WITH CELEBRATING THE 100th anniversary of the discovery of oil, Martin County has a place in the picture in the discovery of oil. The first oil discovered in the county was in the year 1945. By 1957 its annual crude production was 629,334 barrels with a daily production of 1,724 barrels. The total crude production to January 1, 1958 stood at 3,120,537 barrels.

The first oil well discovered in West Texas was in 1921. The well was completed in Westbrook Field, Mitchell County.

The world's deepest wildcat was drilled in Pecos County, early in 1959. Its depth was 725,340 feet.

Crude oil production in West Texas to 1958—399,307,313 barrels, 44 per cent of the state total.

THIS COLUMN DOESN'T blame anyone for getting all the money together he can, so long as he doesn't resort to hijacking somebody or holding up a bank to get it. One important fact to consider while accumulating a few dollars is to invest in a home, even if you have only enough to make the first down payment. The fact it is your home gives you confidence in the future and you'll strive harder to meet the payments held against the property.

Negro Gangs Stage Robberies In Area

Area officers spent a great deal of time the past weekend trying to run down a gang of negroes wanted for a pair of robberies in Martin and Howard Counties.

Peace officers from Big Spring, Stanton, Midland, Tahoka, and Lamesa participated in the big hunt and six Texas Highway patrolmen also joined in the hunt. A bloodhound also got into the act. The manhunter belonged to Constable Jack Merritt of Midland.

The action started this way: Approximately 10 bracers occupying a farm house on the Raymond Kingsfield farm, 30 miles northwest of Stanton were held up about 9 p. m. Friday. Ninety dollars was reported taken from two of the bracers.

After officers arrived and made their investigation, three suspects were arrested and placed in the Martin County jail. The suspects, two negro women from Midland and a negro man from Lubbock, were picked up for questioning and later charges were filed in Stanton. One negro, supposed to answer to the name "Joe," was still on the lamb at press time Wednesday.

Weekly Newspaper Is You

It's a yellowing clipping in a Bible telling of the birth of a baby who smiled but a little while, otherwise remembered only by parents and God.

It's your life history, and the life history of those you know.

It's your joys and sorrows, and those of your neighbors, recorded by the only news medium in the world that cares about you.

It's your conscience joined with others to form a guard against injustice by government.

It's the difference between you being an uninformed animal, or a human being, knowing and forming judgment based on facts made available to you easily, quickly and truthfully.

It's the support from which you ask and get the strength of many in furthering the welfare of your own world — your community.

It's the only medium that shows the future that your footprints were once made upon the shifting sands of time.

It's the bellringer at your birth, your marriage, and the birth of your children; and tolls the bell for you as you begin the long journey.

It's your servant, waiting your pleasure to be read — today, tomorrow, or next week.

It's a record for you to read or keep to read again; or discard; not a voice or a picture for an instant and then gone forever.

It's the bringer of news tidings, not a carrier of only the commercialism of the market-place.

It's the record of the day when a fleeting moment of glory descended upon your house for all to remember and those who come after to know.

It's the handful of clippings that brings tears and fond smiles to remembrance to your children and children's children when on that eventual day they must share what was once you and yours.

It's you on your first day of school; and at your graduation.

It's you as a little boy, a bridegroom, and a father.

It's you as a little girl, a bride, and a radiant mother.

It's you — of you, by you, and for you. — DUANE DEWEL, Algona, Iowa.

SHS Girls Seeking State FHA Degrees

Two members of the Stanton Future Homemakers of America chapter have sent in their declarations of intentions for their State Homemakers Degree. They are Dorothy Hull and Veronica Sorley, both seniors in Stanton High School.

Before a girl is eligible to send in a declaration of intention she must get her junior and chapter degrees. She must have been a member of an FHA chapter for two years and must have taken two years of homemaking instruction.

The applicant then plans and carries out activities in her home, school and community that will help her develop toward being a well-rounded girl. She chooses goals that will strengthen her as an individual in her chapter, home, school and community.

As she works on her goals, she keeps a record of what she does, how she does it and what she believes she accomplishes. The applicant sends her degree material into the area advisor in March and then before the state meeting in April she is notified if she is to receive a state degree.

