FINEST CLIMATE ON EARTH, WHERE HEALTH, HAPPINESS AND PROSPERITY AWAIT THE HOMESEAKER

Vol. XLIX—No. 35

STANTON, MARTIN COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, AUGUST 16, 1956

Eight Pages—Five Cents

THE WEST TEXAS SAND Greens Championship Golf tournament is now past history. But the curtain was hardly rolled down on this event until plans were discussed for next year's event.

The occasion brought together a bevy of golf players from neighboring towns, strangers to many of the local golf enthusiasts, but friends to all, when the tournament ended. All spoke highly of the reception accorded them by the members of the Stanton Country Club and the ladies of the Xi Alpha Beta sorority, who served refreshments, and otherwise entertained the visitors.

"WHEN THE HISTORY OF THIS age of peril, prosperity and hope for atom peace is fully described, great credit for maintaining our freedom will go to the American press, and particularly the country and suburban newspaper."—Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER, IN proclaiming Farm Safety Week, pointed out that "there were more accidental deaths among farm workers last year than occurred among the workers of any other major industry." Many of the accidents were connected with the use of mechanized farm equipment.

Mechanization is one of farming's greatest booms. Agriculture's record of deaths and injuries is a black mark that a simple common sense can erase.

WILL WONDERS NEVER cease? The latest wonder to reveal itself comes from a report made by the Texas Game and Fish Commission. On June 26, 1956, Bob Ervin, who was game warden at Midland at the time, now residing in Junction, banded a mourning dove soon after it hatched in a Chinese elm tree, and left to fly at will.

Recently the Commission received a report on the banded dove. The report came from Julian Fejeda of Santa Maria del Valia, Jalisco, Mexico. He furnished the number of the original nestling.

Frejeda wrote: "The ring on the bird's leg had the following inscription: Notify Game Commission, Austin, Texas, 20453 so I am assured that it and I hope you restoration of Wildlife Research across the border cooperation project" since it is "very important game is burns on the of technicians coal to studies ing, migrating learning nesting. ## Henry Louder Says Colorado Fish Are 'Power Equipped'

Henry Louder, businessman, sportsman, and fisherman extraordinary brought a big story back from Colorado this week.

Louder and Mrs. Louder and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Spitzer spent a few days up in the great scenic state, and here is exactly what Henry had to say upon his return to Stanton: "Leo was fishing. We went around in the crystal clear water. We watched as a bait and when the fish got within a couple of inches he put the brakes on. I told Leo that I was stumped by the fish and he said, 'Leo, I was fishing with the fish and he had a power equipped motor.'"

NEW CHAMP . . .

YUELL WINSLOW

Our readers know that Yuell Winslow is the new West Texas Sand Greens champion. He gained that honor at tournament time and we carried the story of his triumph on the golf course in the last issue of the paper.

But our readers have not heard the story behind the crucial battle around the links that the Stanton man fought to bring the championship to Martin County. It was a tough grind all the way with sons of pressure pushing on every shot. Just one faulty stroke, one bad putt, and the top honors would have gone to another erstwhile champion, Allen of Big Spring.

Ten Farms Visited By Chamber Tour Group

ON FARM TOUR—Sam Martin, Hub Phillips and B. F. White were among those making the farm tour Thursday. A mid-morning watermelon repast was enjoyed by caravan members at the Haggard home in the Valley View community. In the photo above the three Stantonites made themselves comfortable under the shade of a tree while enjoying watermelon.

The Farm-Ranch Tour sponsored by the Agriculture and Livestock committee of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce Thursday was a highlight of C. of C. activity for the current year.

The tour was thoroughly planned by Chairman Gerald Hanson, committee members, and Chamber Manager Ed Davis. The caravan assembled in downtown Stanton and left for the first destination at 9 a.m. Six places were visited on the first leg of the trip and the afternoon route called for four stops. The more than 40 persons who went along were served a splendid noon meal at 12:30 by the Flower Grove Home Demonstration Club at the school cafeteria.

The caravan moved to the Elma Nichols place for the first stop and there viewed the caged hen set-up. Nichols has one of the best layouts in the county with more than 1,200 hens in the house.

The next stop was at the Gene Clements farm where cotton and winter legumes were inspected. Clements has used the plant four and skip four row system on some of his irrigated cotton. Tour members heard the explanation of his system from County Agent Gerald Hanson and Jake Hodges of the Soil Conservation Service. The alternate rows are set aside for planting of legumes which builds the soil, makes spraying easier, allows freedom of operation of the irrigation system and cuts out the cost of plane dusting.

