

FATHER IS HOPING HE WILL be granted the wish on the day set aside for his observance, Father's Day, Sunday, June 21 . . . he'll have the day free from washing dishes, cleaning house, working in the yard, and baby sitting . . . he'll be privileged to feel the comforts of the easy chair, a gift to him last Father's Day, but one which he has had little time to spare away from his marital duties to sit in it . . . he'll be released from the iron clad obligation to his wife not to smoke his pipe in the house . . . no more red neckties, the one presented him last Father's Day remains in the box it came in. His household duties forbid him time off to attend night parties or daytime social functions . . . when driving off in the car he may be spared the exclamation, "Where you going? I'll want the car at 3 P. M."

On that day given over to the observance of fathers throughout the world, father has it planned to go dig some worms.

FATHER RATES A CROWN

The Stanton Reporter is happy to send a warm salute to every Dad in Martin County and all of the Fathers throughout the land for a fine, happy, and restful day on Sunday, June 21, the day set aside by proclamation and tradition to honor Dads everywhere. Shakespeare pretty well summed up our conception of a good father when he penned these lines: "To you your father should be as a god; one that composed your beauties; yea, and one, to whom you are but as a form in wax, by him imprinted, and within his power to leave the figure, or disfigure it."

Cotton Chopping Is Source Of New Jobs

The Texas Employment Commission placed 31 workers in cotton chopping jobs in Martin County last week, said manager Leon Kinney.

A total of 82 non-agricultural placements were made, also, as compared to 118 the previous week when many students were finding summertime positions.

Fifty-one new applications were taken, said Kinney, and there were 120 continued claims for unemployment compensation. Four filed initial claims.

The TEC will begin its annual wage survey on cotton chopping jobs in the week of June 22. Martin County will be studied during that week, Howard County the following week, and Mitchell, Fisher and Scurry in the next weeks.

The TEC gathers the information for the Bureau of Employment Security which determines what wage rates are proper for natives and for Mexican nationals in respective areas.

The survey does not usually affect cotton chopping wages but may have effects on the fall cotton pulling jobs.

Editor Kelly's wife passed away a few years ago and he continues to make the structure his residence.

Martin Countians Brace For Jubilee Celebration

If the emotional tautness of Martin County residents were graphed, one vector could be labeled expectation and the other reminiscence.

While casting a backward glance to 1884, the citizens are preparing for a Diamond Jubilee Celebration July 10-18.

Women, banded in "Jubilee Belle" chapters, are attending garden parties and teas in old-time costumes. Men, calling themselves "Brothers of the Brush," sport facial foliage.

The event they harken occurred when 150 qualified voters petitioned Howard County's judge for permission to elect their own officials. Martin County, named for Wylie Martin of Texas colonization fame, was created from Bexar Territory in 1876. It was attached for judicial purposes to Howard County.

Frank Lester was elected the first Martin County judge. The four commissioners were Ferdinand Haas, Frederick Sommers, Jess Harris and J. M. Warren.

May Be Only For A Day, But Pop Becomes The King On Father's Day

If ever there's a day in the year when life with Father is pure pleasure for all concerned, it's Father's Day. That's the time Dad gets singled out for deserved appreciation, when the family joins to proclaim him "king for a day."

What better way to do all this than to deck him out in the attire calculated to make him feel like a king?

Check over his wardrobe — before his big day comes — in his summer-wear supplies.

Keep in mind the latest tips on good wear for good living, offered by the American Institute for Men's and Boy's Wear.

For instance, how is Dad fixed for cool, short-sleeved business shirts? The newest are made in the easy-care, wash-wear styles that are a boon to the lady of the house, as well as the master. Great for traveling man and the vacationer, the wash-wear's can be rinsed out at night, hung to drip, and worn fresh and crisp the next day.

Ventilated weaves, convertible collars for either tie or tieless wear, or the equally favored button-down, spread, pinned or tab collars—all these are available this year in cooling short-sleeved shirts.

Note, too, the strong new trend to colored and patterned shirts this summer. These have a definite edge in advantages for commuters and motorists. Soil and stain of travel show far less on these than do whites.

Of course, he will want some whites for dressy wear—but the colored shirts win hands down among the best dressed men for less formal occasions.

Another timely apparel tip—the cue is blue. Blue really reigns as the number one shade in sportswear this year—and it's a flattering color to virtually all men. The new blue tones range from deep navy to the palest pastel tints. There are sports shirts, feather-weight jackets, slacks, walking shorts, shirt-jackets in combination, summer sweaters and cloth caps and hats—all in varying shades of blue.

Equally intriguing are summer styles accenting different tones of blue—still others are touched with bright red, gold, white and yellow to add zest to the happy times when they're worn. One off-beat combination to be seen often this summer is blue flecked with green.