Lions Club To Sponsor Chili Supper

Stanton Lions will sponsor a chili supper Friday evening, November 6 at the Stanton High School cafeteria.

The supper is to begin at 5 p. m. and will continue until just before the Stanton-Roscoe football game.

Everyone is invited to attend the supper.

The price is seventy-five cents for "all you can eat."

Shower Set For Lee Henry Family

A shower for the Lee Henry family will be held Sunday afternoon at the Grady School lunchroom.

The Henry home burned Monday night. It was located in the Badgett community.

The shower will be from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m.

All friends and residents of Martin County and the surrounding area are invited. Household goods, clothing, food, and any other articles are needed by the family.

The District 6-A championship crown will be resting on the outcome of the Stanton-Roscoe football game to be played in this city Friday night.

If the visiting Plovoys leave the grid in triumph they will also carry the crown, that is if they can win their last contest of the year at Coahoma a week hence, and there is little doubt about the outcome of that coming contest.

Stanton's Buffs can bring about a three-way tie for the title by smashing the visitors. Roscoe is the only undefeated team in the loop at present. The Plovoys recently defeated the Rotan Yellowhammers 20-18.

Last Friday night, the Plovoys mowed down the Roby Lions 32-14. The Buffs also walloped Roby earlier in the season.

If Stanton whips Roscoe here Friday night, the playoff representative from District 6-A would advance through skill at calling a flipped coin. That's the way they will have to settle the title—there will be no time for a 3-way playoff.

Coach Harlin Dauphin reports his team in fine shape for the contest. The Buffs took a rest last week.

The largest crowd of the season will be on hand for the important game. The weather forecast calls for good pigskin weather, and the game promises to be a real battle down to the final gun.

To formally announce their acceptance of the Armstrong dealership here, Blocker Oil Company is officially launching a special sale to run through the entire month of November.

In this issue of The Stanton Reporter an opening advertisement appears and weekly insertions will be carried throughout the duration of the sale in the paper.

The session was for workers in Region Nine which includes New Mexico, Texas and Oklahoma. Additional schools for Region Nine have been conducted in Amarillo, San Antonio, Santa Fe and Texarkana.

Philosopher Comes Out In Favor Of Movie Actress Trying To Learn Cattle Business

Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw thinks he has a new idea this week, but we doubt if it'll work.

Dear editor:

Brand new ideas are pretty scarce, so when one comes along I go out of my way to recognize it and hold it up to public gaze. I have now found one and would like to enlist your help in getting it spread around in the right places.

According to an article I read in a newspaper last night, a prominent movie actress while back bought 500 cows, and then when a bunch of them started dying and having other trouble she turned in on her income tax a claim for expenses involved in learning how to become an efficient cattle raiser.

The government is arguing this is not a legitimate claim, and I would like to see everybody rise up and protest that it is. If we can get the government to recognize it's perfectly legitimate to claim tax deductions for the costs of learning how to raise cattle efficiently, the door will be opened wide for tax relief regardless of how high the tax rate goes. Congress can take the debt ceiling off completely and not bother me.

For example, take my farm out here. If I can claim some deductions for inefficiency, I believe I could manage to get off scott free for years to come. Farming is something it takes years to learn how to do efficiently, and the cost of learning it ought to be deductible.

And also, in case something slips up and I do have a good farming year with a taxable profit, that'll be the year I take up movie acting, with the cost of learning to be taken off my income tax. I figure my deductions for learning how to become an efficient movie actor will last for years, because it looks like a profession that's hard to learn. At least, I know some movie stars who've been at it for years and haven't succeeded.

Furthermore, this opens up all sorts of possibilities for you town people. The cost of learning how to become an efficient drygoods merchant ought to be deductible. The same applies to grocery men, bank clerks, filling station men, plumbers, electricians, television repairmen, why even school teachers, and it's possible there may be one or two newspapers editors scattered around

FARM & RANCH REVIEW

Most pleasant weather prevailed in the county part of last week for harvesting the cotton crop. The days were clear and the sun shone brightly.

