HENRY ORSON, Midland, was a Stanton visitor Tuesday.

In the five years we have known this former Martin County resident we have always found him the same every time we met him. HENRY ORSON, the distinguished son of prominent West Texas pioneers, is consistent, businesslike, honest, fair, and hoes straight down the line on all affiliations—be they personal or political. He is a thinker and has an unshakable contempt for sham. HENRY can spot a phony a mile away—that's possibly why he is considered one of our section's top authorities on the credit structure of area business establishments and the men who run them.

The many friends of JIM TOM, president of the FIRST NATIONAL BANK, this city, were happy to see him back behind the top desk at the bank this week. We gathered a personal report on JIM from his wife. ERLINE tells us the banker has been cautioned by well meaning men of medicine to be careful about lifting more than a few pounds at a time. JIM should be able to follow their advice. A man who has been as successful in making money for the bank as Stanton's top financial tycoon, surely ought to be able to hire a boy to carry the stuff to the vault. Welcome home JIM TOM.

LP

GEORGE PHILLIPS, local variety store owner, registered a complaint with the newspaper this week. PHILLIPS advised us that some of his customers got the idea he was moving his Stanton store to Midland. The opposite was true. GEORGE moved his Midland stock to his store here and announced it in the paper, but a rumor got started that PHILLIPS was going to Midland. GEORGE and MRS. PHILLIPS are in business in Stanton to stay—they have a host of friends and are active in the life of the community. GEORGE said: "One thing for sure, I found out that everybody reads the paper in this county."

LP

Another GEORGE, JUDGE GEORGE SHELburne, told us this week that one of the first projects the city would attempt under Urban Renewal would be to get some street paving. We talked over the plan and if the city officials can get a paving program underway, certainly the life of the cars and the nerves of the owners will be longer and better. At this point, if it is in order, we would once again like to put in a plug for a municipal natatorium, (swimming pool) and a recreation center for the youth of our community. The lads and lassies deserve some consideration from the adults and if we all work hard enough, maybe we can get these projects before Urban Renewal is finished here.

LP

Perhaps everyone is familiar with the need for and the good done by a doctor, lawyer, and banker, in small towns such as Stanton. Few of us realize the skill, ability, and dependability it requires to become and continue to be a first class typesetter. We are proud of our Linotype operator, M. O. (MAC) McKAY, who has been with us for more than four years. He is one of the most efficient men in the trade and on Tuesday of this week prepared, and put together two complete page advertisements, several small ads and set lots of straight matter. When MAC does a good job for the newspaper he is also doing a good job for the town.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

Texas politicians have been finding it hard to make hay with no sun shining.

A number of statewide candidates are stumping the state, and legislative contenders are getting invitations to speak at rallies and before special groups.

But bad weather and the unaccustomed earliness of this year's election schedule have made it harder for most to get campaigns rolling.

Legislative candidates report they are most often quizzed on whether they favor (1) a teacher pay raise and (2) a general sales tax. "Yes" to the first and "no" to the second are generally regarded as safest answers. But many old hands have misgivings, feeling that the two commitments together may put them in a hard situation come the next session.

AMENDMENT LINE-UP — In the hoopla of a presidential campaign year, amendments to the Texas constitution probably will get only secondary attention, though they are of vital importance to all Texans.

Four are to be voted on by the people at the general election Nov. 2. Their order on the ballot, as determined by a drawing conducted by Secretary of State Zolzie Steakley, will be:

1. An amendment authorizing the Legislature to create a hospital district in Lamar and Hidalgo Counties and part of Comanche County.
2. An amendment authorizing the Veterans Land Board to issue bonds at 3 1/2 per cent interest instead of the present 3 per cent maximum.
3. An amendment giving members of the Legislature annual salaries of $4,800 a year and $12 per day allowance for a 120-day session. Sessions could go no longer than 140 days.
4. An amendment authorizing the Legislature to license and regulate lenders and fix maximum rates of interest.

SCHOOL COSTS JUMP — A baby boom in the fifties means soaring school bills in the sixties, as indicated by the State Board of Education's 1960-61 estimate.

Board reported that cost of Texas public school program for next year will be $365,000,000. This is an increase of some $15,000,000 over the 1964-65 year.

Reason for the rise is more children — requiring more teachers, more books, more desks, etc. Total enrollment for next year is expected to be 2,254,574, an increase of more than a half million since the 1964-65 year.

Counties will have to pay $73,000,000, or 20 per cent of the $365,000,000 total cost.

"SLEEPY VILLAGES" GO BIG TIME — Twenty-one small Texas towns mushroomed into cities during the fifties.

Texas Municipal League reported on towns that had grown 150 per cent or more—some as much as 1,617 per cent.

Twelve of the 21 big growers are towns near to one of Texas three largest cities—Dallas, Houston and Fort Worth. Topping the list with runaway expansion were three Dallas County towns—Irving, up 1,617 per cent; Mesquite, up 1,323 per cent; Farmers Branch, up 1,211 per cent.

Industrialization was the key to the spectacular growth of most of the 21. In a number of cases, the coming of a single large plant started the boom rolling.

