

GRASSROOTS OPINION

Las Cruces, N. M., Citizen: "If you drive a car, there is no better resolution you can make than to drive safely throughout the year. If you are unwilling to take that responsibility, you have no right to drive. And if you won't take the responsibility, your chances of being among the dead in highway accidents are good."

Bartow, Fla., Democrat: "Frank Gannett, one of the better known publishers of the United States, died the other day, and included in his will a comment to the effect that he 'felt a deep concern over the freedom of the press' . . . referring, of course, to the growing trend among public officials to refuse to give newspapers information to which the public is entitled . . . a continuance or enhancement of such a policy, wrote Gannett in his will, will void freedom of expression and 'democracy will perish'."

Colfax, Iowa, Tribune: "Since Russia sent up their 'Sputnik' the general public has become hysterical in their demand for more engineers and scientists. They may be needed, we are too far down the line to say, but a report from the National Society of Professional Engineers states that today in the layoffs caused by a cutback in defense budgets, more than 1,000 engineers are looking for jobs. There is and always will be the need and demand for well educated and well trained individuals, but we should not go overboard in one particular field. Let's just try and raise the standard in every department."

Beaver Falls, Pa., News-Tribune: "A friend of ours used to stay in trim by scattering a handful of pennies in his bedroom every morning and stooping for them. Now he's getting fat—says there's no incentive in it anymore. He's going to try dimes next week."

Liberal, Kan., Daily Times:

"The laxity of people here to sign complaints once a law breaker is apprehended by officers, and likewise of our courts to dish out strict sentences, seems to be popping up in these parts again. If such keeps up, we can expect the crime wave to flourish to new heights. Think it over!"

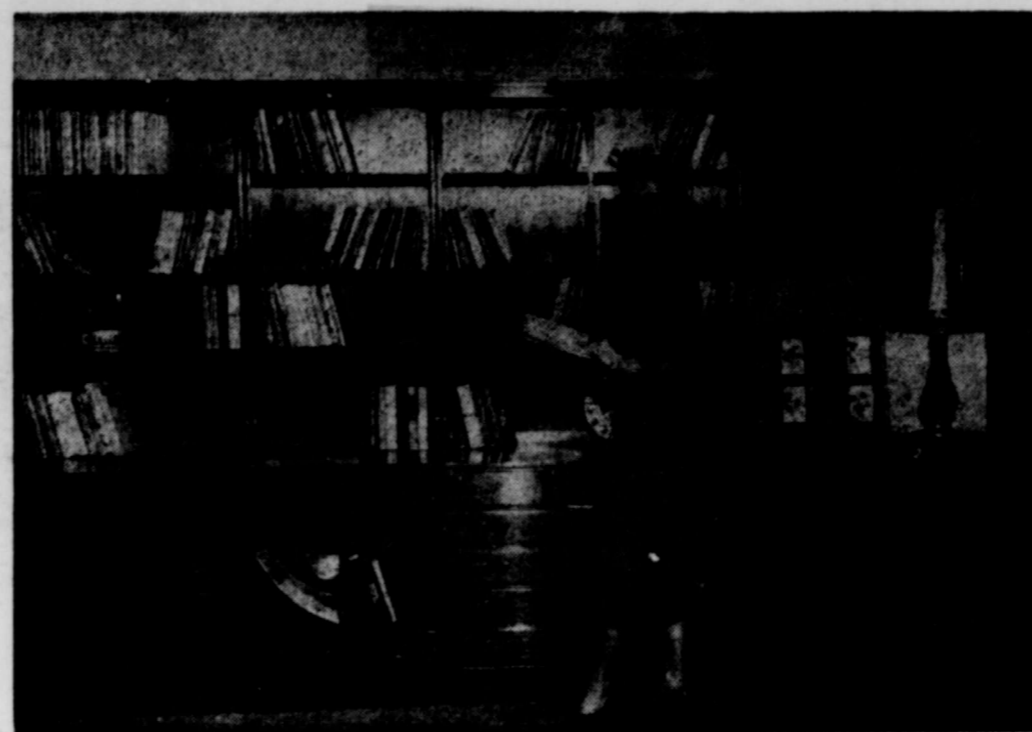

Cuero, Texas, Record: "Jules Verne wrote about space travel back in 1885 and predicted that the Americans would be first to reach the moon, and the Russians second. If it works out that way, we'll forgive and forget those sputniks."