The result of the fine weather sent streams of trailers from the fields loaded with cotton to the gins.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture reporting on the crop situation the state over said, a full week of ideal weather plus adequate soil moisture, brought optimistic reports from all parts of the Lone Star State.

Well over half the state's cotton crop is in the bale, the report said. From Lubbock south, that includes Martin County, the USDA declared practically all cotton bolls are open.

The mayor of Lorraine, Dr. Bruce Johnson, is making an effort to find an individual or company to establish a canning factory in Lorraine.

He says: "We have approximately 200 irrigation wells in the Lorraine territory, irrigating 15,000 acres of farm land. We are extremely interested in promoting or helping to establish industries to utilize our resources."

A survey by the Texas Agricultural Extension service on farm irrigation in counties of West Central Texas, gave the following information about

Martin County:

Twenty-eight thousand acres irrigated on 225 farms, with sprinklers used to irrigate 20,000 acres and furrows on the other 6,000 acres. Water provided by 325 irrigation wells. Cotton is planted on 23,000 acres, grain sorghum on 3,000, forage sorghum on 500, oats on 500 and alfalfa on 1,000.

Twenty-seven counties in West Texas were incorporated in the latest report issued by the Texas Employment Commission on the number bales of cotton each county had ginned and the estimated number bales the county expected to gin.

The report showed that Martin County had ginned 34,365 bales on its estimated yield, 65,000 bales.

Four counties bordering on Martin County showed the following in the report:

Dawson County, ginned, 109,295 bales, estimated yield, 135,000 bales; Howard County, 17,771 bales, estimated yield, 30,240 bales; Glasscock County, ginned 4,385 bales, estimated yield, 10,860; Midland County, ginned, 8,875 bales, estimated yield, 13,500 bales.

Of the twenty-seven counties listed in the TEC's report Dawson County had ginned the largest number of bales. Gaines County held second place with 38,925 bales processed.

WEST TEXAS PRESS COMMENTS

A truck driver was hauling cotton to Roaring Springs cotton compress when he discovered 12 rattlesnakes coiled along the edge of the paving. He killed all the snakes by running over them with his truck wheels. The Matador Tribune said the truck driver theorized the rattlers sensed the radiated heat of the paving (stored from the day's sun) and found it comfortable after the chill of night had arrived.

"For outstanding public service in the promotion of pleasure boating" the Denison Herald was presented a National U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary boating award. Publisher Fred Conn of the Herald accepted the prize. The Herald is the first newspaper ever to receive this citation.

Not waiting for industry to come to their town, two representatives of the Graham Chamber of Commerce have been in New York and New Jersey contacting industries in that area that might be interested in moving to the Southwest.

So far in the progress of the Young County Rural Volunteer Fire Department, recently organized, about 100 farmers and ranchers have contributed their donation of 3-cents per acre. These contributions are for providing equipment. This program will furnish fire protection to all rural areas with trucks being located in rural communities throughout the county. It is estimated a minimum of $10,000 will be needed to get the Young County Rural Volunteer Fire Department properly equipped to give the needed protection.

In addition to its regular four-page six-column edition last week The Jayton Chronicle published a 14-page, four-column tabloid size homecoming supplement. It was printed on heavy glossy book paper, and was dedicated to "Uncle Jimmy" J. M. Johnston, Sr., who, the Chronicle says, "is consistently the oldest ex-student at homecoming events."

Johnston attended school at Jayton in 1891 in a one-room building. On October 31, parade day at the homecoming in Jayton, "Uncle Jimmie" Johnston was 81 years old.

The Matador Tribune reported last week hunters returned to the foothills of the Cap Rock to hunt antelope after a lapse of more than half a century. On the Campbell Ranch in Motley County, 45 special permits were issued (one antelope to each hunter.) Campbell Ranch estimated it had 75 to 80 antelope. Of that number 28 bucks and 18 does were killed. One morning last week two employees of the Spot Cash Grocery in Matador counted 10 wild turkey at the back of the store and within a block of the courthouse. Turkey season opens November 16.

