STANTON WILL BE THE HOST city of the 24th annual convention of the Ninth District of the Texas Federation of Music Clubs, Friday and Saturday this weekend. Mrs. Glenn L. Brown of Stanton, is district president of NDTFMC, and her local club, the Stanton Music Club, will be the hostess club. It will be the duty of all Stanton citizens to extend a hearty welcome to the many guests who will attend the convention. Personally, the column doesn't know any difference in the Base Cleft and the Treble Cleft. He only knows he has an ear for music.

THE NEXT ON THE CALENDAR of events to be observed as an official holiday in Stanton is Thanksgiving Day. This year the holiday falls on Thursday, November 24. Nowadays turkeys come already picked, dressed and cleaned ready for the large roasting pan. In days gone by turkeys were purchased on foot several days before Thanksgiving, penned and fed before killing. Considerable preparation came on execution day. Tub boiling hot water had to be prepared, the live turkey taken to the chopping block and its head chopped off. This required a steady nerve and a clear sight on the part of the executioner. Doused in the tub of scalding water the turkey was ready to have its feathers picked and cleaned ready for the roasting pan.

PAUL PETERS, MORE FAMILIARLY known as "Pully" Peters, called on me one day last week at the Capital Hill residence. He moved from Stanton recently to a small farm near Comanche. He is much elated in the change of locations—Comanche is a diversified crop county—a variety of truck farming—watermelons, cantaloupes, fruits and berries. "They raise anything they put in the ground," Pully says.

We suppose we owe more to Pully Peters than anyone else for keeping all yard work up to snuff and building line fences, and doing other odd jobs on the premises of Capital Hill while living in Stanton.

THE STATISTICIANS OF THE country have turned back the pages of history and found that Sen. John F. Kennedy will not be the youngest President of the United States ever to be elected when he takes office January 20. He will be 43 years, 7 months and 22 days old.

Theodore Roosevelt was the youngest man ever to be elected President of the United States. He was 42 years, 10 months and 18 days old when he was inaugurated in 1901 following the assassination of President William McKinley.

Roosevelt had been vice-president.

WELL, OF ALL THINGS FEMININE, men were first to wear high heels and make-up. Let the men complain about the gala time in beauty parlors. They started it all.

Historians at the Lit Reference Service in New York, said men were the first to curl their hair, apply cosmetics, don silk stockings and wear high heels. Such foppery was forbidden to women.

OF COURSE, IT IS THE ONE whose candidate for President of the United States lost in the election that is disappointed. But there are more voters in the United States rejoicing how they voted. Remember, if you are in that minority group of voters—run along with the majority group.

It is now Sen. John F. Kennedy, President of the United States and our very own Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Vice President of the United States.

By JAMES C. WATSON

John L. Cox of Midland is installing a pump to clean out, test and complete No. 1 G. M. Peters in the recently opened Billington (Sprawberry) pool one mile north of Stanton in Southeast Martin County.

The project—one-half mile east of the nearest producers in the field—bottomed at 8,019 feet in the Sprawberry.

A string of 4½ inch casing was cemented at that point. The pipe was perforated between 7,946 feet and 7,966 feet and that zone was fractured with 30,000 gallons of oil mixed with 60,000 pounds of sand.

Philosopher Proves A Stumbling Block In The Very First Step Toward Moving Forward

Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw seems to be dragging his feet on a new idea, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:
Here it is only a week after the country has elected a new President and some things have already moved forward.
For example, the mail service—the mail service generally, it's about where it always was and I don't have any complaints about it, but a particular idea for the mail service.
As I understand it, the post office department in Washington is experimenting with a new type of mail delivery in which you write a letter on a special piece of paper, fold it into an envelope, drop it in a machine. The machine then opens it, looks at it, finds out where it's going, transmits it electronically to its destination, then tears up the original. On the receiving end, another machine reproduces it, seals it, and hands it over to the local post office for delivery.
I have been thinking about this system and I have my doubts. In the first place, if the machines can deliver a letter from New York to the Stanton post office, it won't be long before somebody wanting to move even further forward will figure out how to have it delivered electronically to my mail box, and I'm having trouble enough keeping my present mail box propped up without having to maintain an electronic brain machine alongside it.

In the second place, I don't ever remember having received a letter on any day that I'd have been any better off or more informed if it had gotten to me two days earlier. Very few people have any thoughts or messages to convey to me that are that important. And I don't know of anybody, congressman, governor, sheriff, newspaper editor, who would be any better off or any more informed finding out what I think two days earlier than he can find out now. I take the position that if it takes me a week to think up an idea, anybody waiting on it can wait an extra day and not be hurt. In some cases he could never hear and be just as well off. And this thing works vice versa.

It may be important to get a guided missile to its destination in thirty minutes, but very few thoughts are that devastating.
I think this country ought to move forward, even if it has to go around me to do it, but electronic mail services may not be in that category. I'm not interested in this country's spending money to get my monthly bills to me two days earlier than I'm getting them now.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

THE POST DISPATCH: "The county's six gins are on a 24 hour working basis now trying to gin a 1960 Garza cotton crop which experts figure will wind up somewhere between 18,000 and 20,000 bales, which would top the 1959 bale total. The Herral families have conveyed to the council a lease which runs up to 99 years for exclusive use of the picturesque Hat-A-Ranch headquarters in the Pecos County foothills 53 miles southeast of Fort Stockton. New Birth Means Life Of Peace, Love, Faithfulness

The mystery of New Birth is associated with the baptism of the Holy Spirit. We cannot understand the mystery of God or the nature and relationship of Father, Son and Holy Spirit; but we see the operations of God's spirit in human life and we know that the Holy Spirit is present with men to be their guide and helper.

