

WE READ THE OTHER DAY where somebody dug up a bill of fare published at the State University in 1891. We suggest if Grandma starts sounding off how tough things were 60 and more years ago, her attention be called to the prices on this 69-year-old bill of fare:

For breakfast, oatmeal, one cent; fried liver, one cent; bacon, three cents; ham, three cents; sirloin steak, four cents; and so on.

For dinner, soup, two cents; roast beef and Irish potatoes, four cents; pie, three cents.

For supper the same low prices. But Grandma's memory may be good for her age, and she might recall everything else was cheap in proportion. Cotton sold that year on the average of five cents a pound; a farmer worked from daylight to dark; salaried men worked from daylight to dark and after supper, for a salary of $20 and $30 a month.

THE ADVANTAGE THAT COMES from football publicity is not confined alone to the sport. It spreads its influence to interest folks who are not football minded, but are aware "where there is smoke there is fire." They see the town and its community are progressive. That fact is responsible for bringing new people into town to make their (Continued on page 8)

4-H Committee Makes Plans For New Year

Plans for 4-H Club work in the county for 1959-60 were made at a meeting of the 4-H sub-committee of the program building committee Saturday morning at the county agent's office.

Cliff Hazlewood, Jr., chairman, presided over the meeting. Members discussed problems that came up during the past year's work and evaluated objectives set up at the beginning of last year.

Objectives set up last year included better 4-H Club records, more adult participation, more completed demonstrations and a wider program to better fill more 4-H Clubbers' wants and needs.

It was reported that most of the objectives had been carried out. Two record book workshops were held last year with 60 4-H Clubbers and 15 adults participating. As a result about 80 junior and senior club members entered record books in county competition. More county clubbers participated in the various (Continued on page 8)

Stanton's powerful Buffaloes will be seeking their third victory of the season Friday night when they engage the Grandfalls team in combat here.

The hard running, good charging Bisons carry the scalps of the Badgers 30-8 and clipped the wings of the Owls 22-6 last Friday night in Big Lake. A great throng of boosters accompanied the team to the Reagan County city.

The stands are expected to be full and over-flowing here Friday night. The attendance at the first two games indicates the crowd this week-end will be a record breaker.

Coaches Dauphin and Bailey report their squad in good shape for the contest.

The Buffs gained 189 yards rushing last Friday against the Owls and racked up 120 yards via the aerial route. The Bisons punted twice against the Owls and the average was 37-yards per boot. This is considered excellent kicking in schoolboy circles.

Coach Dauphin will have eleven first rate players on the grid-iron come Friday. The starting line-up was not available at press time.

Strong surging Stanton jockeyed past the Big Lake Owls, 22-6, Friday night in Big Lake to register their second football triumph in two 1959 starts.

The Buffaloes clipped Merkel in the season opener to the tune of 30-8. It was a fine opening victory for Coach Harlin Dauphin's charges.

Buzzy Brewer started Stanton's scoring against Big Lake when he plunged over the double stripe from seven yards out after the Buffs had marched 50 yards on offense.

Norman Donelson added the extra points when he took a pass from Dwayne Thompson.

The Buffs led at the half 8-0. In the third, Big Lake climbed back into the contest when Fullback Gary Miller climaxed a 55-yard drive by scoring from 15 yards out. The Owls fumbled their opportunity to gain the extra points and Stanton led 8-6.

Stanton counted again in the fourth period on a two-yard plunge by Brewer. This drive also covered 50 yards before Buzzy ripped across for his second counter.

Tommy Newman tied up the triumph for the Bisons late in the fourth quarter when he scored following a spirited drive down field. Jeff Glendening ran for two additional points.

Score by quarters:
Stanton 8 0 14—22
Big Lake 0 6 0—6

The committee will function under Public Law No. 78, obtaining facts, relevant to the supply of domestic farm workers, existing in Martin County and the shortage of workers which must be met by importing Mexican Nationals to harvest the cotton crop. Under Public Law 78 the TEC must supply this information to the Secretary of Labor who must limit the number of Mexican Nationals to be used in this county by granting a "ceiling." The committee consults with the local office manager of the Texas Employment Commission.

Philosopher Prepared To Present Khrushchev With A Bag Of Selected County Grass Seed

Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw takes note of Mr. Khrushchev's visit to the United States, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor: I understand Mr. Khrushchev is on a tight schedule and won't be able to stop by my farm out here, which is perfectly all right, I'm on a tight schedule myself and wouldn't have much time to entertain him anyway.