The Post Dispatch issue of October 22, was 24 pages. The edition commemorated Oil Centennial Week, 1859-1959. Garza County has 1,450 oil producing wells and 520 dry holes have

(Although this is addressed to Chevrolet owners, we'd be glad to have you read it, no matter what make you now own or plan to buy. It might well be as interesting and significant to you as to the Chevrolet owner.)

TO THE MORE THAN 16 MILLION PEOPLE WHO OWN CHEVROLETS

The first and the latest—the 1912 and the 1960 Chevrolet. The progress represented here is the result of continuing efforts to make your new Chevrolet always more beautiful, more useful and more valuable in every respect.

You belong to the largest family of owners in the automotive world. We hope you're proud of that. It must give you great satisfaction to know that your judgment in choosing Chevrolet has been confirmed by so many other people. We know that we can hold your preference and your loyalty only by continuing to offer more of the things you want, by meeting our responsibilities to you fully and completely from the day you buy your Chevrolet to the day you trade it in. And so we'd like to talk with you about our responsibilities as we see them, and what we are doing to meet them.

To Build the Kind of Products You Want and Need. Our first responsibility, we think, is clear: To design and build products that satisfy your needs and your wants to the highest possible degree. To that end, we have done these things for 1960:

Made the 1960 Chevrolet more economical, roomier, more quiet and comfortable, easier to handle and maneuver. Introduced the compact and revolutionary Corvair, the result of nine years' development. Produced a new line of Chevrolet trucks with unprecedented advances in efficiency, cargo handling, driver comfort and ability to get a job done. Each of these products is the best of its kind we have ever made. Each, we believe, reflects your wishes, your desires and your needs to an exceptional degree.

To Build Them the Way You Want Them Built. But it isn't enough to design and build the kinds of products you want.

They must be built right. Solidly. Carefully. Built to serve you long and faithfully. Let us assure you of this: Chevrolet's fine reputation as a solid, well-built, dependable product is being safeguarded by more of our engineering and manufacturing people, and by more checks and inspections and tests, than ever before. We are determined that your new Chevrolet shall reach you with everything looking and fitting and working the way it should look and fit and work. And we're determined that, if you give it any reasonable kind of care at all, your Chevrolet shall stay that way for a long, long time.

To Provide Better Care Through Your Chevrolet Dealer. Along with your Chevrolet dealer, we want you to have available the finest and most complete service facilities. That is why we: Conduct training schools for Chevrolet dealer mechanics. Study and recommend improved service equipment and techniques. Maintain the industry's most complete parts warehouse system to provide your Chevrolet dealer with the parts you need in the quickest possible time. And that is why we have, together with your Chevrolet dealer, initiated a comprehensive new program designed to make available even finer service at any time you want it.

A New Department—Your Department. Finally, neither Chevrolet nor your Chevrolet dealer has any intention of forgetting you after you buy. Our interest in you and your satisfaction continues as long as you own one of our products. To help keep you happy with your Chevrolet, we have established a department new to us, and so far as we know, new to the automobile industry. This is the Chevrolet Department of Owner Relations, whose only job is the coordination of Chevrolet and Chevrolet dealer activities so that you enjoy utmost satisfaction during your entire period of ownership. Through this department, and through all the other extraordinary steps we are taking, Chevrolet and your Chevrolet dealer hope to keep you a happy member of the Chevrolet owner family... and to welcome a growing number of new members.

The poles are set, the lines are strung, bright lights have replaced the kerosene lamp, and the Electric Cooperatives have literally turned night into day in the rural areas.

But the electrical loads first delivered to the rural community by the Electric Cooperatives are increasing by the day. An improved community and more and varied uses for electric power mean more lines... and greater service facilities. So the job ahead of the Electric Cooperatives of Texas is a big one. That is why the cooperatives must not be deprived of the areas they served first... must not be driven out of the areas they helped to develop. All they ask is that they be given equal rights where they now serve.

P-TA President, Supt. Hays Thank Stanton Parents

Words are inadequate when we try to express our gratitude and thanks to each one for the wonderful cooperation in all the activities of the Hallowe'en Carnival, sponsored by the Stanton P-TA.

Without the help of each of you the success of the carnival would not have been possible.