To come to the plain, practical side of this mystery, the baptism of the Holy Spirit is not in some miraculous thing that men can claim to have experienced that has no relation to daily living. If a man has been baptized of the Holy Spirit, and the Spirit of God is in him, the fruits of that indwelling will be seen in his life and character.

"The fruits of the Spirit," Paul says, "are love, joy, peace, long-suffering, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, meekness, self-control."

Against these, there is no law. They are the positive expressions of the good life and the God-guided life that all who need God's guidance can develop without limitation. Here there need be no restraint, and if all men had this experience of the New Birth we should have no need of laws, or of law officers, except to direct the normal ways and relationships of men.

The higher one rises in this new life in Christ, and the more conscious he is of God's presence and guidance, the humbler is his spirit and attitude. Men of the world may glory in their wealth or success, but the richer and better the Christian becomes, the less will he boast about it. It is this spirit that Paul admonished the Christians at Galatia: "Let us not become vainglorious, provoking one another, envying one another."

West Texas Forum Set For December 2

A West Texas Congressional Forum will be staged in Fort Worth December 2, jointly sponsored by the West Texas and the Fort Worth Chambers of Commerce.

Six U. S. Congressmen from West Texas will face the public in the ballroom of the Texas Hotel, answering questions from 2:00 p.m. until 5:00 p.m. Former Congressman El Gossett, now general counsel for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., will serve as moderator.

Similar forums have been presented in previous years with attendance ranging up to 1,000 persons. Portable microphones in the audience relay questions to the congressional panel.

"We expect the greatest interest and the largest attendance for this Forum than ever before," E. H. Danner of San Angelo reports. "Well-publicized platforms and issues during the recent general election, some uncertainty about possible trends in the new Congress, and aspects of the promised 'new frontier' program should inspire lots of questions."

Danner is chairman of the WTCC's National Affairs Committee which is arranging the program.

The public is welcome, Danner said.

Congressmen who will participate are W. R. Poage of Waco, Jim Wright of Fort Worth, Omar Burleson of Anson, Frank Ikard of Wichita Falls, George Mahon of Lubbock and Walter Rogers of Pampa.

The three other congressmen whose districts include part of the regional chamber's 132-county territory will all be away on official business. They are O. C. Fisher of San Angelo, J. T. Rutherford of Odessa and Olin Teague of College Station.

WTCC President J. Carter King Jr., of Albany has called a meeting of the West Texas Chamber's board of directors for the morning just preceding the Forum. Principal items on the agenda, King has announced, will be reviews of state and national legislation possibilities and of tax issues.

Board members from the West Texas region will begin assembling on the evening of December 1 at a reception and dinner for them in the Texas Hotel.

More Hunters Seek Permits On Free Areas

Interest in public hunts in Texas has shown a definite increase according to H. D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

Last year 13,890 persons made applications for permits to hunt on one of the wildlife management areas of the Game Commission. There were 1,700 permits issued. This year there were 16,727 applications and 2,438 permits issued.

Drawings were held in the Commission office in Austin recently, and names were drawn for the hunts. They have been authorized to remove surplus animals from the management areas.

The greatest number of applications came for the Kerr area, where 5,418 hunters sought a permit to kill 321 deer; the next largest number came for the Black Gap area in the Big Bend, where there were 3,185 seeking permits to take 403 deer.

Persons whose names were drawn for these hunts have received notice setting up their dates for the hunts.

Singing Held At Church Of Christ Sunday

Members of the Church of Christ were host to a meeting of singers Sunday at 3 p.m. at the church.

The singing service is held the second Sunday of each month and is held alternately at Monahans, Odessa, Midland and Stanton.

Cotton Men Make Gains In Harvest

Open weather has permitted swift cotton picking in West Texas during the past week, the U. S. Department of Agriculture said.

Combines, strippers and pickers took a big slice out of the Plains and Trans-Pecos sorghum and cotton. But in south central, upper coast and coastal bend counties fields are still too wet to plow.

Moisture for completion of Fall planting is ample. Field work resumed in East Texas.

The cotton harvest was 55 per cent complete. The state sorghum crop was 76 per cent in compared with 91 per cent harvest a year ago. Combines made up for lost time on the High Plains where light frosts and open weather aided harvesting.

Texas' wheat acreage is 92 per cent planted, about the same as a year ago. Oat acreage is 80 per cent planted, the same as for peanuts. The rice harvest is 80 per cent complete.

Weeding and cultivating of winter vegetables was active. Supplies of beets, cucumbers, peppers and cabbage were available in fair volume. Broccoli and cauliflower suffered light damage from excessive rains at Eagle Pass. Tomatoes made favorable progress. Peppers moved in good volume from the lower valley. Sweet corn, squash and field peas were available in light volume.

Range and pastures are furnishing ample feed for cattle.

Junior High Football Team Plays Last Game

Stanton Junior High School football team ended the 1960 football season by tying Rankin Junior High 12-12 here Thursday night.

The junior high team played five games during the season, and ended the season with a record of one win, three losses and one tie.

The group beat Loraine, 8-0, and lost to Big Lake twice, 12-6, and 20-8 and to Loraine, 6-2.

Floyd Sorley served as junior high school coach.

Charles Blocker To Be Stationed In Germany

Pvt. Charles Blocker is to leave the United States soon for Budingen, Germany, where he will be stationed with the U. S. Army.

Blocker, who had been stationed at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, left Fort Sill Friday, November 11 for Fort Dix, New Jersey. From Fort Dix, he is to be sent to Germany.

Blocker, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Blocker of Stanton, entered the U. S. Army June 28. He received basic training at Fort Hood, Texas and received special missile training at Fort Sill.

His wife, who had been residing in Oklahoma, has returned home to Stanton. She is to join him in Germany.

Tax Collections Running Behind

City tax receipts are running a little behind last year's figures, Harvey White, city secretary, said this week.

October collections totaled $6,046.95. This is a decrease from last year's report of $7,815.53, but is an increase over collections in 1958. In 1958 October collections totaled $4,905.46.