Next stop on the tour was in the Valley View community at Butch Haggard's place. There the group saw capons and swine. Haggard won a $2,000 jack-pot in Houston this year with his capon entry. He is currently experimenting with a cross-breeding project working Cornish games with Whitecocks. Haggard also told the crowd that his dry land cotton farm made a bale to the acre last year. Haggard's poultry pen is air-conditioned and the floor covered with straw. This prevents breast blisters and show judges are quick to frown on capons unable to measure up to rigid show standards.

Ed Davis named a committee to find a project suitable for raising money for the club. He named O. B. Bryan, Bill Lively, O. J. Jenkins, Glenn Gates and John Rouche as members of the panel. Bryan was given the chairmanship of the group.

While in Florida Minear was honored as one of the outstanding district executives of Lions International.

Stanton Women To Play Second Ball Game To Aid Fund

All women who want to play in a benefit softball game for the Little League on Thursday night should be at the Little League field at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

All proceeds from the game will go to the Little League. Each player will be asked to pay a 50-cent fee and donations will be accepted.

Registration Time Carded For Students

Superintendent L. M. Hays has announced August 30 and 31 as dates for High School student registration.

Teachers will be on hand at 9 a.m. on the morning of August 30 to register freshmen and at 1:30 p.m. to enroll the sophomores. At 9 a.m. on August 31 juniors will be enrolled and at 1:30 p.m. seniors will be signed up for the school year.

Other students will be enrolled or registered on September 1.

21 Present For Lions Club Meet

Lions of Stanton turned out 21 strong for their regular Monday night meeting at the school cafeteria.

Two guests, Yates Brown and Roy Minear from Midland were also present. Cecil Bridges was in charge of the program and presented East District Governor Minear who told about the Lions International Convention recently held in Miami, Fla.

While in Florida Minear was honored as one of the outstanding district executives of Lions International.

Ed Davis named a committee to find a project suitable for raising money for the club. He named O. B. Bryan, Bill Lively, O. J. Jenkins, Glenn Gates and John Rouche as members of the panel. Bryan was given the chairmanship of the group.

Cap Rock Shows Big Increase In Power Sales

Cap Rock Electric Cooperative, having by far its biggest year, has sold almost as much power in the first seven months of this year as it sold in all of 1955.

Sales of 5,822,359 in July were not only the largest single month on record for the system, but they boosted the total sales for the year to 24,400,018 KWH. During all of 1955, sales amounted to 28,079,685.

Cap Rock purchased 6,270,870 KWH during July, raising to 27,139,000 KWH purchased thus far in 1956. The July figure was a larger by nearly a million and a half than the July total.

The phenomenal increase in rate of consumption of power is occasioned by heavy pressures put on irrigation wells due to prolonged drought. Cap Rock serves practically every irrigated area in the county.

What Is Our Water Potential?

Deeper as the drought eats its way into the vitals of Martin County, deeper is the invasion being made into the very vitals of the water resources of Martin County. The underground water supply is being taxed to its limit, whatever that limit may be, which is a problem that no scientist of water resources is able to solve. But from the best information that those in the know have to offer on the underground water situation in Martin County, is that the water supply in the reservoir was put there by water percolating down through the earth over a period of thousands of years. That from no other source did this water come.

Six years of drought has already held sway in Martin County. It has driven the farmers to abandon dry farming and go in search of water to irrigate their crops. Fortunately, wells have been drilled and found to provide water in sufficient quantity to irrigate their crop lands. This irrigation move spread until at the present time there are many thousands of acres in Martin County producing heavy yields of crops from irrigation methods employed. The responsibility for this state of affairs, and we'll say right here, if it weren't for the water in the underground water reservoir in Martin County, the county would be destitute of crop production.

In addition to this underground water reservoir providing water for our own irrigated lands and other use, further heavy drain is being made on the reservoir by outside interests.

Some five years ago the Colorado River Municipal Water District was organized in Big Spring. Water rights in Martin County were secured by the CRMWD from land owners and immediately wells were drilled. Members of the district are Big Spring, Odessa and Snyder. Pipe was laid to Odessa first and on completion of the line water was rushed to that city to relieve a water famine. Following Odessa being furnished water, water was then piped to Big Spring from the Martin County wells to relieve the water famine that city was going through. So, in providing water for our own county population, Martin County wells are furnishing water to the CRMWD.