We think of P-TA as an organization to help our children because the money made goes back into our schools to help us in many different ways. P-TA also helps to make a closer bond between parents and teachers. This can best be accomplished when we work together.

Our time cannot be measured for the values our efforts have accomplished.

To each mother and father who helped, all chairmen of the different committees and each boy and girl who helped to make this event a success we wish to express our deepest appreciation.

Mrs. Bonnie Faye Sorley, P-TA President
L. M. Hays, Sr.
Superintendent of Schools

Mr. Driggers is a building contractor and the owner and manager of the Aero Crop Dusting service in Martin County. The Driggers decided to make Stanton their permanent home after having spent the past three summers here.

Ronnie Driggers is a student in Junior High and has participated in football and played ball with a Little League team last summer. He is currently playing basketball. His sisters are in the second and third grades respectively.

Mr. Driggers said this week after his purchase of The Laundromat, "We liked Stanton and liked the people and our children were happy here and we decided to make this city our future home."

Mrs. Driggers will have more to do with the active management of The Laundromat than her husband, and she too expressed appreciation for the friendly atmosphere her husband found in Stanton.

The Driggers are members of the Methodist Church.

An advertisement concerning change in ownership appears elsewhere in this issue of The Stanton Reporter.

A Hallowe'en theme was carried out in refreshments and decorations. Games were played and guests went through a spook house.

Snooter Knows

considerable length of time. We gave little thought to buying a home and invest the money we were spending for rent each month in meeting the installments on the home-owned property. While renting we had suffered the problem of having to move either due to higher rent having to be paid or the property being sold out from under us. To avoid the high rent problem and having to give up our living quarters to make room for parties to whom it was sold, we purchased property to make our home. And it was the wisest move we ever made. In the first place, we decided to make Stanton our home and if we ever intended to have a place we could call our own home, now was the time to invest in one. We were offered a good proposition and we accepted it.

We considered the remoteness of the property and the prominence of the ground on which the building stood. With almost two acres of ground there wasn't any likelihood there would be a neighbor closer than 650 yards away. We would be monarch of all we surveyed—living on Capital Hill—a name we selected.

The property was the former Catholic convent building erected sometime in the year 1884. For many years it was the only Catholic convent between Fort Worth and El Paso. Students came from various points in Texas and outside the state to attend this Catholic school.

The building in which we make our home is constructed of adobe and lumber. The walls are from two to two and a half feet thick, making it cool in summer and warm in winter. The home is located on a most prominent high spot in Stanton, overlooking the town in all directions.

The reader may consider we are doing considerable boasting about the place in which we live. He's right. We have reached the age where to own the roof over our head we consider we have won half the battle of our life. It has brought us pleasure, comfort, and independence.

We plan a great future for Capital Hill. We plan to make it a hunting reserve, golf links, polo grounds, swimming pool, rest camp for people with shattered nerves, noonday menu of broiled pheasants, venison steaks, occasional elk roast, variety of fresh vegetables, peaches and cream, grapefruit—all products of Capital Hill.

There's no place like home.

BIBLE COMMENT

There Is No Place In Religion For Hate

A plausible philosophy of life has said, "Be good and you will be happy."

But if happiness consists in being free from danger and immune from pain, the sufferings of good men have revealed how false is that easy adage.

A deep mystery of life is that the innocent have suffered with the guilty. It is the mystery of the Cross and the suffering and sacrifice of Christ Himself.

The hostility that Jesus aroused in His prejudiced, fellow townsmen as He began His ministry in Nazareth continued on the part of many throughout His ministry.

Strange to say, it was the finest things that He did that aroused the most violent opposition.

Religion ought to make men humane, kind, considerate, ready and eager to help one another. But, unfortunately, it has often made them bitter and full of hatred.

It was not unnatural that the claims of Jesus should be questioned by some, as they had been by His own brothers. But why should His pronouncement of the forgiveness of sins have aroused such hatred?

If He had no power to forgive sins, the sins would not be forgiven. To question His authority was one thing—to hate Him was another.