Collections are coming in good during November, White reports. Total collections through November 8 amount to $1,802.02.

The three month total of collections to date amounts to $9,451.76. This all represents current taxes, with the exception of $310.67, which represents delinquent taxes collected.

September's collections amounted to $1,602.79. This compares with $2,054.33 collected in September, 1959 and $2,054.33 collected in September, 1958.

Fair Weather Sets Up Record Crops

Favorable Fall weather has assured the nation of a record production of crops this year.

Reporting this in its semifinal crop report of the year, the Agriculture Department said conditions in October allowed the late-growing crops to reach full maturity to bring total production to a new high level.

Pattern Rounded

The production volume was estimated at 122 per cent of the 1947-49 average compared with the previous record of 118 per cent set in 1958 and met in 1959.

The production pattern was well-rounded with plentiful supplies of food and livestock feed grains, oil seeds, sugar crops, fruits and vegetables, fiber crops and tobacco. The output will add to surpluses, particularly of grains.

Looking ahead to 1961, the department said planting of winter wheat for next summer's harvest is practically finished in major producing areas. Moisture supplies were described as favorable over most of the central and southern Great Plains but short in most northern and western sections for the best early development of this crop.

Total livestock feed grain tonnage jumped above last year's peak as favorable maturing weather spurred corn and sorghum grain to a record finish. The corn crop was set at a new record of 4,378,724,000 bushels. The previous record was 4,361,170,000 last year.

Sorghum production advanced 2 per cent during October to smash a former production record of 1958, the output being 617,515,000 bushels.

The department said soybean production slipped slightly. Production was put at 560,039,000 bushels, the second highest on record.

Pastures Poorer
One less favorable spot was the pasture situation. The department said pastures were poorer than at this time last year, largely because of dry periods in some areas.

This season's crop of citrus fruits is expected to be 3 per cent smaller than last year but 5 per cent above average.

Nut Crunching Time Arrives

Pickers and shellers are hard at work these days harvesting one of the largest commercial nut crops in history—just 1 per cent less than last year's record but 14 per cent more than average.

So these flavorful nuggets of nutrition are on their way to your parlor, den and kitchen—and to kitchens of commercial bakers and candy makers—in volume. It's nut crunching time again.

Actually, nut crunching is more than a popular pastime. Nuts provide concentrated food nutrients. They are our richest source of plant protein. And all nuts are good rich sources of thiamine.

Four major tree nuts make up the bulk of production in this country. They are almonds, filberts, pecans and walnuts. And, according to estimates of the Agricultural Marketing Service, there'll be a combined harvest of 225,465 tons of these, this year.

Saturday visitors in Odessa were Mrs. George Lewis, Mrs. J. T. Davis and Mrs. Virgil Brothers. They visited with Mrs. Marguerite Hauber and Daphne, and attended the Ice Capades.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Carlile spent the weekend at Bend, Texas.

Record Corn Crop Forecast

The Agriculture Department has estimated the 1960 corn crop at 4,378,724,000 bushels. This compares with the October estimate of 4,252,517,000 bushels and last year's record 4,361,170,000.

Today's estimate, based on November 1 conditions, also compared with a 10-year average production of 3,270,642,000 bushels.

In a next to last report of the year on 1960 farm production, the department made new estimates on less than half the major crops usually covered in its monthly report.

Production estimates of the other crops, including wheat and most other grains, were carried over from the October forecasts. New and final estimates for the year will be made next month.

Corn yield was estimated at 52.3 bushels an acre, compared with 51.5 bushels last year.

Tuberculosis can be eliminated as a public health problem if infectious carriers are found promptly and treated adequately.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Costey and Robbie of Jamaica are expected here during the weekend to visit with her mother, Mrs. Alta Henson and other relatives.

TELEPHONE TALK

by Cliff Fisher, Manager

VOICE FOR THE VOICELESS

Last month in Telephone Talk I mentioned the successful launching of Echo, the communication satellite in orbit 1,000 miles above the earth.

Now I have news of still another product of communications research. It's a new artificial larynx to help people with impaired vocal chords to speak again.

This electronic larynx is really a "new voice" for people who have lost the use of their vocal chords. When held against the throat, this 7-ounce device (looks something like a flashlight) replaces the vibrations of normal vocal chords to produce speech. It is being offered on a non-profit basis.

In an age of great scientific achievements such as space satellite communications, the Bell solar battery and transistors (all pioneered by Bell scientists), it's reassuring to know that telephone research has not overlooked human needs in the search for better communications services.

HOW ABOUT A FAMILY HARVEST?

Have you noticed the changes being made in the food markets lately? It seems to me that it is much easier to find certain items . . . fresh or frozen turkeys, pumpkins, cranberries, chestnuts and other Thanksgiving treats.

It looks like some of the biggest Fall harvests in Stanton will be made around the dining room table. That's true in more ways than one. Because, in addition to the good things to eat and share, Thanksgiving has always been a great family day.

If all of your family live in Stanton it's usually a simple matter to get together for Thanksgiving. If your family is scattered in different parts of the country, you can still "get together"—by telephone.

The cost is low, and if you place your long distance call station-to-station, instead of person-to-person, you can save one-third. Rates are even lower if you call after 6 p.m.

Why not plan to call and make this Thanksgiving a "family harvest?"

SCIENCE SHOW ON TELEVISION

In addition to the Telephone Hour, which brings you top artists in the field of music every other Friday evening on Channel 2 at 8 p.m., I'd like to remind you of our new science program.