Latest reports have it that at a recent meeting of the directors of CRMWD, according to a story published recently in the Odessa American, "Directors authorized a study into the re-charging Odessa's city wells during the slack season.

"By re-charging, water would be drawn from wells in Martin County and emptied in wells north of Odessa for storage."

And we dare say there is not a patron of Martin County underground water reservoir, that has even thought of drawing water from his wells and placing it in storage to use in "slack season."

The CRMWD directors were called in meeting to make a long-range study of its potential water supplies.

A prominent consulting engineer of Fort Worth reminded the CRMWD members that "by 1975, Odessa, Big Spring and Snyder, will have absorbed their water potential." He said this was about five years earlier than anticipated.

The important question that arises in the knowledge of the citizens of Martin County, is the statement made by the engineer that the three town-members of the CRMWD will "absorb their water potential" by 1975, what effect will it have on this county's water supply when considered a great quantity of water from its underground reservoir is now being produced from the CRMWD towns in addition to great supply being drawn from the water basin to meet the demands of home consumers.

The seriousness of the water situation being felt over the entire State of Texas, and the great drain that is being made on our own underground water basin, is a matter of concern to all of us.

That Martin County should be a part of this drain through organization of the State of Texas, is a matter of concern to all of us.

Philosopher Finally Finds Type Of Work He's Cut Out For - - - Rain-Making

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his Johnson Grass farm on Mustang Draw will get nowhere with his idea this week, but it's doubtful if he wants to get anywhere.)

I was sitting out here on my farm yesterday afternoon watching the skies and wondering if it was going to rain when a puff of dry wind landed a newspaper right at my feet and since I'd noticed a red ant crawling on my shoe and needed to bend over to knock it off anyway I went ahead and bent over and while I was I picked up the paper and leaned back against the tree trunk and the first thing my eyes encountered was an article on rain-making.

I know a lot has been written about rain-making, some cities have hired rain-makers and a nd while it's hard to say whether or not it works, it's a good proposal to me and won't cost nearly as much as foreign aid with very little difference in the results. In fact all it lacks really is one thing: a man who has discovered the trick of making it rain for sure. I know in every dry spot in the country candidates invariably include in their platform a mention of the need to do something about the drought situation, but it's sort of like being opposed to higher taxes, all candidates are but taxes haven't gone in any direction but up during my lifetime.

But what I started out to say was if they can't find this man, I'll substitute. I'll admit I can't make it rain, any more than Dulles can make Egypt behave, but I'm perfectly willing to take credit for any rain that falls, if there's pay in it for me. And if I go into this type of work, I'd want to go in on a big scale. No small, isolated spots for me. I'd like to undertake to make it rain somewhere in the United States at least once a week, every week in the year. A n y week it didn't rain somewhere, my services wouldn't cost the government a cent. I'm all set up for this type of work and will appreciate your help in landing this job for me.

Yours faithfully,

they stirred up any rain, there's no doubt about it they stirred up a lot of letters to the papers. But this article was by a man who wasn't proposing we hire a rain-maker for a few isolated spots, but for huge sections of the country. As he viewed it, an attempt should be made to make more rain fall over wide areas of the United States where it's dry.

Now this sounds like a good proposal to me and won't cost nearly as much as foreign aid with very little difference in the results. In fact all it lacks really is one thing: a man who has discovered the trick of making it rain for sure. ## THE AMERICAN WAY

The "Leap-Year" Proposal

BIBLE COMMENT

There Is No Place In Religion For Hate

A plausible philosophy of life has said, "Be good and you will be happy." But if happiness consists in being free from danger and immune from pain, the sufferings of good men have revealed how false is that easy adage. A deep mystery of life is that the innocent have suffered with the guilty. It is the mystery of the Cross and the suffering and sacrifice of Christ Himself.

The hostility that Jesus aroused in His prejudiced, fellow townsmen as He began His ministry in Nazareth continued on the part of many throughout His ministry.

Strange to say, it was the finest things that He did that aroused the most violent opposition.

Religion ought to make men humane, kind, considerate, ready and eager to help one another. But, unfortunately, it has often made them bitter and full of hatred.

It was not unnatural that the claims of Jesus should be questioned by some, as they had been by His own brothers. But why should His pronouncement of the forgiveness of sins have aroused such hatred?

If He had no power to forgive sins, the sins would not be forgiven. To question His authority was one thing—to hate Him was another.