TEACHER FUND GROWS — Texas teachers retirement fund has increased more than 35 per cent in the past decade, according to State Auditor C. H. Cavness.

Cavness reported that at the end of the last fiscal year the fund stood at $389,341,289. This is $140,000,000 more than 10 years ago.

Teachers pay 6 per cent of their earnings up to $8,400 into the fund. State matches their payments.

Fund provides for a minimum of $100 per month retirement pay for teachers and $75 a month for other school employees. To make the fund grow, it is invested in municipal, state and federal bonds and certain corporate securities under supervision of a board of trustees.

ATOMIC DISPOSAL HIT — Water pollution from atomic waste materials could pose a real threat to public health, fish and wildlife in Texas, said Gov. Price Daniel.

Daniel praised the Sportsmen's Clubs of Texas for their concern over a proposal made at one time to dump concrete containers of low-grade radioactive waste materials in the Gulf of Mexico.

State Health Department, said the governor, keeps a continuous check on the state's surface waters for atomic pollution from fallout.

NEED FOR ECONOMY CITED — Need for the next Legislature to raise between $150,000,000 and $200,000,000 in new tax revenue has been predicted by the director of the Texas Research League.

Alvin A. Burger, head of the private organization which studies state government, said state spending will require $1,000,000,000 a year in the 1961-63 biennium.

Burger urged careful analysis of the highway, education and welfare programs which takes 85 per cent of the state budget.

As a money saver he recommended taking the cost of maintaining farm-to-market roads out of the farm road funds. At present, this money can be used only for new construction, and farm road repair has to be paid out of other highway funds.

He suggested school consolidation as another avenue for economy. County governments, he said, need reorganization to eliminate duplication and problems in the efficient handling of money.

CAR INSPECTIONS DUE — Drivers without a green Texas-shaped sticker on their car windshields are advised to stop by an inspection station the first pretty day.

Department of Public Safety estimates that only about half of the 4,300,000 vehicles in Texas have had their 1960 inspection. Deadline is April 15. Col. Homer Garrison Jr., DPS director, suggests that the trip be made soon, before the lines get long.

Preaching By Mr. Homer Youngblood

Church of Christ Stanton

Methodist Foundation Established In Texas

Establishment of the Texas Methodist Foundation, described as a multimillion-dollar program, was announced Friday at the annual meeting of the church's Texas Planning Commission in Austin.

The foundation's state office will be in Austin with Rev. Monroe Vivion of Houston as executive director beginning June 1.

Purpose of the foundation, Rev. Mr. Monroe explained, will be "to support the benevolent, charitable, educational and missionary undertakings of the Methodist Church in Texas."

Money and property will be acquired through gifts, bequests, conveyances and deeds, to be held in perpetual trust and invested in revenue-producing properties and securities.

Bishops William C. Martini of Dallas and A. Frank Smith of Houston issued a joint statement saying, "Texas Methodism has created in this foundation an enterprise the potential of which is without limit and which may well prove to be the greatest undertaking ever launched by our church in Texas."

John S. Redditt of Lufkin, chairman of the foundation's board, said a budget of $100,000 for the first three years have been adopted, 60 per cent of which already has been pledged.

Other directors are Frank Bliss of Fort Worth, Wayne Watts of Wichita Falls, Eugene McElvany and Jack V. Folsom of Dallas, W. A. Pounds of Tyler, A. C. McClellan of San Antonio, W. G. Lord of Georgetown, R. B. Cowden of Midland, E. C. Scurlock of Houston, Simon Anderson Jr. of Keltys and Rev. Mr. Vivion.

Trustees include O. C. Armstrong, W. W. Dees, Rev. Hayden Edwards and Rev. J. C. Oglesby of Fort Worth, Louis Pitcock of Graham, L. R. Sessions of Waxahachie and E. L. Torrence of Waco.

During the meeting here, Rev. Mr. Edwards was elected president of the Texas Planning Commission.

In other action Friday, the commission voted to recommend that the five annual conferences in Texas approve a capital funds campaign, amounting to $32,000,000 during the next four years for the support of Methodist colleges and universities and the Methodist student movement in Texas.

Rev. H. B. Loyd, pastor of Polytechnic Methodist Church in Fort Worth, reported that 438 new Methodist churches will be needed in Texas during the next 10 years.

At a luncheon in the Methodist

Student Center, Rev. Edmund Heinsoln of Austin paid tribute to Bishop Smith, who will retire from active service in June.

Referring to a manual released recently by the U. S. Air Force, charging that churches are infiltrated by communism, Bishop Martin, who was president of the National Council of Churches during 1952-1954, said:

"When this report first reached me, I was completely astonished. I was not surprised that someone had attacked the churches or the National Council — I've grown accustomed to that — but it seemed incredible that an agency of the government would distribute this malicious falsehood among unsuspecting servicemen.

"I am sure that when all the facts are in, official amendments will be made for this irresponsible blunder."

I Give You Texas

By BOYCE HOUSE

On the subject of memory: You can know a man—and know him fairly well—and still have difficulty in immediately calling his name.