The first of the new series, "Thread of Life," tells the story of how we inherit our many and varied characteristics. This 60 minute color program will be Friday, December 9, on Channel 2 at 8 p.m. I hope you'll be watching.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

The wise use of commercial fertilizer reduces production costs and boosts net profit according to area farmers cooperating with county agricultural agents in numerous field demonstrations. "With the new Agricultural Extension Service Laboratory headquartered at Lubbock to concentrate on West Texas fertility problems, soil tests will be of even greater value to Martin County farmers," said County Agent Bob Johnson.

The fertilized cotton produced 3,480 pounds of seed cotton per acre while the check plot produced only 3,020 pounds. This amounted to an increase of 101.2 pounds of lint in favor of the fertilized plot, an additional net return of $19.30 per acre.

CENTER PANEL—A 3 1/2 acre field of Midland Bermudagrass is like money in the bank to R. W. Horton who farms near Meadow in Terry County. This cold-hardy hybrid was sprigged in 40 inch rows on July 3 and 4, 1959. When the grass started to run, Horton top-dressed with 45 pounds of nitrogen per acre and irrigated twice. The field provided ample grazing for two cows and calves from mid-September to the first of November.

Demand for planting stock prompted Horton to dig roots in the spring of 1960. He sold $631 worth of sprigs to neighbors and dug an additional $400 worth for his own use.

The grass made a remarkable recovery after it was top-dressed with 50 pounds of nitrogen per acre and watered twice. It has carried 16 head of cattle since mid-July. "I made one serious mistake . . .

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

MARTIN-HOWARD-MIDLAND SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT
Jack Buchanan, Bob Cox, Bernard Houston, Larry Shaw, J. D. Crawford.

Many farmers have cover crops up to a good stand for valuable protection of their land. Why don't you join the winning team and protect your land?

America has undergone more than a century of land use and abuse. Approximately 100 million acres of formerly good cropland have been ruined by erosion for further food production. Another 100 million acres of cropland have been seriously damaged. Topsoil is still being destroyed faster than it is being repaired or created. Crop production has been increased in the United States, largely by increasing crop acreage.

RIGHT PANEL — "The final story will not be known until the crop is harvested, but just a glance reveals the difference," Hale county farmer Robert Schoppa, right, tells County Agent Ollie Limer. Stronger stalks and heavier fruiting are evident in the area fertilized according to soil test recommendations.

Schoppa, who farms 12 miles northeast of Plainview, is always ready to lend a helping hand to agricultural research by carrying out field demonstrations. His efforts were lauded by Lines who said, "Laboratory testing alone is not sufficient. Only through carefully controlled field tests under actual farming conditions, can we fully evaluate laboratory findings and improve our recommendations to fit the various soils found in this area."

"The future hope of each farmer and the future hope of all farmers lies in soil protection and soil building. A fertile soil, safe against erosion, is worth more than money in the bank. In itself, such a soil is a bank account which Nature will honor with plentiful crops. We all might as well admit right now that the days of soil mining are over, and the days of soil building are here. The man who can't build soil is destined to give way to the man who will. The soil waster is his own worst enemy and to society."—Anonymous.

About Your Health
Pioneering a program of medical care which has vitally helped four and a quarter million handicapped children in the past 23 years has earned the Crippled Children's Program of the federal Children's Bureau a 1960 Albert Lasker Award.

The awards are made annually for "breakthroughs in medical research and advances in public health programs directly benefiting millions of human beings throughout the world" by the American Public Health Association.

This year's presentations were made by the Association and the Albert and Mary Lasker Foundation in New York last October.

The Crippled Children's Program, mainly administered by individual states, emphasizes high quality care and is widely approved by physicians, hospitals and local communities throughout Texas and the United States.

Each year the demand for these services has increased, with the rate per 10,000 children served doubling in 22 years.

In Texas the total cases per year has risen an average of 14.3 percent per year from 4,532 cases in 1956 until 1958 with a record total of 6,473 cases.

Under the law, basically, any child under 21 years of age and unable to pay is eligible provided he may be cured or his condition corrected so that he may be returned to a future of productive adulthood.

Children cared for under Texas' crippled children's program suffer a variety of conditions needing corrective treatment, devices, hospitalization or a corrective operation for certain conditions.

A breakdown of classes of cases shows most children under the program, administered by the Division of Crippled Children's Services of the State Health Department, need orthopedic services according to 1959 figures.

They are: congenital malformations — 1,832; other disease handicapping conditions — 874; diseases of bones and joints — 978; cerebral palsy — 732; and poliomyelitis after-effects — 780.

Plastic repair of cleft palate and harelip — 574 — and burns — 364 — also account for a large portion in addition to other conditions including congenital heart lesions making up 399 registered cases in 1959. (A weekly feature from Public Health Education Division of the Texas State Department of Health.)

Stanton Students Taking Tests
Student School students have been busy this week taking six weeks tests. The giving of the tests marked the close of the second six weeks of school.

High school students were given tests Tuesday and Wednesday. Elementary tests also are being administered this week.

Report cards will not be distributed until after the Thanksgiving holidays, Jimmy Bickley, high school principal said.

New Arrivals

Second Lieutenant and Mrs. Norman Blocker of Ozona are the parents of a daughter born Saturday, November 12 at 1 p.m. at the Ozona hospital. She weighed 7 pounds.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Horace Blocker of Stanton and Rev. and Mrs. E. B. Coon of Arlington, Ga. and formerly of Stanton.

$100,000,000 improvement program. At an Austin meeting of educators, legislators and interested citizens, Governor Daniel promised his support to the effort to pass a bill to raise teachers salaries.

This is one of the main items of the $100,000,000 Hale-Aikin recommendations. This program resulted from a study begun in 1957. It sat on the shelf during the last legislature because of the acute money shortage.

By constitutional amendment, voters have, for the first time in history, put members of the Texas Legislature on an annual salary.

They will be entitled to $4,800 a year, whether in session or not. They also are to get $12 a day expenses for 120 days of a regular session and for each day of any special sessions called thereafter. This replaces the old $25-a-day pay plan.