Pilger, Neb., Enterprise: "How wonderful would be this world we live in if we could all keep Christmas in our hearts — all year round; if we could fill our hearts with love and do away with hatred and intolerance; if we could replace the yearning for the gold and pleasures of the world with the virtues of faith and moral courage."

Rayne, La., News: "Basic research is the quest for fundamental discoveries which can open broad new pathways for technical advancement and human betterment. It can be carried on in the laboratories of government and industry. But it is best conducted in the atmosphere of dedicated free inquiry which prevails in our colleges and universities."

Baltimore, Md., Daily Record: "It is obvious that competition in all lines is growing keener. This puts a new premium on good selling, good public relations and a keen analysis of the market in which we operate."

Beauty Salon Now Featuring New "Cinderella Wave"

Enid Wood, owner of Enid's Beauty Salon has announced the arrival of Rayette "Cinderella" Wave, a new permanent that features a gentle, fragrant waving lotion in three "custom made" strengths and a tube neutralizer with a "magic" ingredient.

"The magic potion that prevents 'curl-sag' between settings is part of the new neutralizing plan," Mrs. Wood explained. "A scientific new ingredient known as 'Dura-Flex' literally bathes the hair with new life and it becomes soft and manageable and has new body and elasticity."

Hair sets will remain more manageable after the new wave, even in hair that was formerly too limp and too soft to hold waves well, Mrs. Wood continued. Yet the hair is soft, easier to comb and to keep in place. The wave takes only two-thirds as long as ordinary permanents.

Stockmen Urged To Use Caution On Grain Feeding

Many areas of Texas received heavy rains during the harvest season last fall. As a result, there is increased danger of mold in feed grains with possible serious illness or death of livestock, warns C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian.

While all moldy feed is not necessarily poisonous, Patterson says that farmers will be wise to determine whether they can safely give such feed to their animals. He suggests testing questionable grain for about two weeks by giving it to one or two test animals of low value.

Signs of mold intoxication in cattle include depression, loss of appetite, staggers, and pale mucous membranes, points out the veterinarian. Signs in swine include depression, stiff gait, poor appetite, loss of weight, and a stance with head lowered, back arched, and flanks tucked up.

Animals should be removed from a field where there is moldy feed as soon as any symptoms are noticed, advises Patterson. A veterinarian should be called immediately because some symptoms of mold intoxication are similar to those of other diseases.

Anything that can be done to keep livestock away from grain or forage which has been on the ground too long and has not been proved safe to use will pay dividends in animal health, for this is a condition which does exist, continues Patterson. There have already been some cases of it and if farmers do not take the proper precautions there may be more.

Peas Featured On Best Food List For Month

Canned and frozen peas take the spotlight as the featured food on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's February plentiful foods list for this area.

Here's why. The latest inventory of the Agricultural Marketing Service shows that stocks of canned green peas are 7 million cases larger than a year ago. Stocks of frozen peas run 1 1/2 million pounds more than a year ago.

Other vegetables on the plentiful list are canned and frozen corn and potatoes. Growers' prices of potatoes are below those of last year in most western producing areas, while canned and frozen corn stocks are heavy enough to rate a spot on the list.

Since February usually marks the time when the fall pig crop starts to market, pork takes the featured spot at meat counter. The fall pig crop is 2 per cent larger than last year.

Milk continues to heavy supply as production stands at record levels, increasing seasonally in February.

Apples and dried prunes the only fruits listed as plentiful for February.

USDA determines what's plentiful every month by a survey of major food suppliers in the area.

Hale Center, Tex., Man Reports—
"A $5.60 Investment Netted Me $54.85 In Cotton."

Jack Shelley, Hale Center, Tex., says: "I put down Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia on my irrigated cotton and got an average of 847 pounds of lint per acre. This compared to a yield of 633 pounds on a check plot. My increase netted me $54.85 an acre. I got more well matured, five-lock cotton bolls, too."

Other Southwestern farmers have discovered that the 82% nitrogen in top quality Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia helps them to get more profit per acre, through higher yields and lower production costs. They have found that, by using Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia, they get more cotton that grades out higher at the gin; yields of sorghum grain and ensilage are increased; more marketable vegetables are harvested, and profits on wheat are increased through better forage, and higher yields of grain!