But what has interested me most about his trip to the United States is the reaction of these big-time columnists who write for the big dailies.

One group is arguing Khrushchev shouldn't have been invited at all, but I don't have much feeling on this point. As far as I'm concerned, anybody, including a dictator, is welcome to come over and look us over, so long as he doesn't bring his army with him.

Another group says Khrushchev won't be here long enough to get the feel of America, won't get to know what we think. Some Congressmen have lived here all their lives and every once in a while they prove they don't know what the people think either. They then become ex-Congressmen. I don't know how long Khrushchev would have to stay here to figure us out, but it would be too long, except for the people in the dozen or so countries he has enslaved. As far as they're concerned, he could stay here forever.

Personally, I can't get very excited either way about his visit. I understand he's very interested in studying American farming methods. I am too. I've got

Glasscock Jury Returns Seven Indictments

Glasscock County Grand Jury empanelled in 118th District Court in Garden City last week by Judge Charlie Sullivan lost no time in disposing of the matters before it.

It was sent to its quarters at 9 a. m. At noon, it was back before Judge Sullivan with its work done and seven indictments voted.

Gil Jones, district attorney, said the speedy handling of the cases was because of the relatively few witnesses who had to appear before the grand jury. Indictments were returned against Rodolfo Rios, accused of possession of marijuana; Nathan Cawley and Terry Gilliland, burglary; and Bruce Taylor, DWI second offense.

Two other indictments, one for theft over $50 and another for felony worthless check, were also returned but the defendants in these cases have not been apprehended.

Bible Comment

True Life In Christ Is Best Life

"Except a grain of wheat fall into the ground and die," said Jesus, "it abideth alone; but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit." And Jesus laid down as a law of the spiritual world that "whosoever will save his life shall lose it; and whosoever will lose his life for My sake shall find it."

Is the Christian life, then, only a life of martyrdom? And are we, who are situated in areas where there is little danger of our dying for our faith, excluded from the life that is found through sacrifice?

The answer is "no." Jesus' words have a deeper and more general application to Christian living. Saint Paul suggested this when he wrote, in Corinthians, that "I die daily."

What Paul meant by that is brought out in Galatians where he says: "I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me; and the life that I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave Himself for me."

Perhaps the mistake that most of us make is in failing to share all the experiences of the Christ as Paul did. We walk with Jesus in the fields; we listen as He talks in the villages with the common people; we watch as He blesses the little children.

But we shrink from following to the Cross, even as Mary, His mother, did.

Yet the secret of the fullness of life is in going all the way in our acceptance of Jesus.

"He that loseth his life shall find it."

Cap Rock Co-Op August Purchases Set Record

Cap Rock Electric Cooperative purchased a record amount of power during August to satisfy the demands of its customers. However, the amount billed to customers for the particular period fell under the record established in August of 1958.

During the past month Cap Rock purchased 8,910,280 KWH, bringing to 35,127,750 the purchases for the first eight months of the year. Sales were 8,630,500 KWH for the month, making a total of 30,181,666 for the year.

In 1958 the August purchases stood at 8,714,940 KWH, making 30,418,870 for the eight months period, and sales were 9,395,880, making an eight month's figure of 24,665,542.

Indications were that irrigation pumping was continuing at a later clip this year due to unseasonably hot weather and the fact that much of the cotton was still putting on fruit. Hence, it appeared almost a certainty that when September sales are figured in that the aggregate for the first nine months will exceed the 33,791,534 for all of 1958.

At the end of August there were 2,077 miles of line energized in the system and 4,174 members connected—both new record figures. Density of members per mile rose to 2.01.

Fleet Of 8,000 School Buses Plying Highways

Texas' largest transportation system is now in full swing—the State's fleet of more than 8,000 school buses. Furthermore, for the next nine months, these buses will carry the bulk of nearly 2,000,000 pupils to and from school each week day.

It is truly a Texas-size task to transport all these pupils—it is an even greater task to transport them safely. No one will deny the school bus driver has a tremendous responsibility.

But, says the Texas Safety Association, motorists are also charged with the safety of our school bus riding pupils. The State law is very precise on this point and reads as follows:

Sec. 104. OVERTAKING AND PASSING SCHOOL BUS.

a. The driver of a vehicle upon a highway outside of the limits of any incorporated city or town upon meeting or overtaking from either direction any school bus, which has stopped on the highway for the purpose of receiving or discharging any school children shall stop the vehicle immediately before passing the school bus, but may then proceed past such school bus at a speed which is prudent, not exceeding ten miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children.

b. Every bus used for the transportation of school children shall bear upon the front and rear thereon a plainly visible sign containing the words "school bus" in letters not less than eight inches in height.

c. The driver of a vehicle upon a highway with separate roadways need not stop upon meeting or passing a school bus which is on a different roadway or when upon a controlled-access highway and the school bus is stopped in a loading zone which is a part of or adjacent to such highway and where pedestrians are not permitted to cross the roadway.