Question is where to get the money. State's general revenue fund is, according to State Treasurer Jesse James' latest report, $60,535.63 in the red. By the time the next session starts, this figure is expected to be higher.

So, legislators will have to turn their attention quickly to a means of finding money somewhere if they're going to meet their own grocery bills.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM YOUR State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD

Shell-shocked and exhausted from one of the hardest-fought general elections in decades, Texans now can get a second wind and turn to new issues and decisions.

Some of the significant decisions ahead grow out of decisions made at the polls earlier this month.

As a result of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's election to the vice presidency his senate seat will become vacant on or before January 20. It's a highly coveted position, seldom up for grabs, since the winner of a six-year term can be fairly sure of holding it for life.

It is likely that the race for Johnson's post will be the first special election in Texas history to have a run-off. A 1957 law, called the Pool Bill, provided that in special elections for congressional vacancies, there shall be a run-off if no candidate receives a majority of the votes in the first polling. Previously, special elections had been on a high-man-wins basis.

Many possible candidates are mentioned. Among them: John Connally of Fort Worth, Jack Cox of Breckenridge, Martin Dies Sr. of Lufkin, Congressman Joe Kilgore of McAllen, Wright Morrow of Houston, Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey, John Ben Shepherd of Odessa, John G. Tower, Johnson's Republican opponent in the general election, Atty. Gen. Will Wilson and Congressman Jim Wright of Weatherford.

It is unlikely that any candidate will make a public announcement until Senator Johnson officially resigns and Gov. Price Daniel sets the date for the special election. Under the law, the governor must call the election in no less than 60 days and not later than 90 days from the time the vacancy occurs.

If Congress is in session at the time the vacancy occurs, it would also be the governor's duty to name an interim senator to serve until a successor is elected. Governor Daniel already has said that former Sen. William Blakely would have first choice at such an appointment.

When the vacancy will occur depends entirely on Senator Johnson. There is speculation that he will not lay aside his senatorial toga until he takes the oath as vice president (January 20). Many feel that his presence and assistance in organizing the Senate prior to that date would help get the incoming Democratic administration off to a good start.

OKAYED AMENDMENTS POSE PROBLEM — On the purely state level, voters' approval of the four constitutional amendments during the general election pose some new decisions and issues for the state legislators next January. Among them:

1. MORE PAY — FROM WHERE? — By constitutional amendment, voters have, for the first time in history, put members of the Texas Legislature on an annual salary.

They will be entitled to $4,800 a year, whether in session or not. They also are to get $12 a day expenses for 120 days of a regular session and for each day of any special sessions called thereafter. This replaces the old $25-a-day pay plan.

Question is where to get the money. State's general revenue fund is, according to State Treasurer Jesse James' latest report, $60,535.63 in the red. By the time the next session starts, this figure is expected to be higher.

So, legislators will have to turn their attention quickly to a means of finding money somewhere if they're going to meet their own grocery bills.

2. LOAN COMPANY REGULATION—Passage of Amendment Four dumps in the Legislature's lap the tremendous job of passing laws to regulate lending practices in Texas.

Some lawmakers gloomily and privately predict that it will result in a worse fight than trying to pass a new tax bill.

Previously, the Constitution limited legal interest rates to 10 per cent. This provision was repealed.

Under the new provision the Legislature has the responsibility to (1) license and regulate lenders, (2) prevent misleading advertising, (3) fix and limit maximum charges and (4) impose effective penalties for violations.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, elated over the passage of the amendment, warned that "the loan sharks will pitch their final battle in the Legislature to try to eliminate the penalties and to develop loopholes."

Ahner V. McCall, executive vice president of Baylor University and head of a citizens committee that worked for passage of the amendment, predicted "a real dog fight" in the Legislature over control legislation.

3. LAND PROGRAM PICKS UP—Since the voters gave it permission November 8 to pay higher interest on its bonds, the Veterans Land Board is getting ready to do a bigger business.

Maximum interest the board can pay on the bonds it sells was raised from 3 to 3.5 per cent. With this easing of restrictions, the board expects to be able to sell more bonds and have more money available to loan veterans for land purchases.

Mahon Easily Wins Congressional Race

Rep. George Mahon easily won re-election as the congressman from the 19th Texas District in the general election Nov. 8, posting better than a 6-1 lead on latest returns.

The last available figures on a district basis had Mahon out in front with 56,000 to better than 8,000 for John R. Anderson of Borden County.

Anderson, running on the Constitution party ticket, gathered support from the GOP forces in the south end of the district. In Howard County, where he concentrated his heaviest artillery, Anderson held Mahon to little less than a 4-1 lead.

Howard County gave Mahon its majority 6,235-1,580, or a percentage of 79.5 to 20.5. Dawson County went for Mahon 3,142-603; Mitchell, Mahon's home county, favored him 2,833-170; Martin County was for Mahon 1,089-69; Borden County, Anderson's home bailiwick, went to Mahon 245-162. Other county-by-county figures were not immediately available.

"I am very happy and deeply grateful," said Rep. Mahon Wednesday morning. "I thank the Lord and my friends. The national results mean the end of a divided government and will confront the Democratic party with a great responsibility. Nobody—no one party—has all the answers as we face a most difficult period in our history. I hope I can help be at a balance wheel in arriving at what is best for our nation."

Death Of Ex-Midlander Releases 'Santa' Story

The death in Amarillo last week of a former Midland physician, Dr. Rex E. Greer, brought into publication a heartwarming Christmas story.

While Dr. Greer was practicing his profession as an eye, ear, nose and throat specialist in Midland, The Reporter-Telegram received a letter from three Stanton children asking Santa Claus to "help our little friend to run and play with us."

With the help of a reporter then with The Reporter-Telegram, Tanner Laine, Dr. Greer located a small Stanton lad, three-year-old Roger Dean, who breathed through a silver tube in his throat.