Hot Chocolate For Warm Hearts

There's one thing just about everyone agrees on—that wintertime is "hot chocolate milk time." A hot chocolate beverage has no equal as a warmer-upper to take the chill out of your bones. It warms up the inner man (or woman) but best of all it helps provide that extra energy we all need these cold winter days.

Time was that preparing a hot chocolate drink meant dirtying pans and utensils, and maybe the kitchen range if the milk boiled over—which it frequently did. Today's homemaker has been spared all this. She can produce a rich, creamy hot chocolate beverage in a jiffy, thanks to modern dairy science. With crystal-form Carnation instant chocolate flavored drink, it's so simple even a child can do it. Simply add hot water and stir. It can be made right in the cup—no fuss, no bother. There's no need to add milk because this instant chocolate flavored drink is made of nonfat dry milk with chocolate flavoring and contains all the protein, calcium and B-vitamins of whole milk.

Serve at meals or with cookies as a snack, or with dainty petit's fours when guests drop in.

Petit's Fours: Make a simple sheet cake with your favorite cake mix. Cut in small rectangles, or diagonally to make diamond shaped petit's fours. Frost with a thin, light icing of milk and powdered sugar. Tint icing with food colors to add variety or sprinkle with cake decorating candies.

Panhandle grain farmers need sunshine to prepare for spring planting and Valley vegetable growers to harvest the winter crop.

FLU UP AGAIN—Number of flu cases in Texas climbed in January, but was no where near the October peak.

According to State Health Department officials, estimated number of cases at end of December was 3,411. In successive weeks totals went up to 4,301, 4,820 and 8,800.

But during the October outbreak the total reached 40,000.

Gov. Price Daniel was among the recent victims.

SHORT SNOOTERS—Texans salted away $94,382,837 more in their bank savings account in 1957 than the year before, according to the State Banking Commission. Increase was from $288,703,258 to $383,086,095, a jump of approximately 24 per cent. . . .

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights
by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

By 1962 the first wave of the state's "war babies" — probably hundreds of thousands of them—will be seeking a college education in Texas.

Time to get ready for them is now, says the Commission on Higher Education.

Created by the Legislature in 1955, the Commission has spent some two years getting organized and gathering facts. Now, says the Commission's director, Dr. Ralph T. Green, it is ready to start making some "firm recommendations," beginning with its meeting Feb. 10 in Denton.

Commission has the responsibility for studying the needs and problems of all 18 state supported colleges and universities and making recommendations and appropriation requests for them to the Legislature.

Commission staff has done extensive research in areas of professor's salaries, how many students take what courses and possible need for more branches and courses in certain areas.

Several cities have been actively demanding senior college status for their junior colleges. Commission is to have recommendations on this later.

At present, says Dr. Green, Texas' 18 state colleges have some 77,913 students. By 1962, he predicted, they will have 102,000.

Statewide, the possibilities are even more overwhelming. There are some 160,000 students in both state and private colleges now, said Dr. Green, but by '62 there will be an estimated 320,000 prospective college students.

Exact figures are not possible, of course, he said, but "there's no getting around it, the kids are there. It's almost frightening to foresee this tremendous volume and know, too, that standards must be raised to meet demands for improved scientific and technical training. But with good planning, we can do it."

POLIO PLUMMETS — Best news from the State Health Department recently is the 1957 polio figures—lowest in a decade.

Total for 1957 was 734 cases, just a little over half the 1956 total 1,307 and less than one-fourth the peak year of 1952 (3,984).

Department officials said they expect a continued, but more gradual decline, as more people take the vaccine. Shots are not likely ever to stamp out the disease completely, they said, since the vaccine does not prevent non-paralytic polio.

COME AND SEE US—Texans can garner many millions in out-of-state dollars by learning to be good hosts to tourists.

Said Tom Taylor, manager of information and statistics for the State Highway Department, "The tourist industry is one of the easiest in the world to promote. Every community has something to offer. But many Texans don't know enough about their own communities to give directions."

Considering the scarcity of promotion, said Taylor in a speech to the Texas Motor Transportation Association, it was surprising to note that Texas is fifth among the states in number of tourists. It was a $500,000,000 industry in 1957, he said, bringing Texans more income than cotton, cattle and wheat combined.