By VERN SANFORD

Nearly every man who has owned a gun has done a lot of dry shooting. It is a good way to get the feel of a gun, and learn nerve control. You get used to the swing, and then when the time comes to shoot, you are not placed in the position of trying too hard.

Henry P. Davis, who has just retired as public relations director of Remington Arms, has a lot to say about dry shooting for either rifle, shotgun or pistol.

"The fundamentals of shooting are very simple," Davis says. "The most important factor is proper coordination of mind, nerves and muscles. Many persons have expressed themselves as being exceedingly dubious concerning their ability to learn to shoot well. They give as their reason for this existing doubt, the fact that they are extremely nervous, especially when shooting. My answer always is the same—simple and direct—it is the solution of their problem: Shooting teaches nerve control."

Davis then goes on to explain that first the shooter must firmly fix the sight picture in his mind. This sight picture simply is the alignment of the front and rear sights in relation to the target.

"The shooter should align his sights properly and then concentrate his vision on the target," Davis says. "Then he sees the sights without really looking at them, and the target is constantly in proper view. His eyes are focused on the target but his field of vision includes the sights. Thus the correct sight picture embraces the instruments of sighting properly aligned with the target."

Davis further points to the importance of trigger squeeze. This is particularly true in shooting at stationary targets. If the trigger is yanked or jerked, the barrel swings out of proper alignment.

Naturally, in shooting at swinging or moving targets the shooter doesn't have too much time for squeezing the trigger, but if he has sufficient practice, either from shooting at still targets or dry shooting, then his trigger movement becomes easier.

On the subject of dry shooting, our gunslinger clubs today are the cause of a great deal of practice along this line. Some of these would-be gunslingers stand for hours before the mirror just drawing and firing. They do it so many times the movement becomes absolutely natural.

The same practice with either shotgun or rifle, or both, can be effective for the hunter too. Time spent in dry shooting is not lost, even if you don't do it quite right. You are getting the feel of your gun and muscle coordination. This is worth a lot to you when you get in the field.

Unfortunately we are limited to shooting areas nowadays. There was a time when we could go out most anywhere and climb over the fence and do all the shooting we wanted. Today that has changed. It is against the law to climb a fence, much less to shoot on someone else's land, without permission.

Some of this has been brought on by the shooters themselves. They have become entirely too careless with their shooting. Every year a landowner comes up with a dead cow or two as proof that the man with the gun cannot be trusted.

However, most every town of any size has a target range where shooting can be practiced. Some of this shooting is at still targets, but in other areas there are running targets where you can practice. Then of course for the shotgun shooters there are skeet and trap ranges.

Since shooting over these ranges is somewhat expensive, a good deal of dry shooting is called for. You can learn a lot about the feel and swing of your gun just by practicing swinging.

The same is true when using a scope. Many iron sight shooters contend that they just can't find a running animal in a scope. Most of this is pure imagination. If you have a well stocked gun, with a good scope, it becomes very easy to find a running animal in the scope.

Again it requires some dry shooting. It is here that dry shooting really pays off. In the first place, when a scope is installed, you should be certain your stock was made for the use of a scope and not for iron sights only. Then check your scope to determine if it is the proper distance from the eye so you can get the full image.

When your rifle is properly stocked and scoped, and you can't hit with it, the chances are you have a mental barrier which is preventing accuracy. This can be overcome with a little practice.

A lot of people think scope shooting is for an older person whose eyes are weak. This isn't exactly true, although the scope is a definite advantage to a person whose vision has decreased. It is worth a lot in placing your shots just where you want them.

So get out the old fowling piece and try a little dry shooting. It will increase your hits

Illegal Kills Keep W. Texas Wardens Busy

Law enforcement duties in the West Texas area have picked up considerably since the first of September, according to the director of law enforcement of the Texas Game and Fish Commission. Within a week's time, 42 cases were made against hunters in the West Texas area, who killed curlew, plover, and quail out of season. The shooting of curlew and plover is a Federal offense as well as a State offense.