Take a long look, too, at the new summer sport jackets when shopping for Father! It will pay off, for Dad is sure to want and use any of the wide range of lightweight jackets for hot days that come in wash-wear's as

Abernathy Boy Wins Scholarship Given By WTPA

Don Jones, already the "right hand man" of a weekly publisher in his home town of Abernathy, is the winner of the 1959 Journalism scholarship award of the West Texas Press Association.

Jones has just graduated from Abernathy High School, and holds down an important post at the Weekly Review. He is getting started in the newspaper work with a thorough background in community newspapering — something that has proved highly beneficial to many successful newspapermen in years past.

The Hale County graduate will use his $400 scholarship to help his studies in journalism at Texas Tech. He will enter college this fall.

Jones expressed his pleasure at having received the award. He said, "To me, journalism is a fascinating profession. It seems that the greatest possibilities for advancement lie in this field. Also, some of the greatest opportunities for civic deeds lie in the field of journalism. The duty of the journalist is to inform the public."

People are relying more upon the press today than ever before. To a very large extent, journalists are instrumental in pushing badly needed legislation, uncovering corruption in high circles, and in breaking down the bars of secrecy that have become so frequent lately."

In high school, the young man was a member of the National Honor Society, was a class officer and held a position on the student council. He was MYF president in the Methodist Church.

At The Review he is a Linotype operator, pressman, floorman, and staff writer. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ward Jones.

Runner-up and first alternate for the scholarship is Bob Bowers of Levelland. In third place was Leslie Whiteley of Ballinger.

W. H. Graham of Farwell, chairman of the scholarship committee for WTPA, expressed his pleasure with the applicants this year. "It is the largest group we have ever had," he said.

The scholarship was begun four years ago by WTPA to promote journalism as a college study and career. The award is based on scholastic achievement, demonstrated ability in journalism and a bonafide interest in newspapering as a career.

New Colorado Lake Asked In Mitchell

An application for a permit to impound another lake on the upper Colorado River will be filed by the Colorado River Municipal Water District, it was announced in Big Spring Thursday.

Directors of the CRMWD instructed officers to file for the permit with the state board of water engineers prior to Aug. 8. This is the expiration date for the presentation under which the district has been conducting its studies.

S. W. Freese, a Fort Worth consulting engineer, said the tentative location for a dam to impound the proposed lake would be in Mitchell County near the Coke County line. He estimated the capacity of the lake at approximately 2½ times the size of Lake J. B. Thomas. Lake Thomas is the district surface reservoir on the Scurry-Borden County line and is approximately 40 miles upstream on the Colorado River from the proposed site.

In other action Thursday, the board reelected Charles Perry of Odessa as president. Other officers are R. L. Cook of Big Spring, first vice president; Dr. John Blum of Snyder, second vice president, and Joe Pickle of Big Spring, secretary-treasurer.

Contracts were awarded to Allis-Chalmers for two horizontal centrifugal pumps for $17,170 and three 500-KVA transformers for $8,652. These will be used on the district's main water supply line.

CRMWD serves Big Spring, Odessa and Snyder.

53 Notaries File Before June Deadline

Fifty-three notaries filed their bonds with the county clerk before the deadline which was Wednesday night, June 10.

Mrs. Doris Stephenson, county clerk, said 53 was about the average number of notaries for the county.

Anyone posting the fees after the deadline will have to wait until authorization can be obtained from Austin before handling any more notary work.

All late filings must be checked in Austin, and this usually takes about five days. Fee for the notary work is $3. Mrs. Stephenson said, and is split evenly between the state and the county.

Mrs. Homer Henson entered Medical Arts Hospital, Big Spring, Sunday.

With the pole stuck in the bank of the creek and the cork floating on the water waiting for a fish to dip it under, father sprays out under the spreading branches of an elm tree, flips the pages of his favorite magazine to a story of interest to him, and murmurs, "This is the life," free and unshackled from the worries of a cold cruel world, free to munch on his plug of tobacco and spit where he may.

A HIGHLY RESPECTED

friend of this writer and also of the many people residing in Stanton and Martin County, brightened the murky color of blue found permeating the air in a print shop on Mondays. It was the entrance to The Reporter office Monday morning of Judge John Atchison, Sr., on a business mission.

The importance attached to this visit of Judge Atchison's is due to the fact this writer has been closely associated with publishing The Stanton Reporter for 30 years, and it's the first time during that period of time that The Reporter has been favored by a call from a person 92 years old. Judge Atchison celebrated his 92nd birthday in May.

He came to Martin County in 1907. Then deer and antelope roamed the country hereabouts, Judge Atchison said.

He gained the appellation of Judge by serving Martin County two terms as County Judge and ex-Officio County Superintendent.

Judge Atchison remains quite active of body, alert of mind, and good eye-sight. Up to a few weeks ago he drove an automobile, but has relinquished all his rights, title and interest to the motor vehicle now.