After almost daily treatments for a year, culminating in a minor bit of surgery, the little boy completely was restored to normal activities. But Dr. Greer, who moved to Amarillo from Midland in 1948, insisted all his work had been in the name of Santa Claus.

The doctor's secret was kept through the years by Laine, now a staff member of The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, until Thursday, when Laine wrote the story for the first time.

Services for Dr. Greer had been conducted Wednesday at Boxwell Brothers Funeral Home in Amarillo, and interment had been in an Amarillo cemetery.

Surviving are the widow; one son, in military service in California; two sisters, Mrs. Jess Dickson of Woodford, Okla., and Mrs. Ruben Steadman of Elmore City, Okla., and one brother, F. G. Greer of Amarillo.

American Exhibit In Izmir Proves Smashing Success

By Shorty Shelburne
 IZMIR, TURKEY—The American exhibit at the huge Izmir International Fair was a smashing success. Developed with an overall theme which emphasized an appeal to the tastes and fancies of the individual, both young and old, the exhibit attracted hundreds of thousands of wide-eyed Turkish fairgoers. It drew more than 1,000,000 persons before it closed in late September.

The designers of the American exhibit did not attempt to astonish the spectators with fantastic gadgets of the future. They used the same successful methods of public appeal, which have been used over and over in the United States. The entire exhibit, which was the largest at the fair, relied on reality and the display of things which are used in every day life in America. This approach paid off by drawing and holding the attention of the Turkish people. What they saw made a permanent impression on them, too.

Approaching the exhibit from the outside, the scene closely resembled a street lined with window displays in any city. The biggest crowd pleaser was a doll and toy display like those which have become almost a fixed part of life in Stanton and other cities.

At the entrance to the exhibit building, attention was attracted by large portraits of President Eisenhower and Turkey's beloved General Gursel, head of the nation.

Inside the exhibit presented a comprehensive panorama of the American way of life. Live demonstrations and explanations of each element of the exhibit were given by trained men and women who spoke Turkish and English.

A demonstration of the use of classroom television as a modern method of teaching in the American schools made a deep impression on the Turkish people. Television has not yet been developed here. Household appliances of the latest design got a long and close examination. Many of these items are in short supply here. Hands and eyes which previously had not touched and seen many of the appliances gave a fond caress to the glittering products of a free society.

At one point in the big exhibit a battery of coin operated food and drink dispensers was set up, much to the amazement and delight of the fair's visitors.

A full scale model of the X-15 aircraft, news of which has been prominent in Turkish newspapers in recent months, was another of the popular exhibit items.

The American exhibit featured many, many other attractive displays including automobiles, an extensive presentation of the oil industry, farm machinery, clothing, and industrial and office equipment.

The exhibit stood out as the most popular at the gigantic fair. "Amerika pavyon choke gazel." (American pavilion is very good) was heard frequently.

By VERN SANFORD

This is about birds . . . "screwy" birds. Birds you've seen, but seldom read about.

They are called several names . . . most of them unprintable.

Hunting season is a good time to mention them. If you recognize yourself as one of these birds . . . well and good . . . especially if you're man enough to change your feathers, or at least change your thinking or your attitude.

All of us have our faults. None of us possesses all these failings . . . thank goodness. But, if you are one of these birds . . . maybe you shouldn't go hunting at all. Maybe you should stay home and give some thought to correcting your faults.

On the other hand, maybe you can do something about it. If you can you'll gain the respect of your hunting companions as well as all other men and women in the field and on the stream.

First bird we want to call attention to is the heavy-footed FENCE-HAWK. He rides the fences for all they are worth. He spreads the barbed wire enclosures so wide you could drive a truck through them.

Crawling through one of the openings he makes in a barbed wire fence is a snap. In fact, he is so heavy footed and so strong armed that he pops the staples clear out of the posts.

Then he is wont to say, "They just don't make them staples like they used to."

Another fine-feathered friend is the SNIPFLICKER.

He's the bird who tosses away cigarette stubs and cigar butts with reckless abandon.

This addeheaded snipflicker has cost Uncle Sam (that's you and me, Bob) millions of dollars in fire damage to timber and wildlife.

He's not careless in our book. He's just one bird that doesn't give a hoot. If his grandchildren have no place to hunt, it makes no difference to him. What the heck does he care about the future! He won't be here anyway.

This bird's even worse than the MIGATORY LITTLERBIRD. That creature has the same attitude, true enough. Also — the same lack of respect for the property of others. And the same lack of appreciation of what has been made available to him by the farmer, or the parks board, or the game and fish commission. He's a litterbird wherever he goes.

Often wonder what his home looks like inside . . . don't you? Betcha there are banana peels everywhere. apple cores all over the house and empty beer cans scattered about every room.

Goodness knows what the messy place really looks like. Sure couldn't be a very tidy spot . . . inside . . . judging by the way this bird litters up the outdoors.

There are plenty of other creatures of the woods and waves.

For example . . . the REDEYED SWALLOWER . . . better known as the BOOZEYBIRD.

No need for him to wear heavy hunting clothes. He's fired up internally.

Why be a comfortable 98 degrees, body-temperature bird, when you can feather your nest with 100-proof alcohol and feel oh so light-headed?

Actually this bird isn't light-headed, he's empty headed. There are just no brain cells in that ivory-covered skull. Couldn't be, or he wouldn't be out hunting in that condition.

And, anyone who hunts with him better be a ROADRUNNER and in the finest trim. Otherwise he'll never make it back to camp . . . alive.

This BOOZEYBIRD, incidentally . . . more often than not . . . is part SNIPFLICKER and part LITTERBIRD. They seem to team together in the roughest sort of way.

The REDEYED SWALLOWER also has many traits common to the LARGEMOUTH GROUSE . . . a very leopagious and vociferous animal. Much of his time is allocated to complaints that are remindful of the BELLVACHING BULLFROG, who's not even a part of the feathery tribe.