Although there seems to be a bountiful supply of doves throughout the State, shooting in some areas has been somewhat erratic. Weather changes started the bird movement and wardens of some counties report slow hunting. Water hole shooting has been slowed in many areas because of rains. On the other hand, a bountiful grain crop has provided so much food in other areas that doves are not inclined to leave.

The director warned against hunters killing more than their limit of 10 doves, and against violation of shooting hours.

Grain Yield Guess Same As August 1

The Agriculture Department forecast a Texas grain sorghum crop Thursday of 276,912,000 bushels, the same as the Aug. 1 prediction.

The crop would be slightly better than last year's 273,066,000 and well above the 10-year average of 96,256,000.

Oat production was set at 24,156,000, same as last month and about the same as last year.

The Texas corn figure was 41,366,000 bushels, down from the Aug. 1 prediction of 42,928,000.

Nationally, the department estimated the corn crop at a record 4,381,722,000 bushels, nearly 250 million bushels more than forecast a month ago and compared with 3,779,844,000 last year.

The national wheat figure was 1,116,405,000 bushels, 2½ million less than a month ago, and about 350,000,000 bushels less than last year. The Texas crop is harvested and the latest available estimate is 56,440,000 bushels.

A Calendar Of Fact and Opinion

The New York Times says: "Disturbed and angered by a spate of rumors, reports, speculations and accusations that he is now taking a softer line toward what he has denounced as Communist imperialism, President Eisenhower has taken steps to repudiate any such insinuations. . . . In reply to such misinterpretations, President Eisenhower served notice at his Gettysburg press conference that he stands on his past policies and that he will pull no punches in his talks with Mr. Khrushchev in support of them. . . . He does not propose to abandon the subjugated nations, whose hopes for freedom have been stirred anew by his Captive Nations proclamation. He will not agree to mere paper pacts on disarmament. He has no intention of recognizing Communist China or inviting Premier Chou to visit this country at this time. And he most certainly will not make a 'deal' with the Soviets to partition the world behind our allies' backs."

A new study, reported in a publication of the American Medical Association, shows that nearly as many Americans die from bee stings as rattlesnake bites. Over a five-year period rattlers killed 55 people in this country, and bees 52.

National Review says that Khrushchev didn't believe a statement that there are more than 60,000,000 cars in this country. The statistical fact: World car population is 111,000,000, of which 67,000,000 are ours.

A survey made by the Executive Manpower Corporation finds that major industry will need more than 5,600 top executives within the next six months. Salarywise 83.4 per cent of these positions will pay $10,000-20,000; 15.2 per cent $20,000-40,000, and 1.4 per cent $40,000 and up.

Editor Don Robinson of The American Press observes: "Having kept up fairly well with the so-called progress of our educational system in small-town America, as reported in country newspapers, I am becoming increasingly convinced that all the fancy school buildings, the demands for more and more extra curricula facilities, the unimaginative requirements for teachers, and the insistence upon higher education for all nits, has resulted in little progress. . . . In my opinion, a group of fifteen or twenty children, gathered together in a small building for the sole purpose of learning, and taught by a teacher who is more concerned with their welfare than her own, would still get a much finer education than is available in our present million-dollar monuments to learning."

Dr. Sylvester Petro, law professor at New York University, has published a book entitled "Power Unlimited: The Corruption of Union Leadership." Excerpt: "Unions have taken great advantage of . . . special privilege to defy the laws, precepts and principles of good society. Working men have been beaten and robbed. Business men have been the victims of extortion. Political figures and governmental officers and agencies have been corrupted. Few significant areas of society have been left uncontaminated. Out of unlimited power, unlimited corruption is breeding."

I Give You Texas

By BOYCE HOUSE

Bristol is on the Virginia-Tennessee line. The boundary is a white mark down the center of a main street. As to jurisdiction, I was told that if a Virginia officer was pursuing a speeder, the officer could chase him all the way to the Pacific Ocean, just so he could keep the car in sight.

East Tennessee is beautiful. It was my first view of the region (this was the summer of 1958) which was the home of Bob Taylor, the fiddling governor, humorist and spellbinder, who was fond of saying that the mountains of East Tennessee were so tall that a boy could stand tiptoe on one and tickle the feet of the angels as they went winging over. (For the statistical-minded, the actual height is around 4,000 feet.)

There is a great difference between the inhabitants of East Tennessee and those of Middle and West Tennessee. The dwellers in the mountains did not own slaves and they were pro-Union. After the Civil War, the East Tennesseans voted strongly Republican. It used to be said in Memphis that the votes were held back in East Tennessee until the returns from the rest of the State were in and it was seen how many votes were needed! It was true that the returns were slow in being reported but it took time for the election judge to ride a mule over the mountains to the county seat from which the results could be telegraphed.