Judge Atchison's answer to the question what he attributed to the span of life he had already attained, is he never drank coffee, hadn't chewed or smoked tobacco in 50 years. When he did smoke it was a pipe—no cigarettes.

AN EDITORIAL APPEARING

IN ONE of the many newspaper exchanges arriving at this desk said the value of reading a newspaper is well established. And in the field of thrift and special benefits, a single advertisement of a needed bargain often saves more than the cost of a newspaper for a year.

Even after being read and discarded, newspapers have many uses. In this respect they clearly are much superior to rival media. You cannot wrap a fish or start a fire with last night's television program.

An incident of preserving copies in trunks and other places by subscribers of local newspaper, was brought to the attention of this writer when he published The Stanton Reporter. The files of back copies of The Reporter had been destroyed. We had advertised for oldest copy of the paper a subscriber might have in his possession. A subscriber had a copy of The Reporter preserved in her trunk, dated 1907, and The Reporter now carries the 52 year date line.

The advantage of newspaper reading was expressed in the editorial in this wise: "An expensive New York charm school, for example, tells feminine students eager to make a hit with men to read a good newspaper regularly. It will give them something to talk about, will

Another instance to show the power of the press cited in the editorial wherein a scientist read in The Detroit Free Press of a new German drug which promised to control diabetes when taken by mouth instead of injections of insulin.

"Samples of the drug," the editorial said, "were ordered by cable. Test proved its usefulness for many patients. As a result of the scientist reading the news item, the drug company today has annual sales of $20,000,000 of the drug, and 400,000 American diabetics have been freed from bothersome and painful injections."

OUR OLD "SIDEKICK" AND

staff mate of The Stanton Reporter, Neal Estes, general manager of this newspaper, has returned from a week's vacation trip to Dallas. He visited his mother, and other relatives in Dallas, Commerce and Longview. While in North Texas he hobnobbed with old college classmates from East Texas State Teachers College, and then moved down to Longview for a visit with his brother, Carl, who is publisher of the Longview newspapers and other East Texas publications.

Estes' appearance in this office Friday afternoon, hot off his vacation trip, displayed no evidence he had visited East Texas. Gestures one displays following a visit to the piney woods section of East Texas, leads one to believe there is something eating on a fellow like chigger and mosquito bites. Poison ivy is also not uncommon in that area of the state. But our brother writer appeared to have missed all contact with these unpleasant visitors.

We are glad Estes is again occupying his old desk across from this scribe though his position while away on his trip was in competent hands, Jimmy Allison, Jr., of Midland, filled in.

We're spared the week-long discomfort now of wearing a clean shirt, appearing in a clean clean shaved, and otherwise immaculate in personal appearance, for we sat one entire week in an arm's length of Jimmy—as you know who is the owner of this paper.

Delay in our work was experienced on several occasions by Jimmy yelling out in a tone everybody in the shop could hear, "Has anyone a cigarette?"

Glesse, both of the staff of the Abilene State School; Edward Vann Tapscott, assistant principal of Abilene's South Junior High; Dr. Lloyd D. Huff, chairman of the English Department at McMurry College; and Floyd W. Parsons, superintendent of Big Spring schools.

Martin - - -

They were five German Catholics from Kansas, including their padre, The Rev. Anastasius Peters. The settlers changed the name of the community they established to Marienfeld, German for Mary's Field.

When Marienfeld was founded, Big Spring was a tent town and Midland only consisted of a T&P section house, then called Midway. The Martin County community's name was changed to Stanton in 1890 for Edwin M. Stanton, President Lincoln's Secretary of War.

Early-day Stanton residents mainly were relatives of the first five pioneers. Their last names, besides Peters, were Konz, Fehrwerk and Keber. Such surnames as Sauer, Fielder, Haas, Wolf and Sommers were added by 1883.

From the Catholic Church the first settlers built, a convent school emerged in 1886. Closed for three years in the late 1890's, the school was reopened in 1894 as the Academy of Our Lady of Mercy.

For many years, this was the only school along a route between Dallas and Phoenix, Ariz. The average enrollment in the early 1900's was 110 students taking such courses as art, music, homemaking and commercial subjects.

A tornado in 1938 demolished all the Catholic buildings except the convent, and the school was not reopened. The two-story convent structure was purchased by Jim Kelly, editor of The Stanton Reporter. He lives alone in the rambling building today.

Martin County also is rich in Indian history. Situated in the heart of what once was Comanche Land, the area was one of the last frontiers taken from the Indians.

The great Comanche War Trail which led into Old Mexico included waterstops at Mustang Springs and Sulphur Springs, of which became dry after farmers introduced irrigation. As late as 1881, Indians were reported camped at Sulphur Springs.