But, Taylor noted, competition from other states is getting stiffer, and Texans will have to work harder to get out-of-staters to spend their vacation money here.

SCHOOL QUESTIONS TO GO OUT—Some 25,000 manuals are to be mailed to counties by Feb. 15 for use in a massive study of Texas public schools.

Study guides are being sent out by the Hale-Aikin Committee which is to report to the next Legislature on school needs. County leaders will distribute the 44 page study guides to the local school districts. It is hoped that answers and suggestions will be worked out in a series of group meetings in each area.

Rep. L. DeWitt Hale, vice chairman of the study committee, said local groups should feel free to add more topics of their own. Study guide has 167 questions.

If people all over the state respond with facts, ideas and suggestions, the committee will have some 42,000 replies to serve as basis for its recommendations.

MORE COTTON ASKED — Texas should be allowed to produce more cotton this year to meet a demand for better grades, says Agriculture Commissioner John White.

Despite the cotton surplus in storage, there is a shortage of middling grades and an active demand for better grades, said White. Because of the end of the drought, he said Texas had an excellent chance to produce high quality cotton this year for the first time in eight years.

WELL WATERED—Texas goes into the 1958 growing season with the best soil moisture conditions in years, reports the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

FARM REVIEW and FORECAST

WEST TEXAS PRESS COMMENTS

Beautiful lawns just don't happen—they are the product of considerable time and effort, says E. M. Trew, extension agronomist. Bermuda grass is most widely adapted to Texas conditions, perennial ryegrass and tall fescue are used in the Panhandle area under irrigation, points out Trew. The best soil for lawns is a sandy loam high in organic matter. The addition to clay to a sandy soil or sand to clay soil to get the proper combination of texture is recommended, the A&M Extension agronomist says.

The Martin County farmer doesn't come right out point-blank and say, "I wish the weather would come out bright and warm so I could get in the field and do a little plowing." The soil is a little heavily laden with moisture to do a good job of plowing. He spent seven years praying for rain and in those prayers he said he would never complain as to the amount of rain fell on his land if it rained cats and dogs. Just the same at the present moment his land is just a little wet. Some fields that didn't fair as well as others in getting moisture, the farmer has completed his plowing while others are in their fields tilling the soil.

For the fish minded readers of this column, both in the art of catching 'em and eating 'em, a very prolific fishing hole so statistics show, is Lake Texoma. During the year 1957 fishermen on the lake ensnared 4,852,300 pounds of fish. "Thou shalt inherit the Holy Earth as a faithful steward, conserving its resources and productivity from generation to generation. Thou shalt safeguard the fields from soil erosion, thy living waters from drying up, thy forest from desolation and protect thy hills from overgrazing by the herds, so that thy descendant may have abundance forever. If thou shalt fall in this stewardship of the land, his fruitful fields shall become sterile, stony ground and wasteful gullies, and his descendants shall decrease and live in poverty or perish from the face of the earth."—Walter Clay Loudermilk.

Due to a mistake of pouring gasoline on a smoldering fire in a stove, the ranch house of Elmer Johnson, a landmark at Blackwell, in Nolan County, was destroyed. The house was built before the arrival of the T&P railroad at Sweetwater. Some of the lumber was hauled by team and wagon from Fort Worth.

At Austin, announces that Texas has the best soil moisture it has had in many years. The farmers of Martin County can testify to the truth of that statement, as they are enjoying more moisture in their soil than they have in seven years.

At a recent meeting of the county commissioner's court of Crane County, contract for $458,576 was let to remodel the old courthouse, build a new jail and library. The total amount of the bond issue voted in the election in June of last year, was $500,000.

The three courts in Hall County, county court, two justices of peace courts, turned in a total of $20,430.70 in fees and fines for the year 1957. The total amount collected in 1956 was a few dollars under the 1957 collection, reported The Memphis Democrat.

The city of Wink places as much importance in cats spreading rabies as dogs. Anyway, the city ordinance requires that dogs and cats alike must be vaccinated against rabies. The county agent at Wink will administer the vaccine.

Leave it to Charles Didway, editor of The Post Dispatch to figure out a way of lightening the load of filling his column "Thursday to Thursday," and rest his laurels for a moment to telling this story of two women standing on the street corner engaged in this conversation: "You're wearing your wedding ring on the wrong finger." "Yes, I know," said the second woman. "I married the wrong man."