The opposition of certain

Scribes and Pharisees and official religious authorities had some justification. They were the official representatives of religion. As Jesus Himself said, they "sat in Moses' seat."

The mistake that they made was in ignoring the actual words and deeds, in being blind to the authority of goodness, and in hating one whom the people heard gladly.

Are we wiser than those of old? Is religion our response to the goodness of God, or is it dominated by prejudice and bigotry?

When you want information, where do you look for it? Best bet is to seek out a person well informed on the subject, then quiz him for all the facts you can get.

That's why, when we decided to write something about quail hunting, we went direct to Fred Palmer.

Why Fred?

Well, in the first place, Fred has spent the major part of his life in the great outdoors. The handsome Houstonite has hunted since he was a mere boy. And he has loved it since his first day out.

In the second place, he is a master of the art of game calling. Not only does he know how, but he knows how to teach others how.

Fred was born in Inverness, Miss., on Nov. 27, 1920. His father was a hunter and a fisherman of some ability. He devoted much time to teaching his boy to hunt and fish.

Being a natural athlete, Fred caught on quickly. During the depression the youngster earned his spending money hunting and trapping. He sold quail, squirrels and rabbits to hotels in Hot Springs, Arkansas, where he was reared.

Because money was scarce, Fred learned to make every shot a kill. With that type of upbringing he trained his eye to be acute and his coordination perfect.

In high school Fred was active in athletics — in football, boxing and track.

His real interest was in boxing. He became a Golden Gloves finalist as a welterweight and won the Golden Gloves championship in Chicago in 1939.

Out of his 73 fights as a professional he won 71. In a rematch he won over the two earlier victors. In all of his fighting he was never knocked down or out and he scored 38 knockouts.

The last four years of his fighting Fred spent in Hollywood as a stunt man and actor. He still holds a screen-actors guild card.

Fred has played in "Treasure of Sierra Madre" with Humphrey Bogart and Walter Huston. He also was filmed in "Johnny Diamond" with Dick Powell.

As a stunt man he was John L. Sullivan in the film "The Great John L." He was typed in gangster parts, bit parts — and earned 32 screen credits.

Tiring of screen work and longing for the great outdoors, Fred left Hollywood in 1953. He came to Houston to engage in home construction work. Four years later he became associated with Bud Hagner in the game call business. Fred designs the calls and Bud makes the finished product.

To date they have produced three types of Truetone Game Call. During the next two years they will have six more calls, including domestic, big game calls — for use in Africa to call lions, tigers and other big predator animals.

Their calls are made entirely of anodized aluminum and stainless steel, and therefore are virtually indestructible.

Not content merely to produce a lifetime guaranteed call, Fred made a recording of instructions for the hunter to follow in using each call. Furthermore, he tells how to give the proper inflections — and demonstrates by sounds the exact tones the hunter must endeavor to obtain.

On the other side of his quail call platter Fred discusses the birds and their habits — and their habitats.

About quail hunting Fred has this to say: "Anyone who has hunted quail knows that the cheerful bobwhite will freeze you like it does an old pointer on the first covey of the season."

"If you've never been quail hunting, all we can say is that when you do go out you'll proclaim it the finest of all wing-shooting sports. The quail is the perfect game bird. He is plentiful. He holds well for a dog. He flies fast and straight. And he is unsurpassed on the table. A smoky, crisp Autumn day afield with your favorite gun, a fine dog and friend bobwhite, is one of the rare treats in sportsman's life."

That Fred is enthused about the pastime, there is no doubt. We asked him about hunting with dogs. To this he replied, "With a good quail call you can hunt very successfully without a dog. But a good pointing dog will find more birds. Furthermore, he'll help you collect all the birds that you shoot. And there will be fewer cripples left to die."

In answer to our question about the bird itself, Fred said: "Quail feed on grain and the seeds of grass or weeds. Overgrown farms are ideal quail habitats. But this fine game bird flourishes in cultivated country too. He may be found around the edges of fields, along brushy fence rows and in light open woods where his food is more abundant."

"Coveys roost on the ground at night, usually on high ground. Seldom do they move their roosts very far from night to night."