Chauncey M. Depew, after-dinner speaker, Senator and railroad president, in "My Memories of Eighty Years" says of James A. Garfield:

"He happily carried with him amid all the struggles and disappointments, as well as successes, in the making of a career, the buoyant, hopeful, companionable and affectionate instincts which characterize the ambitious senior who has just left college to take his plunge into the activities of life."

While Robert Louis Stevenson, then a young man, was in the old mining camps of California, he felt the influence of the free-and-easy humor about him to such an extent that touches appeared in his writings at the time. For instance, he told of a man who became a stagecoach robber. A doctor (Stevenson) to whom the man went, told him to take something—so he took the express company's money box.

Resting in the little town of Cotulla in the Winter of 1920-21, with nothing to do, I began to observe my fellow guests in the hotel and probably that was the beginning of a life-long practice of studying other people. Mainly the guests were traveling salesmen. I can still clearly recall some of them.

One was broad-shouldered, with long arms, and he walked in a loose-jointed way — his name was Wellman.

Three were named Magee — two of them brothers and the other a son (and nephew, of course). The brothers had differed in the recent governor's race and the one who had supported Neff had a story he told to discomfit the Bailey supporter. The young man had been, briefly, an actor and he had recently seen the New York stage sensation, "The Bat," the first — and one of the best — of the many mystery dramas.

Then there was a short, heavy-set man named Hackenjos, whose home—as I recall—was in Uvalde.

"We all know of course about the California gold rush in 1849; and about the Great Salt Lake where you can not sink; and also that the travelers on the treeless plains used cow chips for fuel."

"With that background in mind, I am reminded of a happening in a hotel lobby out West. There was a young man in the group who made stronger and stronger statements of things he had seen and deeds he had done until at last a wizened little miner in a corner who had been silent said:

"We crossed the plains in other days; We bathed in Salt Lake's brine; We burnt that stuff You're peddling now— In 1849."

The brash young man was quiet thereafter.

Sunny Days Help Speed Farm Work

Open weather the first week of September allowed a pickup in farm activity in Texas as harvest of cotton and sorghums moved northward, the U. S. Department of Agriculture said.

The cotton harvest is about one-fifth complete and sorghum harvest is about 40 per cent complete. Rice combining is one-third finished and a little less than one half of the corn crop is picked.

High temperatures punished crops in the high plains area. Conditions continued favorable in all vegetable areas. Potato harvest is limited to the small acreage in the Hartley-Dallam area.

Fall crop vegetables in South Texas made satisfactory growth. Planting of cabbage and carrots was active in the winter garden and lower valley.

Ranges and pastures over the eastern half of the state were green. In the southern plains, rain is needed as continued hot, dry weather sapped moisture.

State P-TA Meeting Set For Nov. 18-20

The state convention of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers will be held November 18-20 in Dallas.

Governor Price Daniel is expected to welcome delegates to the golden anniversary convention.

Between 3,000 and 3,500 members are expected to attend the sessions which will be held in Dallas Municipal Auditorium. The Hotel Adolphus and Baker Hotel will be the headquarters.

Meetings of committees and the board of managers will begin November 14. Vesper services will be held at 5 p. m. November 15.

Convention speakers will include Mrs. W. D. DeGrassi of Amarillo, state president; Mrs. James C. Parker of Grand Rapids, Michigan, president of the national congress, the Rev. Thomas Shipp, pastor of Lovers Lane Methodist Church, Dallas, and others.

Remember the good ol' days — when charity was a virtue, not an industry?

'Drag Strip' Suggestion Is Revived

Highway patrol officers are growing more and more concerned over the large number of "hot rod" cars they encounter on streets and roads in this area. Some of them are reviving the suggestion a suitable strip of road should be built where such cars and their young drivers could "drag" without offering danger to other traffic.

The patrol officers seem sympathetic with the desire of the hot rod owners to drive their vehicles but they do not regard the indiscriminate use of the cars on all streets and roads as advisable.

"We see a lot of kids in these cars," one highway patrolman said. "We have to talk to them frequently."

He continued: "They need a strip of special road to be used only by them and for their cars. If they had such a place, we believe that the number of such vehicles in the roads and streets could be much better regulated and controlled."

The suggestion is not a new one, it is said. The patrol officers say that other communities facing a similar problem have set aside some special area and built a road for the draggers. In such communities the hot rods have been pretty well cleared off the regular roads and streets.