These highlights are part of the heritage of this farm, livestock and petroleum producing county, whose coming to an official age of 75 will be celebrated with parades, praise and pageantry.

Attending a birthday dinner Thursday for Bob Cox in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cox were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cox and children of Andrews, and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cox and Morgan.

Local Fishermen Report Good Luck On Rio Grande Trip

Henry Louder and Stanley Barnes are home from a highly successful fishing trip down on the Rio Grande.

Louder and his son-in-law actually started their fishing jaunt way down near Kingsville and were having some good luck too, according to Henry.

Then James Jones, Clayton Reynolds, B. F. White, and Jack Jones showed up and Henry said his luck changed.

Louder also said that a couple of big ones caught by Barnes somehow managed to escape the hooks and Henry decided to leave that section of Texas for a favorite spot on the Rio Grande.

The local businessman and expert fisherman said the Barnes-Louder team hooked more than 300 pounds of catfish. He said they brought in 62 members of the finny tribe.

Visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hull are her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Weathered of San Diego, Calif.

Martin County boys who will attend the camp are Bobby Sale, Bobby Kelly, Weems Williams, Jimmy Robertson and Carl Wright.

Carl Wright will take part in presenting the program. His subject will be "4-H Club Records."

Bob Johnson, county agent, will accompany the boys.

Mrs. Homer Lee Wilkerson
(Stino Tucker)

Stina Tucker of Stanton and Homer Lee Wilkerson of Big Spring were married in a double ring ceremony Thursday evening in the Assembly of God Church, Big Spring.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Tucker of Stanton. She is a graduate of Stanton High School where she was the valedictorian of this year's class. She was a member of the National Honor Society and secretary of the student council. Prior to her marriage, she was employed in the tax office of the Stanton School District.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Wilkerson of Big Spring. He is a 1937 graduate of Big Spring High School, and he attended Howard County Junior College and Texas Tech. He is now associated with his father in the H. L. Wilkerson Trucking Company, Big Spring.

The approach to the altar was designated with white markers connected with white satin ribbons; these led to a setting of ferns and tapers in tall seven-branched candelabra on each side of a white wrought iron archway. This was centered with a basket of white stock, gladioli and asters, before which the couple knelt on a white satin prie dieu.

Vows were read by the Rev. Homer Sheats of Lubbock, pastor of the First Assembly of God Church.

A prelude of traditional wedding music was played by Wanda Clawson and Mrs. S. E. Eldridge of Big Spring. Ed Wilkerson of Stanton, an uncle of the bridegroom, sang "Always."

The bride's father escorted her to the altar and gave her in marriage. Her gown, designed and made by Mrs. Ed Wilkerson, was of white embroidered eyelet, featuring a sabrina neckline and empire waist over a cummerbund of white cotton satin. This culminated in a large flat bow at the back with rosettes designed to give a bustle effect.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Thomas and daughter of Midland visited over the weekend with his mother, Mrs. Annie Thomason.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Johnson of Detroit, Michigan, are the parents of a son, Johnny Michael, born at 10 a. m. Sunday, June 14 in Detroit. He weighed 9 pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson also have two daughters, Marcia Lee and Laura Lynn.

Maternal grandparents are Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Wright of Stanton. Mrs. Johnson spent several weeks here during the spring visiting with her parents.

In tiers of embroidery, the skirt tapered from street length to ankle length in the back. Gauntlets of eyelet complemented the short sleeves.

Repeating the bow at the back was a flat bow of the cotton satin, used with a shoulder length veil of illusion. The bride carried a white Bible on which were pink sweetheart roses with pearl leaves and tulle showered with plicated ribbon.

Pink carnations in nosegays were the flowers of the maid of honor, Evelyn Wilkerson, sister of the bridegroom, and Kay Leatherwood who attended as bridesmaid.

Both were attired in blue organza and organza, made with puffed sleeves, scooped necklines and full skirts, street length.

Charles Miller was best man; groomsmen were George Head of Stanton, a brother-in-law of the bride, Ray Hill and Herman Bouchard, both of Big Spring. Tapers were lighted by the bridegroom's cousins, Carolyn Wilkerson and Linda Alton.

Following the wedding ritual, the garden of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Cooper was opened for the reception.

The bridal couple and their parents, along with Miss Wilkerson and Miss Leatherwood, received guests.

White net over blue covered the table which held the bouquet of the bride and those of her attendants as a centerpiece. A three-tiered white cake, placed on a stand, was adorned with a small bridal figurine.

In charge of the guest register was Mrs. George Head, Stanton, sister of the bride. Members of the house party included aunts of the bridegroom, Mrs. Ed Wilkerson, of Stanton, Mrs. Fred Wilkerson and Mrs. R. O. Mealer, Nancy Eldridge and Mrs. Sheats.

After a wedding trip to Corpus Christi, the couple will make a home in Big Spring.