While we're at it, let's not overlook the DIMWITTED WOODSRUFF. He's the hot-tempered animal who clobbers the park fountain if it fails to work. He does so with the park bench and he doesn't care which collapses first, so long as his temper is not restrained.

You've seen this bird I know. I'm talking about the SNEAKYEYED WOODPECKER. He transfers shrubbery from the field to his own front yard.

Not to be overlooked is the LARGE-POCKETED CAMPROBBER. He is known to have carried off the grate from the roadside barbecue pits, to appropriate it for his own use. Neither does he think anything of totting all the extra state park firewood home with him.

Then there's the REDHATTED LOON who doesn't know the difference (or care) between a 12-point buck and the farmer's choice Jer-

Robert Turner Named FHA Chapter Beau

Robert Turner was elected FHA Beau by members of the Stanton chapter of Future Homemakers of America at a meeting November 9 at Stanton High School.

Turner, son of O. C. Turner of Stanton, is active in all school affairs and was a member of the 1960 football team.

During the meeting a program was given by Helen Glaspie, Carolyn Manning, Mona Epley, Patricia Miller, Marsha Bristow, LaRue Adkins, Kay Bryan, Joanna Epley and Nancy Robnett.

To close the meeting the girls were led in the singing of songs by Nancy Robnett, song leader.

Texas Road Bids Total $10,024,877

The Highway Department has tabulated $10,024,877 in low bids projects.

The two-day lettings covered 91 miles of farm roads and 52 miles of U. S. and state roads.

sey Cow. He's the farmer's delight. But only if the cow is heavily insured.

Too, let's not forget the ROOSTERTAILED WATERTHRASHER. He's the speed demon of the waterways. This gink "wakes up" the fishermen with mammoth man-made waves. He boils them up as close to the angler's boat as the law allows . . . if not closer.

All these birds are fun-spoilers for everyone else. Evidently all they are out for is a lark.

These birds are not legal game. But more than one hunter thinks they should be. Among those who think so are the farmers whose cows are killed; the landowners whose fences are torn down; and the hunters whose lives are endangered.

Let's not spoil the fun for anyone. As we take to the field for a day of pleasant hunting, let's be more considerate of "the other fellow." Let's give thanks to those who make this great sport possible. And let's do our part to make it an event for all to enjoy and to live to remember.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Vaughn have returned home from Eastland, where they visited with her mother, Mrs. Amanda Rogers.

This Week In Washington With CLINTON DAVIDSON Farm-City Week

Up until November 8 each of us may have been thinking of ourself as a Republican, or a Democrat. That's all over now and we can all think of ourselves as Americans.

The next President, all the governors and all the congressmen have big jobs to do. They will need our help and our support. The party label they wore before the election is less important than the "American" label they now wear.

There is no time for bitterness, for regret or for rejoicing that the candidates we voted for may have lost or won. There is time only to build the United States and the Free World's strength to meet as grave a challenge as democracy has ever faced.

To meet and defeat that challenge we must build our strength not alone by military power, but through economic and moral leadership of the people in all lands who do not want to surrender their freedom to communist dictators.

Meet Your Neighbor
 Being a good neighbor, like charity, should begin at home; in our hometown and in the community in which we live and work. How long has it been since you went out of your way to make a new friend?

You've noticed recently that pretty much the same kinds of folks live on both sides of that imaginary line called the "city limits?" Or that we've quit calling the people on the other side of that line "country hicks," or "city duds?"

Next week could be called "Friendship Week," except that Congress already has officially proclaimed it "Farm-City Week." It starts November 18 and ends November 24, Thanksgiving Day.

The general idea is for farmers and city people to meet and get to know each other better. Get-together programs have been planned in some 10,000 cities, towns and communities.

Coast-To-Coast
 Farm-City weeks meetings and programs will include all of North America, from the Gulf of Mexico to the Arctic Circle, and from the Atlantic to the Pacific Oceans.

Farmers will attend chambers of commerce and other civic club meetings in town, and merchants, doctors, dentists, lawyers and other townspeople will be guests of the Grange, Farm Bureau, Farmers Union and other farm groups at dinners and meetings.

Kiwanis International is the official "coordinator" of Farm-City Week, but more than 150 other rural and city organizations will be participating in arranging programs for the sixth annual observance.

In officially designating the first Farm-City Week in 1955, President Eisenhower said:

"Whereas it is desirable that those who work on the farms and those who work in the cities develop greater understanding of their mutual problems, and interdependence in a closely knit economy, I ask the people throughout the country to participate fully in the observance of Farm-City Week."

That will be at least as important next week as it was six years ago.

Required homework, which in recent years has been out of favor among some educational groups, is back in favor, according to Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine.

An item in the Schools and Colleges column of the current issue of the magazine reports a shift of opinion among educators, who recently have asserted that homework contributes little to academic achievements, especially for children in the elementary grade. Now, according to the column, an exhaustive review reports these findings:

—Experiments show that regularly assigned homework does favor higher academic achievement. And homework in elementary grades affects high school performance, for study techniques and attitudes are set very early in a child's school career.

—Arguments that homework may have had psychological effects are not supported by research. In fact, children "may feel more secure and better oriented in the classroom when they are doing regular homework."

—Research indicates that required homework should be reinstated in the elementary schools and should be smoothly graduated from a token five-minute or so assignment in the first grade to about two or three hours a night in high school.

—"Parents should be expected to provide good conditions for home study, and their general interest and supervision (but not specific help) should be welcomed."

The Launching Pad

By NEAL ESTES

THERE IS NO LIMIT TO THE GOOD A MAN CAN DO IF HE DOESN'T CARE WHO GETS THE CREDIT.