"Best shooting comes during the early morning and late afternoon hours. The birds are

Valley View 4-H Leaders Hold Planning Meet

Valley View 4-H Club leaders held a planning meeting Thursday at the home of Mrs. Buster Haggard.

It was decided for the Valley View girls 4-H Club to meet after school on the third Monday of each month in the homes. Girls are to study bedroom improvement.

The first meeting will be November 16 at the home of Mrs. Jack Kuhlman.

Attending were Mrs. Jack Kuhlman, Mrs. Garth Odom, Mrs. R. W. Hardin, Mrs. Buster Haggard and Mrs. Mildred Elia and, home demonstration agent.

most responsive to your quail calls during these periods of the day and least responsive during the heat of the day."

With Fred's Truetone Quail Call you don't blow through it... you draw air into it.

Fred demonstrated the proper positioning of the mouth, the thumbs and forefingers for giving the lost quail call. "It's the only call you'll need while hunting," said Fred, as he emitted a "chirp, chirp, chirp." His advice was to repeat the call three times, with a slight pause between each call.

He closed our discussion with a demonstration of the mating call, used for "springtime prospecting of quail territory, for future hunting."

A most interesting session with Fred Palmer ended with mutual well wishes for "good luck and good hunting for many seasons to come."

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights
by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Should all Texas public school teachers receive a raise, or should higher pay be a reward for being a better teacher? This is one of the questions being debated as teachers flood Gov. Price Daniel's office with letters asking for a special session of the Legislature next year to hike their salaries.

Other points of controversy: (1) How would you decide which are "better" teachers? (2) How do teachers' salaries compare with those of other college graduates?

Texas State Teachers Association is asking for a $405 per year boost in the present $3,204 minimum annual salary.

R. W. Byram, State Board of Education member, has suggested giving teachers examinations to determine which should receive raises on the basis of merit. A bachelor's degree, Byram noted, is not a mark of "exceptional learning" in these days.

Choice, in Byram's view, is either better pay for the more competent teachers or a uniform scale pegged at a lower level.

Byram declared that teachers' salaries in the larger Texas cities which pay more than the statewide minimum already compare well with those of other professions. He said the beginning teacher in Houston gets $444 a month, while a new geologist or petroleum engineer may start from $375 to $425 with the necessity of living "where the job is."

A University of Texas job placement official challenged Byram's figures. Joe L. Bruns contended the Houston school pay is tops, not typical, for the state and reminded that teacher pay is for only nine months a year.

On a 12-months basis, said Bruns, most Texas teachers average $267 a month. He said UT's engineering graduates last year started at an average of $490 per month.

In Austin, he said, the average starting teacher has about $220 a month take-home pay — not enough "to lure an able young man—particularly a married man."

SENATE COMMITTEES — Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey has passed out between-sessions study jobs to 29 of the Senate's 31 members. Key posts went to members who have made up the Senate's conservative leadership for a decade or more. Omitted from committees were Sens. Henry B. Gonzalez of San Antonio and Andy Rogers of Childress, both regarded as liberals.

Named by Ramsey to the panels which will do advance research affecting 1961 legislation are:

BURGLARY WITHOUT CONSENT — If a burglar breaks into a house, the owner of the burglarized property must, if he testifies in court, state that he did not give the thief permission to enter the premises.

Court of Criminal Appeals has now reversed three convictions because property owner did not testify that he had not given consent for the defendant to take property from the site.

In one case the defendant confessed that he cut a hole in the ceiling of an office and stole a safe. However, in the appeals court opinion, it must be proven that the defendant was going against the wishes of the property owner.

STOP FOR SCHOOL BUS — Texas motorists are being urged to observe the law to the letter when they encounter a school bus on the streets or highways.

Ten children have been killed and 86 injured in school bus accidents since Sept. 1, the Department of Public Safety reports.

Texas law requires that a car must come to a full stop when approaching from either direction a school bus that is taking on or letting off passengers. After a complete stop, the motorist may pass the bus at not more than 10 miles per hour.

Penalties for violation range up to a $200 fine. "But the real penalty," said Highway Patrol Captain E. K. Browning, Jr., "is the possibility of killing or hurting a child."
