucy and she was loved."

EDITOR'S NOTE — Hospital spokesman Wise said that the family has asked that donations be sent to the Lucille Ball Foundation, in care of Irella-Manella, 1800 Ave. of the Stars, Suite 900, Los Angeles, Ca. 90067.

NOTICE OF SETTLEMENT MODIFICATION

In November of 1986, two classes, the first defined as all Mexican-Americans eligible to presently or in the future vote in elections for trustees to the Snyder Independent School District, and the second defined as all blacks eligible to presently or in the future vote in the elections for trustees to the Snyder Independent School District, were certified by the court in Malone, et al v. Snyder Independent School District, et al, Civil Action No. Ca-5-85-259, pending in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Texas, Lubbock Division. After lengthy negotiation, the parties to the above referenced lawsuit reached a settlement which was approved by the Court on October 15, 1987.

Under the agreement, a new method of electing trustees to the Snyder Independent School District was adopted. Four of the seven trustees were to be elected from single-member districts and the remaining three were to be elected at-large. Subsequently, and in accordance with the terms of the settlement agreement, a fifth single-member district was created to replace one of the at-large spots. By doing this, the trustee, Mr. Ygnacio Benitez, Jr., who was originally elected to single-member district one was placed in single-member district four. At his request, and believing that he should be allowed to represent those who elected him, the school board for the Snyder Independent School District voted to change the boundaries of the new single-member district one to include this trustee's residence as well as other surrounding property. No other changes were made.

Because the court was required to approve the original settlement agreement, it must also review proposed amendments to that agreement. A hearing will be held on the 24th day of May, 1989, in the United States District Courtroom for the Northern District of Texas, Lubbock Division, at 1:30 o'clock p.m. at which time the court will consider the amendment. Members of the above defined classes will be given opportunity to object to the change. Their objections must be written and filed with the Honorable Halbert O. Woodward, Judge, United States District Court, Room C-210, Federal Building, 1205 Texas Avenue, Lubbock, Texas 79401, Mr. Rolando L. Rios, Attorney for the Classes, 201 N. St. Mary's Street, Suite 521, San Antonio, Texas 78205, and Mr. Brian P. Quinn, Attorney for the Snyder Independent School District, 1722 Broadway, Lubbock, Texas 79401. All objections must be received by the court, Mr. Rios, and Mr. Quinn no later than the 17th day of May, 1989.

Since the court may wish to hold a hearing on any objection, anyone filing one must appear at the Federal Courthouse in Lubbock on May 24, 1989, at 1:30 p.m. and be prepared to present his contentions in open court. If he does not, the objection will be waived.

AVISO DE MODIFICACION DE ARREGLO

En noviembre de 1986, dos clases de interesados, la primera definida como todos

Mexico-Americanos elegible para votar actualmente o en el futuro en elecciones del Consejo Escolar del Independiente Distrito Escolar de Snyder, y la segunda definida como toda la gente negra elegible para votar actualmente o en el futuro en elecciones del Consejo Escolar del Distrito Escolar Independiente de Snyder, fueron certificadas por el tribunal en Malone, et al v. Snyder Independent School District, et al, Causa Civil Num. CA-5-85-259, pendiente en el Tribunal Regional de los Estados Unidos Americanos del Distrito Norteno de Texas. Division de Lubbock. Despues de negociacion extensa, los interesados de disputa sobredicha ilegaron a un arreglo propuesto que se aprobo por el tribunal el 15 de Octubre, 1987.

Segun el arreglo, un nuevo metodo de elegir miembros al Consejo Escolar del Independiente Distrito Escolar se adopto. Cuatro de los seite miembros se hubieran elegido de distritos uni-miembros, y los puestos sobrantes se hubieran elegido segun el voto popular. Despues, segun las condi-ciones del arreglo, un quinto distrito uni-miembro se creo para reemplazar uno de los puestos populares. En esto, el miembro, Sr. Ygnacio Benitez Jr., que se elegio originalmente al distrito uni-miembro numero uno se coloco al distrito uni-miembro numero cuatro. A petcion de si mismo, y creyendo que se le deberia permitir representar a ellos quienes lo elegeron, el Consejo Escolar del Independiente Distrito Escolar de Snyder voto para cambiar los limites del nuevo distrito uni-miembro numero uno para incluir la residencia de dichomiembro tanto como otra propiedad cercania. Ningunos otros cambios se hicieron.

Asi como se requerio que el tribunal aprobara el arreglo original, tambien tendra que reparar enmiendas propuestas al arreglo. Habra una vista el dia 24 de Mayo, 1989, en la Sala de Justicia de los Estados Unidos Americanos del Distrito Norteno de Texas, Division de Lubbock, a la (s) 1:30 p.m. a que hora el tribunal considera la enmienda. Miembros de las definidas clases sobredichas tendran oportunidad determinada para protestar el cambio. Sus protestas tendran que ser por escrito y entabladas con el Honorable Halbert O. Woodward, Juez, United States District Court, Room C-210, Federal Building, 1205 Texas Avenue, Lubbock, Texas 79401, Sr. Rolando L. Rios, abogado de las clases, 201 N. St. Mary's Street, Suite 521, San Antonio, Texas 78205, y Sr. Brian P. Quinn, abogado del Independiente Distrito Escolar de Snyder, 1722 Broadway, Lubbock Texas 79401. Todas protestas se tienen que recibir por el tribunal, Sr. Rios, y Sr. Quinn no despues del 17 de Mayo, 1989.