The words on a sign in the local postoffice are same as those above. We do not know the origin of the message. But it is truthful and one that all of us should share.

A Russian visitor to this country returned home after election day. He had been allowed to visit one of the polling places. This is the wild story he took back to his country about America being far ahead of Russia in political science. "Political Science?" a skeptic questioned him. "Yes," the well-traveled Red said, "We spend days brain-washing a fellow but those Americans have a machine with a curtain that does it in a minute."

Belated congratulations go this week to our friend JAKE PICKLE, Austin, upon his appointment as a member of the three-man TEXAS EMPLOYMENT COMMISSION. PICKLE, one of the state's best known public relations men and brother of EDITOR JOE PICKLE OF THE BIG SPRING HERALD, will assume his new duties in January. He was recently named to the post by GOV. PRICE DANIEL.

ARTHUR and MARIE WILSON are having some improvements and additions made to their home on St. Peter Street. We asked ARTHUR what was in the making up there at his house and he told us he was practically building a new one. So what started out as a small project has turned into a major one. Maybe this was MARIE'S idea all along. She is a real smart girl and we know that because she married a fine fellow.

MARTIN GIBSON has been supervising the remodeling and repainting of his house on Broadway. Your columnist has been kibitzing a little on the job too. MR. and MRS. GIBSON used to live in the house they are now fixing up for rental purposes. During the pre-election days we kept MARTIN busy listening to the political stories we picked up from various sources. He liked the one JOE PICKLE relayed to us via phone the other day after the election was over better than the earlier ones though. It was a corker.

The new FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH preacher, REV. W. H. UHLMAN appears to own talents in the sphere of sports. He puts in a lot of time out "coaching" some of the younger members of the congregation in the art of football out on the church lawn these days. We complimented him on his untiring efforts with the ROYAL AMBASSADOR group of boys that he is supervising at pigskin play and there is one thing for sure—none of those fine young lads will ever wind up in the vandal bands.

MR. and MRS. BOB WHITAKER will leave Sunday for Arkansas for a short vacation trip. THE WHITAKERS have a farm and home in the Diamond state. Their two sons are also still residing in Arkansas where they are attending school. BOB WHITAKER is a former mayor of Stanton and is currently looking after his theatre operation here. MRS. WHITAKER is working at STANTON DRUG.

FRED ALEXANDER was in the office Wednesday as we prepared to finish writing this column. We were complaining about having to get up a few more paragraphs. Said FRED: "Just write about the leaves and golden November, NEAL." It was obvious our old friend was making light of a paragraph we included in the last column. Anyway, it is a fine month, good business, pretty scenery around here now and the days have been delightful.

JIM KELLY is possibly the only person in Martin County who knows that column writing is a heavy task. He has written one for years. When we started this column, it was partly as a result of his suggestion. We have had compliments and our circulation list seems to go up. In the past few months the pad has launched a lot of rockets. One of our missiles, launched in a spirit of trying to turn a good person back into the path of charm and poise apparently went wild. We deeply regret that this satellite is still in orbit and there appears to be very little chance at this time of bringing the revolving body back to base. It's kind of like the old trick of parking a car in one place while you are actually at another.

Quarterback Club Met November 8

Stanton Quarterback Club members met Tuesday evening, November 8 at the Stanton High School cafeteria. Coach Harlin Dauphin was in charge of the meeting. The group viewed a film of the Stanton-Tahoka football game. Ten members were present. The last regular meeting of the club was held Tuesday, November 15. Other called sessions will be held during the year.

Six Weeks Tests Underway At Grady

Grady students are busy taking six weeks tests this week. The tests will close the second six weeks of school. Students started taking tests on Wednesday and will conclude them Thursday. Report cards will not be distributed until after the Thanksgiving holidays. L. M. Hearn, principal said, Thursday and Friday, November 24-25 will be observed as holidays at Grady.

Buffaloes Win Second Place With Slaton Win

Stanton scored almost at will Friday night in Slaton to win second place honors in the District 3-AA race.

Denver City, the team that took top laurels and victor over the Bisons will probably wind up with the state crown. Keep your eye on them.

Jim Sale and Arvil Fincher scored two touchdowns apiece to pace the Buffalo triumph. Both of Sale's came from three yards out while Fincher punched over from the two and exploded on a 28-yard run as the Bisons scored in every period.

Proper fertilization is necessary for efficient use of irrigation water, research by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Substation No. 8 in Lubbock reveals. Harvey Walker, assistant agronomist, above, exhibits results of studies in the influence of fertilizer on root development of cotton plants.

These plants were grown under hot house conditions in sandy soil from the Brownfield area. The plant on the left received no fertilizer, while the one on the right was treated with the equivalent of 240 pounds of nitrogen, 200 pounds of phosphate and 200 pounds of potash per acre. "This rate of application was much heavier than normal recommendations and was for experimental purposes only," Walker explained. The fertilizer was applied in bands about six inches below and 10 inches to each side of the seed level.

While plant leaves, with the aid of sunlight, perform the vital function of processing plant food, a sturdy root system is essential to obtain sufficient raw materials — water and plant nutrients — from the soil. The role of fertilizer in root development is evident from this test, as the above photo illustrates.

In other tests with grain sorghums, greater returns per acre-inch of irrigation water were obtained when the crop was properly fertilized. In 10 different fertilizer trials, yields varied although the same amount of irrigation water was applied in each case. An increase of 76 pounds of grain for each acre-inch of water was obtained with proper fertilization. "The important conclusion to be drawn from this fact is that soil fertility must be balanced in order for growing plants to efficiently utilize water applied," Walker said.

Many questions on the use of commercial fertilizers are still to be answered according to Charles E. Fisher, Superintendent of Substation No. 8. "Facilities at the Texas Agricultural Extension Service's soil testing laboratory here in Lubbock will permit us to increase our research efforts," Fisher said.