The opposition of certain Scribes and Pharisees and official religious authorities had some justification. They were the official representatives of religion. As Jesus Himself said, they "sat in Moses' seat."

The mistake that they made was in ignoring the actual words and deeds, in being blind to the authority of goodness.

From Files Of The Stanton Reporter - August 14, 1931

Another fine rain recording an inch in Stanton and two inches in other parts of Martin County fell last Sunday night. E. R. Wolcott reported that a 3-inch rain fell on his ranch 20 miles north of Stanton.

(Editorial on the rain). From reports reaching the editor since the good rain of Sunday night, there are going to be shelves in the pantries and cellars of lots of Martin County homes, loaded with canned and preserved vegetables, meats and fruit from off the farms. One farmer living a few miles of Stanton informed The Reporter that as he left home for town his wife had finished putting up 121 cans of vegetables and fruit.

The Stanton golfing fraternity enjoyed chalking up a victory over Midland last Sunday. H. A. Houston was low man for Stanton, shooting 79, the first time any local player had broken under 80.

Midland-Martin Singing Convention will meet in Midland on the fifth Sunday in this month. It is expected the largest attendance to assemble on a like occasion in West Texas will be present. Officials of the organization are: Elmer Hull, Court-

Poe and King shipped three cars of cattle to Fort Worth markets. Sam Wilkinson a 1 so shipped a car at the same time.

The Lions Club enjoyed a fine feast prepared and served by the Methodist ladies. The feed was under the direction of Mrs. J. N. Poe.

Last week for the first time in 14 years all the children of Mrs. L. Standefer, were at home with her. It was the 58th birthday of Mrs. Standefer. Mrs. Standefer and her husband, the late LeRoy Standefer, came to West Texas in 1919, locating at Colorado City. In addition to having all the nine children present, there were 10 grandchildren present.

Visitors in the W. R. Butcher home over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Butcher of Hobbs, N. M.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

By VEEN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex.—Today's favorite riddle among Capitol seers is: "How will the new legislature go—Conservative or Liberal?"

First primary voting results assured substantial turnovers in both houses. Fifty-four newcomers are certain in the 150-member House. At least seven "freshmen" are assured in the 31-member Senate.

Second primary returns could boost the turnover to 65 in the House, 11 in the Senate.

One astute, non-partisan observer hazarded a guess that the 55th Legislature will be "slightly more liberal." But he emphasized this was only a guess, necessarily based in campaign statements. Many things can happen to change these positions.

Only way to be sure, he commented, is to "watch 'em vote a few times." This is especially true, he pointed out, for the newcomers.

Senate newcomers include three men who defeated incumbents outright. They are Charles F. Herring of Austin, who won over Sen. Johnnie B. Rogers; Henry B. Gonzales of San Antonio, who defeated Sen. O. E. Lattimer; and Hubert R. Hudson of Brownsville, victor over Sen. Rogers Kelley.

In the Lubbock area, Ex-Rep. Preston Smith and Rep. Carroll Cobb are in a runoff after both edged out Sen. Kilmer Corbin.

Two other senators are in runoffs. They are Sen. Doyle Willis of Fort Worth, contested by Rep. Joe Pyle; and Sen. William Shireman of Corpus Christi, opposed by Bruce Reagan.

Rep. Floyd Bradshaw of Weatherford won the post of the late Sen. Wayne Wagoner.

Two other senators did not run again. Sen. Gus Strauss of Hallettsville will be succeeded by Culp Krueger of El Campo. Sen. Warren McDonald will be replaced by Rep. Bill Wood of Tyler.

Long-range guesses are that the conservative-liberal balance in the Senate will be "about the same as before." But the House is termed "still a jigsaw puzzle."

Both conservative and liberal forces in the House will be without some of their staunchest advocates in past sessions.

Forty-three representatives returned. Among them were such liberal leaders as Reps. Dolph Briscoe of Uvalde, Maury Maverick Jr. of San Antonio and D. B. Hardeman of Denison.

Twenty-eight men have been elected to fill vacancies; 15 are yet to be decided in the second primary.

Eleven incumbent representatives were voted out in July. Casualties included such known conservatives as Reps. J. O. Gillham of Brownfield, W. G. Kirklin of Odessa and Stanton Stone of Freeport. Other conservatives were among the 11 incumbents involved in runoffs.