It may be that you haven't seen him in a good while; or it is on the street in Fort Worth and he lives 200 miles away. If you saw him in his home town, "association" would help you. (We speak of not being able to "place" someone.)

Sometimes you might know a man very well and still your memory refuses to come up with the name.

Fred Korth is one man who realizes this and so he supplies his name when he greets you. He is impressive in size and appearance, has an excellent voice, formerly was Assistant Secretary of the Army and recently became president of the Continental National Bank in Fort Worth—all in all, a man who because of achievement and appearance certainly can have every right to expect to be remembered, yet he considerably supplies his name.

Pat Neff was introduced to someone as 'ex-governor of Texas.' Neff quickly said, "No—former governor! A former governor is one who retired; an ex-governor is one who got beat."

Neff was the finest speaker in Texas in his era. I heard him speak at the State Democratic Convention in Austin (in 1942, if my memory serves me a-right.) He spoke for half an hour, perhaps a little longer; his language was elevated; his thoughts were stirring. Afterward, newspapermen asked for a copy of his speech. He produced a single piece of paper on which a few notes were written.

When he was president of Baylor University, Governor Neff invited me to address the student body and he introduced me. My scholarly contribution was "How I Took Hollywood by Storm," an account of my adventures in connection with "Boom Town." At the close, he asked the audience that filled the big auditorium to rise, "And now, for our friend," he said, "let's sing 'That Good Old Baylor Line.'"

To any individual, that is something to remember; to one who never attended college, it was something to treasure.

"A country's resources are the gift of nature to an entire people. They do not belong to this generation, to the last, nor to the next. No single man or generation can ever earn the right to use them wastefully."

Cheyney and Schantz, In This Is Our Land

H. S. Blocker plans to begin seeding a mixture of native and introduced grasses soon on his rangeland north of Stanton. This range seeding will be done on land that was rootplowed to control mesquite. Blocker is participating in the Great Plains Conservation Program and is doing this work as part of his own all plan to improve his rangeland.

Soil conservation includes any and all measures that will in any way increase the productivity of the land and cause the land to keep on producing satisfactorily.

Mrs. Mattie Welch and Charlie Welch are installing concrete pipeline on her farm near Tarzan to replace an open ditch and thus conserve water for their surface irrigation system. They are installing about 5,220 feet of line.

Like to fish with worms? Tired digging to the bottom of the box every time you have to re-bait? Worms can't hide on the bottom of the bait box made by Van Associate of Atlanta, Ga., because they put a door on both top and bottom.

You merely turn the box over and open the other cover.

This is just one of many new gadgets that are on the market and designed specifically for the outdoorsman.

For instance there's a "do-dad." Ever hear of it? Well, you know how the spring wound clothesline works—when you jerk on the line it recoils into the spool.

Okay, there's an automatic fish lander that operates on the same principle. It's called the do-dad. You can use it for cane pole fishing, or hang it from a tree limb, dock or pier, or from a boat.

Bait up with worms, minnows, shrimp, etc. — then when the fish strikes, the line recoils onto the spool, sets the hook — and brings them in automatically. Line gives a bit with each pull of the fish too, but promptly returns the catch to netting position.

Most fishermen put "do-dads" to work in several locations, then run them like trotlines.

Manufacturer is the Arkansas Die & Stamping Co. of North Little Rock.

A Hot Seat You'll Like

No matter how cold the weather gets, the Seater Heater keeps you warm. So says Excel, Inc., manufacturers of the latest in comforting warmth for the outdoorsman.

True to its name, you sit on it to keep warm, safely and comfortably.

The 6.5 lb. Seater Heater uses a jumbo size reusable wick to distribute its heat evenly—and lets you control the degree by adjustment—just like a thermostat at home. Handy for spectator sports, hunting, fishing, camping.

It burns any brand of wood alcohol and it doesn't smoke. Safe to use in a boat or duck blind and even on dry grass.

Oh yes, it's guaranteed explosion-proof, fire-proof, wind-proof, water-proof, spill-proof, and fool-proof.

Pressure-Pak For Lanterns

It won't be long until you'll be using that Coleman lantern again for some cool, summernight fishing. Or maybe you're cooking right now on a Coleman cook-stove?

Anyway, you'd like to get out of that tank-priming business, I betcha. If so, you'll be interested in the amazing little Pressure-Pak.

It's a gadget that screws on the gas tank of your lantern or stove. You merely insert a CO-2 cartridge in the Pressure-Pak, tighten the cap and light up in the usual way.

Biggest advantage is a hotter flame and a 35% brighter light, says Lake Line Mfg. Co. of Cleveland, Ohio, makers of this handy little item.

CONFIDENTIAL COMMUNICATIONS

Under the law what you as a client tell your lawyer in confidence he may tell no one else without your consent.

Nor can a judge order him or his professional employees (like secretaries) to reveal such communications in court.

Why have such a privilege?

Cheifly, to do justice; it encourages clients to tell their lawyers what they have to know to help and to advise them fully: things about their family, business, and private affairs, their hopes, fears, and ambitions.

No lawyer may speak of certain things, even after a client dies. For a client may well have to give his lawyer details which, if revealed,

"you bet it improves performance!"