All agree the soil has a deep-seated quantity of moisture and the prospect is very bright for all the farmers to participate in a flattering crop year.

Announcement comes from Don Young, head Forest Management Department of the Texas Forest Service, that there are 210,000 seedlings available to West Texas landowners for windbreak planting. The seedlings comprise Red Cedar, Chinese Elm, Austrian Pine. "These trees may be used only for windbreaks; they are not to be used for ornamental or shade planting," Young advised.

In this busy season of paying taxes, the taxpayer is in need of a breather to get his nerves back to normal. This conversation carried on between two taxpayers may be just the proper stimulant to restore tired nerves:

According to Paul Crume's column, "Big D" in the Dallas News the chamber of commerce of that city had received a letter from a North Carolinian, asking how he could get hold of a pair of Texas Jack Rabbits. We are mailing Crume the names of two Martin Countians who would like to fill that rabbit order. They are extensively engaged in the jack rabbit business. They are Bernard Houston, farmer-rancher in Glasscock County and Grady Cross. These gentlemen can walk out the back door of their ranch homes and pick up a pair of jack rabbits by the ears.

Along the line of new construction in Crane to start soon is a new building for the First State Bank of Crane. The new building will have 4,000 square feet of floor space, drive-in banking facilities, night deposit, coffee room that may be used for civic meetings. The new building will be hollow tile complete veneered with brick.

The Upton County commissioners' court in a recent meeting, placed all justices of the peace of the four precincts on a salary basis instead of a salary and percentage of fines collected. One member of the commissioners' court told the McCarney News the reason for the new step taken was in order to pay the justices for the amount of work each office involved. The salaries ranged from $150 a month to $332.

The Seminole postal officials have moved into the new postoffice building. The cost of the building was $10,000 and the postoffice furnishings and equipment cost $15,000. Mail was handled from the old site 15 1/2 years.

Wade and his family will be missed in their attendance at West Texas Press Association meetings, as they became quite popular among the members. Tom Wade was editor of the Chronicle in 1940 and 1950, and has been away working on newspapers in Texas, New Mexico and Colorado.

GEORGE EDWARD COLE
A complaint was filed before a United States Commissioner at San Francisco, Calif., on January 9, 1957, charging George Edward Cole with violation of the Unlawful Flight to Avoid Prosecution Statute in that he fled from the State of California to avoid prosecution after allegedly murdering a police officer.

Cole is described as follows: Born, March 24, 1927, Philadelphia, Pa. Height, 6 feet 1 inch. Weight, 160 to 175 pounds. Build, medium. Hair, brown, receding. Eyes, brown. Complexion, medium. Race, white. Nationality, American. Occupations: bus driver, truck driver, typist. Scars and marks: pit scar on outside corner of right eye, small cut scar on inside of left wrist, appendectomy scar; tattoo, small heart and names "Mom" and "Dad" and letters "GP" or "SP" on left forearm; tattoo, 8-point star on back of left hand. He wears full upper denture.

Cole has previously been convicted of grand larceny and robbery. He reportedly has stated that he will shoot any police officer attempting to apprehend him. Cole is considered armed and dangerous.

Any person having information which might assist in locating this fugitive is requested to immediately notify the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, United States Department of Justice, Washington 25, D. C., or the Special Agent in Charge of the nearest FBI Division, the telephone number of which appears on the first page of local telephone directories.

Vegetable growers in the Monday area of Knox County, are planting their vegetables for this year.

Some 500 crates of onion plants have arrived as well as seed potatoes for planting in the next few days. It is estimated that between 1,200 and 1,300 acres will be devoted to the growing of potatoes.

If the growing season is favorable the crops devoted to vegetables will be harvested on the following dates: Cabbage, May 1; onions, May 20; Irish potatoes, June 10; cucumbers, June 15; cantaloupes and watermelons, July and August, and sweet potatoes September 1.

Mighty nice thing to have crops coming in to market all through the spring and summer months and a vegetable crop to be harvested in the fall along with cotton.

THE COUNTRY WEEKLY NEWSPAPER is the favorite paper with the women of the Big City, according to a questionnaire that has been answered by college women, members of the Panhellenic Association, at the Panhellenic Hotel in New York City.