This year's House turnover is only slightly larger than the average of one-third. Largest in recent history was in 1939, the year W. Lee O'Daniel was elected.

standards. The visit to the Kilpatrick, Hill and Mims acreage was especially interesting. Jake Hodges explained the water spreading project worked out by S.C.D. men on the vast spread. A battery of terraces were constructed to trap water in this dry land belt. Hodges explained how the water is fed to the land in a sheet with a backside trapping operation working to spread water evenly. Hodges pointed out that only one rain had been recorded in the community since the terraces were built and his prediction on production on the dry land this year was pessimistic. With a little rain this land will produce better than a bale to the acre because of the fertility of the soil.

One of the most interesting points along the tour route was the Fred Cave and Sons farm. This was really a show place with ample equipment arranged in orderly fashion. The grounds, sheds, tool house, work shop, swine pens, and barns were in perfect order.

Another point of interest was the caravan's visit with Craig Beckmeyer to look over his beef cattle. Feed drinks were waiting here for those making up the tour. Earlier in the morning watermelon was served at the Butch Haggard farm.

In his nip and tuck fight with the Big Lake medalist Winslow pulled his Sunday punch on number seven coming home. Allen got a par on the hole but Yuell took his measure with a birdie. The golfers split on number eight and another tie was possible if the Stanton player had faltered on number nine, the last hole. Allen, thoroughly familiar with the course had always played the final hole successfully. Winslow was determined too. As a result he registered another birdie—10 for his 36 holes and that was the championship as well as some sort of a blue record.

Turned Out To Be a Good Break

We had a water main break last Friday. Happened early in the morning—about two a.m.—and the first thing most of us knew about it was when we tried to turn on the faucets and nothing came out but a hissing noise.

Nobody was inconvenienced much though. Repair crew went right to work—and things were fixed up in jig time.

Incidentally, the water company owed a food of payments on overdue bills that day. Lots of "forgetful" folks must have figured they were being warned!

Tech History Publication On Sale Today

The story of a vision goes on sale today when "The First Thirty Years," a history of Texas Tech, issues from the presses. The vision is that of early pioneers of the South Plains area who dreamed of the day that such a college would come to serve the West Texas people. Urged as early as 1870, the establishment of the college became possible with the granting of the charter by the 38th legislature in 1923.

Written by Mrs. Ruth Horn Andrews, daughter of Tech's first president, Dr. Paul W. Horn, the book deals primarily with the period from the Fall of 1925, when classes were begun, to the commencement of 1955. The history tells, in an informal and interesting style, of how the college grew during the three decades. Mrs. Andrews, New York author and widow of Joseph F. Andrews, an engineer with American Telephone and Telegraph, has known all of the principal persons connected with Tech and its growth.

And the growth has been outstanding. As Mrs. Andrews tells it, the Tech campus when she first saw it in 1923 was simply "2,000 acres of tumbleweeds." Today the campus boasts 50 permanent buildings, wide expanses for farms and agricultural experiments, and more than 18 million dollars worth of investment. The first session, back in 1925, saw 914 students swarm onto the campus, where six buildings had been erected to start things off. Growing steadily, the college last Fall topped the 7,000 mark in enrollment.

At first Tech offered only two years of college work. Today it offers a complete five-school undergraduate program, as well as graduate work leading to the masters degree in 30 fields and to the doctorate in six. Initial copies of the first edition, which is limited to 2,000 books, are being autographed for the purchasers. The publication of the book, which was in preparation for a year and a half, was made possible by the action of Tech's Board of Directors, who encouraged the writing of the early history while those people who made the history were still alive to help in preserving the record.

In preparing the book Mrs. Andrews used personal notes and letters, diaries, recollections, anecdotes, stories by the many members of the first faculty who are still living, and Lubbock newspaper files. Eight of the first faculty are still teaching at Tech. Mrs. Andrews also interviewed many of the prominent people who attended the college through its early days, including members of early faculties, former members of the Board of Directors, and others who knew the college in its infant years. The publication follows closely behind the celebration in June of the 30th anniversary of Tech, which in its few years—for it is young, as colleges go—has grown to be one of the state's largest educational institutions.

Tech was also accepted into the Southwest Conference recently—but that is part of "The Second Thirty Years." First sales of the book will be handled by the Texas Tech Bookstore, under the supervision of manager W. C. Cole.

Visitors last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Kelly, Rex Kelly and Iona Kelly, were Mrs. Iona Kelly and Mrs. Bell.