Puesto que el tribunal querra tener una vista tocante cualquier protesta, cualquiera que registre una protesta tiene que presentarse en el Palacio Federal de justicia de Lubbock el 24 de Mayo, 1989, a la (s) 1:30 p.m. y estar preparado para presentar sus pretenciones en tribunal libre. Si no, la protesta sera renunciada.

Racetrack owner set for pari-mutuel debut

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Plans are off and running for transforming the 20-year-old Lubbock Downs racetrack into a modern facility for both quarter horse and thoroughbred racing now that the track has won a Class 2 pari-mutuel license.

Between now and March 2, 1990, when pari-mutuel racing premieres here, $4.2 million will be spent on a new racetrack, grandstand and other facilities, said track owner and Lubbock businesswoman Jean Arnett.

The fourth track to be licensed by the Texas Racing Commission, Lubbock Downs is the only one west of Abilene to receive a license so far.

But how its betting windows pay off for the track's investors will depend in part on whether a racetrack in Randall County near Amarillo also is granted a Class 2 license.

"That's an unknown for us right now," Mrs. Arnett said.

The existence of a competing track so close to Lubbock Downs could lead to saturation, she fears.

"We are counting on drawing from 125 miles away, but if we were to have a second track that would probably cut into some of our market," she said.

Despite possible competition,

Mrs. Arnett said her financial forecasts show the racing enterprise making a profit its first season.

After the racing commission awards a set number of racing days to Lubbock Downs next month, Mrs. Arnett will begin enrolling investors in hopes of raising $3.5 million towards transforming the track into a pari-mutuel facility.

Construction is scheduled to begin in August on the new track, pens, paddocks, jockey quarters and bleachers.

"It's almost like starting from scratch because we have opted to move the track to the east side of the property in order to give more parking space," Mrs. Arnett said, "plus it's the only way we'd have room to build a six-furlong chute that the commission required."

A grandstand should be completed in time for Lubbock Downs' second pari-mutuel season in 1991, housing a private club serving alcoholic beverages, 80 betting windows and a restaurant.

Total seating capacity should be about 4,500 when the facility is finished, said Mrs. Arnett.

Lubbock Downs, currently drawing an average of about 450 people on 20 year-round racing days, will stop racing this year in July so that construction can begin. With pari-mutuel, first-year attendance should expand to at least 3,400, and the track has asked the commission for 107 racing days in 1990, Mrs. Arnett said.

However, marketing surveys have shown the track could average as many as 15,000 people a day.

"I think we have been very conservative in our projections," said Mrs. Arnett. "I like surprises on the up side."

The racing commission allows Class 2 tracks to race only 44 days a year, but because no Class 1 tracks will be operating until 1993, smaller tracks will be granted more racing days until then.

"If we have these extra days to get started we can get our investment paid back before we have to cut back (to 44)," she said.

Only suspect in U.S. custody pleads innocent to cult deaths

BROWNSVILLE, Texas (AP) — A federal magistrate has scheduled jury selection for a Brownsville man for May 30 after he pleaded innocent to drug charges in connection with an alleged occult-influenced smuggling ring.

Serafin Hernandez Rivera is the only suspect in U.S. custody in connection with the ring that has been linked to 15 deaths.

The 45-year-old Hernandez was arrested in Houston on April 17. He is one of 11 people indicted the next day in McAllen on four federal counts related to marijuana possession and importation. He pleaded innocent Wednesday.

Authorities said earlier they do not believe Hernandez was involved in the organization's cult faction. Suspects in Mexican custody said the cult ritually sacrificed and mutilated some of the victims found buried west of Matamoros, Mexico.

The ritual slayings were supposed to provide magical protection from spirits to aid the smuggling activity, some of the five suspects in Mexican custody claimed.

One suspect held in Mexico in connection with the case is Hernandez' brother, Elio Hernandez Rivers.

A commandant of the Mexican Federal Judicial Police in Matamoros said some victims, including University of Texas student Mark Kilroy, were chosen at random.

But most of the 15 victims were drug traffickers or police killed in retaliation for soured drug deals, said the commandant, Juan Benitez Ayala.

"We'll enter a plea of not guilty as to each and every one of these counts," Felix Recio, federal public defender, told U.S. Magistrate Fidencio Garza.

Pending trial, a federal magistrate in Houston last Friday ordered Hernandez held without bond. Garza on Wednesday set jury selection for Hernandez' Brownsville trial after pretrial hearings on May 15 and May 26.

A native of La Barranta, Tamaulipas, Mexico, Hernandez spoke Spanish through an interpreter at the arraignment.