Convention activities will open Sunday morning with a coffee and visitation period at 8:30 a. m. at the hospitality room in Hotel Scharbauer. # SOCIAL SECURITY NEWS BULLETIN

September 30, 1959, is an important deadline for certain dependents of disabled workers now receiving disability benefits under the Social Security Act. H. P. Thomas, district manager of the Odessa social security office, explains that recent amendments provided benefits for certain dependents of disabled workers beginning September 1958. Since an application for benefits can be retroactive for only twelve months, it is important that a dependent who can qualify for benefits should file his application before September 30, 1959, in order to prevent any loss of benefits.

The following dependents of a disability beneficiary may qualify for benefits: Unmarried children under 18, disabled children under 18 if their disability began before they became 18, a wife over 62 years of age, a wife of any age if she has in her care a child entitled to benefits.

Thomas urges those who feel they can qualify for these benefits to contact his office at once. The address of the office is 1428 East 8th Street, Odessa, Texas, and the telephone number of Federal 2-9423.

Amarillo Oil, Cosden No. 1 Stephens Experiences Blowout

By JAMES C. WATSON

Amarillo Oil Company and Cosden Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Stephens-Evans Unit, project 14 miles southwest of Stanton in Northeast Midland County, has killed an oil and gas blowout which occurred several days ago.

On last report, operators were trying to get junk out of the hole. When hole is in condition, more footage will be made.

The project, 1 1/4 miles northwest of Devonian gas production in the Azalea (multipay) field, is bottomed at 9,964 feet in the Pennsylvanian.

When the project blew out, it made gas at the estimated rate of from 1,000,000 to 3,000,000 cubic feet per day, plus oil at the estimated rate of 20 barrels per hour. Operators do not know where the gas and oil came from but it is believed to have come from one of the upper formations, and not from the Pennsylvanian.

Location is 1,320 feet from south and west lines section 52, J. M. King survey. It is slated for a 12,000-foot bottom to test the Devonian. The project has 10 3/4-inch casing set at 1,695 feet. That is the only casing in the hole.

Texaco, Inc., has started injecting LPG gas for a secondary recovery program in the Mabree field of Southwest Martin and Southeast Andrews County.

The pool, which produces at 4,638-4,736 feet, is wholly operated by Texaco, and there is only one royalty owner.

Plans are to inject 104,000 barrels of LPG and follow this with natural gas.

Aim of the secondary recovery program is to increase production in the field, which was opened in 1944.

Shell Oil Company No. 1 Shell-Weyman, wildcat in Northwest Glasscock County, southeast of Stanton, failed to find oil on a drillstem test from 10,825 to 10,942 feet.

Open 1 1/2 hours, the test recovered 300 feet of slightly gas-cut mud, with no shows of oil.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 14, block 36, T-3-S, T&P survey.

Conservation Reserve Date Is Extended

The date for accepting applications for conservation reserve basic payment rates has been extended through September 30, and the last day for accepting applications for conservation reserve contracts is October 16, according to information received by George Glynn, Martin County ASC office manager.

About 17 applications for rates were in before notification of the extension, Glynn said. The first deadline was set for September 10.

Earlier a tentative goal of 452,000 additional acres was announced for Texas with the basic rate at $12 per acre.

This is the fifth year of the conservation reserve program, designed to withdraw general cropland from production and protect it with conservation uses for a period of 3 to 10 years.

Principal changes listed for the 1960 program include regulations to publicly owned land, tenure of ownership, method of setting payment rates and the determination of priorities when more applications are received home, and some to enter the business field. Folks who don't care a tinker's dam for football (but there are a very few of them) see the publicity spread of the sport in the columns of the newspapers realize there is something more to the town than the sport football. They discover there is a spirit of progressive-ness circulating in the atmosphere of the town. The citizens are aggressive and boosters. The citizen in general becomes progressive minded and he gets out and puts his shoulder to the wheel and helps push any and all movements of importance to up-building of the town and its community.

IN THESE MODERN TIMES OF rearing children parents spend half their time worrying how their children will turn out, and the other half worrying when they'll turn in.

THE CHAIRMAN OF THE American Medical Association's Committee on Aging told Senate subcommittee that physicians have yet to find an antibiotic for loneliness and rejection — and that these two factors, plus a lack of useful things to do, emphatically affect the overall health of the aged. He added that society has a responsibility toward the aging to stimulate in them a will to live and to encourage them in their desire to be self-reliant and useful.