The questionnaire showed that the novelists are right when they call New York City a big place where the small town people meet. Members of the Association were asked about their favorite newspapers, their favorite news topics, and their favorite news writers. After giving their answers to these queries they declared that their favorite paper was still their home town newspaper.

One woman answered: "I read every item in the home paper the family send me because it gives me the news of all the neighbors that my family never write me about. My family's weekly letter tells me the news about themselves and that's about all. The paper gives me all the facts about the friends I have known since I was knee-high."

Another successful woman in New York City wrote: "After all the news we care the most about is the news about the people that mean the most to us and they live in our old home town, where the small home town newspaper is published."

STANTON HAS ALL THE ATTRIBUTES for making a live progressive and modern small town. It has surrounding it an agricultural belt that is rich in productivity. Some 30,000 acres of this fertile soil is under irrigation, yielding handsome returns in crops when the rains are not forthcoming. With a diversification of field crops and the growing of a variety of vegetables, this type farming alone would yield a revenue sufficient to support a good town. But it must be understood there are thousands of acres in Martin County not under irrigation, which the soil is as rich as the watered land, and in normal years crops will yield abundantly, and at a far less expense to the farmer than the farmer who irrigates.

There must be an organized effort and a spirit of cooperation on the part of the people for Stanton to reach that goal of progressiveness and modernization.

The most popular citizen living in the town whose citizenship has fallen into the dumps is "George." Whenever anything is needed to be done that will make the town a better place in which to live you will hear the expression, "Let George do it."

This method of "Let George do it" never built anything but graveyards.

THE SUCCESSFUL MERCHANT ADVERTISES because he has found that advertising in the home town paper brought him that success. He used advertising as a vehicle to convey his messages to the people of his trade territory. The contents of the messages contained the brand of merchandise and the price the merchandise could be bought for.

The home town merchant learned by experience of other merchants in the same line of business who made a success through the method of advertising. He is going to follow the same course.

If there ever was an opportune time for the merchant to advertise it is when business has reached a lull—when money is a little scarce—and the housewife is looking for the place where she can make her money stretch the furthest.

(Continued from page 1) It was the 55th annual session for the association. A rapid paced program, sparked by a message from Gov. Price Daniel, served to draw a large attendance. About 400 members of the Texas association attended the three-day meeting which opened with a buffet supper Sunday night and closed Tuesday evening with the annual banquet.

A high point of the convention was the presentation of an award by the National Bottlers Association as the outstanding bottlers' organization in the nation. Lloyd O'dell of Kermit visited Monday with his mother, Mrs. Annie O'dell. They both visited in Big Spring.

Mrs. O. L. Snodgrass Jr. and Mrs. F. O. Rhodes were in Dallas last week.

THIS WEEK

—In Washington

With Clinton Davidson
If you listen to the debate in Congress this week you can hear what sounds remarkably like an echo of speeches made some 33 years ago in those same House and Senate chambers.

The issue is the same: How important to our defense is air power? The central figure of the debate in 1925 was the well-remembered Brig-Gen. William "Billy" Mitchell, an early and earnest advocate of air power.

Mitchell was being court-martialed by the Army for criticizing the military brass for failure to build up our almost non-existent air force. Congress was divided over whether Mitchell was a crackpot or a genius. The question, again, is how important is the airplane to our defense? Has it, or will it soon, become antiquated by guided missiles? Those are questions this session of Congress must attempt to answer.

Who will make the important decision? Two small groups of experts, the Senate and House sub-committees for Air Force appropriations, have major responsibility for supplying the answers. The conclusions they reach can determine the success or failure of our defense against aggression.

Hearings on President Eisenhower's budget request for Air Force funds, including both missiles and planes, will be begun by the committees within the next few weeks. This and a later column will be intended to give you a behind-the-scenes look at how those committees think and function.

First, the Senate sub-committee. Both Chairman Dennis Chavez, a New Mexico Democrat, and ranking minority member Leveritt Saltonstall, a Massachusetts Republican, are men of unusual vision and ability. Sen. Chavez fought for more money for our defense all last year, bucking the "economy" tide that was running strongly. That he was right is now indicated by President Eisenhower's request for a supplemental defense appropriation for the remainder of this fiscal year.