Man unhooks life-support system, comatose son dies

CHICAGO (AP) — A gun-wielding father who tearfully unhooked his comatose son's life-support system and held him until the baby died has been charged with murder for an act he said he committed "because I loved my son."

Rudy Linares entered the hospital room of his 16-month-old son, Samuel, and unhooked the boy's ventilator, holding hospital workers at bay with a .357-caliber Magnum handgun, police said.

"No one has the right to take the law into his own hands," said Cook County State's Attorney Cecil Partee. "The facts of this case clearly dictate the filing of first-degree murder charges."

At the hearing Wednesday night, prosecutors said the 23-year-old Cicero house painter should be held without bail on the murder charge because the gun was cocked and Linares had threatened to "kill anybody who interfered."

But Judge Marvin Ruttenberg ordered Linares released on a $75,000 recognizance bond, which means he does not have to put up any money unless he fails to appear at future hearings.

DR. GOTT PETER GOTT, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT After more than 50 years of trial-and-error eating habits, I found myself allergic to beef, pork and poultry. The healthiest foods seem to be pork, butter, ice cream and peanuts. Last month's exam revealed low cholesterol, a blood pressure of 120/80 and A-1 health. So what is all the hullabaloo over eating low-cholesterol foods?

DEAR READER: Each of us has a genetically determined method of metabolizing cholesterol; this method may be extremely efficient (resulting in low blood-cholesterol) or dimly inefficient. Therefore, the level of blood cholesterol and the risk of developing arteriosclerotic heart disease from the fat is more a matter of inheritance than of diet.

Some people can eat cholesterol-rich food, such as animal fat and dairy products, with impunity and live to old age. Other individuals, because of their genetic programming, are very sensitive to dietary cholesterol. Most normal adults lie between these two extremes. That is, the average adult can readily elevate his cholesterol level by "overloading" the system and eating imprudently. This is why nutrition experts recommend that most Americans reduce dietary cholesterol.

Statistically, the more "normal" the blood cholesterol (around 200 milligrams per deciliter), the less the risk of heart disease.

Nonetheless, a few people do not have high blood cholesterol values, despite a cholesterol-laden diet. You may be one of these lucky few and can thank your parents for this. Of course, before approving your unusual diet, I'd have to know what you call "low" cholesterol and what forms the cholesterol has taken in your body. High-density lipoproteins (HDLs) are "good" cholesterol, low-density lipoproteins (LDLs) are "bad." Ask your doctor about this.

You may be interested in a recent report from Baltimore. The researchers studied patients with LOW total cholesterol who had heart attacks. They all had elevated LDLs. Therefore, the final word on this subject is not in. At present, high total cholesterol seems to increase the risk of heart attack. But the levels of HDL and LDL may be equally important.

Don't become too smug about your diet. I suggest you use lean pork, margarine, low-fat ice cream and low-fat peanut butter — just to be on the safe side.

For more information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Understanding Cholesterol." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

THE RABBIT HUNTER

Half-ton pig rescued from death

CARSON, Calif. (AP) — Grunt the half-ton pig, whose abandonment and near-slaughter touched the hearts of hundreds who wanted to give him a home, will spend the rest of his days roaming a ranch.

After sorting through about 300 offers nationwide that ranged from making the porker a county fair mascot to a pig farm stud, officials chose a ranch in Ojai, 75 miles northwest of Los Angeles.

"This place ... sounds like a perfect location, with other animals there like donkeys, geese, all kinds of other animals," Gail Christensen, spokeswoman for the Los Angeles County Department of Animal Care and Control, said Wednesday.

Grunt was taken to the shelter last week after his owners abandoned him in affluent Rolling Hills Estates because they were moving. They gave their gardener permission to butcher him, but Grunt was saved from becoming breakfast when his frightened squeals alerted neighbors.

Last year's drought assistance renewed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some of the Agriculture Department's federal aid programs of last year have been kicked into gear to help farmers through the 1989 version of drought and privation. Agriculture Secretary Clayton Yeutter announced on Wednesday the reactivation of some of the key parts of last year's drought assistance package, including permission to graze livestock and cut hay from land set aside for conservation use under 1989 crop programs. Those include programs for wheat, feed grains, rice and cotton.

The emergency measures will apply to Kansas and other states where drought has hurt 1989 crop prospects and in counties where farmers meet eligibility standards.

"Rain is what these states need, but I can't guarantee that," Yeutter said. "However, I trust the assistance we are able to provide will help."

Livestock and poultry producers also will be able to buy surplus grain owned by the department's Commodity Credit Corp. at half price. In a related program, CCC will help pay feed cost for farmers who must purchase more than usual amounts of feed for livestock.

Yeutter said he had directed the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service to respond within 24 hours to requests from the agency's state offices for drought aid.

The emergency measures, he said, will "have the potential" to make substantially more acres available to farmers for haying and grazing this year and thus help stem any forced livestock liquidations.

Yeutter said he had also instructed the Farmers Home Administration to sell hay at reasonable cost and take bids for livestock grazing on farmers taken over by the agency in counties where the emergency grazing of set-aside acres has been approved.
